Three Injured As Blaze Destroys Hoyes Residence

Three persons were injured as their home, located on the Hoyes-Sang Run Road, was being leveled by fire early Monday morning.

Firefighters from Deep Creek and Accident were summoned by Garrett Central Alarm at 2:55 a. m. to the house, which was occpied by Paul E. Fike, 53, his brother, Harold Fike, and a sister, Winifred Fike, 64.

Robert Shimer, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany counties, said Paul Fike told him that he and his brother and sister were awakened by a smoke alarm and discovered fire coming from the garage area of the house. All three of the Fikes are afflicted by a physical condition which slows their movements, according to Paul Fike, and although they left the house immediately upon discovering the fire, it took them twenty minutes to reach the Paul Miller residence about 500 feet away and call for help. The temperature was also below zero and all three Fikes were transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital for treatment of frostbite.

When firefighters arrived on the scene, the entire structure was involved in flame. Also called to the scene was the county air cascade unit from Gorman and the Northern Rescue Squad, which transported the Fikes to the hospital.

Shimer said yesterday that the fire was a result of a small snow plow being parked too close to a wood-burning stove in the garage and the heat from the stove caught the tires of the vehicle on fire.

Harold Fike was listed in satisfactory condition and Winifred Fike was listed in fair condition yesterday at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Paul Fike was treated and released.

Firefighters remained on the scene for two and one half hours.

The dwelling was covered by insurance, according to Winter sports enthusiasts are promised four more inches of snow today by the National Weather Service, along with falling temperatures by tonight.

Del. Bolden, Sen. Mason Meet With Three County Boards

Delegate DeCorsey Bolden and Senator Ed Mason (both Republicans representing Allegany and Garrett counties) took care of a few last minute details Monday before heading to Annapolis for the 1981 General Assembly session beginning January 14.

The two legislators met with the Garrett County Sanitary Commission to discuss its relations with the public, with the Liquor Control Board to discuss the future of the county liquor stores, and with the Board of Education to discuss proposed legislation.

During the meeting with the Sanitary Commission, also attended by the county commissioners, Delegate Bolden and Senator Mason informed the Commission of complaints they had received from county citizens concerning an apparent lack of responsiveness by the Commission to the desires of the citizens.

The Commission assured the two legislators it wished to cooperate with the public and noted in the past public relations have been poorly handled. Commission members requested both legislators to refer citizens to them when they had questions or complaints.

In the meeting with the Liquor Control Board, the legislators instructed the Board to conduct an inventory and audit of the Oakland and Grantsville stores to determine the exact quantity of alcoholic beverages in stock.

Bolden pointed out the county was not receiving ex-

Bolden's Bill Proposes Full-time Position For State's Attorney

The State's Attorney position in Garrett County will become full-time when the next four-year term begins in 1983 if a bill proposed by Delegate DeCorsey Bolden (R-Allegany, Garrett) passes through the General Assembly.

The bill, which has the full support of the judicial division of Garrett County government, would mean elimination of one of the two Assistant State's Attorney positions while changing the State's Attorney position from part-time to full-time.

The salary for the position will be increased from $15,000 to about $30,000 a year, or, as defined in the bill, 75 percent of the District Court Judge's salary.

Bolden pointed out that this salary increase would actually mean only additional county funds of $5000 since the $10,000 a year salary for the Assistant State's Attorney position would be switched over to the State's Attorney position.

County Commissioner Ernie Gregg also indicated that county money spent for a benefits package for the terminated assistant's position would almost equal the additional $5000, meaning the increase in cost to the county would not be great.

Bolden pointed out one ad-

Garden Center Plants Destroyed

Green Acres Garden Center, Route 219, Oakland, was vandalized during the night of January 2, resulting in approximately $400 loss value in damages.

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department reports that someone cut a hole in the plastic at the rear of the garden center and entered the greenhouse, but not the main store. Considerable damage was done to plants in the greenhouse, which were found broken off, upset and thrown about the room.

In a separate case, the home of Clarence Coddington, Loch Lynn, was burglarized during the night of December 31. Taken from the residence were a portable cassette tape recorder; three jewelry boxes, at least one containing jewelry; a ladies gold-colored wrist watch; a BB air rifle; an AM portable radio; a new Sunbeam electric razor and a carton of cigarettes.

Loss value of the theft is estimated at $532.

Two other cases reported to the department last week involve destruction of property and theft. Both occurred during the night of January 2.

Margaret Rathbun, Loch Lynn, reported that someone broke a five-by-five foot window in her vacant garage. No loss value was placed on the window.

Fred Tichnell, Mt. Lake Park, reported that someone removed a snow shovel from his porch. The shovel is valued at $6.

Two persons were arrested by the department last week.

Eugene Franklin Shaffer, 30, was arrested December 31 on a charge of trespassing. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Hattie Unger, 54, Swanton, was incarcerated Monday on a theft charge, and was released the same day on $2500 unsecured bond.

Season's First Large Snowfall Strikes County

The 1981 Old Farmer's Almanac predicted mild weather and showers last week for the Greater Ohio Valley, however Garrett County was hit with the first large snowfall of the season. Ten inches of snow had fallen in the county by Friday, and sources say the accumulation Monday was 14 inches.

Herb McCrobie, county roads administrator, stated that road crews started to work Wednesday of last week and were out "nearly round-the-clock" through Sunday evening.

Additional snowfall occurred last night, and sources say the main problems today are high winds and drifting. Garrett County Civil Defense reported this morning that the roads are all snow covered, creating poor driving conditions, with high winds causing poor visibility.

McCrobie reported that the roads are "very slick" and the department is dealing with drifting problems. All crews are out, he said, and the big problem now is visibility. As of 8:30 this morning no roads were closed, he said.

The National Weather Service this morning predicted high winds and falling temperatures for Garrett County this afternoon, with snow squalls and up to four more inches of snowfall.

Despite reports of poor road conditions, Garrett County schools were in session this morning. Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, Superintendent of Schools, was not available for comment.

Eugene Flinn, Supervisor of Transportation for Garrett County Schools, stated that three buses did not run this morning, and three made part of a run and went back. He added that some motor trouble was reported. A number of school buses were running late this morning, he said.

Flinn stated that, aside from poor visibility and drifting, "it looks pretty good out there." He added, however, that conditions worsened since the first check at 6 a. m.

At about 9:30 this morning Flinn said the department "is playing it by ear," and would make another roads check at 11 a. m., to determine whether students should be sent home.

High and low temperatures and precipitation levels for the week were, Wednesday, high 32 degrees, low 24 degrees, .25 precipitation and a trace of snow; Thursday, 30, 22, .22 prec.; Friday, 29, 18, .28 prec. and ten inches of snow; Saturday, 32, 15, .85 prec. and one inch of snow; Sunday, 16, -5, trace of prec.; Monday, 15, -5, 0 prec., and Tuesday, 35, -11, 0 prec.

Weather

ISN'T IT ONE-DERFUL! — Being number one seems to be a characteristic that Amanda Jane Sisler has been born with, for not only is she the number one child of Gary and Sheryl Sisler, Table Rock, but she is the first child born on the first day of the nineteen hundred and eighty first year at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital. If that weren't enough coincidence, she is also the 1111th baby born at Garrett Memorial. We would like to report that she was born at 1:11 a.m. on New Year's Day, but the correct time of her birth was 8:04 a.m.

Entangled Murder Trial Moves Into Third Day

By Carol Kapel

The murder trial of Kathryn Louise Mason, 33, a resident of Baltimore, moves into its third day today, with a continuing parade of witnesses for the state being called by Thomas Bashore, Prosecuting Attorney for Baltimore County. The trial, being heard by Circuit Court Judge Fred Thayer on a change of venue from Baltimore County began Monday morning under tight courtroom security.

Ms. Mason is charged with murder, conspiracy to commit murder, and accessory before the fact in the shooting death of her ex-husband, William John Murphy, 37, on March 10 of last year. She allegedly conspired with her brother, Robert Jones, her nephew, and another man, Michael Howington, to have her ex-husband killed to collect on an insurance policy held by him which named her as beneficiary in the event of his death.

Monday morning session began with the selection of a jury of eight men and four women. Opening statements were presented, with the prosecution outlining a plan to prove the guilt of the accused likened to a jigsaw puzzle, with a promise to supply all the missing pieces in the conspiracy plot to murder William John Murphy.

Defense counsel John Moyer, with his associate, Wallace Blythe, summarized facts in their case to indicate no connection to Ms. Mason in the alleged plot. According to Moyer, "No one can place a gun in her hand, nor prove she ever asked anyone or offered money to anyone to kill her ex-husband."

As the trial progressed to the second day, a key witness for the prosecution, Brenda Zurich, whose husband, Michael, was murdered four days later, testified to her knowledge of the alleged plot to kill Murphy for insurance benefits amounting to a total of $11,187. Apparently under severe stress and visably shaken, the young woman repeatedly paused in her answers to the prosecutor's questions concerning the events leading up to and immediately following the death of Murphy.

When asked what she heard the defendant and Jones planning to do to Murphy, she told of Jones instructing Ms. Mason to contact the firm where the students should be sent home.

Bright Hope For The New Year—To Walk Again

by Beverly J. Sincell

1981 promises to be the year something wonderful will happen to Freda Rexroad of Swanton.

She hopes to be able to walk again, without any artificial support, almost as freely as she walked one-and-a-half years ago.

On September 4, 1979, Mrs. Rexroad was the victim of a farming accident in which she lost a leg. Through the timeliness and emergency care of the local rescue squad, and the skill of local physicians, her leg was saved and reconnected.

The physicians did no promise anything, but Mrs. Rexroad believed her leg would recuperate!—so far, it has. The leg is not "as good as new"—it never will be, she says—but as one of her physicians pointed out, "It is certainly better than a prosthesis (artificial limb)."

An artificial limb probably would be what Mrs. Rexroad would be walking on today, if everything had not worked in her favor the day of the accident.

She and her husband, George E. Rexroad, were working in their oats field on their Swanton farm. He was operating the tractor which towed a grain combine; she was standing on the combine, an unsafe habit, but something they had done for years. No one knows exactly how the accident happened; it happened in a matter of seconds. Mrs. Rexroad's leg came too close to the power-take-off

TO WHILE AWAY THE HOURS — Freda Rexroad, Swanton, holds up one of the pieces to a quilt top she is sowing and embroidering. Mrs. Rexroad says she has time for quilting, embroidery and reading since she must sit with her leg propped most of her time. Her leg, which was totally severed in a farming accident in September 1979 and was reattached by county physicians, must be elevated to aid in the healing process.

Elderly Deer Park Man Found Frozen To Death Sunday Night

An elderly Garrett County man was found frozen to death in his home at Deer Park during the late evening hours of January 4.

Austin Tasker, 70, Old Hotel Road, died of accidental hypothermia, according to Dr. James Feaster, medical examiner for Garrett County.

Tasker, the second Garrett County resident to die this winter from exposure or complications of such, was found beside an unlighted coal stove, where he had apparently lain down.

The victim was discovered after neighbors reportedly failed to see him for some time, and went to the home, where they found him dead. The Garrett County Sheriff's Department was called to investigate.

Hypothermia is described as a sub-normal body temperature. According to one member of the Southern Emergency Rescue Squad, which transported the victim to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, elderly persons are particularly vulnerable to severe cold because of inadequate circulation when exposed without adequate protection.

Temperatures in Garrett County over the past several days have plunged below zero, breaking several previous records.

Mr. Tasker is survived by one daughter and three sons, whose names and addresses were unavailable at press time; four sisters, Mrs. Effie Comp, Deer Park; Mrs. Adelaine Stewart, Glassport, Pa.; Mrs. Goldie Newton, no address available; and Mrs. Aristus Uphold, Gilmer.

Friends will be received at the Stewart Funeral Home, Oakland, Wednesday, from 7 to 9 p. m., where services will be held Thursday morning at 11 a. m. with Rev. Gail Hixon officiating.

Interment will follow in the Deer Park Cemetery.

Bloodmobile To Visit Friday

The American Red Cross Bloodmobile will be stationed at the Garrett County National Guard Armory in Oakland this Friday, January 9, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., according to Mrs. Norma Hesen, local chairman.

The quota this month is 130 pints. Mrs. Hesen added that January is blood donor month, designated both at the state and national level. All blood types are needed, including A-, A+, O+, O-, B+, B-, AB+ and AB-.

Mrs. Hesen reminds donors that anyone taking blood pressure medication should, that day, refrain from taking the medication until after giving blood. Also donors who have had the flu and have taken antibiotics must be off of that medicine for two full weeks and be free of symptoms, in order to be able to donate blood.

The Garrett County Chapter was among those named for attaining or exceeding their goal at the last Bloodmobile visit. In October Oakland attained 118 percent of its quota.

Born May 27, 1902 near Oakland, he was the son of Calvin E. and Bertha Fike Anderson.

A graduate of Columbia Business College, Hagerstown, Mr. Anderson went into business for himself in 1935 as a Sherwood Oil distributor in Martinsburg, W.Va. He later became distributor for Union Oil Company, under the name Anderson Oil Company. He sold the business in 1972, but remained as chairman of the board.

An active member of Calvary United Methodist Church for many years, he served on the board of trustees, board of stewards, and was a member of the Chambers Men's Bible Class.

He was a member of the board of directors of Merchants and Farmers Bank and a member of the board of trustees of the Martinsburg City Hospital for many years.

A 27-year member of the Martinsburg Rotary Club, he served on the board of directors several times and was the recipient of the Paul Harris Fellow Award, Rotary Foundation of Rotary International. He was a charter member and former president of the Martinsburg Lions Club.

Mr. Anderson was a member of Equality Lodge No. 44, AF & AM, a 32nd Degree Mason; member of Palestine Commandery No. 2 Knights Templar, and Osiris Temple, Shrine, of Wheeling, W.Va.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth Giles Anderson, Martinsburg, and a sister, Mrs. Raymond (Sue) Wigfield, Oakland.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at the Calvary United Methodist Church by the Rev. Owen B. Womack and the Rev. William W. Beale. Interment was in Rosedale Cemetery.

Friends were received at the Kogelschatz and Son Funeral Home.

Medicare Payment Delays Caused By Insufficient Data

Many people in the Cumberland area undergo needless delay in receiving reimbursement under Medicare medical insurance because they do not include an itemized bill when they submit their Request for Medicare Payment form, Frank Tomko, Asst. District Manager in the Cumberland social security office, said today.

An itemized bill must accompany the form if Part II of the form is not completed by the doctor or supplier. If the bill is not acceptable, the Medicare carrier will return the form to the person and an extensive delay in payment may result.

To be acceptable, a bill for services must include: a complete description of each service or supply received; the date each service or supply was received; the place each service or supply was received; the charge for each service or supply; the name of the doctor or supplier who provided each service or supply; the person's name and complete health insurance number exactly as shown on the person's Medicare card; if possible the diagnosis.

A bill which just shows "For professional services rendered" or Balance forward" is not acceptable.

More information about filing Medicare claims can be obtained at the Cumberland social security office located at 316 Paca Street. The telephone number is 724-0970.

Mr. Tomko emphasized that almost any social security business can be conducted over the telephone.

Correction Noted

In last week's edition of The Republican on page five under the picture in the upper left-hand corner, it was incorrectly reported that Seth Koontz played Santa Claus in the Child Development Center production of 'Twas The Night Before Christmas." The youngster pictured who played that part is Tommy Sharpless.

The Republican regrets the error.

County Staff To Help Oakland Seek Funds For Repairs At Bradley Manor

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners Monday authorized county staff members to assist the Town of Oakland in its bid for funding from HUD for repairs to 100 housing units at Bradley Manor.

Diana Wawzinski, county housing director, and Tim Dugan, county planning director, told the commissioners the Oakland Mayor and Town Council had requested their assistance in completing a portion of correspondence to HUD seeking funds from the HUD Housing Assistance Plan. Wawzinski and Dugan stated they would provide the town with a description and supporting documentation of the county's housing assistance plan.

The rehabilitation at Bradley Manor would involve repairs to roofing, parking lots and streets.

The town had received correspondence from HUD concerning funding for the project and had invited Wawzinski and Dugan to their meeting Monday to request their aid in submitting necessary information to HUD.

In other business, the commissioners adopted amendments to regulations governing the sewage disposal system for home and all other establishments in the Deep Creek Lake Drainage Basin after a public hearing at 1:30 p.m. The amendments will become effective January 16, 1981.

Edgar Harman of the Garrett County Health Department reported the amendments were for clarification purposes only and would not change the present procedure.

Harman and Wendell Beitzel, also of the Health Department, were the only two, besides the commissioners and their staff, who attended the hearing. Harman noted he had answered a few inquiries from the public regarding the amendments.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county school superintendent, and James Lupis, Jr., assistant superintendent of administrative services, presented to the commissioners a preliminary plat of the old Grantsville Elementary School and surrounding property which will be deeded to the county.

Ryscavage reported the attorney for the Board of Education was drafting a description of the property which is required before the property can be deeded.

The plat outlined the building and portion of property, owned by the county school system, to be deeded to the county and included certain right of ways to be granted to the Town of Grantsville.

The commissioners had received official word from the Grantsville Mayor and Town Council stating the town did not wish to acquire the property.

The commissioners anticipate advertising the property for bid after the deeding process is completed.

Government OD . . .

As is our usual January custom, we have published in today's issue of The Republican a summary of front-page news items which appeared during 1980. It was an arduous task, and quite frankly not among the most exciting, but from all reports it seems to be a popular column every year.

For the first time, we decided to break the news down into several major categories, rather than run the summary by the month, with all types of news lumped together. Although the latter is much easier for us, we felt that categorizing the news would allow the reader to separate what he considers the chaff from the wheat and read only those general areas of news which are of interest to him.

Even if one were not to read the summary, but simply glance at the three pages which carry it, he would be able to make a few possible conclusions.

Many would assume that the bulk of front-page news would be composed of crime stories. Others would guess that those covering fires and accidents would make up the majority. However, although there is a significant number of such stories, particularly those covering criminal activity, we find that one category far surpasses all the rest—government.

Although this would not necessarily confirm the suspicion of many that we have too much government, it would certainly be one more solid shred of evidence leading towards such a confirmation. If it were possible to summarize the news contained in the entire newspaper for a year, we are convinced that the outcome would be similar.

Nearly all facets of our lives are directly or indirectly affected by some form of government. We need government. There is no question about that. By the same token, a person with an infection needs antibiotics. However, an overdose can be quite harmful.

Isn't It Amazing . . .

by Carol Kapel

Children seem to find the sunlight even when there isn't any.
Losing track of time, forgetting to count any minutes.
Living like the cowboys do, or off in space.
Aboard a silver ship that moments ago was only a cover from a long abandoned trash can.
Running the fields in search of wild roses,
More free from cares than even the birds floating overhead.
Their's is a kind of love that turns to follow everyone.
Only a child can talk to a squirrel and get an answer.
Fascination comes in many forms. The whys, wheres, and whens fall back to the parents, by unspoken pre-arrangement.
Then homeward they run, before the darkness steals the afternoon.
With eyelashes sweeping on cheeks soft as silk . . .

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to thank Mr. Hoye for his letter in last week's paper, concerning television cable service (or lack of).

This past weekend the television picture was unviewable and when I called I was informed that the trouble was due to cold weather. If T.V. cables don't work in cold weather, Garrett Co. is no place for a cable service.

We have been on cable for the last 2½ years and the picture has been acceptable only about 50% of the time. Finally fed up, I told them I was only going to pay for the days that the cable worked properly, and was told I couldn't do that. I do want cable service, but don't feel that I should have to pay $96 a year for $48 worth of service, or do without.

Mrs. John Stacy

To the Editor:

It appears the family is in deep trouble in our society. Divorce, beatings, teenage runaways, and even murder in the home fill the radio and television airwaves. Why is it? What, if anything, can be done?

I feel there is, indeed, hope and help for the American family. It is a two-fold answer that can be summed up in one word — and that word is "COMMUNICATION."

Communication is a process of sharing information with another person in such a way that they understand what is being said. If people would stop screaming and truly listen to one another's inner-most feelings, many of the problems would be solved. It is not an easy task, but if the family will commit itself in love, the mission of keeping the family together will be complete.

The second aspect of communication is to and with God. It was God who first instituted the family and it is God who will help us keep it together. Why not make Jesus the third partner of your marriage.

It is seemingly unnatural for two people of different home styles, backgrounds, and personalities to come together and live in harmony, but in Christ Jesus — then truly the "two become one." Let Jesus be Lord of your family and He will heal your marriage.

Dear Editor,

We would like to take this opportunity to express our deepest appreciation for the unselfish and efficient dedication of the Oakland Fire Department in responding to our 1:00 a.m. Christmas Eve flue fire. Despite frigid, snowy weather and difficult road conditions the Department responded quickly, and they managed to extinguish the fire (which had spread to the roof) before major structural damage could occur. The town of Oakland should be very proud of these dedicated men; especially when potentially tragic situations such as ours are averted by their quick and unselfish response.

Sincerely,
Susan & Jack Alvarez

Dear Sir:

I can think of no adequate way to reach the many important people in Garrett County who were in the opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors" and who assisted with it. So, I will rely on many to read this letter.

The hours of rehearsal were long, cold and at times, very demanding, but always we were laughing and enjoying one another throughout rehearsals. There were times when duty spoke, telling us we "should" be home with our families or in town shopping for Christmas gifts, yet each person always appeared for rehearsals. There were days that exhausted them in their jobs, still they came to each rehearsal. There was no money for supplies or materials, yet beautiful costumes were made, programs were designed and printed, sets (professional in appearance) constructed, and make-up and hair styling resembling that done on Broadway.

I had to be out of town and a professional director (in a body cast no less) took over rehearsals for me.

All of these things were done freely and enthusiastically, often by people whom I have yet to meet or personally thank. Never did I beg someone to take a lead in the opera nor to assist with the workings of the performance. These beautiful people just appeared, ready to help.

Garrett County is greatly endowed with people of exceptional talent in art, music, stitchery, — so many things. The generosity of these people overwhelms me. To all these beautiful people who have touched my life in such a positive way I want to say thank you and I will never forget the beauty you gave to Christmas. I surely didn't do it alone!!

pected revenues from the two stores and questioned whether the county was actually losing money by operating the retail stores.

The inventory and audit, Bolden explained, would accurately show the financial situation of the two stores and show whether sales were up or down. He expected both to be completed within 30 days.

The Board and legislators agreed the stores should operate through June 1981 and that no decision to close the stores would be made until late in the summer when a review of the store's operations for FY1981 would be conducted.

After the meeting with the Liquor Control Board, the legislators attended a dinner meeting with the Board of Education.

The Board stated its concern that the State Superintendent of Schools had not allocated funds for student transportation in his proposed budget for FY1982.

It noted that if no funds were included in the state education budget for transportation, the county would have to find ways to fund its $1.2 million student transportation budget.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county school superintendent, indicated the state superintendent may have left that item in the budget for the Governor to decide. Both Bolden and Mason told the Board they were certain the Governor would put money in the budget for school transportation, but they would not know how much until the Governor submitted the budget to the General Assembly around January 21.

The group also discussed recommendations by the Education Subcommittee of the Scanlon Committee, a committee to review the state and local fiscal relationship. The Board stated its concern that the subcommittee had recommended that little, if any, additional funds be made available to the public schools. If noted if additional funds did not come from the state, it may have to turn to the county for more money in FY 1982.

The legislators noted the subcommittee recommendations were not binding and that the Governor had not yet taken action on those recommendations.

The Board registered its opposition to two proposed bills which would mandate the use of an arbitrator, or third party, in negotiations with teachers. The bills, Board members pointed out, would take away the final decision-making authority from the Board.

Another bill the Board opposed was one which would set statewide procedures for election of Board of Education members. The Board explained it would rather see each county determine its own election requirements.

The two legislators expect to be in Annapolis the day prior to the opening of the General Assembly session January 14. Persons wishing to contact the legislators in Annapolis should call 841-3464 for Delegate Bolden and 841-3560 for Senator Mason.

Murder Trial

"someone from Philadelphia" to "take care of" Murphy's murder.

Midway through her testimony, when asked why she continually hesitated before answering the questions, Ms. Zurich broke down emotionally on the stand. When asked if she had been threatened, and why she had not reported what she knew to the police, she stated she had not been threatened by the defendant, but by Robert Jones, her former husband and named conspirator in the plot. The prosecutor continued the line of questions about the conversation Mrs. Zurich overhead the night of the murder, and when asked again why she did not report her knowledge to the police, she replied "If I were to tell anyone Billy Murphy was going to die, I don't think I'd be here." In further elaboration, when asked to explain what she meant, she said "You don't know Bob like I do."

In response to Mrs. Zurich's graphic re-telling of the conversation she overheard between Jones and Ms. Mason after Murphy's murder had been committed, a woman, believed to be a relative of the murder victim, also became emotionally distraught and had to be taken from the courtroom.

The trial is expected to continue through this week, with the defense likely to begin its case on Thursday morning.

Changing Riders

by Harry Fox

Charles DeGaulle, on a post-war visit to this country, is supposed to have said, "It's too bad that you Amricans have never had your railroads bombed. Then you would learn to appreciate them."

As Inauguration Day draws near, it's getting harder and harder to appreciate the political beast whose birth took the country by storm last November. Along with the several dozen cabinet appointments of significance, we're being swamped with trivia. Do we really need to know who will be the First Lady's personal secretary? Are we absorbed in the intricate shuffling of middle-level bureaucrats? Do we give a HUD who goes to Gaithersburg to run DOE? Speculation and intrigue are the order of the day . . . but about what?

How lucky we are. The fact is, this is one of the few places left where changing governments involves nothing more painful than headaches from all the paperwork. Around this world, guns and bloodshed, not parades, fill the streets of many capital cities when a new president is installed. The closest thing to a riot ever seen at a Washington inauguration was when hundreds of Andrew Jackson's friends from Tennessee came to town and stayed for a week-long party. Well . . . there was a more recent presidential relative, known for his inordinate love of a favorite beverage.

It is good, and wonderfully American, to laugh at our own peculiarities. But, it wouldn't be bad to reflect on the steady, tranquil politics of our nation. It is not necessary to limit the comparisons to banana republics. Look at Italy, where unstable governments change as fast as designer fashions.

Our political animal, on changing riders, gets nothing worse than a few saddle sores. That is something to appreciate.

County Birds Fail To Appear To Be Counted

Few came out for Garrett County's 10th consecutive annual Christmas bird count Saturday, December 20, a day when temperatures fell to three below. Even the birds failed to appear, reported local coordinator Fran Pope who noted record lows in the bird count.

Pope stated the number of species counted was the lowest recorded since the bird count was instituted in the county ten years ago. The number counted was 53 species. The number of birds counted, 2283, was also a record low.

Another record low was hit in the number of participants in the count which totalled 12.

The most numerous species of birds counted were the Dark-eyed Junco, 320; the Black-capped Chickadee, 273; and the Common Crow, 271.

Pope stated there was no blackbird roost this year which has accounted for over 10,000 birds in the past three years.

Record lows were counted for the Hairy Woodpecker, nine; the Blue Jay, 52; the White-breasted Nuthatch, 51; the Brown creeper, 5; the House Sparrow, 196; and the Cardinal, 59.

Pope said the bird counting group was surprised when it counted 13 Robins. "That's the second highest count in 10 years," said Pope.

Record highs were reached this year by the Canada Goose, 66, and the House Finch, 13.

Pope stated the results of the bird count will appear in the July issue of American Birds.

vantage to making the position full-time is it guarantees that no conflict of interest will occur because the State's Attorney will be forbidden to maintain a private practice while in office.

State's Attorney James Sherbin, who has been an advocate for making the position full-time, stated, "I think the job merits full-time devotion. The State's Attorney should not have to maintain a private practice of law. His full energy and thought should be devoted to the job."

Sherbin said he averages 30 hours a week in performing his duties as State's Attorney and still does not do many things he could do. He added that the full-time State's Attorney position would include those duties of the assistant position which will be dropped.

Bolden noted that information supplied by the State's Attorney's Office shows it has appeared at some state of prosecution in over 1906 Criminal Cases since January 1979.

Don't take it home with you.

A lot of people do it. Take their problems home with them from work. They worry about their jobs and their salaries. How much they take in against how much they pay out. If they can expect a raise in pay. Or when.

One way to avoid worry is to start saving. Join the Payroll Savings Plan at work. A little portion of your salary is automatically set aside toward the purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds.

A portion you won't get to take home with you. But you'll never see it and you'll never miss it. So you'll never spend it.

You'll know it's working for you every day. Growing to give you a cushion in hard times. Or a way of achieving a goal in good times.

So don't take it home with you. Leave that "little extra" where it'll do you some good. Adding up to a lot of U.S. Savings Bonds.

Take stock in America.

Rams Fall To Goretti In Tournament Finals

The Southern High Rams earned their way into the finals of the annual Snowball Classic by defeating Charleston Catholic Friday evening, 56-46. However, St. Maria Goretti of Hagerstown proved to be too tough for the Rams Saturday night and took the final game from the defending champions, 60-43. Goretti gained a berth in the finals by knocking off Bedford, 61-42.

The win against Charleston Catholic was the sixth in seven outings for the Rams, as they were led by the scoring of Jeff Ryscavage and some key, fourth-quarter rebounds by Dave Harsh. Ryscavage led all scorers with 17 points on six goals and a five-for-five effort at the line. Brian Selders added ten points to the Rams' total, as he also was perfect at the line, hitting four of four. Mike McLaughlin also helped maintain Southern's outstanding foul shooting by connecting on six of seven attempts.

The first quarter ended in a 13-13 tie, however the Rams pulled out to a five-point lead at the half, 26-21. Charleston remained close in the third period, as the final eight minutes began with Southern out in front 38-35. The Rams put the contest out of reach behind the foul shots of Ryscavage and the rebounding of Harsh.

Southern outshot Charleston from the floor by an 18-16 margin and hit 20 of 28 free throws, compared to a 14-for-25 effort by the West Virginians.

Benny Hamrick, last season's all-stater for Charleston, was the only member of the losing team to reach double figures, finishing with 13.

Southern stayed fairly close until the fourth quarter against St. Maria Goretti Saturday evening, when the Hagerstown team scored 25 of its 60 points. Southern was on top by one, 7-6, at the end of the first quarter, however Goretti led by four at intermission, 19-15. Moving into the fourth quarter, the Rams were down by eight, 35-27. The win was the ninth for the Gaels against three losses.

Goretti was led by 6-6 senior center Mike Muldowny, who hit 17 points and six rebounds, and was named the Most Valuable Player of the tournament.

Southern's Jeff Ryscavage, who was also named to the all-tourney team, led the Rams' scoring with 15 points, while teammate Brian Selders contributed ten points.

Other Gaels reaching double figures were Ray Deffinbaugh and John Sommer, who each netted ten points. Sommer, along with Les Logsdon of Bedford and Benny Hamrick of Charleston Catholic, were the other members of the all-tourney team.

St. Maria outgunned the Rams from the floor, 26-16, however Southern led at the foul line, converting 11 of 18, compared to an eight-for-15 effort by the Gaels.

In the consolation contest, Bedford topped Charleston Catholic 58-52 in overtime.

Conversations on Carpeting
Remnants Available

Brought to you by
Carolyn & Butch Helbig
Who say
"A Floor without a Rug is like a Kiss without a Hug."

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

Everyone has heard the advice, "Buy your carpeting from a reputable carpet dealer." But many people really don't understand why. Last time, we discussed the difference in the quality of carpet available from a discount carpet outlet and a reputable carpet retailer. Today, let's talk about some of the other differences between these stores.

Selection is important to anyone who's investing in carpeting for his or her home. Usually, when you buy at a discount oriented carpet outlet, your selection is limited . . . only carpets of certain styles and colors (often specials purchased in bulk) are available. You just have to take what they have.

A reputable carpet retailer has hundreds of styles and colors on hand and can order what he doesn't have.

Installation should be another important concern to any carpet buyer. Roderick's of Westernport or Roderick's Carpet Branch Shoppe employs professionals to install your carpet. And he guarantees his work. Butch is our professional Certified Engineer.

Next time, we'll talk about some of the other differences that exist between the reputable carpet dealer and those who offer only questionable merchandise at low prices. Come in and let us show you how high quality is your best buy when it comes to carpeting.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

For a very personalized appointment with Butch or Carolyn call today at 334-9598, who will give you the best in price, quality and service.

NEW! Champ Coal Grate & Basket

• Burns coal or wood • Sizes fit virtually all stoves and fireplace inserts • Unique shaker design for easy ash removal • Made of exclusive heat-resistant Thermalloy™ • Optional Dynagrate™ and side shield features

Now you can enjoy the savings and convenience of burning coal . . . without replacing your existing woodstove or fireplace insert, or limiting the choice of stoves and inserts you may wish to buy. The Champ Coal Grate & Basket lets you burn either coal or wood in virtually any woodstove or insert in use today.

The Champ grate and basket hold the fire high enough for the bottom drafting needed to burn coal. Yet it's low enough for the proper top drafting of wood. This means, for example, that you can burn wood in the evening for visual effect, then add coal later on for all-night heat without reloading.

The movable grates are designed for shaking and easy removal of ashes from a coal fire. Each grate contains a combination of surface area and drafting slots ideal for burning either coal or wood, and features a cam, internal stop and low center of gravity for stability and control. The grates can be shaken individually—or simultaneously when the optional Dynagrate™ gearing system is included.

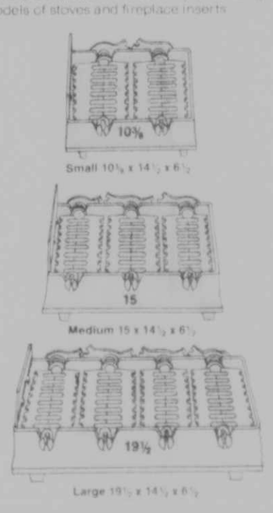

The grates themselves are made of a heat-resistant iron alloy called Thermalloy,™ developed exclusively by Champ to minimize the potential effects of high temperatures. This is important when you consider coal's advantage of producing higher temperatures than wood.

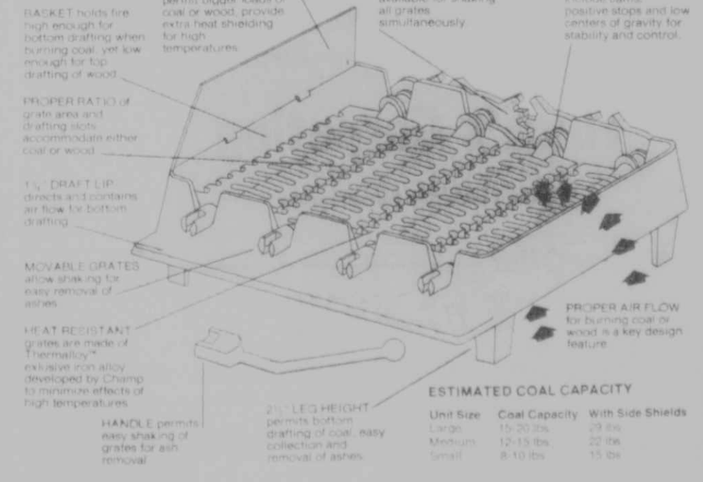

Optional side shields are available to increase basket capacity for long-time burning of coal or wood. They also provide additional heat shielding when you burn coal.

The Champ Coal Grate & Basket come in three sizes to fit virtually any stove or insert. The largest includes four movable grates and measures 19½" wide, 14½" deep and 6½" high. The medium sized unit has three moving grates and is 15" wide, 14½" deep and 6½" high. The smallest size features two moving grates and measures 10⅜" by 14½" by 6½".

Contact Naylor's for assistance in selecting the proper size for your stove or insert.

In your town, there are lots of people you can count on!

Of course there are the police, firefighters, mailcarriers and many more. And then there are those who might not readily come to your mind...the business people of our community who provide those extremely vital services we all need and count on.

There's the pharmacist who'll compound that important lifesaving prescription and quickly deliver it. There's the hardware store that stocks those emergency plumbing parts, and the service station that comes out and gets your car quickly started when it just doesn't want to turn over. Local business can be "lifesavers" too. They're there when you need them in an emergency...and when it's not an emergency, will you still call on them? When you shop locally, you help build your community.

We care about our community.

Judge Held In Contempt

BUCKEYE, La. (UPI) — The Justice Department is pressing contempt proceedings against state judge Richard Lee, who vows never surrender in his fight against a desegregation order that would send three white girls to an all-black school.

A motion, which seeks a $1,000-a-day fine, was filed Tuesday against Lee hours after he went to Buckeye High School with a constable to make sure the three girls were admitted to the all-white school.

Abscam Trials Continue

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rep. Raymond Lederer, is shown on an Abscam videotape selling his services as a congressman for $50,000 handed him by FBI undercover agents and saying "I'm not a Boy Scout."

Philadelphia Democrat Lederer, the sixth House member tried on Abscam bribery-conspiracy charges, was shown on the videotape Tuesday accepting the money Sept. 11, 1979, after promising to introduce a private immigration bill to help two bogus Arab sheiks remain in the United States.

"Ripper" Suspect Held

LEEDS, England (UPI) — Peter Sutcliffe, the truck driver charged with the 13th Yorkshire Ripper slaying, was in solitary confinement at the Armley jail and detectives reopened the case of a slain prostitute originally thought to be the mass killer's second victim.

A Labor member of Parliament called the coverage of the Ripper case "lynch-mob journalism," and a law officer chided the press for its coverage of Monday's arraignment of the 35-year-old suspect, charged with killing Jacqueline Hill, 20, a student, last Nov. 17.

Journalist Feared Dead

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI) — An American freelance journalist missing since he checked into the same hotel where two American labor activists were killed, is feared to be the eighth U.S. victim of Salvadoran political violence.

The U.S. Embassy said Tuesday reporter John J. Sullivan, 26, of Bogota, N.J., on assignment for Hustler magazine, checked into the plush Sheraton Hotel in western San Salvador Dec. 28 and had not been seen since.

Nixon Tapes Use Denied

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Richard Nixon has cast a shadow that will limit discussions of Watergate during Senate hearings on the nomination of Alexander Haig, his one-time chief of staff, to be secretary of state.

Nixon's lawyer informed the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday the former president will not give committee Democrats access to tapes and other materials from his administration.

Severe Storm Blankets East

A massive snow and ice storm spread from Nebraska to New England, causing traffic accidents, closing schools and making life miserable for thousands without heat in New York City. At least three weather-related deaths were reported.

To Walk Again

shaft which caught her slacks and tugged them off. Mr. Rexroad believes the shaft pulled and twisted the slacks quickly enough that the waistband, in a tourniquet effect, cut through Mrs. Rexroad's leg, immediately below the knee.

With the help of power company employees, who were working nearby, Mr. Rexroad secured a tourniquet around her leg before any major bleeding began. He then contacted the rescue squad.

The crew on the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, who had been notified of the type of injury, worked out their procedure en route to the accident site. Once there, they wrapped the exposed stub with sterile dressing, elevated the limb and kept it cool. The cardiac rescue technician on duty applied an IV to Mrs. Rexroad.

The amputated limb was wrapped with a burn sheet, to prevent contamination, and then surrounded with cold packs and enclosed in an air splint.

The squad maintained communications through Garrett Central Alarm with the physician in the emergency room of Garrett County Memorial Hospital while traveling to the hospital.

Once the squad arrived at the hospital with Mrs. Rexroad, the physicians analyzed the injury and decided conditions were ideal to reattach — or replant, in medical terms — the leg. The conditions were right because of Mrs. Rexroad's physical condition, the type of injury and because the proper procedures taken by the rescue squad.

After a six-hour operation, the leg was replanted. Mrs. Rexroad underwent additional operations for skin grafting and began physical therapy while in the hospital.

About six weeks after the operation, Mrs. Rexroad left the hospital.

Then came the months of waiting. Only in time would the physicians know whether the operation had been successful. Only in time would the leg mend itself.

The physicians were hesitant to claim the operation a success until some function was restored in the leg. They could not determine the degree of function that would return to the leg, but they had a goal—to restore feeling all through the limb to the bottom of the foot.

Slowly the leg began showing signs of recovery. It was more noticeable on the outside, where it healed the fastest. The skin, the muscles, the veins, all healed in the months following the operation. The nerves and bone are still mending.

Mrs. Rexroad says some feeling has returned to her leg. She cannot feel anything in her toes but she does have a pin and needle sensation when her leg is touched.

In those first few months, Freda became a member of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital family. "I would never have been treated any better anywhere than I have been treated there," said Mrs. Rexroad.

Her visits with her physicians were frequent—weekly at first. The full-length cast on her leg was changed every month until February when it was replaced with elastic bandaging.

She worked with the physical therapist for a short time to rebuild the muscle in her leg. Within weeks she was able to do her exercises at home. She can point her toes, she says, but she will never be able to pull her foot back towards her.

She cannot bend her knee because the physicians inserted a pin through the joint. In time, the pin will be removed and she will be able to bend her knee.

Those first months were extremely hard for Mrs. Rexroad. A woman used to being active, she adjusted slowly to the fact that she had to sit most of the day with her leg elevated.

But she received a lot of support from her family and friends. "I had a lot of good neighboring," she said.

Her three children, still at home, and her husband helped around the house and did the shopping.

Mrs. Rexroad found ways to make use of the time she spent sitting. She read, sewed quilt tops and embroidered.

About five months after the accident, her physicians allowed her to stand and walk with a walker. They had previously told her she would not be able to be up on the leg for six months, but her progress changed their minds.

"The $365.86 is for Ralph. He's the service man you ran over on the way in."

She still had to limit her activity, doctor's orders. She went to church, rode to town with her family — but remained in the car — and sometimes went visiting.

She could not go up and down stairs, so she slept in a bedroom on the first floor of their two-story home and exited the house by going down a ramp out the back door.

That was last winter. This winter Mrs. Rexroad's life is a little different. She is now walking on crutches. She can go up and downstairs. She did most of her own holiday baking. She was even able to go visiting over the holidays, when the weather was right. But, she still has to limit her activity.

Her physicians report that throughout the whole ordeal Mrs. Rexroad has been "an excellent patient" with "a lot of will power and determination".

They still give no time predictions for recovery of Mrs. Rexroad's leg. The bone is slow in healing.

Mrs. Rexroad is optimistic. "I believe the time will come when I will be able to walk on my leg," she says.

She praises her physicians and the entire staff of Garrett County Memorial Hospital. "I can't say anything bad about the hospital."

And about her physicians, "I thank the good Lord we have doctors like that here."

Mrs. Rexroad has praise for another who is helping in her recovery. She tells everyone that her physicians may have reattached her leg, but "the man up above helped to heal it."

"If I had not had the good Lord on my side," she says, "and plenty of prayer, I don't think I would have made it."

Even though everything went right for Mrs. Rexroad on the day of the accident and even though everyone has been tremendously helpful, she has a definite statement about the whole experience: "I never want to go through it again."

Winter's Frigid Blast —

Arctic Air Puts A Freeze On East

A massive storm system spread a glaze of ice, sleet and snow from Nebraska to Maryland, sending cars into spins, closing scores of schools and causing at least two fatal traffic accidents.

Another blast of Canadian air today put a deep freeze across the eastern third of the nation to compound hazardous driving conditions. Travelers' advisories and forecasts calling for up to 6 inches of snow were issued for Michigan, Ohio, the Appalachian Mountains and the Middle Atlantic Seaboard.

Warm weather marked a contrast in the Southwest again Tuesday, with the mercury climbing to 80 degrees in Los Angeles.

A band of bitter-cold air, from below zero to the 20s, covered the area from the Great Lakes into New England, making the day nearly unbearable for hundreds of people without heat in their homes.

New York Mayor Edward Koch opened an armory in Manhattan, complete with 700 cots and blankets, for the more than 2,000 poor and elderly residents who live in apartment buildings without heat and hot water.

With temperatures well below freezing, the city received 2,322 calls from heatless tenants.

The storm was blamed for a traffic accident in Hardy, Ark., which killed truck driver A.L. Stoelting of Mooresville, Ind. Police said Stoelting's truck went out of control on an icy hill, struck a guard rail and overturned.

A Cincinnati, Ohio, man was killed when his car crashed on a slippery road in Clermont County.

Freezing rain and snow made driving a nightmare across the Midlands, and police reported numerous jackknifed trucks and traffic pile-ups.

Schools in Tennessee, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri canceled classes.

Tennessee school children in 14 counties and three city systems got the day off again today because of snow and ice.

Six inches of snow piled up in northern Indiana, giving some areas 11 inches on the already snow-covered ground.

"We don't have any hills or trees here. We're in trouble even with an inch of snow sometimes," said V.A. Simmons, superintendent of schools in Benton County, Ind.

Indianapolis police reported more than 50 weather-related accidents, including a collision between a city bus and a semi-trailer truck that injured 15 passengers.

Icy roads in west Tennessee sent two pickup trucks, a car and another large truck slamming into each other near Dyersburg, injuring 14 people, including a 20-month-old child. Another person was injured in a multi-vehicle wreck in Tipton County.

The Ohio State Highway Patrol closed a portion of Interstate 70 east of Springfield when two semi-trucks jackknifed.

Morning rush-hour drivers in St. Louis found their driving time tripled when traffic slowed to a crawl on ice-glazed highways.

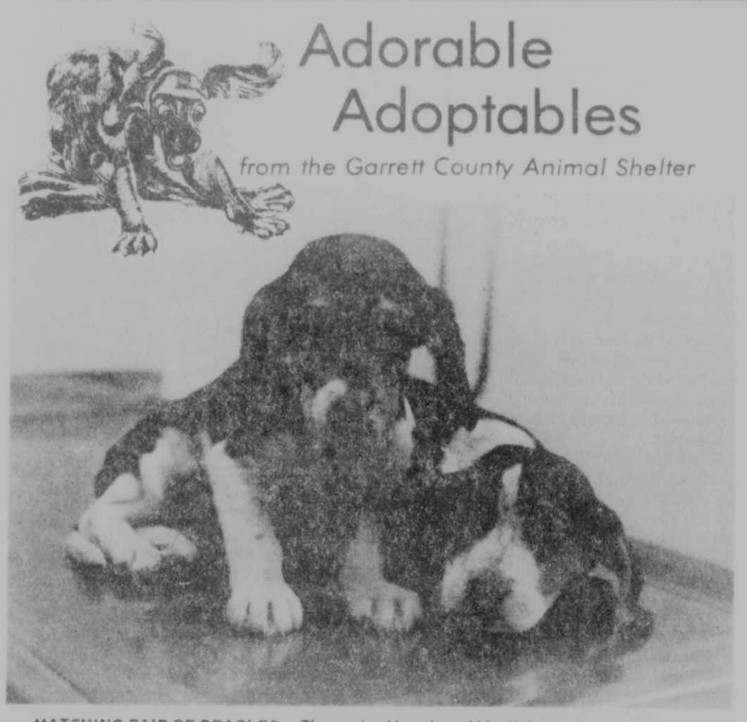

Numerous accidents closed two busy interstate highways for more than an hour. Three tractor trailers jackknifed and at least three trucks spreading salt overturned.

One St. Louis police officer said driving was "a circus."

"It was just glass," he said. "You'd try to stop and just go in circles. There's no stopping on that ice — not until you hit something."

Michigan police reported scores of minor accidents throughout the state, blanketed with up to 3 inches of snow and raked by 25 mph winds.

Two semi-truck crashes forced closings of major freeways. Dozens of fender-bender accidents were reported on Detroit's icy roads.

Baltimore Firms And Politicians Send Aid To West African Schools

BALTIMORE (UPI) — West African school children in Gbarnga, Liberia will receive new school furniture and textbooks through the efforts of Baltimore city and county and two private firms, city officials said Tuesday.

Gbarnga (pronounced "Bonga") has been Baltimore's sister city for seven years and the shipment of 3,000 surplus desks, 1,500 chairs and 35,000 textbooks is the latest in a series of cultural and educational exchanges between the two countries, said Quentin Lawson, a spokesman for Mayor William Donald Schaefer.

Lawson, who called the cargo of school supplies a continuation of "the tradition of the close ties between our two cities," presented a proclamation from Schaefer naming Jan. 6, 1981 as Gbarnga Day in Baltimore to William Bull, charge d'affaires for Liberia.

The project to collect educational materials has taken months to bring to fruition, Lawson said. School officials in Baltimore County agreed to cooperate but finding packing and shipping facilities stymied the project.

But a division of Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, which operates two rubber plantations in Liberia, offered to transport the cargo aboard a company vessel, the Harbel Cutlass, said company spokesman Jerry Elam.

Manpower and containers needed for packing the supplies were provided by the Chesapeake Operating Company, said Karen Little, international affairs coordinator for the mayor's office.

Gbarnga, which shares sister city status with Baltimore along with Odessa in the Soviet Union and Kawasaki, Japan, has a population of about 23,000 people, Bull said. The current exchange program began under the auspices of the Baltimore City department of education in 1973 but since has become a city-wide program.

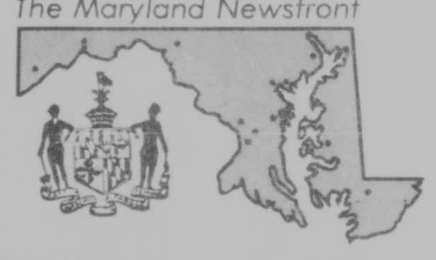

In the past seven years, students have participated in pen pal programs and in May 1975, a reciprocal teacher exchange was instituted. In July 1978, nine teachers conducted research in Liberia under a Hays-Fulbright Groups Abroad Grant in cooperation with Morgan State University.

Liberia was founded in 1822 in West Africa by freed American slaves. It was declared a republic in 1847 and its constitution is modeled after America's.

Bull said the shipment of school supplies will further cement the sister cities' relationship.

"It is a truism that in underdeveloped world we are our brother's keeper. The school supplies are a manifestation of the close relationship that exists between the United States and Liberia," he said.

More Maryland Coal Exports Add Up To Busy Baltimore Port

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A boom in the export of coal combined with a steady increase in the handling of containerized cargo made 1980 a near-record year for the port of Baltimore, port officials said Tuesday.

Based on 10 months of actual statistics and two months of projections, Maryland Port Administration officials said 38,169,000 tons of material passed through the port in 1980 — an amount less than 1 percent below the record 1979 total.

Nearly a third of the total was in coal exports, with an estimated 12.7 million tons being shipped from the port — a 39 percent increase over the 9.1 million tons of coal shipped out of Baltimore in 1979.

Handling of containerized cargo, which has steadily increased in recent years at the huge Maryland port, was up 5 percent in 1980, the port administration said.

Exports in general were up 21.3 percent (to 22 million tons), while imports — primarily petroleum products and ore used to make steel — were down by 21 percent (to 16.1 million tons).

"These statistics dramatically demonstrate the great versatility of Baltimore," said Port Administrator W. Gregory Halpin. "This port is not dominated by a single cargo, or a few commodities, therefore we are able to benefit in many different ways by taking advantage of the unique demands of foreign trade as they develop from time to time."

The 4.6 million tons of container cargo that moved through Baltimore set a port record, and Halpin said container cargo amounted to 62 percent of all the general cargo handled by the port — "one of the highest (percentages) in the world."

The reductions in steel manufacturing in the Baltimore area was reflected in the 25 percent drop in ore imports, and American fuel conservation measures were reflected in the 38 percent decline in petroleum imports.

Halpin said one of the highlights of 1980 for port officials was the Christmas Eve decision by a federal district judge in Baltimore to dismiss the remaining portion of a legal suit that had blocked use of Hart and Miller Islands in the Chesapeake Bay as a disposal site for spoils to be dredged from the Baltimore harbor.

"It still is not certain when the project to dredge the channel to 50 feet will begin, but it is clear that progress in this vitally important artery will mean that the port of Baltimore will be in a position to remain competitive into the 21st century," said Halpin.

Gov. Hughes Announces Appointment For Dyson Seat

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Gov. Harry Hughes has appointed St. Mary's County farmer John Knight Parlett to replace Rep. Roy Dyson, D-Md., in the Maryland House of Delegates, Hughes' office confirmed Tuesday.

Parlett, a 43-year-old corn and cattle farmer from Charlotte Hall, will be sworn in by Speaker Benjamin L. Cardin, D-Baltimore, in the House chamber Thursday.

Parlett's appointment to replace Dyson, who was sworn in as a member of the 97th Congress Monday, was virtually assured after he was recommended last month by the combined Democratic central committees of St. Mary's and Charles counties.

Parlett will represent District 29, which is also represented in the state legislature by Delegates John W. Quade, D-St. Mary's and Michael J. Sprague, D-Charles, and Sen. James C. Simpson, D-Charles.

He began moving his papers and other furnishings into Dyson's former legislative office in Annapolis Tuesday, explaining that Hughes had signed the commission appointing him for the final two years of Dyson's term before leaving for vacation Dec. 27. Hughes is due back Wednesday.

"The only thing left to put on the commission, which he signed, was to have Secretary of State Fred Wineland to sign it and to date it," said Parlett, a former St. Mary's County commissioner.

"I'm in the process of trying to move in here right now," he said, adding that Dyson had not completed moving his belongings out. "He hasn't finished yet. He is supposed to finish moving out tonight."

State Figures For Unemployment Show Increase

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Unemployment in Maryland increased moderately last November, rising from 5.8 percent in October to 6 percent, statistics released Tuesday showed.

The biggest percentage increase in the state was in Worcester County where the unemployment rate jumped from 11.4 percent in October to 16.6 percent in November with layoffs in agriculture and tourist industries.

The 6 percent overall rate compares to a 5.8 percent rate in November of 1979 and remains lower than the national rate of 7.1 percent.

There was a net gain in the labor force of 2,010 people during the period responding to seasonal hiring in trade and in public schools. Employment was up in steel industries, in colleges and universities and in government.

However, layoffs in water transportation and in agriculture caused the unemployment increases.

In the Baltimore metropolitan area the unemployment rate fell slightly from 6.9 in October to 6.8 percent in November.

In the Maryland suburbs of Washington, D.C., unemployment in October was 3.5 percent and 3.6 percent in November.

In Western Maryland unemployment was up from 8.2 percent to 8.5 percent, with unemployment highest in Alleghany and Washington Counties.

Total people unemployed in the state was 129,474 in November compared to 126,007 in October.

"Hooper, what's this I hear about you taking work home with you?"

Baltimore Police Carry Shotguns In Attempt To Protect Banks

BALTIMORE (UPI) — City police officers carrying shotguns were deployed to area banks Tuesday in an effort to stem a wave of bank holdups, police said.

The shotgun squads are part of a wider program spurred by a 68 percent increase in holdups in Baltimore last year. There were three bank robberies in Baltimore Monday, making four for the year.

In 1979, police said there were 57 bank robberies and in 1980 that number jumped to 96.

Police spokesman Dennis Hill said other aspects of the new program will include patrols of banks by plainclothes officers and officers in disguises, surveillance by helicopters, walks through bank lobbies by canine squad officers and their dogs and an emphasis on stopping holdups by special teams throughout the city.

"We are getting fed up," Hill said.

Hill said the shotgun squads have been specially trained to use the guns. The teams include two officers, one carrying the shotgun. In the new plan, the officer with the gun will station himself outside the bank while the other officer goes inside, Hill said.

Each of the city's nine police districts has a special bank robbery team and the central tactical squad also has bank squads.

Hill said no arrests have been made in the three Monday robberies, but said police suspect the holdups were pulled off by the same man.

Police Arrest Murder Suspect

UPPER MARLBORO (UPI) — Prince George's county police this morning arrested Paul Luckey, 19, for the murder last September of 16-year-old Randy Moskowitz.

Police spokesman Bob Law said Luckey lived on the same block of Van Buren St. in Hyattsville as Moskowitz, whose body was found Sept. 20 in a field across from the Prince George's Plaza shopping center.

Moskowitz had gone to the shopping center, about a mile from his home, the night before to pick up a pizza. He died of multiple gunshot wounds.

Detectives arrested Luckey at his home about 1 a.m. today. Law said Luckey did not resist arrest and is now being held without bond at the county detention center in Upper Marlboro.

Law said investigators had run out of leads in the case until they got a "break" about a week ago.

But he did not say what the break was, saying disclosing it might jeopardize the prosecution's case and Luckey's chances of receiving a fair trial.

U. S. Court Orders Early Release From Crowded Prisons

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The head of the Maryland Parole Commission said Tuesday crowded conditions in state prisons are not the board's responsibility, despite a federal court order to accelerate early releases.

"We are not supposed to parole anybody so quickly that it would depreciate the seriousness of the crime," said Henry P. Turner, chairman of the commission. "It's not our function to uncrowd prisons."

U.S. District Judge Alexander Harvey II said Monday he is pleased by recent inmate releases by Gov. Harry Hughes. But he said the parole commission has not aided the governor.

"Whereas the governor and his advisers have been conscientiously addressing the overcrowding problem by accelerating releases, the Parole Commission has not," Harvey said. "Releases by commutations and parole appear to be the only realistic means of reducing the prison population."

Despite efforts by Hughes and other state officials, "overcrowding continues to plague Maryland prisons," Harvey said.

Maryland, which is being sued by inmate groups over the practice of putting two inmates in a cell designed for one, has been given until April 15 to end overcrowding at the Maryland Penitentiary.

That is the same deadline another judge set for ending double-celling at the Maryland Correctional Institution in Hagerstown.

Some state officials have said they hope two new prisons will be open by April 1 and double-celling will end throughout the state system. But Gene Oishi, a spokesman for Hughes, has said he doubts the new prisons will be ready before the summer.

Ethics Commission Throws Out Charge Against Goldstein

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — A complaint claiming Maryland Comptroller Louis Goldstein used his position to influence Calvert County commissioners has been thrown out by the State Ethics Commission.

Commission lawyer Fred Brandes said Monday the case "was out of our jurisdiction. We couldn't have looked into the matter."

The commission was set up in the aftermath of scandals that sent former Gov. Marvin Mandel to prison, but the personal influence section of the two-year-old ethics law contains no provision for investigation of cases involving elected officials.

This rule, however, "endangers the credibility of the ethics law" and the commission said it will try to change the necessary portions of law to include elected officials when the General Assembly convenes Jan. 14.

The claim against Goldstein stems from a Dec. 4, 1979, appearence he made before the Calvert County commission. He allegedly asked the commission to make a zoning change that would benefit him financially and reminded the board how helpful he had been in obtaining funds for schools and hospitals in the area.

The land involved was a 55,000-square foot parcel near Prince Frederick. The McDonald's Corp. wanted to buy the land from Goldstein and needed the zoning change.

On Jan. 15, 1980, the land was rezoned and sold to McDonald's.

One section of the ethics law prohibits an official from using the office to obtain personal favors, but the law does not apply to elected officials, only to state and local appointed officials.

Other portions of the law apply to elected officials.

Historic Ship Moved

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The 184-year-old USF Constellation, the Navy's oldest commissioned ship, was towed to a shipyard across the Inner Harbor Tuesday for additional repairs.

The ship was taken to Bethlehem Steel Corp.'s Key Highway shipyard for replacement of oak planking and ribs. Last year, the Constellation spent six months in drydock for work to its hull and bowsprit.

A Bethlehem spokesman said the repairs will be complete by spring. The work is being paid for by a $600,000 grant from the National Historic Trust.

Health Plan Cut Off

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Federal authorities said Tuesday they will cut off funding to Monumental Health Plan Inc., a health maintenance organization that provides care to 8,000 west Baltimore residents.

The U.S. Office of Health Maintenance Organizations told Monumental it would not provide the second million-dollar installment of a $2.5 million federal loan because of Monumental's $3.1 million deficit.

"We've made the decision to put them out of business. Given the way the place is managed, it would be irresponsible for the federal government to fund them any further," said John O'Rourke, the agency's deputy director.

O'Rourke said officials asked Monumental, which is losing $60,000 a month, to make changes in management back in August, but the corporation's leaders refused.

Dr. H. Garland Chissell, Monumental's president, said there has been no mismanagement and said he will try to have the decision reversed.

In additional to the federal loan, Monumental also receives $3 million in Medicaid funds.

Recently, about 2,000 city workers were enrolled in the health plan. City officials said they will be switched to the traditional Blue Cross-Blue Shield plan if Monumental loses its license.

City Boat Afloat

BALTIMORE (UPI)

Mayor William Donald Schaffer says he has a plan to keep the ship Port Welcome sailing on the Chesapeake Bay but the cruises may cost the public more.

In a letter to State Transportation Secretary James O'Donnell, Schaefer said he would like to see the state lease the financially strapped ship to the city for $1. The city, in turn, would lease the ship to a private operator.

The ship needs $400,000 in repairs and would cost $2.9 million to replace. Two firms have said they would operate the ship this summer but the state has been reluctant to give up operation.

The prices under the Schaefer plan would go up by about 15 percent, the mayor said.

For 21 years the ship has cruised the Bay from Baltimore to Annapolis.

Resignation

ROCKVILLE, MD. (UPI)—

Montgomery County Executive Charles Gilchrist said Tuesday that Sally Kanchuger of Potomac has resigned as a commissioner on the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission.

Gilchrist said Mrs. Kanchuger cited personal and family reasons as the cause for her resignation. Gilchrist named Kanchuger to the Commission in July 1979 to fill two remaining years of former Commissioner Bert Cumby's four-year term.

Gilchrist said he plans to name a new commissioner soon. Montgomery County has three commissioners on the sewer and water agency.

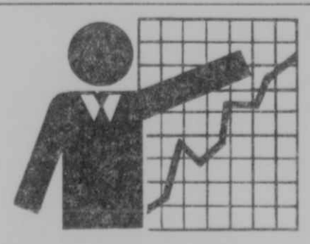

Police Shooting Report

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — An Anne Arundel County grand jury has received a voluminous report on the fatal shooting of a Lothian man who barricaded himself in his house.

The panel will make a decision whether to conduct a formal investigation Thursday.

The report was received Monday from police involved in the December 4 incident. Stanley Taylor, 53, was shot by police after holding officers off for 15 hours. Police said the incident began when an officer tried to serve him with a warrant.

A full scale investigation by the grand jury could lead to indictments.

Aid To Unemployed Teens Fails To Help, Study Shows

BALTIMORE (UPI) —

Three reorganizations in two years haven't helped the $25 million work program for inner-city teens, a General Accounting Office report says.

The GAO said that nationally about a third of the work sites involved in the $222 million program failed to meet criteria set up before the plan went into effect. Some of the sites were in Baltimore, the report said.

The report said Baltimore's problems were largely in the area of paper work.

"Public service employees used for administration and work site monitoring were unqualified for the task and further complicated the problems," the report said, referring to the Baltimore program.

The city reorganized the program's structure twice in 1978 and again in 1979, but the GAO said months after the third reorganization, "Baltimore still did not have an effective system."

The head of the Baltimore program, Marion Pines, admitted that mistakes had been made, but said "the report does not recognize the value of change."

Living on the Leftovers

They don't have much — Granny and Gramps:

A little "retirement cottage" with a guest room for visiting grandchildren, though they own it free and clear . . .

A modest savings account for a rainy day — it took some doing to add to it month by month. . .

Memories, the kind that grow warmer and deeper with every passing year . . .

Affection — it reaches to them across the miles from more than a score of loving hearts . . .

And Faith, the firm, courageous, ever-celebrating faith that has made life to Granny and Gramps a confident walk with God.

No, they don't have much as many people count riches. But they do have certain treasures that can never be lost, stolen or foreclosed. Priceless things whose value reaches beyond time into eternity.

They're living on the leftovers of a life of giving.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WORDS TO LIVE BY

January 11, 1981

Background Scripture:
Matthew 6 through 7.
Devotional Reading:
Ephesians 3:1-12.

Someone once said, "What you are speaks so loudly that I cannot hear what you are saying!"

Try beginning your day with those words for the next several weeks. They could make a difference in your life.

Christianity has traditionally been a religion of words: the laws of the Old Testament, the Good News of the New, the preaching, teaching, witnessing, the liturgies, hymns, and cantatas, the books, pamphlets and brochures. And at the heart of all these: the words of Jesus Christ.

It is easy to understand, then, how so much emphasis came to be placed on verbalization. What traditionally separates Christians from one another has been the particular ways in which different groups have verbalized their beliefs. The Inquisition and all heresy crusades have been based upon the words with which Christians have chosen to express themselves.

These Words Of Mine

Jesus himself seems to pave the way for our preoccupation with words. As he comes to the close of the Sermon on the Mount, he says: "Every one then who hears these words of mine and does them will be like a wise man who built his house upon a rock..." (7:24). But if we examine what Jesus says to us here, we find that it is not just a matter of hearing the words (or reading them), but of doing them.

In fact, the whole Sermon on the Mount, an particularly Matthew 6 and 7, emphasizes the Gospel, not so much as words to believe, as to live by. It is the doing rather than the saying that Jesus emphasizes. Thus, he chastizes the piety of words and outward appearances, "Thus when you give alms, sound no trumpet before you, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may be praised by men ...And when you pray, you must not be like the hypocrites; for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and at the street corners, that they may be seen by men" (6:2,5). "And in praying," he continues, "do not heap up empty phrases as the Gentiles do; for they think that they will be heard for their many words" (6:7).

By Their Fruits

Jesus warns his disciples against "false prophets." And how will we know them? Shall we judge their words, their ideas, their doctrines? No, says Jesus, "You will know them by their fruits" (7:16,20). Like trees, they will not be judged on the basis of the signs that are hung on them, but by the fruit they bear. So Christians will be judged, not by their pronouncements, not by the way they verbalize their Christian discipleship, but by the fruits that their convictions produce.

And what are their "fruits" but deeds, acts, efforts, works, accomplishments, service to others? "Not every one who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' shall enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of my father who is in heaven" (7:21). Yes, believe the words, say the words, but don't stop there, for you must do these words to live by.

BEWARE OF AMATEUR MEDICAL ADVISERS

It seems that almost everybody is eager to practice medicine. Mention having an ailment of any kind and everyone from helpful friends to advertising medicine men offer a treatment. They are like the blind leading the blind.

The fallacy of amateurs is that they only treat symptoms of sickness, not the cause. Only a physician has the knowledge to diagnose what is causing the trouble. The physician prescribes the particular medicine his long studies and experience decides is best. That is why prescriptions are more effective than over the counter medicines. We can fill any prescription.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Maryland Tax Changes Appear On Tax Forms Now Being Delivered

"When your receive your Maryland Income Tax packet in the mail, one piece of very good news is that there are relatively few changes from last year," State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein has announced.

Among the most important changes are new tax breaks for taxpayers who earn income from interest, who volunteer their services to certain organizations and who made political contributions during 1980.

In order to help taxpayers, all offices of the Maryland Income Tax Division will be open to provide free assistance every state holiday during the filing season, beginning Thursday, January 15, 1981 (Martin Luther King, Jr. Day). The addresses and telephone numbers of all 12 offices are listed on the back of the State Income Tax Packet.

"One change on the state income tax forms will benefit most Maryland taxpayers. They will be able to claim up to $200 in tax free income from interest. Married couples will be able to claim up to $400 in tax free interest income," Goldstein said.

It is not necessary to itemize deductions to claim this benefit, but you must file the "long form" 502.

"This benefit is not available on your federal return this year," Goldstein said.

Taxpayers who contributed to political compaigns during 1980 will be able to subtract one-half of their contributions, up to $50, from their taxable income. Married couples can subtract up to $100. While it isn't necessary to itemize deductions to claim this benefit, taxpayers must file the "long form" 502.

"Another change will benefit the many taxpayers who use their personal vehicles while performing volunteer services to a non-profit volunteer fire company or to an organization whose principal purpose is providing medical, health or nutritional care," Comptroller Goldstein said.

Taxpayers may subtract up to 20 cents per mile from their total income, depending upon the extent of any reimbursement they received for travel expenses. This benefit is available to eligible taxpayers whether or not they itemize deductions. Taxpayers must reduce the amount of their subtraction by any amount claimed as mileage under the contributions category of deductions.

"Retired or disabled taxpayers should note that the maximum pension exclusion has been increased to $6,400, and should use the computation table that appears on page 2 of Form 502," Mr. Goldstein stated.

Artists who earn at least one-half of their income from the sale of artworks may now deduct from their taxable income the fair market value of any of their artworks donated to a Maryland museum during the 1980 tax year.

Taxpayers who receive a lump sum distribution should know that now, only 40% of the capital gain portion of the distribution which was treated as ordinary income for federal income tax purposes must be added to federal adjusted gross income for Maryland tax purposes. Maryland also had adopted the federal minimum distribution allowance as an added benefit to taxpayers.

A final convenience for taxpayers is the inclusion of the Homeowners' Property Tax Credit Application in the tax packet. "The application is not related to the Maryland Income Tax return, and you should be careful to mail the two forms separately in the different colored envelopes provided," Goldstein said. "During the last filing season several thousand taxpayers sent their tax returns in the wrong envelope, slowing down their refund checks."

The deadline for filing both federal and state income tax returns is Wednesday, April 15, 1981.

Energy Tip: Clean or replace the filter in a forced-air heating system every month for greater heat efficiency.

Dress to minimize body problems. The way you dress can have a big effect on the way that you feel. Most likely you have some problem with your body type which you would like to be able to minimize in order to look and feel more attractive in the clothes that you wear. The following should help you to disguise some of the clothing suitability problems you may have:

*To detract from a double chin, a long pendant can be worn. Big earrings and jewelry such as chokers should be avoided.

*To make wide shoulders appear narrower, choose clothes that have shoulder seams that lie one inch inside the actual shoulder line. Avoid cap and dolman sleeves.

*To flatter a small bustline, try wearing dresses and blouses with soft shirring from the shoulder or pretty attention-getting details like tucking, gathering, smocking or pockets. Avoid clinging fabric over the bust.

*To make a large bust appear to be smaller, wear pretty collars, subtly gathered shoulders and vertical necklines. Avoid cowl necks, clinging tops, empire waists and horizontal stripes that draw attention.

*To give a thick waistline a smaller appearance, layer a belted shirt with a vest or a jacket. Avoid garments that change color at the waist.

*To give a short waistline an appearance of being longer, try empire waistlines, matching colors on top and bottom, tops worn on the outside or tucked in and tops worn over the outside of the belt.

*To make a long waist appear shorter, wear a belt that matches the garment color and avoid skinny sweaters and tops.

*To help disguise a protruding stomach, do not wear fabrics that will hang heavily over the stomach, loosely pleated skirts, bulky dirndl skirts or straight skirts. Instead, try gently front gathered A line skirts.

*To help camouflage big hips, wear an open vest or jacket with pants or a soft A-line skirt. Avoid straight skirts with pocket details.

*To keep big thighs from looking bigger avoid pleated pants and skirts, back pockets, big plaids and horizontal patterns.

EXTENSION HAPPENINGS

The first of a five part series in Basic Tailoring will be held on January 12 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Garrett County Extension Office. All interested persons are invited.

A mini-workshop on "String Quilting" will be held on January 13 at the Garrett County Extension Office from 12 noon to 1 p.m., from 1:30 to 3 p.m., and from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

String quilting is technique for combining long narrow strips of fabric into attractive clothing or household items. The strings may be made from leftover fabric pieces, from discarded apparel or home furnishings fabrics, or from new yardage purchased especially for the project. Many interesting and beautiful combinations can be created which are attractive and fun to wear and use.

String quilting does not take a lot of time but has beautiful results. Anyone interested in learning how to string quilt is invited to attend a mini-workshop. This is a good project to keep you busy during the cold months ahead.

Public Education Funding Explained By State Group

Groups wishing to learn about Maryland's present system of financing elementary and secondary public education may request a speaker from Marylanders for Fair School Financing, a coalition supporting adequate and equitable funding of Maryland schools. The coalition endeavors to inform the public about the way schools are funded now and to encourage participation in legislative decisions about school funding.

The speakers, who are representatives of the League of Women Voters and other major organizations in the state, will give a slide-sound presentation, answer questions and provide explanatory materials.

This project is funded by a grant received by the Maryland Voters Education Fund of the League of Women Voters from the Education Finance Reform Project of the national League of Women Voters Education Fund. Other members of Marylanders for Fair School Financing include the American Association of University Women, Maryland State Division; the Baltimore Urban League; the Maryland Association of Boards of Education; the Maryland Association of Secondary School Principals; the Maryland coalition for gifted and talented Education; the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers; the Maryland State Teachers Association; the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Maryland Chapter; the Public School Administrators and Supervisors Association; the United Federation of Maryland and D.C. Teachers.

For further information, persons should contact Lois G. Hybl, Project Director, 4107 Westview Road, Baltimore, 21218, 301-243-1710, or the local League of Women Voters office.

Abridged history of 'Hill Street Blues'

By STEVEN BOCHCO and MICHAEL KOZOLL

When NBC asked us to do a cop show, we said no. They said, come to lunch. We asked where. They said La Scala. So we went.

Over the fettucini, we gave them several thousand reasons why traditional cop shows, no matter how artfully executed, had virtually no chance of success. Nevertheless they persisted. They gave us carte blanche to break the mold. We said we'd think about it.

Our combined background totaled over 20 years in film and television and included such shows as "Columbo," "McMillan and Wife," "Quincy," "Delvecchio," "Kojak," "Richie Brockelman" and "Paris." Whether successful or not, each of us vowed after each venture never to do another cop show.

Then we got to thinking, what about a cop show that featured cops' personal lives — the stressful effects of working in a hostile ghetto environment. Then we said, this is too serious. So we asked ourselves how can we handle essentially serious themes in a not-so-serious way? The answer was, make it funny too. What we wound up with was "Hill Street Blues." Rather than a whodunit, or will-he-get-way-with-it, "Hill Street Blues" is an hour drama with 13 continuing characters living through a Gordian knot of personal and professional relationships.

NBC programmers said they loved it. NBC Broadcast Standards said we couldn't do it. They said it was too violent, too sexy, too grim. We agreed, and said that's what we liked about it. Fortunately, that's what Fred Silverman liked about it too, and he said try it. We did.

Howard Rosenberg of The Los Angeles Times said " 'Hill Street Blues' is the most promising TV drama I've seen in years."

David Black of Glamour magazine said, " 'Hill Street Blues' is not only excellent in terms of the other offerings of this season, but compares well to the best shows that have ever been broadcast. There is hope for television as long as every season can produce even one show like 'Hill Street Blues.' "

William H. Lynn, senior vice president of advertising's KM&G International, Inc., a well known industry prognosticator, said of "Hill Street Blues": "This dramatic police series combines sensitivity and humor to provide one of the most realistic and human portrayals of a police force in action ever produced. A 25 percent share of audience is predicted, making this program a failure."

Needless to say, we hope we do considerably better, but win, lose or draw, neither of us will ever do another cop show.

("Hill Street Blues" premieres on NBC this month. Steven Bochco and Michael Kozoll are executive producers.)

FRIDAY

Andrew Stevens, Kate Jackson and Jack Warden (l. to r.) present a spirited comedy in "Topper," the story of a timid man whose best friends are dead but not gone, airing Friday, Jan. 9, on ABC. (REPEAT)

STARVIEW

Not home, but could you call it vacation?

By RUTH THOMPSON

For many years that splendid English actor Anthony Quayle and his wife spent their vacations on the island of Malta and kept a boat there. The coast became a second home for them.

But to a number of show-business people the motivation to visit Malta is different. Theirs is a bleakly landscaped Malta that suits a range of film and television specifications.

It was chosen for the location work on the mini-series, "The Martian Chronicles," starring Rock Hudson because "it looks like Mars." That's not its only "look" though.

When the still-in-production "Brideshead Revisted" (starring Laurence Olivier and Anthony Andrews) reaches the United States home screens via PBS, we'll see a strip of the island posing as a desolate strip of North Africa.

Versatile Robin Williams spent his hiatus from "Mork and Mindy" starring in "Popeye" on location on Malta because the versatile island struck producer Robert Altman as the one right place on earth that evoked the sparse background that is integral to the comic strip.

Gerald Isenberg, the 36-year-old producer who bears a resemblance to actor Tony Roberts and has a strong track record for major television specials (among them "Go Ask Alice," a landmark film used by drug rehabilitation centers), has rooted himself for the icy winter weather in a spot where you might not expect to find him. Manhattan. Why is it a suprise?

Isenberg, who grew up in Boston, went to college in Maine (Bowdoin) and whose first job was with the New York office of Columbia Pictures, calls it personally "fortuitous" that Columbia gave him his first California assignment on Jan. 2, 1967. When he drove past the palm trees decorating his home-away-from-home — the Beverly Hills Hotel — down Sunset Boulevard, he marveled that balmy breezes brushed his face while the only visible snow was atop distant mountains. He took up permanent residence, and fast, in sunshine land.

But right now, in mid-winter, he is back in New York City, headquartered in the handsome and semi-ghost-like structure that, until it was retired, had a proud history as Haaren High School. It is, says Isenberg, ideal for the next incarnation of "Fame," which he loved as a theater release movie and which is being adapted as a television movie for 1981, with a strong possibility that NBC will lock it in as a series.

Says Isenberg: "Yes, personally, I love living in California. But to do 'Fame,' it has to be New York." This is where you find the ethnic variety in schools where (in ideal situations) energy mixes with something more. Call it goals, call it a dream, but it works, says Isenberg.

If you outgrow the early dream then upgrade it, amend it. For himself, the enthused Isenberg says, "I have other things waiting for me, but right now I am committed to 'Fame' on television."

It is a personal as well as professional commitment. "In this film I have eight young players, any one or two of whom could carry an entire series. This is not a 'jungle' high school."

These are, he says, people who want to be somebody and get somewhere and include the red-haired, insecure, but flamboyant Doris, played this time by Valerie Landsburg also currently getting nightly applause on Broadway in Neil Simon's "I Ought to Be in Pictures."

CINDY SAYS

Autobio number two; well-bred Tom Seaver

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — Before taking off for a Florida fat farm to drop a few pounds, Shelley Winters told me she'll probably knock off a sequel to her best-selling autobiography. So what should she call part two? How about "Son of Shelley"? ... Nice, patient Tom Seaver waited his turn for a table on the long line at the crowded Carnegie Deli. Fortunately Herbie the headwaiter, a baseball fan, spotted him behind 20 hungry eaters and six stacks of pastrami and rescued him ... From Suzanne Somers: "The nude shots of me cause me embarrassment. I'll be haunted the rest of my life, not to mention my fear that my son may see the magazine pictures."

Ed McMahon: "As long as I'm able to push Johnny Carson on stage in a wheelchair, I'll never retire. Retirement's not for me" ... The Hollywood drums are beating that Charlene Tilton of "Dallas" and the manager who discovered her will soon throw rice at one another ... Barbra Streisand has got an itch to act in a new, non-musical version of "Romeo and Juliet."

Marcus Kyprianou, second son of the president of Cyprus, Spyros Kyprianou, is enrolling in Harvard this semester ... Peter Fonda may nail an NBC series. He'll star and produce. But first he's gotta sell it. Looks like a movie is in the works in Europe with Ingrid Bergman's kid and Princess Grace's kid playing potsy. Translation: Roberto Rossellini and Princess Caroline stumble into one another ... Hey, Robert Stack, alias Elliot Ness of "The Untouchables," returns to TV. He'll do a film for the tube.

Shirley MacLaine's new diet is fresh fruits, steamed veggies, plenty of pasta, bread and potatoes. The no-nos are sugar, salt and fats ... Mick Jagger: "It's quite fun to punch photographers. I don't actually break the camera; just knock the flash attachment off, break the glass, smash it against the wall. It's much less expensive and much more polite" ... Priscilla Presley plans to personally write her memoirs of her ex-husband, the late Elvis Presley. She's even taking writing courses, I'm told ... I saw a sticker that read: "Love America, support America" — on the bumper of a Toyota.

Hermione Gingold is going to do dial-a-joke ... Jimmy Caan's chums allow as how the macho he-man has become a hermit. Doesn't even date ... Cheryl Ladd is looking to cop a Broadway show ... Cher admitted to somebody she's had her bosom tightened three times already and may hem it again. "I'm going to look good until I'm 80," says the lady.

TV TATTLE

Danny remembers

Danny Thomas, who stars as a father who has problems adjusting to the fact that his daughter is a grown woman on ABC's "I'm a Big Girl Now," has had experience with the same situation in real life.

Danny Thomas

"In the show I'm a dentist whose wife has gone off to Spain with my best friend," he says. "I move in with my daughter (Diana Canova) who is recently divorced, and, immediately, I start ordering her around and nagging at her as if she were still a kid. She's a grown woman with a daughter of her own now. Part of the comedy occurs when she puts me in my place."

Thomas had a similar real-life confrontation with his own daughter, actress Marlo Thomas, and he tells the story with gusto.

"When Marlo first started talking about being an actress, I said, 'No, no, no — go to college,' he says. 'So she went to college and when she graduated, she handed me her diploma and said, 'This is for you. Now I want to do what I want to do.'

"I gave her a long lecture on how few performers make any money at all, and she looked me in the eye and said, 'One of these days you'll want me for something and you won't be able to afford me.' And do you know, that's come true. One of my companies wanted her to star in a film recently and her price was too high. Isn't that wonderful?"

Intro leads to wedding bells

Johnny Carson played Cupid three years ago and didn't even realize it.

While hosting NBC's "The Tonight Show Starring Johnny Carson" on Nov. 9, 1977, he asked one of his guests, McLean Stevenson, if he was dating anyone in particular.

"No," said Stevenson, "but I'd sure like to meet one of your new talent coordinators, Ginny Fosdick."

Carson proceeded to bring Ms. Fosdick on camera and introduced her to Stevenson.

"We dated for three years," she said, "and recently decided to get married."

They were married on Monday, Dec. 8, at the Chapel-by-the-Sea, on Florida's Captiva Island, by the Rev. James Kennedy.

Said Carson: "At least one of them is working."

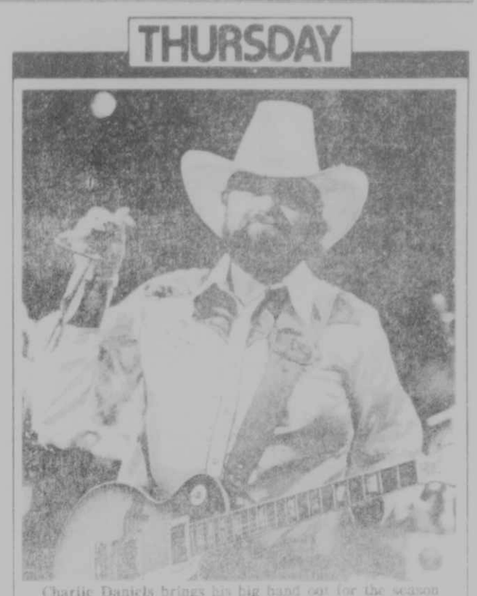

Mitch Miller returns

Mitch Miller, whose sing-along musical novelty propelled him to popularity as a recording artist and television personality, will return to prime-time television in a one-hour all-music pilot on NBC early this year. Set to guest-star on the program are pop singer Irene Cara (of "Fame" fame) and Rosemary Clooney.

'Paper Chase' returns

After a two-year hiatus, the critically acclaimed series about a group of first-year law students, "The Paper Chase," will return to home television screens. Thirteen episodes from the series that was originally seen on CBS will be aired as part of PBS's second season, beginning Thursday, Jan. 15.

THURSDAY

Charlie Daniels brings his big band out for the season premiere of "Austin City Limits," Thursday, Jan. 8, on PBS. They romp through an hour that includes "Long-Haired Country Boy" and "The Devil Went Down to Georgia."

(Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

Weekend telethon

John Ritter heads a star-studded cast for the third national United Cerebral Palsy Telethon that airs Jan. 17 and 19, live from Los Angeles and New York, with taped segments from Las Vegas and local "cutaways" for regional entertainment. More than $13 million was raised via the telethon last year to fund research and services related to the disabling condition that affects 700,000 Americans and 10,000 infants each year. Among the co-hosts who have returned with Ritter are Joyce DeWitt, Robert Guillaume, Paul Anka, Henry Winkler, Gavin MacLeod, Dennis James and Dick Van Patten.

NEW EVENING DRAMA — The bride and groom (Linda Evans and John Forsythe, top) are smiling, but the atmosphere is less than cordial as the marriage opens the flood gates of the emotions for many of those who surround the couple — especially the groom's children, Steven and Fallon Carrington (Al Corley and Pamela Sue Martin, bottom with Forsythe), in ABC's new serial, "Dynasty." The weekly drama premieres with a special three-hour movie on Monday, Jan. 12. "Dynasty" will air Mondays, beginning Jan. 19.

TV Circles

Words in the list below appear across, up, down, backwards and diagonally in the diagram. Find each word and draw a circle around its letters, then cross the word off the list. Some circled letters appear in more than one word. The letters that form the answer will be left over. Unscramble and arrange them to create a word, or words, that will provide the answer.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

MAIL CALL — Can you tell me where I can write Sha Na Na? I wrote them at their fan club post office box, but found it had expired, and I got the letter back. — Susie M.J., San Jose, Calif.

You can write the group in care of Ron Weisner, 9200 Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90069.

SOMETHING'S COOKING — Where can I write the fabulous Julia Child? — S.E. Thorn, East Hartford, Conn.

Write her in your neck of the woods, generally speaking. Her address is c/o WGBH-TV, 125 Western Avenue, Boston, MA 02134.

JUDD'S FAN — Please satisfy my curiosity. Is Judd Hirsch married? Does he plan to leave "Taxi" for a film career? — Karen Horney, Hartford, Conn.

Hirsch is single (divorced), and if a great movie role came up and fit into his shooting schedule for "Taxi," he would undoubtedly take it. But not at the expense of his hit TV series. He loves the stage, and that's what he does when he is not working on "Taxi."

ROBERT AND HIS 240 — I don't think the networks care about good programming, so I doubt I'll ever see "240-Robert" again. In the meantime, can you tell me something about John Bennett Perry. I'm in love with him, but he doesn't have to worry. I'm a senior citizen. — M.J., Durham, N.C.

Surprise! "240 Robert" will be coming back, but just when is not certain because of the way the recent actors' strike messed up schedules. Mark Harmon and Joanna Cassidy are in other things, but Perry will probably be back.

He was born in Williamstown, Mass., where he was educated. After college, he got a job with the Serendipity Singers. Eventually he became their lead singer. He has been in many musical comedies as well as singing in Leonard Bernstein's "Mass" at the Metropolitan Opera in New York and the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. When he made the move to California, he began to appear on TV in shows such as "Police Story," "Mannix" and "Little House on the Prairie." He operates a small recording studio with his older brother, Tony, when he is not acting.

A JONES BOY — I saw Tommy Lee Jones in a TV movie called "Jackson County Jail." What else has he been in? — Desperate, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Don't be desperate. Here's relief: Tommy Lee Jones is a Texas boy who played Howard Hughes in a two-part TV movie about the millionaire's life. He also played opposite Faye Dunaway in "The Eyes of Laura Mars." A rising young star, you'll be seeing more of him. Keep watching.

TRIVIA TIME — For 13 years I have been bugged by the name of the very first Smothers Brothers series. Tom had drowned at sea and returned to Earth as an apprentice angel. Tom's superior, who was never seen, was called Ralph. What was the name of the series? — Terry Wilkins, Austin.

The title was right to the point; it was called "The Smothers Brothers Show" and was on CBS for a year beginning in September 1965. Their other shows were called "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" on CBS and "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" on ABC, "The Smothers Organic Prime Time Space Ride," syndicated in 1971, and "The Smothers Brothers Show" on NBC in 1975.

(Do you have a question about TV? Drop us a line in care of Newspaper Enterprise Assn., 200 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10166.)

SUNDAY

Art critic Robert Hughes guides PBS viewers through the 20th century's innovative, bold and always expressive contemporary art in "The Shock of the New," an eight-part series premiering Sunday, Jan. 11.

Cathy Silvers' TV role is just like her

Cathy Silvers

"Jenny Piccalo is so like me it's frightening — loud, open, honest, obnoxious and with an answer for everything," Cathy Silvers says with a smile. This season, the second-generaion comedienne is bringing to life a character long an off-stage presence on ABC's "Happy Days." Joanie Cunningham's independent-minded, boy-crazy best friend, Jenny.

The daughter of Phil and Evelyn Silvers, Cathy was born in New York City, where her father was starring on Broadway in "Do Re Mi." She moved with her family to Los Angeles when she was just 6 months old.

"I always wanted to perform," says Cathy, who credits both her parents with influencing her career. One of five girls born in just seven years, the close-knit sisters were "always on." As youngsters they not only used every holiday as an excuse to create a little show at home, but frequently staged children's plays for the community.

"We were the traveling Silvers," Cathy recalls. They haven't stopped entertaining. Tracey, Cathy's oldest sister, is an associate producer. Her older sister, Nancy, is an actress, as is Cathy's twin, Candy, who is currently building her career in New York. Laury, the youngest, is in high school.

At first considered the shyest of the five, Cathy showed her penchant for the stage when she was just a toddler. Her father was headlining at a Las Vegas hotel, and during one of the shows called his daughters up on stage. While the others ran behind the curtain in embarassment, Cathy entertained the audience with the national anthem and the twist. "My dad said, 'That's little Phil,'" recalls Cathy, "and I've been little Phil ever since."

Cathy is proud of the performing instincts she inherited from her father, and the comic skills and timing she developed, joking, singing and just growing up with one of the country's entertainers. But, she says it is her mother "who really kicked me off."

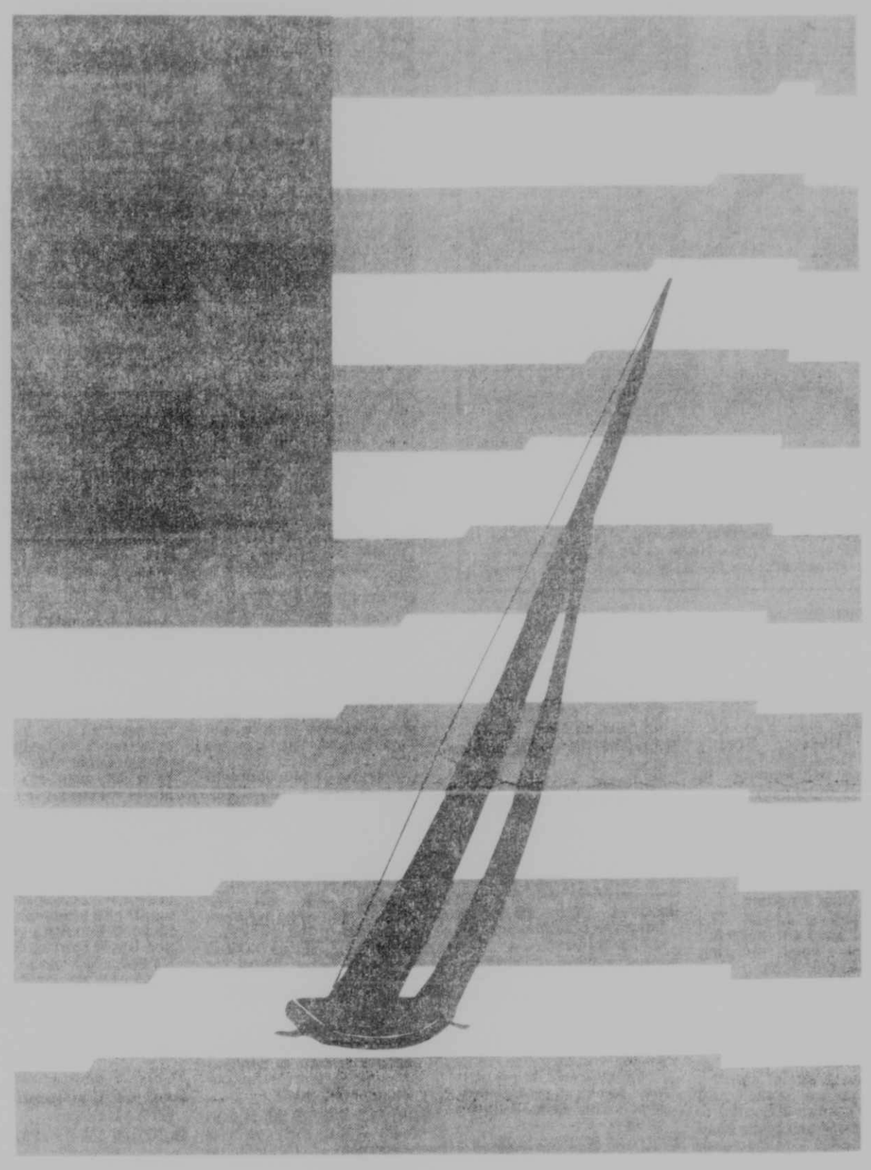

Preparing her junior high school valedictory speech launched Cathy in the arena of public speaking. Encouraged by her mother, who had been a high school orator, Cathy competed throughout her four years at Beverly Hills High School in forensics, at the local and state levels. Dramatic and humorous interpretation was her main event.

"It was a great way to get confidence. It really teaches you to use your inner feelings," says Cathy. "I knew since I was basically winning just about every tournament that there was something there, whether it was acting ability or speech ability." Cathy explored both, adding starring roles in numerous high school plays to her forensics experience.

Cathy continued her dramatic training at California State University at Northridge, where she appeared in "Beauty and the Beast," and played the lead role of Bunny Flingus in John Guares "The House of Blue Leaves." Among the "rooting section" of 25 her mother brought to the opening night was actor Dudley Moore, who was so impressed with Cathy's performances that he arranged a interview for her with his agent, who sent her out on several casting calls. The second was "Happy Days."

Energetic Cathy has worked part time since her freshman year in high school, first behind the counter in a Swiss chocolate store and later selling clothes in a small boutique. She studied and taught gymnastics for several years, and enjoys waterskiing, traveling, bicycling, volleyball, reading and going to the movies.

FREEDOM'S DEFENSE: AMERICA'S CUP 1980

Robert MacNeil of the "MacNeil/Lehrer Report," an avid amateur sailor, hosts the special. The film chronicles the 129-year history of the race, explains the reasons for America's consistent victories, shows how challenging countries invest millions of dollars in design, and the strategy and training for the race.

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Last of the parties; 'Texas' is uncertain

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — The last of the New York-based soaps to have a Christmas party in 1980 was "Edge of Night." The enthusiastic cast and production people gathered at the exclusive Player's Club in Manhattan's Gramercy Park area. The night's festivities included lots of good food, drinks all around (several times), good company and a generally enjoyable evening had by all lucky enough to be invited.

"Another World" will undoubtedly be undergoing some changes in the months to come now that they have a new head writer. L. Virginia Browne's scripts began airing Dec. 29, and with their debut the first cast casualty was that of Deborah Hobart (Amy Dudley). Ms. Browne is replacing the writing team of Tom King and the Soderbergs.

"Texas" also made a few cast changes in the past weeks, including the axing of Scott Stevenson from his Clipper Curtis role. Dana Kimmell as Dawn Marshall also took one of those "fatal" trips out of town for a better life. New to the cast, however, is Pamela Lewis as Shelly Leigh.

Both of these NBC shows are rumored to be in trouble as far as viewer popularity, so it's conceivable that there will be a lot more rearranging behind the scenes. In fact, the scuttlebutt around New York has been that producer Paul Rauch was given a mere six months more to shape up the new show "Texas," although no "alternatives" have been mentioned.

Members of "The Doctors" cast who took vacations recently included Frank Luz (John Bennett) and Nancy Pinkerton (Viveca Strand). Reports afterward were that Nancy and her husband, Gil Peabody, thoroughly enjoyed their trip to Japan, while Frank was disappointed (to say the least) with his trip to Acapulco. Seems Frank's expensive hotel accommodations didn't include the use of the tennis court (Frank's a tennis buff) and, after a few other bad experiences, Frank was treated to an early morning earthquake. Needless to say, Frank hotfooted it back to the safety of New York City and "TD's" NBC set.

We don't know whether you have noticed or not, but Courtney Sherman (ex-Kathy Phillips on "Search For Tomorrow") has been writing dialogue for "TD."

There's a budding backstage romance on the "As the World Turns" set, and it's between Peter Reckell (Eric Hollister) and Suzanne Davidson (Betsy Stewart).

TUESDAY

Constance Carlyle (Morgan Fairchild, above) and Lane Ballou (Cristina Raines) vie for the affection of Constance's husband on NBC's "Flamingo Road," Tuesday, Jan. 13.

WEDNESDAY

Three is more than enough when Tommy and Jeremy fall for the same girl — who gleefully encourages them both — on "Eight Is Enough," Wednesday, Jan. 14, on ABC. Starring (l. to r.) Willie Aames, DeAnna Robbins and Ralph Macchio.

Gem of an idea.

Take stock in America. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

KEEP IT UP, AMERICA.

We're doing it. We're driving less, planning trips more wisely, keeping our cars in tune— we're taking the simple but necessary steps to save gasoline... and money.

Things like:

Driving at a moderate speed and a steady pace. 35 to 45 miles per hour is the most efficient driving speed (no more than 55 on the highway). Paying closer attention to the traffic flow can help you avoid unnecessary acceleration or sudden braking.

Following easy steps like these really can help reduce your gasoline bills. So keep up the good work!

LITTLE BY LITTLE, IT ALL ADDS UP.

Assessment Answers

by James Burley

HOW TO APPEAL AN ASSESSMENT

You have received your assessment notice for the first time in two years, and you are shocked and unhappy about the sizeable increase. What, if anything, can be done about it?

If it is a residential property, the value was estimated by using the market data method, the preferred technique in assessing dwellings. This procedure embraces examining sales, which occurred during a specified time span and within an acceptable geographic proximity, of similar properties to those being revalued and making adjustments for different physical features.

Obviously, the technique of placing a value on one property based on the sale of others will have its shortcomings. The assesing function is a system of mass appraising, and the distinguishing features of individual properties which could affect their value may not be readily detected by the assessor. Moreover, the marketplace is a moving and volatile environment. Many influences can be buried in a transaction not apparent of the casual overviewer.

For this and other reasons, including giving the owner a voice in the valuation of his own property, the law allows the opportunity to appeal the proposed assessments before they become final. Owners who wish to exercise this opportunity, do so by signing the appeal copy of their notice and returning it to the assessments office within 45 days of the date of the notice. The meeting with the assessor is an informal one where the owner and the assessor exchange their respective, supporting information.

Most successful appeals depend upon valid evidence that the property has some characteristic or flaw that would make it difficult or impossible to sell at the valuation established for assessment purposes. Although there is no official time limit, the meetings usually last about 15 to 20 minutes. Owners should take the best possible advantage of this time and stick to those aspects that are pertinent to the value, such as adverse features, and avoid general commentary on taxes and services which, though important, are not within the assessor's sphere of control. Owners can also review the assessment records for possible errors. The assessor will have at hand data of comparable properties in the vicinity, and owners might be wise to have sales data of their own for comparison. This kind of information is available in real estate offices and public libraries.

If the taxpayer is not satisfied with the result of the meeting, he can appeal the decision to the local property tax assessment appeal board within 30 days of the date of the final notice from the assessments department. Here, owners might fare better because the appeal board is independent of the assessments department. If the owner is dissatisfied with the board's decision, he can appeal — again within 30 days of the board's notice — to the Maryland Tax Court. If disappointed with the decision of the tax court, an owner still has available to him the regular judiciary channels. Up to this point there are no out-of-pocket costs.

The major hurdle is providing that the valuation is higher than it should be. This could be difficult because the market data used is frequently more than a year old by the time the owner receives the assessment notice; and, with inflation, values tend to rise as fast as the dollar shrinks. On the other hand, the property owner knows the features — good and bad — of his own property better than anyone else, and he has every right to voice his opinion and share in the decision-making process that determines the valuation for tax purposes.

Final Tax Payment Due Soon For 1980

Taxpayers must pay by January 16, 1981, the final installment of estimated income tax if they did not have enough 1980 Federal tax withheld or if their amended income Estimates for 1980 changed substantially during the last quarter, the Internal Revenue Service says.

The one exception to this rule is for taxpayers who file their returns to pay all taxes due by February 2, 1981, according to the IRS.

Generally, taxpayers must file estimated tax if their tax is expected to be $100 or more and if they have more than $500 in income not covered by withholding.

For additional information, taxpayers may order the IRS FREE Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax," using the order form in the tax package. The publication can be ordered by calling the IRS forms/tax information number listed in the local telephone directory.

Farmers, Fishermen Must Pay Estimated Tax By Jan. 16

Individuals engaged in the farming or fishing industries who earned at least two-thirds of their 1979 or 1980 gross income from farming or fishing must make a declaration of estimated tax for 1980 and pay all taxes due by January 16, 1981, the Internal Revenue Service says.

However, farmers or fishermen who plan to file their income tax returns for 1980 and pay the total tax by March 2, 1981, are not required to make an estimated tax declaration.

Qualified farmers of fishermen who pay their total tax by March 2, should obtain from the IRS a copy of Form 2210-F, "Underpayment of Estimated Tax by Farmers and Fishermen." They should enter, "Exempt, farmer/fisherman" on line one of Form 2210-F, not complete the rest of the form, and submit it with their Form 1040, the IRS adds.

The IRS has three free publications, which explain in detail filing requirement: Publication 225, "Farmer's Tax Guide;" Publication 595, "Tax Guide for Commercial Fishermen," and Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax."

The publications and Form 2210-F may be obtained by mail, using the order form in the tax package, or by calling the IRS forms/tax information number listed in the telephone directory.

Repayment Of Corn Reserve Loans Requested

Farmers who have corn stored in the farmer-owned grain reserve will be required to repay their price support loans within 90 days of notification, Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, announced Monday.

Currently, about 665 million bushels of corn are in the farmer-owned reserve, he said.

Crowl said repayment of reserve corn loans was called on December 30 by the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) because the five-day national average market price for the commodity was at or above the $3.26-per-bushel reserve call price for corn for five consecutive days. The daily adjusted price for corn also has been above this level for five days in a row, Crowl said.

Crowl said the call of corn loans does not mean that farmers are required to sell their grain. The call requires them to repay their loans within 90 days of the date they are officially notified of the call. County offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will officially notify producers whose loans have been called.

All reserve grains except barley and wheat are now in call status.

Under the farmer-owned grain reserve program farmers are eligible to place feed grains and wheat into a reserve when farm prices are below call prices. In return, farmers receive CCC price support loans on the grain in reserve as well as annual storage payments. The corn reserve was begun in December 1977.

The call level for corn under the reserve program is 145 percent of the $2.25 per bushel national average loan rate, or $3.26. Data used by CCC in determining the call level included a daily report by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service which shows prices at selected markets. For corn, the markets are Chicago, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Omaha, and St. Louis.

Viking Discoveries

Mars has been explored by the Viking spacecraft since 1976. Many discoveries have been made during this time. Among them are the following: Einstein's prediction concerning the delay in radio signals caused by the solar gravitational field was confirmed to an accuracy 20 times greater than any previous test. No organic molecules could be found on the Martian surface and living microorganisms could be detected in the soil near the Viking landers, Nitrogen was found to be a significant component of the Martian atmosphere.

Moon

On Tuesday, the First Quarter phase of the Moon will occur at 5:10 a. m. At this time the Moon will be 90 degrees east of the Sun. Moonset will be at 6:46 tonight. Next Tuesday, moonset will be at 19 minutes after midnight.

Next Wednesday, the Moon will be 369,625 kilometers (229,723 miles) from Earth. This perigee will occur at 11:00 p. m. It will be the closest the Moon will be to Earth during January.

Visible Planets

Venus, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn will continue to be visible during the coming week. Venus will be low in the southeast just before sunrise. Mars will be very low in the southwest just after sunset. It is among the stars of Capricorn. Jupiter and Saturn remain among the stars of Virgo. They rise shortly before midnight.

THE TRUE MIDDLEMAN

When a REALTOR executes the purchase and sale of real estate, he customarily receives his entire remuneration in the form of a commission on the transaction. For the most part, though, the REALTOR is the true middleman. He is legally entitled to receive his commission, under the laws of most states, from either the seller or buyer, but in practice he represents the seller and receives his commission out of the price that is paid to the seller.

This does not mean that the REALTOR, as the seller's agent, is not in a position to protect the interests of the buyer. Indeed, under the law and codes of ethics, the REALTOR must protect the interest of the buyer as well as the seller because of his status as the licensed professional who executes the sale. Also, as a matter of practicality, the agent also wants both buyer and seller as future clients or as satisfied customers who will recommend him to their friends.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices:

Yoder School Teacher Attends NCTE Convention

Ada V. Schrock, language arts teacher in Yoder School, was a speaker in the elementary section of the annual convention of National Council of Teachers of English held in Cincinnati, Ohio, on November 22.

Dr. Charlotte Huck, professor of Children's Literature at Ohio State University in Columbus, Ohio, invited Ms. Schrock to speak on "Literature and Reading in a Four-room Rural School" as part of the elementary session on "Reading Power through Literature."

Ms Schrock had studied under Dr. Huck while on her sabbatical in 1978. During the same period she shared the home and library of Dr. E. Jane Porter, former professor of Children's Literature at University of Delaware, now in the Ohio Department of Education.

Among the authors with whom Ms. Schrock met informally and had dinner were Nancy Larrick, Lee Bennett Hopkins, and Myra Cohn Livingston, recipient of the 1980 Award for Excellence in Poetry for Children.

In addition to hearing authors Arnold Lobel, Peggy Parish, and Charlotte Zolotow and her author daughter, Ms. Schrock visited over 100 exhibits of professional and instructional materials, and had books autographed.

Ms. Schrock has been a member of NCTE for many years, but had never attended an annual convention before.

FIRE SAFETY TIPS — Many people are installing a small wood or coal stove as a low-cost way of getting some extra heat. State Fire Marshal James C. Robertson is shown inspecting a stove for its safe use. Stoves should be properly vented to the outside with an approved chimney system. Additional tips for safe usage include: 1) Floor protection from radiating heat at least 18" from stove forward. 2) Proper disposal of ashes. Ashes should be placed in metal containers and removed from house as soon as possible. 3) A distance of 36" from the stove to any combustible material such as sofas, chairs, rugs, curtains, etc. Photo by TFC Hoyt Jones.

Area Scouters To Attend National Scout Jamboree

Winter Survival

The following is the second in a series of articles prepared by the Federal Emergency Management Agency and made available to The Republican by the Garrett County Civil Defense office.

MAKE YOUR HOME SELF-SUFFICIENT

Be prepared for isolation at home during winter storms. Keep an adequate supply of heating fuel on hand and use it sparingly as regular supplies may be curtailed by storm conditions. If necessary, conserve fuel by keeping the house cooler than usual, or by "closing off" some rooms temporarily.

Stock an emergency supply of food and water. Your supplies should include food that requires no cooking or refrigeration and emergency cooking facilities in case of power failure. Well-balanced nutritional meals allow the body to produce its own heat efficiently, especially quick-energy foods like raisins and other dried fruit.

Beware of possible fire hazards due to overheated coal or oil-burning stoves, fireplaces, heaters, or furnaces. Keep simple tools and equipment needed to fight a fire on hand as fire department help may not be available.

Severe winter storms can knock out power lines. Have a flashlight, extra batteries or candles and matches and a battery-powered radio with extra batteries. The radio will allow you to follow the storm's progress and keep you posted on any emergency information broadcasts by local authorities.

Downed power lines can affect not only lights but heating equipment as well. If your furnace is controlled by a thermostat and your electricity is cut off by a storm, the furnace probably would not operate and you would need emergency heat. Some type of emergency heating equipment and fuel would allow you to keep at least one room of the house warm enough to be livable. This could be a camp stove with fuel, or a supply of wood or coal if you have a fireplace. However, be careful using emergency heating equipment - - proper ventilation is essential and extra caution must be taken to prevent fire. To learn how to handle alternative heat sources safely, talk to a local dealer- - he'll be listed in the yellow pages of your telephone directory under "Heating."

If your home should lose heat, keep water pipes from freezing by wrapping them in insulation made for water pipes, or in layers of old newspaper, lapping the ends and tying them around the pipes. Cover the newspapers with plastic to keep out the moisture. If extremely cold and there is a danger of freezing, let the faucets drip a little. Know where the valve for shutting off the water coming into the house or apartment is located. As a last resort, you may have to shut off the main valve and drain all the pipes to keep them from freezing and bursting.

If despite your efforts the pipes do freeze, open faucets wide to allow for expansion of the frozen water. Remove any newspaper that may be around the pipe. Wrap pipes with rags and pour hot water over the rags, with the faucets still open.

L.P. Gas Water Heaters May Be Dangerous

Thermostats manufactured by the White-Rodgers Division of Emerson Electric Company and used on liquid propane (L.P.) gas water heaters are being replaced, because under certain conditions they may lead to explosion and serious injury.

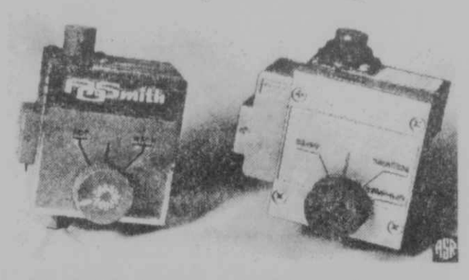

The replacement involves thermostats which were manufactured by White-Rodgers between 1961 and 1980 and sold to A.O. Smith Corporation and several other water heater manufacturers for installation on more than 600,000 L.P. gas water heaters used primarily by rural homeowners.

Natural gas fueled water heaters are not involved in the recall, and no replacement of natural gas thermostats is planned or necessary.

Physical damage to the thermostat's gas control knob could cause the safety valve to stick in the "open" position, allowing L.P. gas to escape. Since L.P. gas is heavier than air, it tends to accumulate near the floor and may explode when exposed to an open flame, electric spark or other ignition source. Since 1968, L.P. gas water heaters with White-Rodgers thermostats have been involved in 23 explosions involving five deaths and sixteen serious injuries. In most of these cases the gas knob of the thermostat apparently had been damaged or abused, allowing gas to escape.

If consumers believe their L.P. gas water heater has been purchased since 1961, they should call the White-Rodgers hotline toll-free, 1-800-325-9589 (or collect from Missouri, Alaska and Hawaii at 314-631-9321) to arrange for replacement with a new modified thermostat free of charge.

The new thermostats will be installed by a qualified service representative working under an arrangement with White-Rodgers. Each of the replacement thermostats will bear a sticker warning consumers against forcing, hitting or damaging the thermostat's gas control knob. Under no circumstances should someone owning an L.P. gas water heater equipped with one of these thermostats attempt to relight the pilot flame if it has gone out. Instead, they should call their gas supplier or plumber immediately.

Over 600,000 thermostats installed on liquid propane (L.P.) gas water heaters between 1961 and 1980 are being replaced free of charge because under certain conditions they may lead to explosion and serious injury. Of the thermostats pictured here, the one on the left, or one very similar to it, should be replaced. The thermostat on the right is equipped with additional safety devices and bears a consumer warning label. If your L.P. gas water heater is equipped with a thermostat like the one shown at left and the pilot flame goes out, do not attempt to relight it yourself. Instead, call your gas supplier or plumber immediately. Then call White-Rodgers toll-free.

The thermostat currently being manufactured by White-Rodgers contains a knob and collar which are much more resistant to damage during the life of the product than earlier models. The new thermostat also contains a gas inlet filter which White-Rodgers believes will prevent contaminants from interfering with proper operation of the thermostat's safety valve.

The program will include L.P. gas water heaters, manufactured by A. O. Smith under such brand names as A. O. Smith, American Standard, Continental, Glascote, Kee, National, Minnegasco, NORGAS and Homart, along with water heaters manufactured by other companies.

The program is part of a settlement with the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission which also requires White-Rodgers to pay a fine of $420,000 and mail safety alert notices to the estimated 15 million U.S. households that use L.P. gas.

The agreement with the Commission states that the replacement program is being conducted, because "it is in the public interest to minimize any possibility of injury due to abuse or any other cause from White-Rodgers thermostats used in L.P. gas water heaters."

The Commission also notes that the companies involved do not admit any violation of the Consumer Product Safety Act and in agreeing to pay the settlement claim, White-Rodgers states that it did not violate the reporting requirement of the Act.

About Nutrition

Editor's Note: Few areas of medicine are more basic to health than that of human nutrition, yet the complex mteraction of nutrients and body metabolism is only now beginning to be understood. Physicians and scientists at the West Virginia University Medical Center are developing a unified program in human nutrition to deepen their understanding of this rapidly growing field and to use the knowledge in patient treatment. In an effort to share these advances with the community, they are taking part in a series of interviews describing recent advances in nutritional aspects of disease and of good health.

This interview is with Howard Harris, assistant professor of surgery whose work includes gastric surgery on morbidly obese patients.

Q. What persons are good candidate for surgical treatment of obesity?

A. The first requirement is that the individual suffer from morbid obesity, meaning that their weight poses a real medical threat to their well-being. Using only the criterion of weight, such obesity would apply to about 5 percent of the adult population. The second requirement is that the patient have a documented lack of response to more conventional forms of weight reduction. Although somewhat harder to assess, they must also be emotionally and situationally stable.

Q. Is there a time element involved?

A. In general, we're talking about people who have had this problem for five or more years.

Q. What does the operation consist of?

A. Many people refer to the procedure as a "gastric by-pass." Actually it involves a partitioning of the stomach so as to create two individual compartments. There is a small upper compartment that holds only two to three ounces and a much larger lower portion. The two compartments communicate through a very small channel.

Q. What are the results of the surgery in term of both eating and weight loss?

A. After the operation, the patient can eat only two to three ounces of food at a time. Most patients continue to eat three or four meals a day. There is almost no restriction to what they may eat - - only the amount. Most patients will lose 10 to 15 pounds a month for the first six months and by the end of a year will have lost 120 to 150 pounds.

Q. Are they able to eat only 2 to 3 ounces at a time the rest of their lives or is the operation reversible?

A. The reconstruction itself undergoes certain modifications during the post-operative period. After several years, the reservoir capacity will have increased to perhaps four to five ounces and the one centimeter channel will have become larger. As a result, the caloric intake will increase to about 2,000 to 2,500 calories, enough to maintain a stable weight.

Q. Are there psychological or emotional problems connected with the operation?

A. There are many adjustments that take place in the post-operative period. There is an immediate and sharp reduction in the amount of food consumed. As patients begin to lose weight, more long-term changes take place. There are changes in self-image, in life style, and in clothing. So there are often many adjustments to be made - - and most are welcome adjustments.

Q. How did surgeons become involved in the treatment of obese persons?

A. It grew from the realization that obese persons have a genuine medical problem, not just a cosmetic one. These patients, on a matched age-sex basis, have only about one-seventh the opportunity to enjoy a normal life span when compared to a normal population. Surgeons were called on because other health professionals have found the problem of morbid obesity most difficult to manage non-operatively.

Q. How long has the surgical approach to obesity been in use?

A. The initial approaches date back to the 1950's and became more prevalent in the following decade. The gastric procedures, as opposed to intestinal bypass, date from the mid-1960's. Much of the initial work was done at the University of Iowa. It didn't receive much national attention until the mid to late 1970's—so overall it's a relatively recent approach to the problem of obesity.

At West Virginia University Hospital, it has been done for three or four years.

Q. How often is the surgery done at the WVU Medical Center?

A. We're screening patients on a weekly basis and the procedure is performed two to three times a month.

Q. Has gastric or stomach surgery largely replaced intestinal bypass for purposes of obesity control?

A. I believe it has and for two reasons. One is patient preference, the other is evolving medical experience. Many of our patients are knowledgable about these procedures and are aware of the choices they can make. Although the intestinal bypass was effective in weight reduction, it was attended by a number of complications which many times developed long after the operation itself. It is these late complications that have made the various intestinal procedures appear less attractive than was originally suggested.

Q. If the mortality rate of the gastric operation is only 2 or 3 percent - - less than the mortality for gross obesity - - why isn't the surgery suggested for many more patients?

A. This is a relatively new procedure and already in the past four or five years has undergone a number of modifications. Long-term outcomes of the surgery are not yet known. Since it has not yet withstood the test of time, it's a procedure we approach with a fair degree of caution.

Q. What are the long-term risks of both intestinal bypass and gastric surgery.?

A. A large body of information has been gathered on complications of the intestinal bypass, the older of the procedures. These are essentially complications of mal-absorption: gall stones, kidney stones, liver failure, trouble with arthritis and disabling diarrhea. Although follow-up information is less extensive, the gastric procedure seems to be less troublesome.

IN MEMORIAM

In Memory of Richard Lee Hinebaugh (Rick) who passed away 2 years ago, January 6. When the family gets together there is one we fail to see, and it fills our hearts with sadness thinking of how it used to be. Your land is filled with sunshine ours is filled with tears. For all of us that loved you it's been a very long 2 years.

Missed by all
Mother, Father,
Brothers and Sisters

—Adv. 45-1t.

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory of our Mother, Daughter and Sister Stella (Bowser) Sisler, who passed away 3 years ago January 6. Again another year has passed, it still is hard to face, there will never be another you to fill the empty space. All we have left are memories, but we cherish every one, we wonder how our lives would be if you just would not have gone, you bid no one a last farewell, nor could we say goodbye, you were gone before we knew it, and only they know why. We cannot keep from wondering, no matter how we try, and in our sad and troubled hearts, we keep on asking why? The reasons hidden somewhere, Stella, in the pattern God has planned, we must believe and trust him, and hope someday we'll understand. Precious thoughts, silent tears, cherished memories, you were special, Stella.

Sadly missed by, children

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

THE MAYOR AND TOWN COUNCIL OF MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK WILL HOLD A PUBLIC HEARING ON PROPOSED LAND SUB-DIVISION ORDINANCE

On Thursday, January 15, 1981 at 7:00 p.m., in the Town Hall the Mayor & Town Council will hold a hearing to receive comments from the public concerning a proposed ordinance which would regulate the subdivision of land.

Acting within the authority granted by Section V of Article 66B of the Annotated Code of Maryland the Planning Commission has prepared a set of regulations governing the subdivision of land within its jurisdiction. Section 5.01 of Article 66B defines a Planning Commission's jurisdiction over the subdivision of land to include both all lands included within the corporate boundaries of the Town as well as for the area lying within one mile of said corporate limits. Any lands lying within the one mile area which are located in another municipality are excluded from the Planning Commission's authority.

The intent of the land subdivision ordinance is to: 1) provide for the proper arrangement of streets, utility systems and other public improvements, 2) further the development of land in an orderly and appropriate manner, 3) establish standards for the design, survey, approval and recording of plats of land subdivisions, 4) establish requirements and responsibilities for the equitable allocation of the costs of installing streets, utility systems and other public improvements, 5) to provide consumer protection from flooding, sediment, traffic congestion and threats to public health and safety.

The general contents of the ordinance according to each of its Articles is as follows: (The complete text of the ordinance is available for inspection at the Town Hall during normal working hours).

Article I.
Title: Mountain Lake Park Land Subdivision Ordinance.
Purpose: Promote Health, safety and general welfare of the present and future residents of Mountain Lake Park.
Applicability: The provisions of this ordinance shall apply to all land within corporate limits of Mountain Lake Park and its authority shall also extend over all land lying within one mile of the corporate limits of the Town which is not included in another municipality and for which the County has not provided a functioning subdivision regulation.

Article II. DEFINITIONS
Article II defines terms used in the ordinance.

Article III. REQUIREMENTS and PENALTIES
Article III states that it shall be unlawful for the owner of land located within the jurisdiction of this ordinance to subdivide land until the plat of said subdivision has been approved and recorded in accordance with this ordinance.
Whoever subdivides or sells tracts of land without receiving plat approval from the Planning Commission is subject to a penalty of not less than two hundred ($200) nor more than one thousand ($1,000) for each lot so transferred. The Mayor and Town Council may enjoin such transfer by filing for an injunction in a court of equity jurisdiction.

Article IV. ADMINISTRATION
Article IV provides for the creation of the position of Development Administrator. It also provides for the levying of fees to cover the cost of reviewing plats and inspecting public improvements.

Article V. PROCEDURAL REGULATIONS
Article V established the procedures which must be followed for the proper review of land subdivision plats. Any person subdividing land within the jurisdiction of this ordinance must follow the procedures detailed in Article V. In summary, the Article establishes review procedures for a Tentative Plan (a non-requirement), a Preliminary Plat (a non-requirement), a Final Plat (a requirement), and a Record Plat (a requirement). Article V also details the procedures for the Town Council's inspection and acceptance of streets and other public improvements.

Article VI. PLAT PREPARATION REGULATIONS
Article VI establishes standards for the drafting of plats. It also indicates the information which must be shown on a plat for the Planning Commission to review it.

Article VII. DESIGN STANDARDS
Article VII establishes standards for the design of: lots, blocks, streets, storm drainage, sanitary sewage disposal, water supply and distribution systems and public utility system extensions.

Article VIII. IMPROVEMENT SPECIFICATION REGULATIONS
Article VIII establishes the public improvements that a subdivider will construct in order to receive final plat approval. The improvements the Article provides for are: streets, sewage disposal systems, storm drainage, erosion control, water supply systems, monuments, and street signs.

Article IX. IMPROVEMENT GUARANTEES
Article IX establishes the content of the written agreements that the Town and Subdivider must enter into prior to the Planning Commission's final approval of any subdivision. These agreements require the subdivider to construct all improvements required by this ordinance and to furnish the Town cash or bond of a sufficient amount to cover the cost of installing said improvements.

Greenbelt Man Fatally Injured In Auto Mishap

A two-vehicle accident on U.S. Route 48 near Grantsville Monday morning claimed the life of a Prince Georges County man.

According to Maryland State Police, Paul Chan Cho, 52, Greenbelt, died in the 10:40 a.m. accident, which occurred in the westbound lane near the Casselman River Bridge.

Reports reveal Cho's vehicle crossed the bridge, went out of control, slammed into the guardrails, and was thrown back into the lanes of traffic, where it was struck broadside by a tractor-trailer.

The operator of the truck, R.T. Kreps, Jr., 41, Clear Spring , was uninjured.

Cho was transported to Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, by the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Fire Damage Excessive At Area Residence

The residence of David and Theresa Parsons, located along the Old Crellin Road about two miles southwest of Oakland, was virtually destroyed by fire last Wednesday morning, James Martin, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany Counties, estimated the damage at $40,000.

Oakland firefighters were summoned to the residence by Garrett Central Alarm at 9:48 a.m., and found much of the dwelling involved in flame upon their arrival. Garrett Central Alarm originally received inaccurate directions and, consequently, fire personnel were delayed about five minutes over the usual response time.

Martin stated that Parsons had gone to work at about 7:10 a.m. Mrs. Parsons had gone back to bed and when she awakened later, found smoke throughout the house. She then gathered up her young daughter, and as they fled from the house, she noticed a portion of the kitchen on fire.

Martin determined that the fire was the result of grease which became overheated on the stove in the kitchen. The fire spread from the kitchen to the living room, the basement and back up the basement steps. The remainder of the house sustained heavy smoke damage, according to Martin.

Also sent to the scene was the county air cascade vehicle from the Gorman Fire Hall. Firefighters remained on the scene until 12:46 p.m.

Martin said that the couple had ample insurance on the ten-year-old structure.

There were several other alarms around the county during the week, most of which were flue fires resulting in minor or no damage.

1980 Arson Rate Nearly 40 Percent

Figures released recently by the state fire marshal's office indicated that nearly 40 percent of the fires investigated in 1980 by Robert H. Shirner and Jim Martin, fire investigators for Allegany and Gattett counties, were classified as arson or malicious burning.

Of 173 fires investigated in the two counties, 55 fires fell under the category of arson or malicious burning, 16 of which were in Garrett County.

A total of 60 fires were investigated in Garrett County, three more than in 1979. The arson fires included nine vehicle fires, one mobile home, two dwellings, one cabin, two abandoned buildings and one mailbox. The estimated monetary loss due to arson was $40,000, set by the state fire marshal's office.

Dr. Cordts Will Speak At Annual Heart Dinner

Dr. Harold J. Cordts, head of the Health, Physical Education, and Recreation Department of Frostburg State College and immediate past president of the American Heart Association-Western Maryland Chapter, will be the guest speaker for the Ninth Annual Educational Dinner, according to Charley B. Miller, 1981 Garrett County General Heart Fund Chairman.

The dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, February 4, at the Grantsville Fire Hall. Rev. Douglas W. Garland, acting president of the Grantsville Rotary Club, this year's host club, will be master of ceremonies.

The topic of Dr. Cordt's talk will be "Your Heart Association." He will explain what the Heart Association does nationally and locally as well as what advances have been made.

A resident of Frostburg, Dr. Cordts received a bachelor of science and master of science degree from South Dakota State University and a doctor of education degree from Syracuse University.

He has served as president, vice-president, and chairman of various committees for the Maryland Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation (HPER) and is past chairman of the Allegany County Physical Fitness Commission, chairman of the Frostburg Recreation and Parks Commission and is a member of the Allegany County Public Schools Health Council and the American Alliance and International Council of HPER.

Dr. Cordts developed exchange programs for physical education majors, faculty and sports teams in Europe, and initiated a travel-study program in physical education in England, Germany and Belgium.

He has been active with the Heart Association for many years, serving on committees at both the state and local levels. He is an Army veteran, having served in Korea as a Captain. Dr. Cordts resides in Frostburg with his wife Jeanne Cordts.

Mr. Miller stressed the program is open to all residents of the tri-state area. Anyone wishing to make reservations should contact the Heart Office at 301-724-4011, or Mr. Miller. Deadline for reservations is 5 p.m., Friday, January 30.

Tichnell Case To Be Reviewed By Maryland Court of Appeals

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The case of Richard Danny Tichnell, the convicted murderer of a Western Maryland deputy sheriff, will go before Maryland's highest court for the second time today to determine if Tichnell should live or die.

The Court of Appeals is scheduled to hear arguments on whether Tichnell was properly sentenced to die in Maryland's gas chamber for shooting to death Garrett County Deputy David G. Livengood after a robbery two years ago.

The case will also mark the first time television and still cameras will be permitted inside Maryland courtrooms as part of an 18-month experiment that began Jan. 1.

Tichnell was the first man to be sentenced to die under Maryland's death penalty statute, which was revised and went into effect July 1, 1978, and the first to have his case argued on automatic appeal before the seven-member Court of Appeals.

But last June, the high court issued an unusual opinion, upholding Tichnell's conviction as well as the constitutionality of the death sentence law, but ordering the case sent back to the trial court for a new sentencing procedure.

In August, a jury in Wicomico County, where the original trial had been moved because of pre-trial publicity in Western Maryland, again sentenced Tichnell to death.

The issue the condemned man's attorneys will argue Wednesday will be whether Wicomico County Judge Alfred T. Truitt Jr. acted properly when he asked the jury in August to determine Tichnell's sentence based primarily on an oral reading of the transcript of Tichnell's original trial.

Clark B. Frame, Tichnell's attorney, is expected to argue that a person should not be sentenced to die based merely on the reading of a transcript.

The transcript detailed the prosecution's contention that Tichnell and a friend had planned to rob an Oakland sporting goods store when a burglar alarm went off and Livengood and his police dog, Sarge, responded.

Prosecutors said Tichnell shot and killed Livengood with a 9-mm automatic pistol while trying to rescue his companion, who had been caught, and then stabbed the dog to death with a samurai sword he had in his car.

Defense attorneys said Tichnell had shot Livengood in self-defense after Sarge attacked him and the deputy had opened fire.

Couple Asks County's Assistance In Reversing Decision On Bus Stops

Two county residents appeared before the Garrett County Board of Commissioners Tuesday to request their aid in reversing a school board decision to combine three school bus stops along Route 50.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Caruthers told the commissioners they had appealed the Garrett County Board of Education's decision to combine three bus stops along Route 50 in November. The Board had investigated the matter and in December had decided to uphold its decision.

The commissioners stated they had no authority over the school board to change its decision and suggested the couple appeal to the State Board of Education.

In other business, Circuit Court Judge Fred A. Thayer requested the commissioners consider moving the location of the jury room to an area in the courthouse which would allow more privacy. He noted the present jury room is not soundproofed.

The commissioners directed Gary Mullich, building manager, to study alternative locations for the jury room proposed by the judge and to provide estimates of a change and his recommendations at a future meeting.

Karen Richmond, HUD Community Block Grant, Administrator, reported the status of the town of Kitzmiller's pre-application for funding of its water project. She recommended the project be included in the HUD Community Block Grant pre-application submitted by the county. She submitted a six-page document detailing reasons the project should be included in the county package.

The commissioners approved a request by Wendell Keaton, county municipal coordinator, to submit an application to Tri-County Council for up to $5000 in Appalachian Regional Commission planning monies for the Town of Friendsville. The application is for local share financing of a feasibility study of industrial prospects for the old Friendsville Elementary School.

County Could Lose $250,000 Under Proposal

Garrett County could lose over $200,000 in revennes if Gov. Harry Hughes' proposal to cut off counties' share of the state property tax revenue becomes reality.

County Commissioner Ernie Gregg, who stated the county could lose almost $250,000 this year, said the cutback would have a significant impact on Garrett County. "It would mean an additional ten cents on the tax rate—if you are talking about straight replacement," he noted.

County Treasurer Arzella Parsons reported the county received $212,698.87 during FY1980.

The proposal under consideration is an attempt to find money in a tight budget year to finance a four percent pay raise for the state's 65,000 employees.

The money, totalling about $40,000,000, would be derived by discontinuing the current practice of returning 11 cents of the 20-cent state property tax to localities.

Gregg called the governor's proposal a "rather shabby move."

"He is pitting state employees against the political subdivisions of the state," said Gregg. "I don't care for this reason for a cutback."

The cutback is an effort to force local governments to shoulder some of the state's fiscal burdens.

Commissioner Gregg noted state offices have already indicated there will be cutbacks in the amount of aid to local governments. He stated the Board of Commissioners is examining various ways to make operation of the county departments more efficient.

"We have two choices," said Gregg, "to either go to the taxpayers to make up the shortfall or to reduce services. There is no way I will go to the citizens for more property tax."

Gregg explained that to cut down county expenses might mean a cutback on the degree of services to citizens and may also mean a scaling down on the number of county employees.

The commissioners and their office staff are looking at areas where services may be overlapping or duplicated, not only within county government but also in local state offices.

TAKING ADVANTAGE of Old Man Winter are the more enthusiastic of downhill skiers, who have turned out at the Wisp Ski area for the past several weeks, despite single-digit temperatures and bone-chilling winds. The Wisp is experiencing perhaps its best year ever, because, although the amount of natural snow has not been excessive, the extremely cold temperatures allows for the production of mounds of man-made snow. Skiing in the western states is virtually non-existent right now, as those areas are experiencing record high temperatures and little or no snow.

Ryscavage States Reason Schools Opened Jan. 7

Last Wednesday should have been a snow day many county parents thought, and some of them called staff members at the Garrett County Board of Education to tell them so.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county school superintendent, reported that he and Eugene Flinn, supervisor of transportation, received numerous phone calls from parents who asked two questions: why wasn't school cancelled Wednesday, and since it wasn't, why wasn't it closed at 1 p.m.?

Garrett County received its first large snowfall of the season last week with a total accumulation of 24 inches by Tuesday. That coupled with additional snowfall and high winds Wednesday created poor driving conditions.

Ryscavage, who said he has had second thoughts about the decision to open schools as usual Wednesday, explained that once the decision had been made, it was difficult to reverse.

The decision to open the schools Wednesday was made by Ryscavage and Flinn at 5:45 a.m. after both men had travelled in separate areas of the county for a half-hour, had contacted the county and state roads departments, and had called two bus contractors in different locations in the county.

Ryscavage noted by 5:45 a.m. the snow, which had accumulated to three inches, had stopped, as had the wind. The forecast had been for one to three inches of snow.

The state highway department reported 31 trucks had worked throught the night; the county roads department reported five trucks had been out. Neither department believed the roads were a problem. The two bus contractors contacted also believed road conditions were good.

Based on all this information, Ryscavage and Flinn decided to open the schools. Their decision was made before 6 a.m., which is the time some bus contractors begin their runs. After 6 a.m. a decision is hard to change, but it was after 6 a.m. that the winds picked up and the snow began again.

Ryscavage decided to leave the schools in session until 9:30 p.m. after consultations with persons at the county and state roads departments who said the

Bizarre Murder Trial Closes With Conviction For Conspiracy

by Carol Kapel

Despite the efforts of defense attorneys Wallace Kleid and John W. Moore, a parade of family character witnesses, and the lengthy testimony of self-incrimination offered by her brother, Kathryn Louise Mason, 33, Baltimore County, was convicted late Friday evening in Garrett County Circuit Court of conspiracy to commit murder in the March 10 shooting death of her former husband, William John Murphy.

Ms. Mason, along with her brother, Robert Jones, her nephew, Richard Skinner, and a third man, Michael Howington, were indicted several months ago for the shotgun slaying of the 37-year-old victim. The motive for the killings, as stated on the witness stand by Robert Jones, brother of the defendant, was insurance policy benefits.

Several key prosecution witnesses chipped away at the story being told by Jones, in an attempt to shift suspicion from his sister.

Much conflicting testimony was given concerning the details surrounding the murder. Times, places, and links in the chain of events failed to come together for the defense as the credibility of character witnesses called to the stand was hammered from all sides by Tom Bashom, assistant state's attorney for Baltimore County. Bashom was assisted in the five-day session by Joseph Steigerwald.

The key prosecution witness was Brenda Zurek, former wife of Jones, and sister-in-law of Ms. Mason, who testified to her knowledge of Mason's involvement in the plot to kidnap and murder William Murphy, as well as all she knew concerning the "contract" murder of her own husband, Michael Zurek, who was allegedly killed by Jones and two accomplices four days later.

According to Jones, the mens' lives were taken "strictly for the money". According to Jones' own testimony, he demanded $10,000 from Brenda Zurek, who stood to gain $50,000 on her husband's policy, and $4000 from his sister as payment for the Murphy killing.

County Gifted & Talented Program Serves 401 Students, Says Rodeheaver

The gifted and talented program in Garrett County is serving 401 county students reported Robert Rodeheaver, program director, in a presentation before the Board of Education Thursday.

Rodeheaver indicated the new program is only available for elementary and middle school youngsters and to implement a program in the high schools the Board would have to hire two additional teachers.

He reported that included in recent efforts in implementing the program in county schools, teachers of the gifted were provided three in-service training days. He added an advisory committee was established in each school to screen and place students in the program and that parents had been contacted.

Three teachers of the gifted and talented, Sheila Russell, Cherie Rettel and Wesley Lovelace, described the operation of the program in their respective schools and exhibited various projects completed by the students. They reported that classroom teachers have been cooperative with the gifted and talented program by insuring the students pulled out during certain class periods received the information missed. They assured the Board that the teachers have not been assigning the gifted and talented students extra homework.

Blowing Snow And Icy Roads Cause Variety Of Mishaps

Blowing snow and icy road conditions contributed to several auto mishaps during the last ten-day period around the country.

John Ervin Calcamp, 50, Horse Shoe Run, W. Va., was the driver of an auto travelling on the Elkins-Oakland Road that struck a pedestrian on January 2.

Arthur Edward Stuart, 16, Fairmont, W. Va., was walking southbound on U. S. 219 in the roadway, according to police records.

Because of blowing snow, the driver was unable to observe the pedestrian.

The Southern Rescue Squad responded to the call, transporting the victim to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he was treated and released.

An accident Monday evening along Glendale Road sent a young Swanton woman to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Barbara Lynn Wilt, 17, was struck by a car operated by James Robert Stanton, 33, Oakland.

According to police, Stanton was travelling west on the Glendale Road when the pedestrian crossed into the path of the vehicle.

The Southern Rescue Squad transported the victim to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she was treated and admitted. She is scheduled to be released Wednesday afternoon.

The Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the call, as well as the Southern Rescue equipment truck.

The accident is still under investigation.

An accident early Tuesday morning involving a school bus and another vehicle resulted in slight injury to one child.

According to Tpr. John Foley, Maryland State Police, the school bus, being driven by Cora Clatterbuck, was travelling north on Green Glade Road. As the bus slowed for a stop, a pickup truck being driven by Robert Cliff James, also of Swanton, came around a rightangle curve, and skidded into the school bus when the driver attempted to stop.

A private citizen transported one child to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she was treated and released. The bus proceeded to the school with the remaining 30 students.

No charges were made due to the icy road conditions.

Sheriff's Office Checks Into Area Thefts

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is investigating two area thefts which were reported last week.

Cindy's Restaurant, Main Street, Kitzmiller, was entered during the night of January 5 when thieves broke a window in the establishment. Unknown persons removed food items and beer.

Damage to the window and loss of the items taken amounted to approximately $50.

In a separate case, Mary R. Humphrey, Oakland, reported that someone removed skis and ski poles from her locked vehicle while it was parked at Wynlyn's Edge, Deep Creek Lake, on the night of December 11. A window of the car was forced open, police said.

The Dina Star skis, black, red and white in color, are valued at about $150, and the poles are valued at $20.

In other business, the department arrested four persons last week.

John Snyder, 38, Hutton, was arrested January 8 on a bench warrant. He was released December 12 when he posted $100 bond.

David Wiley, 19, Grantsville, was incarcerated January 8 on a bench warrant for failure to appear in court. He was released the next day on his own recognizance.

Kevin Cline Hahn, 21, Mt. Lake Park, and Warren Leroy Bever, 22, Westernport, were arrested January 9 on charges involving a controlled dangerous substance. Both were released the same day on $1000 unsecured bond.

Oakland Council Not Applying For HUD Funds

The Town of Oakland is not seeking HUD funds for repairs to 100 housing units at Bradley Manor as reported in the January 7 issue of The Republican in the story "County Staff to Help Oakland Seek Funds for Repairs at Bradley Manor."

Diana Wawzinski, county housing coordinator, stated the Town had received a notice from HUD of an application for funding of repairs to Bradley Manor submitted by the National Corporation for Housing Partnerships. In the correspondence, HUD requested the Mayor and Town Council's comments on the project particularly on whether or not it complied with the Town's housing assistance plan.

The Town, which had no housing assistance plan, asked the assistance of Wawzinski and Tim Dugan, county planning director, in responding. They will provide HUD with a description and supporting documentation of the county's housing assistance plan.

Information provided to the Town on the project was "sketchy" stated Wawzinski.

Home Burglarized

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Frazee, North Hammond Street, Oakland, was burglarized Monday afternoon.

Thieves made off with numerous household articles, cash and jewelry. An investigation is still being conducted by Oakland Patrolman Ron Beeghly, who stated yesterday that the department has positive identifications on two suspects connected with the incident.

Beeghly said the burglars gained entry to the residence by breaking a window in the side door. "Every drawer closet and cabinet in the house was entered," he said, adding that there was no evidence of vandalism.

Harry Who? . . .

It's rather embarrassing, but some Marylanders don't even know the name of their own governor. Further, many of those who know his name have no idea as to how he rates as a governor. Is he doing a good job? Who knows?

Harry Hughes is not, to say the least, among the most recognized and renowned governors in this country. While the name Mandel has become a household word, Governor Hughes' obscurity is almost frightening. Of course, while Mr. Mandel was basically a good governor, we all know why he is so well known.

This week, however, one of Governor Hughes actions made probably the largest, and most unpopular, wave of his term. He has proposed to cut off approximately $40 million in state property tax money to the counties in order to provide a four percent raise to state employees. Presently, the state returns 11 cents of the 20-cent property tax to the localities. The loss to the large counties of the state, such as Montgomery, Baltimore and Prince George's, would be staggering, well into the millions of dollars. The loss to Garrett County would be approximately $250,000, which, on a per capita basis, is also significant.

Most county officials, including the Garrett County commissioners, are irate about the proposal, claiming such a move pits state employees against local governments and creates an unfair burden for the already-struggling localities. We would have to agree.

A four-percent raise for state employees does not seem at all excessive. However, the state, and not the counties, should be responsible for absorbing the loss to provide that raise.

Garrett County's present tax rate, as we all know, is the highest in the state. We have been assured by the county commissioners that they are doing all they can to reduce that rate for the upcoming fiscal year. A loss of $250,000 would automatically add ten cents to the tax rate, which obviously makes the commissioners' job to reduce the rate that much more difficult.

Well, Governor Hughes, your proposal may be outrageous, but we can assure you that if it is accepted, there will be fewer Marylanders responding, "Harry who?"

Farewell To A Nation . . .

by Carol Kapel

Tonight a man will bid farewell to his nation. He will say goodby to a host of unfulfilled hopes and dreams to take his place among those of us never afforded the opportunity to lead and guide our country.

In less than seven days the Jimmy Carter administration will be over. Another will take the reins in an attempt to lead this nation to peace and prosperity. His job won't be any easier than was Carter's.

His problems will be monumental, his judgments not always correct, his errors many, but with compassion from the American public, prayers from the lips and hearts of all who love life and the freedoms of America, our new leader can derive the strength he will need.

No matter what our political beliefs—no matter how we feel about Carter's last four years—now is the time to offer our prayers for the needs of a defeated president, a fellow human. Now is the time to offer compassion to the man who probably did, what he believed to be, his very best.

Letters to the Editor

Letters to the Editor must not exceed 300 words. No unsigned letters will be published.

The following is a letter written to Mrs. Dorothy Spade, principal of Red House Elementary School. The writer of the letter requested that it be published in this column. (For clarification, the writer is not the same Robert Rodeheaver who is under the employ of the county Board of Education).

Dear Mrs. Spade:

Regarding the absence of my children, Cindy, Patty and Robert, on Wednesday, January 7, 1981, I had considered writing them an excuse stating their absence was due to illness, however, that would not have been true. Therefore, I feel compelled to submit the following.

Due to the inability of the Garrett County Board of Education to make a reasonable determination when weather conditions have reached the point that makes it dangerous for children to attend school, I have reserved the right to make that determination myself concerning my children.

When all of the West Virginia counties around Garrett have closed schools because of inclement weather, I cannot believe that the difference between Maryland and West Virginia law concerning attendance of school will protect children from frostbite from the cold with a wind chill factor of 40 or 50 below.

According to the local radio station, at approximately 7:15 on the morning of January 7, four to five inches of snow had fallen overnight. Wind gusts to 30 miles per hour existed and four or five more inches of new snow during the day was predicted. Several buses were not running and several buses were to be late. I feel strong consideration should be given to the children waiting along the road for a bus that will be late and may, possibly, not come at all.

Please let me know if this case of absence concerning my children as referred to above, will be an excused or unexcused absence.

If my position as stated above presents a problem or, possibly you can provide a better solution, please contact me.

Thank you very much for your attention in this matter.

Sincerely,
Bob Rodeheaver
Mt. Lake Park

Editor:

I was perplexed at the conclusion reached in your editorial of January 7 wherein you observed in summing up news events of the year that government related stories dominated, and concluded that this constituted "solid evidence" of too much government.

I submit that by its very nature government, whether too large or not, in our free Country will dominate most news medias coverage.

Our Constitution explicitly preserves the right of a free press to safeguard to citizens the means of obtaining news coverage and also preserves the right of complete access to government deliberations, correspondence, financial data, and judicial legislative, or any other proceeding to insure that government activities can be reported. This is the only means the ordinary citizen has to make well-reasoned judgments at election time.

Contrast with this the constitutionally and judicially preserved right to privacy from this same access held by individuals, corporations, churches and other private institutions. One can only conclude that our Founding Fathers, in their wisdom, intended "The Republican" and all other news media to have the opportunity to fully cover government activities and that they intended to deny to the media the same level of access to the private or business activities of the individual. Thus, news coverage would tend to concentrate on government activities and other public events.

I too observed the concentration on government stories, but rather than viewing the extensive coverage as "govern O.D.," concluded that the news summary was solid and favorable evidence that "The Republican" is exercising its mandate to keep citizens fully informed of government activities by focusing coverage on local government and that local government is fulfilling its obligation to insure that its "news" is available to the media.

Sincerely,
W. Marshall Rickert
Arnold, MD

Sir:

The failure of leadership in Garrett County has become a public shame.

Were it not for the fact that it causes considerable suffering, the confusion in the commissioners' office would be a laughing stock. We have one of the highest tax rates in Maryland, but very few services. Those provided are often fouled up. And the people here cannot afford these high taxes.

There is no reason for it. Summer before last, I prepared a county budget at the request of Commissioner Gregg which would have allowed our county to hold the line on taxes. As far as I know, no real budget was ever adopted that year. The commissioners merely stumbled along paying bills and spending money. The budget unanimously adopted this year was a disgrace. The county is wasteful. The roads department is particularly inefficient. Consider this: I live on a section of Penn Point Road which has not been dedicated to the county. Therefore, the roads department will not plow it. I pay taxes and so do all my neighbors. But we get no services. They can't even manage the dumpsters.

Now, I would not complain that my road is not plowed. But many times, after a great struggle to get out of my driveway, I pass a huge county plow parked in the woods by my house, with the workmen asleep.

This happened today. I had to bang on the door to awaken the driver, who refused to give me his name. I have told the commissioners of this practice, but there is no response. I don't blame the roads workers; I blame the commissioners and the head of the roads department. Garrett County is a natural paradise. Its potential is unlimited. All we need is some leadership to help it progress. Obviously, we don't have it now.

Sincerely,
Bob Watson

Mr. Watson:

The commissioners did respond to your complaints by calling in the two roads workers involved and questioning them the same day. After weighing their past work record, their willingness to confess to the offense, and their reasons for falling asleep, the commissioners directed Paul Shockey, county personnel director, and Herb McCrobie, county roads administrator to take appropriate disciplinary measures.

In establishing the degree of discipline, certain factors were considered including the fact that one of the roads workers, who is a member of a volunteer fire department, had been up from 2-6 a.m. fighting a house fire that morning. The two men fell asleep during their break and overslept.

Dear Sir:

Here is a the second and final part of the list I submitted under the title "Do you remember when?" We could laugh at jokes about the Irish, Negroes, Italians, Jews or Poles without being considered bigots? The doctors first question was, "Where does it hurt?" instead of "Do you have insurance?" U. S. Grant was the name of a President, rather than a Federal handout? Giving aid to the enemy was treason, (now it is called foreign aid)? We had prayers in our schools. (Now we have sex education)? The churches preached religion instead of politics? You were safe on the streets and in your home? The news media presented the truth instead of false propaganda? A policeman was a human instead of a facist pig? The three R's were reading, writing and 'rithmetic, instead of robbery, rape and riot? The Supreme Court consisted of judges instead of political hacks? A radical had to have a soap box to reach 40 people? Now the news media provides him with a microphone to reach 40 million. The country was run by Americans instead of a group of aliens? We were a Christian Nation?

"YOU SAY I'M OVERDRAWN - I SAY YOU'RE UNDERDEPOSITED."

To the Editor:

It has been said that in 1857 a money panic hit the United States, with the main force of the blow in New York City. A short time before, the Fulton Street noonday prayer meeting had been organized. The surge of spiritual awakening became known as the Prayer Meeting Revival and is credited with sparing the nation in an hour of great crisis.

Today America is facing another great crisis. Could it be if God's people would join in prayer and plead the mercy of God instead of bickering about the faults of others, and pray for our leaders to be led by God in our county as well as our nation, that God would save and heal our nation?

Nelson, county zoning administrator, submitted a Program Open Space Planning Grant Application for the commissioners approval. The application is for matching funds to finance work on the county recreation plan.

McNallie noted the completion of the recreation plan was necessary for the county to remain eligible for Program Open Space funds. Nelson and McNallie stated legislation will be proposed in the 1981 General Assembly session for reimbursement to the counties for costs incurred in the development of the plan.

The commissioners heard a report by Tom Jones, county development director, on the plans for the sewage pre-treatment plant at Bausch & Lomb, located east of Mt. Lake Park on Rt. 135, and its hook-up to the Mt. Lake Park sewage treatment facility.

He reported Bausch & Lomb had plans to improve its pre-treatment facility while the Garrett County Sanitary District was preparing plans to carry the sewage to the Trout Run treatment plant. District plans include improvements to the treatment plant to increase its capacity, Jones noted

Duane Yoder and Dick Paugh of the Garrett Community Action Committee, Inc, met with the commissioners to discuss ways the agency can better serve the county. He presented a general background of the agency and outlined the services it offers.

year were classified as undetermined. They included five dwellings, two vehicles and one mobile home, amounting to a total loss of about $122,000.

A total of 36 fires in Garrett County were classified as accidental, resulting in a monetary total loss of approximately $513,000.

The accidental fires included 20 dwellings, three barns, three vehicles, eight mobile homes, one gas station and one outbuilding. The largest monetary losses in this category were two large barns, valued at about $50,000 each, both destroyed by fire after being struck by lightning.

Four of the Garrett County accidental fires were caused by lightning, eight were caused by improper installation of wood burning stoves, four were the result of defective chimneys, four originated in heating systems, two were caused by children playing with matches, one was caused by a television and one by a dryer, one was caused by combustibles near open flames, one was caused by a motorcycle located in a garage, one was caused by a gasoline tanker, two were the result of food left unattended on a stove, three were electrical and four were miscellaneous.

Five persons were arrested in Garrett County last year in connection with fires, including three juveniles.

Southern Middle School, described his experience with the program. He noted the program "opens a broader area" to the students and "makes them think a little more." One problem with the program was he believed classroom teachers expected gifted and talented students to be talented in all areas of study, which he said was not true.

Board member Clarence Stem stated students should not be pulled out of the same class period week after week because they could then be hindered from accelerating in that subject.

He also suggested that students be grouped according to the areas in which they show talent.

In other business, Dr. Larry Stead, a planning consultant from West Virginia University, made a presentation on progress in the development of a master plan for facilities. Stead, who had been hired by the Board to develop the plan, stated his studies showed student enrollment in Garrett County Schools remaining relatively stable over the next few years.

He agreed to meet with the Board during the February meeting to discuss recommendations for a building construction plan over the next five to ten years. Stead's work is being funded by the Maryland State Department of Planning.

Students from both Northern and Southern high schools then discussed various concerns with the Board of Education. The students, who were invited by the Board to attend the meeting, discussed grade requirements for participation in co-curricular activities, the newly revised attendance policy, class rank, the establishment of more advanced writing courses, and the off-campus programs.

Herbert Harman, president of the Board, indicated that each of these concerns will probably be discussed at length during a special Board of Education meeting scheduled for Saturday, January 24. This full-day meeting will focus on a review of the secondary school program in Garrett County.

The Board reviewed the FY1982 Capital Improvement Program as recommended by the Interagency Committee (IAC). The committee had suggested that the Board's request for construction funds for the Accident Elementary School be granted but that the request for planning monies for renovation for Northern High School be denied. The Board directed Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county school superintendent, to ask the IAC to change the denial of the renovation project to a deferral.

Dr. Ryscavage reported that because of unbudgeted expenditures for roof and boiler repairs at Southern High School, only emergency type expenditures for maintenance will be made for the remainder of the fiscal year. This situation will be closely monitored for the final months of the fiscal year, Ryscavage noted, but it may work some hardship on selected schools where maintenance projects had been previously scheduled.

roads would be in satisfactory condition at that time. He added that at 12 noon the snow and wind were posing a threat to highway travellers.

With the available information, Ryscavage decided leaving the schools open for a full day was safer than closing them at 1 p.m.

Woodburner's Diary

by Harry Fox

5:30 a.m. Getting up at this hour isn't hard. I'm usually up anyway, but instead of reading my two daily newspapers, I'm carefully wadding up pages to light the fire in my woodburning stove. Supposedly, the newspaper was invented "because you can't wrap fish with stone tablets." You can't light fires, either.

7:00 a.m. I've just brought a nice assortment of logs in from the front porch, on the final leg of their journey to the fire. Woods to log pile, log pile to wagon, wagon to driveway (where it's easier to split them), then to the porch where they have to be unloaded and handled again. The wagon won't fit through the door.

7:15 a.m. I finish picking up the trail of dirt, and then put away the vacuum cleaner. In a sudden revelation, I understand that central heating had to be invented before the ranch house. No one in his right mind would conceive such a deliberately clumsy way to live if he had to haul wood to a stove in such a house.

The manufacturer sent a brochure with the stove. On the cover is a sunny room with a cheerful hearth, immaculate in every detail. The lucky inhabitant of this room has just tossed another carefully seasoned log in the firebox, and settles back to enjoy the Alpine splendor from his seat by the window. I grope for a cup of coffee while the ice on my eyelids melts. The carpeting under my feet is beginning to assume the color of sphagnum peat moss. There is enough light now to make out the temperature on the thermometer: minus six degrees.

11:30 a.m. At the office. How good it is to be confident, knowing that my properly-built fire has now burned for four hours. No safety concerns here. The automatic draft control keeps a loving eye on the flames, and my regular flue inspections have dispelled the anxiety of creosote build-up. A fire call sounds on the scanner. I'm really too busy to get up to hear where it is. How strange, my coffee cup has just shattered in my hand.

5:40 p.m. A cheerful burst of flame rises from the embers in the firebox. My arrival home is perfectly timed.

6:30 p.m. I relax in my reasonably clean and very warm living room. At the rate I'm using wood, I suspect I'll have to spend Sunday afternoon hauling wood.

The furnace hasn't turned on once today.

Murder Trial

The defendant, wearing a small gold cross on a chain around her neck, took the stand Thursday on her own behalf, vowing she "had nothing to hide".

She told of being married three times, and being the mother of four young children, three of whom no longer live with her. She claimed to be "deathly afraid" of her brother and felt he would "blow her head off" if challenged, yet stated she "thought he was joking" about killing Murphy for the $11,187 in cash benefits she was entitled to as beneficiary on the insurance policy. She further claimed "I still loved him (Murphy). He was always there for me".

Jones took the stand as a witness for his sister, claiming he was there to "clear up things that ain't being told the way they are". A history of 12 convictions was introduced from Jones' past, as well as the mention of the death of his wife and infant son, who were both found shot to death in a parked car several months ago. The case was ruled a murder-suicide. Transcripts from the trial revealed Jones collected insurance benefits from both those deaths as well.

Twice during his testimony, Jones was cited for contempt of court by Judge Fred A. Thayer for his refusal to answer questions concerning the whereabouts of the murder weapon and further details surrounding the death of his wife and infant son.

The jury deliberated for nearly eight hours before rendering the verdict of guilty of conspiracy to commit murder. The charge of murder was acquitted.

Mason is currently being held in the Garrett County Jail pending sentencing.

Man Hurt When Two Snowmobiles Collide Saturday

A Baltimore man suffered a mild concussion after two snowmobiles collided Saturday in a parking lot at Deep Creek Lake State Park.

Steven Braun was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital Saturday for observation, and was released Sunday. Park Ranger Tom Gowans stated that as Braun started to turn, he was hit broadside by a sled operated by Leon Welebob, Baltimore.

Gowans indicated that the collision was the result of a mechanical breakdown in Welebob's snowmobile, as his brakes apparently failed to operate.

Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad responded to the scene and transported Braun to the hospital. Welebob was reportedly unharmed.

Department of Natural Resource police investigated the incident, and no charges were pressed.

Financial Aid Is Plentiful

Although higher education used to be a remote dream for many high school students, today it has become a reality because of the many programs of financial aid available to them. According to Clara Kirk, Financial Aid Officer at Garrett Community College, there is more money available today than ever before to support post-secondary educational opportunities.

The principle behind most financial aid programs is to ensure that all students have access to higher education, regardless of their financial circumstances. The U.S. Office of Education offers five student financial aid programs. Students from families earning as much as $25,000 annually and sometimes more will qualify Pell (Basic) Grants. Grants for the 1980-81 period will range from $200 to $1900, depending on the student's eligibility index and the cost of education at the particular institution. These are grants that never have to be repaid.

Another such grant available to qualified students is the Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG) that can range from $200 to $2000 per year, based upon the student's financial need.

Through the College Work-Study Program, a student can earn money while gaining practical experience. Undergraduate and graduate students can work up to 20 hours per week in positions related to their educational preferences. For this work they are paid the minimum wage.

Still another source of financial aid is the National Direct Student Loan, borrowed money which must be paid back. Under this program, a student may borrow up to $3,000 for the first two years, or a total of $6,000 after completing two years of study toward a bachelor's degree, including the amount of any previous loan. Repayment begins six months after a student graduates or leaves school for any other reason. A period of ten years is allowed for repayment, with an interest rate of 4 percent on the unpaid balance.

Another loan available to students is the Guaranteed Student Loan made by a bank, credit union, or savings and loan association and guaranteed by the federal government or by a state agency. Eligibility for this loan is not based upon financial need. An undergraduate student may borrow up to $2,500 per year, but may not exceed an aggregate total of $12,500 for undergraduate studies. A graduate student may borrow up to $5,000 a year with an aggregate total of $25,000. Repayment begins six months after graduation or after leaving school for other reasons. A student is allowed 10 years to pay back the loan at an interest rate of 9 percent.

In addition to federal programs, other sources of financial aid are available to students. Maryland residents are expected to apply to the state scholarship board for consideration for the general state, senatorial, and delegate scholarship programs. A number of local scholarships are given to qualified students by civic organizations, industrial and business firms, and memorial funds.

A student who wishes to apply for any one or more of these financial aid programs must complete a Financial Aid Form which provides a needs analysis that helps determine the amount of aid a student will need. These forms are available in the Financial Aid Office of the College. Anyone desiring information about any of the financial aid programs may call Mrs. Kirk at 387-6666.

New Science Course Offered

Based upon the television series The Accent of Man and the Jacob Bronowski book by the same title, a new course, Science: A Human Endeavor, will be offered at Garrett Community College during the spring semester. The course will include the thirteen video-taped episodes of the series presented on public television.

According to instructor Mike Logsdon, "The course attempts to show people why western civilization thinks as it does with respect to the scientific community. It will deal with the history and philosophy of science from its beginning to the present."

In the first chapter of the book, Bronowski states, "Man is a singular creature. He has a set of gifts which make him unique among the animals so that, unlike them, he is not a figure in the landscape — he is a shaper of the landscape."

The filmed episodes and the chapters of the text show how the great men of science — Galileo, Copernicus, Newton, Einstein, and others — have shaped the human landscape.

Science: A Human Endeavor (Physics 140) will be offered on Monday and Wednesday mornings from 10:30-12:00 at the McHenry Campus. Interested persons may register at the college during the week of January 19.

Basic Design Course Offered

A variety of activities will be offered to students in the Basic Design course at Garrett Community College during the spring semester. The course will be given on Monday evenings at the McHenry campus.

According to instructor Barry Domenick, the course will include a review of basic principles of two and three-dimensional design, along with techniques of advanced drawing, block printing, water color, collage, and photo montage. Students will work on individual and group projects that demonstrate principles of design.

Domenick is a graduate of Frostburg State College in Art Education, where he had a number of studio courses in sculpture and advanced drawing. As an artist he pursues painting and wood sculpture and has done commercial layouts for newspaper advertisements and show cards. He is an art teacher for the Garrett County Board of Education and has his own commercial sign painting business.

Interested persons may register for this course at the McHenry Campus of Garrett Community College during the week of January 19-23.

CETA Program Open To Students

Under a CETA "Individual Referal" program eligible persons may enroll at GCC with all expenses paid and earn over $100 a week, according to Michell Lavelle, GCC CETA Coordinator. Eligibility for the program includes criteria such as being unemployed, or underemployed, sixteen years of age or older, a member of a family with income qualifying for public assistance, and handicapped. Maximum annual income is $7,830.

The IR program enables students to train in occupational programs including Secretarial Science, Business, Construction, Wildlife Management, Physical Plant Maintenance, Agriculture, Veterinary Science and Coal Mining.

The IR program covers the costs of tuition, fees, and books and provides hourly wages of $3.35 per hour while in class and while assigned career related work sites. Weekly classroom instruction amounts to about 15 hours for a full-time student. An additional 15 hours of wages per week may be earned at an assigned work site related to the occupational program. The IR program will also provide support for eligible part-time students who enroll for 6 to 11 credit hours.

Ms. Lavelle stated there are now 18 persons enrolled and there are 12 positions yet to be filled for the Spring Semester. Anyone who may possibly be eligible should apply.

The GCC Spring Semester starts on Monday, January 26, with final registration taking place during the week Monday through Friday, January 19 to 23. Persons interested in applying for the IR program should contact Michell Lavelle or Bill Ewing at GCC 387-6666, or the local CETA Office at 334-8136.

Oakland Merchants Plan For Posting Directional Signs

At yesterday's meeting of the Greater Oakland Merchants' Association, held at the Allegheny Room, John Kurilla was appointed chairman of a directional sign committee for the town of Oakland. The committee will determine what types of signs should be posted in the town and also appropriate locations for the signs.

In other business, the association heard proposals for downtown parking regulations presented by James R. Stanton, president of the Oakland Town Council. The recommendations were discussed at yesterday's meeting, and response by the Merchants' Association will be taken back to the Town Council for further review.

AUCTION PROCEEDS — The Oakland Rotary Club presented a check for $276 to the House of Hope during the January meeting of the organization. GOOD FOR TWO — Southern Ram Dave Harsh, No. 34, demonstrates to the Spartans of Bishop Walsh the proper technique for making a lay-up, which was good for two in the Rams' victory over the Spartans last Friday evening, 59-51. Also in the photo are Rams Gary Heginbotham, No. 30 (partially hidden), and Jeff Ryscavage, No. 40. At right, Ryscavage goes up and over a Spartan defender to score two of his total of 19 points on the evening. For this performance and a 33-point effort against Petersburg last week, Ryscavage was named Player of the Week by the Cumberland Times News, for the second time this season. Southern is now 8-2 and will face arch rival Northern this Friday evening on the Huskies' floor.

Rams Top Spartans To Make Clean Sweep Of Cumberland Schools

The Southern Rams continued their winning ways over the Cumberland high schools Friday evening by stopping the Spartans of Bishop Walsh, 59-51, and improving their season record to 8-2. Among the Rams' other victims this season were Fort Hill and Allegany.

Bishop Walsh came to Oakland with an 8-3 record and a three-game winning streak.

The Rams maintained a reasonable comfortable lead throughout the contest, jumping out to a 12-6 lead at the end of the first quarter and expanding that margin to 24-14 at the half. Southern was on top 41-35 going into the final stanza.

Senior center Jeff Ryscavage led the Ram offensive attack, hitting six goals and seven of eight free throws for a total of 19 points. Brian Selders, who recorded the majority of his points from the outside, finished the evening with 16 points, all from the floor. Dave Harsh, who led the Rams in rebounds with ten, contributed 13 points.

Pacing the Spartans' scoring was Dorcie Thomas, who netted 16 points on seven baskets and two of three from the line. Ricardo Hunter and Dave Turnbull also reached double figures for BW, scoring 13 and ten, respectively.

Southern outshot the Spartans from the floor by a 23-21 margin and connected on 13 of 19 free throw attempts, compared to a nine-for-11 effort by Bishop Walsh.

In the preliminary contest, the Bishop Walsh Jayvees nipped the powerful Ram Jayvees, 37-36.

Southern will travel to Northern High School this Friday evening to meet the 5-4 Huskies. The preliminary game will begin at 6:30 p. m., and tip off for the varsity contest will be at 8.

Rams Fall Short In Quest For First Victory

The Southern High Wrestling team came close to winning its first contest of the season Thursday evening, but close doesn't count in wrestling and the Bruce Bulldogs took the final three matches to nip the Rams 33-30 on Southern's mats. It was the fifth defeat in as many starts for the Rams.

During the first half of the meet it appeared that the Rams would have no problem surpressing the visitors, as they won four of the first five matches. However, the Bulldogs took command in most of the heavier weight classes and Roger Trimin's pin over Leroy McRobie in the unlimited class secured the win for Bruce, its first win against four defeats.

Three Rams scoured pins, including Gordon Gregory in the 100-pound class, Tim Liller in the 107-pound class and Rex McRobie in the 121-pound class. Southern's Wade Dever and Mike Beard won by decision in the 128 and 147-pound classes, respectively. Marshall Godwin was declared winner by default in the 157-pound class.

Recording pins for the Bulldogs were John Watson in the 134-pound class, Andy Whetzel in the 187-pound class and Trimin. Ed Nealis won the 114-pound class by forfeit and John Slinger and Derek Walker took decision victories in the 140 and 169-pound classes, respectively.

Huskies Roll Over Salisbury To Improve Season Ledger To 5-4

Picking up their fifth win of the season was a breeze for the Northern High Huskies, as they romped over the winless Salisbury Orioles Friday evening, 72-36, on the Pennsylvanians' floor.

The Huskies were never threatened in the contest, moving to a 15-9 lead at the end of the first period and increasing that margin to 29-17 at intermission. Northern poured it on in the second half, scouring a total of 43 points and entering the final period with a 44-24 lead.

The 5-4 Huskies defeated the 0-7 Orioles earlier this season by a similar margin, 72-32.

Leading the scoring for Northern was Brad Yoder, who sunk ten goals and a free throw for a total of 21 points. Dick Bender was close behind, netting 20 points on seven goals and six successful tosses from the line.

The only Oriole to reach double figures was Rick Caton, who hit four from the field and four from the line for 12 points.

The Huskies will face one of their toughest tests this season when they host the 8-2 Southern Rams this Friday evening at 8 p. m.

Northern Matmen Rally To Record Fifth Victory

With a rally in the heavier weight classes, the Northern High Husky wrestlers maintained their unblemished record for the season, in scoring a 36-28 win over visiting Hyndman, their fifth of the season in as many starts.

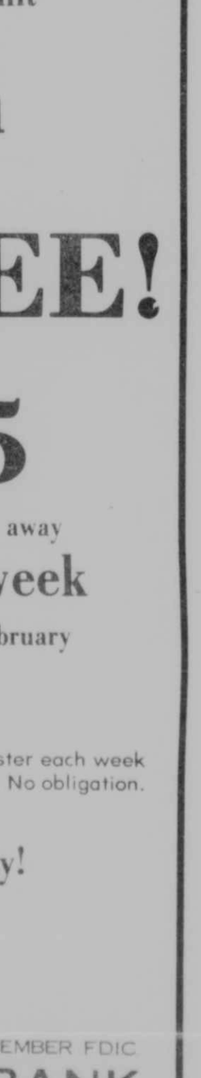

The final two matches, which iced the win for the Huskies, were by far the easiest of the evening, as Dave Stein and William Wilt were declared winners by forfeit in the 187 pound and unlimited weight classes.

Early in the contest it appeared that the visiting Pennsylvanians would put an abrupt halt to the Huskies' streak, as they won the first four matches on pins from Rick Clites and Troy Michaels and decision wins by Grant and Shannon Shoemaker. However, the Huskies George Belch, Bob Lipscomb and Don Gillum took the next three matches for Northern by pins in the 128, 135 and 140-pound weight classes.

Also pinning his opponent for the Huskies was Dean Brininger in the 169-pound class, while Hyndman's Andy Salonish and Eric Stair won by a decision and a pin, respectively.

Laker Rallies Fall Short; Record Drops To 6-3

The Garrett Community College Lakers suffered two disappointing losses during the past week, falling to Catonsville Community College on Thursday, 72-68, and being edged by Hagerstown Junior College 79-76 on Saturday. Both were American JUCO contests and the Lakers' conference record fell to 6-3, while their overall record now stands at 6-3.

Early in the contest with the Catonsville Cardinals, it appeared that the Lakers were in for a fairly easy evening, jumping out to a 14-point lead. However, the host team gradually picked away at that lead and diminished the Lakers' lead to just two at the half, 36-34. The momemtum shifted completely in the second half and it was the Cardinals who found themselved on top by 14. It was then Garrett's turn for a rally, however the buzzer sounded before the Lakers could resume the lead.

Catonsville used the foul line to win the game, converting 16 of 22 attempts, while Garrett had only six opportunities at the line, converting four of them. The Lakers outgunned the Cardinals from the floor by a 32-28 margin. Also leading to the Lakers' downfall was a total of 27 turnovers.

Pacing all scorers was GCC's Miguel Rojas, who netted 20 points on nine goals and two of three free throws. H.A. Savage and Brian Black each contributed 14 points to Garrett's total.

Ed Stevens was the top point producer for Catonsville, hitting eight goals and two of three from the line for a total of 18 points. Teammate Charles Green was close behind with 16 markers, all from the field.

The contest against Hagerstown was similar to the game with Catonsville, in that the Lakers produced a late-game rally, but ran out of time to secure a win. Garrett pulled to within a basket, 72-70, with four minutes remaining, after being down by eight points at the half, 43-35.

The Lakers shot an unbelievable 96% from the foul line, converting 24 of 25 attempts, while the visitors sank 15 of 23. Hagerstown held the edge from the floor, netting 32 goals, compared to 26 for GCC.

Laker Miguel Rojas was again the game's leading scorer, hitting nine goals and six of six from the line, for a total of 24 points. Brian Black netted 16 points, while H.A. Savage and Bill Bender each provided ten points for Garrett.

Rory Sandberg and Dave Thrailkill led a balanced attack by the Hawks, each collecting 14 points. Henry, Sowell and Lacy also reached double figures, scoring 12, 11 and ten points, respectively.

Leading in rebounds for the Lakers was Savage, who pulled 11, while Bender grabbed nine.

The Lakers return to action today when they travel to Frederick Community College.

Cross-Country Ski Opportunities Available In Garrett County

By Michael R. Gregory
Maryland Forest Service

Now that snow has begun to cover the hillsides of Western Maryland, cross-country skiers can give serious thought to their ski season plans. The State forests and parks of Garrett County offer skiers untold opportunities for sport and enjoyment. Cloaked in winter white the area's rolling mountain terrain provides skiers with a landscape that is simply awe inspiring. Needless to say, visitors to the region will discover their trek through the mountainsides to be well worth the effort.

The Maryland Forest and Park Services will be holding two organized cross-country ski tours during February. These tours will be weekend events, Saturday through Monday, that will be based out of New Germany State Park. Tentatively, these events are scheduled for the weekends of February 21 through 23 and February 28 through March 2.

These tours will accommodate approximately 10 participants on each weekend. Food and lodging will be provided at a winterized log cabin at New Germany. Participants will have to provide their own ski equipment, clothing, and personal items. The charge for the weekend will cover the costs of food and lodging.

Daily excursions will be led into the surrounding countryside by forest and park service personnel. The excursions will provide participants with a unique tour of the hillsides and valleys of northern Garrett County. Trails leading through stands of hardwood and pine will offer skiers pleasant views of the winter landscape. The terrain that will be covered will not be extremely rugged but skiers should be in good physical condition for the trip.

Application forms for these trips are available from state forest and parks headquarters or the Regional Service Center in Cumberland. The applications for the trip will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Participants will be notified by mail upon receipt of their application.

For those skiers interested in cross-country competition, New Germany and Herrington Manor State Parks will each be holding races of 7.5 and 4.2 kilometers, respectively. The Herrington Manor race will be held on January 31, while the New Germany race is scheduled for February 14. Both races will feature adult and children events. The registration for the race will begin by 9 a.m. on the day of the race. Registration for the adult race will end at 10 a.m., and the race will begin at 10:30 a.m. Registration for the children's race will end at 12:30 p.m., and the race will begin at 1 p.m. Participants may register by mail prior to the race, but must pick up their bib numbers by 9:30 a.m. that morning. Registration forms may be obtained by writing to Maryland Forest and Park Services, Ski Races, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis, 21401.

Spectators are also invited to attend these events. All participants will be awarded certificates, and trophies will be presented to the winners in each class. Warming rooms will be provided to take the chill off one's bones and refreshments will be available from local community organizations.

Regardless of whether you come to race or just to wander around the park you will be sure to enjoy the invigorating air and mountain scenery. For those interested, up to date snow conditions can be obtained by calling 768-0895.

NEEDLESS DEATHS — State Police Superintendent Thomas S. Smith points out some of the needless deaths which were claimed on Maryland highways last year. Of the 470 fatally injured persons who were riding inside of motor vehicles, only 15 of them had seat belts on at the time of the crash. Police investigators believe that half of the 455 unbelted deaths would have survived the crash if they would have had their seat belt on. The average person has a one in seven chance of being involved in a traffic accident this year. (State Police photo by Bill Clark).

State Experiences Jump In Traffic Deaths; Motorcyclists Lead Increase

Preliminary figures compiled by the state Police show that Maryland traffic deaths claimed 772 lives during 1980, which is a 10.1% increase over the previous year. This is the highest toll since 822 persons lost their lives in 1973.

The largest percentage increase concerned motorcyclists, who experienced a 44.6% jump in fatalities.

The profile of the usual fatal accident involving a single vehicle on a non-55 MPH road is as follows: the operator is a young man who has had too much to drink, is speeding, and runs off the road and strikes a fixed object such as a tree or telephone pole or bridge abutment. The location of fatal crashes was evenly split between urban and rural areas.

The 431 drivers killed accounted for 55.8% of the fatalities, 186 passengers accounted for 24.1% and 155 pedestrians represented 20.1% of the death toll.

Although motorcycles represent 2.47% of the registered motor vehicles, they accounted for 12.2% of the fatalities. Motorcyclists represented only 9.3% of the deaths during 1979.

A closer look at motorcycle rider deaths during 1980 shows that of the 94 killed, two out of three of them were not wearing protective helmets. In 71.3% of the motorcycle deaths, the motorcycle operator was at fault in the crash.

Where the motorcyclist was at fault, the typical crash involved centrifugal force caused by excesive speed on a curve which forced the cycle across the center line where it struck an on-coming vehicle or a fixed object. When another vehicle was at fault in the fatal crash, it was usually coming in the opposite direction and turned left striking the on-coming motorcycle on the left side. In this situation, a lack of visibility of the motorcycle was a major factor.

Although the mandatory use of the motorcycle helmets remains a controversial issue, a recent study of motorcycle fatalities conducted by the State Medical Examiner indicates helmets do help to protect the rider. During the same time period, 36 non-helmeted cyclists were killed while only 15 helmeted riders lost their lives.

This study revealed that 50% of the 36 non-helmeted cyclists died of head injuries only and another 19.4% sustained both lethal head and other injuries. Only 26.7% of the 15 helmeted riders died of head injuries only and another 6.7% sustained both lethal head and other injuries. This showed that five times as many non-helmeted cyclists sustained lethal head injuries during the study period than did helmeted riders.

Alcohol involvement in fatal crashes increased by 4.7% during 1980 as compared to the previous year.

In studies conducted by the State Medical Examiner, 60.2% of the victims tested had been drinking. Of these drinking victims, seven out of ten had blood alcohol levels at or above the legal limit of .10 BAC. Test on fatally injured drivers showed that 62% of them had been drinking at the time of the crash.

Investigations by police officers throughout Maryland indicate that the use of seat belts would dramatically cut the annual death toll. Police reports show that of the 470 persons killed who were riding inside of motor vehicles, only 15 of them were wearing seat belts. The investigators believed that 50% of the unbelted victims, or 227 persons, would be alive today if they had just been wearing their seat belts at the time of the accident.

"We could have the greatest reduction in traffic deaths in our history," said State Police Superintendent Thomas S. Smith, "if people would use their seat belts, obey the speed limit and not drive drunk." Smith added that all motorcyclists should wear their protective helmets.

The number one traffic enforcement priority for the State Police during 1981 is a statewide crackdown on drunken drivers.

Maryland led the nation this past year in compliance with the 55 MPH national maximum speed limit.

Census Bureau To Conduct Survey

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey of employment in the Garrett County area during the work week of January 19-23, Porter S. Rickley, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Philadelphia, announced recently.

The survey is conducted for the U. S. Department of Labor in a scientifically designed sample of approximately 84,000 households throughout the United States. Employment and unemployment statistics based on results of this survey are used to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the nation.

For example, in November the survey indicated that of the 105.3 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 97.4 million were employed. The jobless rate was approximately 7.5 percent for the third month in a row.

Information supplied by people participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and results are used only to compile statistical totals, according to Rickley.

Preparations Underway To Handle Sewerage Problems On Route 135

Two engineers from Stearns and Wheeler, Cazenovia, N. Y., presented details Friday of a sewerage study and recommendations to Bausch and Lomb and the Garrett County Sanitary District to prepare for a 50 percent increase in flow from Bausch and Lomb and for an additional 20,000 gallons per day from the proposed relocated Coca-Cola plant at Route 135. The presentation was made in the Board of Garrett County Commissioners meeting room, and it addressed existing sewerage problems and anticipated problems upon Bausch and Lomb's expansion.

Recommendations made by Donald Schwinn and Donald Steyer call for additional facilities at the Bausch and Lomb pre-treatment facility, consisting of a new funnel-shaped sediment tank, from which solids can be pumped into a lagoon to dry and later be hauled away.

Sewage from Bausch and Lomb currently leaves its pre-treatment facility and is pumped to a Garrett County Sanitary District package treatment facility located near Bausch and Lomb. According to Stearns and Wheeler, this facility will require no modification other than additional chemicals and increased aeration.

Dick Nace, Sanitary District administrator, stated that the ultimate solution as proposed by Stearns and Wheeler is to construct an interceptor pipeline to run from the package treatment facility to an existing interceptor at Mt. Lake Park which connects with the Trout Run Treatment Plant, for treatment of the additional sewage anticipated. This would require renovations to the Trout Run facility for it to be able to handle the additional flow. Trout Run's current capacity is about 300,000 gallons per day, and the State Health Department requires that the capacity be about 600,000 gallons per day to handle the increased flow.

Nace stated that renovations are required by the State Health Department for Trout Run to handle its present flow and to meet current effluent standards for the Little Youghiogheny River, as set down by the State Health Department. The Trout Run treatment facility currently handles secondary treatment, and the Health Department is demanding that the Sanitary District re-design the plant to handle tertiary treatment. Nace stated that the Sanitary District will be allowed to operate under secondary treatment as long as it shows good faith in progressing toward tertiary treatment.

Nace stated that the Sanitary District is not satisfied that tertiary standard is appropriate for the Little Youghiogheny River, as the State has not classified it as a natural trout stream. "The Sanitary District is prepared to contest any stringent ruling from the State," he said, if there is no relaxation of demand for tertiary treatment standards.

The Sanitary District is expected to submit a completed Upper Youghiogheny Facilities Plan to the State Office of Environmental Programs sometime within the next few weeks. This should increase its chances of receiving funding for construction of the interceptor from the Environmental Protection Agency.

The County Commissioners and possibly the Sanitary Commission will submit the Stearns and Wheeler report to the State Health Department, along with an explanatory letter detailing the agreed course of action to deal with sewerage problems at Route 135 and compliance of treatment standards.

Included in that course of action will be an application to the State Health Department for a loan to cover engineering costs incurred thus far, and design fees for the installation of the interceptor and Trout Run aeration equipment.

The Sanitary District will also apply for E.P.A. Step II grant funds for design of the interceptor and lagoon aeration equipment, after which time design is expected to begin.

The Sanitary District is looking into Coca-Cola sewer extension, a Bausch and Lomb interceptor sewer and Trout Run sewerage treatment plant modifications, which it hopes can be approved simultaneously.

Until the interceptor is constructed, the package plant near Bausch and Lomb will be operating above its capacity. Nace stated that this situation can be dealt with by increasing the use of chemicals and aeration, to make the plant flow more quickly. He stated that this type of operation should only be necessary for about one year, until the interceptor can be built.

Nace said Bausch and Lomb's expansion is expected to be operational sometime this year, as well as Coca-Cola.

Oakland Hears Interim Report On The SSES

The Oakland Town Council held a special meeting Monday night to hear an interim report on the Sewer System Evaluation Survey, presented by Morgan France, Project Manager. The purpose of SSES is to determine the most cost-effective manner of handling sewer line flows, rehabilitation and replacement, in conjunction with the construction of a sewage treatment facility.

France reported that about 70 percent of the town's sewer lines require no further study or work. The study to date indicated that four or five manholes will have to be added to the Oakland system in order to complete the study.

The two main trouble areas are the east side of Fourth Street through Third Street, located alongside Wilson Run Stream, and Ninth Street south of Route 135 at the Cee Dee Tavern, to the Little Youghiogheny River. France indicated that these two lines are leaking badly and may need to be replaced. The report justified additional study of these areas.

A line which runs from Miller's Market to Winter's field will have to be internally inspected with a T.V. camera, France said. The camera, mounted on a sled and pulled through the line on a wire, will record on video tape a circular picture of the inside of the entire line. France explained that this is necessary to determine whether or not the entire line will need to be replaced, or whether attention should be given to just certain portions of the line.

France stated that, after the nature of the leaks is determined, lines which are leaking badly can either be replaced or a plastic liner can be inserted in the pipe.

In other business, France presented a Sewer Use Ordinance for the town to adopt, as part of the SSES. France explained that the ordinance is required by the Environmental Protection Agency, in order for a town to receive funds for a sewerage system or treatment facility. The ordinance deals with the elimination of private inflow points in the sewer system. A public hearing will be held in February regarding the ordinance.

In other business, Wendell Keaton, Garrett County Municipal Coordinator, presented a resolution which the town adopted, to apply for $100,000 in loan money as Oakland's share of rehabilitation of an existing water storage tank and construction of a new tank. A letter of intent was sent to Farmers' Home Administration, the funding agency, stating that Oakland will meet the conditions set down by FmHA.

John Nelson, Garrett County Zoning Administrator, presented an amendment to the council of the town's zoning ordinance of June, 1974. The amendment will allow mobile homes to be installed in three commercial areas of the town, near Cee Dee Restaurant, at the northern end of Route 219 in the area of the Town Motel, and from the Community Action Building to Bradley Run. Mobile homes will be allowed in these areas only by special exception.

Board Rejects Wynlyn's Bid For Expansion

The Garrett County Zoning Appeals Board has rejected a proposal for expansion to Wynlyn's Edge, Deep Creek Lake, because of increased traffic hazards and noise pollution.

The Board made its decision with a 3-1 vote after hearing testimony from adjoining property owners and lake residents and reading letters from residents and county organizations at a public hearing Thursday evening.

The proposal, submitted by owners Evelyn and George Weissgerber, called for a two-story addition on the southside of the establishment and additional parking spaces directly across the highway. The addition would have included an extension of the game room on the lower floor and an open deck on the second floor. The parking lot would have included spaces for 70 automobiles.

John Nelson, county zoning administrator, stated the Board's main reasons for rejecting the proposal involved the increase in pedestrian traffic crossing U. S. 219, the increase in traffic due to the building's increased capacity, and concerns of increased noise pollution by outdoor entertainment on the open deck.

Adjoining property owners, present at the hearing, also stated concerns that increased capacity at Wynlyn's would mean use of their parking facilities by Wynlyn patrons.

John Cook, a representative of the Health Department, said his agency needed more details before it could approve the expansion project. The department was primarily concerned with Wynlyn's compliance with seating capacity regulations. He noted the present septic system allowed Wynlyn's to have a seating capacity of up to 200 seats.

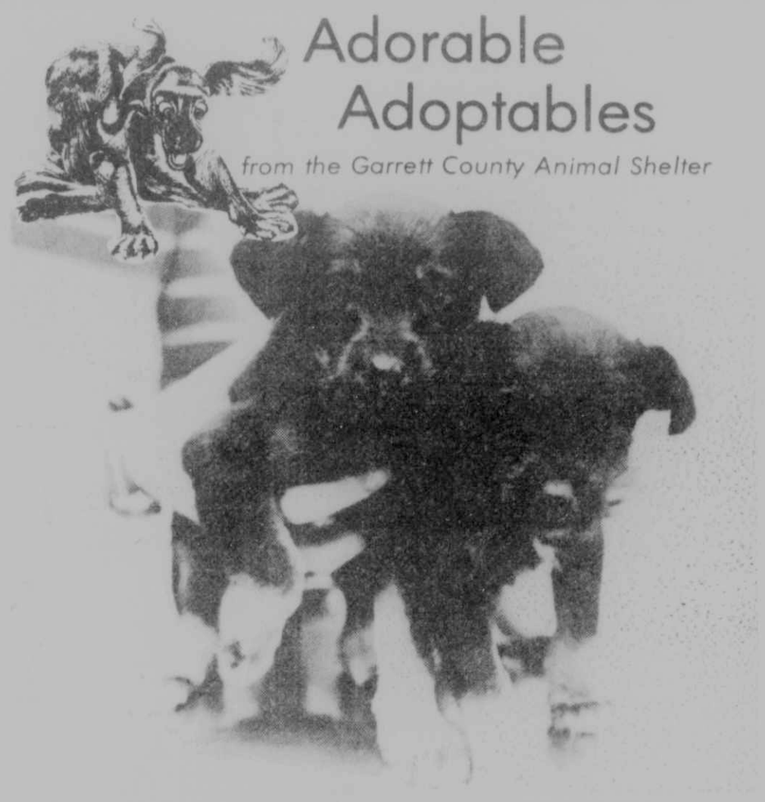

Nelson noted that present parking facilities are below the zoning standards which require one parking space for every three seats in an establishment. The proposed expansion would have brought the facilities up to standard.

Wynlyn's owners will have 30 days from the time they receive the written decision of the Board to appeal. Their appeal would go to the Garrett County District Court.

Evelyn Weissgerber had no comment about the decision.

Three regular Board members and one alternate were present at the hearing.

Included in the letter of testimony was one from the Garrett County Planning Commission which stated that while it was not opposed to the business expansion it was concerned about traffic hazards. It stated it would oppose any expansion which would contribute to increased traffic. The Commission also stated the request should be granted only if the parking facilities were adequate and if the owners agreed to wait to open the addition until the parking facilities were completed.

Maryland News In Brief

Health Official's Case

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A state medical discipline commission has placed a city hospital's chief of radiotherapy on indefinite probation because his patient load is too large.

Dr. George Richards, chief of radiotherapy at the Greater Baltimore Medical Center, was also ordered to update the records of patients currently under treatment, to take a radiotherapy training program and to report periodically to the commission.

The commission also told Richards to hire a full-time assistant.

Rape Suspect Sought

GLEN BURNIE (UPI) — Anne Arundel County police are searching for a man they say posed as a police officer and raped a 25-year-old woman.

Police said the man flashed his car's headlight at the woman early Monday while both were traveling on a road near Glen Burnie. After telling her she was speeding, he ordered her to wait in his car while he made a radio check.

The man then raped the woman in her car, the victim told police.

Police said the method of attack leads them to believe the man may be the same person who assaulted several women in Prince George's County.

Iranian Citizen Held

ELLICOTT CITY (UPI) — Howard County police say a man arrested last weekend is an Iranian in the United States illegally.

Police said a computer check of Raf Garabege, 29, showed he was arrested last February in Baltimore as an illegal alien. Following the arrest, he disappeared.

Garabege was picked up Saturday because of defective equipment on his car. He has since been released on $500 bond pending a hearing on charges of driving without a license.

Wallace Gray, immigration services director, said he plans to review Garabege's case soon.

Case of Burning Desire

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A Criminal Court judge has sentenced a man to three years in prison who tried to burn a woman friend's house down when she wouldn't let him in the door last August.

Joseph McNeil, 27, had been living with Dorothea Williams, 34, until two days before the August 14 incident. When Ms. Williams wouldn't let him in the house, McNeil said he would burn the woman out, court testimony showed.

He then broke a window and set some curtains on fire with a lit newspaper, authorities said. About $100 damage resulted.

Baltimore Rent Control

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The prime backer of rent control admits his controversial measure is dead, but predicts his idea will eventually become reality.

City Councilman Kweisi Mfume said he has only seven of the 10 votes needed for passage of his bill. But he predicts a rent control law one day will be passed.

Mfume introduced the bill after the courts overturned a rent control referendum voters approved during the 1979 election.

Southern Band Not A Participant In Inauguration

The Presidential Inaugural Parade will go on without the participation of the Southern Highlander Marching Band, the Garrett County Board of Education was informed last week.

County residents and elected officials had been attempting to secure an invitation to the parade for the band, a request Governor Harry Hughes had reportedly viewed with favor.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county school superintendent, received a copy of a letter to Gov. Hughes from Terry Chambers, Parade Chairman, explaining that the parade "will be a short, snappy spectacular staged for TV appeal.

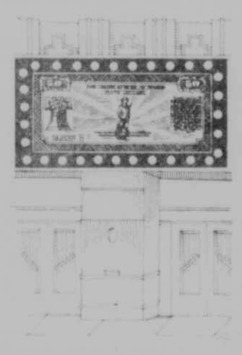

Approximately 20 bands and 20 equestrian units will participate in the parade and will represent four multi-stage regions: Northeastern America, Southern America, Middle America, and Western America.

Pleas for local support had been aired over the county radio stations as well as made by interested county residents. Senator Ed Mason (R-Allegany, Garrett) reported he received almost 50 telephone calls and 70 pieces of mail on the band's behalf. He had passed the mail and phone messages on to Governor Hughes.

Director Richard Clever stated he received a letter from Chairman Chambers who explained the Inaugural Committe had to choose 20 bands out of approximately 500. He added that the Drum and Bugle Corps from the Naval Academy in Annapolis would be in the parade.

DESIGNED FOR POWER

In the annals of sailing there have been few to surpass the clipper. She plied the seven seas and helped a new nation become a world power.

But what was their formula for success? God's power and man's design making fullest use of it. You don't have to count the sails or study the rigging to know that.

Is it any different when we employ steam, electricity or atomic power? These are sources of power God has provided. We design the craft and machinery to put them to use.

Try that formula for everyday living. The power comes from God, you put it to the best use. That's what religion is about!

They were wise and skilled Americans who designed the "clipper." They are wise and skilled, likewise, whose week begins with the worship of God, and whose days put his Power to Christian use.

THERE MAY BE NO INCURABLE DISEASES

Not long ago killer diseases like small pox, diptheria, thphoid, tuberculosis or polio took countless lives. Now their perils can be avoided by certain precautions and preventive medicines.

Someday, in the not too distant future, a cure will be discovered for every disease. All over the earth research scientists are experimenting with both old and new drugs and chemicals. As soon as they are approved for safe use, we stock them, so that we can fill any physician's prescriptions. There is hope for present incurables. The next "miracle" drug may be the blessing they are looking for.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

MAMMON BY A LANDSLIDE

January 18, 1981

Background Scripture:
Matthew 8 through 10.
Devotional Reading:
Acts 10:34-43.

I write these words just a few days after our national elections. My recollection of this election campaign is a mental collage of banners, slogans, ecstatic crowds, ubiquitous political commercials, posters, bumper stickers, signs and a seemingly inexhaustible supply of newspaper articles and television reports. According to the experts, this has been the biggest and most expensive campaign ever.

The Plentiful Harvest

I can't help musing over this gigantic expenditure of energy and material wealth to place a single human being into office. The "what ifs" haunt me. What if...that time and space in print and radio/tv had been devoted to witnessing for Christ? Just once a century, what if...we were to become that excited about the Kingdom of God? What if...instead of those interminable political speeches we had given equal time to the words of our Lord? And instead of telling people how to vote, what if we had spent that same time and energy showing people how to live?

Jesus told his disciples, "The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few..." (9:37). Yes, the plentiful harvest is still before us, and the laborers are still all too "few." But must it be that way? Jesus had only twelve men and an unnumbered group of women to follow him. Between them they couldn't have rented a good-sized hall or printed a hundred posters. But today we have the means — means far beyond anything the original disciples could have imagined. If the laborers are "few," it is not a paucity of numbers, but a poverty of commitment and concern. Mammon and God are still campaigning for our souls and we are still voting for Mammon at the polling place of our priorities and commitment.

He Gave Authority

What I envision with my "what ifs" is not an advertising extravaganza or a public relations blitzkrieg. Nor am I calling for political convention-size rallies for Christ or daily radio/tv interviews with Christian spokesmen. Least of all am I envisioning an avalanche of posters and pamphlets.

What I look for is the same kind of campaign that Jesus conducted with his constituency when he sent out his twelve disciples into the precincts of the people of Israel. With the exception of the proclamation, "The Kingdom of heaven is at hand," (10:7), Jesus gave them no speeches, press releases, or party platforms. What he gave them was the authority to perform compassionate acts: "authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal every disease and every infirmity." The charge he gives them is no less precise: "Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse lepers, cast out demons."

Although the election is over, the controversy still rages: shall Christians carry their religion into their politics. To me, the answer is not "whether" but how we do it. It is one thing to seek power to make people conform to your own ideas and values and something else to carry out Christ's command to render compassionate deeds in the name of the kingdom.

Girl Scouts Prepare For Cookie Sale

Garrett County Girl Scouts, members of the Girl Scouts of Southwestern Pennsylvania, will begin taking orders for Girl Scout cookies door-to-door on January 16, to continue through February 1. These orders will be delivered between February 23 and March 6, and a direct door-to-door sale will then be conducted through March 21.

Brownie Girl Scouts, girls aged six to eight years or in first through third grades, switched from selling nut products to selling cookies this year because peanut crop shortages made it impossible to guarantee delivery.

Girl Scouts will be selling seven varieties of cookies: Thin Mints, Samoas (chocolate, caramel, and coconut), Do-si-dos (peanut butter sandwich), Tag-a-longs (chocolate-covered peanut butter), Van'Chos (vanilla and chocolate sandwich cremes), Trefoils (shortbread), and Forget-me-nots (granola). Each box is selling this year for the same price it did in 1980.

Cookie profits contribute to one-third of the Girl Scout Council's operating budget, and provide troops with a major part of their own funding. Cookie money allows the council to operate such programs as camping, special arts activities, and career exploration, and allows troops to take trips, complete projects and purchase needed equipment.

To order or purchase Girl Scout cookies, persons should call the Girl Scout office in Uniontown at (412) 437-5471. Cookie sale chairmen in Lafayette District, which includes Oakland, are Rosalie Michael and Peggy Triplett.

Goldstein Urges Appeal Of Tax Decision To U.S. Supreme Court

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein has urged Attorney General Stephen Sachs to appeal the recent United States Court of Appeals decision barring the State of Maryland from collecting State and Local income taxes from members of Congress. The decision affects members of Congress who represent other states, but live in Maryland for six months or longer each year.

The State of Maryland had appealed a ruling by the United States District Court for Maryland which prohibited the state from collecting income taxes from members of Congress.

"The principle involved is important enough that I believe the highest court in the land should render a ruling," Goldstein said. "It is shameful that the members of Congress passed a law exempting themselves from the Maryland State and Local income taxes and then used the United States Department of Justice to bring suit in what is really a private, individual income tax matter."

The State Comptroller's Office estimates that approximately 125 members of Congress have been living in Maryland, but only about 25 represented states that have no state income tax. Only these 25 would be subject to the state income tax, because the other 100 would receive a credit for any income taxes paid to their home state. All 125 would be subject to the local income tax levied by Prince George's and Montgomery Counties, where those members of Congress live and receive the essential services of government. Approximately $225,000 in revenue is involved, most of it local income tax revenue benefiting Prince George's and Montgomery Counties.

YACC To Hire Area Residents

Job opportunities are available for youth 16-23 years of age with the the Young Adult Conservation Corps (YACC), in a residential camp in Garrett County where two log buildings are under construction. This project, under the supervision of the Maryland Forest and Park Services, begins with cutting the trees and will continue through the construction of the two buildings.

The YACC is based on the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) program of the 1930's. This construction project is typical of the work done in bygone days, according to the Department of Natural Resources.

YACC enrollees are cutting the logs, helping to saw them into lumber and will begin the actual construction in the spring. All lumber will be cut in the Savage River State Forest.

Further information about the YACC program is available by calling (301) 269-2676 in Annapolis or by contacting the local Employment Security Office. The Garrett County residential camp is hiring now.

Attorney General's Office Reports Results Of Fourth Interest Survey

The Consumer Protection Division of the Office of the Attorney General conducted its fourth survey of bank interest rates on Tuesday, January 6. The telephone survey was conducted in the same manner as the previous three surveys on November 19, December 2-3, and December 16 and covered the same categories of consumer loans, namely: personal loans, home improvement loans, new car loans and retail credit accounts.

This survey covered 105 nationally-chartered and state-chartered banks in Maryland. Representatives of the Consumer Protection Division telephoned the banks just as an individual consumer would and asked what interest rates the bank would charge prospective customers on credit card balances up to $700, and on personal, home improvement and auto loans over $3,500.

According to the survey results:

* Ten of the 11 banks offering charge cards continued to charge the maximun permissible rate of 18%, one more than at the time of the last survey. When the survey was made, the latest bank to raise its rate to the maximum announced its intention to do so in January.

* For personal loans over $3,500, the number of banks charging the 18% statutory maximum increased from 42 to 52. The statewide average interest rate for personal loans increased 0.3% from 16.8% to 17.1%. The First National Bank of Oakland and Liberty Trust Company of Maryland are among those charging 18%, while the Garrett National Bank is charging 16%.

* For home improvement loans, the number of banks charging the 18% maximum increased from 32 to 35. The statewide average interest rate rose 0.1% from 16.7% to 16.8%. The First National Bank of Oakland is charging 18%, while Liberty Trust and Garrett National are charging 16%.

* For new car loans the number of banks charging the maximum increased from five to nine. The statewide average interest rate increased by 0.3% from 15.1% to 15.4%. Liberty Trust is charging 15½%, while The First National and Garrett National are charging 15%.

* The trend of large state-chartered banks tending to charge higher interest rates than medium or small state-chartered banks continued in the survey.

State, County Jobless Rates Show Increase

Maryland experienced a moderate increase in unemployment in November, as the unemployment rate rose from October's 5.8 percent to 6.0 percent, according the statistics released by the Maryland Department of Human Resources. Garrett County's jobless rate rose from 10.5 percent to 11.1 percent.

The 6.0 rate is slightly higher than the November 1979 rate of 5.8 percent. However, Maryland's rate remained significantly lower than the national rate.

Employment declined in November by an estimated 1,457 persons, and unemployment increased by 3,467, causing a net gain in the labor force of 2,010. The labor force expanded in response to seasonal hiring in trade and at public schools. Employment also advanced over the month due to recalls in the steel industry, continued fall hiring by colleges and universities, and renewed hiring by government. However, layoffs in water transportation services, in seasonal aspects of the services sector, and in agriculture diminished employment and spurred unemployment, according to the Department.

In the Baltimore Metropolitan Area, the unemployment rate fell slightly, from 6.9 percent in October to 6.8 percent in November. There were negligible changes in the labor force, as both employment and unemployment decreased in the area.

In the Maryland suburbs of Washington, D.C., the unemployment rate increased slightly, from October's 3.5 percent to 3.6 percent in November. Both employment and unemployment increased, with employment gains in trade, education and local government.

Western Maryland's overall unemployment rate rose from 8.2 percent in October to 8.5 percent in November. Increased unemployment was most evident in Allegany and Washington counties, with temporary pre-holiday layoffs in manufacturing industries. Growth in employment was caused by improved business conditions in construction, seasonal hiring in trade, and hiring by local governments.

The most substantial increases in the unemployment rate were found in Southern Maryland and on the Eastern Shore, with higher rates seen in every county. Worcester County's rate jumped from 11.4 percent in November, as layoffs occurred in agriculture and tourism-oriented trade and services. Seasonal declines in employment caused Queen Anne's County's unemployment rate to advance from 4.9 percent to 5.9 percent. Somerset County's unemployment rate rose from 14.1 percent to 16.1 percent, as seasonal layoffs in food processing, seafood and agriculture increased initial claims for unemployment insurance benefits. The unemployment rate in Wicomico County climbed from 8.0 percent to 9.3 percent, with seasonal layoffs in agriculture, trade and services, and pre-holiday layoffs in manufacturing.

CINDY SAYS

Toni's new-old career; Godfrey's pine trees

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — Newly unemployed Toni Tennille will do an album and a few concert tours ... New York Mets hotshot Rusty Staub dropped 10 pounds in one week by eating just raw veggies ... From Florida where he's baking his bones, Arthur Godfrey sent chums real live miniature pine trees for the new year ... Among Bess Myerson's offers since losing in her bid for the Senate are a couple of books and one to be a commentator on the TV news.

Jackie Gleason's annual golf tourney was axed from CBS' 1981 schedule. He's now trying to get it sponsored by the Atlantic City casinos ... Paul Newman's lawyers are hassling with his Connecticut hamlet's town fathers who want to subdivide the property near his family's ole swimming hole.

In the interests of higher education, Marilyn Chambers who, it is reported, has cleaned up her act, just got invited back to her high school class reunion in Westport, Conn. ... Cary Grant: "I'm always asked if a man pushing 70 should continue to exercise. I always felt that pushing 70 was exercise enough" ... Raquel Welch: "I've been married already and I have children already. I therefore don't see any other reason for me to ever get married again" ... Phyllis Diller: "I've had so many facelifts that by now I should be three inches taller than I am."

Ex-madam Xaviera Hollander, who knows — you should please pardon the pun — all the tricks of the trade, is suing the firm that is producing unauthorized sequels to her "Happy Hooker" paperback. Madam Hollander's literary efforts, translated into seven languages, have already bought her a pile of discos, saloons, restaurants and one ice cream parlor in Amsterdam ... Paul Simon, who's so very quiet, and Penny Marshall, who's not so very quiet, are making noises together.

Sean Connery's 1981 resolution is to not be quite so selfish. He said it. I didn't ... And Charlene Tilton's is to push her little frame away from ice cream.

New year brings new faces to soaps

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

HOLLYWOOD — There have been numerous cast changes in the soap world since the beginning of the new year, including the addition of Jerry Cashman as John Gibson on "The Young and the Restless." The new character will play an important part in Nikki Reed Foster's life.

More exits from the "Another World" cast include Kevin Conroy as Jerry Groves, Michael Stone s Craig Caldwell and Jack Parris as Brad Garrick. Veteran actor Fred J. Scollay (Charlie Hobson) made the fifth fatality on "AW" thus far. New head writer, L. Virginia Browne, seems to be making a clean sweep of the "AW" cast. As future changes come our way, we'll pass them on to you.

From "Texas" the word is out that Chandler Harben (Max Dekker) will be replaced after receiving his pink slip. No reasons for the dismissal were given. Back on "Texas" is Steven D. Newman as Barrett Marshall. If you search your memory, you'll remember he portrayed Mike Marshall when the show made its debut.

Two exits from "Edge of Night" include Frances Fisher from her long-time role as Deborah Saxon. Frances is hoping to catch some roles out in Los Angeles after exiting New York City. The second "EON" departee was Jayne Bentzen (Nicole Cavanaugh). Jayne will be on her way to Boston by the time you read this column and perhaps working in a new stage production. Jayne came to "EON" as the replacement for Maeve McGuire, and amid speculation that Jayne would never make the grade, she proved the critics wrong. The decision to leave "EON" was strictly her own.

Speaking of Maeve McGuire, she just finished a run in the off-Broadway production, "Vera, With Kate." Starring in the play with Maeve was John Wesley Shipp (Kelly Nelson on "Guiding Light").

LETTERS:

I would like to know what George Reinholt and Jacqueline Courtney (formerly Alice and Steve from on "Another World") are doing. — A.S., Holiday, Fla.

Jackie, in case you don't watch, has been appearing on "One Life to Live" since shortly after her departure from "AW," which occurred after a dispute between Jackie and the show's producer, Paul Rauch. George Reinholt appeared in a Broadway show after leaving "AW," but the vehicle he was involved in received bad reviews and closed almost as soon as it opened. No one seems to have heard from Reinholt since.

IN FOCUS

PBS series features a machine that dies

On March 17, 1960, a chilly group of millionaires, critics and museum trustees crowded into the garden of New York's Museum of Modern Art to witness the suicide of a machine. The artist responsible for this uniquely self-destructing work of art was a Swiss sculptor, Jean Tinguely.

Robert Hughes

Tinguely's infernal (or at least eccentric) machines will be seen on "The Powers That Be," program two of "The Shock of the New," Robert Hughes' eight-part exploration of modern art airing Monday, Jan. 18, over PBS. Tinguely's mechanical structures, certainly among the most entertaining of the 20th century, were the result of a life-long obsession with machinery and a deep-seated dislike of authority.

Born in 1925, in neutral Switzerland, Tinguely attempted to go to war against fascism at the age of 14 when he tried to enlist in the fight against Benito Mussolini. The attempt was abortive. He was thrown into jail at the Italian border after refusing to give his name. After returning home to his parents and a job in a local department store, he was soon fired for tearing the time clock off the wall — perhaps his first anti-mechanical gesture. In 1941, he entered art school and when he emerged in 1945, he was already creating works in which movement was itself part of the medium.

"Homage to New York," the artists's comment on the Big Apple, was built in a little more than three weeks from hundreds of bits and pieces appropriated from dumps around New Jersey. A Swedish engineer who, with his wife, spent many hours helping Tinguely raid the dumps and toss junk over MOMA's 54th Street fence, recalled the machine:

"A nut beat on the pot, a clamp jumped up and down in the bassinette and a fan motor attacked the drum. The paper would unfold from a horizontal roll at the top and be guided down on a sheet-metal trough. Here it would be painted on by an elaborate arm that Jean would later work on for two days until it was perfect. At the bottom of the structure, the continuously moving paper would be blown toward the audience by a fan. The machine was taking form. He made two small carriages. The second contraption was a very odd thing. Jean's idea was that it would move to the side and fall into the pool of the garden. It would commit suicide."

The machine, in effect, was created to commit suicide. Tinguely's fascination with destruction and movement as an artistic medium left him happily amid the ruins of his machine.

Stars' eating habits provide beauty, energy

By RUTH THOMPSON

Show business has endless horror stories about performers who were ordered to slim down and decided that black coffee and pills were the way to do it. Tragic Marilyn Monroe is the most celebrated example.

Does it still happen? Sometimes. But the positive news is that some of the brightest young talents are into health regimes that could equal, if not shame, athletes in training.

Not that "positive eating" is anything new. The eternally glamorous Gloria Swanson has been lecturing audiences for years on the evils of "poisoning" themselves with sugar, etc. She pinpoints 1929 as her own "year of enlightenment." The doctor she consulted about digestive problems told her to analyze the components of a meal in a fashionable restaurant. She did and swung so totally toward a health pattern that she carries along bottled water when she travels. But that's not all.

Ann Miller once moaned to us, "Gloria ate nothing from my beautiful menu when I invited her to a luncheon. Instead she brown-bagged it with her own food."

"Maintaining energy is where it's at" seems to summarize the motivation of two young women prominent in current series, each of whom has developed personalized food regimes that work. They are Betty Kennedy (sexy Andrea on CBS' "Ladies Man") and Melanie Chartoff (of ABC's "Fridays").

The drugs-and-alcohol-related death of a girl chum is what prompted Betty to analyze self-destructive patterns, even to such less-obvious ones as improper eating. Then she radically overhauled her own diet, exults over recipes using soy beans and considers it a compliment when you call her a health nut.

Melanie was sipping camomile tea when we first met but would shudder at being called a health nut. Too extreme. "I wouldn't even want to be known as somebody who eats health foods, just healthy food." She found her way to beneficial eating, she says, after her energy flagged during a strenuous stage engagement.

She's bitter as she recalls step one. "I went to an M.D. whose solution was to give me pills. Then I found they were 'uppers,' which I didn't want."

She took charge of her own case after reading an article about low blood sugar. The symptoms matched hers, and she demanded a six-hour-glucose tolerance test. It confirmed that she did indeed have low blood sugar, so she scouted out a nutritionist to guide her.

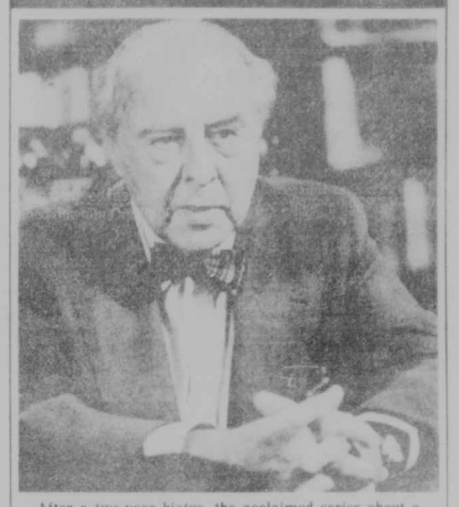

Now she works a tough six-day week and plays racquet ball for recreation. She's speeded up her food preparation without sacrificing quality. "I like my food as naked as possible, but well seasoned — lots of onions and garlic. A couple of times a week I shake together a bottle of dressing and use it on everything until it's gone. Not just salads, but also for sauteeing fish or chicken. This week's was oil, yogurt and sage and dill from the herb garden on my terrace."

Does Melanie brown-bag it? "No. I Tupperware it (to work, not socially) with things like steamed vegetables, sauteed beets, maybe cottage cheese. Not much hard cheese. I have to watch my weight." She says fellow cast members laugh at her good-health meals as they munch greasy hamburgers. She laughs right back.

INAUGURATION '81 — NBC News will present comprehensive live coverage of the inauguration of Ronald Reagan as the country's 40th president on Tuesday, Jan. 20, on NBC. Correspondents John Chancellor (lower right) and Roger Mudd will co-anchor coverage of the ceremonies, beginning at 10 a.m. (ET) from a booth on the west front of the Capitol. Warren E. Burger (upper left), chief justice of the United States, is shown administering the oath of office to the new president, whose wife, Nancy, is at his side.

TV PEOPLE

Embellishing the role is Plummer's strategy

Christopher Plummer isn't choosy about where he acts. He's comfortable on the stage, in motion pictures and on television.

But he is extremely selective about the roles he accepts. Regardless of the medium, his requirement is the same: Offer him a part that is larger than life.

Plummer will soon be seen as Duke Royal, the flamboyant owner and ringmaster of a ragtag traveling circus, in the romantic comedy "When the Circus Came to Town," a new TV movie to be broadcast on "The CBS Wednesday Night Movies" on Jan. 21.

During the location filming in Savannah, Ga., on a set that encompassed a real-life circus, complete with lions, tigers, monkeys and elephants, Plummer explained how he approaches a role.

"When I look at a script," he said, "I see things behind the lines to work on to make the character interesting without overwhelming the script."

The actor paused, then said, "But I'm having much less hard work thinking about things in this film, because it is written in a proper rhythm and each scene has variety. It's old fashioned in a nice way, yet it has size. Duke Royal is larger than life. He's filled with humor, gruffness and tenderness. The writer has given him an awful lot of facets, so I don't have to search as much. This is fun. Every now and then I just add some circus-ese to make Duke sound a little more authentic."

Circus-ese?

"We've hired a circus for this film," he said. "So I ask the fellow who runs it to give me circus phrases that are interesting to the ear. They're embellishments, sometimes just offscreen, but they add to the character's wholeness."

Over the years, Plummer has appeared in a variety of roles. The Canadian actor has starred in most of the leading classical parts, in musicals and in Broadway comedies.

Though he is still remembered as Captain von Trapp in the film version of "The Sound of Music," he also has been acclaimed as Hamlet (on both television and stage), Cyrano de Bergerac (on television, stage and in a Broadway musical for which he won a Tony), Oedipus the King (on both stage and television), Macbeth, and the devil in the original Broadway production of Archibald MacLeish's verse play, "J.B."

Christopher Plummer

Plummer starred on Broadway as Pizarro in "The Royal Hunt of the Sun." For the film version, he switched to the second-starring role as the Aztec king. On television, he won an Emmy for his performance in the mini-series "The Moneychangers" (which was directed by Boris Sagal, who also directed "When the Circus Came to Town"). He was seen most recently in the television version of "The Shadow Box," directed by Paul Newman.

"I've tried to bury myself in a variety of characters, all subtly different," Plummer explained. "For me, it's more fun."

Plummer likes to think of himself as a character actor, but he has the luxury of being a character actor in starring roles.

"I can still play the leading man, romantic people, if I want to," he said. "But I'm now of an age where I prefer getting into old makeups and burying myself in detail and research. It makes acting so much more interesting than simply being a leading man.

"Perhaps audiences are sometimes confused, because they can't identify me as one type. Mercifully, I am not a superstar, so I'm not expected to do the one thing that superstars are expected to do — which is to sell that persona. I have much more fun. I am now enjoying being an actor on the screen."

With that, Plummer left his trailer, sought out the circus owner, borrowed the owner's whistle and returned to the set.

Just another touch of circus-ese.

TV Circles

Words in the list below appear across, up, down, backwards and diagonally in the diagram. Find each word and draw a circle around its letters, then cross the word off the list. Some circled letters appear in more than one word. The letters that form the answer will be left over. Unscramble and arrange them to create a word, or words, that will provide the answer.

Police spirit

Todd Susman, who plays the patrolman Nathan Sugarman on NBC's "Number 96," says he actually applied to the Los Angeles and Santa Monica police departments for reserve status on several occasions. Acting assignments always pre-empted his involvement, however. "I'm not a hard-line law and order man," says Susman. "I just think police work would be an enlightening experience."

Showcase hosts

Eric Sevareid and Peter Ustinov will be host-narrators for Mobil Showcase Network's 1981 season. Sevareid, veteran news analyst, will provide the commentary for "Churchill and the Generals," a three-hour portrait of the unorthodox World War II prime minister who led Britain in its finest hour, which will air in March 1981. Ustinov will host Dame Agatha Christie's "The Seven Dials Mystery" and "Why Didn't They Ask Evans?" in April and May respectively.

Inaugural balls

Marty Pasetta, who directs the Oscar ceremony each year, has been appointed by the presidential inaugural committee to produce and direct television coverage of the inaugural ball festivities in Washington D.C., on the evening of Jan. 20. The four-hour program will be seen via closed-circuit television in more than 100 American cities where simultaneous celebration events are scheduled. It will also be beamed by satellite overseas.

Scheduled to follow the noontime presidential oath of office ceremonies and the traditional inaugural parade, the balls will be held in eight different Washington locations, each to be visited by President and Mrs. Reagan and Vice President and Mrs. Bush during the evening. The balls will feature 10 separate stages where Hollywood stars will host special appearances by entertainers for the 40,000 guests expected to attend.

Cat dogma

It isn't always easy for two experts to collaborate on a book — especially when one of the experts has claws. Luckily, TV star Morris the 9-Lives Cat and human cat expert Barbara Burn, co-authors of the recently published "The Morris Approach: An Insider's Guide to Cat Care," got along, for the most part, without a snarl.

For the first time in feline literary history, "The Morris Approach" presents cat care from both sides of the fence: the cat's, according to Morris, and the human's, according to Ms. Burn. The book world's most unusual duo spent more than a year observing each other to formulate their modern guide cat/human relationships.

Barbara Burn and Morris

"Morris was too much of a cat to say anything when he objected to one of my passages," says Ms. Burn, who has had many close associations with animals but never before in a literary venture." "But somehow I always knew when he didn't like something. If I left my papers on the floor, he would rip up anything he got his paws on. He often stood on my shoulder to look things over.

"Morris has a big ego. He definitely knows he's a star and expects to be treated like one. But then, so do most cats."

SUNDAY

NBC Sports will cover the final round of the Bob Hope Desert Classic from La Quinta Country Club in Palm Desert, Calif., on Sunday, Jan. 18, on NBC. Bob Hope will host, and sportscaster Don Criqui will report on the action.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

TWO YOUNG LOVLIES — There are two beautiful young ladies who are great actresses: Jamie Lee Curtis and Stephanie Zimbalist. Can you tell me something about them? — Bob Scharer, Davenport, Iowa.

Jamie is the daughter of Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis. Before she became a horror film queen, she was on TV in "Operation: Petticoat." Stephanie is the daughter of Efrem Zimbalist Jr. and has made several movies for TV.

LADY HILLBILLY — I would like to know if Granny from "The Beverly Hillbillies" is still alive. — Jonathan Baca, Santa Fe, N.M.

No. Irene Ryan, who played Granny, died in 1973 at the age of 71. She was appearing in the Broadway hit musical "Pippin" at the time of her death. She died at work, which is the way an actor would choose to go if he or she could.

MISPRINT — Recently you told someone where to get a Lawrence Welk family album, but the address was left out of my paper. Would you publish it again, please? — Mrs. David Erickson, Wesleyville, Pa.

Write Welk's office, 100 Wilshire Blvd., Santa Monica, CA 90401 and ask them for the nearest book store address where you can get one of these books. Or maybe they will be able to send it to you.

BLAKES BACK TO BACK — There once was an actress named Whitney Blake. Is she related to Robert Blake?

No. Blake isn't related to anyone named Blake since his real name is Michael Gubitosi. Whitney created the series "One Day at a Time" with her husband, Allan Manning.

CORRECT ME IF I'M WRONG — I've been watching Eric Braeden on "The Young and the Restless," and I swear he acted under another name when he was in "The Rat Patrol," but I can't remember it. Am I right? — Joan H., Glens Falls, N.Y.

You are indeed correct. Eric was once known by his real name, Hans Gudegast. But he felt it limited him to Germanic roles, so he changed it.

EILEEN BRENNAN STARS AS a member of the troupe of a ragtag circus in a new made-for-television movie, "When the Circus Comes to Town," to be broadcast on "The CBS Wednesday Night Movies," Wednesday, Jan. 21. Elizabeth Montgomery and Christopher Plummer also star in the story of a lonely woman (Montgomery) who runs away from home to join the traveling show.

To work, to play, to school...

let's pool together, America!

All across the country, folks are finding that carpooling pays.
By making driving more fun. And putting fewer cars on the road.
And whether you're going to work, play or school, a pool is better for all of us. It saves effort. It saves fuel.
And it sure saves money, too.
So carpool America! Share a ride with a friend.

Young Farmer To Be Elected To Advisory Board

A young farmer from the Garrett County area will be elected in McHenry on January 20 to serve on Southern States Cooperative's Young Farmer Advisory Board.

The 9:45 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. Young Farmer seminar, which will be held at the Village Inn, is one of ten such sessions being held during January across the five-state territory served by the cooperative.

Young farmers attending the session are invited by local Southern States boards and stockholder committees. Nominations to the Young Farmer Advisory Board will be made from those attending and election of an individual to a one-year term on the Southern States Cooperative advisory board will follow.

"The seminar will give young farmers, who are the cooperative's real future leadership base, the opportunity to learn how the organization functions to meet the needs of production agriculture," says Robert W. Bryan, director of member and institutional relations for Southern States Cooperative. "They will also be asked to discuss with the cooperative's representatives how they see their cooperative serving them now and in the future.

"This advisory board will serve as a liaison between the cooperative and the young farmer segment of our membership," explains Bryan. "We look to these farmers for recommendations and evaluations so we can better meet the special needs of young farmers."

Bryan will be a seminar participant, along with the cooperative's area regional manager and Dr. Marvin R. McClung of Morgantown, WVA, a director of the cooperative.

Almanac

Today is Wednesday January 14, the 14th day of 1981 with 351 to follow.

The Moon is moving from its first quarter toward its full phase.

The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury and Mars.

Philosopher and medical missionary Albert Schweitzer was born Jan. 14, 1875.

On this date in history:

In 1914, Henry Ford began the "Assembly Line" method of manufacturing cars, completing one "Model-T" car every 90 minutes.

In 1940, FBI agents seized 18 people in New York City and charged them with conspiring to overthrow the U.S. government.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill opened a 10-day World War II strategy conference in Casablanca, Morocco.

In 1976, Secretary of Labor John Dunlop resigned because of President Ford's veto of a construction picketing bill.

A thought for the day: Albert Schweitzer said, "Truth has no special time of its own. Its hour is now — always."

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory of our Darling Darla Diane DeWitt, who went to her Heavenly Home January 16, 1973. Oh Darla, we had so little time together, you were with us such a short while. The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away. But we find peace in knowing we'll be together some day.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

THE MAYOR AND TOWN COUNCIL OF MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK WILL HOLD A PUBLIC HEARING ON PROPOSED LAND SUB-DIVISION ORDINANCE

On Thursday, January 15, 1981 at 7:00 p.m., in the Town Hall the Mayor & Town Council will hold a hearing to receive comments from the public concerning a proposed ordinance which would regulate the subdivision of land.

Acting within the authority granted by Section V of Article 66B of the Annotated Code of Maryland the Planning Commission has prepared a set of regulations governing the subdivision of land within its jurisdiction. Section 5.01 of Article 66B defines a Planning Commission's jurisdiction over the subdivision of land to include both all lands included within the corporate boundaries of the Town as well as for the area lying within one mile of said corporate limits. Any lands lying within the one mile area which are located in another municipality are excluded from the Planning Commission's authority.

The intent of the land subdivision ordinance is to: 1) provide for the proper arrangement of streets, utility systems and other public improvements, 2) further the development of land in an orderly and appropriate manner, 3) establish standards for the design, survey, approval and recording of plats of land subdivisions, 4) establish requirements and responsibilities for the equitable allocation of the costs of installing streets, utility systems and other public improvements, 5) to provide consumer protection from flooding, sediment, traffic congestion and threats to public health and safety.

The general contents of the ordinance according to each of its Articles is as follows: (The complete text of the ordinance is available for inspection at the Town Hall during normal working hours).

Article I.
Title: Mountain Lake Park Land Subdivision Ordinance. Purpose: Promote Health, safety and general welfare of the present and future residents of Mountain Lake Park.
Applicability: The provisions of this ordinance shall apply to all land within corporate limits of Mountain Lake Park and its authority shall also extend over all land lying within one mile of the corporate limits of the Town which is not included in another municipality and for which the County has not provided a functioning subdivision regulation.

Article II. DEFINITIONS
Article II defines terms used in the ordinance.

Article III. REQUIREMENTS and PENALTIES
Article III states that it shall be unlawful for the owner of land located within the jurisdiction of this ordinance to subdivide land until the plat of said subdivision has been approved and recorded in accordance with this ordinance.
Whoever subdivides or sells tracts of land without receiving plat approval from the Planning Commission is subject to a penalty of not less than two hundred ($200) nor more than one thousand ($1,000) for each lot so transferred. The Mayor and Town Council may enjoin such transfer by filing for an injunction in a court of equity jurisdiction.

Article IV. ADMINISTRATION
Article IV provides for the creation of the position of Development Administrator. It also provides for the levying of fees to cover the cost of reviewing plats and inspecting public improvements.

Article V. PROCEDURAL REGULATIONS
Article V established the procedures which must be followed for the proper review of land subdivision plats. Any person subdividing land within the jurisdiction of this ordinance must follow the procedures detailed in Article V. In summary the Article establishes review procedures for a Tentative Plan (a non-requirement), a Preliminary Plat (a non-requirement), a Final Plat (a requirement), and a Record Plat (a requirement). Article V also details the procedures for the Town Council's inspection and acceptance of streets and other public improvements.

Article VI. PLAT PREPARATION REGULATIONS
Article VI establishes standards for the drafting of plats. It also indicates the information which must be shown on a plat for the Planning Commission to review it.

Article VII. DESIGN STANDARDS
Article VII establishes standards for the design of: lots, blocks, streets, storm drainage, sanitary sewage disposal, water supply and distribution systems and public utility system extensions.

Article VIII. IMPROVEMENT SPECIFICATION REGULATIONS
Article VIII establishes the public improvements that a subdivider will construct in order to receive final plat approval. The improvements the Article provides for are: streets, sewage disposal systems, storm drainage, erosion control, water supply systems, monuments, and street signs.

Article IX. IMPROVEMENT GUARANTEES
Article IX establishes the content of the written agreements that the Town and Subdivider must enter into prior to the Planning Commission's final approval of any subdivision. These agreements require the subdivider to construct all improvements required by this ordinance and to furnish the Town cash or bond of a sufficient amount to cover the cost of installing said improvements.

MORTGAGE PROTECTION

Homeowners insurance is great. It can protect you against almost any conceivable damage or accident that can happen in, on, around and even away from your home. But do not make the mistake of thinking that your homeowners insurance will pay off your mortgage upon the breadwinner's death. It won't.

For this type of protection, and it is desirable, you must purchase a certain type of term life insurance policy for a period of time equal to the length of the mortgage loan.

The premiums on such policies are relatively low—in fact, they are about the lowest cost life insurance policies you can buy because the insurance protection decreases with the reduction of your mortgage. Most insurance companies will tailor a plan to fit your needs and in many cases you can have the payments included in your mortgage payment to the bank. Check with your insurance agent and he will be able to give you the details regarding this protection.

Page Shanklin, Chartered Property Casualty Underwriter (CPCU), was appointed vice president of Branch Operations and will coordinate management of the firm's Western Maryland and West Virginia Branch Offices, with corporate headquarters in Cumberland.

Shanklin, 38, joined Beall, Garner, Screen, and Geare in 1975. He was formerly employed by the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company of Baltimore. He recently earned the CPCU designation and is a licensed insurance consultant in Maryland. He's also president of the Independent Agents Association for Garrett and Allegany Counties.

His additional duties will include primary responsibility for internal operation of the local branch and community relations.

Geare taught insurance courses at Garrett Community College, is past secretary of the Mt. Top Jaycees, and is active in church work at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church in Oakland.

Geare and his family reside in Country Club Acres.

The promotions were made effective on January 1, by the Board of Directors of Beall, Garner, Screen, and Geare, Inc.

Helmet Injury Study Results Are Released

The Shock Trauma Motorcycle Helmet Injury Study, released last week, shows an alarmingly high head injury rate for non-helmeted riders, according to the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services.

The study, conducted by Carol Benner and Alasdair Conn, M.D., is based on motorcycle victims received at the Shock Trauma Center in Baltimore from July 1,1979 to July 1, 1980.

On July 1, 1979, the Maryland State Legislature repealed the law which required motorcyclists 18 years and older to wear protective helmets. The Shock Trauma Center, the statewide referral facility for the most critically ill of injured victims including those from road and highway crashes, began this year-long study to assess differences in mortality and morbidity among motorcycle accident victims who wore helmets and those who did not.

The study shows:

*Although head injuries were reported in both groups, frequency, severity, and death due to head injury were all significantly higher in the unhelmeted group.

*Overall fatality rates in the unhelmeted group was 49% or 12 times higher than the helmeted group (4%).

*Unhelmeted motorcycle victims admitted to Shock Trauma were 11.5 times as likely to sustain a serious head injury as were helmeted victims.

*Unhelmeted motorcycle victims admitted to Shock Trauma were 15 times as likely to sustain a fatal injury as were helmeted victims.

Ms. Benner is Administrative Assistant for Quality Assurance Programs at the University of Maryland Hospital.

Dr. Conn is Medical Director, Field Operations Program, Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems, University of Maryland

Crellin Woman To Receive Award In Conservation

A Crellin woman will be among nine persons to be honored for their conservation efforts during the Maryland Wildlife Federation annual awards banquet Sunday at Martins Eudowood Gardens in the Eudowood Plaza Shopping Center, near Baltimore.

Ellen Zimmerman will be named Outstanding Conservation Educator for her development of an educational program in environmental awareness.

Mrs. Zimmerman, a teacher's aide at Crellin Elementary School, has involved the State Department of Natural Resources, the Crellin Elementary School and the Crellin community in a first-of-its-kind environmental education program which uses a 400-acre tract of state forest lands to conduct outdoor classes in ecology and wildlife biology. The state has set up nature trails and designated the tract for educational use.

Advanced students in the program, which is offered to students grades three through five, are now allowed to pick a project. One of the first projects is a study of Tolliver Falls at Swallow Falls State Park to determine its suitability as a trout stream.

In addition to the awards presentation, the banquet will also feature as guest speaker Merrill Petoskey, Deputy Administrator of the Natural Resources, Science and Education Administration of the Department of Agriculutre.

Fred Vance, one of the founders and officers of Maryland Wildlife Federation, will be inducted into the Federation's Hall of Fame.

Other awards to be presented will be Outstanding Conservationist, Outstanding Wildlife Conservationist, Outstanding Conservation Communicator, Outstanding Youth Conservationist, Outstanding Air Conservationist, and Outstanding Conservation Organization. PERFECTLY MATCHED CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM — The Anheuser Busch Clydesdales made a surprise visit to Garrett County yesterday morning as part of a national advertising campaign featuring the winter beauty of a rural setting. The Rainer Kraus farm, near Friensville, was chosen at random by promotion members of the advertising staff, who were searching for a perfect scene for Christmas pictures. The arrival of the world famous Clydesdales prompted much surprise and delight to passers-by, who stopped to admire the team and to take their own photos. Additional promotion pictures were taken Monday at the Western Maryland 4-H Center as part of the winter advertising scenes for publication in Time and Life magazines next November.

Mt. Lake Park Proposed Land Subdivision Ordinance Discussed

Approximately 30 Mt. Lake Park residents, area housing developers and other interested persons attended a public hearing last Thursday at the Mt. Lake Park Town Hall, to voice their opinions regarding a proposed town ordinance to regulate subdivision of land.

A planning commission appointed by the town over a year ago has prepared the ordinance, which will be presented to the town council for approval when the commission has a final draft prepared.

The regulations proposed by the planning commission will govern subdivision of land within its jurisdiction for subdivision control, including all lands within corporate boundaries and any land lying within one mile of the corporate limits, except property in another municipality.

The major opposition was expressed by landowners in that outlying area, who indicated that they should not be subjected to the subdivision regulations when they are not town residents. A council member said this provision gives the town the right to regulate development in this area, in the event that it could someday be included in the corporate limits, adding that "the town and taxpayers need protection."

Disagreement seems to stem from the responsibility of paying for the installation of public improvements and utilities. The council is mainly concerned with streets and sewer lines.

The ordinance calls for the developers to pay for these and any other improvements deemed necessary by the planning commission, to be installed in accordance with certain specifications. Water lines would also have to be installed, according to Garrett County Sanitary Commission specifications.

A spokesman indicated that the council feels this is not the responsibility of the taxpayers,

Roads Board Bans Rental Of Equipment

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners, in its capacity as the Roads Board, has banned the rental of county roads equipment, effective immediately.

The county roads department had been renting equipment at the rate of $14 an hour.

The Board made its decision in order to halt unauthorized use of the vehicles thereby insuring the equipment would be used for county work only.

The Board noted that in emergency circumstances, it may grant permission to rent equipment. It emphasized that in all situations, no equipment could be rented without the prior knowledge and approval by the Board.

In other action, the Board directed the Roads Department to decrease its spending levels for the remainder of the fiscal year by three percent without affecting the level of service to county residents.

The order is part of an attempt by the commissioners to cut down county expenditures.

One area the Board suggested for the Department to cutback was amount of overtime. It stated overtime should be limited to emergency situations.

The Board also heard a report that garbage collection at the county dumpster sites was caught up. Over the holidays, the department had fallen behind in collection due to the weather conditions, equipment breakdowns, and an increase in amount of garbage.

Public Hearing Set To Discuss Gorman Water

The Garrett County Sanitary District has scheduled a public hearing regarding the proposed Gorman Water Distribution System, to be held January 28 at 7 p. m. at the Gorman Volunteer Fire Department. The purpose of the hearing is to take public comment from persons interested in this project.

The proposed system will include Gorman and vicinity, including U.S. Route 50 to Table Rock. The Sanitary Commission recently opened bids for construction of the project, however no contract has been awarded. The commission determined at its last meeting that it will not award a contract until after

TCC To Continue Westmar Project For Another Year

Efforts for the Westmar synfuels project will continue for at least one more year, the Tri-County Council of Western Maryland decided last week.

The council, an economic development and planning corporation for Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties, voted to retain Jack Meyer as Westmar project director for one more year.

Meyer stated several recent developments give good reason for the council's continued interest. He said three, and maybe four, large corporations are showing an interest in the project, particularly in operating the plant.

One of the major reasons the federal Department of Energy (DOE) rejected the project team's application for a $2.25 million feasibility study was the lack of involvement by a company large enough to see the $2 to $3 billion plant through to completion, Meyer said. He noted that Delta Mining, Inc., the primary sponsor of the project, was not large enough to carry such a project alone.

Meyer said a lot of support has been shown by private companies who would either supply the plant with coal or would buy the plant's products.

What is needed, according to DOE officials, is a large corporation which will commit itself to the operation of the plant, Meyers stated.

Besides seeking additional support for the project from private industry, Meyer stated the council would be search for federal funding.

He added that another positive development for the project is the findings by Stone & Webster Engineering Corp. of Boston, who performed a prefeasibility study, that Western Maryland is an ideal spot for a synfuels plant. The first draft of the firm's study is under review. Meyer added that public hearings on the study are planned.

Salary Study Commission Submits Report

The Garrett County Salary Study Commission report, submitted by Delegate DeCorsey Bolden (R-Allegany, Garrett) last week, recommends salary increases for all county offices reviewed except one for the term 1982-86.

The commission, set up by legislation by Bolden, began reviewing certain county offices in November and came up with recommendations to increase the salaries for the County Commissioners, Treasurer, Sheriff, State's Attorney and Deputy State's Attorney, Board of Supervisors of Elections, and members of the Liquor Control Board. It did not recommend a salary increase for the Judges of the Orphan's Court.

In its report, the commission explained that it had to consider the problems for taxpayers when salaries rise along with the fact that salaries set by the commissioners for employees under the county merit system are higher than those set by legislation. "In some cases, officials earn less than their subordinates even though the job of the official elected to his position may take forty hours or more per week and the official's job bears the legal responsibility for an important county function," the commission noted.

Recommended salaries for the officials to serve during the 1982-86 term were: County Commissioners (who now receive $13,100 a year), $16,500; Treasurer ($13,100), $18,000; Sheriff ($13,900), $19,500; State's Attorney ($15,000), $18,000; Deputy State's Attorney ($12,000), $13,000; Board of Supervisors of Elections ($1,300), $1,500 for members and $1,800 for the president; and Liquor Control Board ($1,800), $2,000.

The commission stated it believed the present salary of the Judges of the Orphan's Court, which is $600 a year plus $10 a day for each day attended and mileage expenses, was adequate compensation.

In studying the salaries, the commission stated it had to consider the tax burden of citizens of the county, whether the salary would attract "competent, qualified, responsible candidates" for the position, and whether the salary was reasonable "in light of the time spent and/or responsibility involved."

The commission pointed out that "although there is bound to be some disparity between county salaries and those paid by the private sector for similarly responsible positions, too great a difference could result in a lack of good candidates and a poorly run county."

Commission chairman Dorothy Leighton stated the salaries were not based strictly on an inflation factor because that would have meant even higher salary recommendations.

The commission had to consider the inflation of money and responsibilities of the job.

County Could Lose Money

Coal Operators Protest Bill

Garrett County could lose good taxpayers and employers if a coal tax bill proposed by Senator Ed Mason (R-Allegany, Garrett) goes through the General Assembly, county stripmine operators told the county commissioners Tuesday.

Ten coal operators, also representing the Maryland Coal Association, approached the commissioners to restate their opposition to Mason's bill in an attempt to sway them from supporting the bill.

Mason's bill would give the Garrett and Allengany commissioners authority to place a percentage tax on coal (not to exceed five percent of the sale price), and to use the revenues to rebuild coal haul bridges and roads. Mason announced last week he would amend the bill to give incorporated towns that suffer damage to their roads from coal hauling part of the tax revenues.

George Edwards, Delta Mining, Inc., told the commissioners, who have expressed dissatisfaction with Mason's bill, to fight for the type of bill they wanted and not allow Mason to be the "dictator" over the county's taxing methods.

He stated one of the major objections coal operators had to the bill was that it destroyed the competitive nature of the coal industry by forcing companies to open their books to the government for taxing purposes. He added that the percentage tax would require more money for administration because of the bookkeeping necessary to keep track of each company's coal prices and because the state, which would collect the tax, would have to return the money to the county.

The coal operators protested any involvement by the state in collection of a tax money which they said should go directly to the county. "The state shouldn't have its finger in the pie," Edwards said.

Don Cousins, Buffalo Coal Co., Inc., stated the present 15 cent tax imposed by the state, of which the county receives six cents, should all go directly to the county now there by eliminating the need for additional taxes. He added that most of the coal operators would be willing to pay an additional five cents if it all went directly to the county.

George DelSignore, Buffalo Coal, stated the present tax was not distributed as it should be now and questioned why any of the tax revenues should go through Annapolis.

Bridgeview Coal Company representative Harry Wild said his company was prepared to move out of Garrett County by the end of this year if Mason's bill passes the General Assembly. He stated his company has spent an average of $2 million a year for employees and for parts in Garrett County in the seven years it has operated in the county.

Wild discounted a statement by Mason that his bill would make Maryland equal to Pennsylvania in its taxation of coal companies. He stated that the

Flu Virus Spreads Through County

Absences have been high this month in county schools as a flu virus, called Bangkok, makes its rounds throughout the county.

County Health Officer Dr. William Pope stated the particular virus was one that was expected to hit this area this year.

Pope stated reports from Pittsburgh and Baltimore health labs, who process viral cultures for the county, report the marjority of persons in the county who have had the flu have had this particular virus.

The virus, which could remain in the county for several more months, cannot be controlled by limiting exposure, Pope stated. "Everyone gets exposed," he said. "Even those who are not susceptible to the virus are carriers."

Those suffering the most from the virus are persons with chronic respiratory or heart disease and the elderly. Pope stated there has been an increased mortality rate across the state because of the flu and pneumonia. Specific data for Garrett County is unavailable, he stated.

The virus seems to be primarily affecting persons in the upper respiratory tract, Pope noted. The major symptoms seem to be a cough, sore throat, stuffy nose and a fever. The symptoms also last several weeks after the worst state of the illness is passed.

Pope stated no special treatment is required other than decongestants for stuffy nose, cough suppressants for a cough, aspirin for a fever.

A productive cough should be treated with a high intake of fluids rather than suppressants to help loosen the lungs.

Pope said persons should drink plenty of liquids and get lots of bed rest.

Persons should contact a physician if a fever persists over two or three days or if lung symptoms become severe.

The total student absences for nine schools in the county Monday were 561, which some sources say is down somewhat from earlier this month. Staff absences totalled 23 for Monday.

Schools contacted were Broadford Elementary, Dennett Road, Friendsville Elementary, Grantsville Elementary, Kitzmiller Elementary, Northern Middle, Northern High, Southern Middle, and Southern High.

Student absences for the nine schools Friday amounted to 463. Total students in the schools are 4,351

TCC Supports Friendsville's Funding Request

At a recent Tri-County Council meeting, members agreed to include a $5,000 proposal from the town of Friendsville among Appalachian Regional Commission funding requests. The money is to be the local share of a study to convert the old Friendsville Elementary School into a site suitable for industrial use.

The ARC money would match state funding available for the study through a grant from the Maryland Industrial and Commercial Redevelopment Fund (MICRF).

The Economic Feasibility Study will determine the feasibility of investing more money to rehabilitate the school building for commercial use. It will explore labor forces in the town and surrounding area, and the types of businesses which can come into the area.

Wendell Keaton, Garrett County Municipal Coordinator, explained that the firm which performs the study will also make recommendations as to how the town should redesign the building to suit the needs of prospective businesses there

Weather Statistics Show Local Area To Be Wettest, Coldest, Snowiest

Maryland's 1980 temperature averaged a little below its long-term average, while precipitation was much below its average, according to a report from the office of the State Climatologist, University of Maryland, College Park. This is based on the monthly and annual temperature and precipitation averages for the state, weighted by area for the period 1931-1977, as prepared by the National Climatic Center, Asheville, NC.

Maryland's annual temperature for 1980 averaged 52.4 degrees F. The long-term average is 54.6 degrees. This was the third consecutive year which averaged below the long-term average, however, the two previous years were much colder.

The state's highest temperature was 103 degrees at Mechanicsville, St. Mary's County, on July 16 and at Patuxent NAS, also in St. Mary's County, on July 17. The lowest temperature was minus 14 degrees at Oakland on December 26.

A significant feature of the 1980 summer was the unusually high number of days with temperatures 90 degrees and higher. The greatest number of such days for the state was 50 in Cambridge, which holds the record of 66 in 1911.

The state's annual precipitation averaged 37.69 inches, 5.56 inches less than the 1931-1977 average of 43.25 inches. The year of 1980 was the driest since 1968 when the annual average was 36.65 inches. Garrett County was the only area in the state which had a precipitation total exceeding its normal. The county received 46.63 inches, compared to a long-range average of 44.83 inches.

Snowfall for 1980, as usual, varied considerably across the state, but was in most cases, a little above normal, ranging from 85 inches at McHenry to ten inches at Assateague State Park, Worcester County.

There were three confirmed tornadoes in the state, including one on April 4 in Worcester County; one in Crellin on June 3 which caused an estimated $300,000 in damage and injured four persons; and one on June 29 in Aberdeen, Harford County, which caused an estimated $250,000 damage and injured ten persons. On April 9 the Bel Air-Hickory area of Harford County received hail the size of soft balls. The heaviest rainfall in the shortest period of time was reported by a weather observer at Graysonville, Queen Anne's County, on September 5, when from 7 a.m. to 8 a.m., it rained 4.13 inches.

Murphy Tire Shop Undamaged By Fire

The Murphy & Sons Tire Service building on Route 219 north of Grantsville escaped damage Sunday night when firemen quickly extinguished a coal and wood pile fire near the furnace in the building.

Garrett County Central Alarm received the call at 9:59 p. m. and summoned firemen from the Grantsville and Salisbury, Pa. volunteer fire departments to the scene.

The fire was quickly extinguished by the Salisbury firemen.

The fire companies were back at their stations at 10:25 p. m. Also responding to the scene was the Northern Garrett Rescue squad while the Bittinger Volunteer Fire Department was on standby.

Heck's Ranked Among Nation's Top Retailers

Heck's Inc., the Charleston, W. Va.-based chain discount stores, has ranked high on Forbes magazine's listing of the nation's top retailers, the Grant County Press reported last week.

The magazine's Jan. 5 issue ranks Heck's third in profitability and growth among the nation's discount and variety stores. Only Wal-Mart Stores and Caldor were ranked higher.

Heck's has averaged an 18.9 percent annual increase in profits for the last five years, the magazine reported. Heck's net profit margin of 3.8 percent was the highest among all retailers in the discount and variety category.

Among the 85 stores in the Heck's chain, the Oakland store, located at Mid-Towns Plaza, ranked 14 in sales for 1980, Assistant Manager Bill Stemple reported.

Heck's averaged more than 22 percent sales growth each year for the last five years. Earnings per share have increased an average of 18.9 percent each year during that period, according to the magazine.

Fred Haddad, Heck's founder and board chairman, said sales volume in 1980 will be $430 million, up from $390 million a year ago. He was hesitant to cite one factor in explaining the chain's success in a field where many companies have fallen on hard times.

"When people call from New York and ask that question, I tell them they should go into our stores and find out," he said. "We have 80,000 items. Our variety is larger than other companies. We feel anyone can come into our stores and find everything they want."

Although Heck's is classified as a discount chain, Haddad said the stores attempt to appeal to all buyers. "It's not pitched to a particular audience," he said. "We have lawyers and doctors coming in in December buying a dozen radios or watches for gifts."

Haddad said the company plans to open 15 new stores in 1981 for a total of 100.

A year ago, Heck's officials acknowledged that they were talking with a number of firms interested in buying Heck's. Haddad said the situation is unchanged. "People call every day, but nothing serious is being talked about," he said.

Commissioners Decline To Take Action Tuesday

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners took no action during its meeting Tuesday due to the absence of Ernie Gregg, chairman, who was serving as a host at one of the inaugural balls in Washington, D.C. celebrating the inauguration of the nation's fortieth president, Ronald Reagan.

John Reckner, District Conservationist, USDA Soil Conservation Service, approached the commissioners about his department's need for additional vehicles. The department lost two federal vehicles because of federal policy basing the number of vehicles a department could have upon the number of federal employees in the department. Reckner stated a number of federal employees have been replaced with state and local personnel. He noted the department is trying to share two vehicles among six employees.

Reckner stated the department staff believed it needed two more vehicles and inquired about the possible purchase or use of a four-wheel drive truck owned by the commissioners' office.

The commissioners agreed to investigate the matter further.

Sheriff June Evans also appeared before the Board to discuss vehicles.

He submitted a request for the purchase of five new cars for his department to replace five 1978 models. He stated his policy in the past was to try to replace vehicles when they reached a mileage of over 100,000 because at that point, he believed the maintenance costs were no longer cost effective.

Gary Mullich, building manager, presented architecutral designs for the new Animal Health Laboratory to be located near the Animal Shelter. The lab construction is to be funded through a county-state matching grant with the state Department of Agriculture. Jacob Gzesh Architects, Deep Creek Lake, created the lab designs.

The commissioners made several suggestions for minor changes and directed Mullich to discuss them with the architect.

Tim Dugan, county planning director, met with the commissioners for a general discussion of pending legislation in the General Assembly concerning Program Open Space.

Aliens Are Reminded To Report Addresses

According to the Immigration and Naturalization Service, all aliens are required by federal law to report their addresses to the United States government every January.

To do so, aliens should obtain an alien address report form from a U. S. post office.

A parent or guardian must fill out the forms for alien children under age 14, according to the Service. Persons should fill in all the items, sign the card, place a stamp on the reverse side and mail it.

Promotion Council Is Accepting Bids For Info. Center

The Garrett County-Deep Creek Lake Promotion Council is accepting bids for construction of a state information booth to be located near Friendsville. It will be called the Youghiogheny Overlook Information Center, and will be located on Route 48 at an existing rest area.

All bids must be submitted by Friday, January 30, at 2 p.m., at which time they will be opened at the Promotion Council office in the Courthouse Annex.

The booth will be financed through the Maryland Office of Tourist Development, under the Department of Economic and Community Development. The design of the structure was provided through the DECD. The overlook site is owned by the Maryland State Highway Administration.

The booth, which will be open year-round, seven days a week, will be managed by the Garrett County Promotion Council. It will have a full-time staff of four people, with additional staff during the summer months.

Cindy Hanks, executive director of the Promotion Council, stated that Garrett County competed for the site against several other applicants in the state. Funding was made available for one state booth about one year ago, and the booth will be here in Garrett County.

Ms. Hanks stated that the council expects construction to begin in March or April, and the booth should be completed by September of this year. Information on tourism in Garrett County will be offered at the center, and the council hopes that more visitors will be drawn into the county because of this.

Planning Board Sends Resolutions To Legislature

The Garrett County Planning Commission has submitted two resolutions to the General Assembly which would force the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) to complete its long-range plan for state lands in the county and would amend the law concerning the Department of State Planning critical areas program.

The Commission, in the resolution concerning DNR, notes that the state committed itself to completing a long range plan for state lands in the county in 1974 but still has not moved the plan out of the draft stages.

The resolution requests the General Assembly to direct DNR to complete the plan, hold public hearings, and then submit the plan to the county commissioners and the General Assembly no later than January 1, 1982.

The plan would outline the states plan for retention, acquisition and/or disposal of DNR land. DNR owns more than 76,000 acres of land in the county.

The resolution concerning the Department of State Planning critical areas program would amend state law to insure that local governments are included in the process of designation areas of critical state concern.

In the resolution, the Commission states that currently the Department of State Planning merely needs to publish notice in the Maryland Register of proposed designations which would solicit comments from interested parties and would specify a time period for comments to be submitted.

The Commission noted its belief that "implementation of any program dealing with 'areas of critical State concern' must necessarily rely heavily upon actions by local government and cannot be expected to succeed unless there is continuing consultation, coordination and cooperation directly between state and local government."

The amendment would direct the department to furnish concerned parties with complete information of every proposed designation of an area of critical State concern and to allow 45 days for review and comment. The department would also be required to publish all written comments about a proposed designation with its report concerning the designated areas.

Feds Emphasize Rural Housing Development

Garrett County could witness an increase in housing development in the years ahead due to an emphasis placed on rural areas by federal agencies, Diana Wawzinski, Garrett County Housing Coordinator, has stated.

In a recent report to the Garrett County Planning Commission, Wawzinski described possible steps the county could take if it decides to gain some control over new housing development.

Wawzinski stated that though the federal government has not created new programs, it has clarified that existing programs are to be directed more towards rural housing development rather than urban development, which in the past is where most housing construction has been.

One option open to county government is to purchase sites for development which would then be sold to a developer. This procedure would ensure that the county could limit the size of housing developments as well as control the location and would prevent developers from coming into the county with projects over which the county would have no control.

Acquisition of land for housing developments could be a program eligible for HUD Block Grant Funds, Wawzinski said.

"That new man may bear watching."

Another program which could enhance housing development in the county is offered by Farmers Home Administration, stated Wawzinski.

Under this program, proposed projects are ranked according to a point system which gives projects planned for a rural region and for median to low income families a high priority. Factors rated include location of the project, building design, and type of renter.

Wawzinski noted that projects proposed for Garrett County would likely qualify for funds from this program.

She added that because of the emphasis on rural housing development more outside contracts may begin housing construction in the county.

Two Injured In Three-Car Wreck

Two Oakland residents were injured in a three-vehicle accident at the intersection of Third and Oak Streets, Oakland, on Wednesday, January 14. Teresa Ann Smith, 17, and her brother David Allen, 14, were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, where both were treated and released. Ms. Smith reportedly suffered leg and chest injuries.

She was traveling westbound making a left turn from Oak to South Third Street, when her vehicle was struck broadside by a Chevy Blazer traveling east on Oak. The impact drove the Smith vehicle into a Dodge Ramcharger which was stopped at the light on Third Street.

The Blazer was operated by John Clinton Friend, 18, Oakland, and the Ramcharger, owned by Oakview Motors, was operated by David George Stuck, 28, Oakland. Both escaped the wreck unharmed, with moderate damage to the vehicles.

Ms. Smith's vehicle, a Chrysler Cordoba, was reported a total loss.

Investigating officer Cpl. Denver Welch of the Oakland Police Department stated that no charges were pressed due to poor road conditions.

The accident occurred about 5:30 p. m. The Oakland Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the scene.

Epstein Issues Warning About CM Poisoning

With the coldest winter days here, Harvey A. Epstein, State Commissioner of Labor and Industry, is alerting employers and employees to the increased danger of carbon monoxide poisoning in the workplace.

The risk of carbon monoxide poisoning is greatest in the winter months when ventilation is decreased in factories, warehouses and garages because of closed doors and windows, he said.

"Several workers have died from carbon monoxide poisoning in past years," stresses Commissioner Epstein. "Because the gas strikes quickly, it is important for workers to recognize the symptoms and be able to give immediate effective first-aid."

Carbon monoxide is an odorless, colorless, and tasteless gas which gives no warning to its victim. It can be produced in any worksite where combustion takes place, such as auto repair, foundries, furnaces and ovens. Headaches, nausea, and dizziness are symptons of exposure to the gas, with continued exposure causing muscle weakness, unconsciousness, and death.

An educational campaign, prepared by the Maryland Occupational Safety and Health Program, stresses prevention and treatment of carbon monoxide poisoning. Free fact sheets and training sessions are available to employee groups, labor unions, trade associations, management and interested persons by calling 659-4210. Employers can obtain a free consulation visit to evaluate the worksite for carbon monoxide hazards by calling 659-4210.

Commissioner Epstein urges participation and utilization of these services all across the State of Maryland. For additional information, persons may contact the Division of Labor and Industry, Maryland Occupational Safety and Health Program, 203 East Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Maryland, 21202, # (301) 659-4219.

Letter To An Iranian . . .

Yesterday was quite a memorable and historic day for the United States. Not only did the presidency change hands, but after 444 days of captivity, the 52 American hostages were set free by your leaders.

Although everyone in our country was relieved and overjoyed that they were released, there are few people here who feel inclined to say thank you to your people. In fact, there are some persons here who would like to see us send warplanes to bomb your country. Although their anger is understandable, revenge is usually a horrible thing, especially when it involves the killing of innocent men, women and children. Obviously, not all Iranians condoned the actions of the militants.

There is no doubt that through the various means of propaganda, the leaders of your nation have made the United States appear in the eyes of your people like some giant ogre, composed of followers of the devil himself. There is also evidence that the former Shah of your nation, who was a supporter of the United States and its western culture, was responsible for the torture and death of many of your people. We, the American people, apparently have been identified with the Shah, and thus hated by many of your citizens.

While there have no doubt been uncalled-for cases of interference by our government in various parts of the world, some even leading to violence, we are generally a nation of fair, hardworking, compassionate people, who have little or no desire to stomp on the toes of another nation. We are the wealthiest, most powerful nation on earth, but we also pour out to the rest of the world more money, aid and support than any other nation. Although we have some corruption in government (because we are human), the great majority of our leaders are proponents of what is right and good for all people.

By all of our standards, your most powerful, influential leader, the Ayatollah Khomeini, does not support what we feel are the basic human rights belonging to all people. He appears as evil to us as many of us must appear to you. In fact, some of us believe he is insane.

Our future relationship with your nation is now the big question on our minds, and probably on yours. To label your leadership as a government would be using that word in an extremely loose sense. Stability is almost non-existent at all levels of your society.

We suspect that our government leaders, rather than retaliate, will attempt to assist you in regaining some stability in your government. Admittedly, this will not come from compassion, but out of concern for the future of the free world. Many nations are heavily dependent on your rich oil fields and we cannot afford to allow the collapse of your nation and thus jeopardize the welfare of so many of our allies. Russia would like nothing better than to see your country come apart at the seams and possibly provide an opportunity for them to assume control of your nation. This would give them a strategic location from which to infiltrate all the oil-rich countries.

Better communication, as is so often the case, will be essential if we are ever to re-establish diplomatic ties.

Sincerely,
An American

444 Days . . .

by Carol Kapel

A general consensus of joy, relief, and praise for answered prayers is the reaction throughout Garrett County today as the American hostages come home.

Combined with immeasurable joy and support for our fellow citizens who were held captive for more than fourteen months is knowledge of the undying faith of the American public. It makes one even more proud to hear strains of God Bless America while thoughts of the last 444 days linger fresh in the minds of those whose plea for freedom never ended.

Praying and hoping together, the nation drew strength and, conceivably, conveyed that strength to the 52 men and women held prisoner for so long. Our country was tied together by miles of yellow ribbon, and neverending prayer for the safe return of our brothers.

What a glorious day for America.

Welcome home, our friends . . . to freedom.

"NOW THAT YOU'RE ONE OF US, I'M SURE YOU'LL FIND THAT WE'RE JUST ONE BIG... 'MORNING, JERGINS'... HAPPY FAMILY AROUND HERE."

Coal Operators

coal industry is not taxed in Pennsylvania. "Pennsylvania does not have a personal property tax, a sales tax on equipment or machine parts, or a severance tax," he said.

Harris LaFew, Westvaco, Inc., said the bill could mean up to $1½ million in additional taxes for his company if the measure is passed.

Other coal operators present said the percentage tax could force them out of the coal business. Roger Rice, Allegany Mining Corp., stated the tax would be very unfair to the small operators. He also attacked governmental programs to bring new industry into the area when there was no consideration given to existing businesses.

Wild pointed out that other industries, such as lumber and gravel, were also destroying county roads, but the coal companies seemed to be the ones being penalized.

He said he believed Mason was trying to "destroy the coal industry".

Robert Wilhelm, Wilhelm Coal Inc., stated Mason's bill could put many companies out of business, especially because of the poor market conditions for coal.

Rice stated that an increase in taxes on the coal industry would eventually be felt by local consumers. He said any increase in the tax would be on the consumer's electric bill within 12 months.

The operators stated they were still in favor of a tax based on tonnage and the abolishment of the personal property tax. The tonnage tax would provide the county with a monthly income which would be easy to collect.

Edwards told the commissioners they should take the lead in issues in coal. "You shouldn't let Allegany County dictate the coal industry in the state of Maryland", he stated.

The coal operators stated their willingness to work with the county in reaching a fair taxation of the industry.

The commissioners, who have not pledged support for Mason's bill, noted they favored a bill granting them taxing authority over the coal industry but not one that told them how it do it.

Mason has said he has not been convinced to drop his opposition to a tonnage tax. He believes a percentage tax would be more equitable than a tonnage tax because a tonnage tax would impose the same levy, no matter what the sale price would be.

The Maryland Coal Association, under the leadership of President Matthew Skidmore, Sr., has been circulating forms throughout Garrett and Allegany counties and has placed advertisements in the counties' newspapers seeking support from citizens for its position.

Mason's bill has the support of the Western Maryland delegation.

Report On DNR Study Presented To Regional Board

A power plant siting study being conducted by the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) in five Western Maryland counties will not be ready for presentation to county commissioners until March, a DNR official told the Tri-County Council for Western Maryland last week.

Howard A. Mueller, Jr., head of site acquisition for DNR's power plant siting program, said a list of 40 or 50 alternative sites in Allegany, Garrett, Washington, Frederick and Carroll counties should be ready by late March.

Four consulting firms are assisting DNR in its search for a site for either a 600-megawatt plant for Potomac Edison Company or an 1,800-megawatt plant for the Allegheny Power System, of which PE is a part. Mueller stated DNR expects that the plants would be coal-fired.

"Exclusionary screening" of the counties is nearly completed, said Mueller. This screening removed from consideration land under federal ownership or affected by federal wild or scenic river designation and other regulation.

DNR was directed by power plant siting legislation, enacted by the General Assembly in 1971, to perform such studies, Mueller stated. He added that public informational meetings on the siting process will be held in the future.

Utilities do not have to purchase the site decided upon by DNR, he noted, but they would be ahead if they did because DNR clears all licensing hurdles before acquiring the land.

PE and Allegheny Power have stated their need for additional generating capacity in the 1980s and have been supportive of the siting study.

Mueller estimated the parcel of land needed for the plant could range from between 400 to 1,000 acres, depending upon the amount of power to be generated and the type of coal to be used. He added that a 600-megawatt plant might employ about 150 persons while an 1,800-megawatt plant, between 200 and 300 persons.

He predicted that if the study goes well and the utilities decide to construct a plant, it could be the early 1990s before the first power is generated.

County Commissioners Receive Industrial Development Grant

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners will receive a Federal grant of $55,000 to help finance sewer service and an access road needed to prepare an industrial site for prospective manufacturers, a Farmers Home Administration representative announced last week.

The industrial site where the road and sewer service will be constructed is located along MD 135, east of Mountain Lake Park. The sewer service will involve installation of a sewer line extension from the Mountain Lake Park system along Route 135.

The commissioners applied for the grant last spring but were not assured they would receive until Congress adjourned for the Christmas recess.

John D. Daniello, State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, said that the purpose of Farmers Home Administration industrial site grants is to help local leaders provide jobs for the young people of the area and others who would otherwise be forced to leave the community to find employment.

Second Impression

Family Album

by Harry Fox

Small towns, sleeping under a light cover of newly-fallen snow, gradually betray the quiet of the night hours. They awaken to the new day under protest. The freight train rumbles and groans as it makes its way between the buildings, past the station where the faded sign announced home-coming to soldiers and their sweethearts.

The new day evolves like the town. Shadows slip into sunlight from the East, not quite willing to pronounce their own passing. Each building, each storefront, each sidewalk barely remembers the relentless march of days and weeks and years. Like ripples in a placid stream, the efforts of each generation leave their marks but for a time. Then the sun and wind and snow dull the gloss on the new coats of paint. The names, so confidently painted on the window, are barely visible now, flickering before the eye when the light falls just the right way against the glass.

Faces age, too. Bright ambitions get the reward of years of patient labor on the streets and in the offices. Somehow, though, it never makes sense that the days pass so indiscriminately, before they fall into place in some scheme of things.

It lives in a state of unspoken anguish, this town. Forever dying and giving birth, it changes a little under the morning sun that calls it to another day's work. Brought forth from the loins of the nineteenth century, it has weaned itself to an age of scarcity. The sturdy sentiments of the founding fathers no longer quite fit. Yet it wears such values—patriotism, hard work, honest faith—with a quiet dignity. They still serve well.

These towns, these places people call home, are the heart and soul of a nation. Each one has a story to tell. The new day washes away the strivings and strugglings of the past, but the story goes on from first light to sundown. The cracked sidewalks and faded dreams come together in a family album of sorts, and before we know it, we become like our fathers.

And history is merciful, as well as just. The smiles fade. The tears are dried.

Good morning, America.

and mention was made at the meeting that the ordinance hopefully will get the town out of the rehabilitation business.

Leo Martin, council member, stated that the ordinance came about after developers came into the town more than 10 years ago. He said they bulldozed dirt streets and installed no sewer lines, built homes and sold them, at which time the town had to deal with the taxpayer and assume the responsibility of providing public services to him.

Some people present at the hearing made the comment that, if a developer pays for public improvements in the outlying area, and that area later becomes part of Mt. Lake Park, then the town is getting these services free.

A spokesman said that area developers have expressed opposition to this portion of the ordinance, claiming that the town should pay for these services.

The main intent of the ordinance is to provide for proper arrangement of streets, utility systems and other public improvements; to establish standards for the design, survey, approval and recording of plats of land subdivisions; to establish requirements and responsibilities for the allocation of the costs of installing streets, utility systems and other public improvements; and to provide consumer protection from flooding, sediment, traffic congestion and threats to public health and safety.

The ordinance states that all subdivisions must be approved by the Mt. Lake Park planning commission. It also provides for the creation of the position of Development Administrator and the levying of fees to cover the cost of reviewing plats and inspecting public improvements.

The town council made no comment at the public hearing. Based upon the public's comments at the hearing, the planning commission will review the ordinance and present a final draft to the council at a later date.

Salary Study

officials, the commission reviewed the following points: the legal duties and responsibilities of the official and the actual time spent at the job; present salary and reimbursement for expenses; whether or not the official maintained outside employment while serving in the office; and recommendations of the official.

Along with its salary recommendations, the commission suggested changes in the operation of some offices.

It suggested staggering the terms of the county commissioners to insure that "at least one experienced commissioner would be in office." It also stated the county should consider adding two more commissioners to the Board which would allow wider representation, would provide a way for at least one commissioner to be in the office each day, would cut down time on the job for each commissioner, and would avoid situations in which one person can be in control.

The commission did not recommend that the State's Attorney position be made a full-time position. In its report, the commission explained it heard arguments both for and against the idea and stated it "was not convinced that a full-time attorney is best for the county at the present time."

Members of the commission, representing the five organizations designated in the enabling legislation, are: Terry W. King, Republican State Central Committee; George Brady, Democratic State Central Committee; Carl Fike, Mountain Top Chamber of Commerce; William F. DeWitt, Farm Bureau of Garrett County; and Dorothy Leighton, League of Women Voters of Garrett County.

Public Hearing

the public hearing.

The bids were broken down into three schedules, one for construction of pipelines for the Gorman area up to and including Corunna Road, the second schedule extending approximately two miles further toward Table Rock, and the third including the last one and one-half miles up to Table Rock.

The apparent low bidder is Uwchland Construction Company, Uwchland, Pa., with $380,524.50 for Schedule 1, $230,579.50 for Schedule 2, and $175,207 for Schedule 3. The total amount of this bid is $786,311.

Plans for the proposed project may be inspected at the Garrett County Sanitary District office in the Garrett County Courthouse.

Pennsylvania Avenue, traditional parade route in Washington, D.C., has disappearing traffic lights. Before parades, the poles in the center of the street are removed and the holes they leave are covered with metal plates.

Sir:

Last June the Sanitary Commission faithfully contracted to put sewage money from Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn in a special bank account. That was supposed to stop using our money for other things.

Investigation has revealed that bank account was never established. Our money was slipped into the General Fund.

I challenge each Sanitary Commissioner, individually, to give your reporter simple Yes or No answers to these questions: (Let Nace keep his mouth out of this).

1. Did you vote to disregard the contract?
2. Were you kept in ignorance of this situation?
3. If this went on behind the back of the Commission, will you fire at once any person responsible?
4. Will you demand resignation of any commissioner who knew but didn't inform the commission?
5. Will you fire your Treasurer if he failed to conduct the treasury according to contract?

Next two questions to that prestigious law firm:

1. You provide expensive legal surveillance over the Sanitary Commission. Will you refund because this happened under your noses?
2. Can you ethically represent individual Sanitary Commissioners and/or employes if actions are taken against them as individuals?

County Commissioners:

1. Before Christmas the Sanitary Commission voted Nace a raise to about $35,000 retroactive to July 1. This comes out of the County Treasury. Did you vote approval?
2. Or were you too busy giving goodies to Coca-Cola out on Rt. 135?

Let's all praise Delegate Bolden for wanting legislation abolishing the Sanitary Commission. Senator Mass ducked out of taking action.

Big Broom comes this year. Chickens and ducks run for cover.

Joesph B. Bowen

Sir:

In reply to Mr. Harlan (Archie Bunker) Miller's letter, I respectfully submit this statement. Planes fly and boats leave these great shores every minute of the day. In the USSR he could become a great dictator. Maybe the Iranians might find a place for him in line with the others walking the street beating themselves on the back with chains.

As he is, I assume, a full blooded American Indian (because he refers to the US as being run by a group of aliens) he could fold his tepee, pack his soap box and try to find another country that would allow its oppressed medics outlet to publish his words of praise.

If people, feeling as Mr. Miller does about our country, would leave, the remaining loyalists could make some headway solving some of our problems. If you're not part of the solution, you're part of the problem.

Which Home Costs Less To Heat?
Take a close look at the two houses pictured. One has a snow-covered roof while the other shows that the snow has melted.
THE DIFFERENCE IS INSULATION.
The snow on the roof indicates a well-insulated home; the other has little or no insulation to keep costly heat inside.

Judge Jones Hears Various Charges

Theft and disorderly conduct head the list of cases heard by District Court Judge Lewis R. Jones during the January 12 session.

Charles Junior Paugh, 50, Deer Park, was arrested by Oakland City Police on charges of disorderly intoxication and disturbing the peace.

According to the report, Paugh was wandering into the flow of traffic and endangering public safety near Bowman's Equipment Company during the evening hours of August 30.

Judge Jones found the defendant guilty on both charges and levied fines of $75.

Larry Wayne Friend, 18, Accident, was charged with carrying a concealed weapon, and arrested by Maryland State Police.

According to the report, Friend was stopped for a routine traffic violation, when a sawed-off shotgun was observed by the officer in the defendant's car. Judge Jones found Friend guilty and sentenced him to 24 months in jail, which was suspended. He was placed on six months supervised probation.

Frank Wilkins, security guard at Grantsville Foodland and the Ben Franklin Store arrested Allen Gabriel Turner, 18, Lonaconing, and charged him with theft.

According to the report, Turner stole a quantity of jewelry, clothing, tools, and small appliances from July 1 through September 3, 1980.

Judge Jones found the defendant guilty and sentenced him to one year in jail, which was suspended. Turner was placed on 24 months supervised probation.

Several persons were charged by Browning's Supermarket, Oakland, with shoplifting and theft.

Robert Herbert Moats, 52, McHenry, was observed by store employees as he put two cans of tobacco in his coat pocket.

According to the report, he walked through an inactive cash register aisle and exited the store.

Value of the stolen merchandise was $1.02.

Judge Jones found the defendant guilty, and levied a $25 fine.

Harland Gay Speicher, 68, Mt. Lake Park, was charged by Browning's store employees with the theft of cigars and chewing gum.

The value of the stolen merchandise was $.70.

Judge Jones found the defendant guilty, and levied a $50 fine, plus a 30-day jail sentence, which was suspended, and placed him on 24 months unsupervised probation.

A Grantsville man, Robert Wilt, 44, was found guilty of battery against Janet Wilt, Meyersdale, Pa.

According to the complainant, Ms. Wilt went to the home of her father-in-law to pick up her son when an argument ensued between the two over marital difficulties between the defendant's son and Ms. Wilt. She further stated her father-in-law grabbed her throat, and began choking her.

Judge Jones found the defendant guilty and levied a $100 fine.

William Ray Tasker, 40, Bradley Manor, Oakland, was found not guilty on charges of destruction of property and disturbing the peace brought against him by Barbara Jean Tasker, also of Bradley Manor.

A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of a Mt. Lake Park woman who failed to appear to hear charges of writing a bad check.

Thelma Jean Cain was summoned to court by Norman Light, Kingwood, W. Va., on the bad check charge.

BREATHTAKING WINTER BEAUTY is the scene of the Rainer Kraus farm, located on Elder Hill, near Friendsville. The charm of a Currier and Ives winter print is captured by the cameras and imagination of the advertising crew of the Anheuser Busch Brewing Company and their world famous team of Clydesdales, as they prepare photographs for national magazine advertisement right here in Garrett County's winter setting. The crew arrived Tuesday morning to film snow scenes for the 1981 Christmas holiday displays.

Area Conservationists Attend Winter MASCD Convention

Six representatives from the Garrett County Soil Conservation District attended a recent convention of the Maryland Association of Soil Conservation District (MASCD) held in Hagerstown, and voiced their concern over snowmobiles riding on private property.

Attending from Garrett County were George Bishoff, Harry Hummel, Walter Margroff, Marvin Kolb, Shaun Sanders and John Reckner.

The Garrett representatives initiated discussion of snowmobiles as they relate to the Maryland Off-Road Vehicle Law. It was noted that snowmobiles do not fall under the ORV law, as they are not designated by the state as off-road vehicles.

At the convention MASCD members voted to support changes in the Maryland Off-Road Vehicle Law which would designate snowmobiles as off-road vehicles. Members also voted to support the deletion on an exception that allows off-road vechicles to travel on clearly marked private driveways without permission.

Reckner, District Conservationist of the USDA Soil Conservation Service, stated that the local office of the Soil Conservation Service, supports mandatory registration of snowmobiles in Garrett County.

Conservation officials from around the state also went on record supporting a voluntary agricultural water quality program that provides cost sharing for any non-income producing practice which farmers are required to install to comply with water quality standards. The program would allocate state funds to county offices where "critical areas" exist, and funds would be provided to farmers on a first come, first served basis.

Reckner stated that Garrett County is not classified as a priority area for this program, as its only "critical area" is the Broad Ford Watershed. "We hope the program will be approved," he said. "Garrett County's need has merit, as Broad Ford is not only a public water supply, but also a public recreation area." If funds from the program are allocated to Garrett County they would be issued to farms located upstream from Broad Ford.

MASCD members hope that this action will lay the groundwork for requesting funds to implement Maryland's water quality program which was approved by the Environmental Protection Agency last year but never funded. They are also asking for free technical help for landowners to design and install pollution control measures.

About 200 officials of the state's 24 soil conservation districts, U.S. Soil Conservation Service, Extension service and other agencies attended the convention. The conservationists reviewed program progress, discussed new developments, and formulated positions on conservation issues.

Dr. Alan Bandel, University of Maryland, and Robert Semler, Hagerstown, addressed the group on the advantages and drawbacks of spreading municipal sludge on farmland. Bandel said the main concern about using municipal sludge is that, unlike livestock manure, it contains an unknown amount of heavy metals and harmful chemicals that can only be determined through extensive testing. He said that research on sludge utilization was in an infancy stage and that research is needed on ways to remove heavy metals from sludge or prevent them from entering the waste system.

Reckner stated that the only talk of spreading municipal sludge in Garrett County has been centered on reclaimed strip mines as the recipients. He said he has no problem with sludge for those areas, but he would not like to see it spread on county farmland.

In other business, Lyle Bauer, president of the National Association of Conservation Districts, urged the group to be more aggressive in seeking funds for increased program responsibilities. He also said that NACD supports a stronger role for local conservation districts in the nation's conservation program.

Bauer said that through a comprehensive appraisal of soil and water resources conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, "we know how much land we have and the condition of that land. We also know what's needed to protect the land and to keep it viable.

"The United States is losing about three million acres of farmland to development and other uses every year." said Bauer. "We're losing another three million acres annually in productivity to soil erosion."

This trend could have a devastating effect on food supplies in the next 20 years especially with increasing population and world food demands, he added.

The Agriculture Department will be presenting recommendations for a new approach to a national soil and water conservation program to Congress this month. The highest priority in any redirection of conservation efforts, said Bauer, should be providing grants to states and local conservation districts to administer.

"I believe programs can be more efficient and effective if initiated at the local level than if emanating from Washington, D.C.," he said.

NACD is opposed to cross compliance programs that would require farmers to practice conservation to participate in other government programs. They favor a voluntary approach instead, coupled with loan programs or tax credits or write-offs to farmers who practice conservation.

In other actions, MASCD members voted to:

—support agricultural land preservation programs at the state and county level;

—appoint a committee to review the definition of ponds and construction requirements;

—oppose any cross compliance requirements in the conservation program.

Lakers Drop Two More; Rebound Against Dundalk

If the Garrett Community College Lakers could exchange their first-half performances for their second half efforts, their season record would be outstanding. However, for the fourth and fifth time this season, the Lakers have allowed first-half leads slip away and, thus, watch their loss column grow. After leading by as many as nine points in two games during the past week, GCC dropped both contests, one to Frederick CC last Wednesday evening, 75-70, and the other to Essex, 73-57, on Friday afternoon.

Garrett got back into the win column Saturday evening, however, by blasting Dundalk, 106-63, on the McHenry floor.

Halftime Score
Garrett CC 51, Dundalk CC 30

The Lakers, who once boasted a 6-1 record, are now 7-5.

At Frederick, the Lakers staged a rally late in the second period after being down by as many as nine points. By intermission, GCC was on top 37-33 and expanded that lead to nine in the third period. However, late in the third period, Frederick came back to within a few points, and in the final minutes of the contest, utilized opportunities at the foul line to their fullest to pull out the win. It was Frederick's tenth win in 15 starts.

Pacing the scoring for Garrett was Miguel Rojas, who hit eight field goals and four of six at the line for 20 points. A. J. Savage netted five goals and converted all six of his free throw opportunities, for 16 points. Brian Black added ten markers.

Lynn Ramage led the winners' scoring with 21 points, while teammates Vince Mason and Calvin Harper had 19 and 18 points, respectively.

Frederick held a 29-28 margin from the field and converted 17 of 24 attempts at the foul line, compared to a 14-for-22 effort by the Lakers. The loss left GCC winless in the JUCO Conference.

It was as if the Lakers faced a different team in the second half at Essex Friday afternoon, as the host team scored only 20 points in the first half, but ripped the nets for 53 points in the second 20 minutes. Garrett led 29-20 at intermission. At one point in the last stages of the game, Essex was up by 21 points, 69-48.

Sharing the scoring honors for the home team were Danny Kable and Spencer Wingate, who each netted 19 points. Al Coates was close behind with 17 points.

The only Laker reaching double figures was Miguel Rojas, who scored ten points. Roger Cornwell and Mike Lonigro each scored nine points.

GCC was outgunned from the floor by a 30-24 margin and Essex sunk 13 of 26 free throw attempts, compared to a nine-for-15 effort by the Lakers.

The Lakers did not falter against Dundalk, however, cruising to a 51-30 lead at the half and doubling that margin in the second 20 minutes. The win was the first for Garrett in the JUCO Conference.

Garrett's incredibly balanced offensive attack placed no less than six players in double figures. Brian Black hit nine goals for 18 points, Jerome Hampton hit eight for 16 points, Bill Bender and Dave Hershman each contributed 12 points, and Miguel Rojas and Roger Cornwell each chipped in ten markers.

Laker Shawn Finney provided 13 assists and four steals, while teammates H. A. Savage and Hampton each grabbed seven rebounds.

Dundalk's scoring was led by Morris with 22 points, Steinert with 13 and Elswert with 11.

Garrett scored 47 goals, compared to a total of 24 by the visitors and the Lakers converted 12 of 16 free throws, compared to a 15-for-23 effort by Dundalk.

The Lakers, under the direction of Randy Hess, will return to action this evening at Baltimore Community College.

Leading the lady Campers to their tenth consecutive win in as many starts were Sherry Stakem and Tracy Schoenadel, who netted 16 and 15 points, respectively. Tammy Long added ten points to the winners' total.

Against Valley, Southern's Sue Snyder scored three goals and seven free throws for a total of 13 points, while teammate Amy Hiller hit five buckets and one free toss for 11 points.

Facing the visitors from Valley, who upped their season ledger to 6-1, was Shirley Hardman, who hit 12 goals and three free throws for 27 markers. Valerie Broadwater finished with 20 points, while Amy Richmond and Trina Robertson contributed 12 and ten points, respectively.

Southern Records Ninth Victory At Expense Of Northern, 55-47

By capitalizing on the foul problems of their opponents, the Southern Rams held off a stubborn Northern Husky team to win the first cross-county high school basketball contest of the season Friday evening, 55-47, on the Huskies' floor. The win was the ninth in 11 starts for Coach Tom Bosley's Rams, while Coach Harv Speicher's Huskies dropped to 6-5 on the season.

The Rams kept a rather narrow lead throughout the first half, leading 9-6 at the conclusion of the first stanza and closing the half with a 26-21 advantage.

It was in the third period that the home team began to feel the effects of foul trouble, as two starters, including the Huskies leading scorer Dick Bender, were forced to sit the bench. Bender returned to the contest, only to foul out early in the fourth period. Southern outscored the Huskies 19-8 in the third stanza and went into the final quarter with a comfortable 45-29 margin.

The Huskies kept coming back, however, and cut the lead in half early in the final chapter. But the Rams didn't allow their arch rivals to come any closer the rest of the contest.

Jeff Ryscavage, playing with an injured right index finger, led three Rams in double figures, netting five goals and four of six from the line for 14 points. Dave Harsh finished with 13 points, while Brian Selders contributed ten.

Dick Bender, although fouling out early in the fourth, hit seven goals and five of eight from the line for 19 points. Teammates Brad Yoder and Weldon Yoder provided 13 and 11 points, respectively.

The Huskies were outgunned from the field by a 20-15 margin, however they converted 17 of 23 shots from the line, compared to a 15-for-24 effort by the Rams.

The two teams will meet again on the Rams' floor on February 20.

NOTICE TO CITIZENS OF ALLEGANY & GARRETT COUNTIES

Senator Mason and Delegates Bolden and Burns have planned to introduce enabling legislation in the Maryland Assembly to place a percentage tax on coal mined in Allegany and Garrett Counties. They are asking the county commissioners of both counties to endorse this legislation. If this tax is passed, the price of coal would rise considerably and could possibly be the cause of

The loss of many jobs in Westvaco Paper Mill, Kelly-Springfield Tire Plant, Maryland coal industry and a large increase in your monthly electric bill.

If you are against the county commissioners backing this tax plan and POSSIBLE JOB LOSSES, take time to fill out the form below and mail to the address listed for your county commisisoner, or phone the office of the county commissioners and voice your opposition.

AN ORIENTAL SKI INSTRUCTOR AT THE WISP? — No, not exactly. The youth who seems to be giving instructions to the others is actually a foreign exchange student from Thailand who was at the Wisp Ski Area, McHenry, Monday with eight other foreign exchange students and 30 members of the American Field Service (AFS). Standing with him are a student from Ecuador and three AFS members. The day of skiing wound up a weekend of activities for the group, composed of AFS representatives from high schools from West Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania, sponsored by the Bishop Walsh High School Club, Cumberland. For twenty of the students, it was their first time skiing. The exchange student in Garrett County is Jeanette Smith, New Zealand, who is attending Southern High School and living with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stemple, Mt. Lake Park.

Huskies Crush Bruceton Mills, Lose To Southern, Mt. Savage

The Northern Huskies got off to a good start in the past week's basketball action by coasting to a 72-49 win over Bruceton Mills Thursday evening on the West Virginians floor. However, the rest of the week was downhill for the Huskies, as they fell to the Southern Rams Friday evening, 55-47, and to the Mt. Savage Indians last night, 67-62, on Northern's floor.

The Huskies started cold against Bruceton Mills, allowing the host team to jump out to a 16-11 lead at the end of the first period. Northern regrouped in the second period, however, and hit 23 points, compared to only 11 for Bruceton Mills, and went to the locker room with a 34-27 lead.

The Garrett Countians didnt let up in the third period and increased that margin to 49-31 as the third stanza came to a close.

Four Huskies reached double figures on the evening, paced by Brad Yoder's 19 points on seven goals and five of seven at the line. Weldon Yoder contributed 15 points, while Dick Bender and Tim Yunker added 13 and ten points, respectively.

Chris Mitchell was the only member of the losing squad to reach double figures, as he scored seven buckets and six of ten at the line for 20 points.

Bruceton Mills was outshot by the Huskies from the floor by a 28-17 margin, and were also edged at the foul line, hitting 15 of 24 attempts, while the winner connected on 16 of 25 free losses.

Details of the Friday night contest with Southern can be found elsewhere in today's sports news.

It appeared in the first half last night that the Huskies would record their seventh win of the season, as they took control early and expanded an 18-14 lead over Mt. Savage at the end of the first quarter to a 34-24 margin at the half. However, the Indians forced momentum onto their side in the third stanza and ended the period with a one-point lead, 41-40. The score remained close until the final minutes of the contest when the visitors upped their lead to five, which was the winning margin.

Dick Bender, one of the area's leading scorers, paced the Huskies' offensive attack, scoring ten goals and four of six at the line for a total of 24 points. Brad Yoder also hit double figures, netting five goals and six free throws for 16 points.

The Indians' scoring was led by Mike Matthews, who accounted for 23 points, while Mark Williams scored 14 and Mike Clauson and Chuck O'Baker each chipped in ten.

Northern Grapplers Edge Keyser To Maintain Undefeated Ledger

A pin by William "Pork" Wilt in the unlimited class was just enough to keep the Northern High Wrestling Team undefeated in six outings, as the Huskies edged the visiting Keyser Golden Tornado Thursday evening, 31-27.

Keyser jumped out to the lead early, as Chris Kostick and Greg Hotchkiss won the first two matches by decisions. The Huskies came back, however, with pins by Merv Kamp and George Belch in the 114 and 121-pound weight classes to assume the lead.

Keyser went back on top after a pin by Tom Allamong over Jeff Graham in the 128-pound class and a decision by Allan Dresser in the 134-pound class.

The Huskies rallied once again however, and took the next three contests on decisions by Darren Kamp and Don Gillum and a pin by Troy Margroff.

The Tornado came back once more on decisions by John Kephart and Tim Nield in the heavier weight classes, however Wilt iced the win for Northern when he pinned Harry Taylor.

The Huskies will endeavor to extend their unbeaten streak tomorrow night when they host the Bruce Bulldogs.

Play Without Ryscavage

Rams Record Tenth Victory By Stopping Fort Hill, 56-46

Playing without the services of their leading scorer, Jeff Ryscavage, the Southern Rams rallied from a first quarter deficit last night against visiting Fort Hill and defeated the Sentinels, 56-46. The win was the tenth for the Rams in 12 starts.

Ryscavage, the 6-4 senior center who is averaging just over 20 points per contest, was benched due to a dog bite injury to his right index finger. The wound required eight stitches.

The Rams were down 14-10 at the end of the first quarter, however, they managed to outscore the Sentinels in the second period and take a 22-10 lead to the locker room. Southern maintained the momentum in the third period and went into the final stanza with a 33-25 lead.

Taking up the slack in scoring, with Ryscavage on the bench, were Brian Selders and Dave Harsh, who connected for 16 and 15 points, respectively. Richie Shook, of Fort Hill, paced all scorers with 21, while teammate Bruce Hymes netted 17 points.

Turning in the best performances at the foul line were Southern's Mark Powles and Shook, who each converted nine of ten attempts. Dave Harsh led the Rams rebounding with ten.

The loss was the eighth for Fort Hill, against three wins.

Southern led in the number of buckets by a 19-15 margin, and converted 18 of 24 free throws, compared to a 16-for-23 effort by the Sentinels.

Although Ryscavage injured his hand Friday afternoon, he played in the Southern-Northern game that evening and still led the scoring for the Rams in that contest. However, it was apparent last night that Coach Tom Bosley felt his team could whip Fort Hill without Ryscavage, thus giving him a chance to heal in time for the contest this Friday evening when Southern will host Valley. The Rams lost to Valley earlier in the season, and until last night, the Black Knights were undefeated. Bishop Walsh, a team which Southern has defeated this season, stopped Valley last evening, 59-40.

Veterans' 1981 Dividends Up

Nearly four million veterans who have kept their GI life insurance policies in force will share in a record $619.7 million dividend during 1981, the Veterans Administration announced. Some 76,700 veterans in the state of Maryland will share about $12.5 million, according to VA regional director, Milford J. Clayton.

Because of higher interest rates earned by insurance funds, the amount to be paid to policy holders during 1981 is $53 million above the 1980 figure.

No application is needed, Clayton stressed. Dividends will be paid automatically during 1981 on the anniversary date of the individual's current insurance policy.

Policy holders will receive varying amounts depending on the type of policy, the amount of insurance in force, the insured's age at issue of renewal, and time the policy has been in force.

The average amount to be paid to World War I veterans with current policies is $296.

World War II veterans will receive an average payment of $168 on their active policies versus the $149 paid in 1980.

Koran Conflict veterans who kept their GI insurance in force will receive an average payment of $67, up from $62 in 1980.

Disabled veterans who have a special type of GI insurance will also receive increased dividends, Clayton said. These policies earned dividends for the first time in 1980. Next year, holders of these special policies will receive an average of $96 each.

A greater share of the increased dividends was earned by those veterans who converted their insurance plans to permanent type policies rather than continuing to hold original term policies, Clayton said.

Maryland Hunter Safety Course Highly Rated

Maryland's hunter safety education course has received the highest possible rating in a continent-wide evalutation of such programs, according to a release from the Maryland Department of Natural Resources.

The Inland Division of the Natural Resources Police conducts the Maryland program, which has certified more than 125,000 students during its 14 years of existence.

Maryland received a Triple-A rating, highest possible accorded in the evaluation sponsored by the International Association of Fish and Wildlife Agenices and the National Rifle Association.

The Maryland program began as a voluntary one in 1966 and became compulsory in 1977. First-time hunters must take the course before being eligible to receive a hunting license.

Since 1977, hunting accidents have reduced 60 percent, according to Lieutenant Thomas Turner, head of the safety program.

The course includes a minimum of seven hours of classroom instruction. A certificate, issued upon successful completion of the course, makes the holder eligible to obtain a hunting license in any state or Canadian province.

Volunteer instructors teach the bulk of the courses and their assignments are administered by regional hunter safety coordinators who are members of the Inland Division. They are: Lester L. Engle, Western Region; Ralph Plummer, Central Region; Robert G. Grate, Southern Region; and John H. Sterling, Eastern Region.

Lieutenant Turner, who is president of the North American Association of Hunter Safety Coordinators, said the Maryland program frequently rates high in the yearly evaluation.

He had these words of advice: "If you need to take the course for the 1981-82 hunting season, enroll now. Dont't wait until next fall."

Information about the program may be obtained from Lieutenant Turner in Annapolis or from any Natural Resources Police officer.

Maryland Reacts

Celebration, Thanks, Greet Hostage Release

–BALTIMORE (UPI) – Maryland residents Tuesday greeted the news of the release of the 52 American hostages with one repeated superlative –"great" – but many said it should have come much sooner.

In Catonsville, the 1819 bell of the historic Salem Church began tolling a few minutes before noon, as it has for every major event since the middle of the 19th century.

In Baltimore, civil defense sirens hailed the hostages' freedom with two prolonged blasts. Sirens blared and bells rang from churches and the City Hall dome. Bus drivers honked their horns and one motorist, driving a brown van covered with yellow ribbons, tooted his horn the length of two downtown streets.

Rod Slemp, a bartender at South Street Station, said Tuesday is "a famous day in my life" because, in order of importance, the hostages were freed, it was his 32nd birthday and Ronald Reagan was inaugurated America's 40th president.

"I just heard about it a little while ago and I've already had three shots of Tia Maria. I think it's just great," Slemp said. He stood in front of a chalkboard on which was written the date and "The Day!"

Virginia Wilkes, 30, an employee at Sinai Hospital, hadn't heard the hostages had left Tehran.

"Oh, thank God. That makes me want to cry. I think it's beautiful they're coming home."

Ms. Wilkes said she wished her children were old enough "to understand this and sit down and talk about it with me."

"This is the kind of thing to sit down and think about and I'll always remember where I was when I found out," she said.

Mounted police Sgt. John McCormick, atop his roan horse Skipper, said he's glad the ordeal is finally over.

"I feel good for their families. They've been through a lot and it's good they'll finally be able to see their families," he said.

"We can hold our heads a little higher now," McCormick said.

Pat Hamilton, 24, sipping a Michelob at Peter's Pub while she waited for her sister to join her for lunch, said the release is "just great. Now Reagan can get things underway."

A bartender at Peter's, who would only identify himself as Craig, said he "feels great. But it should have been done a long time ago."

U.S. Sen. Paul Sarbanes, D-Md., praised the courage of the hostages and expressed his best wishes to their families.

"I know I speak for all Marylanders in expressing their great joy that the hostages are on their way home safely. Throughout this ordeal they have exhibited courage and steadfastness and their families have shown great dedication and discipline in the finest tradition of this nation and our people.

"Our hopes and best wishes are with them as they return home," Sarbanes said.

In Annapolis, a young man in his 20s ran out of the Senate Office Building, yelled to anyone within earshot, "Have you heard? The hostages have been freed. It's great." He ran out of the building, down the brick sidewalk of the state capital and skipped down the street for two blocks.

When Hubert Thompson, 41, of Annapolis, heard the news, he also said it was "great.

"Everyone has waited so long. We knew it was bound to come off. I'm just so happy they are all coming back in one piece," Thompson said.

Western Maryland residents also expressed happiness that the hostages are on their way back to the United States.

"It's great. But it's too bad we had to wait so long," said Denny Enloe, 30, of Hagerstown. Enloe, a Missouri native, was sure his fellow Hagerstown residents also were pleased, but wondered why they were so quiet.

"I heard someone call a radio station to ask why the church bells aren't ringing. I'm sure the people back in Missouri are ringing their bells," he said.

A 50 year-old Hagerstown resident, watching the inauguration on television and switching channels for the latest news about the hostages, said "I think it's really great they're finally on the plane. But it's past time they're coming home."

In LaPlata, Laura Redding, 32, also was watching TV.

"I think it's fantastic. It's about time they're coming home," she said.

Governor Hughes Announces 'Return To Freedom Week'

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) – Gov. Harry Hughes Tuesday proclaimed the next seven days as "Return to Freedom Week" in honor of the release of the American hostages in Tehran.

Hughes said the week will be one "in which the hostages will have a chance to recuperate from their ordeal and be reunited with their families and loved ones. I hope it will serve to remind us in the future of their courage and strengthen the common bonds that weld our nation together."

The governor, a strong supporter of Jimmy Carter, said he had hoped the hostages would be released while Carter was still president.

"But I am pleased President Reagan made this gesture to allow him to go to Germany to greet the hostages," Hughes said.

Maryland Archbishop To Offer Mass Of Thanksgiving On Sunday

BALTIMORE (UPI) – The Archbishop of Baltimore said Tuesday he was "delighted" by the release of the American hostages and planned a special Mass of Thanksgiving for Sunday.

"Now that the long ordeal is over, we can reflect that even though it was a painfully long time from capture to release, the release came about because of negotiations," Archbishop William D. Borders said.

"No lives were lost in these terrible months of crisis other than the lives of those who were asked to undertake a military solution. Those who worked so long in the negotiations deserve our thanks not only for their work, but also for the example they gave us in searching for a peaceful solution to a complex problem," he said.

Maryland News In Brief

Reagan Fans

WASHINGTON (UPI) – Outside the Treasury Building, Elvi Perez, 41, of Miami, waited for Ronald Reagan to appear Tuesday, saying she came the long distance for his inaugural because "I'm in love with the guy."

"He's the right age. He's ripe. Just what we need," said the attractive, blonde dntal office manager, who waved a flag, wore an elephant pin and sported eight Reagan buttons on her fur coat.

Her friend, Teresa Ruiz, of Maryland, wore only three Reagan bottons. "I'm not that crazy," she said, pointing to Elvi.

The two women watched the parade from $25 seats by the Treasury building.

"It's worth a million dollars," said Elvi, who fled her native Cuba in 1959.

"I am a very good fan (of Reagan's)," she said. "For 12 years I have been wanting for this to happen. He was the one that made me decide to become a citizen just to vote for him when the time came."

"And the time came," she laughed. "It's here."

Expensive Loss

WASHINGTON (UPI) – Missing a mink coat? Check the subway.

The fur was found by a train operator Tuesday on Washington's Metro subway, who turned it in to the "Lost and Found." More than 200,000 people jammed the subway cars on Inauguration Day.

"Our lost and found contains one mink coat," said Metro spokesman Cody Pfanstiehl. "There were lots of minks on the subway tonight, people were riding the trains to the Inaugural Balls."

Extortion Charge

BALTIMORE (UPI) – A federal grand jury Tuesday returned indictments charging the Baltimore County Board of Zoning Appeals chairman with extorting $5,000 from a man representing an FBI development firm front.

The indictment charges Walter A. Reiter, Jr., with obtaining the money from F. Pearson Ames November 16, 1979, while Ames' McLean Properties, Inc. tried to get a zoning switch on a 15.2-acre portion of a 30-acre tract near northwest Baltimore.

Court papers show McLean bought the parcel January 15, 1979 and then filed a petition to change the zoning May 16, 1979.

FBI spokesman Lane Bonner said the indictment is the result of a continuing investigation into Baltimore County zoning decisions. He declined to speculate on whether more arrests are expected.

Reiter will be sent a notice and arraigned later, Bonner said. He was unavailable for comment Tuesday.

Death By Fire

AVENUE, Md. (UPI) – A 50-year-old Avenue man who suffered from muscular dystrophy died Tuesday night in a fire at his home, fire investigators said today.

Carl C. Cheseldine apparently fell asleep while smoking in an overstuffed chair, investigators said.

Firefighters from Avenue and the seventh district responded to the 10 p.m. fire.

Cheseldine lived with a nephew who was not home at the time of the fire, investigators said.

Cheseldine is the fourth person to die in a fire in St. Mary's County in 1981. Three people lost their lives in a blaze last week.

HYATTSVILLE, MD (UPI) A Prince George's County policeman who fatally shot a Washington, D.C. man suspected of robbing a fast-food restaurant, has been placed on administrative leave, a police spokeswoman said.

Police said Cpl. Roger Burgess Tuesday spotted two men, who he thought may have robbed the eatery, standing on a street corner near the restaurant.

He approached and asked for identification. Police said one of the men produced some, but the other, Robert Thomas, 27, of southeast Washington, pulled a silver-plated handgun from under his coat. Burgess drew his revolver and fired several shots.

Thomas was pronounced dead at Prince George's County Hospital. Burgess will be on leave pending a review of the case by the police chief.

Colts Owner Irsay Issues Apology

BALTIMORE (UPI) – The embattled owner of the Baltimore Colts, who has maintained a stoney silence for a year while attendence slumped, Tuesday issued a letter of apology to season ticket holders.

Robert Irsay, who has threatened to move the team out of Baltimore because of the drop in attendance, said, "I have said some things I maybe shouldn't aem. If I have offendede the fans here, I apologize."

Attendance at Colts games has been the lowest in the National Football League the last two seasons and reached its low point in the final game of the 1980 season when less than 17,000 fans showed up for a game with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Irsay negotiated with both Memphis and Jacksonville in 1979 in an attempt to move the team.

"There have been matters attributed to me, I know, that have upset many of the fans in this area," Irsay said in the letter, which was mailed to the Colts' 25,208 season ticket holders.

"I have refrained from public comment for most of this past year. nfort'unately many have interpreted this silence incorrectly. We 9are the Baltimore Colts. We want to play here, and we want to give you the kind of team you can be proud of," Irsay said.

He said the team plans to sign a new radio contract within a few weeks and said the team plans to "do more promoting this coming season than we ever have in the past."

Man Indicted

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) – A 19-year-old man has been indicted by an Anne Arundel County grand jury and charged with the murder of two brothers in a Christmas Day brawl in a trailer park.

The grand jury Monday indicted James Franklin Hood of Odenton and charged him with first-degree murder in the killings of John Steven Coleman, 28, and Ricky Dean Coleman, 22.

The panel also charged Hood's sister, Jennifer Hood, with intent to murder and assault for allegedly beating John Coleman with a club as he lay dying.

Police said the Colemans were shot about 11 p.m. Dec. 25 in a incident than apparently began the night before in a neighborhood dispute.

"We got a little bet, Simpkins. Mind climbing into the bag here?"

1982 State Budget Features Cuts, Revenue Losses

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) – Gov. Harry Hughes today sent the Maryland General Assembly a $5.6 billion budget for fiscal year 1982, a proposed spending plan more significant for what it does not include than for what it does.

Faced with declining tax revenues, loss of federal aid and the absence of the huge budget surpluses that marked his first two years in office, Hughes submitted a budget that, if adopted, would amount to the smallest increase in state spending from a previous year in 20 years.

The budget, which sets forth how Hughes wants federal, state and special funds spent to run the state government during the year beginning July 1, provides money for hardly any new state programs and includes cutbacks in some existing ones.

"For the most part, it is a hold-the-line (budget)," the governor said at a budget briefing Monday. "It is not reducing what we're doing."

Hughes also submitted a $161.9 million capital construction budget that included, as a last minute addition, $23.7 million for construction of a dike at Hart and Miller Islands for the eventual dumping of spoils dredged from the Baltimore harbor. The project was made possible by a court decision Christmas Eve.

In his budget message, Hughes cited three areas not covered because of lack of money; pay raises for state employees; education aid to targeted counties; and, an increase in welfare benefits.

Hughes said he hoped tax collections would pick up so those items could be funded in supplemental budgets later in the 90-day session, but said, "I don't have any reason to be terribly optimistic."

The most nagging financial problem addressed in the budget was a potentially huge deficit in the state Medicaid program that prompted Hughes to order, among other actions, an accounting change that essentially defers until fiscal year 1983 the payment of some $44 million in Medicaid bills expected to be incurred next year.

The governor also okayed a $12 million Medicaid program shortfall this fiscal year and ordered the health department to administratively reduce costs in fiscal year 1982 by another $15 million. Emergency changes in the program already in effect are expected to trim another $36.6 million from the anticipated deficit.

In many ways, Hughes has dealt with the new budget as if it were the second half of a biennial budget.

Faced with a projected $127 million deficit in June 1982, Hughes months ago ordered immediate cuts in this year's spending (amounting to about $55 million) and told department heads to prepare lists of other areas that could be cut in next year's budget.

From those lists, Hughes decided to close the Thomas Wilson Hospital Center; to defer until 1983 the acceptance of patients at the Upper Shore Community Mental Health Center; to limit faculty salary increases to 2 percent at state colleges and universities and simultaneously raise tuitions; to close the National Guard Armories; and, to curtail selected out-of-state travel by state employees.

Hughes also decided to convert heating plants in some state facilities from oil to natural gas; to impose a selective hiring freeze; and, among other actions, to cut legal assistance programs for the poor.

This was also the first year since Hughes has been governor that no money was included to help pay off the state's bonded indebtedness.

To make room for the Hart-Miller Island project and still stay below the recommended $175 million capital debt "affordability" ceiling, Hughes bumped a $10.2 million addition to the Department of Natural Resources building in Annapolis and trimmed construction programs for the Rosewood Hospital and for the department of Economic and Community Development.

"That demonstrates the importance I give to that project to the port of Baltimore, to the whole economy of the state and particularly to increased emphasis on the export of coal," said Hughes.

Nevertheless, the largest expenditure within the capital budget was for new college and university structures, totaling $27 million. Overall, Hughes recommended an 8.9 percent increase in higher education spending.

But to illustrate how small the proposed '82 budget has increased over 1981, Hughes referred to a chart that depicted general fund appropriations (money from state taxes) increasing like stair steps each year from 1972 to 1982.

"You hardly notice the difference between '81 and '82," he said referring to the smallest step on the chart—a step from $2,925 million this year to $2,940 million next year.

Bankers And Angry Delegates Debate Proposed Credit Card Charges

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) – A state delegate Tuesday accused Maryland bankers of greed, of "bamboozling" the General Assembly last year and trying to "extort" votes from it this year, and of making Gov. Harry Hughes "a sap in absentia."

Delegate Steven Sklar, D-Baltimore, leveled the charges at Maryland's banking industry before the House Economic Matters Committee, one of two committees to hear testimony on bills that would limit the interest banks may charge on consumer loans or restrict their ability to levy membership fees on credit card accounts.

Earlier in the day, bank lobbyist William Weaver told the Senate Economic Affairs Committee that one bank – which he later identified as First National Bank of Maryland – plans to move its credit card operations to Delaware, where proposed legislation is expected to create a more favorable banking atmosphere.

He said the bank lost at least $3 million on its credit card business in Maryland last year and its departure could cost the state 300 to 1,000 jobs.

Sklar, however, interpreted Weaver's remarks as "a form of extortion," saying it implied a threat that banks would leave Maryland if the legislature enacted bills such as his, which would automatically rollback current 18 percent interest ceilings to 12 percent in July 1982.

Weaver, representing the Maryland Bankers Association, said more banks might follow First National's lead or drop their credit card business unless the legislature allows banks to charge annual membership fees on credit cards.

To that, Delegate William Burkhead, D-Anne Arundel, a member of the House committee, replied, "As far as I'm concerned, if they feel that way let them get the hell out of the state."

"If they aren't making money on (credit card operations), then I don't understand why they don't stop it," he added.

Weaver said banks lose money on credit cards because 40 percent to 45 percent of the cardholders pay their bills on time, avoiding paying interest.

"It's the people out there who can't afford to pay on time that are, in effect, carrying people like you and me along for the ride," Weaver said.

Sklar's vitriolic remarks recalled last year's bitter legislative battle over Senate Bill 92, a measure that permitted banks to charge higher interest rates on consumer loans and credit card accounts.

Sklar charged that as soon as Hughes had signed the measure and left for a trip to China, the banks attempted to impose membership fees on credit card holders behind his back.

He said the banks did not act until "the governor was safely on the ground in China, halfway around the world. The bankers made a sap in absentia of the governor."

"They're taking us for fools, for being dupes," Sklar told his fellow lawmakers. "They bamboozled us last year on the credit card business and they think we're completely ignorant of what they're telling the judiciary.'

The latter reference was to the bank industry's pending lawsuit stemming from Attorney General Stephen Sachs' decision that the credit card membership fees are illegal.

In that suit, the banks claim the Maryland legislature has no authority to set interest rates – even those the bank industry lobbied for last year.

"The question is not one of profitability, but integrity," said Sen. Harry McGuirk, D-Baltimore, chairman of the Senate panel. "This (the credit card fee issue) was not an issue at this time last year."

"Question Of Priority"

Black Legislators Act To Save State Social Service Programs From Cuts

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) – Black state legislators went on the offensive Tuesday to save social service programs threatened by budgetary cuts, suggesting among other ideas that the state's parkland purchase program be suspended.

"The question is one of priority," said Delegate John Douglass, D-Baltimore. "Is it better that the state continue to buy up parkland for Marylanders to frolic and have fun on, or is it better to spend these dollars caring for basic health needs for our less fortunate citizens?"

"We believe the latter to be the higher priority," said Douglass, speaking for himself and other black Baltimore delegates who called a news conference to outline their strategy for preventing the expected program cuts.

Douglass said suspension of the "open space program" for three years would free $20 million to $25 million that could be used for Medicaid programs or to offset proposed cuts in day care, legal services or other social services to the poor.

"We are alarmed at the prospect of these cutbacks and think that such proposals will do serious injury to efforts on many of our parts to better the lifestyle and condition of tens of thousands of disadvantaged Marylanders across this state – people who by accident of birth or situation in life have not been able to provide for all their basic needs," he said.

Douglass also said black legislators intend to introduce bills to repeal existing tax exemptions for certain organizations or services, but said no decision has been reached on which ones will be attacked. He said, however, a list of 20 exemptions have been identified as candidates that together could produce $160 million if all were eliminated.

Douglass said three Baltimore Democrats, Delegates Walter Dean, Howard Rawlings and Larry Young, would monitor proposed cuts in, respectively, social service programs, educational programs, and health department programs.

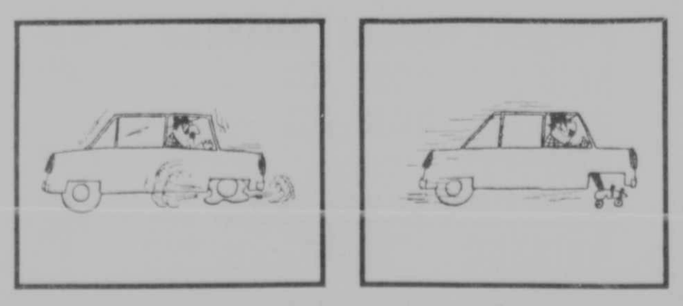

The four delegates were also joined by Delegates Lena K. Lee and Isaiah Dixon, both D-Baltimore, and Douglass said the strategy he had announced had been endorsed by the Legislative Black Caucus.

Dean said he was worried about a more widespread change in attitude about the need for social services programs.

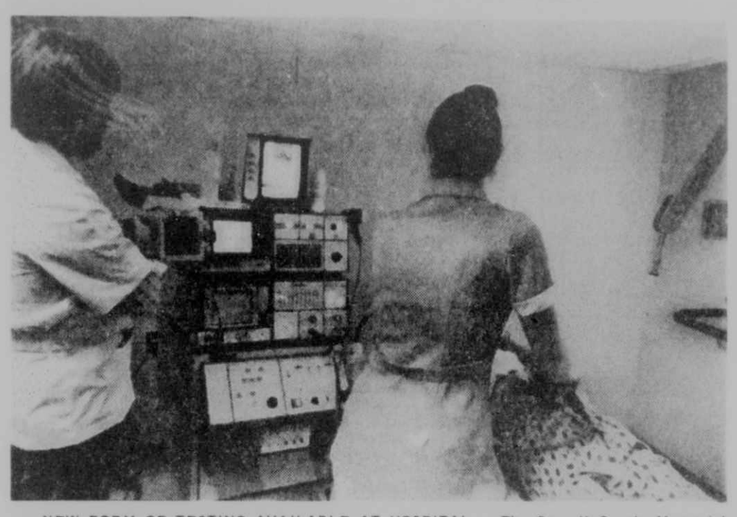

"There is a climate of changing priorities we're concerned about, too," he said.

Douglass, referring to the parkland programs, said, "In these dire fiscal times, we feel these are programs we can do without for a while."

He said he had written Gov. Harry Hughes suggesting suspension of the open space program, but was still awaiting a reply.

New Hospital Equipment Provides Convenience For Area Residents

NEW FORM OF TESTING AVAILABLE AT HOSPITAL — The Garrett County Memorial Hospital recently purchased an ultrasound Digital Imager, which is a safe alternative to X-ray and offers a comfortable procedure for the patient. Pictured above is Sue Savage, X-ray technician, who is observing the patient's moving organs on the television screen at center, while Rick Shaffer, RT, Director of Radiology Services at Garrett County Memorial, looks on. Pictured at the right attached to a metal arm is a transducer, which is placed on the surface of the patient's skin, sends out high frequency sound waves, receives them bounced back from various organs, and converts them into an image. This technique, which was previously available to area residents only as near as Cumberland, can eliminate exploratory surgery in many cases.

by Kathy Railey

Because of a recent purchase by the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Garrett Countians needing certain kinds of exploratory tests will no longer have to travel to Cumberland to get them. Also, area residents needing X-rays may no longer have to gulp down large quantities of barium or be exposed to the dangers of X-ray. Area women who are pregnant can now see their child growing, doctors can determine its age and, in some cases, whether it is a boy or a girl.

The machine which will provide such convenience for local physicians, and comfort and safety for area patients is called a Digital Imager, also known as diagnostic ultrasound. The more than $100,000 piece of equipment was purchased last month and has been operational since the latter part of December.

Ultrasound is an alternative to X-ray and can also serve as verification of an X-ray. According to Rick Shaffer, RT, Director of Radiology Services at Garrett County Memorial, the ultrasound technique is "non-invasive and completely safe." In many instances, he said, it eliminates exploratory surgery.

This technique has been around about 10 years, but has only been available to area residents at Sacred Heart Hospital in Cumberland. The technique is necessary for patients who suffer a risk when in need of exploratory surgery. Some of these patients have been in such poor physical condition that they could not endure a trip to Cumberland, Shaffer said. Now they will simply travel in an elevator and down a corridor, lie flat on a comfortable surface and breath!

Ultrasound is a technique by which high frequency sound waves are bounced through the body, and different organs cause them to bounce back at different speeds, similar to radar. The sound waves are sent out through a transducer placed on the surface of the skin, which receives the waves as they bounce back, and converts them to an image.

This print-type, sectional image appears on a television screen which can also be seen by the patient. The technician finds a good image of the organ, freezes it, and a Matrix camera captures that projected image by shooting a picture of it with X-ray film.

The machine can also project a moving picture of an organ, can measure the size of a cyst and even pick up blood flow. Shaffer stated that the transducer can be placed over a blood vessel to check circulation.

Ultrasound is capable of doing cardiac work and it can record the exact location and size of an aneurysm, which is a weakness in the wall of an artery. The equipment can be used for scanning the abdomen, pancreas, liver, gall bladder and kidney, and the only preparation required of the patient is to drink large amount of water and stick to a liquid diet the day before the test. Brain mass and blood clots can also be detected through this technique.

About the only test the machine is not good for, he said, is bone detail, at which time an X-ray would be required.

The model purchased by Garrett County Memorial Hospital was just released in November, 1980. "This is the finest piece of equipment made to date for this technique, and we are very lucky to have this — not many hospitals do," Shaffer said.

The equipment is currently being operated by Sue Savage, X-ray technician. It will be placed in the new hospital addition when completed, as an extension of the radiology department. Shaffer said that all X-ray technicians are being trained to handle it. Training which requires a thorough knowledge of anatomy.

This new ultrasound equipment has opened a whole new world of capabilities in scanning and diagnosis of patients in Garrett County, with a process that is completely safe and even educational for the patient, allowing him to see organs inside his body, or a fetus soon to be her child. The comfort of this kind of testing is an added plus, and, no more driving to Cumberland, because we now have ultrasound here in Garrett County.

The Evening Star

The brilliant evening star is a symbol of many things to many folk. Mariners hail it as a good omen, for it usually forecasts a clear, calm night and smooth sailing. The shepherd tending his flock on a desolate hillside gratefully notes its appearance in the heavens, for its friendly light offers an intangible sort of companionship during his lonely vigil. To many, the star is representative of God's infinite power and wisdom.

Just as this star touches hearts in countless different ways, so may the Church bring to those in all walks of life, peace and comfort which lead to a happier, more fruitful pattern of life.

Let us make the Church our guiding light. We can brighten our lives if we accept the teaching of the Scriptures as guideposts along the pathway to future endeavors.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE POWER OF A GENTLE MAN

January 25, 1981

Background Scripture: Matthew 11 through 12.
Devotional Reading: I Samuel 3:10-21.

The political honeymoon will soon be over — that is, if our nation runs true to course. Perhaps it's already over. If the past is any indication, most of us will be watching carefully to see whether the new President can meet our expectations. Some of us will vigorously maintain that he does, while others of us will quickly express our disappointment and even outrage.

The problem may not be as much with the Presidents we elect as with our expectations. What we expect in one way or another is a Messiah, and what we get is a human being struggling to fulfill the gigantic tasks of the office of the President of the United States. It is understandable then that we are soon asking, "Are you he who is to come, or shall we look for another?" I'm sure that by now, some Americans are already looking for "another."

What You Hear And See

How can we know whether this President is the one "who is to come"? Some of us would paraphrase Jesus and answer: "Go and tell what you see: the voters have tax relief, the criminals are being punished, the poor are losing their 'free ride,' the Russians are being told-off, and the special interest groups are getting what they wanted."

Those would have been popular words if Jesus had uttered them, for you can't go wrong with appealing to people's pocketbooks, fear of crime and corruption, and their sense of national pride. Jesus, however, wasn't a very good politician — let's face it, he couldn't have won an election — and his reply to John's disciples still makes us uneasy: "Go and tell John what you hear and see: the blind receive their sight and the lame walk, lepers are cleansed and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and the poor have good news preached to them." (11:4,5). This is one of the most remarkable statements in the New Testament. Jesus authenticates who he is, not with scriptural quotations, the recital of his theological platform, or a list of the important and powerful people whom he has attracted, but with his compassionate acts to those who cannot help themselves.

Gentle And Lowly

Nor did Jesus point with pride to the large crowds he was attracting, or attempt to trade on the prestige and fleeting popularity that he was attracting. Instead of posturing and flexing his news media muscles, Jesus projects an altogether different image than what the crowds have been looking for: "Come to me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me; for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls..." (11:28,29).

Oh Jesus was a man of power — make no mistake about that — but it was the power of a humble, gentle and compassionate man. And we still don't know quite what to do with him — or ourselves.

Candy Stripers Are Part Of Hospital Team

Each fall at Garrett County Memorial Hospital the hospital takes on new freshness of red and white stripes, those of a new class of candy stripers.

This youth volunteer program, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Association and Garrett County Memorial Hospital, provides opportunities for these interested students.

This year's class consisted of eight girls in their sophomore-senior year of high school. They each attended a four-week orientation program in which they were taught how to serve diet trays, transfer patients, make unoccupied beds, distribute beverages and water pitchers and other general duties.

The girls started working on the nursing units the week of November 11 under the supervision of their instructors, Mrs. Mindi Gaster, R.N. and Mrs. Lucy Burnett, R.N., the 3-11 nursing supervisors at the hospital. Their initial training along with their on-the-job experience, has developed these young ladies into a beneficail part of the nursing care team.

During the month of May the girls will be rewarded for their service, along with those previously involved in the program, during a capping ceremony and reception for them and their parents.

Assessment Answers

by James Burley

THE REASSESSMENT SHOCK ABSORBER

Property owners worried about their reassessment can take some comfort from the fact that owner-occupied residences continue to be protected by the Homestead Tax Credit Provision which has been in effect since 1977.

This provision, written into the law, does not control the assessment — the value as determined in the marketplace dictates this — but it does limit the property tax on residential reassessments that are greater than 15 percent from one year to the next. The credit is restricted to owner-occupied dwellings and is based on the total assessment, including both land and buildings. The purpose of the provision is to protect homeowners from the consequences of soaring reassessments.

It works this way: Assume a property has risen in value from $60,000 to $90,000. A 50 percent increase in full cash value is not an uncommon occurrence in some places. The same property two years ago had a taxable assessment of $27,000, or 45 percent of the $60,000 value, the assessment rate then in effect.

Under the phase-in, a technique of the new assessment method, the proposed value for this year is $70,000, a combination of the old value of $60,000 plus one-third of the increase between the old value and the new of $90,000. The growth factor, or assessment rate as it could be called, is currently 46.825 percent. This is the rate that the value is multiplied by to arrive at the first-year assessment. The $70,000 multiplied by the current rate amounts to $32,770. As the increase is more than 21 percent over the last taxable assessment so enters the 15 percent limiting device. Since a 15 percent in the old assessment would amount to $31,050, this is the maximum taxable assessment. The dollar difference between the taxable assessment ($31,050) and the phase-in assessment ($32,770) is $1,720, and is the amount upon which the tax credit is based.

Carrying the example further, if the property were located in Baltimore County, the potential credit could be found by multiplying the dollar difference ($1,720) by the county tax rate of $2.93. In this case, the credit would be $50. If the same property were in Baltimore City with a tax rate of $5.93, the credit would be twice as much, or $102. As can be seen by this comparison, the Homestead Tax Credit Provision does not limit the assessment. The assessment stays the same. But it does limit the property tax because the higher the tax rate, the larger the offsetting tax credit.

If this is still confusing, you can console yourself with the fact that you will only pay taxes on a maximum of 15 percent more than you did last year provided you live in the dwelling at least half of the year, you made no extensive improvements, and there was no change in ownership the previous year.

The Homestead Tax Credit does not show on your assessment notice, but is automatically included as a tax credit in calculating the tax bill which is issued in July.

Conversations on Carpeting

Brought to you by

Who say
"A Floor without a Rug is like a Kiss without a Hug."

MAKE A LIST

Before you go shopping for that new carpet, it's a good idea to sit down and make a checklist that will aid you in carpet selection. Take the list with you when you go to your carpet store. It will help both you and the salesman see at a glance the kind of carpet that will be right for your home.

What do you put on the list? First of all, list the rooms you will be carpeting. Now, what color are the walls of these rooms? How about the colors of draperies and upholstery? How much use and traffic does each room get? Do you have pets? List these too. In what direction do your windows face . . . north? south? east? west? What type of lighting do you have in each room . . . fluorescent? floor lamps? ceiling? table lamps?

Next list some of your personal perferences. What are your favorite colors? What style of furniture do you prefer? What carpet texture are you partial too . . . shag? twist? level loop? multilevel loop?

We'll be glad to help you select the carpeting you want at a price you can afford. Stop in and see us today.

In next week's column we will be answering some questions—watch for it.

Energy Tip: Don't use aluminum foil to line the oven because it blocks circulation of vents and could change oven temperature as much as 50°.

Mushrooms are quickly becoming a favorite of many Americans. The USDA reports that no other vegetable has shown a consumption rise equal to that of mushrooms in the past decade. Consumption has reached 452 million pounds or a little more than 2 pounds per person a year.

Here are some tips on buying, handling and using mushrooms from the American Mushroom Institute which will be of help to you:

*When choosing fresh mushrooms in the store, look for ones that are firm and smooth. The veil, which is the membrane between the cap and the stem, may or may not be intact. If the veil is pulled away from the cap or stem, it only means there has been some moisture lost. The mushroom is still perfectly good and is actually more concentrated in flavor.

*Mushrooms will keep, under refrigeration, for a week to 10 days. They are usable until they become mushy soft and discolored with a slippery surface.

*There are three different types of mushrooms: creams, browns, and whites. This indicates the outside color. All mushrooms are white inside and will cook the same, taste the same, and have the same meaty texture.

*Mushrooms should never be peeled or washed. Simply rinse them with cool water in a colander or strainer, and blot dry with a paper towel.

*Mushrooms should be stored, refrigerated, in the container in which they were purchased. Holes for ventilation should be provided in the overwrap of packaged mushrooms. If they were purchased loose, they may be stored in a paper bag.

Here are two mushroom recipes I think you will enjoy trying:

MUSHROOM CHICKEN STIR-UP

1 pound fresh mushrooms or 2 cans (6 to 8 oz. each) sliced mushrooms
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 quart sliced cabbage
1 green pepper, sliced
1 onion, sliced
1 can (10½ oz.) condensed chicken broth
2 tablespsoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons soy sauce
½ teaspoon ground ginger
2 cups diced cooked chicken, turkey, pork or shrimp

Rinse, pat dry and slice fresh mushrooms (makes about 5½ cups); or drain canned mushrooms. In a large skillet melt butter. Add mushrooms, cabbage, green pepper and onion. Cook and stir for 5 minutes. Combine remaining ingredients except chicken. Pour over vegetables. Add chicken. Cook and stir until vegetables are crisp-tender and the sauce is slightly thickened, 2 to 3 minutes. Serve over rice or noodles, if desired. Yield: 4 to 6 portions.

HEARTY MUSHROOM AND BEEF SOUP BOWL

1 pound fresh mushrooms
4 tablespoons salad oil divided
2 pounds boneless beef chuck, cut in ½-inch cubes
1 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
6 cups beef broth
1 can (1 lb. 12 oz.) whole tomatoes, crushed
1¾ teaspoons salt
1½ teaspoons oregano leaves crushed
1 bay leaf
¾ cup sliced carrots
3 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup water
1 cup cooked rice
½ cup red burgundy wine

Rinse, pat dry and slice mushrooms (makes about 5½ cups). In a large sauce pot heat 2 tablespoons of the oil until hot. Add mushrooms; saute until golden, about 5 minutes; remove and set aside. Add remaining 2 tablespoons oil to sauce pot; heat until hot. Add half of the the beef cubes. Brown well on all sides; remove and set aside. Add onion, garlic and remaining beef cubes. Saute until meat is browned and onions are golden. Return all meat to the pot. Add beef broth, tomatoes, salt, oregano and bay leaf; bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, until meat is almost tender, about 1 hour. Add carrots; simmer, covered, until carrots are almost tender, about 7 minutes. Mix cornstarch with water; stir into soup along with rice and reserved mushrooms. Cook and stir until soup is slightly thickened, about 2 minutes. Stir in wine. Heat until hot, about 2 minutes longer.

Yield: About 11 cups.

Tax Credit Program Explained

By Robert E. Young
Administrator
Maryland Homeowners' and Renters' Tax Credit Program

The 1981 application forms for the State of Maryland's Renters Tax Credit Program are now available. The 1981 application cycle begins the second year of existence for this new State program which provides tax credits for renters who have reached age 60 or who are disabled. It is modeled after the Homeowners' Tax Credit Plan, popularly called "circuit breaker." One does not have to be filing an income tax return in order to receive the Renters' Tax Credit, since eligible applicants receive the amount of credit as a direct check payment from the State of Maryland.

The rationale behind this new Renters' Tax Credit Program is that renters indirectly pay property taxes as part of their rent, and thus, should get a credit as homeowners do, if qualified on the basis of income.

If the portion of the rent attributable to property taxes exceeds a fixed amount in relation to your income, then renters can, under specified conditions, receive a credit of as much as $450. The present law assumes that ten percent of the tenant's yearly rent goes toward the payment of property taxes.

The types of rented dwellings which can be eligible for this credit are a unit in any type of apartment building; a rented individual house, duplex, co-op or condominium, house trailer; or even a rented trailer pad. Of course, the rented dwelling must be the person's principal residence, and an applicant must have reached age 60 or be totally disabled as of December 31, 1980.

It is important to emphasize that elderly and disabled renters must apply in order to receive the Renters' Tax Credit, and the application form must be submitted no later than May 1, 1981. Application forms can be obtained from the local Assessment office, local Area Office on Aging, or be calling 321-3750 in the Baltimore metropolitan area or at 1-800-492-3790 (toll-free) for persons living elsewhere. By telephoning the public information numbers listed above, callers also will receive assistance in filling out the form and an explanation of how income affects the amount of tax credit to which a person is entitled.

Those found eligible for a Renters' Tax Credit as determined by the State Department of Assessments and Taxation will receive a check directly from the State Treasury. Last year, the average Renters' Tax Credit amounted to $86 for each eligible applicant.

Natural Laser

The first Laser occurring naturally was discovered in the upper atmosphere of Mars. Discovered with an infrared detector, the laser is about 80 kilometers (50 miles) above the planet's surface. Infrared light one billion times stronger than that normally expected and the spectral characteristics of the light convinced astronomers that it was a laser. Other such lasers may occur in the atmospheres of Venus and Jupiter.

Moon

On Tuesday, the Last Quarter phase of the Moon will occur at 11:19 p. m. Moonrise will be at 7:02 tonight. Next Monday, the Moon will rise at 11:56 p. m.

Also on Tuesday, the Moon will be at the greatest distance it will be from Earth during this month. This apogee will be 404,394 kilometers (251,333 miles) away.

Visible Planets

Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn will be the visible planets during the week. Mercury and Mars will be close together low in the west sky for a short time after sunset. The background stars will be those of Capricorn. Venus will be low in the southeast for a short time before sunrise. Jupiter and Saturn will be close together among the stars of Virgo, rising shortly before midnight.

Daylight Increases

By next Tuesday, there will be 11 minutes more daylight than there will be today. On that day there will be 10 hours 2 minutes of daylight with sunrise at 7:29 a. m. and sunset at 5:31 p. m. The Sun rose at 7:34 this morning, and it will set at 5:25 this evening.

Real Estate

Deep Creek Realty

We all learn from other people's mistakes. But unfortunately, some of us have to be the "other people". One of these mistakes can be setting the wrong selling price on your house. An under-priced house will sell fast, but the owner will lose money. An over-priced house will not move at all, and many excellent buyers will be lost to others.

What your house is worth is not what you think it is, or what the buyer might think it is. Its true value is determined by its location, the general economic climate, the current local real estate situation, the age of the property and the wear and tear it has seen.

Call in a well-established local REALTOR for this vital determination. He's experienced in real estate evaluation and is in constant touch with the local market. He knows what homes are selling at what prices. It's a nice feeling to have him working on your side right from the start.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices:

QUESTION:
"I turn my thermostat down, but our gas bill still goes up. How come?"

ANSWER:
"Most of the increase comes right from the well— the higher prices Columbia has to pay."

Most of Columbia's natural gas supplies do not begin as ours, but must be purchased. And since passage of the 1978 Natural Gas Policy Act, which allows gradual lifting of wellhead price controls to encourage gas exploration, the price Columbia pays for gas has been steadily increasing.

Added to that are the rising costs of maintaining and improving pipelines, storage facilities and services.

So rates have been going up. However, at Columbia we're doing all we can to hold down costs. We're investing in more efficient equipment and streamlining operations. Bi-monthly estimated bills are one savings you're probably familiar with.

In short, we're cutting where we can to keep your gas bill increases to a minimum.

And though your gas bill may be higher than you or we would like to see it, natural gas still costs you less than other energy forms.

For ideas on ways to make natural gas work even more efficiently for you, ask for our free pamphlet, "The Everyday Energy Saver's Guide".

COLUMBIA GAS
Still your best energy value.
And we want to keep it that way.

TV PEOPLE

The Greg Mullavey audiences don't see

Greg Mullavey

Greg Mullavey played the immature aficionado of infidelity as the husband of Fernwood's "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman," the unemployed jealous husband and father who almost destroyed his family in the recent highly rated NBC-TV movie "Children of Divorce" and has appeared in such paeans to the pleasures of hearth and home as "Bob & Carol and Ted & Alice" and "The Love Machine."

Not only that, but in the experimental NBC series, "Number 96," he was cast as Max Quintzel, a moderately successful architect and moderately successful male half of a moderately successful marriage. Max and his wife, Marion (Randee Heller), have decided that some carefully choreographed extramarital high jinks will put the zest back in their dreary marriage.

However, all of these roles are examples of casting Mullavey against type.

"I think we've all fantasized about open marriage, but I just don't believe it works," says Mullavey, who has been married to actress Meredith MacRae for 11 years. They have a 6-year-old daughter, Allison, and reside in a newly refurbished 60-year-old Spanish hacienda.

"When you have two actors in a family, there's always a minor threat of envy. Sometimes one will be working and the other unemployed. As it is, actors are a little more volatile than most people and have their nerve endings on the surface. Meredith and I try to solve any problems we might have by talking about our feelings. It's important not to deny them, even if that means risking conflict over their exposure."

So, regardless of how much Mullavey may enjoy playing Max Quintzel on "Number 96," he'll leave the character at the studio and stick to his own formula for achieving a successful marriage.

THE THIRD REICH REVISITED — Anthony Hopkins (right) stars as Adolf Hitler, and Richard Jordan stars as Albert Speer, in "The Bunker," a three-hour drama depicting the events in and around Hitler's underground hideout during the final days of the Third Reich, airing Tuesday, Jan. 27, on CBS.

IN FOCUS

Albert Speer helps re-create Nazi bunker

Art director Alain Negre had a big project ahead of him. He had to reconstruct the underground secret hideout that was the last refuge of Adolf Hitler before the final collapse of the Third Reich. Negre had no problem with the bulk of his research, but he found some badly needed help from someone who was actually there — the former Nazi leader and architect, Albert Speer.

Negre's set serves as the locale for those final days, as depicted in the three-hour dramatic special, "The Bunker," starring Anthony Hopkins as Adolf Hitler and Richard Jordan as Albert Speer, to air Tuesday, Jan. 27, on CBS.

Negre had to design two sets: the bunker and the Reich Chancellory. He had no problem with the latter, because the Chancellory was a public building. When it was finished, official photographers lavishly documented its inaugural, thereby providing a large amount of visual material from which to work.

"On the other hand," Negre said, "the bunker was very mysterious and secret. Before the arrival of the Russians, when the Third Reich fell, there was no documentation at all. That's why my meeting with Speer was heaven sent. I had three pages of questions to ask him."

The questions ranged from the geographical, regarding the layout of the bunker and where each room was placed, to the minute. As an example, Negre explained that no one really knew what type of doors were used inside the bunker. A lot of people thought there were sliding doors, but Speer assured Negre that the doors were simple white ones set on normal hinges.

Negre spent an entire day with Speer six weeks before production started and he continually corresponded with him thoughout the filming. Negre also had access to Speer's personal photographs and documents.

Anthony Hopkins

"I took picture's of photos Speer had in his home," Negre noted. These photos were essential because Speer designed, among other things, all of Eva Braun's furniture, of which Negre had custom-made copies built for "The Bunker." All the furnishings on the set are "absolutely accurate," according to Negre.

Speer, who spent 20 years in prison, sentenced by the Nuremberg war tribunal, now lives in Heidelberg. According to Negre, Speer is often asked to comment on the past or clear up questions, and was "very eager" to advise on this project.

Negre, who works for the French television production company, Societe Francaise du Production et de Creation Audiovisuelles, has been a television art director for 20 years. During that time, he has had to design many sets, some more difficult than others.

"When you cannot find in any project the exact objects to reproduce, it's always difficult," Negre explained, referring to the bunker. Then he slightly amended his statement. "It's a challenge more than a difficulty."

Working with Albert Speer eased the difficulty somewhat, said Negre. "He really helped me approach the reality of the bunker."

Teen actors get advice from soapster

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — Teen-age acting hopefuls in the Oyster Bay, Long Island, area are getting the chance of a lifetime. They are studying their craft with none other than Nat Polen (Jim Craig on "One Life to Live"). The long-time soap opera actor got involved in the project when local youth council members came to him looking for advice on a proposed drama workshop. Nat, who now has 11 students who meet on Friday nights, says, "I find myself looking forward to the next session more every week."

Nat Polen

Gwyn Gilliss (Anne Martin on "All My Children") was having a hard time getting around after dislocating her knee. But the long-limbed actress found that New York City is just the place to be in such instances, since she could have everything delivered to her apartment, including her meals. Gwyn also found out that, for a considerable fee, there was a local woman who would bring any meal from any restaurant and even serve it for you.

The very talented Marie Masters (ex-Susan Stewart on "As the World Turns") hasn't let any grass grow under her feet since leaving the soap world. Beside appearing in several nighttime guest roles, Marie is set to direct an upcoming TV movie (the title of which we haven't yet discovered). Marie and her former cast-mate, Robert Lipton (Jeff Ward), are still an "item." The happy couple attended the "ATWT"-"GL" Christmas bash, utilizing the time to get re-acquainted with Marie's former acting pals here on the East Coast. Marie and her two children have been living in California since her exit from "ATWT."

Everyone on "Ryan's Hope" was thrilled when former "Love of Life" cast member and "Superman" star Christopher Reeve, arrived on the "RH" set for a shooting the end of December. Reeve, who is starring in Broadway's "The Fifth of July," took the time off from his busy schedule to return to his "roots," so-to-speak. Keep your eye open for other big name stars to appear on ABC soaps as a part of the network's celebrity program.

Word around the "All My Children" set is that John Danelle and Lisa Wilkinson (Frank and Nancy Grant) are in the midst of a trial separation in their real-life marriage. The couple have a daughter, Amanda.

THURSDAY

Five curvaceous waitresses serve up a banquet of comedy in "It's a Living," the ABC sitcom that airs Thursdays. From top to bottom are Ann Jillian, Susan Sullivan, Wendy Schaal, Gail Edwards and Barrie Youngfellow.

Creators' wars can rock TV series

By RUTH THOMPSON

Elizabeth Ashley, who has television, film as well as theater successes to her credit, moaned publicly (raged might be a more apropos description) because a play to which she had committed high hopes as well as weeks of rehearsal, folded fast. Its neophyte author refused to have an experienced "play doctor" revise the work, she said.

Do similar tugs-of-war happen in television? They have, but particularly with one-shots: movies, docu-dramas, occasional one-hour specials where the writer lacked the overall contractual control to abort the project and resorted instead to "Have my name removed from the credits."

One must understand, any writer who trusts his or her inspiration feels violated when the holy stuff is tampered with by an unsolicited collaborater. Any solo writer, that is. The demands of a weekly television series, which gluttonizes the energy equivalent of one Broadway show per week, call for team work.

A few series owe their flavor to one-man control. For "Star Trek," it was Gene Roddenberry; for "Barney Miller," Danny Arnold. But most of the others owe their success to harmonious writing teams, who, while they take no guff from actors, don't turn deaf ears, either.

Thus, even in its pilot movie version, we learn, lovely Erin Gray had some input as to how Col. Wilma Deering, the female aide-companion of "Buck Rogers" should be styled.

"It didn't all come at once, of course," says Erin. "It's taken a while to make Wilma less wooden, more effective in what she does in her job, and more playful in her relationship" with that futuristic space hero played by Gil Gerard.

Erin doesn't see Buck and Wilma moving toward steamy, onscreen intimacies, maybe just teases (a la Marshall Dillon following Kitty upstairs). But, emphasizes Erin, that is not what matters most about "Buck Rogers."

"It's getting away from the concept that because the series evolved from a comic strip, our show is only for children. We have a new producer, some great new cast additions including Wilfred Hyde-White, and a level of writing that has moved up from kindergarten to college in one year."

Eileen Fulton, who for two decades now has starred on CBS daytime as the beloved meanie, Lisa, on "As the World Turns," told us that a couple of years ago she first challenged the writers.

They were new, not keeping the Lisa character consistent. When talking didn't work, she turned to the sponsor, Procter and Gamble (which in this case, unlike most nighttime shows, has a producing interest), for some re-thinking. Eileen won. But she had 20 years of continuity in her head to back up a protective interest in the Lisa image.

Somebody who didn't have to be either subtle or combative is Polly Holliday. When her Flo character was being spun off from the parent CBS series, "Alice," Polly was consulted every step of the way. Settling Flo in Texas, as the owner of the Yellow Rose saloon was Polly's suggestion. So, too, were a prim sister, a salty mama and "Men, men, men. You know Flo. She isn't going to change that much."

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

RELAX — Please tell me if Jackson, who was on "The White Shadow" with Ken Howard, is dead. If so, how did he die? — K.J., Oxnard, Calif.

The character of Jackson is dead, killed in a liquor store hold-up during last season's shows. But Eric Kilpatrick, who played Jackson, is very much alive. Because some of the actors on the series were outgrowing their roles, several characters were graduated. But because violence is a part of today's life, the Jackson character met a violent death.

MARK'S SPOT — Please help me. I think Mark Shera is an absolute doll. I know he hasn't been on TV since "S.W.A.T.," but I would really love to write him, but don't know his address. — Jincne Wachter, Chicago, Ill.

You're going to be angry with yourself, because Mark has been on TV since "S.W.A.T." He went into "Barnaby Jones" and was active in the series during its last few seasons. The series is no longer in production, but try writing him in care of "Barnaby Jones," CBS, Television City, CA 90036. Write "please forward" on it. Good luck.

GETTING TO THE ROOT OF IT — Some time ago I wrote asking you to send me a picture of Brooke from "All My Children," as I want to have my hair cut like hers. I also wanted to know the name of her hair style. Please send me the picture. — Sharyn Landis, Boardman, Ohio.

We don't have pictures to send out. Your best bet is to write Julia Barr, who plays Brooke, and ask her to send you the name of her hair style and a photo. The show originates from New York, so write her in care of "All My Children," ABC, 1330 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10019. Good luck with your new Brooke look.

ISLAND TIME — I have some "Gilligan's Island" questions. What was Gilligan's first name? Also the first name of Mr. Howell and the professor's name? — Phillip Laven, Wayland, Mass.

Gilligan, like Quincy and Columbo, didn't have a first name. The other two were Thurston Howell III (his wife was Lovey) and Professor Roy Henkley. You didn't ask, but the actress was Ginger Grant, the store clerk was Mary Ann Summers and the skipper was Jonas Grumby. Probably knew those, didn't you?

OLD SHOW — I have seen a show called "Alias Smith and Jones" and have often wondered why Pete Duel and Roger Davis keep taking turns playing Smith. I have heard that something happened to Duel. If so, what? Was the show canceled and then later put back on to fill empty time slots? — Victoria Jung, Surrey, B.C.

When the series first came on ABC in January 1971, Ben Murphy played Jones, and Duel was Smith. Then Duel shot himself, and after his death Roger Davis assumed the role of Smith. The series was canceled in 1973. What you are seeing are syndicated reruns, and obviously they are not being shown consecutively. Davis, by the way, was married to Jaclyn ("Charlie's Angels") Smith at the time he did the series.

TV TATTLE

Archie fan

Danielle Brisebois, the 11-year-old Stephanie on CBS's "Archie Bunker's Place," was feted at a party at a New York sandwich restaurant by her young fans and their parents. The question most often asked of Danielle was, "What is Archie really like?"

"I don't like Archie," said Danielle. "I love him. I never met a more kind or understanding person."

Brady marriage

Production is underway in Hollywood on an NBC movie, "The Brady Girls Get Married," including Mike and Carol Brady, the parents, again played by Robert Reed and Florence Henderson. "The Brady Girls Get Married" focuses on the wedding plans of two of the Brady girls — Jan (played again by Eve Plumb) and Marcia (Maureen McCormick, also from the series). The girls will have a double wedding. Jerry Houser and Ron Kuhlman play the bridegrooms.

The producers of the movie have erected the set of the original series in its entirety including the Brady house. In addition to the performers, many of the original technical crew members have returned to work on the film, including director Peter Baldwin.

Mystery series is syndicated

Two weeks after announcing their availability in syndication on an advertiser-supported basis, MCA-TV's "Hardy Boys/Nancy Drew Mysteries," 46 hour-long adaptations of the classic books that appeared on ABC in 1977-79, have been ordered by 33 stations.

The series stars teen-age heartthrob Shaun Cassidy, Parker Stevenson, Pamela Sue Martin and Janet Louise Johnson as the young heroes and heroines. Coincidentally, after more than five decades as best-sellers in hard cover, the Hardy Boys and Nancy Drew books will soon be published in paperback.

The series will begin airing in the fall.

'Madame X' again

Tuesday Weld has been set as the star of an all-new two-hour version of the classic film, "Madame X." Miss Weld, who began her career at the age of 4, has starred in many films, including "Looking for Mr. Goodbar" and "Serial." She stars as Holly Richardson in "Madame X," a drama that tells the story of a woman who marries into a wealthy political family, where a tragic accident forces her to abandon her beloved husband and daughter.

"Madame X," which began as a play in France, has been made into six previous motion picture versions, starting as a silent film in 1915. Lana Turner starred in the last American version, in 1966.

New field

United Media Enterprises, the feature syndicate division of Scripps-Howard Newspapers, has formed a special unit to create programming for cable, syndication and home video. The programming will be developed from UME's catalogue of feature columns and comic strips. The first project is "Coping," a 30-minute magazine-format series produced with Lee Mendelson (producer of the "Peanuts" specials for CBS). The series will feature eight UME columnists, including cookbook author Barbara Gibbons, good-manners maven Judith Martin, fashion writer Charles Hix and financial expert John Dorfman. Among the UME comic strips that may turn up as series in the near future are "Marmaduke," "Garfield" and "Nancy."

TV Circles

Words in the list below appear across, up, down, backwards and diagonally in the diagram. Find each word and draw a circle around its letters, then cross the word off the list. Some circled letters appear in more than one word. The letters that form the answer will be left over. Unscramble and arrange them to create a word, or words, that will provide the answer.

If every household in the United States lowered its average heating temperatures six degrees over a 24-hour period, more than 570,000 barrels of oil per day would be saved.

Fast Rising Dough.

First, take one small part of your paycheck, put it into the Payroll Savings Plan, and buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Then just sit back and watch your dough rise. 'Cause Bonds are one of the easiest ways to save you'll ever find.

(Not to mention one of the safest.)

After all, they've been around a long, long time. And they've always paid off. To the penny. And if they're ever lost, stolen, or destroyed, they'll be replaced.

So take stock in your country. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

When you need dough, they rise to the occasion.

Take stock in America.

Task Force To Address Medicaid Budget Deficit

Governor Harry Hughes announced last week the formation of a five-member Task Force to address the Medicaid budget deficit.

The Task Force was called together on behalf of the Governor by Charles R. Buck, Jr., Secretary of Health and Mental Hygiene, to study and make recommendations for controlling a major fiscal crisis facing the State's Medical Assistance (Medicaid) program, while at the same time assuring quality health care for the poor.

The Chairman of the Task Force is Donald DeVries, Senior Vice President of the Koppers Company.

The major charges to the Task Force are:

1. To ensure the solvency of the program and its ability to pay bills incurred and received in FY 1982, and

2. To recommend measures that will ensure within three years that the program can meet all financial obligations. This will include the provision of funds to carry forward to pay for services provided but not billed until the following fiscal year.

Governor Hughes, in emphasizing the importance of the Task Force said, "The potential magnitude of this Program's deficit, coupled with the bleak revenue projection picture, is a major concern of the State. Naturally, we want to provide the health care needed by the poor."

The Medicaid program is currently providing care to approximately 390,000 medically needy persons in the State. The crisis resulted primarily from increasing utilization of hospital services.

Extensive cost containment measures, including a 20-day per spell of illness limit on payment for hospital stays, became effective on January 1.

It was initially estimated that the program would have a deficit of approximately $80 million ($51 million in State funds) in the current fiscal year which ends June 30. It is expected that the cost containment measures which have been implemented will reduce the amount of the deficit. However, if the present trend continues, the Program still will have a shortfall of funds needed to pay bills through June 30, 1982, according to the Governor's Office.

The Task Force held its initial meeting on January 12. Secretary Buck asked the Task Force to consider as its first priority the matter of the program's solvency for FY 82 and to offer its recommendations no later than February 15.

The other members of the Task Force are: Mac Bonner, M.D., Chief of Medicine, Provident Hospital; Andre Brewster, attorney and member of Johns Hopkins Hospital Board of Trustees; Louise Keelty, attorney; and Jane Ross, Ph.D., Prince George's County Acting Deputy Director of the Office of Research and Statistics, Social Security Administration.

Over $313,513 Recovered Under Collection Law

Maryland's Division of Labor and Industry recovered $313,513 during 1980 for employees who filed valid claims for unpaid wages under the State Wage Payment and Collection Law.

"The amount collected is a $65,292 increase over the previous year," stated Commissioner of Labor and Industry, Harvey A. Epstein.

Of the 2,272 claims investigated during 1980, 918 claims were found valid with the dollar value averaging $342 per valid claim.

The Maryland Wage Payment and Collection Law requires than an employee be paid the wages earned and permits the employee to file a written claim with the Division of Labor and Industry to recover any unpaid wages.

For additional information on the State Wage Payment and Collection Law, contact the Employment Standards Service, Division of Labor and Industry, 203 East Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202; no. 659-4188, (toll free - 1-800-492-7521).

If every household in the United States lowered its average heating temperature six degrees over a 24-hour period, more than 570,000 barrels of oil per day would be saved.

Fast Rising Dough.

First, take one small part of your paycheck, put it into the Payroll Savings Plan, and buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Then just sit back and watch your dough rise. 'Cause Bonds are one of the easiest ways to save you'll ever find.

(Not to mention one of the safest.)

After all, they've been around a long, long time. And they've always paid off. To the penny. And if they're ever lost, stolen, or destroyed, they'll be replaced.

So take stock in your country. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

When you need dough, they rise to the occasion.

Task Force To Address Medicaid Budget Deficit

Governor Harry Hughes announced last week the formation of a five-member Task Force to address the Medicaid budget deficit.

The Task Force was called together on behalf of the Governor by Charles R. Buck, Jr., Secretary of Health and Mental Hygiene, to study and make recommendations for controlling a major fiscal crisis facing the State's Medical Assistance (Medicaid) program, while at the same time assuring quality health care for the poor.

The Chairman of the Task Force is Donald DeVries, Senior Vice President of the Koppers Company.

The major charges to the Task Force are:

1. To ensure the solvency of the program and its ability to pay bills incurred and received in FY 1982, and

2. To recommend measures that will ensure within three years that the program can meet all financial obligations. This will include the provision of funds to carry forward to pay for services provided but not billed until the following fiscal year.

Governor Hughes, in emphasizing the importance of the Task Force said, "The potential magnitude of this Program's deficit, coupled with the bleak revenue projection picture, is a major concern of the State. Naturally, we want to provide the health care needed by the poor."

The Medicaid program is currently providing care to approximately 390,000 medically needy persons in the State. The crisis resulted primarily from increasing utilization of hospital services.

Extensive cost containment measures, including a 20-day per spell of illness limit on payment for hospital stays, became effective on January 1.

It was initially estimated that the program would have a deficit of approximately $80 million ($51 million in State funds) in the current fiscal year which ends June 30. It is expected that the cost containment measures which have been implemented will reduce the amount of the deficit. However, if the present trend continues, the Program still will have a shortfall of funds needed to pay bills through June 30, 1982, according to the Governor's Office.

The Task Force held its initial meeting on January 12. Secretary Buck asked the Task Force to consider as its first priority the matter of the program's solvency for FY 82 and to offer its recommendations no later than February 15.

The other members of the Task Force are: Mac Bonner, M.D., Chief of Medicine, Provident Hospital; Andre Brewster, attorney and member of Johns Hopkins Hospital Board of Trustees; Louise Keelty, attorney; and Jane Ross, Ph.D., Prince George's County Acting Deputy Director of the Office of Research and Statistics, Social Security Administration.

Over $313,513 Recovered Under Collection Law

Maryland's Division of Labor and Industry recovered $313,513 during 1980 for employees who filed valid claims for unpaid wages under the State Wage Payment and Collection Law.

"The amount collected is a $65,292 increase over the previous year," stated Commissioner of Labor and Industry, Harvey A. Epstein.

Of the 2,272 claims investigated during 1980, 918 claims were found valid with the dollar value averaging $342 per valid claim.

The Maryland Wage Payment and Collection Law requires than an employee be paid the wages earned and permits the employee to file a written claim with the Division of Labor and Industry to recover any unpaid wages.

For additional information on the State Wage Payment and Collection Law, contact the Employment Standards Service, Division of Labor and Industry, 203 East Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202; no. 659-4188, (toll free - 1-800-492-7521).

Accepted For Membership In U.S. Wind Band

Stephen Klier, Mt. Lake Park, has been accepted for membership in the United States Collegiate Wind Band, a selective musical organization which will make a concert tour of England and seven European countries next July and August. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Klier. He plays trumpet in the Southern High School Band, conducted by Richard Clever.

Two other seniors at Southern High School, Blair Glass and Mary Ruth Sincell, were also invited to membership in the USC Wind Band, however they presently do not plan to attend.

The invitation to tour with the United States Collegiate Wind Band was received from Prof. Al G. Wright, Director of Bands at Purdue University (Lafayette, Indiana) and conductor of nine previous United States Collegiate Wind Band tours since they were started in 1971. The USCWB Associate Conductor, Gladys Stone Wright, is the founding president of the Women Band Directors National Association.

The band will travel for three weeks (July 13-August 5) in England, France, Germany, Austria, Italy, Holland and Switzerland. Concerts will be performed in the cities of London, Paris, Lucerne, Innsbruck, Lugano, La Chaux-de-Fonds, Munich, Amsterdam, Montreaux, Cologne and Heidelburg.

The group will assemble in New York City for rehearsals prior to their departure from Kennedy Airport on July 13. While in New York City the USCWB will play invitational concerts at the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts and in the Plaza of the Americas at Rockefeller Center.

The members of the 100-piece Wind Bands are chosen from all over the United States once a year. Students from all 50 of the United States and seven Canadian Provinces have participated in the past USCWB tours.

In addition to performing concerts the Wind Band members will visit musical shrines, museums and places of musical interest including Richard Wagner's house in Lucerne, Mozart's birthplace in Salzburg and Beethoven's house in Bonn. They will also attend selected concerts and performances in various British and European concert halls and opera houses.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

The U.S. Navy recruiting station in Petersburg, W. Va., had announced that Michael Blaine Beard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beard, Swanton, recently enlisted in the Navy's Nuclear Power Program and will begin basic training in September at the Recruit Training Center, San Diego, Ca. Upon completion of basic training, he will attend Machinist Mate A. School at Great Lakes, Ill. Following that, he will go to Orlando, Fla., for training in nuclear power.

Beard is currently a senior at Southern High School, where he has been a member of the football and wrestling teams.

Sgt. Darrel R. Evans, son of retired Air Force Master Sergeant and Mrs. David E. Evans of Route 2, Grantsville, has been decorated with the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Lajes Field, Azores.

The Air Force Commendation Medal is awarded to those individuals who demonstrate outstanding achievement or meritorious service in the performance of their duties on behalf of the Air Force.

Private Vernon L. Warnick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald K. Warnick of Route 4, Deer Park, recently completed One Station Unit Training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combined basic combat training and advanced training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. This qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

Task Force To Examine Welfare Fraud Established

As part of a continuing effort to improve the management of Maryland's public assistance programs Richard G. Lacombe, Executive Director of the Income Maintenance Administration with the Department of Human Resources, recently announced that a Welfare Fraud Task Force has been established in an attempt to reduce welfare fraud.

According to Lacombe, the creation of such a task was recommended in the Income Maintenance Management Improvement Plan published November 1979.

Lacombe explained that the task force will review and evaluate existing local and state procedures and policies on the handling of welfare fraud as well as state laws dealing with the criminal justice aspects of the problem in order to make recommendations for improvements in the management of fraud detection and prosecution.

According to the Management Improvement Plan, instances of fraud and abuse constitute a small portion of the total public assistance caseload in Maryland. However, those that do exist tend to have a corrosive effect on the public's confidence in those programs which are designed to provide financial assistance to persons in legitimate need, Lacombe said.

The 13-member task force consists of individuals with expertise in public assistance eligibility determination, as well as the prosecution and defense of those accused of welfare fraud. A report of the task force's findings will be submitted to the Secretary of Human Resources, Kalman R. Hettleman, by December 1981 and will be used as the basis for determining the need for the possible submission of new legislation to the 1982 General Assembly.

The bride chose a floor-length gown of sheer organza. The bodice featured a scoop neckline trimmed with Venice lace and seed pearls. The short cap sleeves were trimmed with lace. The waistline was encircled with lace, holding the full skirt sweeping to a chapel train beneath a laced hemline.

A fingertip-length veil of sheer illusion fell from a Juliette cap accented with seed pearls.

She carried a bouquet of coral daylilies and cream-toned posies adorned with baby's breath.

The maid of honor was Olga Llantin, aunt of the bride, from San German, Puerto Rico. She chose a floor length coral gown of voile, trimmed with satin ribbon.

Janet and Mimi Pagan, sisters of the bride, served as bridesmaids. They both chose floor-length coral and white gowns of voile, trimmed with satin ribbons, accented with long sleeves and ruffled hemlines.

Each attendant carried a bouquet of coral lilies tied with cream-toned satin ribbons.

Jose Pagan, brother of the bride, served as best man. He wore a grey vested suit matching the groom's. Each wore a miniature cream-toned rosebud boutonniere.

Jocelyn Pagan, youngest sister of the bride, served as ring bearer.

She carried a satin heart-shaped pillow edged with lace. She wore a floor-length gown of white lace with a tiered hoop skirt and short, puffed sleeves. She wore a small coral bud corsage at her waist.

Tax Incentives Proposed For Woodland Owners

Eastern Woodlands are disappearing at a much faster rate than prime farmland, notes Dr. John F. Kundt, Extension forestry specialist and associate professor of horticulture at the University of Maryland.

Much of this loss can be attributed to urban sprawl, Dr. Kundt notes, and it should be cause for future concern by firewood consumers as well as paper and lumber manufacturers.

In an effort to help slow the loss rate, Congress last year passed the Packwood bill (Public Law 96-451), which authorizes the Internal Revenue Service to allow federal tax incentives to small non-industrial woodland owners for reforestation purposes.

These amortization and tax credit provisions apply only to reforestation for timber production purposes — not for Christmas tree growing or other ornamental purposes.

However, Christmas trees do qualify for capital gains purposes and allowances for depletion. But this qualification should not be confused with the amortization and tax credit provisions of the new Packwood bill.

Dr. Kundt has received word that the U.S. Department of Agriculture is cooperating with the Forest Industries Committee on Timber Valuation and Taxation in preparing a booklet which further explains provisions of the Packwood bill for woodland owners. Persons interested in further information should contact: Milt Nelson, (301) 454-3622 or Barbara Newman, (301) 269-3761.

Beekeepers Urged To Register Colonies

State Apiary Inspector J. Barton Smith, Jr. reminds all beekeepers in Maryland to check if they have registered their colonies for 1981.

The advantage of registration is that the Department of Agriculture will know where all bee colonies are so that they are available for inspection as a safeguard against bee diseases," Smith said.

According to Smith some 162 instances of bee disease were noted in the state in 1980, with such maladies as American and European Foulbrood, Chalkbrood and Sacbrood being diagnosed.

Those wishing to register their colonies should write to: J. Barton Smith, Jr., Maryland Department of Agriculture, Apiary Inspection, Parole Plaza Office Building, Annapolis, 21401 or call (301) 269-2667.

Goldstein Reports State Gasoline Consumption Low

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reported today that gasoline consumption in the state resumed its downward trend in November 1980, dropping to 153,796,138 gallons.

That's about two percent less than the 157,030,479 gallons consumed during November 1979," Goldstein said, noting that the recent decline just about equaled the increase in consumption experienced for October, 1980.

Gasoline consumption in Maryland had fallen off steadily since April, 1979 until July, September and October of 1980. During those months, slight growth was experienced over the same months of 1979.

"A determining factor in the current 'zig-zag' pattern of gasoline consumption will be the figures for the month of December, 1980. December is traditionally a heavy gasoline use month because of holiday traveling," Goldstein said.

The overall declines in gasoline consumption continue to affect the Motor Fuel Tax revenue available to the State. For the first six months of Fiscal Year 1981, Motor Fuel Tax revenue totals $94,759,381, about three-tenths of one percent below the $95,032,569 received for the same period of the previous year.

Grantsville P.A.C. Meeting Is Held

The Grantsville Elementary School Title I Parent Advisory Council met on January 13 at the school. Parents and staff attending included: Anna Miller, resource teacher; Rose Lee Folk, home-school aide; Frances Michael, resource aide; Lois Bittinger, Garrett County P.A.C. chairman; Nancy Glotfelty, Darlene House, Una Platter, Carol Swartzwelder, Josie Yommer, Carol Warnick, Marge Foy and Dorothy Hafod.

During the morning session Rose Lee Folk presented ideas for writing letters to the congressman concerning funding for Title I. Anna Miller helped write a form letter for the parents to send to the Maryland legislators.

The afternoon session emphasized the school volunteer program. JoAnn Whetzel, Friendsville resource teacher and Frances King, Friendsville resource aide, presented the ideas they have incorporated in their parent volunteer program. They emphasized the need for parent volunteers in the school and suggested areas which parents can be of service to the school. Parents were then involved in a workshop in which they prepared materials for various classroom teachers.

"First Mates" Majorette Corps Records Successful Season

The "First Mates" Majorette Corps held its annual Pageant and Awards Night in December, marking a season of 13 parade appearances, and numerous trophies and awards for members and leaders.

The Corps, which began training in 1971 under the direction of Doris Eddy, has offered instruction to hundreds of young ladies in the basic skills of baton twirling, according to their current instructor, Karen (Eddy) Hutson.

The "First Mates" performed before a panel of judges on a point system with Debbie Mason being named the Junior Queen. Leslie Ellis was runner-up. In the juvenile division, Leslie Moon was named the Queen, with Bonnie Ruston in second place and Renee Helmick in third place.

Other awards presented, based on 1980 performances, included Most Improved trophies presented to Juniors Angie Flanagan and Debbie Mason. In the Juvenile division, the winners were Trina O'Brien and Heidi Michaels. There was a tie for the All-Around Award between Leslie Ellis and Sherry Everett. Both received a trophy for outstanding work, cooperation, and participation.

Christine Gregory was awarded a five-year membership plaque, while Cathy Wilson, Trina O'Brien, Tracy Ellis, Tany Dragovich, and Joleen O'Brien earned attendance awards. Shirley Rivenbark was presented a gift as a seven-year marching mother.

In the 13 parade appearances in 1980, the group took first place honors eight times, second place honors three times, and one third place award.

Interested young ladies five years of age or older who may be interested in joining the corps may contact Mrs. Eddy at 334-3629.

GARRETT COMMUNITY COLLEGE
COMMUNITY • SELF • VOCATION

Women's Support Group Organized

A new support group of "Big Sisters"—women who have the desire to help other women—is being formed at Garrett Community College. This group has been organized to help women who come to college after a lapse in their education and who might be intimidated at the thought of taking classes with students just out of high school.

Members of this mentor group will help new women students find their ways through the admission and registration processes and refer them to the appropriate offices for information on financial aid, advising, career counseling, and personal counseling. They will also, where needed, help to acquaint new students with services available to them in the community.

From time to time during the semester the mentors will meet with the new students in small group situations for rap sessions and panel discussions on topics of concern to women.

The first group of mentors recently met with Rick Briggs, Joan Crawford and Marci McClive to discuss services they could provide during the coming spring semester. These women, who will be waiting to be someone's "Big Sister," are Roslyn France, Linda Bresnahan, Judy Lanphear, Pat Karbowski, Ruth Beltzel and Janice Hileman.

Women students who desire more information about this support group, or who would like to contact a "Big Sister," may call Joan Crawford at 387-6666, Ext. 41 or 42.

Martin To Teach Finance Course

A course designed to help the student manage his personal finances effectively will be offered during the spring semester at Garrett Community College. Personal and Consumer Finance, BUS 150, will be taught by local businessman Leo Martin at the McHenry Campus on Monday and Wednesday mornings, and at the Oakland Center on Wednesday evenings.

According to Martin, the course will cover such topics as how to save money, investing money, budgeting, securities, insurance, buying a house, and estate planning. "This course is for the average person who desires some general knowledge of how to better manage his own finances and to make intelligent decisions. It is not for the advanced student who would be seeking more specialized kinds of information," Martin stated.

Martin is a graduate of West Virginia University and holds a Master's degree in Business from Frostburg State College.

Music Courses Scheduled At McHenry Campus

Local musician James Roderick will instruct two music courses at Garrett Community College during the spring semester at the McHenry Campus.

Music Fundamentals, MUS 101, scheduled for Monday afternoons from 1-4 p.m., is designed for the elementary classroom teacher or for persons who desire to learn the rudiments of music, including scales, notes and chords. Students will learn to read music and to play simple tunes on the recorder and on the piano.

Instrumental Music, MUS 119, a one-credit course scheduled for Monday evenings, is for students who wish to develop proficiency in playing a particular instrument. According to Roderick, the course may focus on the guitar or on woodwinds, depending upon the interests of the students. It will involve basic musicianship geared for a general audience.

Roderick is a graduate of Frostburg State College where he majored in the flute, and holds a Master's degree in Music Education from West Virginia University. He was band director at Washington Junior High School in Allegany County last year, and is currently on the faculty at Potomac State College where he teaches flute.

For six and one half years, Roderick appeared locally and throughout the area as guitar player with the group Sound Affair. While at West Virginia University, he toured with the Percussion Ensemble. He will be appearing with the Miltenberger Jazz Trio at Garrett Community College on March 28 for the Highlands Concert Series.

Persons desiring to register for these courses may do so at the college during registration hours this week, or by calling 387-6666.

Basic Skills Class Offered

Three courses designed to develop basic skills needed for college work will be offered at the McHenry campus of Garrett Community College during the spring semester. The courses, scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 3-4:30, will be taught by Carole Ann Lovett, Assistant Professor of Reading and Study Skills.

Each of the one credit courses will last for four and one half weeks, or a total of nine class sessions. Spelling Development, LS 112, will be offered from January 27 to February 24; Vocabulary Development, LS 114, will be offered from February 26 to April 2; Rapid Reading, LS 110, will be given from April 7 to May 5.

Anyone desiring registration information about these courses may call the Registrar's office at 387-6666.

Tune Up For Fuel Economy

An Oakview Motors' tune-up can save you money in unnecessary fuel bills and help prevent the waste of our precious energy sources. National fuel economy tests on motorists' cars show that cars in need of a tune-up averaged a better than one-gallon per ten-gallon improvement after tuning to factory specifications.

Once Oakview properly tunes your car, you can play an important role in maximizing the mileage you get per gallon of gas.

Properly inflated tires, maintaining your brakes, suspension and steering systems, and good driving habits can also go a long way in improving fuel economy and cutting costly gas bills.

Tune Up For Improved Performance

Starting failures . . . rough idle . . . engine misfire or run-on . . . and hesitation upon acceleration are deficiencies in an untuned car that are not only aggravating and, in certain instances, unsafe, but also affect fuel economy and emissions, especially during cold weather. An Oakview Motors' tune-up can improve these conditions whether you have standard or electronic ignition. It can give you fast, easy starts . . . quick acceleration . . . and smooth, dependable performance.

So call for an appointment today. Whether your car's old or new, standard or electronic ignition, Oakview Motors will bring out the best in it. We offer professional tune-up services, quality parts, and do only the work you authorize. Your Car Care Specialists in Oakland.

Tune Up For Cleaner Air

An Oakview Motors' tune-up can greatly reduce the pollution that your car may be emitting and help clean our air.

During the fuel economy tests, emissions also were measured to determine whether the tuned cars emitted less pollutants. The results show that emissions can be cut in half by simply tuning to manufacturers' specifications.

Missionaries To Speak At Church

The Reverend Larry G. Graham will be guest speaker for a missions service at the Crellin Assembly of God Church this Sunday, January 25, at 7 p. m. The Rev. A. Ray Beahm, pastor, invites the public to attend.

Mr. Graham and his wife Donna, both ordained ministers, are newly-approved Assemblies of God missionary candidates to Paraguay, South America. In their first four-year term of missionary work, the Grahams will spend more than one year in language study, learning Spanish and Guarani Indian languages. They will then join a missionary task force to reinforce the Paraguayn church by establishing new churches, teaching Bible school, conducting evangelistic meetings and training Christians in churches.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham are graduates of Southern Bible College in Houston, Texas. Mr. Graham has done summer missionary work in Trinidad, Jamaica, Belize, and Guatemala, and was involved in missionary work in Central America and Southeast Asia for three years. They are presently taking post-graduate studies at the Assemblies of God Graduate School in Springfield, Missouri.

Incorrect Social Security Number Delays Tax Refunds

To avoid Federal tax refund delays persons who changed their names last year, such as newlyweds, should report the new name to their Social Security Administration office to ensure that the correct name and number match, the Internal Revenue Service says, because the records of the IRS must match those of the SSA.

Incorrect Social Security numbers and inaccurate addresses slow up processing and this can delay Federal tax refunds.

Another way to guard against unnecessary refund delays is to use the peel-off identification label provided with the tax package. If the name, address or Social Security number is incorrect, necessary changes can be made directly on the label, according to the IRS.

ASC Committee Suggests Checking Grain During Winter

"Farm-stored grain needs to be inspected not only in warm weather, but also during the winter," Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said.

When temperatures drop, insects in stored grain go almost dormant for the winter. However, grain located near the outer surfaces of the bin cools down before that in the center. "As the outside grain cools, insects will move toward the center of the bin where the grain is still warm," he said. The larger the bin, the longer it takes the grain to cool.

Producers who have farm-stored grain under loan are required to take proper steps and make year-round grain inspections to preserve the quality and prevent economic loss from insect damage. Crowl said farmers are responsible for any loss in quality or quantity caused by insect infestation or rodent damage.

Stored grain also contains moisture that may shift from one location to another primarily because of temperature differences that develop within the structure when surface and perimeter areas of the grain cool. Mositure from warm grain moves to cooler parts of the structure, resulting in damp areas within the grain that favor insect activity and mold development.

The ASCS official said if there is evidence of insect infestation, the grain should be fumigated as soon as possible. Liquid fumigants are most commonly used and should be applied on a calm day.

Farmers who are in doubt as to the quality of stored grain should contact the ASCS office as soon as possible.

Deadline For Wool Payments Is January 31

Garrett County farmers have until January 31 to file for incentive payments under the wool program.

Harry W. Hummel, Chairperson of the Garrett County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded farmers that they need to turn in their 1980 wool sales slips in order to be eligible.

Farmers who have record of their wool sales are eligible for payments, but only if the sales are reported to the county ASCS office. Hummel said the quanity sold does not affect the eligibility.

As of January 15, 30 Garrett County producers had filed for their 1980 incentive payments.

Hog Inventory Down In Maryland

Maryland farms held 220,000 hogs and pigs on December 1, 1980, down 15,000 head (six percent) from a year earlier, announced the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service.

Breeding hogs, at 29,000 head, declined 14,000 head (33 percent) from last year, while market hogs at 191,000 head, decreased 1,000 head (one percent) from 1979.

Market hogs under 60 pounds fell 16 percent in Maryland, while hogs in the 60-119 pound group remained the same as last year. Hogs weighing over 120 pounds increased 28 percent from December 1979.

An estimated 48,000 sows farrowed, producing 358,000 pigs, an increase of 23,000 head (six percent) above the 1979 pig crop. During December-May 1980 about 25,000 sows farrowed, 4,000 above the previous year. From June-November 23,000 sows farrowed, 4,000 less than a year ago.

'80 Production Levels Lower

Total production of corn for grain, soybeans, tobacco, sweet potatoes, hay, peaches and vegetables in 1980 was below 1979, announced the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. The only items to show increases were corn for silage, potatoes and apples.

A record high 640,000 acres of corn were harvested in 1980. The average yield of 72 bushels declined 27 bushels per acre from the 1979 record to more than offset the increase of 45,000 acres harvested. Production at 46.1 million bushels fell 22 percent below last year's record production, but 1980 still ranks as the fifth largest on record.

The second higest acreage on record of 390,000 acres of soybeans were harvested in 1980. A yield decline of six bushels per acre to 24 bushels resulted in a total production of 9.4 million bushels, 23 percent below the 1978 record of 12.2 million bushels.

Tobacco acreage for harvest, at 21,000 acres, was the second lowest on record. This acreage, and the poorest yield since 1975, at 1,075 pounds per acre combined to produce 22.6 million pounds of tobacco, two percent above the previous year, but three percent above the next lowest crop grown in 1975.

Maryland Income, Sales Tax Revenue Near Estimates

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced Monday that revenues from State and Local income taxes and State sales taxes are very close to the estimated levels given to Governor Hughes on December 12, 1980. Income and Sales taxes are Maryland's largest sources of General Fund Revenue.

Income and Sales tax receipts through the month of December 1980 are coming in just about as expected," Goldstein noted. He said that, for the first five months of Fiscal Year 1981, revenue from State and Local income taxes totaled $836,882,999, an increase of 6.2% over the $787,779,427 collected for the identical period of the previous fiscal year. "That's about three-quarters of one percent above the latest revenue estimate."

Sales and Use tax revenue for the same five month period of Fiscal Year 1981 amount to $309,393,533, or 4.4% more than the $296,454,149 collected during the same period of Fiscal Year 1980. Actual revenues for the first five months of Fiscal Year 1981 are 1.2% over the most recent revenue estimate.

"These sales tax figures reflect actual purchases made by consumers through November 1980. December holiday purchases will be reflected in the report covering 1981 revenues," Goldstein said. He cautioned that, in order for revenues to keep pace with the estimates, consumer spending would have to remain at a relatively high level.

The comptroller noted that, while the taxable food and beverage categegory and the apparel category of sales tax receipts reflect increases of 9.1% and 8.1% respectively over the first five months of Fiscal Year 1980, the General Merchandise category of collections is posting a relatively small 2.5% increase.

Goldstein also reported that the construction-related categories of sales tax revenue are showing little or no increase from last year. "The building and contractors category is nearly one-half of one percent below the collections received for the first five months of Fiscal Year 1980, while the Hardware, Machinery and Equipment category is 1.4% below last year's level," he noted. "The Furniture, Fixtures and Appliances category is posting a modest 1.8% growth."

Area Fraternity To Award Grant

Tri-State Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, an educational fraternity for men and women has announced its intent to award a $200 scholarship for college juniors and seniors already accepted into a teacher education program.

The scholarship committee is seeking applicants who reside in Allegany, Bedford, Garrett, Mineral, and Somerset counties of Maryland, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. Eligible students may be attending a college or university outside the tri-state area however they must reside in a county within this area.

To obtain an application, students should write to Dr. David Fell, 179 McCulloh Street, Frostburg, 21532. In addition to the formal application, candidates must submit three letters of recommendation, a self-statement, and a transcript of college work completed through December, 1980 or January, 1981.

Completed applications are due by March 15. Applicants shall be judged primarily on merit. Financial need will be considered if a final decision can not be made based on the aforementioned criteria.

All applications must be sent to Dr. William Bingman, Department of Education, Frampton Hall 218, Frostburg State College, Frostburg, 21532.

Eligible candidates are encouraged to obtain applications as soon as possible. The scholarship winner will be announced April 30, and the award will be presented at the May meeting of Phi Delta Kappa, Tri-State Chapter.

Hughes Proposes Group To Seek Energy Funding

Gov. Harry Hughes will propose legislation to form a state energy corporation that would seek up to $100 million in federal grants for energy conservation projects, the governor's aides said.

Most of the money would be for low-interest loans to businessmen and homeowners who want to make energy-saving improvements to their property. The state also would add several million dollars to the fund.

Benjamin Cardin, speaker of the House of Delegates, and Senate President James Clark have endorsed the plan, Hughes' aides said.

The bill would create the Maryland Energy Supply and Conservation Authority, which would be charged with trying to attract money set aside under the federal Energy Security Act of 1980. Half the authority's money would be used for loans to property owners who want to become more energy efficient.

The interest rate on the loans would be between 4 percent and 8 percent.

Legislation also would prohibit any utility from providing service to a new building that does not meet Maryland's conservation standards and eliminate laws that limit an employers ability to offer ride-sharing plans. It would limit an employers' liability for accidents suffered by employees riding to work in company-owned vehicles.

"It sounds like a good program. It'll receive strong support in the legislature," Cardin said.

Maryland Participants Being Sought For Heart Disease Study

The National Institutes of Health is seeking heart attack victims between the ages of 28 & 64 to participate in a study which lowers cholesterol to an unprecedented level. With a $21 million grant, the study investigates the highly-debated question of cholesterol's role in the progression of heart disease. Research is being conducted at four medical centers across the country.

The East Coast center, which opened a short time ago, makes the study available to Maryland residents. The center, located at The Lankenau Hospital in Philadelphia, provides transportation and lodging for all prospective participants and a companion to come in for a screening visit. Employers Must Supply W-2 Forms By February 2

Employers are required by law to make W-2 "Wage and Tax Statements" available to their employees by February 2, 1981, the Internal Revenue Service says.

To avoid delays in receiving the W-2 form, employees should make sure that their correct address is on file with the employer. If employees do not receive the W-2 by February 2, they should contact the employer to see if the form is available. If the W-2 has not been received by February 17, the employee should ask for assistance by calling the IRS forms/tax information number listed in the local telephone directory.

Taxpayers should have a W-2 form from every employer they worked for during the year, regardless of the length of the time worked, according to the IRS. If an employee is unable to get a W-2 before April 15 when the return date is due, a timely return must be filed, with a statement explaining the computations for the missing wage and tax information.

PUBLIC NOTICES

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory of Jervis Resh, who passed away January 27, 1978. God saw the road was getting rough, the hills so hard to climb. Then He came in tender love to guide his pilgrim home. We never shall forget that morning, just before the break of day, when He helped you up the stairs and led you far away. We knew our lives would be lonely, it filled our hearts with pain. We deeply feel our loss was your eternal gain. All your trust on Him was laid, your love while here will never fade. We will have memories down life's pathway, how you sang and how you prayed. You are living in that mansion up there within the Saviour's fold. The walls are built of jasper, the streets are paved with gold. There beyond the sunset and with other loved ones too. Dear God we pray for strength and guidance to meet again above the blue.

SBCC Reviews Funding Proposal To Benefit GCC

Maryland's State Board for Community Colleges met recently at Montgomery County College in Rockville, where the seven-member body discussed a new funding proposal which would benefit Garrett Community College. Mrs. Dana Thoman, Garrett County, was present as a member of the SBCC.

The proposal calls for $6,500,000 to be added to the $91,753,570 to be given to the state's 17 community colleges during fiscal year 1982. GCC is one of four community colleges in the state which receives state funds at a more concentrated rate because of relatively low enrollments.

Under this proposal, Garrett's college would receive in FY 1982, $1,636 per full-time student from the state; it currently receives $1,540 per full-time student or equivalency (several part-time students can be combined to equal one full-time student).

Judge Releases Man Suspected Of Child Abuse

A three-month-old child, the victim of alleged child abuse, has been placed in temporary foster care by the Garrett County Department of Social Services and the child's father, William Fike, 28 E. Alder Street, Oakland, who was arrested Wednesday night, was released on his own recognizance by District Court Judge Lewis R. Jones.

According to reports, the child was brought to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital just before midnight on January 31. The Sheriff's Department was notified approximately 3 a. m. by hospital officials who suspected possible child abuse as a result of examination. The infant reportedly sustained lacerations and bruises of the face and head, as well as leg and possible rib injuries.

According to information supplied by the Sherrif's office, the parents, William and Linda Fike, brought the child to the hospital and immediately left. The telephone number of the child's grandmother was given to the hospital personnel prior to their departure.

Fike was later arrested by Oakland City Police officer Ron Beeghly, assisted by a member of the Sheriff's Department, and charged with child abuse, a felony under current Maryland law. Fike was taken before District Court Commissioner Charles Pariseau, who set bond at $5000. Judge Jones later released the defendant on his own recognizance.

The child was treated for the injuries sustained, and placed in protective shelter care, where she will remain until the hearing.

The investigation is continuing by the Oakland City Police Department, because the defendant is a resident of the city, and the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

Giant Yellow Ribbon Displayed At Westvaco

Tributes to the freedom of the American hostages are being displayed in all parts of the country in all ways and manners.

Westvaco's Luke Paper Mill has erected a super yellow ribbon bow measuring 20 feet wide and six feet high on their 300-foot level stack in recognition of Thursday's National Day of Thanksgiving proclaimed by President Ronald Reagan.

Plant personnel erected the tribute to help employees celebrate the freedom of the imprisoned Americans.

A CONTENTED MUNCHER is stealing the scene, as well as the bounty provided by some thoughtful human for our fine-feathered friends who apparently also welcomed the breath of spring we've all been experiencing over the last several days. Winter returned last night, however, as temperatures dropped into the teens. With seed catalogs arriving almost daily, and the calendar showing 32 more days 'til the first day of spring, can warmer weather on a continuing basis be too far away?? In Garrett County?? Not a chance!

SBHE Approves GCC Addition, Student Center

The State Board for Higher Education unanimously approved the construction of an addition to the Learning Center at Garrett Community College at a recent meeting in Annapolis. The addition will be a student center and will be used totally by student services, according to Gobie Jessup, Dean of Administrative Services, GCC.

The total estimated cost of the 12,000 square-foot building is $673,000. Plans for the addition have been designed by Jacob Gresh and Associates, Pittsburgh and Garrett County, and have been approved by the GCC Board of Trustees.

The Garrett County Commissioners have approved the local share of the building and have budgeted for it, approximately one-third of the total construction costs.

The project exceeds existing state guidelines, according to projections by the State Board for Higher Education, by 750 square feet. This is because the state claims enrollment will drop and that the space is not needed. GCC officials, however, are certain that enrollment will increase each year, as it has since the college first opened.

Because the plans exceed existing guidelines, the state will agree to fund only 50 percent, or $264,227, instead of the two-thirds of construction costs it normally funds. This would increase The county share to $384,772.

Jessup, who has worked with this project since 1976, said that new guidelines will be coming out soon, and he is confident that the plans could meet the new guidelines. He said that he feels sure that the state funding will go back up to 67 percent after the new guidelines are released.

Jessup stated that there are several more steps before the

Sterling Shuts Down Operations

Sterling Processing Corporation, Oakland, closed its operations Thursday, Jan. 22 for an indefinite period announced Gilman H. Sylvester, vice president and general manager.

Sylvester stated the closing was made necessary due to circumstances beyond the company's control.

"We have several opportunities that we are exploring," he said, "but to date nothing concrete has materialized."

Study Reveals Proposed Industrial Park Site, Prospective Industries

An Industrial Development Study of Garrett County, which is now in the final draft stage, was presented to the public last Wednesday at Southern Middle School by Tom Jones, Director of Economic Development in Garrett County. The study was performed by Jerome Michaels and Associates, Washington, D. C., and Greenhorn and Omara, Inc., Riverdale. It was funded through the Appalachian Regional Commission Enterprise Development Fund.

In the site evaluation part of the study, findings indicate that a one-acre parcel of land located near Bausch and Lomb and owned by them is clearly preferred as a prospective industrial site. This site is located off Route 135 in the Shady Acres area of southern Garrett County.

Jones stated that, because the largest part of the county's population is concentrated in the Oakland area, and amenities exist there for industries, the Bausch and Lomb site is ideal. Other sites looked at during the course of the study are located in Hutton, east Oakland, and at Frick's Crossing.

Hutton residents present at last week's hearing appeared satisfied that the Hutton site is apparently shelved for now. Residents in the Shady Acres area, however, expressed anger at being notified of the industrial site decision after it apparently was already made. Don Thorn, who resides directly across from the proposed Bausch and Lomb site, stated that people there were never notified that this area would even be considered for industrial development.

Other concerns expressed by Thorn dealt with visibility of the industries located there, access roads, noise, sewer lines and other amenities, and the types of industries to be located there. He was particularly concerned with pollution aspects and the possibility that the industrial park might decrease property values in that area.

Jones explained that the Bausch and Lomb site is such that natural tree screening can be done at the time of construction of the industrial park. He assured Thorn that the

New Manager Of Herrington Manor Park Is Named

Gerald J. Sword is Herrington Manor State Park's new park manager. Forest and Park Services Director Donald MacLauchlan named Sword park manager, filling the vacancy created by the retirement of Charlie Thomas. Mark Wheeler filled in as acting park manager during the transition.

Sword began his full-time career with the Maryland Park Service as a park ranger at Patapsco Valley State Park in July, 1967. He had been a seasonal ranger at Fort Frederick State Park during 1964-65.

Calls To Garrett Central Alarm Up 16% In '80

Garrett Central Alarm reported this week that it handled a total of 12,222 calls during 1980, an increase of 1,672 or approximately 16% over the 1979 total of 10,550. Garrett Central received 8,339 calls during 1978, its first year of existence.

Of the 1980 total, 4,437 were 911 calls. The number 911 is to be used in emergency situations only, according to Garrett Central.

Calls of assistance from the two county rescue squads totaled 2,846, with Southern Rescue Squad handling 1,670, the Grantsville station of Northern Rescue handling 398 and the Accident station handling 290 calls.

There were 1,086 calls for help from area fire departments, which included ten departments within the county and two in West Virginia. One county fire department, Eastern Garrett, did not submit a report to Garrett Central.

The Oakland Volunteer Fire Department responded to 252 calls, followed by Deer Park with 125, Grantsville with 105, Deep Creek with 100, Friendsville with 82, Bloomington with 67, Accident with 66, Elk Garden with 58, Bayard with 53, Bittinger with 52, Gorman with 47 and Kitzmiller with 40.

Public service calls by fire departments accounted for 310 calls, while automobile accidents were responsible for 171 alarms. There were 111 structure fires, 75 vehicle fires, 74 flue fires and 66 field and woods fires to which fire personnel responded. The air cascade unit was dispatched on 39 occasions. There were a total of 14 false fire alarms.

Wynlyn's Files Appeal To Zoning Board's Decision

An appeal to the Garrett County Zoning Appeal Board's decision to reject expansion plans for Wynlyn's Edge, Deep Creek Lake, has been filed in the Garrett County Circuit Court.

The appeal was filed Thursday, January 22, by Wynlyn's attorney, Dwight Slover, Oakland.

Evelyn Weissgerber, owner of Wynlyn's, declined to comment on reasons for the appeal stating they would be expressed during the appeals hearing.

The expansion plans, rejected by the Board after a public hearing January 15, called for a two-story addition on the south side of the establishment and additional parking spaces directly across the highway. The addition would have included an extension of the game room on the lower floor and an open deck on the second floor. The parking lot would have included spaces for 70 automobiles.

The Board's main reasons for rejecting the proposal involved the increase in pedestrian traffic crossing U. S. 219, the increase in traffic due to the building's increased capacity, and concerns of increased noise pollution caused by outdoor entertainment on the open deck.

No date has been set for the hearing.

County Board Warns Officials Of Lean-Budget Year Ahead

Budgets may be especially lean for fiscal year 1982 the Garrett County Board of Commissioners warned county department directors Tuesday during a meeting to discuss the department's budgetary status at the halfway point of FY1980-81.

The commissioners, who are setting early deadlines this year for departments' budget requests for FY1981-82, told the officials that funds from the federal and state level would be cut this year, although they were not sure exactly how much.

They directed the officials to carefully analyze their expenditures and decide which areas could be curtailed. "Let's be extremely critical of ourselves," Chairman Ernie Gregg told the group.

After reviewing each department's financial status this year, the commissioners indicated the county's overall situation was not bad, but wasn't good either. They noted they would make it through the year without going into debt, but they would have to maintain a close watch over all county expenditures.

The commissioners told the officials of a different approach they were trying this year in handling those accounts which went into deficit.

Chairman Gregg explained that instead of automatically taking funds out of the contingency fund (which still has over $90,000 of the $125,000 allocated) to cover deficits, line items would remain showing a deficit. This would give the commissioners the option of either taking funds out of contingency or making budget amendments to reallocate monies from areas showing surpluses for the year to those in deficit.

The commissioners also stated that some areas showing deficits were not actually out of money because they would be reimbursed by the state or federal government.

Some budget lines where the commissioners noted as trouble spots were the monies appropriated for the county audit, automotives expenses for the sheriff's department, and the county employees' benefits package.

The sheriff's department informed the commissioners it would be able to transfer funds from one of its accounts to cover automotive expenditures.

The commissioners stated they would probably advertise for bids for the county audit in the future, because the county is paying almost double what other counties pay for audits. The county audit account is showing a deficit of $5,300.

In the benefits package, the commissioners said a miscalculation in budgeting social security payments caused problems in that line item which was over half spent by the end of December.

Another part of the benefits package, workmen's compensation, showed a deficit of $7,505 by the end of December.

The commissioners stated a practice instituted by a previous Board in which county employees can receive money from the county for a certain number of unused sick days resulted in a deficit in the sick leave account of $9,682 by the end of December.

Short'falls in revenues have also created some problems for

County Commissioners To Withhold Support For Mason's Coal Tax Bill

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners unanimously agreed Tuesday to withhold its support for the coal tax bill as proposed by Senator Ed Mason (R-Allegany, Garrett).

"We have been backed into a no win situation," stated Ernie Gregg, Board Chairman. He stated the commissioners believed the county should have taxing authority over the coal companies but they oppose Mason's proposed method of taxation.

Mason's bill would give the Garrett and Allegany commissioners authority to place a percentage tax on coal (not to exceed five percent of the sale price), and to use the revenues to rebuild coal haul bridges and roads.

The bill would not automatically impose the tax, Commissioner Lester Hunter noted, but would give them power to do so. Hunter said he agreed the county should have the taxing authority but it should have the authority to impose the type of tax it wanted.

Mason has stated he will not introduce the bill without the majority of support from the Allegany and Garrett commissioners. It has the full support of the Western Maryland delegation.

The commissioners said they received 107 letters from county citizens in response to an advertisement in local newspapers placed by Matthew Skidmore, president of the Maryland Coal Association, seeking citizen's opposition to the bill.

The commissioners indicated they were sympathetic to concerns of county strip-mine coal operators who would be forced to open their books to the government for taxing purposes.

They also noted the administrative costs involved in the bookkeeping necessary to keep track of each company's coal prices would decrease the total amount the county would actually receive from the tax. They stated they were not in favor of the state managing the taxation as proposed in Mason's bill.

The county presently spends $3,094.52 above the normal cost per mile for the road repair on coal-hauling roads. Coal-haul roads cost the county a total of $465,137 above the normal maintenance costs, reported the commissioners, because there are about 150 miles of road in the county designated for coal use.

The commissioners said Mason will not strike the percentage tax provision from the bill which would give the county a choice in the type of tax to impose.

Preliminary Census Report Shows County Population Increase of 23%

Population in Garrett County has increased 23 percent since 1970 according to the preliminary report of the 1980 Census of Population and Housing.

The report shows an increase in county population from 21,476 in 1970 to 26,502 in 1980.

Tim Dugan, county planning director, states this increase is consistent with projections by his office and state offices.

Dugan noted the figures for county housing are above projections. The preliminary report shows an increase in housing units from 8,663 in 1970 to 12,226. Dugan stated his office suspects the figures are too high, by about 2,000, and is cross-checking the figures with data from the state assessor's office and a recently completed county land use study.

The preliminary report shows population increases for four incorporated towns in the county and decreases for four towns.

Towns with population increases were: Accident, from 237 in 1970 to 243 in 1980; Deer Park, from 310 to 486; Mt. Lake Park, from 1283 to 1600; and Oakland, from 1786 to 1999.

Towns with drops in population were: Grantsville, from 517 to 491; Friendsville, from 566 to 509; Kitzmiller, from 443 to 384; and Loch Lynn Heights, from 507 to 501.

Population by Election District was: No. 1 (Swanton)-from 1079 to 1,306; No. 2 (Friendsville)—1,704 to 1,873; No. 3 (Grantsville)—from 2,517 to 2,991; No. 4 Bloomington) from 895 to 959; No. 5, from 1,071 to 1,318; No. 6 (Sang Run)—974 to 1,424; No. 7 (East Oakland)—1,813 to 2,170; No. 8 (Red House)—1,565 to 1,695; No. 9 (Finzel)—896 to 1,108; No. 10 (Deer Park)—1,130 to 1,441; No. 11 (The Elbow)—155 to 187; No. 12 (Bittinger)—366 to 854; No. 13 (Kitzmiller)—811 to 857; No. 14 (West Oakland)—3,443 to 4,312; No. 15 (Avilton)—432 to 366; and No. 16 (Mountain Lake Park)—2,302 to 3,121.

Dugan stated the impact of these figures on the county could not yet be predicted.

1981 GARRETT COUNTY DIRECTORY OF AGENCIES AND ORGANIZATIONS RELEASED — The Homemaker Career Opportunities Program of Garrett Community College, under the direction of Barbara Frey, recently announced the release of this directory, containing 138 different agencies and organizations which provide services to the county. Pictured above with Mrs. Frey is Mark Durst, president of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce. A donation of $500 from the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce enabled the printing of 100 copies to be distributed on a non-profit basis at a cost of $4 each, with the proceeds above the expenses to be repaid to the Chamber of Commerce. The book is available at the GCC Oakland Center on a first come, first serve basis.

County Directory Of Agencies, Organizations Recently Released

The Homemaker Career Opportunities Program of Garrett Community College, under the direction of Barbara Frey, recently announced the release of the 1981 Garrett County Directory of Agencies and Organizations.

The 1981 Directory contains 138 different agencies and organizations which provide services to the county. The project was initiated in March of 1980 in an effort to update service groups that might provide assistance to displaced homemakers served by the Homemaker Career Opportunities Program.

The original directory was compiled by Phillip K. Barton in co-operation with the Ruth Enlow Library in 1974, but its usefulness had diminished due to changes in the listed agencies, according to Mrs. Frey.

She is hopeful that other agencies will endeavor to keep the Garrett County Directory updated "to maintain its usefulness to the county and the agencies and organizations that make use of it."

A donation of $500.00 from the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce enabled a printing of 100 copies to be distributed on a non-profit basis at a cost of $4.00 each, with the proceeds above the expenses to be repaid to the Chamber of Commerce.

The Directory is available on a "first-come, first serve" basis at Garrett Community College, Oakland Center, Room 306. Persons interested in obtaining a copy of the 1981 Garrett County Directory may contact Barbara Frey at 334-9184 or come to the Oakland Center between 8:30 a. m. - 4:30 p. m. to pick up their copy.

Commissioners Ask Citizens To Observe Day Of Thanksgiving

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners have requested that all county citizens observe the national day of thanksgiving for the safe return of the hostages designated for Thursday, January 29, by President Ronald Reagan.

PE Says Higher Bills Result Of Colder Weather

Sub-freezing temperatures from late December through mid-January caused near record electrical demands in the Potomac Edison service area that will be reflected in electric bills, the utility said last week.

R. A. Roschli, manager of PE's Western Division in Cumberland, said the utility's sales to customers increased more than 12 percent during the first 13 days of January compared with the same period last year.

"This does not mean every customer's usage increased by that percentage," he said, "but it does show weather-related demand for electricity was up substantially. Unless this extremely cold period is offset by unusually warm weather during a billing period, more energy will probably be used compared with last year and bills will be higher." He said this would not be limited to electric heating customers. "Colder weather causes fans and motors on other heating equipment to run longer," he pointed out, "and brings demands for electricity for water heating, lighting and other uses."

Roschli said heating degree days at the company's headquarters in Hagerstown during the first 13 days of January were 30 percent higher than last year. "Theoretically, the degree day increased should have resulted in an even greater demand for electricity than we experienced," he continued, "but the effects of conservation by all classes of PE customers have apparently reduced the amount of the increase."

The manager said peak demand in a one-hour period in the company's service area was also higher than last year. At 11 a.m., on January 13 of this year, peak demand reached 1,515,000 kilowatts, up nearly five percent over the highest one-hour period last winter.

Allegheny Power System, of which PE is a part, reached a new all-time one hour peak demand of 5,564,000 kilowatts on January 12. The previous APS peak set in 1979 was 5,335,000 kilowatts.

Roschli pointed out that the demands on both PE and APS were higher than forecast for this winter and occurred while an industrial slowdown caused by the recession was still apparent.

NOTICE
TO WATER CUSTOMERS IN OAKLAND
The Town of Oakland has approximately 850 water customers. Some have experienced frozen water lines and others have let water run to prevent freezing. Some have shared with their waterless neighbors. Neither the Town nor the customers have been at fault in the situation. In fairness to both, where there is evidence that any of the above has occurred, the March quarter water bills will be adjusted as follows:
1. The least amount a customer will pay will be the minimum quarterly charge.
2. The maximum a customer will pay will be the highest amount paid in any quarter during the past year.
3. If the amount of water consumed is less than the last quarter the customer will be billed for that amount.

Silver Linings . . .

It can go without saying that the holding of the 52 Americans in Iran was a long, intense nightmare for the captives themselves and the members of their families. Having now heard of the treatment by their captors, we realize that their stay was far more unpleasant than we had ever imagined.

However, it is always therapeutic in getting over such an ugly experience to take note of any possible silver linings within the dark clouds.

Probably the most positive result of this ordeal is the realization and verification that patriotism does live in the United States. The services, prayers and raising of flags throughout the long days of their captivity and the overwhelming response of thousands of flag-waving citizens upon the release and return of the hostages has been so gratifying and has revealed much hope for our nation. The question of whether or not patriotism still existed, which has weighed so heavily on the minds of many Americans, has been answered. Such a wide-scale display of patriotism has not occurred since the return of the World War II veterans over 30 years ago.

We feel that this has not been a re-birth of patriotism, but simply a re-awakening. It has never left the country. Even during the dark days of the Vietnam war and the rebellious 60s, patriotism was not dead. However, as former President Richard Nixon stated, there exists a silent majority, which allowed the flag-burning of a few take the limelight. That flag-burning by a few, which occupied so much of the air space of the major networks, has been replaced with the flag-waving of thousands.

In reference to Vietnam, we find another possible positive side effect. We can now understand more than ever why many veterans of that war live with varying degrees of bitterness, for there were no parades, yellow ribbons nor grand homecomings for them. We carelessly missed a perfect opportunity to display a similar expression of patriotism then and show the same pride which the veterans so desperately needed and deserved.

Those persons who were so critical of former President Jimmy Carter may also now have a more favorable view of him. It is now common knowledge that he worked literally day and night for 444 days to secure the release of the hostages. He, above the dozens of other dedicated individuals who participated in this effort, deserves the most credit for the hostages' safe return home.

Although it's an idealistic thought, it would be wonderful if Americans could continue to express patriotism, without the necessity of a crisis.

Media Impact . . .

by Carol Kapel

The power of the press—words echoed through time since the early beginnings of the modern day newspaper.

The power is invisible but dramatically present. The printed word molds thinking, touches emotion, and serves as a voice for the people.

Lives have been drastically changed, greatly improved, and seriously jeopardized by the power of the press more than any other single media source.

Along with a newspaper's ability to change courses of living comes an enormous responsibility—that of delivering fairness and accuracy to the reader. A respect for privacy must be observed. The public's right to be informed must also be observed.

Perhaps now, in the midst of a most unusual event in America's history—the return of our imprisoned brothers—it would do well to consider the question facing news persons in every media field. Those persons must compare the former hostages' right to privacy with the public's desire and need to be informed.

Hopefully, the discretion of the majority will over-shadow the insensibility of those few bent on sensationalizing the ordeal. Hopefully, the majority will speak well for news persons everywhere.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

What a tremendous week, 1/18/81 through 1/25/81, was celebrated here in America! The events of the week have been beyond words for me to describe—the hostage release, the installing of a president and the re-uniting of the parents and families with our 52 hostages.

The scene on TV that brought tears to my eyes, rejoicing in my soul and bending of my knees was that of the 52 flags flying in the breeze and eight flags at half mast. I ask that God comfort the families of the eight who died carrying out their duty for America. I ask God to forgive us if we put the emphasis on anyone or anything that is displeasing in his sight, because we do get our desires out of context at times.

To God I give glory, to Jesus Christ I give praise, and to our flag and nation I give my allegiance.

Margaret Crawford

Dear Editor:

I just wanted to say something to the people of Garrett County. I am one of those who is from a poor family and I am also a school dropout. I'm not saying that I'm proud to be a dropout. It's just that if it hadn't been for a teacher and the principal looking down on me as if I were dirt and if anything was stolen or anything else happened at school I was one of the persons who was called to the office. Why? because we were poor and the rich children could do no wrong.

It wasn't my mother's or we children's fault that my dad couldn't work and we had to get welfare. But when my dad left my mom and we children, 4½ years ago during a big snow storm and we were living six miles out of Oakland at the time and had no wood to burn and no way of getting back and forth to Oakland for help, my mother and older sister would cut wood with a buck saw and wade in snow up to their waists, just to keep us together and in school. One good neighbor at Underwood helped all they could and the Church of God of Bayard brought us some wood, but mom kept us together. Even though dad threatened to have us taken away by the Social Services, she stuck with us and we stuck with her. And here 4 years later the Social Services steps in and takes my little brother, but only after my mother tries to break away on her own by getting a job and getting off Welfare, but she was only thinking of my brother when she got this job. She wanted better things for him.

Steven Thomas

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter to the poor people and I do not mean the ones who are on welfare and too lazy to work and lie back and draw a big fat welfare check.

It seems like you poor people out there who are trying to work and make a living and trying to catch up with the Jones', had better watch your step because just one little slip and your children will be taken away and what you worked for will be gone.

There's no way you are going to catch up with the Jones', because once you have been on welfare and try to make it on your own by working when you've been put down there in the gutter there's no way that Garrett County is going to let you out of that gutter to make your life any better or have a future with your children. You might catch up with the Jones', but not in Garrett County, because this is just another Harper Valley Meeting Place, only worse!

Thank you
Ruth Lloyd

P.S.

I do not mean people who need Welfare, I think that is a good thing for the sick and elderly.

Dear Editor:

And concerned citizens of Garrett County.

After reading this if anyone out there has a heart, then answer this letter. Just think if your children were taken away from you. If you thought the Iranians were awful for taking the 52 hostages, then think about the Dept. of Social Services. They aren't any better for separating families.

If we can't live together in our own County, how can we get along in love, and peace with other countries. Even animals fight for their young. I don't know how some people can sleep at night. Do you? Thank you.

Miner Sustains Severe Injury To Leg, Foot

Richard Cosner, 20, Mt. Storm, was listed in guarded condition in intensive care this morning at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital after undergoing several hours of surgery on his right leg and foot.

Cosner, an employee at the North Branch Coal Mine, near Bayard, had his leg caught, on Monday, in a chain device which drags the power lines to the mining machines. The rear portion of the foot was crushed and the leg and foot reportedly sustained massive tissue, nerve and bone damage.

He was transported to the hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad.

Study Reveals

types of industries to be located there would be small and non-polluting, with 20 to 40 employees per plant, and about six to 10 acres for a site. He stated that Bausch and Lomb and the Development Corporation of Garrett County will be selective in the types of industries to be included in the park.

Jones said that Bausch and Lomb is "very willing" to have the site developed and is willing to begin preparing for industrial prospects.

The Development Corporation obtained permission from Bausch and Lomb about three months ago to show the site to prospective industries. Jones stated that the site has been shown to three or four prospects, none of them firm prospects, however the Development Corporation will continue to act as an agent for the property. Prospective buyers will be asked to submit a purchase proposal to Bausch and Lomb.

The first step in preparing for expansion in that area will involve the construction of a sewer interceptor to run to existing lines in Mt. Lake Park, connecting to the Trout Run Sewerage Treatment Plant. Homes in the Shady Acres area may, by choice, connect into the system, Jones said.

Other steps include a sewer extension to the proposed Coca-Cola plant to be constructed in that area, and the completion of the Trout Run Sewerage Treatment Plant to meet state requirements. Sponsorship for these projects is uncertain at this time, as the Board of Garrett County Commissioners and the Garrett County Sanitary District are both involved with this area.

The county this week notified the State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene that it intends to apply for a state loan to pay for engineering services connected with these three planned improvements. The Garrett County Commissioners requested assistance from the Health Department in staff guidance and preparing a loan application. Jones indicated that all three projects must be submitted for application simultaneously, however, before that can be done a sponsor must be established.

The market analysis part of the study deals with industries presently in Garrett County and those best suited to come to this area. The study revealed that the largest sector of primary employment in the county is in manufacturing, agriculture, forestry, mining, recreation and tourism. Since 1970 there has been a 72 percent increase in manufacturing jobs here.

Some advantages for industries thinking of coming to Garrett County are the geographic location and linkages to good highways, the availability of coal, good trucking and railroad service potential and scenic and rural beauty, according to the study.

When industries look at the work force in the county they will be attracted by the good-sized labor pull confirmed by high unemployment here, perhaps a negative factor for Garrett Countians but a positive one for prospective industries, according to Jones. The study also revealed a 23 to 24 percent increase in population in the county over the past 10 years.

Employers in the county indicated that the work force here is, on the average, dependable, reliable, and efficient. The study indicates that prospective industries will, however, have a tough time finding skilled employees for small, labor intensive plants, such as machinists or sheet metal workers. As these types of jobs have not been here in the past, the study concludes that the skills are not here.

Another negative factor for area workers, but a plus for prospective county industries, is the lower wage rate and lack of union activity in the county. In response to this, residents present at the hearing indicated that industries should come into the area at a higher wage rate to avoid labor strikes.

The types of industries identified as good potentials for attraction to the Garrett County area are basically characterized by small plant size and machine or assembly-type operations, having unskilled employees or those who receive on-the-job training. Jones stated that many cited as good potentials are industries which produce different products than those produced by firms here now, and all are long-term industries with good growth prospects.

Second Impression

The Truth Will Emerge

by Harry Fox

What more needs to be said about the events of the last few days? The release of the American hostages has flooded the press, television and radio, and with good reason. There is scarcely one of us who has not been moved to feel a renewed appreciation for the sense of freedom, the rights and privileges of belonging to a free land.

In the flood of TV coverage and writing about the hostage release, though, we saw clearly the increasing power of the media. Precisely by being there, the press coverage became an "event" in itself. The media responds quickly to news. The hardware of on-location transmitters, microwave dishes, and the covey of reporters and technicians who descend, within hours, on a news site is a big part of the story. Some would say that the press assists, and even takes the lead, in the unfolding of such stories as the hostage release.

Perhaps the Iranians themselves discovered this annoying quality of a free press. Some months ago the world press was expelled from Iran because it was free. It could not be managed. It was impossible for the government to control the reporters and cameras. Officials stood by as crews roamed the streets. Better not to have them.

In the wake of this incredible story will come the inevitable backwash of secondary coverage. Books, movies, interviews and "in-depth" reporting will overwhelm, and then stupify, the viewer and reader.

What good comes from this? Some critics will suggest that such coverage is hardly "news." Where does the basic story end, and the "event" of, by and for the media begin?

Walter Lippmann said, "The theory of a free press is that the truth will emerge from free reporting and free discussion, not that it will be presented perfectly and instantly in any one account." It is true that much reporting of non-events results from the truly major events of our times. It is only natural that the free press, ready to do its job, will perform with the usual mixture of good and bad qualities.

The ability of the media to tell the story accurately and completely is dependent upon this freedom. Even though it gives government headaches, and the consumer eye strain, this free press is the only guarantee we have that the real story will be told. The truth will emerge.

County Board

the commissioners, The Liquor Control Board, which was budgeted to bring $93,000 into the county treasury, has not yet turned in any revenues.

The commissioners also said that they had allowed for up to $250,000 in tax discounts and credits in the budget, but that amount has exceeded $300,000.

Brad Frantz, Civil Defense Director, told the commissioners that the recent 14 percent hike in C&P telelphone rates will affect his budget since the phone bill is the largest portion of his operating expense.

Another area of unexpected expenditure was for the Elections Board which was granted the right from the state to charge the county for overtime hours.

The commissioners indicated they would investigate this policy saying the state should not be able to set personnel policy for the county. They stated that funds were not allocated for overtime pay and that no other departments were allowed this privillege.

SBCC Reviews

The new funding proposal was made public in mid-December by a subcommittee of the joint legislative study commission to study state/local fiscal relationships. The committee is headed by Delegate Lucille Maurer (D-Montgomery).

Part of this amount, $900,000, could be allocated specifically for student remedial programs and to help financially troubled Allegany Community College.

Goble Jessup, Dean of Administrative Services at GCC, stated that the college will hear whether the proposal will pass or not sometime in April or June.

Community colleges throughout the state this year have had more students enroll than what was expected by the state.

In December, the SBCC voted to ask Governor Hughes for a $2.5 million supplemental grant to pay for the 2,719 full-time students who unexpectedly enrolled at the state's community colleges this year. Funding appropriation is based on enrollment projections supplied by the state board.

If more students than anticipated enroll, the community college board may make a supplemental budget request, but until this year no supplemental request has been needed.

GCC is affected this year, as it has enrolled 590 full-time equivalencies (FTE), but is budgeted only for 570 from the state. This leaves 20 students for which the state may pay nothing, however Jessup indicated that there is a good chance the supplemental grant and the additional FTE's will be funded. As mentioned above, GCC currently receives $1,540 for each FTE.

Some of the reasons cited for increased enrollment in community colleges include rising tuition costs at four-year schools, inflation and comparatively low community college tuition rates.

Figures released this week by an official with the State Board of Higher Education indicate that Maryland ranks in the bottom third of the nation in financial support given to public colleges, even though the state is among the wealthiest and most-heavily taxed in the nation. Figures compiled by the board show that, in fiscal year 1970, higher education received 11.8 percent of the general-fund budget, but in the last fiscal year that share had dropped to 10.3 percent.

Commissioners Set Up Labor-Management Group

A labor-management committee will be set up between the county commissioners, county roads department and the Association of Federal, State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) the county commissioners decided Tuesday.

In unanimous action, the commissioners agreed the committee should be established to assure a better relationship between AFSCME, the county roads department and the commissioners.

Paul Shockey, personnel director, told the commissioners the committee, which will meet monthly, will help solve problems possibly before they develop.

In other business, Diana Wawzinski, county housing coordinator, requested the commissioners consider participation in the Section 8 Moderate Rehabilitation program, a Housing and Urban Development program offered through the state Department of Economic and Community Development.

The program would make rehabilitation loans available to landlords in the county and would be specifically for housing rented to low and moderate income families.

Community Action would administer the program on the local level, Wawzinski noted.

The Commissioners agreed to send a letter to DECD asking for a loan allocation for ten housing units in Garrett County.

Gary Mullich, Dr. Frank Custer and Jacob Gzesh presented a basic design of the Animal Health Laboratory building to be located at the Animal Shelter site. The commissioners unanimously approved the design.

During the county staff meeting, the commissioners instructed Gary Mullich, building manager, to reserve parking spaces on the southside of the courthouse for visitors' parking only. They authorized Mullich to have cars of county employees towed from those spaces.

Shockey Elected To State Board

Paul Shockey, county personnel director, has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Maryland Association of County Administrators.

The Association, a satellite group of the Maryland Association of Counties, is composed of personnel directors, county clerks and other administrative personnel organized to lobby for or against legislation affecting administration of county government.

The nomination of Shockey to the post was made during the Association's winter conference December 21-23, 1980 at Hunt Valley. Shockey received the results of the election January 12.

Shockey, who became personnel director in July 1980, stated the association also serves as an informational exchange group for administrative personnel for the 24 political subdivisions in the state.

Shockey will serve a one-year term on the five-member Board.

Many Vandalisms, Larcenies Occur Throughout County

During the past week the Garrett County Sheriff's Department has been investigating numerous vandalisms and thefts which occurred in various parts of the county.

Naomi Teets, Oakland, reported that someone entered her home on January 21, ransacked the living room, bedroom and kitchen and stole many items. Taken were jewelry, a silver service set, $50 in change, an AM/FM Stereo radio with a cassette player and recorder, and cassette tapes.

The glass on the front door of the residence was broken by the thieves when they gained entry. Total loss value is estimated at $372.

Car windows were reported broken out in the Swanton area.

Paul Viragh, Swanton, reported that someone broke the rear window of a camper top on his pickup truck while it was parked in the parking lot at Bausch and Lomb.

The incident occurred on Thursday and the damage is estimated at $150.

Also on Thursday, someone broke out the drivers side window of a 1977 Ford, owned by Alvin Meyers Blake, Swanton. Damage to that vehicle is approximately $50.

Police said that both windows were broken with an unknown object.

In a separate case, Mannering Harvey, Green Glade Road, reported that someone cut the copper tubing from his oil filter on a 275-gallon oil tank, sometime Friday night. Harvey lost about $70 in fuel, and the total loss value is estimated at $100.

Harriett Johnson, Mt. Lake Park, reported a theft which occurred at her residence in the Fitzwater Trailer Court on Friday. Unknown persons removed two 100-pound bottled gas tanks from the side of her trailer, each valued at $50. The bottles are the property of Par-Gas

A breaking and entering and theft was reported by Willard Dunham, Mt. Lake Park. During the night of January 20 someone entered his garage and removed two shovels and a five-gallon gas can filled with gasoline. Loss value is approximately $37.

Vandals left their mark on a C&P telephone booth near the Swanton Post Office, when a BB gun was used to shoot two holes in the glass, shattering it. The incident occurred during the night of January 21.

Also, four shots entered two windows of the U. S. Postal Service there. The loss value to both structures is undetermined at this time.

In a separate case, Arvey Ritchey, Mt. Lake Park, reported that he heard a loud noise outside his home on January 21, and discovered that his mailbox had been torn down and twisted. Police said it was apparently struck by a vehicle. Loss value is estimated at $30.

On January 18 change was taken from two soft drink machines.

Someone removed $15 to $20 in change from a machine in front of Mellinger Enterprises, Deer Park, and a similar amount was taken from a machine at Wynlyn's Service Station, Route 219, Deep Creek.

Case Review Seminar Is Well Attended

Films and discussions about cold water drowning and hypothermia highlighted a case review session last night at Southern Rescue Squad's training center, Oakland, attracting 69 persons interested in emergency care.

The review was developed by Mrs. Laurel Grant, assistant director of nursing at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, and presented by Dr. Paul P. Williams, Oakland physician.

The scope of information ranged from a successful rescusitation of a victim who had been under cold water for 40 minutes, to dealing with hypothermic patients whose body temperature had fallen to 77 degrees.

Members from Northern, Southern, and Terra Alta rescue squads, Deep Creek Fire scuba team, Garrett Memorial nursing staff and physicians, and a representative from the state parks attended.

In light of new techniques, development of a protocol for victims of cold injuries is now being considered.

Property Damage Reported In Two Car Mishap

An Ohio woman was involved in an accident on U.S. Route 40 near Rt. 219 on January 17.

Ida Smith, 52, Canton, was traveling west on Rt. 40 when an auto driven by Susan McClintock, Grantsville, proceeded to enter the highway from a private driveway. She failed to observe the Smith vehicle and pulled out directly into the path of the oncoming auto. Combined property damage was reportedly extensive.

Maryland State Police charged Ms. McClintock with illegal entry to a highway.

Theft, Destruction Head Court Docket

Theft and property destruction head the list of cases heard in Garrett County District Court last week by Judge Lewis R. Jones.

Richard Dale Ward, 29, currently an inmate at the Garrett County Jail, was charged by Deputy Larry Gnegy with malicious destruction of property stemming from a window breaking incident at the jail on December 27.

Ward was found guilty and sentenced to three additional months in jail. He was credited with 63 days served while awaiting trial. The balance of the sentence will be served concurrent with Ward's current term.

Two men from Frostburg, apparently planning winter food storage at the expense of others, were surprised in their act of potato digging in a garden near Frostburg. The surpriser was the farmer who just happened to own the garden. The men were chased from the premises, leaving without their 200 pounds of loot.

State Police charged Elmer Joseph Yutzy and Terry Lashbaugh with attempted theft.

Judge Jones found the pair guilty and levied a 30-day jail sentence, which was suspended. The men were placed on 12-months unsupervised probation.

James E. Nicol, 27, Keyser, W. Va., was found guilty of assault against a minor female.

According to Trooper Gary Berkebile, Maryland State Police, Nicol and the victim were guests at a wedding reception. According to the report, Nicol took the juvenile to his vehicle where the assault took place. The girl's mother discovered the incident and police were notified.

Judge Jones found Nicol guilty of assault and levied a six-month jail term, which was suspended. The defendant was placed on 24-months supervised probation.

A charge of assault with intent against Nicol was declared nolle prosequi by the state's attorney.

Eugene Roy, 25, Mt. Lake Park, was found guilty of issuing a worthless check to Oakview Motors as payment for gasoline.

Judge Jones ordered probation before judgment.

A case of destruction of property against Jackie Garland Friend, currently an inmate at the Garrett County Jail was transferred to Garrett County Circuit Court.

A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of Bruce Ickes, Meyersdale, Pa., who failed to appear to face charges of theft.

County Endorses Bill For Open Space Flexibility

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners yesterday signed a letter stating the board's endorsement of Senate Bill 246, which was sent to various legislators and Senator Melvin A. Steinberg, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. SB 246 would provide greater flexibility in the use of the county's Program Open Space allocations. This matter was presented before the board by Tim Dugan, Garrett County Planning Director.

Program Open Space, a state-funded recreational land and facilities program, presently requires that 50 percent of each county's program funds be used for acquisition of land, while the other 50 percent may be used for acquisition or site development. The board contends that this requirement should be made more flexible in a county with vast public recreation land ownership, such as Garrett County, which has more than 76,000 acres of State Forest and Parks land.

The letter indicates that there is no justification for Garrett County to purchase land merely for the sake of owning undeveloped land. According to Dugan, this county has also run into the problem of project land costing less than one-half of a total project cost, in which case the project must be abandoned in observance of these state guidelines.

The Department of State Planning opposes SB 246 because the standards are thought to be too low in relation to the standard of 30 acres per 1000 persons imposed by the Maryland Outdoor Recreation and Open Space Plan. However, Garrett County already contains more than 3,000 acres of public recreation land per 1,000 persons, and the board indicated that the need to acquire an additional 30 acres per 1000 persons in this county is "illogical".

SB 246 would, for two fiscal years only, grant flexibility to those counties that clearly have made progress towards meeting local recreation acreage needs.

Artists, Craftsmen To Display Work In Oakland Store

Garrett County artists and craftsmen will now have two places to display their work in Oakland. Besides the Arts 'n Crafts Centre, Decorator's Nook will provide a display corner for arts 'n crafts, opening February 1, says owner Sheila Orr.

Ms. Orr says a corner of her store will be strictly devoted to the work of area artists and craftsmen but the display will have a different twist: the corner will be for lovers with all the work centered on a romantic theme.

"The idea is to put the romance back into Valentine's Day," says Ms. Orr. The corner, she noted, will be special because it will be a place customers can buy gifts made by local artists and craftsmen.

She pointed out that the corner will provide the artists and craftsmen a contact with persons wishing to commission custom work.

In the corner will be pottery by Barbara Kates, stained glass by Dennis Friend, paintings by Sophia McDonald, crystals by Maggie Mullich, cushions and dolls by Joan Glotfelty, etchings by Ron Skidmore, and weavings by Lyne Richmond.

Undergoes Surgery Following Accident

Steve Durst, 27, Morgantown, W. Va., son of Mrs. Ruth Durst, Oakland, underwent six hours of surgery Monday at the West Virginia University Medical Center after having been seriously injured in a single car accident January 19 near Morgantown.

Durst suffered fractures of the jaw, nose and facial bones, as well as severe lacerations to the face and leg. It is expected that he will have to undergo further surgery at a later date.

Reportedly, Durst was driving his automobile home late at night, when the vehicle hit a patch of ice, went out of control and struck a telephone pole.

UP FOR TWO goes No. 42 Brad Yoder of the Northern Huskies as teammate Lowell Yoder, No. 14, observes. At right, Stan Eggleston repeats the performance for the Huskies. Their efforts were unfortunately in vain, however, as the Huskies dropped that contest to the Flintstone Aggies Friday evening by a single point, 56-55.

Huskies Nipped By Aggies, Rebound Against Savage

After suffering a disappointing one-point loss to Flintstone Friday evening, 56-55, the Northern Huskies got back on the winning track last night by defeating Mt. Savage, 67-55.

"We played an excellent first half against Flintstone, but let everything fall apart in the second," Coach Harv Speicher stated. Northern held a two-point lead at the end of the first quarter, 16-14, and expanded that margin to 32-24 at intermission. The Aggies took over the momentum in the third period, however, and pulled to within one, 39-38, going into the final eight minutes.

The lead exchanged hands throughout the final period, and with just four seconds left on the clock, Robert Rudy netted a 12-foot jumper to capture the upset win for Flintstone.

Dick Bender led a balanced Husky attack, finishing with 13 points, while Weldon and Brad Yoder contributed 12 and 10 points, respectively.

Scoring honors went to Flintstone's Brad Heavener, who recorded 19 points. Greg Rinker scored 11 and Paul Fletcher, 10.

Both teams hit 19 buckets on the evening, but the visitors converted 18 of 26 attempts at the free throw line, compared to 17 of 24 by the Huskies.

In reference to last night's contest at Mt. Savage, Speicher said, "We played good, consistent basketball and an excellent fourth quarter for a change." The win was Northern's seventh against seven losses and gave the Huskies a feeling of revenge, as the Indians had defeated them earlier in the season, 67-62.

Mt. Savage held a one-point advantage, 16-15, as the first period ended and carried a three-point margin into the locker room at the half, 30-27. However, Northern continued to apply pressure in the third period and knotted the score at 45 when the final stanza opened. The Huskies outscored the Indians 22-10 in the final eight minutes to give them the convincing win.

Dick Bender once again led Northern's scoring, hitting six goals and five of seven at the line for 17 points. He was but one of five Huskies reaching double figures, as Weldon Yoder netted 15 points, Tim Yunker finished with 12, Brad Yoder, 11, and Stan Eggleston, 10.

Mike Mathews netted 14 for the losers, while Chuck O'Baker hit 11 and Mike Clauson and Kevin Bittner contributed 10 apiece.

Both teams hit 25 field goals, but the Huskies held the edge at the foul line, converting 17 of 24 attempts, compared to a five-for-seven effort by the Indians.

Northern will not return to action until next Tuesday when they host Oldtown.

Ringer repeated her 18-point performance against the home standing Beall girls, however it was not nearly enough as the host team recorded its seventh win in ten starts. Cheryl Guthrie added 12 points to Northern's total.

Westvaco's Luke Mill

$100,000,000

Economic Impact

Westvaco's Luke mill, the oldest manufacturer in Allegany County and one of the nation's largest paper mills, has a very significant impact on the economy of the area surrounding the mill.

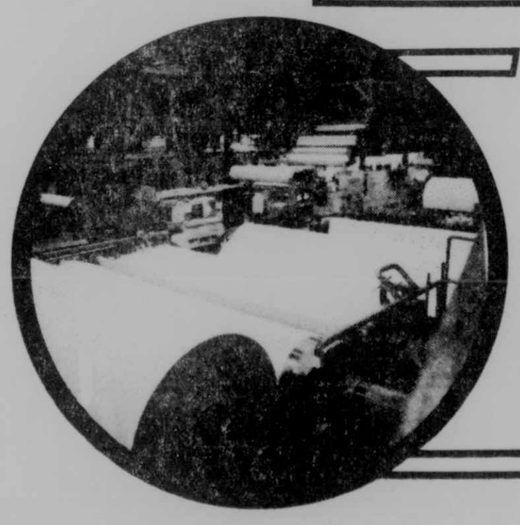

The total impact of the Luke mill operation was $100,000,000 in 1980. The skills, knowledge and dedication of nearly 2,000 valued employees help make this a reality.

The tremendous growth of this economic impact in recent years is reflected in the dramatic increase in taxes paid, pulpwood and coal purchases, employees' wages and benefits.

A breakdown of some specific area expenditures are shown in the chart below. Not counted in these figures are additional millions spent for raw materials, pollution abatement facilities and operating equipment.

AIRBORN is No. 34 Dave Harsh, of the Southern High Rams, as he nets two against the Valley Black Knights Friday evening. At right, Valley's Dave Smith sinks two foul shots with just two seconds remaining, to give the visiting Black Knights the win, 63-61.

Rams Nipped By Valley In Final Two Seconds

When the number one and two teams in the area are pitted against one another, the fans turn out expecting to see a real thriller, and the more than 1,000 supporters at the Southern-Valley game Friday night in Oakland were treated to just that. However, the outcome for the home team was disappointing, as the Rams lost 63-61 on two successful foul shots by Dave Smith with just two seconds remaining. The Rams had been up by as many as 13 points at one time in the contest.

The Black Knights, who came into the contest with a 12-1 record, led at the end of the first quarter, 14-12. However, Southern caught fire in the second period and went to the locker rooms with a 36-27 advantage.

The momentum shifted once again in the third period and Valley outscored the home team 13-4 to take a 48-46 lead into the final eight minutes. Southern managed to regain the lead early in the fourth quarter and hold a two or three point edge until late in the contest when Valley knotted the score at 61-61 with 1:46 remaining.

Coach Tom Bosley's strategy was then to run down the clock and allow his Rams to take a final shot. With 13 seconds remaining, he called a time out to organize the attack.

With approximately five tick remaining, Brain Selders attempted a 20-footer, which bounced off the rim. As Smith went for the rebound, he was fouled by Gary Heginbotham and made both ends of the one-and-one good, which sealed Valley's win.

Southern, whose record fell to 10-3, had lost earlier this season to the Black Knights by a fairly wide margin. Chances are good that the two teams will meet one more time in post-season action.

Southern's scoring was led by center Jeff Ryscavage, despite playing with a severely lacerated right index finger which he suffered a week earlier and required several stitches. He netted eight goals and four of six at the line for 20 points. Dave Harsh was close behind with six goals and a perfect six-for-six at the line for a total of 18 points. Selders contributed 13 markers.

Pacing all scorers was Valley's Dave Winner, who recorded 22 points, while Smith finished with 20 and Rick Conner, who was eight-for-eight at the line, chipped in ten.

Southern outshot Valley from the floor by a 24-22 margin, however the Black Knights made good on 19 of 23 attempts at the free throw line, compared to a 13-for-16 effort by the Rams.

Southern Earns Eleventh Win By Stopping Campers, 49-43

Following a two-point deficit at the half, the Southern Rams came on strong in the third period and outscored the Allegany Campers 17-8 last evening, to capture their 11th victory, 49-43, on the Cumberland floor.

The 3-9 Campers had upset on their minds, as they maintained a slight edge throughout the first half. The first quarter closed with Allegany on top, 10-8, and they led at the half, 22-20.

The cold-shooting Rams finally warmed up and jumped out to a 37-30 lead as the final stanza opened. A similar lead was maintained until the final buzzer.

Brian Selders was the only Ram who finished in double figures, as he connected on eight goals and hit a perfect four-for-four at the line. Jeff Ryscavage, the Rams' leading scorer, has been playing with a severe injury to his right index finger and could manage to contribute only six points.

The scoring pattern was similar for Allegany, as Junior Meade was the only Camper with double markers. He netted 20 points, also on eight buckets and four of six from the line.

Both teams netted 13 of 18 attempts at the free throw line, however the Rams held an 18-15 edge from the field.

The Southern Jayvee squad was also victorious, edging their Allegany counterparts, 53-50.

The Rams will be seeking their 12th win Friday when they host Elk Garden.

Southern Matmen Ripped By Valley, Remain Winless

The Southern Wrestling Team remained winless this week, as they traveled to Valley Thursday evening and were defeated convincingly, 47-16, by the Black Knights. It was Valley's fourth win in eight outings.

Southern won only one match on the mats, as 107-pound Tim Liller pinned John Thomas. Gordon Gregory and Wade Dever added some points to the Rams' total by battling their opponents to draws in the 100 and 128 pound class, respectively, while Leroy McRobie was declared the winner via forfeit in the unlimited division.

Earning pins for Valley were Bob White, Steve Thomas, Al Bosley and Tom Brode. Mark White and Marty Bennett won by decision for the Black Knights, while Kevin Lee was declared winner by forfeit.

The Rams will be looking for their first win this evening when they visit Central Preston.

Lakers Aggressive Play Produces Only One Win

The Garrett Community College Lakers, under Coach Randy Hess, played possibly their best basketball all season during action this past week, however, despite that possibility they recorded only one win in three outings.

The Lakers played aggressively Thursday evening against an always powerful team at Baltimore Community College, wiping out substantial leads by the home team on a couple occasions, but falling short of a win by a 61-53 margin.

Baltimore maintained a fairly comfortable lead throughout most of the first half, leaving the floor at intermission with a 35-24 advantage. The Lakers were plagued by turnovers, committing 27, most of which in the first half.

GCC came back fired up in the second half and eventually narrowed Baltimore's lead to four, 57-53, with one minute to play. That marked the end of the Lakers' scoring, however, as Baltimore gained its 16th win against only four losses.

Miguel Rojas led the Lakers' point-producing efforts, as he hit nine goals and one of three from the line for a total of 19 points. Jerome Hampton was the only other Laker reaching double figures, scoring 14 points on seven buckets.

Baltimore's Freddy Moore led all scorers with 22 points, while teammates Tony Williams, David Dunston and Stewart McCoy netted 14, 12 and 11 points, respectively.

The home team won the contest at the foul line, as both teams hit 26 goals from the field. Baltimore converted nine of 21 attempts at the line, while Garrett hit only one of seven free throws. The Lakers were out-rebounded 46-41.

The Lakers traveled to Cumberland Saturday evening to face arch rival Allegany Community College, and although they produced what may well have been their most outstanding performance of the season, they came home with a heartbreaking loss, 67-65.

The Trojans secured the win with just five seconds remaining, as freshman Mark Trenter, a second string player, sank two free throws, his only two points of the evening. The win was Allegany's 17th in 21 starts this season.

Garrett was trounced by the Trojans earlier this season, 102-75, on the Lakers' court.

The first half of action ended with Allegany on top, 37-32. The Lakers pulled to within three early in the second half, 43-40, but the margin expanded to ten, 55-45, on two long jumpers and a pair of foul shots by Dave Hobel. GCC came back once more and at the five minute mark, were down by just four, 63-59.

The momentum remained in the hands of the Lakers and four successful foul shots by Perry Lee and Miguel Rojas and a bucket by Jerome Hampton resulted in a 65-65 score with less than a minute to play.

A missed layup by ACC's Gary Timberlake gave the Lakers the opportunity to win the game on one final shot. However, Adam Bostick fouled Laker guard Shawn Finney with just nine seconds remaining. Finney's first attempt on the one-for-one bounced off the rim and Trenter pulled the rebound. H. A. Savage then committed the fatal personal, which sent Trenter to the line and resulted in Allegany's win.

GCC's Miguel Rojas won game honors for scoring, as he connected on 11 goals and five of seven free throws, for 27 points. The 6-5 sophomore also grabbed 11 rebounds.

Hampton and Brian Black each added 11 points to Garrett's total.

Hobel led the Trojans' scoring, with 20 points, while Adam Bostick and Timberlake were close behind with 18 apiece. Don Betts paced ACC's rebounding with ten.

Garrett outshot Allegany from the field by a 24-23 margin, however, ACC converted 21 of 30 free throw attempts, compared to a 17-for-22 effort by the Lakers.

Garrett got back into the win column Monday evening at home as they stopped CCAC-Boyce Campus, 79-72. The victory improved the Lakers' season record to 8-7.

Garrett remained at arm's length during most of the first half of action, going to the locker room with a 32-28 advantage. At one point in the second half, however, GCC was on top by 19 points.

Brian Black found the hoop nine times from the floor and converted two of four free throws to lead the Lakers' scoring with 20 points. Jerome Hampton hit eight goals for 16 markers and Miguel Rojas and H. A. Savage each added ten points to the Laker total.

Leonard Franklin hit 11 goals and four of four at the line to emerge as Boyce's top scorer with 26 points. Billy Pugh bucketed 16 and Nate Newsome netted 14 points.

The Lakers outgunned Boyce from the floor by a 37-34 margin and converted five of eight free throw attempts, compared to a four-for-11 effort by the visitors.

Savage and Perry Lee each grabbed ten rebounds for Garrett, while Black had three steals and Shawn Finney provided six assists.

Garrett will be seeking its ninth win this evening by hosting Potomac State, a team which the Lakers defeated early in the season.

Huskie Matmen Mash Bruce, Then Suffer First Loss

The Northern High Wrestling Team upped its record to 7-0 last Thursday evening by crushing the visiting Bruce Bulldoge, 56-8. However, the hopes for an undefeated season were dashed Monday evening as the invading Beall Mountaineers stopped the Huskies, 38-22, also on Northern's mats. Beall also has a 7-0 season ledger.

Bruce could manage only two wins, both by decision, against Coach Dale Garlitz' squad. Northern recorded eight wins, by the pin and two more by decision.

Greg McKenzie put Northern on the board first, as he decisioned Joe Clem in the 100-pound class. The Huskies then reeled off four straight pins, by Jamie Spiker, MervKamp, Jeff Graham and George Belch to take a commanding lead. This was followed by a decision by Bob Lipscomb of Northern in the 134-pound class and three more pins by Don Gillum, Darren Kamp and Troy Margroff.

Bruce finally earned some points in the 169 and 187-pound classes when Derrick Walker and Andy Whetzel won by decision.

William Wilt put the icing on the cake for the home team as he pinned Roger Trenum in the unlimited class.

Only four Huskies were able to gain victories against Beall, while the Mountaineers won eight of the matches.

Winning on pins for Northern were Bob Lipscomb in the 134-pound class, Don Gillum in the 140-pound class and Troy Margroff in the 157-pound class. Jamie Spiker won the 107-pound category by decision.

Recording pins for the Mountaineers were Kevin Kutler, Brett Davis and Barry Mazer, while T.R. Mazer, Scott Raley, Doug Barmoy and Duane Miller. Mark Wright won by forfeit in the unlimited class.

The Huskies also participated in the Fort Hill Invitational Tournament on Saturday and wound up in fifth place out of eight teams. George Belch, Don Gillum and William Wilt took runnerup trophies in their respective weight classes, while Merv Kamp finished third in the 114-pound class.

Winning the tourney was Fort Hill, followed by Meyersdale, ANC Academy of Philadelphia, Keyser, Northern, Jefferson, South Hagerstown and Hyndman.

The Huskies will be seeking their eighth win of the season when they travel to Berlin tomorrow evening.

Oakland Dropping Out Of Pen Mar Baseball League

Oakland will no longer have a team in the Pen Mar Baseball League. That is, unless someone is interested in picking up the team's franchise.

That announcement came yesterday from Terry Helbig, treasurer of the League and the individual who has been carrying the Oakland franchise for several years.

The League will hold an organizational meeting to begin its 33rd consecutive year tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at the Cumberland Legion Hall. Last season's teams included: Oakland, Island Creek Coal, Bel Air, Mt. Savage, Cumberland Legion, Cresaptown, Moorefield, Franklin Life Insurance, Hyndman, Everett and Tri-Towns, which was the league championship team.

Oakland, which had been in the league since 1973, enjoyed its best season ever last year, finishing with a 22-8 record.

Helbig stated that anyone interested in keeping Oakland in the League should attend the meeting tomorrow evening or contact him at 334-3343 or League president, Tack Clark at 304-788-1809.

Highlights for the 1981 season include a tentative 34-game schedule and an attempt to gain more exposure for the top quality ball players in the League through better communication with major league scouts.

Governor Talks To Senior Citizens

Hughes Ties Programs, Benefits For Elderly To Economic Recovery In 1981

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Gov. Harry Hughes told about 500 elderly men and women Tuesday that programs benefitting them had escaped cuts despite hard economic times, and promised them the state's economy would improve.

"We haven't had to cut welfare or social service programs," Hughes told a gathering of the United Seniors of Maryland, whose members packed the ballroom of a local hotel to discuss legislative issues.

"We feel if we can get by this year, things will be better. But we're going to have a tight next year or 18 months," the governor said.

Hughes reiterated his position that much of the state's current fiscal problems are attributable to huge tax relief programs enacted the past two years — programs he said "mostly benefited those on fixed incomes" such as the elderly.

He specifically cited the decision to repeal the tax on home heating fuels, to triple the standard deduction on income taxes, and to extend the homeowners' property tax credit program to renters.

The governor was described by meeting chairman Francis Holsinger, a retired Eastern Shore school principal, as "a young local boy who has made good," and drew applause when he said he hoped to pump an additional $1 million into the renters' tax credit program.

"mostly benefited fixed incomes . . ."

"It isn't working as well as I had hoped," he said. "The parameters are too stringent. So, we plan to relax the eligibility requirements."

Facing a sea of white hair and elderly faces, the governor also said he supported creation of an ombudsman program through which elderly residents of nursing homes would be represented.

He also said the state was committed to continuing efforts to move residents out of nursing homes and facilities for the handicapped or mentally retarded and back into private homes where the patients could be cared for by families.

But after his brief speech, Hughes said he opposed one legislative request of the elderly that would make the state's Office of Aging into a cabinet level department.

He said such a move would be both unnecessary and costly.

He told the group, "I wish I could do everything you would like me to do," and made them laugh by saying, "As each year goes by, I seem to get a greater interest in this organization."

Crusading Delegate Supports Elderly "Lone Ranger's" Cause, Beliefs

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI) — If the Lone Ranger ever needs another sidekick there is always true blue Maryland state Delegate Raymond Dypski.

The Baltimore Democrat has asked the General Assembly to help him support actor Clayton Moore as the "real" masked crusader, and also reaffirm his belief in American heroes.

A House committee hearing was scheduled Tuesday afternoon on Dypski's resolution.

Dypski is a portly, 57-year-old lawmaker best known previously for his successful effort to get a study made of discrimination against fat people.

He said he had hoped Moore, who appeared as the Lone Ranger in 169 television episodes and two movies, would show up himself to explain how a judge had essentially stripped him of the right to wear in public the mask that had made him and the Old West character he portrayed famous to a generation of Americans.

"It is a wonderful feeling to have men like you and (co-sponsor Delegate David) Shapiro so very interested in my plight and the Lone Ranger character," Moore wrote to Dypski in a letter that explained how a scheduling conflict would prevent him from coming to Maryland.

"So, please let me express my gratitude to you and to know that we, as Americans, believe in our country, our youngsters and certainly our heroes," Moore wrote.

A legislative colleague presented Dypski with a poster showing a picture of the white-clad, masked man atop his rearing white steed, Silver.

The picture was from the back of a cereal box and urged breakfast readers to send in for their "Lone Ranger Deputy Kit."

Moore said he was sure Dypski lived by the Lone Ranger Creed, which reads: "I believe in being prepared physically, mentally and morally and to fight when necessary for that which is right."

Historic Covered Bridge Is Closed; Counties Undecided About Repair

KINGSVILLE, Md. (UPI) — The last covered wooden bridge in Baltimore County has been closed and faces a future as unstable as the 115-year-old slats that cross the stream near Gunpowder Falls.

The bridge, completed Dec. 5, 1865, is gnarled and splattered with graffiti, abused by local teenagers and revered by neighbors for its practicality and peacefulness.

It was last repaired in 1937, but a new drive to fix the Jericho Road bridge has been launched by officials in Harford and Baltimore counties.

That drive, however, is partially dependent on federal funds and the administrator for the Maryland Historical Trust painted a gloomy picture Tuesday of the chances of funding the bridge.

The bridge cost $3,125 to build in 1865. It crosses the border between Harford and Baltimore counties and both sides put up half the money when the bridge was built.

Things haven't changed between the counties and both have agreed to pay an equal, 25 percent share of the repair costs. Other things have changed, however, and it will cost $90,000 to repair the structure.

The remaining 50 percent must come from the federal government.

"There have been no significant historical events at the bridge," said William Pencek, the federal trust administrator. "But it has a certain significance because it is the last covered wooden bridge in Baltimore County. There are a few other covered bridges scattered around the state, but we don't know yet how much money will be available next year for historical projects.

"That depends on a host of factors, including the Reagan Administration's attitude toward funding historcial projects," Pancek said.

This year, the trust has just $42,000 to spend in the entire state for historical building projects. In 1979, over $1 million was spent.

Entrances to the bridge are blocked by cement and local residents say they are upset by the practical effect of the bridge closure.

"It's the closest way to get to Bel Air and Kingsville," said Ann Wisniewski, who lives near the span. "Even for a short trip to the bank, the detour takes 15 to 20 minutes longer."

James Thomas, a retired General Motors worker, has a different reaction. He loves the quiet of the area and says things on the bridge have improved since the Dec. 15 closure.

"This is heaven," he said and vowed to continue his daily walks.

No official application has been made to the trust yet, but county officials have studied the repair of the bridge and said they will submit an application soon.

No decision on funding would be made until October at the earliest, Pancek said.

Police Investigate Cross Burnings; NAACP Official Suspects Klan

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Baltimore and Harford County police said Tuesday they don't think four cross burnings in one week are the work of the Ku Klux Klan, but a NAACP official said he wouldn't be surprised to learn the Klan was involved.

Three crosses were burned in western Baltimore County last week and a police spokesman said Klan-type literature was placed on cars in the Catonsville area two weeks ago.

A cross was also burned outside a black family's home in the Churchville area of Harford County early Tuesday morning, a sheriff's department spokesman said.

E. Jay Miller, Baltimore County police spokesman, said there is no discernible pattern to the cross burnings. He said the crosses varied in size from two to 12 feet and the wood used to make them was not similar.

"We have no evidence that there's any organized effort of the Klan. We don't want to minimize these incidents, but these were done at night or in the early morning hours.

"When the Klan has their rallies, they're very open about it. They announce them," he said.

Harford County Sgt. William Van Horn, head of the criminal investigation division, said there doesn't seem to be an organized effort by the Klan to infiltrate the area.

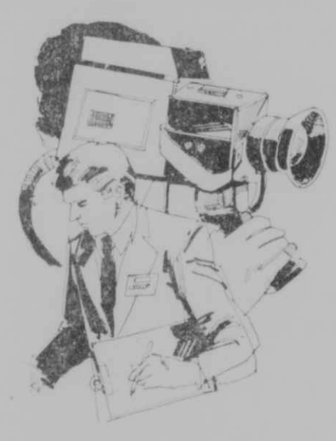

"Lately, we have noticed some literature found by deputies, but they're sporadic, helter-skelter, isolated incidents," he said.

With one exception, suspects apprehended during a spate of cross burnings in Baltimore County in October and November 1979 were juveniles, Miller said. And his department's investigation into last week's incidents indicate juveniles are probably responsible again.

But Col. James Pennington, president of the Baltimore County NAACP, said based on increased Klan recruiting efforts in the county, "I suspect when the truth is known, instead of youths, we'll find some people connected to the Klan. I wouldn't be surprised if that's the case."

And, in cases where youths are torching crosses, higher unemployment and family conversation about who is getting jobs may be the catalyst, he said.

"Families are saying, 'Where the hell can we make our next buck to survive.' Families perceive that other ethnic groups are getting jobs and youth have a tendency to see themselves in the role of a hero, a guy who rolls up as a white knight who is protecting mama and daddy," Pennington said.

Supreme Court Ruling

Cameras, Tapes In Court Coverage To Be Reviewed By Appeals Court

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The Maryland Court of Appeals will review its experimental rules to allow cameras and tape recorders in courtrooms because of the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling that states may allow televised criminal trials without violating a defendant's right to a fair trial.

The justices, in a case involving Florida's practice of permitting television and still photography of criminal trials, ruled Monday that the Constitution does not bar cameras and sound recording in the courtroom.

More than half the states allow some type of electronic coverage of court proceedings, although such coverage is completely barred at the federal level.

Unless the right to a fair and impartial trial is jeopardized, "there is no reason for this court either to endorse or invalidate Florida's experiment," Chief Justice Warren Burger wrote for the court.

Maryland Chief Judge Robert Murphy said "the (Court of Appeals) will want to take a look at the rules and will want to do so quickly."

The state's highest court began an 18-month experiment Jan. 1 to allow television and still cameras and tape recorders in courtrooms. One of the rules established by the court prohibits "extended coverage" in criminal cases unless approval is granted by the defendant.

The Maryland court may have to consider revising that rule.

However, the Supreme Court said a defendant could still claim on appeal that the electronic news coverage prevented him from getting a fair trial.

Twins Recovering From Kidney Transplant At Johns Hopkins

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A pair of 49-year-old identical twins were recovering Tuesday from an unusual kidney transplant operation at Johns Hopkins Hospital involving two kidneys provided by the same donor.

John and Joseph Smith are scheduled to leave the hospital Sunday, and one says the operation was "a new gift of life from God."

The twins battled identical kidney problems for nearly 20 years with drugs and spent months connected to kidney machines that cleaned impurities from their systems.

But just before Christmas, Hopkins surgeons took the kidneys from a young trauma victim and transplanted them into the twins.

The biggest problem with the operation was telling the twins apart, Dr. Rudolph Almarez said. That was solved by putting central intravenous tubes into different parts of the odies of the patients.

Each twin now has three kidneys. The malfunctioning organs were left in the bodies of the former track stars.

A kidney disease killed their father at age 52 and doctors said the twins' kidney problems were inherited.

There is still a possibility of rejection of the kidneys. A week after the operation both Smith twins began to show signs of rejection. But the problems were corrected.

"I think we have a pair of winners," Almarez said Tuesday.

The twins suffer from a disease called glomerulonephritis, the most common kidney disease where transplants are used.

Both twins attended Morgan State University and now work for the Social Security Administration. They live five blocks apart in Northwest Baltimore.

The hospital is always short of organ donations, a problem Joseph can understand.

"Mankind seems bent on providing weapons to save buildings and destroy human lives," he said from his Hopkins hospital bed.

"We ought to search our conscience and minds so we could donate organs to save lives," he said.

Occupational Safety Agency Cites Firm In Employee Death

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Maryland Occupational Safety and Health agency has cited a Tennessee construction firm for five "serious and willful" violations of state safety codes in the suffocation death of an employee last summer, a MOSH spokesman said Tuesday.

MOSH recommended fines of $35,500 against Davco Corp., hired by the Indiana Grain Company to renovate grain elevators in Locust Point, said Jay Rupp, senior industrial hygienist for MOSH.

The serious and willful citations, which could lead to criminal prosecution of company officials, are the harshest the agency can invoke against a company. "Willful" citations allege company officials knowingly ignored safety standards and contributed to the death of an employee.

MOSH "normally doesn't go that far. 'Willful' is used fairly infrequently," Rupp said.

The citations stem from a July 24 accident when Mark Jones, 20, suffocated in an eight-story grain silo, said Dave Ralls, the state safety inspector who investigated the case.

The grain had fermented, lowering the oxygen as low as 3 percent, below the normal 21 percent contained in the air, Ralls said.

The MOSH citations contend Davco failed to test the atmosphere inside the grain silo before Jones was sent in; failed to train other workers properly in rescue procedures or in use of breathing apparatus; failed to ensure that other employees who tried to rescue Jones were wearing respirators; did not train Jones and other workers adequately in cardio-pulmonary resuscitation, and did not inform workers about the hazards of working in confined areas.

Ralls said Davco officials were told "on numerous occasions" of the safeguards required for employees working in confined areas.

But Davco attorney Richard Hafets said "Davco maintains it was not guilty of any violation of safety standards and certainly not guilty of a willful one." He said the firm probably will appeal the citations.

Rupp said criminal prosecution has "never been done before because this is the first willful fatality."

The recommended fines are "steep by our standards," Rupp said. A willful citation means the fine can be increased 10 times.

He added that MOSH does not stress penalties and the maximum is $1,000 per violation.

Former Montgomery Co. Consultant Claims Misuse Of Liquor Funds

WHITE OAK, Md. (UPI) — Former Montgomery County liquor consultant Leonard Colodny said Tuesday the county has lost "millions of dollars" because of mismanagement in its liquor department.

But Colodny, in a news conference at his home, said he agreed with a recent investigation by a private consulting firm that found no evidence of favoritism by the county towards Schenley Distilleries, a New York liquor firm.

Last year, County Executive Charles Gilchrist fired Colodny from his job investigating the department after Colodny made public his views that the department was mismanaged.

Colodny said Tuesday the report by the consulting firm of Touche Ross, which Gilchrist has praised, made basically the same recommendations for reform of the department that he made last year.

Colodny said one reason the county did a "disproportionate" share of its liquor business with Schenley is that county restaurant and bar owners are grateful for the efforts of Schenley executive Charles Buscher that led to the passage in 1965 of a referendum allowing liquor by the drink.

Montgomery County is the only county in the nation that has a monopoly on liquor sales.

A grand jury is currently investigating the alleged mismanagement of the department to see if it is the result of corruption.

Official Charged With Gambling In Anne Arundel

GLEN BURNIE, Md. (UPI) — A part-time Anne Arundel County liquor inspector was suspended pending a hearing on police charges that he interfered with a gambling raid at a tavern during Sunday's Super Bowl football game.

Liquor Board Chairman George King said police told him Ronald Dorr "kicked up a fuss" when asked to leave the tavern.

Undercover detectives entered the bar Sunday before the Super Bowl and seized evidence that $25,000 had been bet illegally on the game.

Dorr, a liquor inspector since May 1979, will be on suspension until King receives a written report and a hearing is held, King said.

Dorr could not be reached for comment Tuesday.

In the raid, Henry L. Mack Jr., 74, was charged with illegal possession of gaming records, making and selling a pool on a football contest and keeping a place for running a lottery.

Harford Bonds To Be Approved For Industry

BEL AIR, Md. (UPI) — Harford County Executive J. Thomas Barranger said he will approve $1 million in industrial revenue development bonds for an Aberdeen firm that plans to build a regional Motor Vehicle Administration building.

The firm, Aberdeen Centre Inc., plans to build and lease the structure to the MVA, which will employ about 25 people at the site, Barranger said.

He said the county does not incur any liability in issuing the bonds, which will enable Aberdeen Centre to obtain a lower interest rate on money it borrows.

Emmitsburg To Limit Water Use

EMMITSBURG, Md. (UPI) — A six-month ban on outside use of water has helped Emmitsburg avoid a severe shortage, but with the reservoir only half full and no relief in sight, the ban remains in effect, the town clerk said Tuesday.

The 1,700 people have been "very cooperative" since the ban was declared last August, Doris Stover said.

The ban is similar to that imposed in other Northeastern states and prohibits washing cars, watering lawns and other outside activities. The conservation effort is reflected in lower water bills for most residents, Mrs. Stover said.

Other Western Maryland water users are also short of water.

A ban on outside usage was imposed in Brunswick last week. Other bans are in effect in Rosemont, Weavertown, Knoxville and areas of Washington County.

In all the Western Maryland communities affected, the bans allow city officials to prosecute violators but so far no one has been taken to court for using too much water.

Walkersville is facing a possible ban. City officials said the main well is lower than ever before, a situation that also exists in Myersville.

In Hancock, supplies are dropping because of the lack of snow, said Town Manager Al Martin.

"Right now our water supply, although getting low is still adequate," Martin said.

Baltimore's three main reservoirs are down to about 75 percent of capacity and water is being pumped from one reservoir to another.

Water bans are in effect in New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey, but Maryland officials say there is enough water to prevent a state-wide imposition of restrictions for some time.

Man Pleads Guilty In Massage Parlor, Prostitution Case

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A Glen Burnie man serving a seven-year sentence for violating state pandering laws has pleaded guilty to two prostitution charges stemming from a second investigation into a massage parlor operation.

Charles E. "Eddie" Elmore Jr. entered a guilty plea to one count of receiving the earnings of prostitutes and one charge of conspiracy to violate Maryland pandering laws after state prosecutors agreed to recommend a 10-year concurrent sentence.

Elmore, 46, and 10 others were indicted Aug. 23, two days after he began serving his sentence for conspiracy to violate pandering laws. He was charged with nine counts of receiving the earnings of prostitutes and 11 counts of conspiracy to violate prostitution laws.

The charges culminated a six-week investigation into a Baltimore massage parlor, police said Tuesday.

Also indicted were Leo J. Miller, 35, of Chester, who police said was selected by Elmore to run the massage parlor while he was in prison.

Criminal Court Judge Martin Greenfeld sentenced Miller to a three-year suspended sentence and two years probation after Miller pleaded guilty to one count of receiving earnings from a prostitute and one charge of conspiracy to violate pandering laws.

Elmore will be sentenced March 3.

Alcohol, Tobacco Tax Sources Noted

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reported Thursday that Alcohol and Tobacco taxes yielded $8,937,526 in December 1980, up 8.6% from the $7,534,062 collected during the same month the previous year.

Declines in beer and distilled spirits tax revenues were more than offset by increases in receipts from wine and tobacco taxes.

For the first six months of Fiscal Year 1981, alcohol and tobacco tax revenues total $52,071,586, an increase of 28.8% over the $40,429,377 collected during the same six month period of Fiscal Year 1980. The primary source of that growth was the additional revenue attributable to the increase in Maryland's cigarette tax from 10c to 13c per pack, which became effective July 1, 1980.

With the exception of tax revenues from distilled spirits, however, the other major sources of alcohol and tobacco tax revenue all posted increases.

For the six month period, wine tax revenues total $1,713,880, up 7.5%, while beer tax receipts amount to $5,305,191, an increase of 8.1% over the first six months of Fiscal Year 1980.

Tobacco tax revenue totals $35,608,394, posting a 40.3% gain over the same period of the previous year.

Distilled spirits tax collections amount to $8,635,021, down one-half of one percent from the same period of Fiscal Year 1980.

GRANTSVILLE

Christmas Party

The joint Christmas Party and covered dish dinner was held in the Grantsville Fire Hall on Dec. 7 with 110 persons in attendance.

Homemade ice cream, made by Virginia and Raymond Yoder, was served. A small treat was given the children by the Auxiliary.

A homemade quilt, which was made by the Auxiliary, was won by Roger Miller of Accident. An afghan made and donated by Mrs. Mildred (Mike) Beachy, was won by Ray Bittinger. The Auxiliary donated $4,000 to the fire department, as well as a check for $1,000 rent, collected from organizations using the fire hall.

Cleda Baker, Auxiliary president, gave a report of activities for the past year, and thanked all who helped to make the year a success.

Mary Broadwater, vice president and kitchen supervisor, thanked all who helped in her department.

Herman Yoder, president of the fire department, gave a yearly report and also thanked the Auxiliary for their help and cooperation.

The Christmas tree was donated by Mr. and Mrs. John Hershberger and decorated by Danny Klotz and Junior Friend.

The group sang Christmas Carols accompanied by the "Mt. Boys."

A gold mine near Johnsville, Calif., may have been the home of America's first ski lift. In the 1860s, they skied down the mountain slope on Sundays, riding up again aboard the mine's chain line of ore buckets.

Forestry Board Holds Meeting

The Garrett County Forestry Board held a dinner meeting on Tuesday, January 20, at the Hamburger House near Accident. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss preparations for the winter meeting of the State Association of Forestry Boards, which will be held near Baltimore or Washington, D.C., during the latter part of February.

The Garrett Board members went over a series of proposed referendums designed to improve the Association's role in the promotion of forestry in Maryland, and they developed a series of recommendations to be submitted at the winter meeting.

The Forestry Board received application forms for the 1981 Forest Conservation Workshop, which will be held at Hashawha Environmental Appreciation Center in Carroll County. The Conservation Workshop is a one-week program sponsored by the Forestry Boards for selected students, grades 9-12, with an interest in pursuing a career in a conservation related field. These applications will be distributed to the high schools before the end of January.

Conversations on Carpeting

Brought to you by
Carolyn & Butch Helbig
Who say
"A Floor without a Rug is like a Kiss without a Hug."

IF YOU ASK ME

Is it a good idea to carpet the stairs in my home?

Yes, an excellent idea. First of all, carpeted stairs are quieter . . . no squeaks and creaks to bother those sleeping in upstairs bedrooms. And anyone with children knows the noise children can make going up and down uncarpeted stairs. Secondly, carpeted stairs are a decorating wonder. They make the stairs seem like an integral part of your home. Third, carpeted stairs are safer. They cut down on falls and slipping, and cushion falls when they do occur.

We have a playroom in our basement for the children. I'd like to carpet the area but won't the carpet get musty?

No, not if you choose one of the moisture-resistant carpets constructed of man-made or synthetic fibers. And be sure the carpet you choose also has a synthetic or foam rubber backing.

Our carpet experts can help you select the perfect carpet for every room in your home. Come in today and talk with one of them. In next week's column we'll tell you about: "What's News in Carpeting?" Be sure to look for this column.

There's an old saying that "blue eyes belong to leaders and brown eyes to dreamers..." We can't tell the color of this child's eyes from her picture, but they look a great deal like the eyes of rich wisdom.

Wisdom comes to most of us only after many years of struggle and growth. And even when we feel a bit wiser, we soon realize that there is always much more to learn — that, in truth, learning is a life-long process.

But whatever age and degree of wisdom we may attain, our need for a changeless source of inspiration remains the same. Within your place of worship you will find a power of truth founded on eternal love and maintained by divine wisdom. On such, character is built and wisdom enhanced.

Draw new courage and hope from the wellspring of knowledge that makes men free. Worship this week!

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WHEN GOD DOESN'T WANT OUR HELP

February 1, 1981

Background Scripture: Matthew 13:1-52.
Devotional Reading: Zephaniah 3:11-13

A recent convert to Christianity was being interviewed on a tv talk show. "What do you like best about being a Christian?" the show host asked him. It didn't take the new Christian long to say, "Preaching against the sinners and warning people about the Devil." He said it with an innocent zest and pride that indicated there was nothing casual about his answer.

I suppose when it comes right down to sheer fun in religion there is nothing quite so enjoyable as preaching against sinners and warning people about the Devil. It is a rare preacher who hasn't gotten some enjoyment — conscious or unconscious — from preaching a fire and brimstone sermon. We'd all rather be flaming prophets than soothing healers.

Weeds And Wheat

And to some degree, our passion for "socking it to the sinners" finds a source of sorts in the teachings of Jesus. Did he not characterize the judgement of God as a separating of the "sheep and goats," the sinners from the saints? Is it not true that in his great parable of judgement (Matthew 13:24-30), Jesus likens it to the harvesting of wheat and the discarding of the weeds? Did he not specify that the weeds were to be bound "in bundles to be burned", while the wheat is to be gathered into God's heavenly "barn" (13:30)? Yes, without a doubt, that's how Jesus puts it.

But Jesus has more to say about the "weeds and the wheat." In his parable, Jesus tells us that, when it was obvious that the farmer's field was filled with weeds as well as wheat, servants came, asking: "Then do you want us to go and gather them?" That question, for all its antiquity, is a very contemporary one. Christians still come to the Lord, asking for his blessing as they go out to pull up the weeds from his field. How we love to do battle with the "bad guys" for God and humiliate them whenever we can. How sweet it is!

Our Task And His

And so, few of us ever stop to take seriously the rest of Jesus' parable of the weeds and wheat. We stop short of permitting Jesus to say once again, "No; lest in gathering the weeds you root up the wheat along with them. Let both grow together until the harvest" (13:29-30). Do we hear that: LET THEM BOTH GROW TOGETHER UNTIL THE HARVEST! The reason is simple: we are not wise enough to gather up the weeds without endangering the wheat. For all of our complacent judgements, we really do not know enough to distinguish between them.

So Jesus continues, "And at the harvest time I will tell the reapers..." It is Christ and Christ alone who is able to separate the wheat from the weeds. If these grow side by side in God's field, it is his concern and his province, not ours. No matter how much we may enjoy judging one another, it is a power that belongs to God alone. Our task is not to worry about the weeds, but to concentrate on being the wheat.

EVERY CHILD SHOULD HAVE GOOD TEETH

It is a mistaken notion that "Baby" teeth do not need care just because the body replaces them with "permanent" teeth. Imperfect "Baby" teeth often cause many later-life dental problems.

Every child should be taken to a dentist at about two and a half years to three years of age. By then all the "Baby" teeth will be in. The dentist will check for minute signs of decay, or any malformations which can cause later troubles. Dental patients under four years old have an average of three teeth that need fillings. If dental-aids are needed, whether it be a child's toothbrush or a good tasting effective tooth paste, we have a complete stock.

Disclosure Laws Noted By Social Security Office

Frank Tomko, social security asst. district manager in Cumberland, recently announced regulations describing when and to what extent, the Social Security Administration will disclose records of workers and beneficiaries.

"We have exerted great care in devising these regulations," said Tomko, "with an eye on ensuring a balance between the privacy rights of over 200 million people on whom we maintain files, and the laws of recent years which guarantee public access to this data so long as there is no clearly unwarranted invasion of any individual's privacy."

Published in the Federal Register on November 13, these regulations reflect provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, the Freedom of Information Act, the Government in the Sunshine Act, the Tax Reform Act of 1976, and section 1106 of the Social Security Act. They also reflect HHS regulations in Title 45, Code of Federal Regulation, Part 5b, regarding the Privacy Act.

Under these regulations, the Social Security Administration (SSA) will continue to disclose or deny information as required by statute. For instance, the Social Security Act requires disclosure to states for the administration of the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program. On the other hand, the Internal Revenue Code generally prohibits SSA from disclosing tax return information.

The Privacy Act permits information to be disclosed to agencies within HHS when needed to carry out their duties, providing disclosure is not prohibited by law.

The regulations further state that federal, state or local agencies outside HHS with health or income maintenance programs, like the food stamp program, may obtain information relevant to determining benefit status for that program.

Disclosure requests made in the interest of "national security", such as matters involving espionage, will be considered jointly by the Secretary and Social Security Commissioner (or designee) before the information is released. This policy will also be followed when information is being requested about individuals who invoke "imminent danger to human life" like hijacking, holding bostages or other acts of terrorism.

In addition, the regulations state that for criminal investigations of violent felonies, like murder or kidnapping, information will only be disclosed about an individual who has been "indicted or convicted" of that crime.

The regulations also outline conditions under which information will be disclosed for health or safety purposes, for statistical and research activities, to the Courts, Congress, General Accounting Office, Bureau of Census, and National Archives as specified under the Privacy Act.

Finally, the regulations establish procedures for individuals to obtain or correct their own records. They further explain individuals' rights to appeal any refusal by SSA to disclose or correct their records.

These regulations replace SSA's interim regulations on disclosure published March 16, 1977. The interim regulations, however, will continue to apply to the Health Care Financing Administration until new regulations are published.

More information about any social security matter can be obtained at the Cumberland social security office, located at 316 Paca Street. The telephone number is 724-0970.

Higgins Speaks At AAUW Meeting

Susan Crawford Higgins was guest speaker at the recent January meeting of the Garrett Branch AAUW held at the St. Matthews Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Higgins, local attorney with Burnett, Eiswert and Crawford, discussed laws that affect the family. The informal information-discussed group included topics regarding property settlements, divorce, custody settlements, adoption, child abuse and incest laws that have made changes in families' in recent years. This topic is part of the over-all AAUW theme for the year, "Families Facing Change."

Kathy Smith, Garrett Branch president, announced that the Maryland Division Board will be meeting on January 31. The Garrett Branch Board met on January 27 at the home of Mrs. Smith.

Kay Offutt was welcomed as a new member to the branch. Hostesses for the meeting were Kathy Smith, Dorothy Frame and Evelyn Watson.

ASK NOW - SAVE TEARS LATER

From a buyer's viewpoint, I could not think of a worse time to discover that a home has basic flaws than after the deed has been signed, sealed and delivered. There is no need to be unpleasantly surprised. How do you avoid this frustration? Have a ready checklist of items to ask your REALTOR - especially on items that the eye cannot see.

For example: Type of and age of heating system. Types of siding, insulation and roof. Kind of interior walls. Type of waste disposal (city sewer, cesspool or septic). Type of water supply (well or municipal. Does it contain fluoride?). Average or yearly operating costs for utilities; taxes on house for last year and assessed valuation. Accessibility to public transportation, shopping and schools.

We like our buyers to ask us questions. If we don't have all the answers - we'll get them. These are facts you should know before you sign the contract. Not after!

What To Do If You Can't Pay Your Electric Bill

We are concerned that some of our residential customers may not be able to meet the higher winter electric bills. If these bills are allowed to accumulate over the winter, it could create a financial burden that some customers will find impossible to handle. Also, it could mean loss of electric service. We do not want this to happen.

If you can't pay your bill, get in touch with us. We'll be happy to discuss your individual situation and try to help find a solution.

Here Are Some Things We Can Do -- With Your Cooperation

1. Uniform Payment Plan
This payment plan allows a residential customer to pay a uniform monthly payment to even out the high seasonal bills. All residential customers are eligible and there is no added cost. Once a year your account is balanced so you pay only for what you use.

2. Assistance Programs
There are a number of agencies that have government or private funds to help those in need. We will gladly provide assistance to aid you in determining where to apply.

3. Installment Payments
In cases where a residential customer cannot pay past due bills a mutually satisfactory payment schedule may be negotiated. We will take into account the unpaid balance, ability to pay, past payment history and other special circumstances. You will be expected to pay current bills while paying off your past due balance.

4. Third Party Notification
A plan which allows a person designated by you to receive a copy of a final notice. That person is not responsible for the bill but would be aware that there is a problem. This could help people who are out of town, elderly people, or people with physical problems.

We are willing to help.
But you must do your part.

BITS AND PIECES

Making things simpler, more efficient and money-saving are these goals which are common to most people nowadays. To accomplish these can be quite a challenge. Hopefully the following tips will be helpful to you:

*When purchasing a man's suit check to see that it has ample overlapping vents; perfectly matched patterns at seams, lapels and across the front, and no puckers.

*When using a woven fabric for cuffs, try cutting the cuffs on the bias for better shaping and a more rounded look.

*To update a front-wrap skirt, try adding a side front closing of buttons and buttonholes.

*Use a bobby pin for inserting elastic in a casing. To do this, fold the elastic down ½ inch, cut a tiny hole in the center, and slip in a bobby pin.

*Use transparent or basting tape to hold a small button or fastener in place while sewing it.

*To help distinguish between the different seam width markings on your sewing machine use different colors of vinyl tape to mark your machine.

*A man with a heavy middle should choose a narrow belt to help him appear smaller.

*To camouflage bowlegs, choose slacks that are slightly wider than normal.

*To keep fringes on small throw rugs flat and straight, spray them with starch after washing.

*You can make emergency silver polish by mixing a paste of cornstarch and a bit of water.

*To make the eye of your sewing machine needle more plain and threading easier, slip a piece of white paper under the presser foot.

*If nut meats are too expensive for your budget, try substituting sesame seeds. Saute seeds to a golden brown in a little butter to bring out their nutty flavor and add them to your favorite recipe.

'Palimony' book; Normal Newmans

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — L.A.'s celebrity lawyer Marvin Mitchelson dedicates his coming book,"Living Together," to: "The many wives and mistresses I have known — especially to Michelle Triola Marvin, the Joan of Arc of live-in women. Also to Lee Marvin who helped put a new word in the dictionary — 'palimony' " ... Joanne Woodward: "Everybody figures Paul Newman and I have the perfect marriage. That's absurd. We're not the ideal couple. We fight and we're fairly dull — just like everybody else." ... Jimmy Stewart sighingly admits he's getting absent-minded. Blew his wedding anniversary. No gift, no nothin' ... Cher just bought herself and her new boyfriend mink-lined raincoats.

I just got around to tossing out my holiday cards and I noticed Ernest Borgnine's was an original poem; Phyllis Diller's was an original song; Bob Hope sent a photo of himself and the family circa 1950; Morey Amsterdam's was a drawing of the three wise men exclaiming, "It's a girl"; Carol Channing sent a sketch of herself and her husband done by their son, Channing Lowe; and Ruth Warwick signed hers by her TV soap opera name, "Phoebe Tyler."

Considering there aren't too many "Gingers" around, Ginger Rogers signed hers with her red ink, "Ginger." Arthur Godfrey sent a small spruce tree — a live one — from Florida and Nancy and Zubin Mehta sent a fruitcake — a delicious one.

Myrna Loy's little head cold is nothing compared to the fact that she is sick over the loss of a couple of her dear friends ... Hey, did anybody hear about the teen-ager doll? You wind it up and it resents you for it! ... "I know sex makes the world go round but whiskey will do the same thing much cheaper." — Jack Lemmon ... Did anybody ever tell anybody that Johnny Carson once was a vacuum cleaner salesman but had to give it up because — and I quote — "Believe it or not, I couldn't take the rejection."

"Dallas" hotshot Larry Hagman is playing J.R. in real life. Chums say he's talking with a Southern accent, and healthy-as-a-horse Hagman is even walking with a cane ... Peter Marshall, host of "Hollywood Squares," discovered he has psychic powers and has been predicting all kinds of weirdo happenings that come true. He's getting a little frightened — but at least he hasn't predicted being cancelled on the show.

Harlem's history, in memories and pictures

Harlem has been home for many since its beginning as a frontier village in the early 1600s. In its early days it was an American fishing village, a Dutch farming community and an English colony. It has nurtured not only New York's black community, but Dutch, Irish, Italian, Jewish, Spanish and Finnish residents as well.

"I Remember Harlem" is a series of four one-hour programs tracing Harlem's nearly 400-year history through live interviews, rare archival motion pictures, photographs, early prints and lithographs. "I Remember Harlem" will air nationally on public television for four consecutive nights (check local listings for air dates in your area), with each night focusing on a distinct period in Harlem's history.

We learn about Harlem's early days as an independent village through its development as an agricultural community, and then a fashionable suburb of New York City in the 1800s; the major influx of black population after World War I and the Depression years; the deterioration after World War II and the struggle toward freedom; and finally, the decline and resurgence that is bringing Harlem into the 1980s.

Harlem has cradled the famous and the infamous: Father Divine, Madame Walker, Langston Hughes, Duke Ellington, Billie Holiday, Joe Louis, Sugar Ray Robinson, Paul Robeson and many others.

The program invites us to share the memories of Harlem that live in the minds of present and former residents: A 96-year-old man remembers the blizzard of 1888; an ex-chorus girl recounts her days and nights at the Cotton Club; a Jewish businessman recalls the one black family on his block; a retired numbers runner confides the secrets of his business; and a black musician remembers performing in the heyday of Harlem's nightclub life.

Residents recount amateur night at the Apollo Theater, the night Joe Louis licked Max Schmeling, the visits of queens, Emperor Haile Selassie and the Pope. They recall the building and rebuilding, the streets, the sound of blues, jazz, reggae, calypso, soul and salsa, of the crime, the gangs, the drugs.

But at the same time, they also remember the feeling of coziness and safety that came from knowing the neighbors were looking out for you when your mother went to work.

"I Remember Harlem," part of "Non Fiction Television," is the work of filmmaker William Miles ("Men of Bronze") who was born in Harlem Hospital and raised on Harlem's 126th street during the 1930s and '40s.

"Harlem was a living community — once known as the black capitol of the world — and then it died," says Miles. "Now it seems to be coming back to life.

"By analyzing its history and interviewing its people, I believe we can try to recapture the special sense of community that it once had, and that it can have again."

Producer William Miles and cameraman/editor Richard Adams on location for "I Remember Harlem."

Actors challenged by one-man shows

By RUTH THOMPSON

"To me, success in a monodrama would be more rewarding than anything I've done. It is also an overwhelming challenge." So says an actor — who shall remain nameless — who has yet to take the plunge.

Why is it challenging? The monodrama genre, more popularly known as one-man-shows, depends for survival on the major league talent and magnetism of a single actor, or actress, to hold an audience spellbound. Or rather, one should say audiences: a critically acclaimed "one-man show" usually gets — and deserves — other incarnations, as recordings, and for a select few, as television specials.

That's how it worked for Hal Holbrook in "Mark Twain," for Julie Harris as Emily Dickinson in "The Belle of Amherst," and for Roy Dotrice who, after 1700 Broadway performances, reprised his "Brief Lives" as gossipy 17th-century wit John Aubrey) on Camera Three last winter.

Now, timed to coincide with Abraham Lincoln's birthday week, Dotrice will be seen under the Hallmark Hall of Fame banner on PBS Feb. 9 in "Mister Lincoln," a performance that was taped during its run at the historic Ford's Theater in Washington, D.C.

Dotrice, who, surrounded by a full cast, started as Charles Dickens in the PBS imported series of that name, does not intend to give up full-production plays (or movies), but hopes to develop "a whole week of one-man repertory, probably at the Haymarket in London, with a different show every night."

"Mister Lincoln," in its two-hour version (it has been edited down for television), would definitely be included, says Dotrice. He, in fact, was a major force in its being produced in the first place, and in urging that its U.S. premiere be at Ford's Theater, where Lincoln was fatally shot. "The place is a shrine. The only reason not to consider myself unworthy to do it at all, is that I see it as a tribute to that very great man," Writer Herbert Mitgang, says Dotrice, catches the human side of Lincoln. Mitgang, he adds, is a noted Lincoln scholar.

Interestingly, Dotrice became something of a Lincoln expert himself. "I read a shelf full of books about him, visited Cooper-Union in New York where he spoke, went to Gettysburg, was given a tour of the Lincoln apartments in the White House, and also was given — most usefully — from a scholarly Lincoln society, a life mask of Lincoln. I had my plastic nose modeled from it, wart and all."

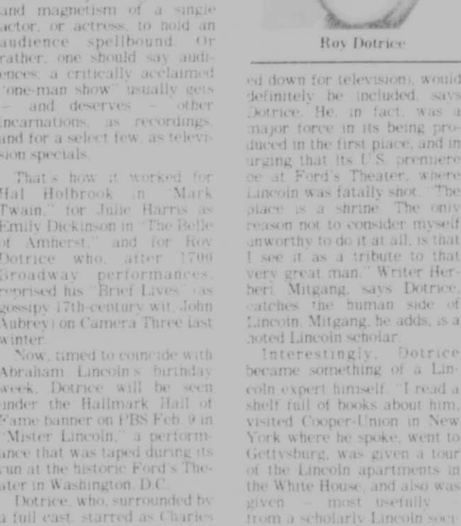

Such saturation preparation appears to be the norm, rather than the exception, for those who undertake challenging roles where they capture not only the essence of the primary characters they are

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

BACH TO BACH — I would like to know if Catherine Bach, who plays Daisy on "The Dukes of Hazzard," is married and if she is mother to any children. T.K., Chicago Heights, Ill.

Catherine is married, but has no children. She and her husband have two cats, one named Free and the other Easy and a golden retriever named George.

HONEY GIRL — Who was the actor who played opposite Anne Francis in the series in which she was a lady detective with a cheetah? I can't recall the series name either. Charles T., Lawton, Okla.

The actor was John Ericson, and the series was called "Honey West." It wasn't a cheetah, but an ocelot named Bruce. The series was on ABC for the 1965-66 season.

POWERS-FUL QUESTION — I think Powers Boothe is very handsome. What's he doing and where can I write him? — A Fan, Wyoming, Mich.

Powers is currently in Louisiana filming a movie. Write him in care of his manager, Dolores Robinson, 5884 Rambla Orienta, Malibu, CA 90268. Powers is a Texan, married, talented and very nice.

OLD FRIEND? — I think I knew Marla Gibbs when we were kids. Did her mother have a church? Where can I write Marla? — Gladys King, Chicago, Ill.

Marla is from Chicago, like you, and her mother, Ophelia Kemp, was a radio singer. Later she became known as Princess Kemp, the pastor of the Guiding Light Church in Detroit. Write Marla, who plays Florence in "The Jeffersons," in care of the show at KTTV, Metromedia Square, Hollywood, CA 90028.

SERIOUS ANGELS — What happened to the cuteness in "Charlie's Angels"? Sometimes the show is so serious it is no fun at all. Will the angels ever see Charlie?

T.J. Guillan, Elkhart, Ind.

The show has gotten very serious about itself, and that shows up its flaws, the major one being that the lovely young women in it are not actresses of great range or depth. As for showing Charlie, who knows? Chances are slim, since is part of the show's gimmick. John Forsythe, who is the voice of Charlie, now has his own new series, "Dynasty."

ON THE CUSP — In what sign of the Zodiac was Johnny Carson born? — R.G., Chicago, Ill.

Johnny was born on Oct. 22, which makes him a Libra, but on the cusp. Had he been born the next day, Johnny would have been a Scorpio.

THE ACT OF CREATION — I would like some information about creating shows for TV. — L.H., San Jose, Calif.

Creating an idea for a series is not too difficult, if you have imagination, a flair for creating interesting characters and can also write. Those minor chores out of the way, the trick is getting it to the proper people who can put it on the air. That's an entirely different matter. It's difficult enough if you are on the inside of TV.

However, if you have an idea and really believe in it write up an outline and register it with the Writer's Guild in Los Angeles. Then try to find an agent who can submit it to the proper people. None of this is easy. And here's a true story: Someone in the industry had a very good idea for a TV variety special. An appointment was made with a top producer and he agreed it was an excellent idea. Then he went to his file and pulled out a presentation. He had made it years earlier and been turned down. It was exactly the same idea and even contained an identical example.

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Soaps launch plays, photos and friends

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — Bill Herndon (Chet Stafford on "Guiding Light") has been signed to direct the national touring company of the Broadway-headed revival of "Li'l Abner." Bill (who is a bachelor) has proven his versatility in the entertainment field with roles in feature films, summer stock, regional theater and numerous commercials. He has also taught acting in New York, where his former pupils included "GL" castmates Kevin Bacon (Tim Werner) and Sofia Landon (Diane Ballard).

Kathryn Hays and Michael Forest

Lewis Arlt (David Sutton on "Search for Tomorrow") is back treading the boards in the upcoming Broadway show, "Piaf." Lewis has a lead role in the play which is centered around the legendary French songbird, Edith Piaf.

Joe Ladue may be a "meanie" on "The Young and the Restless" as Derek Thurston, but in real life he's a loving, devoted father. Joe and his wife Patty had a new baby daughter, Katy, back in November.

Phil Clarke (Ryan Connor on "Texas") and Nicholas Walker (Brad Huntington on "The Doctors") recently represented daytime TV's sexier side in "Playgirl" magazine. Unfortunately for those fans who thought they'd get a "peek" at what daytime TV doesn't show, the actors didn't appear in totally nude photos. On the other hand, anyone who saw "Hustler" magazine a couple of months back got a real good look at Jaime Lyn Bauer, (Lorilee Prentiss on "The Young and the Restless"), who bared all for the photographer.

Acting in a soap opera is sometimes the best place to meet new friends. That's been the case with "As The World Turns" Kathryn Hays and Michael Forest, who have become close friends as a result of their work on the show. As Nick Andropolous and Kim Stewart, the duo were the first actors in soap history to be flown to Greece for location shootings. The sequences, which finished airing the end of January, were a combination storyline involving romance, mystery and intrigue. But it's no longer a mystery that Kathryn and Michael have been making the New York dating scene of late.

(Have a question about soap operas? Write Nancy Reichardt at 200 Park Avenue, Room 602 New York, NY 10166.)

JOANNE WOODWARD (right) as Elizabeth Huckaby, an educator embroiled in the federal-state controversy over integration in Little Rock, Ark., greets new black students in "Crisis at Central High." The dramatic new TV movie will be broadcast as a special presentation on Wednesday, Feb. 4, on CBS.

IN FOCUS

'ABC's Wide World' marks 20th anniversary

"Today's exciting show launches ABC's "Wide World of Sports," a new and exciting global concept of sports. Each Saturday for the next 20 weeks, we'll be taking our cameras to the scene of the famous sports events all over the world."

Standing in the rain and trying not to shiver, Jim McKay faced the camera set up on Philadelphia's Franklin Field and spoke those words, opening the first event of the first telecast of what has become the definitive sports anthology series on television.

"ABC's 'Wide World of Sports' celebrates its 20th anniversary this spring. Since 1961, it has presented 119 different sporting events in 1053 telecasts, proving that 'the constant variety of sport' is no mere hyperbole.

In talking about the mix of the world's major sports and the less familiar ones, "Wide World" coordinating producer Dennis Lewin says, "The program's intent is to present championship caliber events beyond the staples of the American sports diet, resulting in an awareness of competition in dozens of sports which, before appearing on 'Wide World,' were unknown to large segments of the public."

Among the highlights of "Wide World's" two-decade history:

July 22, 1961 — The U.S.-U.S.S.R. track and field meet in Moscow marked the first telecast from Europe handled exclusively by American personnel.

Aug. 26, 1961 — ABC Sports' cameraman Dale Barringer dons a facemask and wetsuit and drops to the bottom of a swimming pool in Los Angeles to man the first underwater camera ever used to cover a swimming event, the National AAU men's swimming and diving championships.

June 19, 1965 — The 24-hour Grand Prix of Endurance from LeMans, France, was the first sports event from Europe televised live to the United States and the first satellite transmission of a sports event.

Aug. 1, 1965 — U.S.-U.S.S.R. track and field meet, Kiev, a special "Wide World," was the first live telecast of any kind from the Soviet Union to the United States.

May 21, 1966 — The Muhammad Ali-Henry Cooper world heavyweight championship fight was beamed live from London, the first time a title fight emanated from Europe (and the first live heavyweight championship fight on home television since 1959), drew a 22.5 rating and a 67 percent share of audience.

Aug. 17, 1968 — The first live telecast of a United States Auto Club (USAC) race, a 100-mile event for Indy type cars from Springfield, Ill.

June 13, 1970 — The world invitational high diving championship from Montreal and the 24-hours of LeMans telecast marked the first time that sports events were televised live from two different foreign countries.

April 17, 1971, and April 15, 1972 — The U.S. table tennis team, following their historic trip inside the People's Republic of China, appear on "Wide World" live via satellite from Tokyo with their own film footage of their trip. A year later, when a Chinese team visited the U.S., "Wide World" televised the match. This exhange was the beginning of the famous "pingpong diplomacy."

Aug. 28, 1971 — Coverage of the U.S.-Cuba volleyball match from Havana of "Wide World" marks the first time an American TV network sports department covers a sports event in Cuba since Fidel Castro came to power in 1959.

Jan. 23, 1977 — The U.S.-China gymnastics competition marks the first time an American TV network sports department was invited to the People's Republic of China.

Feb. 12, 1978 — The U.S. amateur boxing team vs. the Cuban national team was the first live telecast from Cuba.

Who was that guy?

His name is Vienko Bogatej and, although his name is unfamiliar, he is one of the most-viewed athletes in the world. He is the ski flyer who takes the spectacular fall each week in the opening of "ABC's Wide World of Sports." One of the most-asked questions about the series is, "What became of him?"

The accident, which symbolizes McKay's words "agony of defeat," occurred in 1970 during a ski flying competition in Obersdorf, West Germany. Bogatej was not seriously injured. Hospitalized briefly with concussion and bruises, he phoned the competition site from his hospital bed so that he could assure everyone that he was alright. "Wide World" revisited Bogatej at his home in Yugoslavia a few years ago to see how he was faring. He had retired from competitive ski flying but was doing quite well, thank you, and was only slightly aware of the fame he'd achieved in the U.S.

Words in the list below appear across, up, down, backwards and diagonally in the diagram. Find each word and draw a circle around its letters, then cross the word off the list. Some circled letters appear in more than one word. The letters that form the answer will be left over. Unscramble and arrange them to create a word, or words, that will provide the answer.

Race coverage

ABC Sports and the New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority have reached an agreement to present exclusive coverage of the 1981 Hambletonian, trotting's most prestigious horse race on Saturday, Aug. 8, from the Meadowlands racetrack as part of "ABC's Wide World of Sports."

The Meadowlands will be hosting the Hambletonian for the first time in 1981. The race, which will have a record purse of $850,000, was held at the DuQuoin State Fair in DuQuoin, Ill., from 1957 to 1980. It was held at Good Time Park in Goshen, N.Y., from 1927 to 1956.

The Hambletonian is a one-mile race for 3-year-old fillies, colts and geldings. The race is run in heats, with a horse needing victories in two heats to be declared the winner.

Radio-TV venture

Linda Wertheimer and Cokie Roberts have joined Paul Duke as regular correspondents for the second season of "The Lawmakers," the first major national collaboration between public television and public radio.

Linda Wertheimer

Ms. Wertheimer anchored National Public Radio's coverage of the U.S. Senate debate on the Panama Canal Treaties, the first live broadcast from the Senate chamber, which won a DuPont-Columbia Journalism award. She was also NPR's chief correspondent for the 1980 presidential campaign. Ms. Roberts has written for the Atlantic Monthly, Commonweal, New Leader and the New York Times Magazine and also has NPR experience.

"The Lawmakers," which airs weekly on PBS, gives viewers a closeup view of Capitol Hill. Interviews, profiles of members of Congress, excerpts of House floor debate and coverage of key committee hearings are regular features.

New CTW series

The first daily network program for children to be developed since the 1950s will be previewed Tuesday, Feb. 3, on CBS. The network will air the pilot program for the series, "Sign On," and seek audience reaction to the concept, which presents entertainment and information for children ages 8 to 15. The series, described as "a grown-up show for kids," was developed by the Children's Television Workshop, creators of "Sesame Street," "Electric Company" and "3-2-1 Contact."

Mobil agenda

Six new mini-series have already been announced for the Mobil-sponsored 1981-82 television agenda. Nancy Mitford's "Love in a Cold Climate," an eight-part dramatization of two of the author's best-sellers, will air on "Masterpiece Theater" on PBS in November. "Drake's Venture" is a historical documentary drama centering around Sir Francis Drake's triumphant return to England after a round-the-world voyage. "Drake's Venture" is also slated for "Masterpiece Theater," as is "A Town Called Alice," an Australian production dramatizing Nevil Shute's novel. It's a love story about an English girl in Malaya set during the period in which the Japanese invaded that country. Scheduled for "Mystery!" is "Reilly," about a spy in the Middle East in the early 1900s who is said to be the prototype for Ian Fleming's James Bond.

Other programming to be underwritten by Mobil on PBS includes "The Search for Alexander the Great" and "Winston Churchill: The Wilderness Years."

Liebman as bounty hunter

Ron Liebman will star as Stan Rivkin, a New York-based bounty hunter, and Harry Morgan will star as Father Kolodny, in "Rivkin: Bounty Hunter," a new TV film that recently began production in New York City for broadcast on CBS later this year.

Liebman, co-star of "Norma Rae" and the TV series "Kaz," will portray Rivkin, one of three well-known bounty hunters currently working in the United States, who has been tracking down bail jumpers for more than 20 years. Morgan, who stars as Col. Sherman Potter on "M.A.S.H.," will play Father Everett J. Kolodny, the retired priest who lives next door to Rivkin and befriends his son, Keith.

ICE SKATING STARS FROM the 1980 Olympic team take on professional greats in the World Professional Figure Skating Championship on NBC's "SportsWorld" which continues to air on Sundays through March 8. Pictured (left to right) are 1980 Olympic gold medalist Robin Cousins, 1968 Olympic gold medalist Peggy Fleming, 1980 world pairs champions Tai Babilonia and Randy Gardner, and 1976 Olympic gold medalist Dorothy Hamill.

With Julie Harris, in fact, the saturation interest in Emily Dickinson came first. Even in the midst of doing another Broadway play she would quietly schedule Dickinson readings at schools, with no thought of eventually developing the body of material she had mastered into a Broadway vehicle — until the day that Charles Nelson Reilly accompanied her to a reading and set the on-to-Broadway phase in motion. Reilly, known on television as a comedian, raconteur and game show participant, is known in the theater as a top flight director. ("Belle" won major awards.)

EMS Region I Advisory Council Meets At FSC

The Region I EMS Advisory Council held its regular meeting at the Lane Center on Frostburg State College Campus on January 22. The meeting included discussion of future planning for Advanced Life Support services, clarification on Trauma Center designation, election of officers, review of ambulance transport problems and a resolution that the Council support repeal for the current motorcycle helmet law.

David P. Ramsey, Coordinator for Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems (MIEMSS), informed Council members that Dr. Alasdair Conn, Medical Director for Field Operations Programs, MIEMSS, would be meeting with Cumberland Memorial Hospital officers in the first days of February. Dr. Conn will review the necessary steps and develop a timetable for Memorial's Trauma Center to become operational.

The Council membership reviewed and approved draft sections of the Advanced Life Support plan. Peter A. Laqueur, MIEMSS' Planner, presented to the Council standards and criteria for the EMS system and discussed manpower, facility and transportation needs for the future development of EMS in Western Maryland. It is expected that the Advanced Life Support Plan will be completed by March 3 and presented to the Federal EMS Program for funding.

The Region I MIEMSS office reported that grant monies from the Department of Transportation would be made available to several ambulance and rescue squads in Region I during February. These grants included: Cresaptown Fire Department – $4,500.00 for ALS equipment; Cares, Inc. – $10,000 for an ALS Response Unit; George's Creek Ambulance Company – $600.00 for first aid equpment for pediatric emergencies; LaVale Rescue – $4,000.00 for ALS equipment; Mt. Savage Fire Company – $10,000 for an ambulance; and Northern Garrett County Rescue – $1,300.00 for communication equipment. Grant funds were obtained through efforts of the Region I Council and MIEMSS.

The Council also voted to send letters to the Western Maryland Delegation supporting repeal of the current Motorcycle Helmet Law. This vote was based on a concern over the increase in death and disability experienced in the past year, when cyclists were not required to wear helmets.

Missionary To India To Speak At Missions Rally

The Reverend John R. Higgins, an Assemblies of God missionary to South India, will be the guest speaker for a missions rally on Sunday, February 1, at both the 10:00 and the 11:00 a. m. services of the Assemblies of God Church in Kitzmiller.

Rev. Higgins and his wife, Faith, began working in India in 1974. He is president of the Southern Asia Bible College, an advanced theological school given to the training of native ministers and Christian workers. He also serves as director of education in Southern Asia and missionary advisor for the Central District of the Assemblies of God in India.

Mrs. Higgins serves as music director at the college and as the director of the Sunday School ministries in the Central District.

Indian music, costumes and curios will be featured in this special missions rally. Pastor Juris V. Reneslacis invites the community to attend.

The missions rally will be concluded with the showing of a film, "Journey to the Sky" at 7:00 p. m. that evening. The film related the true story of a man who shared his skills with the poor and needy in the towns of India.

Drug Dependency Study Launched

A fresh assault on the stubborn problem of alcohol and other drug abuse and drug dependency by adults and youth has been launched by the Maryland State Department of Education, according to Doris Terry, health education specialist.

The state agency has just approved seven project sites in five local school systems (Cecil, Carroll, Prince George's, Montgomery, and Wicomico) aimed at both prevention and dependency. Projects at all seven sites will be modeled after one developed by Richard M. Wheeler, a Maine based specialist in alcohol and other drug education and treatment programs.

Wheeler's approach distinguishes three groups in the population: users (experimenters, abusers, and dependents); those whose lives are affected by someone else's alcohol or drug use, and the non-user/non-affected part of the population. Wheeler's model also features a school community team approach.

Seven 15-member site teams will meet in February at New Windsor, for a full week of instruction and to develop action plans and services in six areas including: team organization, planning and maintenance; policy; school based programs and services; community based programs and services; resource indentification and linkage; and evaluation.

Coordinating the project is Ms. Doris Terry, state department of education specialist in health education. The activity is funded by a $74,225 project authorization.

Straight Talk About Aging

By Matthew Tayback
State Director On Aging

VIEWS FROM ABROAD

How near-sighted our view of aging can become. Focusing as we do on the problems that face us every day, we tend to be totally unaware of situations elsewhere. Either that, or we "near-sightedly" assume that those situations are the same as ours.

Such is not the case at all, as this year's International Conference of Social Gerontology demonstrated during its meeting in Quebec (recently, we discussed this important conference in respect to its findings regarding elderly women).

One of the conference's sessions was devoted to the study of aging in developing or Third World countries, not an unimportant topic when we observe the United Nations projections that, by the year 2000, 60 percent of the world's over-60 population will live in developing nations and that the most fragile portion of the elderly group, the over-80's, will increase most rapidly.

The developing nations, it was learned, are set to experience drastic changes in the composition of their populations. In many ways the changes will repeat those which occurred during the last century in now-industrialized countries. But there will be a rather frightening difference: the changes will occur much more rapidly. As they do, they are expected to worsen the already low estate in which these nations' elderly live.

For one thing, it is foreseen that large-scale, unplanned, excessively swift urbanization will undermine older people's traditional social support structure.

As reported from the conference, "While the help to the aged given by the extended family system is still common in urban African areas, it seems to be disappearing in other regions of the world where an increasing number of old people either have no children or have been deserted by them."

Another process that will adversely affect the Third World's elderly is industrialization, which is expected to bring about increasing unemployment for unskilled or marginally-skilled workers.

Furthermore, according to the conference report, "The work done by the elderly does not give access to the legal social benefits which would augment wages or guarntee a retirement position. Frequently the only possible alternative is self-employment, which almost never provides a minimum living wage. And what can be said of countries like Brazil where the prejudices concerning age and employment begin to be noticeable at 35?"

In rural areas of many developing countries, the elderly are frequently abandoned, isolated, and deprived of their traditional role in the education of children, who usually migrate to the cities with their parents. This same isolation partially or totally cuts off the older people from needed social services, which tend to be concentrated in towns and urban areas.

Solutions put forth by the assembled conferees were based on three fundamental principles: one, guarantee the rights of the elderly be adequate social legislation while simultaneously taking measures to encourage the family to preserve or resume its traditional practice of helping its aged members; two, modify the life-styles of the elderly in including them in rural development policies, especially in adult education programs; and, three, develop primary medical care in accordance with the objective of the World Health Organization, which is "Health Care for All in the Year 2000."

HSA Governing Body Convenes

The Governing Body of the Health Systems Agency of Western Maryland (HSAWM) met in Cumberland on Wednesday, January 21, at the Ali Ghan Country Club. Peter G. Callas, Ed. D., Chairman, presided.

Those who attended the meeting from Garrett County are Edgar H. Harman, Ross B. James, Mrs. Annie Steyer and G. David Green.

The Governing Body voted to withhold approval of Appropriateness Review (AR) Criteria and Standards for Obstetrics/Newborn Services offered in Allegany, Frederick, Garrett and Washington Counties. The criteria and standards for reviewing these services were developed in coordination with the Maryland Health Planning and Development Agency (MHPDA).

The Body's decision was based on a recommendation by the HSAWM Plan Development/Appropriateness Review Advisory Committee (PD/AR) which noted that data was missing in several areas of the review criteria and standards. The Governing Body felt that before it could approve the MHPDA document, that more information was needed along with reasons for using specific data to fill in blanks left in the review document. On January 22, the HSAWM began Appropriateness Review of Radiation Therapy services offered in the four county region.

The Governing Body also voted to support a Statewide Health Coordinating Council recommendation that hospitals with obstetrics units develop policies regarding the practice of nurse-midwifery.

Other actions taken by the Governing Body were:

—approval of the Radiation Therapy Addendum to Health Systems Plan-3. The HSP is a document produced by the Agency which outlines goals and objectives believed necessary for improving the health care system and health of the residents of Western Maryland;

—approval of revised Agency Bylaws and an Education Plan for Agency volunteers.

The next Governing Body meeting will be held March 18, at 1 p. m. at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club, Cumberland. The public is invited to attend.

Since its completion in 1937, more than 600 people have committed suicide by jumping off San Francisco's Golden Gate Bridge.

Fire Claims 126 Lives In State

During the last year, 126 persons died in Maryland as the result of fire, according to a report from the State Fire Marshal's Office. This represents an increase of ten over the 1979 total, and is the first increase after three years of declining fire death incidents

State Fire Marshal J.C. Robertson, attributes the increase to a greater number of arson related fire deaths, as well as the increased use of heating appliances, including many improperly installed woodburning stoves during the recent cold weather.

He noted that fire death rate unusually low in the two counties of the state in which smoke detectors have been required to be installed on a retroactive basis in a majority of residential units (Montgomery and Prince George's). Five fire deaths occurred in Montgomery County, while there were only four in Prince George's County. These totals are less than half the number experienced before smoke detectors were required.

Smoke detectors are required in all existing residential units in Montgomery County and all existing apartment units in Prince George's County.

Historical Trust Grants Available

The Maryland Historical Trust is currently soliciting applications for grants to be made in 1982. In order to be eligible, a project must involve the restoration, stabilization or rehabilitation of a historic property in the State of Maryland. Local government, nonprofit organizations and individuals may receive such funds. Certain grants must be matched by funds provided by the property owner. In exchange for a grant, the Trust requires that it hold an easement on the property.

Funds appropriated for the year 1982 will be made available in July of that year. The deadline for applications is January 30, 1981. For further information, persons may contact Edward Masek, Maryland Historical Trust, 21 State Circle, Annapolis, Maryland 21401.

Assessment Answers & Tax Talk

by James Burely

Clarifying The Phase-In

There is evidence through questions raised at taxpayers' meetings, letters to the editor, and even statements made in editorials that there is widespread misunderstanding about the phase-in principle of the new assessment method.

Real property is now reassessed once every third year rather than annually, and the increase is phased in over the subsequent three years in yearly, equal installments.

The misconception is that those empowered to make the appraisals are looking into some crystal ball and foretelling what the value of our property will be three years hence, and that preparing us for this, we are having one-third of this increase added each year over the next three years.

This is not the case. What is true is that the proposed full-value figure shown in block no. 7 of the assessment notice is the valuation figure which the property is presumed to have been worth at the close of the year; or, technically, January 1. The magic date is referred to as the date of finality. This means the date at which estimating of property values is completed for each year. More pointedly, the amount in block no. 7 is the value - not what it will be three years from now.

Moreover, as if to make matters worse, the market data utilized was drawn from the previous year's sales, brought up to date to the end of the year. A property's worth is measured in the marketplace; except, in the rarer instance of a lack of market data, the value is estimated using the cost approach.

Consequently, the values assigned will tend to lag behind the current market condition. This is the aspect that causes the owner the greatest grief because he must prove through evidence that the valuation set and recorded on the notice is higher than it properly should be; whereas, other things being equal and as long as inflation prevails, the opposite is more likely.

Part of the confusion is caused by the term proposed full value. The word proposed in this context does not mean a projected value based upon a prediction of what is likely to occur, but only that the issue of the value remains open until and if the property owner's appeal option is exercised and the final decision regarding value is rendered. Unchallenged, at the end of the 45-day appeal period, this figure is final.

Some owners have complained that they were misled into believing the figure in block no. 8 is the actual estimate of value for the current year; and, feeling satisfied that the amount was fairly close, chose not to protest. Make no mistake, the figure in block no. 7 is the current valuation - not the one in block no. 8. Three years from now, there will be a whole new set of figures in these blocks, all pivotal to the new one in block no. 7, the one to study in deciding to appeal or not.

Paul S. Frank, Jr. To Participate In Weekly Seminars

Paul S. Frank, Jr., Accident, a graduate student of West Virginia University, who is currently studying toward a PhD in Forest Resource Sciences, was recently selected to participate in the first Benedun/Centennial Seminar.

The program consists of two parts, including public lectures on Tuesdays in the law building at WVU and a seminar for selected students on Wednesday afternoons. A total of 15 lectures and seminars will be held throughout the semester.

Frank is also the third author of an article entitled "On the Microclimates of Light and Dark Strip Mine Surfaces", which was published in the West Virginia Forestry Notes, December 1980.

Surface Mining Offices Merge

The Office of Surface Mining Region I field office in Cumberland is being combined with the OSM field office in Morgantown, WV., now that Maryland has assumed primacy in the inspection of the surface effects in coal operations.

OSM Region I Director Patrick B. Boggs said the change is effective February 1, and the Maryland residents can contact OSM after that by phoning the Morgantown office between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m., Mondays through Fridays, at (304) 291-5821.

Operators were under a dual inspection system until Maryland's regulatory program was approved by the U.S. Interior Department.

OSM District Manager Jim Blankenship said the OSM inspector, Pete Hartman, will continue to live in Cumberland, but work out of the Morgantown office.

EARN GOLD STAR — Several members of the Garrett County Farm Bureau attended the 65th annual Maryland State Farm Bureau Convention at the Carousel Hotel in Ocean City, December 4-6. The local Bureau was recognized for its efforts in four of eight possible categories and received the Gold Star Award. Those four categories were: the Young Farmers' Program; Discussion Group; Service to Member; and Record and Tax. Receiving the award in the above photo from Grove Miller, left, state president, is Clark Kolb, Garrett County Bureau president. Also attending the convention from Garrett County were Ferne Beachy, Women's chairman; Harry Hummel, Leslie and Betty Guard, Larna Umbel, Carolyn Ganoe, and Julius and Karmen Carey, who are chairman and secretary, respectively, of the Young Farmers' Group.

Gifted And Talented Students Participate In News Reporting

An eager group of young writers from the gifted and talented programs of third, fourth, and fifth grades at Kitzmiller, Accident, and Loch Lynn Elementary schools recently participated in a reporting and newspaper unit as part of their curriculm study under the direction of Mrs. Sheila Russell.

A total of 32 students took part in the study, which included newspaper comparison, article development, news reporting, newspaper section observation, and advice and demonstrations by a local media representative.

As part of the project, Carol Kapel, staff writer for The Republican, visited the three groups during their unit study, offering information and instruction, as well as insight into the life of a newspaper reporter.

The groups heard basic details of a news reporter's duties, after which time they posed questions, and observed demonstrations of fundamental materials used in the weekly preparation of The Republican.

The final step in the study unit was a series of articles written by the students using the skills they had learned from their two-month learning period. Those who did not create articles for The Republican engaged in designing a newspaper for their own school.

A total of 23 news articles was sent to The Republican Office by the participating students.

Those who took part in the project included Tommy Via; Doug Harvey, Billy Riggleman; Michelle Rhodes; David Burdock; Jamie Beeman; Kim Sharpless; Shawn Nesselrodt; Dawn Tichinel; and Cris James from Kitzmiller Elementary School.

Those students from Loch Lynn School included Tracy Shank; Kelli Rush; Michael Vance; Debbie Bateman; and Willie Riley.

Accident Elementary participants were David Miller; Samuel Thomas; Joy Illick; Kelli Renae Iden; Kina Perry; Dianna Vitez; Kenton Bender; Billy Bishoff; Eric Martin; Greg Brenneman; Jennifer Golden; Scott Rush; Jonathan Nickle; Lisa Briggs; Candy Dolan; Scott Wachter; and Robert Mansfield.

RODERICK'S TO OPEN NEW STORE IN GARRETT COUNTY

Dear Friends & Valued Customers,

We would like to introduce you to the new managers of Garrett County's very own Roderick Furniture—our son, Paul, and our new daughter, Janet, who reside near Swanton. For 15 years you have "driven a little to save a lot" and helped our store in Westernport to expand and grow. You all are among our most prized and cherished customers and friends and have given us the encouragement and incentive to make shopping more convenient and selective for you.

Paul, Jr. & Janet

In the early spring we will be opening in the Manor Mart building on Rt. 135 at Mt. Lake Park. We feel this is a prime and convenient location. We are leasing for one year with option to buy. It will be a trial store to see if you really do want a top-notch quality store in your area. At the end of the year we will decide if it is profitable to buy and give you a permanent store or to continue to serve you only from our Westernport location.

Now what we would like for you to do for us is give us a good response as to just what it is you wish to see in "your" store. Do you prefer Early American, Country, Traditional, Modern, Oriental? Do you prefer plaids, plains or solids in fabrics? Would you like to see a professional decorator on our staff? You name it! We want to make you happy and between the two stores to give you what your heart desires to make your home comfortable, cozy and something to be proud of for years to come. With the high cost of everything including gasoline and vacations, why not "invest" in your home where you spend the most time! Quality furnishings purchased now cost no more than the cheapest five years from now and you will have the pride and satisfaction of ownership for a much longer time.

Our feeling and experience has been in dealing with you over the years is that you have come to expect (and have received) "QUALITY" above all else. We have also given you Service, Selection of the very latest up-to-the-minute styles, and last but not least, we have given you "VALUE"! Where else can you have your "cake and eat it too"—all the things we have to offer plus PRICE too! We never claim to have the cheapest furniture but we do try very hard to have the best furniture and carpeting at the lowest prices.

That brings up another subject—the Carpet Branch Shoppe on Rt. 560 (only 1½ miles from our new location). We wish to thank you all for the tremendous response you have shown to Butch & Carolyn. This was another encouraging sign to us in making our decision to give you your own furniture store. We hope you will continue to patronize our Carpet Shoppe on 560. We feel it best to keep it there rather than in the furniture store as the Helbigs are able to give you much more personalized service there. Of course, we will all be working to help you make correlations in furnishings to match your carpet or vice versa.

Now back to your suggestions—we certainly will appreciate any and all ideas and comments you may have to make this store just what you want. Please call toll free to Westernport, 334-3187, or write 203 Main St., Westernport, MD 21562. Better still, stop in our Westernport store and talk with us. We hope you will continue to shop both locations as the store in Westernport will continue to be more extensive as it is larger.

Thanks for helping us help you!

Sincerely,

Paul & Betty Roderick

Winter Survival

The following is the third in a series of articles prepared by the Federal Emergency Management Agency and made available to The Republican by the Garrett County Civil Defense office.

WINTER AND YOUR HEALTH

Stay indoors during winter storms unless absolutely necessary. If you must go out, avoid over-exertion. Cold weather itself puts an added strain on the heart. If you add to this exercise you are not accustomed to, such as shoveling snow, pushing an automobile, or even walking too fast or too far, you risk heart attack, stroke, or other physical damage.

If you must go outdoors, wear loose-fitting, light-weight warm clothing in several layers rather than a single layer of thick clothing. Entrapped insulating air warmed by body heat is the best protection against the cold. The layers can by removed as needed to prevent perspiring and subsequent chills. Outer garments should be tightly woven and water repellant. Wear a wool hat. The body loses between half and three-quarters of its heat through the head. Wear mittens instead of gloves — they allow your fingers to move freely in contact with one another and will keep your hands much warmer.

Keep your clothes dry. Wet clothing loses all insulating value. Change wet socks and all other wet clothing as quickly as possible to prevent loss of body heat.

Watch for frostbite and other symptoms of cold-weather exposure. Frostbite causes a loss of feeling and a white or pale appearance in extremities such as fingers, toes, tip of nose, ear lobes. If such symptoms are detected, get medical attention immediately. Do not rub with snow or ice — this does not help the condition and, in fact, will make it worse.

When the body begins to lose heat faster than it can produce it, a condition called hypothermia begins to develop. Symptoms include: uncontrollable shivering, slurred speech and incoherence, stumbling, drowsiness, and exhaustion.

If a person shows any signs of overexposure, take the following measures — even if they claim to be in no difficulty:

Get the person into dry clothing and a warm bed or sleeping bag. Use a "hot" water bottle (which should actually be only warm to the touch, not hot), warm towels, heating pad, or some other such heat source.

Concentrate heat on the trunk of the body first — that is, the shoulders, chest and stomach. Keep the head low and the feet up to get warm blood circulating to the head. Give the person warm drinks and keep them quiet. Do not massage or rub. Never give alcohol, sedatives, tranquilizers or pain relievers — they only slow down the body processes even more.

If symptoms are extreme, call for professional medical assistance immediately.

4-H Club News

The Route 40 Trail Blazers, Frostburg, met recently with Chad Malone presiding.

Eric Harman gave the treasurer's report, and Christy Pape and Stacy Malone gave demonstrations.

A group project is currently underway with members collecting code numbers from products purchased for use in the home. The numbers help pay for dialysis treatments for two girls who attend the Hedgesville, W. Va. Middle School.

The group is also participating in a bowling project at the North Garrett Lanes. Members and leaders meet weekly to learn to bowl.

Public Programs Scheduled At Frostburg College

Six programs open to the public will be held during the current semester on the campus of Frostburg State College, it was announced recently.

Admission to the events is free, with the exception of the theatre productions of "Kicks and Company".

February 1 - Frank W. Abagnale, Jr. The true story of how a 10th grade dropout with an I.Q. of 136 successfully posed as a Pan Am pilot, an assistant attorney, an F.B.I. agent, a pediatrician, a stockbroker, and a college professor, conning the people and officials of 50 states and 26 foreign countries out of more than $2 million. The program will be held in the Lane Center at 8 p.m.

February 18 - Coretta Scott King. One of the most influential black women in America today, Mrs. King has been a leading spokesperson for all minorities on a wide spectrum of issues. Mrs. King will speak on the topic of "Major Challenges for the 80's-Eliminating Poverty, Racism and Violence." The event will be held in the Lane Center at 8 p.m.

March 16 - Dr. Jean Kilbourne. In "Under the Influence", Jean Kilbourne, nationally known media analyst and lecturer, examines the images associated with alcohol in advertising in the popular media. Sponsored as a part of the "For the Health of It" program, the event will be held in the Lane Center at 8 p.m.

March 24 - Edgar Allen Poe, "A Condition of Shadow". A play about the life of Edgar Allen Poe. Jerry Rockwood, as the sole character, has created an in-depth characterization primarily from Poe's own writings. Drawings from his tales, poems, letters, essays, and even marginal notes, Rockwood reveals the agonizing conflicts of Poe's personality. The event will be held at 8 p.m., in Compton Auditorium.

February 26, 27, 28, and March 1 - "Kicks and Company". This will be the premier college production of the work originally produced in Chicago in the early 60's. Oscar Brown, Jr., nationally known songwriter, singer, actor, and playwright, will be an artist-in-residence at the college and will play the title role in his own musical "Kicks and Company". David Press directs the show and Jon Bauman has arranged the orchestration. The play will be presented at 8:15 p.m., in Compton Auditorium. A matinee will be held on February 28 at 2 p.m.

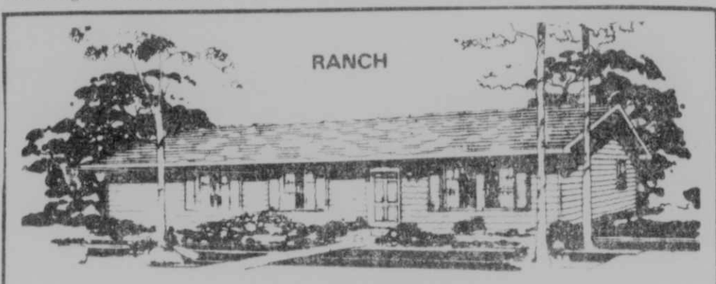

The cantaloupe takes its name from the castle of Cantaloupe in Italy where the fruit was grown in the gardens surrounding the building of a 16th-century pope.

Gideons Present Bibles To Nursing Home Residents

A dedication ceremony for the presentation of Bibles and Testaments was held in Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home on Sunday afternoon, January 25, by members of Gideon International in response to an explanation of the need for the copies among the residents. Meeting there with Mrs. Robin Walters, assistant activities director, were Gerald E. Turner, in charge of the group and zone leader west of Delmartic states for the Gideons, and officials of Allegany-Garrett Counties Camp, Cumberland. Those from the Cumberland Camp were Elmer Rexrode, president; Ken Dawson, secretary; Paul Rice, chaplain, and member, Charles House. The officers of the Cumberland Gideons Auxiliary were also present. They were Donna Dawson, president; Doris Rexrode, vice president, and Shirley House, secretary.

After the dedication ceremony, at which some residents were present, the Gideon group distributed 100 copies of the New Testament for bedside use and 12 copies of the Holy Bible for use in waiting room areas. Mrs. Walters was presented with one of the Bible copies and Walter W. Price, a volunteer visitor, received one for Mrs. Angie Cuppett, activities director. Members of the Auxiliary presented white-bound copies of pursesize Testaments to nurses and nursing aides, and blue-bound small copies of the Testament to kitchen staff and other home employees.

The Camp members explained that the Gideons was founded in 1898 and now has about 66,000 members. The group distributes about 20 million copies of Scripture throughout the world each year. Bibles and Testaments are placed in hotels, motels, hospitals, nursing homes, doctors' offices, penal institutions, schools, colleges, dental offices and also given to nursing staff members and to workers employed in medical services. The Gideons also present copies to individuals.

Mrs. Walters expressed personal thanks and appreciation for herself and the home's management for the gift made by the Gideon group for the spiritual welfare of the residents and staff at the nursing home.

Libraries Offer Tax Information

The Ruth Enlow Library of Garrett County and all of its branches have a large supply of helpful information to make income tax time a little easier for everyone, according to a release from the library.

The Internal Revenue Service has supplied libraries with the booklets, Your Federal Income Tax, a 170-page guide for individuals filing federal returns, and the Tax Guide for Small Businesses, which covers income, excise, and employment taxes for individuals, partnerships and corporations.

The libraries in Garrett County have also been supplied with reproducible copies of each federal tax form, 71 altogether, which are available for photocopying. Libraries in Oakland, Accident and Grantsville have photocopying machines which may be used for this purpose. Other materials available at the libraries are applications for the 1981 Homeowner's Property Tax Credit, and the 1981 Renter's Property Tax Credit.

The main library in Oakland has several new books to help save money when filing a return. They include Everybody's Guide to Tax Shelters, by Stuart Ober, and Take it Off! 1,695 Tax Deductions most People Overlook, by Robert Holzman.

The Oakland library's Saturday film program for children this week will feature: The Devil and Daniel Mouse, a film about a folk-singing mouse who sells her soul to the Devil for a chance to be a rock star; Dirty Work, a Laurel and Hardy comedy; Ferdinand the Bull, a Walt Disney film; and Floating Free, a showcase of champion frisbee throwers. Films will begin at 1 p.m., in the library film room, and are free of charge.

Lutherans believe . . .

Material things are good.

In fact, they believe all creation is good and it is wrong to despise the material things of life.

Shall we go back to the beginning . . . the beginning as related in the creation account of the Bible?

There we read, "And God saw everything that He had made, and, behold, it was very good." Not evil. Not to be despised.

Material things are not evil. Man possesses the potential to sinfully mis-use them.

A hasty consideration will make that clear. For example, the golden heads of grain, waving in the sunshine, are a glorious sight to behold, and taste mighty good when they find their way onto our dinner tables in the form of bread. But that same grain becomes a curse if a man allows the whiskey that is made from it to wreck his life.

The gold and silver from God's hills are a blessing when they provide food and clothing and shelter; but man makes them gods when he takes the life of a fellow man—or even tells a little white lie—for the sake of them.

A poppy is a colorful bit of creation and is an answer to a prayer when its opium is used as a pain killer in a pain-wracked body. But when a man becomes a dope addict through misuse, it certainly becomes a curse.

God's material creation is good—all of it. Man's freedom to sin all too often makes God's good creation into evil.

Christians teach that God intends His creation for the blessing and enjoyment of humankind. We are to despise none of it.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

The Aurora Homemakers met January 20 in the home of Mrs. Dean Sisler with Mrs. Beverly Myers presenting the devotions. She used two readings, "January" and "Don't Be Sidetracked", and closed with prayer.

The lesson on plant propagation was taught by Pearl Stemple. She said that a mixture of compost, peat moss and garden soil in equal parts works best for bedding plants.

Mildred Kovalck assisted with tips for growing African violets. She starts the leaves in water, using the smaller leaves for faster growth, and uses the commercially prepared soil.

The president, Mrs. Bonnie Lantz, reported that the income from the Tannenbaum Festival was $119.30. Dean Sisler reported that chairs had been purchased for the community building and are there ready for use. It was decided that the club will also purchase a chair carrier rack. They also donated $10 to the St. Paul's Lutheran Church for use of their facilities in serving the Lions Club dinner.

Three community projects were chosen: the Community Building improvement, the Jessie Trotter Memorial Park, and a special Safety Day. Planning this observance will be Dean Sisler, Martha Bolyard, Bonnie Lantz, and Ernestine Sisler. It was also decided that there will be a demonstration at each meeting, whether connected with the lesson or a craft.

The pig-in-the-poke was won by Ernestine Sisler. The hostess showed a coat she had made and a chair which she had covered and then led in recreation before serving refreshments to the above named and the following: Maxine Hauser, Julie Adams, Vesta Stemple, Fern Jamison, Martha Crowe, Opal Myers, Eva Wotring and Wuna Wilt.

The Eglon Homemakers will meet at the Eglon Memorial Building on February 3 at 10 a.m. Members should bring any materials they wish to use to learn to crochet, a salad for lunch, and materials to share for laprobes.

Joe and Ruth Luizzi, Accident, were honored on Sunday, January 18, with a dessert buffet in the home of Mrs. Luizzi's niece and her family, Sam, Helen and David Roth, at Silver Lake. The affair was in celebration of the Luizzis' 35th wedding anniversary, which was January 19.

A pink and white color scheme was carried out in the decorations and the decorated sheet cake, which was accompanied by a red velvet layer cake, various other desserts and accompaniments. Mrs. Luizzi's sister, Elva Calcamp, served punch and after the honored couple had cut the cake, it was served by Jane Judy. Others attending were Jimmy Judy, Jacie and Jerilyn, Bill and Lela Slauhaugh, of Silver Lake; Robert and Faye Scott, Mt. Grove; Barbara and Donnie Evans, Cindy, Lee, Jennifer and Kimberly, St. George; Hancel and Mildred Teets, David and Virginia Dixon, Scotty and Lori Ann, Amboy; Gary and Betty Judy, Tracy and Chad, Accident.

Admitted Saturday to Garrett County Memorial Hospital was Lucille Arnold, of Eglon, who had been taken there by ambulance.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Evans were at their home in Horse Shoe Run for a few days last week, but have returned to Florida.

"GO ON, GO ON. AFTER JONAH SWALLOWED THE WHALE AND WALKED OVER THE WATER TO SON SAMSON ON THE ARC, THEN WHAT HAPPENED?"

Helen Roth, Dee Kight and Ruth Luizzi served Thursday, January 22, as volunteers at Cortland Acres Nursing Home, Thomas. They took with them five lap robes made by Juanita Stemple, of Accident.

Innovative Project Grants Program Set Up By Government

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has announced a new Innovative Project Grants program and is inviting applications through state government channels.

The program will award funds for projects that "apply original or creative methods, use existing methods in original or creative ways, or use new techniques to evaluate existing methods." The goal is to solve persistent highway safety problems. Project proposals can be submitted by states, political sub-divisions, and non-profit organizations, including volunteer groups. Nationally, one million dollars has been authorized for Innovative Project grants during fiscal year 1981.

A program description was published in the Federal Register of December 22, 1980. Congress authorized the innovative grant program in the belief that "making innovation the principal basis for a prospective award would offer the best incentive."

Applications for the Innovative Grants program must be submitted by March 1, 1981. Full details of the program and required forms are available from the Maryland Department of Transportation, P. O. Box 8755, BWI Airport, MD 21240, phone (301) 787-7302.

Farming in Maryland

Farm Production Down In Maryland

Maryland production of corn, barley, soybeans, sweetpotatoes, hay and peaches was below the 1979 output. However, farmers produced more wheat, oats, rye, potatoes, tobacco and apples in 1980, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service.

Production of grain corn in 1980 at 46.1 million bushels was 22 percent below the previous year's output. A record 640,000 acres of corn harvested for grain in 1980 was more than offset by sharply lower yields. Yields averaged 72 bushels per acre compared with the 1979 record of 99 bushels.

A combination of reduced soybean yields and fewer acres harvested resulted in a 23 percent drop in production from 1979 to 9.4 million bushels. The average yield was off six bushels from 1979 to 24 bushels per acre and the acreage was 15,000 acres smaller than 1979 at 390,000 acres. Wheat acreage harvested in 1980 at 97,000 acres, was up 7,000 acres from 1979. The average yield at 38 bushels per acre is up one bushel from the previous year. Production of wheat amounted to 3.7 million up 11 percent from the 1979 production.

Average oats yields at 59 bushels per acre were at record highs in 1980. This record yield combined with 2,000 more acres harvested resulted in production of 1.1 million bushels of oats, 20 percent more than in 1979.

The smallest barley acreage on record, 70,000 acres, combined with a three bushel increase in the average yield resulted in production of 3.6 million bushels, 5 percent below the previous year and 30 percent below the record set in 1969.

At 1,800 acres, harvested potato acreage was the largest since 1976. The average yield, at 170 hundredweight per acre, equalled the record years of 1971, 1975, and 1976. Total production of 306,000 hundredweight was 23 percent above 1979.

Prices Received Continue Decline

The Index of Prices Received for all commodities declined for the third consecutive month, announced the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service.

At 241 percent of its 1967 base, the index declined two points (one percent) during December. Crops items led the decline as corn and soybean prices showed large drops. Higher milk and egg prices offset by only a small decline.

The All Crops Index at 254 percent of 1967 decreased 12 points (five percent) from November. Decreased prices for soybeans, corn and hay more than offset increases for wheat, barley and apples. All prices, were above a year earlier.

The Livestock and Livestock Products Index rose to 234 percent of 1967 during December, one point (.4 percent) above the previous month. Increased prices for milk and eggs offset decreases for cattle and hogs. Beef cattle and calf prices showed the only decrease from a year earlier.

Milk Production Up In 1980

Milk production during 1980 amounted to 1,550 million pounds, according to preliminary totals from the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. Compared with the 1,520 million pounds produced in 1979, output increased two percent.

In all months during the year, milk production equaled or exceeded output during the same month a year earlier. The number of milk cows during the year averaged 127,000 head, down 4,000 from the 1979 average. The number peaked at 129,000 in January and dropped to its yearly low of 125,000 by July. The number then rebounded to hold steady at 127,000 for the remainder of the year.

Milk produced per cow reached a record level during 1980 with a total output of 12,205 pounds.

December production totaled 131 million pounds, three percent above December 1979. The average daily production fell a half pound from November, but remained 1.6 pounds above December 1979.

Milk producers received an average of $14.60 per hundredweight in December on an average fat test of 3.90 percent.

Gypsy Moth Moving Slowly Into Maryland

One of the most destructive pests of hardwood trees in the United States, the gypsy moth, is now established in Maryland.

Last spring, gypsy moths defoliated three acres of forest in northeast Maryland's Cecil county, according to Dr. John A. Davidson, Extension insects specialist and professor of entomology at the University of Maryland.

The gypsy moth will continue to spread southward and westward, Dr. Davidson says, and it could reach damaging levels in Prince Georges and Montgomery counties in the next several years.

This leaf-eating pest was first introduced into the United States from Europe in 1869. It now threatens oak and hickory forests throughout the East and parts of the Midwest.

The insect has been working its way down the East coast for many years. It has two methods of long-distance transportation, Dr. Davidson explains, both of which have led to its popular name, "gypsy moth."

First, in mountainous, forested areas, the caterpillars can be blown considerable distances on silky threads, which they use like parachutes to carry them to new food sources.

Their egg masses also can be carried long distances when attached to the bottoms of recreational vehicles which have been parked for even short periods of time in gypsy moth-infested areas during summer months.

So far, there is no known way to eradicate gypsy moths, Dr. Davidson says, but they can be controlled to a certain extent with conventional pesticides such as carbaryl (Sevin).

Dr. Davidson is a member of the statewide gypsy moth task force, a group that meets regularly at the state Department of Agriculture in Annapolis. Several state agencies are represented on the task force, along with the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Meanwhile, Extension agents of the University of Maryland's Cooperative Extension Service have been on gypsy moth alert for several years. Along with university and state Department of Agriculture entomologists, they have the latest information on this destructive pest.

When the main gypsy moth infestation reaches a specific county, an Extension agent in that county will make control information available to the public through newspapers, leaflets, radio and television.

Bees Work Less Time In 1980

Honey production in Maryland totaled 420,000 pounds in 1980, a decrease of 70,000 pounds (14 percent) form 1979, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. The yield per colony averaged 30 pounds compared with 35 pounds a year earlier.

Prices averaged 83.2 cents per pound, 2.5 cents below the previous year's average. Value of production decreased $71,000 to $349,000 in 1980.

Honey stocks on hand at mid-December amounted to 147,000 pounds, 25 percent more than a year ago.

Farmers Spend $135 Billion To Produce Crops

U.S. farmers spent over $135 billion in 1979 to produce crops, livestock and poultry, topping the previous year's $114 billion level. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Maryland-Delaware Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, this outlay averages over $58,000 per farm, nationally.

Purchases of livestock and poultry at $21.5 billion, up 59% from 1978, were the major expenditures for farmers. Feed purchases followed at $18.0 billion, up 97%; farm machinery and equipment at $12.0 billion, up 11%; rent at $10.3 billion, up 11%, wages at $9.2 billion, down 8% and interest at $9.2 billion, up 23%.

During February and March, enumerators from the Maryland-Delaware Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will interview a cross section of Maryland and Delaware farmers as part of a nationwide program to determine 1980 production costs.

M. Bruce West, agricultural statistician points out that information about the farm production outlays is important in comparing the farmer's well-being with that of other groups in the nation's economy. He adds that all responses will be confidential and only regional and National summaries will be published.

Maryland Publishes Calendar Of Events

The Maryland Office of Tourist Development, Annapolis, has published a twelve-month calendar of events for 1981.

This new brochure replaces the quarterly calendars of previous years, so the publication still can be offered to the public free of charge, according to the Office.

The Maryland calendar contains information on cultural events, historic tours, seafood festivals and crafts fairs that are scheduled throughout the State. Each event is listed by date and location and described in brief, with an address and telephone number for further inquiry.

In addition to the scheduled events, there are seasonal events, theatre listings, hunting seasons and fishing tournaments. A list of county and regional tourism offices is provided at the end of the brochure for further information.

The 1981 Maryland Calendar of Events is available to the public by writing Tourism, Annapolis, Maryland 21401; or by calling, toll-free, 800-492-7126 (in-state), 800-638-5252 (out-of-state), or 269-3517 (Annapolis-Baltimore area).

Extended Jobless Insurance Benefits Are Terminated

Extended unemployment insurance benefits have ended in Maryland, effective January 24, according to an announcement by the Employment Security Administration of the Maryland Department of Human Resources.

On January 19, the U.S. Department of Labor notified the State Employment Security Administration that the national insured unemployment rate fell below 4.50 percent for the week ending January 3, 1981, thus "triggering off" the extended benefits program. According to federal law, extended benefits payments must end three weeks after the program had "triggered off".

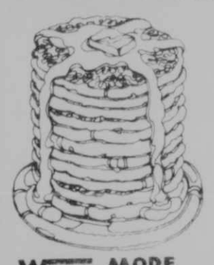

Extended unemployment insurance benefits were paid nationally since the week ending July 20, 1980. The federal-state extended benefits program provided for 13 weeks of additional unemployment insurance benefits for qualified individuals who had exhausted the 26 weeks of benefits available under the regular state unemployment insurance program.

It is expected that approximately 8,500 unemployed persons are affected by the termination of extended benefits.

Unemployed persons who have exhausted their regular benefits and who have been receiving extended benefits should continue to visit their local Employment Service office to obtain information about suitable job openings, according to the Department. Those persons who have little or no additional family income may wish to contact their local department of social services to inquire about their eligibility for public assistance programs.

Lewis Couple Honored On 35th Wedding Anniversary

A get-together was held recently in honor of Harry and Daisy Lewis on their 35th wedding anniversary. The party was held in the basement of the Deep Creek Baptist Church.

The couple was married on January 18, 1946 in Oakland by the Rev. George Coker.

The three-tiered cake was accented with green tinted roses, and bud vases of green tinted carnations were arranged on the party table.

The couple was presented with a green tinted carnation corsage and matching boutonniere.

Those attending from the Oakland area were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Merrill; Martha, Olive and Anna Lee Lewis; Anna Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lewis, Nancy Friend, Darla and Diana, Mr. and Mrs. Lensy Lewis, Julie and Karen; Mr. and Mrs. Harland Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Werdebaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Arden Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lewis, Anne and Jamey; Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Davis, Sharon and Bryan; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ben DeBerry, Charles, Wade and Elaine, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Mellott.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis and Vera Johnson, from Flintstone; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lewis, Elkins, W. Va.; and Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Teets, Terra Alta, W. Va. The couple also received a phone call from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis in San Diego, California.

Mathias Works To Eliminate "Marriage Tax"

Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Md.) has reintroduced legislation in the 97th Congress to abolish the "marriage tax" on working couples who pay higher taxes than single taxpayers.

The Congressional Joint Committee on Taxation estimates that this year over 40 million married Americans filing joint tax returns will pay $9 billion more in taxes than they would if they were single and living together.

Mathias said the "marriage tax penalizes wage earners more if they are married than if they are not, because when two incomes are combined and filed jointly, both incomes are thrown into a higher tax bracket. This penalty affects all income levels, but hurts the middle income couple the most, increasing that couple's tax bill by as much as 63 percent."

The Mathias bill, which has 31 cosponsors, gives married couples the option of filing their taxes as if they were single, using the rate schedule for single people.

"My proposal will simply allow all married couples to choose between two systems of filing, preventing them from paying higher taxes just because they are married," the Maryland Senator explained.

Both party platforms as well as 83 percent of the American public, according to a Gallup poll, support a reduction in the marriage tax penalty. The National Federation of Business and Professional Women, the National Taxpayers Union, the Southern Baptist Convention, and the Family Service Association of America have endorsed the Mathias bill.

Similar legislation will also be reintroduced this year in the House of Representatives by Congresswoman Millicent Fenwick (R-N.J.). Over 250 House members cosponsored the Fenwick bill last year.

"The marriage tax penalty is a glaring inequity in our tax code that must be eliminated," Mathias said. "I hope the Congress will correct this injustice by including it in a major tax cut this year."

In your town, there are lots of people you can count on!

Of course there are the police, firefighters, mailcarriers and many more. And then there are those who might not readily come to your mind...the business people of our community who provide those extremely vital services we all need and count on.

There's the pharmacist who'll compound that important lifesaving prescription and quickly deliver it. There's the hardware store that stocks those emergency plumbing parts, and the service station that comes out and gets your car quickly started when it just doesn't want to turn over. Local business can be "lifesavers" too. They're there when you need them in an emergency...and when it's not an emergency, will you still call on them? When you shop locally, you help build your community.

We care about our community.

County Title I Program Honors Earle Lear, Jr.

Earle Lear, Jr., of Deer Park, recently received a Certificate of Appreciation from County School Superintendent Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, for his leadership and participation in the Title I Program of the county school system.

Lear and his wife Dorothy came to live in Garrett County six years ago after his retirement as an employee of Potomac Power Electric Company in Washington, D.C., where he worked for 47 years. His granddaughter, Jennifer, came to live with them and was entered as a student in the Broad Ford Elementary School.

Soon after their granddaughter entered school, Mr. and Mrs. Lear became active in the school and county Title I Parent Advisory Councils. Lear accepted various offices and has served as secretary, vice-president, and chairman of the County Council. He has represented Garrett County at many state meetings, and conferences.

Lear said that he has learned to appreciate the school system, especially the work being done by Title I and the extra help being provided by the program in the basic areas of reading and arithmetic.

He also stated that through his participation he has come to understand how well the program is organized and monitored from the state and county level. He said that he highly recommends that other parents take an active part in the Advisory Council so that they can become better informed and become partners with the schools in educational decision-making.

Lear is 71 years old and plans to remain active in this program. He feels that his life in retirement has been "enriched by this experience" and he "highly recommends" that other retired persons become active in the Title I Program, or other "worthwhile causes."

Mystery Ski Theft Probed By Police

Three men and a female juvenile from the Swanton area were arrested Friday by Maryland State Police and charged with theft.

Harland Eugene Kitzmiller, Jr., 23; Michael R. Reams, 20; and Steven Harold Kitzmiller, 20, were taken into custody approximately 6:30 p.m. near their residence on the New Germany Road after being observed leaving the Wisp Ski Area with four pairs of skis and poles in their vehicle valued at $600. The accused claimed, when questioned by police, that they had no idea how the skis found their way into their truck. State police were not impressed and the quartet was arrested.

Weekend Blazes Damage House, Destroy Trailer

A single-story, two-bedroom house located along Route 39 just west of Crellin sustained severe damage as a result of fire Saturday morning and a trailer located near Keyser Ridge was destroyed Sunday afternoon.

Oakland and Deer Park firefighters were called to the house, which was owned by Mrs. Justina Gilly, Marietta, NC, at 6:56 a.m. Saturday, and upon arrival, found flames coming through the front door of the structure. The stone residence, although vacant for sometime, was almost fully furnished.

The cause of the blaze has not yet been determined, according to Jim Martin, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany counties. He said the fire started in the basement near an oil furnace and burned up through the first floor.

The fire was brought under control in about ten minutes, however heat and smoke damage was excessive throughout the house. A three-foot section of the floor in front of the front door also burned away. Martin estimated the damage at $20,000.

A spokesman for the Oakland Fire Department stated it was evident that the fire had gone undetected for quite sometime. Martin said neighbors had smelled smoke as early as 5 a.m., however the fire was not discovered until just before 7 a.m. by some passerby.

The temperature at the time of the alarm was -12 degrees. However, Martin said that the furnace could not have started the fire since there was no electricity in the house.

Fire personnel remained on the scene until 9:45 a.m. Also summoned by Garrett Central Alarm were the equipment truck of Southern Rescue and the county air cascade unit stationed at Gorman.

Fire was also responsible for the destruction of a mobile home owned by John and Kathy Millican on Sunday afternoon. The trailer was located at Keyser Ridge near the intersection of U. S. Route 40 and U. S. Route 219.

Accident and Grantsville volunteer firefighters were called to the scene at 2:18 p.m. by Garrett Central Alarm, after a passerby spotted the fire and phoned Garrett Central from the Keyser Ridge Truck Stop. The Millicans were not at home

Jim Martin investigated the blaze and determined that it was caused by an improperly installed wood stove. He said the couple, who lost all of their possessions, have some insurance and are presently staying with a relative.

Also called to the scene were the Northern Rescue Squad and the county air cascade unit, which is presently being housed at Deer Park's station. Placed on standby were the Bittinger and Deep Creek fire departments.

Firefighters from Grantsville remained on the scene until 4:41 p.m.

SMOLDERING RUBBLE is all that remains of the residence of Donald E. Ours. After the structure was destroyed early this morning by fire, the body of the 40 year-old Ours was discovered in the rubble by Oakland firefighters who responded to the 3:18 a.m. blaze. See story.

Old Man winter continues to hold Garrett County in the midst of his icy grip as temperatures plunged below zero several times during the last week.

Charles Morris To Resign From Sanitary Board

Charles O. Morris, Chairman of the Garrett County Sanitary Commission, this week submitted his resignation from that board to the Garrett County Commissioners. Morris has served on the commission since November, 1977, and he has filled the position of chairman for nearly three years. His resignation will be effective February 16.

Morris said he feels this is a good time for him to leave the commission, as some positive things have been accomplished and he is now ready to devote more time to other activities he is involved in.

Since his term began Morris said the commission, as well as the Sanitary District staff, has been reorganized. "The Mt. Lake Water Project is done," he said, except for some minor details, and rates have been adjusted so the water project is no longer losing money.

Morris added that the Gorman Water Project is nearing a settlement with the people there, and the commission is "over the hump" with the ecologists in regard to the Deep Creek Lake Sewerage Project. He indicated that he feels very positive about the commission's accomplishments, and that the time is appropriate for him to resign.

Formerly of Pittsburgh, Pa., Morris and his wife Dorothy have lived in Oakland since May of 1971. He is a retired Sales Manager of Merchant Iron Products, with United States Steel. Morris also serves as vice-chairman of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Board of Directors, and is an active member of St. Paul's Methodist Church.

Successor Named

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners Tuesday appointed John Dever, Oakland, to the Garrett County Sanitary Commission to fill the unexpired term of Charles Morris, Oakland.

Dever, a self-employed financial and tax consultant, has lived in Oakland since October 1971, but has worked in the area since 1966. He is a native of Cumberland.

He studied accounting through a correspondence course offered by the LaSalle Extension University, Chicago, and is working to receive a financial consultant certificate from the College for Financial Planning, Denver.

The 40-year old man lives with his wife, Victoria, and two children, Lisa and Michael, at 211 N 12th Street, Oakland.

Gorman Residents Heard On Matter Of Water System

More than 100 residents of Gorman and surrounding areas attended a public hearing last Wednesday at the Gorman Fire Hall, to discuss the proposed Gorman Water Project. The hearing was conducted by Tom Jones, Project Manager, acting as an agent of the Garrett County Sanitary District.

Bids for construction of the project, submitted in three phases, were taken on December 19. The first phase, which included Gorman and Route 50 to the Wilson-Corunna Road, calls for construction of a pipeline, pump station and elevated storage tank. Phase II, which parallels Route 50 halfway up Backbone Mountain, calls for construction of one pump station and one tank, and Phase III, which extends to Table Rock, calls for an elevated storage tank at the top of Backbone Mountain.

The main issue at last week's hearing dealt with what portion or portions of the project should be undertaken, and what areas should be served. Jones stated that the need for the project was established in 1974, when petitions from Gorman residents were submitted to the Sanitary District. Since that time the district has conducted two surveys to comply with grant application requirements, which consisted mainly of monitoring wells and springs and determining whether people within the district were having water quality problems.

Water for this project will be purchased by the Mt. Top Public Service District, Gormania, W. Va. Some residents expressed concern over the quality of that water, Jones assured the residents that the water must meet purity standards of the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

Wendall Keaton, Garrett County Municipal Coordinator, also spoke on the quality of the water source, and other health issues of the project. He indicated that hardness is a marginal problem, but that the water meets West Virginia standards of drinking water. He added that the water quality of existing wells in the area has a high iron content, which is difficult to remove.

Each resident who chooses to hook up to the system is required to pay an initial $75 hook-up charge. Jones stated that the estimated project user costs for an average family of three to four persons, using 3200 to 3500 gallons per month, would be about $10.50 to $11 per month. In addition to that, a Farmers Home Administration loan of $62,200 (estimated for all three phases) would be paid off in annual billing to property owners, based upon front footage assessment, at an estimated 13 cents per front foot, for a period of 40 years. Property owners would pay a rate for each foot of property which borders a road where a pipeline is installed.

The only exception to this, explained Dick Nace, Sanitary District Administrator, is in the case of agricultural land, in which case the owner would pay only on 300 feet for each connection. The front foot assessment issue brought some objections from residents present at the hearing, as persons with a lot of frontage, but not enough land to be considered agricultural, will be paying more.

A suggestion was made by the Sanitary Commission to take a roll call vote with those present, to give the board an indication of the public feeling and to assist them in making a decision as to what phases should be constructed. Each property owner was allowed to vote once for each building owned.

The result of the Phase I vote indicated that 23 people present wanted the proposed improvements, and 13 did not. Those living within the limits of Phase II (who were present at the meeting) indicated that three wanted the system and 12 did not. For Phase III, five voted for the system and four voted against it. The total vote for the entire proposed project was 31 for, 29 against.

Following the hearing the Sanitary Commission convened a meeting with the public present, and made the decision to go ahead with only the first phase of the project.

Garrett County Recreation Plan To Be Prepared

Preparation of a County-wide Outdoor Recreation and Open Space Plan is in its preliminary stages, but is underway at the Garrett County Planning Office, Anna McNallie, Senior Planner, has announced.

The plan, scheduled for completion by the end of September, is a requirement for Garrett County to maintain its eligibility for "Program Open Space" (POS) funds, McNallie said. POS requirements stipulate the plan must be finished and adopted by January 31, 1982.

McNallie explained the plan must be done by the end of September to allow for a mandatory 60-day review period by the Department of State Planning (DSP).

DSP must review the plan because it is to also become a major element of the County Development Plan update underway by the county planning commission.

After DSP has reviewed the plan, it will come back to the county commissioners for adoption. If it is adopted it will be submitted to DSP and the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

The plan is also needed, said McNallie, because of the significant impact which the

C&P Telephone Files New Rates

The C&P Telephone Company of Maryland filed new rates yesterday for telephone equipment and services reflecting a $25.3 million increase in annual revenue authorized last week by the Public Service Commission.

The rates are effective January 30, 1981, subject to the approval of the Commission. The new rates will show up in bills received by customers beginning in mid-February. A bill insert will alert customers to the new rates.

Prices for most products and services, including intrastate long distance calls, will go up about five percent, according to C&P. The overall effect of the new rates on customers' bills, depends on the equipment they have and the services they use.

In Oakland, for example, residence customers with individual flat rate service would see their basic monthly rate rise from $7.25 to $7.55. Residence customers with individual measured service would see a monthly increase from $4.70 to $5.00, and the charge for each local call over 65 will rise from 7½ to 8 cents. Basic monthly rates for customers with economy service would increase from $2.20 to $2.40. The charge for each local call will be eight cents. The charge for changing from flat rate or measured rate to economy service is eliminated.

There also will be increases in the charges for connecting new service or making changes in existing service. The overall cost for installing new service for a residence customer would go up about $1.60. The overall cost for connecting a new business phone would increase about $2.35.

The monthly inside wiring charge associated with each extension telephone (48 cents for residence customers, 78 cents for business extensions) has been eliminated.

Among the equipment and services that will not increase in price are coin telephone service, services designed for disabled people, Design Line telephones, and new products and services recently filed with the Commission.

Teletypewriters will be offered at a discounted rate to customers with hearing impairments. Customers with hearing impairments who use teletypewriters already receive a reduced rate on long distance calls within Maryland.

Loch Lynn Man Dies In House Fire This Morning

A house fire early this morning claimed the life of a 40-year-old Garrett County man.

Donald E. Ours, who resided along State Rt. 960 just east of Loch Lynn, was pronounced dead at the scene by Deputy Medical Examiner James H. Feaster, after his body was discovered among the burned remains of his single-story home.

Oakland and Deer Park volunteer firefighters were summoned by Garrett Central Alarm at 3:18 a.m., and upon their arrival, they discovered the structure totally involved in flame. The roof and floor were gone, and according to Lt. Mark Durst of the Oakland Fire Department, virtually only one wall of the residence was still standing. Durst stated that the fire had apparently gone undetected for some time. According to Garrett Central, the alarm was phoned in from Fred Jacoby, a neighbor.

Fire personnel remained on the scene until about 5:45 a.m.

They discovered Ours' body just inside the exterior wall. The body will be transported to Cumberland this afternoon for an autopsy.

Robert Shimer, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany counties, is investigating the incident. A preliminary report is that the fire apparently began near two wood stoves which were located near the center of the house, one in the basement and one on the first floor.

Also called to the scene was the Southern Rescue Squad.

Ours was born August 25, 1940, near Deer Park, and was a son of the late James and Gertrude Ours.

He was a laborer for the State Roads Department in Oakland.

He is survived by two brothers, James Ours, Ft. Defiance, Va.; Frank Ours, Loch Lynn; and two sisters, Mrs. Mildred Groves, Hyattsville, and Mrs. Virginia Bertzel, Martinsburg, W. Va.

The body is at the Stewart Funeral Home, where funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Bolden Bill To Enact Suggested Salary Hike for County Officials

Del. DeCorsey Bolden (R-Allegany, Garrett) is drafting legislation to increase salaries of certain county officials for the 1982-86 term as recommended by the Garrett County Salary Study Commission.

Bolden stated his legislation will be in accordance with all the Commission's recommendations except three. Instead of maintaining the State's Attorney as a part-time position, as the Commission suggested, Bolden has sponsored legislation to make it a full-time position and to eliminate one of the assistant State's Attorney positions.

Bolden noted his legislation carried the full support of the judicial branch of Garrett County government as well as of the State's Attorney's office and the Bar Association.

Two other Commission recommendations Bolden did not address in his bill were to make the three-member Board of County Commissioners a five-member board and to stagger the commissioners' terms of office.

Bolden stated the two suggestions may have merit but said both actions would be a "major step" for the county. He thought legislation on either suggestion may be appropriate in the future if there is enough public and governmental support.

Salary increases as recommended by the Commission for the officials to serve during the 1982-86 term were: County Commissioners (who now receive $13,100 a year), $16,500; Treasurer ($13,190), $18,000; Sheriff ($13,900), $19,500; Board of Supervisors of Elections ($1,200), $1,500 for the members and $1,800 for the president; and Liquor Control Board ($1800), $2,000.

The commission, set up by legislation by Bolden, began reviewing certain county offices in November. The only positions studied that did not receive a salary increase was for the Judges of the Orphans' Court.

House Passes Two Of Bolden's Bills

The third and fourth bills to pass through the State House of Representatives Monday evening were bills for Garrett County reported by DeCorsey Bolden (R-Allegany, Garrett), sponsor of both bills.

House Bill 58, one of the two passed by the House, amends Article 2B, Section 115 (b) of the Annotated Code of Maryland which requires retail dealers of alcoholic beverages to obtain a license in certain counties in order to license a purchaser in the respective county. The amendment would include Garrett County as one of the counties requiring a license of retail dealers.

The second bill passed was House Bill 59 which repeals Section 27-4 of the Public Local Laws of Garrett County which requires a motion picture admission tax on Sundays. Bolden noted that the Board of Garrett County Memorial Hospital, which receives revenues from the tax, agreed to the repeal of the law. He added that the tax generated an annual average income of $300.

The two bills will now go to the Senate for approval.

Bolden stated the bill requiring a county liquor license of retail dealers will help to cut down the supply of liquor transported into the county by Allegany County retail dealers.

He said the practice of outside retail dealers bringing alcoholic beverages into the county means a tax revenue

Area Businesses Burglarized

A breaking and entering at Highway Petroleum in Oakland last week led to the discovery of other businesses burglarized, and the arrest of a Deer Park man.

On the morning of January 24 a man was found inside the establishment of Highway Petroleum by Bill Sgaggero, when he came to work. The man had fled the scene and nothing was reported missing from the establishment.

At the scene police found various kinds of meat, cigarettes and knives, and the Garrett County Sheriff's Department began checking area businesses.

Investigation revealed that El Lobo Restaurant in Mt. Lake Park had been broken into sometime during the night. Taken from the establishment was $25 in cash, meat, cigarettes and knives, amounting to a loss value of about $100.

Joe's Place in Mt. Lake Park was also entered that night. Someone removed a large amount of coins from the register and keys to the establishment's vending machines and to the doors of the building.

Kenneth Wayne Pierce, 18, who was wanted in connection with a theft at Par-Matt Lanes, Oak Park, turned himself in to the Sheriff's Department on Wednesday, January 28, and admitted to entering Highway Petroleum and El Lobo's. Police said the subject claimed no knowledge of the burglary at Joe's Place. Pierce is still incarcerated on $300 bond.

In a separate case, the department responded to a disturbance at Top of the Hill Tavern, Oakland, on Saturday night about 1 a.m. William Stonebraker, 29, and Thomas Jeffrey Powell, 28, both of Kingwood, W. Va., were arrested in connection with destruction of property and a reported assault upon William Michael Helbig, owner of the establishment.

When police arrived at the scene they discovered Stonebraker and Powell, along with John Koten, also of Kingwood, attempting to leave, one carrying a car jack. Police said a car jack, a snow shovel and a bar chair were used to cause damage.

A large window of the establishment was broken out, and other items, including a bar chair and glasses, were destroyed. Loss value is estimated at $2000.

Powell was charged with destruction of property and escape, and was released the same day when he posted $300 bond. Stonebraker was charged with destruction of property and was released the same day when he posted $150 bond.

In a separate incident, S. J. Groves and Sons, Bloomington, was the site of numerous thefts during the night of January 27. Unknown persons entered upon the business property and removed gasoline from six company vehicles, a total of approximately 72 gallons. Five gas caps and three batteries were also taken from the vehicles, and some damage was done to a gas hose.

The total loss value is estimated at about $258.60, plus the damage to the hose, which is undetermined at this time.

Sandra Marie Sharpless, Deer Park, reported a theft which occurred at her residence sometime between January 16 and February 2, while she was away from the home. Jewelry was taken from two jewelry boxes in the home, which were found moved from one room to another. Police said there was no evidence of forced entry.

Taken were one ladies' gold watch, one man's Southern High School class ring with the initials P.R.S., class of 1970; assorted pierced earrings, rings, necklaces, bracelets and a personal silver charm bracelet. Nothing else was reported disturbed.

A total loss value is approximately $1000.

In a separate case, James Lynn Smith, Beckman's Peninsula, Swanton, reported that someone removed a boat from the porch of his cottage. Police said Smith indicated the 17-foot aluminum canoe was last noticed on the porch on December 1, and was discovered missing on January 22.

The boat is valued at about $175.

Roger Warren Titus, Chevy Chase, reported that his cabin at Thousand Acres was entered sometime between January 25 and 30. Two window panes were broken out to gain entry, and Titus reportedly found the heat, the fan over the electric stove, the bedroom lights and the outside light turned on. Nothing was reported missing.

Total loss value of the windows broken is estimated at $102.

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department made three arrests last week, in addition to those previously mentioned.

Donald Baker, 27, and Willard James Stemple, 21, both of West Virginia, were arrested January 28 on fugitive warrants from West Virginia. Each was released the next day on $500 unsecured bond.

Dallas Uphold, 42, Oakland, was incarcerated Saturday on a charge of assault. He was released Sunday when he posted $50 cash bond.

recreation industry exercises upon the county's economy.

During January, McNallie began drafting a progress report on the present status of the plan and organizing a public advisory committee composed of representatives of both users and providers of recreational facilities.

This month, McNallie plans to begin six special studies as part of her work on the recreation plan.

The topics of those studies will be: the role of State lands in meeting local recreational needs; the outdoor recreational needs of special populations, especially the elderly and the handicapped; the role of agricultural lands as open space; the status of winter recreation in Garrett County, with an emphasis on snowmobiling; the role of transportation as it affects access to recreational facilities; and the feasibility of a multi-sport recreational facility at Garrett Community College.

An application for 50 percent-match funding has been submitted to DNR for Program Open Space funds.

McNallie stated the request is for $6,668. The county will also have to contribute $6,668 for the study which can be a combination of cash and inkind services.

There is legislation pending in the General Assembly which, if it passes, would provide for 100 percent reimbursement to counties for money spent on recreation plan work during fiscal year 1981, McNallie stated.

Bolden noted his bill would mean a retail dealer would have to purchase his alcohol in the county in order for him to deliver it to customers in the county.

Conversations on Carpeting
Brought to you by
Carolyn & Butch Helbig
Who say
"A Floor without a Rug is like a Kiss without a Hug."
WHAT'S NEWS IN CARPETING?
Hollyberry, cinnamon, caramel corn, butter cream, bayleaf . . . sound good enough to eat? Actually, these are names of new carpet colors appearing on the decorating scene. In addition to these, there are many other "natural" shades which are being used in carpeting today . . . sand, stone, brick, and clay to name a few. Carpet patterns, which are becoming so popular, also reflect this trend toward the natural with bold flowers and many other designs taken directly from nature.
This movement toward the natural is being helped along by the desire of today's women to decorate their homes with their own handcrafts and hobbies. And many of today's carpet patterns are being designed to reflect the patterns of the handmade rugs of Mexico, India, and North Africa.
Plush carpeting is in great demand today, too. This is a more elegant texture than the more casual shags and seems to indicate a desire by some to go back to a more formal way of life.
If you'd like to see what's new in carpet styles and textures, stop in at Roderick's today. We have the finest carpet selections in the area.

Sharing The Load . . .

Members of Congress, in particular the House Budget Committee, are presently studying 105 suggestions from leading economists on how to cut federal spending by billions of dollars. At the same time, President Reagan is making his own list of proposals to achieve the same goal. His targets for spending cuts include such things as Social Security, food stamps, Medicaid, extended and import-related unemployment benefits, and public service jobs, among others.

Reagan stated that all federal programs will be subject to budget cuts, however overall spending for defense will not be reduced.

The argument that spiraling inflation is a direct result of increased government spending can hardly be refuted. Most Americans believe the time is way past that federal spending is slashed so our economy can once again show stability. President Reagan seems to be willing to bite the bullet and begin cutting back. Such a move could hurt him politically, for almost every citizen will directly or indirectly feel some negative effects from reduced or eliminated programs. On the other hand, if Reagan can weather the storm of disgruntled groups who feel they are being unduly harmed by the budget cuts and lead the nation to a more stable economy, he could become one of our most successful and popular presidents. He has no choice but to try, and we admire his courage.

We should all be prepared to accept the difficulties which will no doubt accompany reduced federal spending. However, the average citizen should not be required to carry the entire load. The proverbial fat cats of business and industry, as well as those in government positions, many of whom are responsible for the financial mess we're in right now, must accept their share.

Along with the spending cuts, it would be encouraging to see the elimination of the tremendous waste of taxpayer dollars in some government programs and the funneling of a portion of those funds into the programs which need and deserve them.

Judicial Indulgence? . . .

by Carol Kapel

The question of appropriate sentencing (or lack of it) in our present court system in these times of increased crime is one of relative complexity.

Ponder for a moment the deterrent offered the criminal element in the form of minor or non-existent fines, suspended jail terms, unsupervised probation, early release programs, and apparent lack of forceful leadership from some judicial benches.

The state parole board recently tied even tighter the hands of law enforcement officers and judges, whose efforts truly are in the public interest, by relaxing clemency requirements in many cases, directing immediate release for many current inmates considered no longer a danger to the public safety.

Many brought to trial are treated to the minimum punishment—often sent with the seemed blessings of the court from the hearing to the street to begin again.

If fitting penalties are imposed, and the criminal element is subjected to the maximum punishment for the public rules violated, it may not be the answer, but it certainly would be a step in the right direction.

Dear Editor,

Now that the building and renovation project at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital is underway, we would like to extend a special thanks to Delegate DeCorsey Bolden and Senator Edward Mason for their assistance. Without the endorsement, support and advisement of these two concerned public officials, our dreams may never have become a reality.

From the bottom of our hearts and on behalf of all the patients we serve, we say thank you.

Dear Editor:

I'm very happy someone notices the Social Services and their continuing effort to take children from their parents.

Maybe at times it is necessary to do so, I mean for the real abusers and those who neglect. But I feel its not right to take the children away because the Social Service people want to or just because one of the parents was once in a foster home.

It's been almost five years since we lost our children. It wasn't because we abused or neglected them. You see, we had no bathroom and the only way to bathe them was in a rinse tub. My children were small and two were in head start everyday. They attended Sunday School every Sunday. But that wasn't enough. The mistake we made was we asked them (Social Services) for help.

We still love and want our children very much. But we don't have a chance to even get a new hearing. But I know all the people involved will have to answer to God for what they're done.

The only time we see our children is in a store or on the street, but we're not allowed to speak to or touch them.

Our lives have changed for the better, as far as living situations and work. But our love for our children hasn't and we still pray to have them back.

I'll continue to hope someone will do something to stop these people who tear families apart.

If you parents still have your children, then love them and praise every day you have with them. Oh yes, and keep them out of tin tubs.

The Social Services department is out there lurking, searching for your children and once they get them they don't make it easy to get them back.

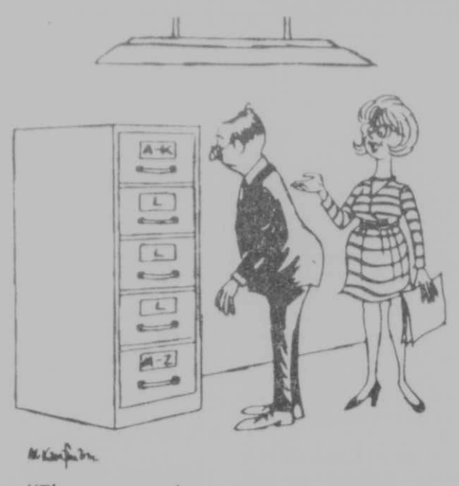

Yours truly,
A hopeful Mother

Sir:

For all practical purposes the loyalists letter was re-run of the letter someone wrote to Bob Watson when he told it like it was about the Cuban refugees, when they were swarming into Florida by the tens of thousands, young and old, criminal and otherwise. That mass of humanity had a multi-million dollar impact on the federal (so called budget and cost the American taxpayer a bundle of long green). The Asians can stay in Asia, the Cubans in Cuba and the Iranians in Iran with my full consent. And if I get to be as insane, as the Ayatollah Khomeini, it is conceivable I could crack my back with a chain, but not before.

And because I am critical of government corruption but don't advocate the overthrow of the government, haven't joined the Communist Party, the Neo-Nazi Party, the KKK or the gayrights movement, I don't consider myself a radical, therefore have no need of a soap box.

Harlan (Jack Anderson) Miller

"The reason there are so many L's is because we get a lot of letters."

Editor:

Several cases from District Court and their sentences recorded in The Republican the past two weeks warrant a second look.

Disorderly intoxication and disturbing the peace: fined $75.00; Concealed weapon in vehicle (sawed-off shotgun); suspended sentence, six months supervised probation; Theft of jewelry, clothing, tools and small appliances over a three-month period, suspended sentence, 24 months supervised probation; Attempted theft of 200 lbs. of potatoes, sentence suspended, 12 months unsupervised probation; Assault against a minor female, sentence suspended, 24 months supervised probation; A suspect in an alleged child abuse case, bond was set at $5,000.00 by the District Court Commissioner, Judge Jones later released the defendant on his own recognizance; Theft of two cans of tobacco, valued at $1.02, fined $25.00; Theft of cigars and chewing gum, valued at .70, fined $50.00, 24 months unsupervised probation.

If you were to program this information into a computer under "Equal Justice Under the Law," it would probably blow a fuse. At the very least, it would not compute.

I realize that different cases require different sentences. Someone who is a second or third offender would expect a more severe sentence than a first time offender.

My question is, what determines the amount of a fine and/or the length of a jail term and whether a fine or jail term should be suspended? Is it the crime itself? Is it the damage or injury done or potential damage or injury done had the crime been carried out? Is it the cost of or amount of goods stolen? Judging from the cases cited above, this does not seem to be the case. Or is it who committed the crime and against whom the crime was committed?

Yours truly,
Jerry Stewart,
Oakland

Dear Editor:

Welfare, How far will it go?

As a mother of 7 and wife of a dairy farmer, I hardly have time to sit down and write; but on second thought, I've been sitting down too long.

One day last week we got a letter from Farmer's Home Administration stating low income families should check to see if they are eligible for free "fuel assistance."

I was furious to say the least. Not that farmers are making any more than low income wages, but wondering how many more letters like this were mailed across the nation to well-bodied citizens who would fall in the hands of another free hand out.

Is this the answer to the energy crisis?

Twenty years ago people lived, and maybe had more to live for, without all this assistance. And may I say people felt more like helping their neighbors.

In calling the number stated in the FHA letter I expressed my views. But somehow they didn't even seem to know that the government was sending out these letters.

Don't get me wrong, I strictly believe in helping poor but do we know what poor is anymore???

I've seen people on food stamps who use to have a garden. They stopped gardening and they said they paid little as possible on bills so they would keep qualifying for free assistance. Their challenge to work died. Are we really helping them?

Why am I crazy and writing this: Because I enjoy my freedom and the more free handouts the less freedom we have.

Anyone reading this and connected with assistance to pay for taxes instead of fuel, please feel free to give us a call.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Clayton Martin
Rt. 2, Oakland

Dear Editor:

I'm writing concerning about the children that have been taken away from their homes for no reason at all.

There are children that do need assistance, but nothing is being done about it. Some parents can get away with child abuse and neglect, many times a child that has a good home and parents that love him enough to take care of him and raise him the best way they know how, is the one that gets taken away.

Then there's a system they have as they call it. They're put into a foster home for temporary custody. But when the child's parents try to get them back they have a hard time because the foster parents don't want to give them up.

I think that the Social Services Department in Oakland should be the ones investigated. We need a Department that does their jobs and know's what they're doing and not for their own benefit. If just once, one of the Social Workers homes were to be investigated, I bet that there would be a lot found wrong or yet they would be overlooked as they call it.

If people would start caring for justice then we might be able to get some action and start living normal lives again with our children at home where they belong.

missioner Ernest Gregg, who was present at the hearing, stated that "this was a resolution which I think addressed the majority of the people," adding that the Sanitary Commission proved that it could be sensitive to the wills of the people.

A spokesman stated that the majority of commission members felt that, for the health of the area, the entire system should by built. Those present at the hearing were warned that, if the project is abandoned now (or a portion of it) it will take a tremendous effort on the part of the people to get the Sanitary Commsion involved again, according to one spokesman.

By law, anyone who is dissatisfied with the decision may submit a petition with at least 25 signatures of property owners in the district, to the Sanitary Commission, within 10 days of the hearing, causing them to call another public hearing.

At the Sanitary Commission meeting last night, a petition with 21 signatures was presented to the board, requesting that the project be extended to Table Rock. As the number of signatures was below the required amount, the commission advised the group that it had until Monday to come up with additional signatures. The group indicated that it would attempt to do this.

Maryland News In Brief

Prison Overcrowding

WESTMINSTER, Md. (UPI) — A Carroll County circuit judge has suspended the sentences of two convicted burglars because there is not enough space in state prisons.

"This case presents one of the frustrations that the court has with the inability to deal with certain ... criminal matters," said Judge Donald Gilmore.

Anthony and James Shipp were convicted of two 1979 burglaries and had faced up to 30 years in prison.

Accidental Death

BALTIMORE (UPI) — An assistant state medical examiner said Tuesday a Dorsey, Md., child killed Saturday when a citizens band radio antenna pierced his temple died accidentally.

Walter Brooks, 8, was tossing the antenna back and forth with two friends in his back yard. Witnesses told police the antenna hit the ground... bounced up and hit the child in the temple.

Dr. Virginia Dolan, assistant state medical examiner, said she has ruled out the possibility the antenna was thrown deliberately.

Gold Dealers Banned

OCEAN CITY, Md. (UPI) — The Ocean City council is considering a bill that would stop out-of-town dealers from buying and selling precious metals and gold in the resort town.

The bill was introduced at Monday's council sesson. A final vote will be held in a few weeks.

The measure is similar to one that was passed by the Salisbury city council recently. It stops transient dealers from coming to town to buy and sell gold and precious metals.

Bill Amended

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The Anne Arundel County council has passed a series of amendments to its farmlands protection bill in response to criticism from developers and landowners.

The developers and landowners said the bill unfairly restricted their right to develop their land as they choose. The bill was designed from preventing the mass changeover of farmland for residential or industrial development.

The amendments were passed late Monday.

Five Years Probation For Arsonist

TOWSON, Md. (UPI) — A man convicted of arson for setting fire to a vacant house he owns has been placed on probation for five years.

Michael M. Agostinelli, 36, was convicted of trying to destroy the house he owns Nov. 26, 1979 and told Baltimore County Circuit Judge Cullen Hormes Monday the act was "bad judgment on my part. I don't feel guilty of any crime."

Hormes gave him a suspended sentence and placed him on probation.

Better Test Scores

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (UPI) — Prince George's County high school student scores have improved for the fifth consecutive year on the Maryland Functional Reading Test, school officials said Tuesday.

In 1977, 61.9 percent of the seventh graders given the test passed. In the latest examination, nearly 74 percent passed. A similar trend was reported for ninth grade students.

Dr. Ellwood Loh, of the county school system's testing office, said the latest instructional material being used in schools seem to be working.

New Job Program

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The city Office of Manpower Resources and the Baltimore Metropolitan Private Industry Council are beginning a program to provide private employers with a fast way of filling entry-level jobs, Mayor William Donald Schaefer announced Tuesday.

Schaefer said the program, called "Starters," will provide employment consultants to match employers' needs with an inventory of trained workers who are seeking jobs and have been screened for a good record.

The program is "visible proof that our private sector recognized that unemployment is of concern to all of us," Schaefer said.

Second Impression

Labor Of Love

by Harry Fox

The car wash. The cars and trucks gather under a warm, mid-winter sun, at that most American of institutions. Some curious sociologist, picking through the remains of twentieth century life on North America will surely wonder at these shrines where mankind came to worship the Clean Late Model.

The crowds come early and stay late. Families come together, so that youthful minds can taste the fruits of life in a free land. Polished chrome, accented with pin-stripes, blends with deeply tinted glass. Interiors of supple vinyl and cloth make the harsh, cold reality of $1.27 a gallon gas that much easier to bear.

From my carefully-guarded spot in the line of worshipers, it is easy to distinguish the degrees of devotion among the gathered faithful. Some, like me, come only out of dire necessity, driven by the opaque layer of salt and sand covering the windows. Once, I had a windshield. Now my passengers peer out at the world through two half-circles carved by the sweep of the windshield wipers.

The devotees ahead of me could not care less. Unsatisfied with the standard rite, wash and rinse, they return to drop more tokens in the alms box. Copious streams of water gush from the hose. Each fender receives careful attention, and the streak left by an unfeeling gas station attendant is rubbed away as the ritual moves into its final moments.

Carefully, carefully, Dad slips behind the wheel and eases the vehicle toward the signs that beckon, "Please Move To Drying Area!" Now the children burst from the back seat, rags in hand. They scurry around the car like so many ants. A staccato shriek erupts from Mother, "Don't touch the window!" No one must disturb the curved glass portals until the sun has dried the last drops of water.

Meanwhile, I have had second thoughts about the whole venture. Since it is winter, the soapy water freezes into a miniature skating rink around the washing unit. As the high-pressure hose comes to life, it wraps about my feet with a will of its own. My neighbor looks up from his task to stare disdainfully at the gritty, caked evidence of my indifference. Clearly, here is an infidel. No class at all.

If washing the car is a labor of love, I certainly deserve no valentines this year. Enough is enough. My two passes around the vehicle remove enough of the dirt to reveal the whole windshield. Sunlight streams through the windows for the first time in months. I have to squint against the glare as I pull away, mission accomplished. I don't even pause at the Drying Area as I roll down the window to enjoy the winter air.

PET POINTERS

By Robert L. Stear, D.V.M.
Manager of Veterinary Services
Norden Laboratories

Each week, hundreds of people visit animal shelters and breeders to select pets.

Some will select large strong dogs to guard property. Others will choose petite canines as companions for elderly relatives. But most will be there to find pets for their children.

Careful observation and handling of the puppies or dogs available for adoption can make the difference between choosing a friendly, responsive animal and one that never quite fits into your household. Let me review a few techniques you can use at the shelter or kennel you visit. These steps take only a few minutes and offer information about the animal's personality.

When you first approach a group of puppies, notice which ones run toward you and which hold back. Eliminate from further consideration those that don't approach you. The reason for this is to eliminate puppies that may have already developed an aversion to people. Also, a pup that lags behind, with noticeable less energy than its kennel mates, may be ill.

Now you're ready to test the acceptable puppies on an individual basis. Place a pup on the floor some distance from you, and call to it. If the puppy comes to you readily, lift the puppy up above your head, with both hands under its forelegs, and muzzle toward you. If he settles down, speak reassuringly. A pup should be given three tries to calm down while held in the air. Roll the puppy over on its back, lift it into the air, and repeat the previous test.

Next, lay the pup down on its side on the floor, and hold it there for about half a minute. Hold him by the scruff of the neck with one hand and use the other hand to keep him flat. Stroke the pup's belly to see if he trusts you in this vulnerable position. The best response would be the pup's lifting a hind leg to expose its tender underside, as a sign of trust. While the pup is lying down, also hold its muzzle for a few seconds, and look for signs of resentment or irritation.

Finally, you repeat the approach test. Release the pup from its position on the floor, and wait to see if he comes to you. Pet him briefly, get up, and walk away while you coax him to follow. If he comes eagerly and did not put up a strong protest during the previous tests, the pup gets a high rating as a potential family pet.

These tests are designed to measure a puppy's acceptance of human beings as well as its tolerance of authority. They are most accurate when used with puppies between seven and 16 weeks of age. This is the period when puppies are most impressionable to human contact. Their experiences during this time will lay the foundation for their actions towards humans later.

Several organizations that train dogs recognize this basic concept and make special provisions for puppies to have social contact during this period. This is a primary reason why puppies destined to be guide dogs for the blind are boarded with private families for several months. These animals are more reliable, and easier to train than dogs that have had little human contact.

There are not as many ways to test an older dog. An older animal should still approach you readily, and tolerate your touch on its head. The dog that lays its ears back or shies away is not a good candidate.

Once you've made your selection, you should ask the shelter attendant or kennel manager for information about the dog's health. Is it wormed? Has it been vaccinated against the major contagious diseases? Are you entitled to a certificate describing the dog's state of health? Even if all the above answers are yes, I would recommend an early visit to your veterinarian. A thorough examination by a veterinarian at this early stage can save you time and money in the long run. This is especially important if the pet will join other animals in your household.

CLOWNS PRESENT CHAIR — Jamie Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Riley, Frazee's Ridge, was the recent recipient of a wheelchair from members of the Ali Ghan Shrine Harige Clown unit. The chair may be used by Jamie for as long as is necessary, after which time it will be passed on to another handicapped youngster. Assisting crippled children is the primary charitable goal of Shriners, as they have established several children's hospitals nationwide. Making the presentation to Jamie were, left to right, Bernard Burns, Mt. Lake Park; Harold J. White, Nest Lick Acres; and William Ashby, Oakland.

Conservationalists Helping Farmers Comply With Water Quality Program

Soil conservation districts in Maryland are waging an intensive, yet subtle, campaign to help farmers meet the goals of the state's new agricultural water quality management program, according to John Reckner, Jr., District Conservationist. Each of the state's 24 districts is targeting help to those areas within their boundaries that have the highest potential for causing sediment and animal waste pollution.

About 15 percent of the state lies in these so-called critical areas, Reckner says, which range in size from 250 to 120,000 acres. Each district has identified at least one critical area. Those with more than one have ranked them according to priority.

The Maryland State Soil Conservation Committee estimates it would cost about $24 million to treat all the priority areas identified in the state. They have even drafted a bill to establish a state cost-share program for non-point pollution, similar to federal cost-share programs for point pollution. But, so far, the state has not come up with the money, according to Reckner.

Conservation districts meanwhile, he said, have decided the most feasible solution is to tackle the problem on a voluntary basis and have enlisted the support of other agencies.

For example, Reckner said, the U. S. Soil Conservation Service is providing landowners with technical help in designing conservation measures to correct erosion and animal waste pollution problems. The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service last year made over $280,000 in cost-sharing available to farmers in eight counties to install practices to correct water quality problems in special project areas. The Extension Service is providing information and educational support.

"We want these people to know that there is a high potential for a water quality problem in their area. And we want them to know where they can get help," says Reckner.

The criteria used in identifying areas with potential water quality problems include livestock density, slope, soil erodibility, land use and proximity to streams. Although these factors may indicate a high probability for a water quality problem to exist, it doesn't always mean there actually is one. Says Reckner, "We're going into these areas with an open mind. It's just as important to know that there is not a problem as to know there is. Landowners may already be doing the best conservation job possible. If so, we need to recognize this so that we can avoid unneeded regulation."

What happens if an erosion or animal waste problem is found? This is a voluntary program," explains Reckner. "We will give the landowner all the help we can to bring that problem under control. The more voluntary cooperation there is, the less chance that a regulatory agency will come in some day and force farmers to take corrective action. This may be costly."

Most sediment and animal waste pollution problems can be solved by installing one or more "best management practices," a new term for some of the same soil and water conservation practices conservation districts have been pushing for over 40 years, Reckner says. Examples include grass waterways, diversions, conservation tillage, contour stripcropping, cover crops, manure holding ponds, and lagoons.

Technically the program is aimed at keeping soil and nutrients out of streams. But district officials say it is just as important to keep them on the land producing food.

"We could recommend that someone with an erosion problem build a pond or install a silt fence to trap the sediment before it reaches the stream," says Reckner. "But that's not a very efficient use of resources. We want to maintain the land's long-term productivity and keep the farm in business. The only way to do that is to apply conservation practices based on a good conservation plan."

Districts will be working in priority areas as time and resources allow. Meanwhile, Reckner says anyone who would like help on a possible pollution problem may contact their local conservation district.

Assessment Answers & Tax Talk

by James Burley

THE HOMESTEAD TAX CREDIT FLAW

Hundreds of hapless homeowners are being caught in a confusing situation regarding the applicability of the Homestead Tax Credit.

The purpose of this law is to provide relief to homeowners who, because of inflation resulting in fast-rising property values, receive reassessments from one year to the next that are larger than 15%.

Many mistakenly believe that the homestead provision places a cap on the assessment and limits the persentage or the amount of the increases in an assessment. It does neither of these, but it does work to control the property tax that is based on the assessment. It works this way. Should an assessment on an owner-occupied dwelling increase in a yearly aggregate more than 15%, then the owner in entitled to receive a credit on the property tax bill offsetting the amount exceeding the 15%. In other words, regardless of the amount of the increase. the owner should pay only up to the first 15% of it in taxes.

But, there is one serious drawback, and it is causing many unsuspecting homeowners to be unnecessarily penalized. The law specifying the conditions that must be met, stipulates that the property must not have changed to new ownership during the previous calendar year. The year 1980, now happens to be the previous calendar year. The homeowner, therefore, unfortunate enough to have bought his home anytime in 1980 does not meet the basic requirement and is automatically excluded from the benefit. From the homeowner's standpoint, this is hard to take.

Worse, the owner could have bought the property in January, 1980, living in it virtually the entire year, and still not qualify. Another owner could have bought his property the last of December and lose out. Ironically, if he had waited until January, 1981, he would have qualified for the credit on the forthcoming tax bill because he would not then have bought it the previous calendar year. He would, though, face his fate next year because by then the transaction would have occurred during the previous calendar year, and he would be ineligible then even though he had received the credit the previous year.

Inflation hits all homeowners alike. As a matter of fact, with the highest interest rates in history and the difficulty of obtaining mortgage money, the new homeowner could be more hard pressed and in greater need of the protection. Unless there is some sound reason for this exclusion which has thus far not surfaced, it should be deleted and all homeowners should get the equal protection of the Homestead Tax Credit Provision.

Now, with the Maryland General Assembly in session, is a good time to correct this inequity.

FAST BREAK — Garrett Community College Laker Dave Hershman breaks free and dashes down the floor for a quick two against Potomac State last Wednesday evening. GCC defeated the visiting Catamounts, 100-83, as Miguel Rojas set a school record of 39 points. Also identifiable in the photo for the Lakers are No. 20 Mike Lonigro, No. 40 Roger Cornwell, No. 44 Rojas, and No. 42 Valin Yaw.

Rojas Sets Record As Lakers Rip Catamounts

Led by Miguel Rojas' record-setting 39 points, the Garrett Community College Lakers rolled to a 100-83 win over the visiting Catamounts of Potomac State last Wednesday. It was the ninth win of the season for Coach Randy Hess' Lakers, against seven defeats.

The Cats started the scoring and led 6-4 at the 18:10 mark of the first half. As the game progressed the Cats owned leads of 12-8 and 19-12. However, Garrett rallied to take the lead at 20-19 with 11:59 remaining in the half.

The remainder of the half was a see-saw contest to the final buzzer. At one point Potomac State gained a three-point lead that turned out to be their largest lead since the seven-point advantage earlier. The Lakers re-took the lead at 40-39 and the Cats responded with a basket of their own.

Halftime—Garrett 43, Potomac State 43

Garrett tied the score when Shawn Finney made one of two free throws. They led 43-41 just before the half when Kelvin Healey dropped one in from the corner at the half-time buzzer to send the two teams to the dressing room deadlocked at 43.

Rojas already tallied 22 points by the intermission. He would finish the evening with 39 points, breaking their school's record of 38 total points.

The second half also saw the emergence of Garrett's Jerome Hampton. Held scoreless in the first half, he had the hot hand for 21 points on eight field goals and five of seven free throws.

The second half was the Lakers from the start to the buzzer. Potomac State never led and closed the gap to no less than four at 65-61 with 11:00 minutes remaining. Garrett slowly increased the lead by 11 to 13 until the final margin of 17.

The Catamounts were trying to avenge their previous loss to Garrett earlier in the year. GCC defeated the Cats 84-73 on Potomac State's hardwoods.

Behind Garrett's Rojas and Hampton were Brian Black and H. A. Savage with 16 and 12, respectively.

Leading the way for Potomac State was Tony Van Cliff with 24 points on seven field goals and 10 of 11 free throws. Anthony Amendola finished with 19 points, Rich Peggues, 18, and Kelvin Healey hit 12.

The Lakers outshot the Cats from the floor by a 43-35 margin, as well as at the free throw line as they hit 14 of 21 attempts, compared to a ten-of-16 effort by Potomac State.

GOING AIRBORNE is GCC's Shawn Finney as he adds two points to the Lakers' total of 100 against Potomac State Wednesday evening. It was the second defeat of the Catamounts by the Lakers this season.

Lakers' Bid For Upset Spoiled In Last Second

A ten-foot jumper with only one second remaining spoiled an upset bid by the Garrett Community College Lakers Saturday evening, as they were nipped by the Catonsville Cardinals, 75-73, on the McHenry hardwoods. The loss dropped the Lakers' season ledger to 9-8 and a disappointing 1-8 in the Maryland JUCO American Division.

Cantonsville came into the contest ranked number 3 in Region XX of the JUCO with a 22-3 overall record now shares the division lead with Baltimore CC, each with 8-2 records.

Garrett took the lead early in the contest and was up by as many as eight points. However, Catonsville came back to tie the score at halftime, 37-37.

Early in the second half, the scoring continued in the Cardinals favor and they were ahead by eight. However, the Lakers rallied and took the lead with about two minutes remaining, 71-69. Catonsville tied the score at 71 on a field goal, but Miguel Rojas put GCC on top again with two free throws, 73-71.

With 1:15 remaining, the Lakers missed a jumper and Catonsville decided to hold the ball for a final shot. With one tick left on the clock, Ed Stevens connected on the game winner.

Rojas topped the Lakers scoring with 20 points on nine goals and two of two from the line. Brian Black was close behind with nine buckets and one of one from the line for 19 points. Jerome Hampton netted 18 points and H.A. Savage connected for ten markers. Rojas also pulled six rebounds.

Catonsville was led by Stevens, who finished with 23 points. All-American Charles Green provided 20 points, while Eric Foxworth and Daryl Webster each chipped in with ten.

The winning margin was decided from the floor, as the Cardinals hit 34 goals, compared to 33 for Garrett. Both teams hit seven shots from the foul line, Catonsville on ten attempts and the Lakers on eight.

QUESTION:
"A few years ago, new natural gas hookups weren't available. Has that changed?"

ANSWER:
"Yes. Our growing supplies mean there's more gas available... for more people who want it."

Columbia Gas is now adding new customers where we couldn't before. We can now do this because of conservation and the savings that have come from more efficient use of natural gas. And because of our efforts to increase supplies.

On the conservation side, all of the steps our customers are taking to use natural gas more efficiently have resulted in a 15% decrease in usage since the peak years in the early seventies.

As usage has been going down, growing supplies have been adding to the natural gas available to Columbia, and Columbia customers. New wells, expanding pipelines and increased storage are all adding to our supply capabilities.

So now Columbia is in a supply situation which allows us to add new customers while meeting the needs of current customers—this winter and in the future.

If you'd like information on areas where new hookups are available, call your Columbia Gas office. For ideas on ways to make the most of your energy dollars, also ask for a copy of our free "Everyday Energy Saver's Guide."

COLUMBIA GAS
Still your best energy value.
And we want to keep it that way.

Rams Record Wins Over Elk Garden, Petersburg

The Southern High varsity basketball team continued its winning ways over the past week by cruising past Elk Garden Friday evening, 58-37, and stopping Petersburg last night, 57-50. The wins improved the Rams' season ledger to 13-3.

The contest with the visiting Elk Garden Stags was a relatively close one throughout the first half as the Rams held only a one point lead at the end of the first quarter, 12-11, and were on top by four at intermission. Southern came back fired up in the third stanza, however, and outscored the West Virginians 15-4, to go into the final eight minutes leading 39-24.

Leading the scoring thrust for the Rams was Jeff Ryscavage, who hit six goals and three on seven from the line for 15 points. Dave Harsh was the only other Ram reaching double figures, finishing with ten points.

Leading all scorers was Elk Garden's Carter Moreland, who netted seven goals and four of five from the line for a total of 18 points.

The Rams were edged at the foul line, as the Stags connected on 15 of 24 attempts, compared to a disappointing 14-for-31 effort by Southern. From the field, however, Southern scored just twice the number of buckets as the Stags, 22-11.

Elk Garden dropped to 3-7 on the season.

Brian Selders finished with 15 points last night against the homestanding Petersburg Vikings, while teammates Dave Harsh and Jeff Ryscavage recorded 14 and ten points, respectively. The Rams maintained an arm's length lead throughout most of the contest to pick up their fourth Potomac Valley Conference win against two defeats.

Southern was up by six at the end of the first quarter, 18-12, and also at intermission, 32-26. The halftime break changed little in the way of momentum, as the Vikes were still down by seven going into the final stanza, 41-34.

Scoring honors went to Winston Redman, who netted 16 points for the Vikes, while Paul Redman and John Koontz contributed 14 and 12 markers, respectively.

The Rams were outgunned from the floor by a single bucket, 24-23, but converted 11 of 13 free throw attempts, compared to only a two-for-four effort by Petersburg. The loss dropped the Vikings' record to 5-7.

Southern will return to action Friday by traveling to Cumberland and taking on a powerful Bishop Walsh team.

Season Pass To Be Offered At Maryland Parks

The Department of Natural Resources will institute a season pass this summer costing $30, which will allow entry to state parks seven days a week including holidays.

"The pass is worth well over $200, and is geared toward service to the local community", said Barbara Newnam, State Park Public Information Officer. She said the success of last year's weekday pass led to the initiation of a daily pass for the entire season, a decision made by the state park administration.

Senator Edward J. Mason (R-Allegany-Garrett) recently delivered a packet of petitions to the Maryland Forest and Park Services opposing the $3 per vehicle admission fee to state parks. In commenting on the season pass Mason said, "I think the department is being as responsible as they can during times of double-digit inflation.

Last year camping for senior citizens was offered at half price on certain days. This year senior citizens may camp at state parks for half price every night, seven days a week.

There will be free entry to area parks on Mondays again this year, and special passes will be issued for "Golden Agers" and handicapped persons.

To assist in generating funds for state parks, the DNR has, for the second year, suggested legislation which will allow persons to check off a percentage of their income tax refund to go to the Maryland Park Service for renovation and upkeep of Maryland parks. The contribution, which would avoid additional park visitors fees, is strictly voluntary.

The majority of state park revenue goes into the operation of the park, said Ms. Newnam, and about one-third goes into a statewide general park fund which is distributed in larger amounts to areas with vast amounts of state park property. Ms. Newnam stated that about 25 percent of the statewide income goes back into Garrett County, because of its many state parks.

Cross-Country Tours Still Open

Reservations are still being accepted for two cross-country ski tours scheduled by the Maryland Forest and Park Services. The tours will be held February 21, 22 and 23 and February 28, March 1 and 2.

Each ski tour will begin on Saturday and continue through Monday with New Germany State Park as the base camp. The cost of the trip will include food and lodging at a winterized log cabin at the park. Participants will have to provide their own ski equipment, clothing and personal items.

Daily excursions will be led into the surrounding countryside by Forest and Park Service personnel. The excursions will provide participants with a tour of the hillsides and valleys of northern Garrett County from New Germany State Park almost to the Pennsylvania line. The terrain covered will not be extremely rugged, but skiers are advised to be in good physical condition for the trip, according to the Service.

Application forms for these trips are available by writing: Maryland Forest and Park Services, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis, MD 21401 or by calling (301) 269-3761.

The Tours will accommodate a limited number of participants on each weekend, so interested persons should apply as soon as possible. Participants will be notified by mail upon receipt of their application.

Bender Nets 26 As Huskies Crush Oldtown

An itching for revenge by the Northern High Huskies and a 26-point performance by the team's leading scorer, Dick Bender, resulted in a 74-38 stomping of Oldtown last night on the Huskies' floor. The Indians had upset Northern earlier in the season, 53-47.

Northern assumed the lead early, holding a 12-8 margin at the end of the first period, and expanding that lead to 27-20 at the end of the first half. Bender and company returned to the floor with increased vigor and ripped the nets for 19 points in the third period and 28 more in the fourth, while Oldtown could manage to record only a total of 18 points in both quarters.

Bender's points came on 13 field goals. He was joined in double figures by teammate Mike Robinson, who provided 12 points.

Steve Hockman was the lone Indian reaching double numbers, as he finished with 14 points.

The Huskies more than doubled Oldtown's total field goals, 34-16, however both teams connected on six free throw attempts, by Oldtown on 14 tries and by the Huskies on ten attempts.

"We put together another good second half," Coach Harvey Speicher commented, "and it allowed us to run away with the game."

Northern is now 8-7 on the campaign and Oldtown dropped to 6-9. The Huskies will travel to Flintstone Friday evening for a return contest with the Aggies.

Winter Recreation Can Have Unpleasant Effects On Wildlife

By Michael Gregory
Md. Forest Service and Al Bourgeois
District Wildlife Manager

When the hillsides of Garrett County become blanketed with snow, it is a well known fact that the number of visitors to this region increases dramatically. Cross-country skiers and snowmobilers literally flock to this area in search of snow conditions conducive to their recreational pastimes. The result of this influx is that our forests and woodlands, due to their size and unique scenic qualities, become a prime site for these winter recreational activities.

These same forests and woodlands also serve as vital habitat for various species of wildlife. Deer and wild turkey rely on our forests for food and cover throughout the year. However, the winter months are perhaps the most critical for these animals since the amount of food and cover available on the forest is greatly diminished. As such, wildlife species often tend to congregate in areas which provide the greatest amount of food and cover. However, even these areas may not provide enough sustenance for the animals. As a result wildlife suffers, deer begin to steadily lose weight and may eventually starve to death if conditions become severe enough.

Forest recreational activities can cause problems for wildlife during the winter months in a number of ways. Animals conserve their energy in winter by moving as little as possible, giving them a better chance to survive since they do not require as much food.

However when wildlife species encounter man, whether skiers or snowmobilers, they become stressed and may attempt to flee. This results in the animals requiring much more food to replace the energy they expend and if food is in short supply the animals are much more likely to starve or suffer considerable weight loss, which seriously affects pregnant does. Also, the trails established by skiers and snowmobilers can allow dogs to gain access into areas where wildlife congregates. This can cause heavy mortality, especially for herds of deer which have grouped together in their wintering areas.

Often recreationists fail to recognize these dangers while they are enjoying the great outdoors. The Maryland Wildlife Administration and the Maryland Forest Service recommends that winter visitors to our forestlands remember how vulnerable wildlife is during the harsh season. Both snowmobilers and skiers should try to avoid disturbing our deer and turkey populations, at all costs, while enjoying Garrett County.

Suit Against Former Governor

State Seeks $200,000 Settlement From Agnew

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The state of Maryland Tuesday asked a judge to order former vice-president Spiro Agnew to pay $200,000 to settle the bribery scandal case that drove him from office in 1973.

Tuesday's motion for summary judgment was made because of a lawsuit filed in 1976 by three Montgomery County residents. They argued their right to recover for state taxpayers the money allegedly taken during the bribery scheme.

State Attorney General Stephen Sachs said statements made by four Agnew associates in 1973 indicate there is "no genuine dispute" concerning the payments, which were allegedly funneled to Agnew between 1967 and 1972.

Agnew was governor of Maryland between 1966 and 1968 and was vice president under Richard Nixon from 1968 until his resignation Oct. 10, 1973.

The state obtained permission from Anne Arundel County Judge Bruce C. Williams to join the suit as plaintiff last November.

Former state roads commissioner Jerome Wolff, engineers Lester Matz and Allen Green, and I.H. (Bud) Hammerman, a close Agnew associate, all gave sworn statements admitting taking illegal payments from firms that were awarded state contracts.

In the statements, the four men admitted turning over portions of the money to Agnew during his term as governor of Maryland and as vice president.

Agnew, 62, became a household word in the late 60s by scolding "impudent snobs" and "nattering nabobs of negativism."

But, on Oct. 10, 1973, following a negotiated script that kept him out of prison, Agnew pleaded no contest to a charge of failing to report $129,500 in income in 1967.

"I hereby resign the office of vice president of the United States, effective immediately," he said in a note to then Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

He was fined $10,000 and placed on three years probation and began a career as an independent businessman and sometime author.

Judge Williams has ruled the statements of Hammerman, Wolff, Matz, and Green are admissible as evidence in the current suit.

The motion filed Tuesday asks the court to declare that Agnew and Wolff "were unjustly enriched by their receipt of payments" and "conspired to defraud the state of Maryland" by devising the alleged bribery-kickback plan.

In addition to seeking the $200,000 Agnew is alleged to have received, the motion also asked the court "to compel each defendant to detail and account for all payments" in addition to the amounts already admitted.

Sachs said a ruling on the order must be made before April 20, when the case is scheduled to go to trial.

Agnew was only the second vice president in U.S. history to resign, and the first to leave under a legal cloud. In 1832, John C. Calhoun stepped down to fill a Senate seat.

As part of the 1973 agreement, Agnew was forced to disclosure evidence he accepted $87,500 plus other "substantial cash payments" in kickbacks and bribes from Maryland contractors doing business with the state.

Agnew said he resigned to spare the nation a "long, divisive and debilitating struggle in the Congress and in the courts."

Neither Agnew nor his lawyer was available for comment on Tuesday's motion.

State Officials Search For Skunks; Pets May Be Rabies Carriers

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A state health department official said Tuesday he is "not crying wolf" in his search for potentially rabid pet skunks sold to Maryland residents since last June.

The death of a skunk shipped from Gem Animal Farm in Minnesota prompted the rabies concern. Officials initally thought the farm had shipped 216 skunks across the nation last June, but the number may be as high as 600, said Dr. Kenneth L. Crawford, chief of the department's Division of Veterinary Medicine.

"We don't know how many were brought into Maryland or how many stores sold them or how many were given away by the original owners," Crawford said.

He stressed the importance of skunk owners informing their local health department and emphasized the danger if the animal is rabid.

"I'm not trying to cry wolf. In Florida, 71 people had to take anti-rabies treatment because of just one raccoon," Crawford said.

Workers at an Anne Arundel County pet store have found sales receipts for all 24 skunks sold there last summer, he said.

The Health Department is also trying to find nine of 11 skunks sold to Maryland residents by the Animal Hut in Washington.

Animal Hut kept no records of the skunks sold, which is a violation of District of Columbia law, Crawford said.

Two persons who bought skunks at the Washington store have turned their pets over to the department for rabies tests. Crawford said tests for one of the animals proved negative and the second skunk is enroute to a laboratory.

It became illegal to sell skunks in Maryland last July.

Decline In Car Orders Closes Plant

Workers Face Second Layoff

BALTIMORE (UPI) — About 1,900 assembly line workers at the Baltimore General Motors plant, in the second week of a two-week layoff, will return to work for a week and then will be laid off again, a company spokesman said Tuesday.

GM spokesman Nelson A. Lawhon said a continued declining demand for GM passenger cars contributed to the second layoff, which will begin week after next. The week of Feb. 8 will be the only one in February the car assembly line will be producing automobiles.

The manpower cutbacks are designed to give new car dealers an opportunity to sell existing inventories, Lawhorn said.

News of the extended layoffs stunned workers and union officials. Rodney Trump, of Local 239, United Auto Workers, said, "I was numb when I first heard about it early (Monday) morning."

He said GM workers must now "live day-to-day. They don't make commitments they are not absolutely sure they can keep."

Besides the 1,900 workers affected by the most recent layoffs, an added 2,000 employees on second shift are into their 13th month off the job.

The Baltimore layoffs will be made at the same time as others at GM plants in Janesville, Wisc., St. Louis and Flint, Mich. GM car lines will be shut down next week in Wilmington, Del., Lakewood, Ga., Pontiac, Mich. and Oshawa, Ontario.

The Baltimore plant makes the mid-size Chevrolet Monte Carlos, Malibus and Pontiac LeMans and light trucks.

Lawhon said about 2,700 truck assembly line and white collar workers will remain on the job and no layoffs are planned for March.

The Maryland Newsfront

Employees idled in January and February can receive unemployment compensation and federally funded Trade Readjustment Assistance available to employees forced out of work because of foreign competition.

But Trump said union members laidoff 13 months ago either have exhausted their benefits or are on the verge of running out of compensation.

The Baltimore GM plant completely closed in 1975, Lawhon said.

But he said GM is continuing with plans to spend $200 million in renovation of the plant, which calls for elimination of the truck assembly line, which will cost 1,200 jobs.

Fighting 'Attempts To Intimidate'

Groups Oppose Klan Movement To Reach Public School Students

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Maryland State Teachers Association and the NAACP joined forces Tuesday to fight "attempts by the Ku Klux Klan to intimidate and indoctrinate public school students," the groups said.

Rufus Abernethy, MSTA president, said he first learned of "scurrilous, scandalous, terrible" Klan recruitment efforts in state schools a year ago, and since then, has received calls from teachers and parents concerned about the proliferation of racist literature distributed in schools.

MSTA has begun a two-pronged campaign that will collect information from teachers and administrators and, if warranted, submit the data to the state attorney general's office or federal authorities for prosecution, said Harvey Zorbaugh, MSTA executive director.

The second facet is the development of an education program to counteract racist attitudes, he said.

Although the exact number of schools where pro-Klan literature has been distributed is not known, Abernethy said he has received reports from St. Mary's, Prince George's, Harford, Baltimore, Anne Arundel and Howard counties.

Abernethy said the information is being handed out by students who may be members of the Klan youth corps.

One example of literature found in schools was an application for Klan youth corps membership, with post office box addresses in Virginia and Louisiana, that called on "White students fight for white power!"

Abernethy quoted from another labeled "Nigger Application for Employment" found in a Prince George's County high school.

Zorbaugh said recent cross burnings in Harford County triggered MSTA's decision "to speak up."

Three crosses were burned in Harford County within one week, including one on the front lawn of the new president of the county chapter of the NAACP.

Nathaniel Smith, president of the state NAACP, said his organization deplores the cross burnings and attempts by pro-Klan students "to poison the minds of other white students to gain members. They are personally buttonholing students in schools."

Abernethy said the Klan "has no place in society or in our schools and it's a disgrace to our state."

He hopes the incidents "end soon, but we'll be there as long as they are."

State Legislature News

Truck Safety Law

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — A state senator said Tuesday the time has come for a law banning people from riding in the back of pickup trucks under most circumstances.

The proposal comes nearly two years after a pickup truck accident in Anne Arundel County killed 10 teen-agers.

Sen. Jerome Connell, D-Anne Arundel, the bill's sponsor, told the Constitutional and Public Law Committee the bill should be voted into law because of the increasing number of fatal accidents involving pickup trucks. It would ban nearly all riding in the back of a pickup truck unless done in the course of work.

"You ride up and down the highway, and you see five or six kids riding in the back of the truck. You wonder what will happen if they get in an accident," Connell said.

The bill is one of a series of measures aimed at decreasing traffic deaths in Maryland. The committee holds hearings Thursday and Friday on legislation designed to cut down the number of drunk driving deaths.

An investigator for the National Transportation Safety Board said an average of 4,200 persons die in pickup truck accidents. Thirty-four percent of the persons riding in the back of the truck during an accident die, while 28 percent of those in the cab were killed, he said.

But it wasn't the statistics that prompted Connell to introduce the bill as much as the April 23, 1979 accident on a deserted road near Crofton that killed 10 youths from the Fort Meade area.

Seven of the victims were riding in the back of the pickup truck when it ran off the road and slammed into a tree. The driver, Alan Cole, of Baltimore, was convicted of manslaughter and given a suspended sentence. Cole had been drinking and smoking marijuana the afternoon before the accident, witnesses testified.

Scott Patterson, an assistant Anne Arundel County state's attorney who prosecuted the Cole case, said he favors the bill but did not know whether it would have prevented the accident.

Sen. Howard Denis, R-Montgomery, agreed.

"We are kidding ourselves if we think this bill would have prevented it. I think the real travesty in this case is that the driver got off with a light sentence," he said. "If this law had been in effect, you would have had another charge to bring against him and maybe he wouldn't have gotten off."

John Miller, a spokesman for the Maryland Farm Bureau, said the bill might unintentionally hurt farm families whose only form of transportation is a pickup truck.

"The only way they can haul their children is in the back of a pickup. And a lot of times, because of the energy crunch, they'll use the pickup in the Little League, to take the whole team somewhere," he said.

Tax Exemption

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The House of Delegates debated 45 minutes Tuesday on a piece of corrective legislation that could have cost taxpayers $10 million if it had failed, but then approved the measure by a 119-2 vote.

The action sends the emergency measure to Gov. Harry Hughes, who has said he will sign it as soon as it hits his desk.

The bill simply changes from "1979" to "1980" the reference in the state tax law concerning the year for which taxpayers may deduct $200 from their taxable income as an exemption for interest earned on savings ($400 for married couples filing joint returns).

Without correcting the law, Maryland residents who have already filed income tax forms for 1980 or who will do so over the next couple of months would not be permitted to take advantage of the exemption.

Last year's budget took into account the $10 million in income tax revenue the state would not receive because of the tax relief measure.

But Delegate Charles Blumenthal, D-Prince George's, one of the two who voted against making the change, argued that because of current financial problems, legislators should take advantage of having the tax relief measure back before them.

"When we passed this we had a $300 million surplus and we were in a generous mood," Blumenthal reminded his unsympathetic colleagues.

But Delegate Gerald Devlin, D-Prince George's, the vice chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, said he was surpised to hear "such an eloquent appeal for a tax increase for the people of Maryland."

Devlin said such an unexpected change in the Maryland tax law "would create a minor kind of chaos" in the processing of this year's tax returns.

In another, unrelated action, the House postponed for a day debate on a bill that would permit school nurses and counselors to answer student questions concerning such topics as venereal disease, pregnancy prevention, or drug or alcohol abuse programs.

The bill was opposed by the Maryland chapter of the National Moral Majority.

Weekend Holiday Hours For Tax Offices Noted

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced this week that all offices of the Maryland Income Tax Division will be open on Saturday, February 7 from 9:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. to offer free assistance to Maryland taxpayers working on their 1980 State returns.

"These offices will also stay open from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. on Thursday, February 12, when most State offices will be closed in observance of Lincoln's birthday," Goldstein added. "In both cases, you can either drop by for help or call us on the telephone."

During the filing season, all 12 offices of the State Income Tax Division will remain open on three additional Saturdays and on all State holidays between now and the April 15th filing deadline — including Monday, February 16, which marks Washington's birthday. Telephone assistance will also be offered on two Monday evenings during the season for the convenience of taxpayers.

"Our State tax experts will answer any of your questions and provide all the necessary forms. They'll even complete your 1980 State return free of charge, if you like. Just be sure to bring along a completed copy of your Federal return and all pertinent W-2 statements," Goldstein said.

The address and telephone numbers of the State income tax offices are listed on the back of the State tax packets and in local telephone directories.

School Conducting Label Collection

Students at Dennett Road School are currently conducting a label collection drive in order to acquire educational equipment for the school. As part of a program called "Labels for Education", Campbell Soup Company is offering various items of equipment to elementary schools in exchange for labels from the company's products.

Labels from Campbells Soups, Beans, Tomato Juice, V-8, Swanson canned foods, and Franco-American products are all redeemable. Schools may redeem the labels for audiovisual equipment, athletic equipment, reference books, and teaching aids.

Parents, family, and friends of Dennett Road students who wish to help should save the labels and send them to Dennett Road by February 20.

MAN or STATUE?

Today we see Lincoln in heroic size. He appears almost more of a statue than a man — a great figure cast in bronze, with a furrowed brow and solemn countenance.

Yet Lincoln was a man. He walked the earth, and felt love and joy, but he knew tremendous frustration and almost insurmountable sorrow. He prayed, earnestly and effectively.

Throughout each crisis in his life, and there were many, he was sustained by faith. God seemed close to him, and he turned to Him often. He didn't pause to think about whether he'd go to church or not. He went.

Do you?

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE SPIRIT HAS A BODY

February 8, 1981

Background Scripture: Matthew 13:53 through 15:39.
Devotional Reading: Jonah 3:1-10.

"Would you like me to pray for healing?" I asked the man in the hospital bed. He stared at me as if I had proposed some thing outrageous. Then he said: "Sir, you may pray for my soul, but not my body. It is only my soul that Christ will save."

I wasn't all that surprised by his response to my question, for many Christians seem to share that same point of view: that Christianity and the Good News of Jesus Christ are for the soul or spirit and the body is at best of no concern or at worst even a hindrance.

Living In our Heads

As a result, Christianity in many churches has been reduced to a rather cerebral level: we listen to sermons and lessons, read prayers, and our bodies are seldom, if ever, involved. But this is not representative of the view of the early church, let alone Jesus and his disciples. The Hebrews — and Jesus was a Hebrew — thought of a person as a whole being, a body-mind-spirit. The whole person was involved in the covenant of Israel, not just the mind or the spirit.

And Jesus himself displayed as much concern for the physical needs of people as he did their spiritual needs. In the Gospels we find him not only preaching and teaching, but healing and even feeding the hungry. In fact, you'll find the gospels devote as much or more time to his healing ministry as they do to his preaching and teaching. The reason: Jesus ministered to the whole person.

Centuries later the Church came under the influence of Greek philosophy that held that the body was essentially evil and the spirit good, and therefore people began to seek to free the spirit from the evil clutches of the body. Under the influence of Pope Gregory, Christians began to abuse their bodies in the belief that the more pain and discomfort they experienced, the closer they would be to God. As Clyde Reid has written: "So today, in the late twentieth century, we still think of our bodies as somehow unacceptable. We try to live in our heads as totally mental beings while both ignoring and abusing our bodies" (p. 48, THE RETURN TO FAITH, Harper & Row).

The Sick And The Hungry

We might imagine that there were some who would have tried to dissuade Jesus from doing his healing, reasoning that he must devote himself to proclaiming the Gospel and leaving their physical needs to someone else. But Jesus knew that the Gospel was good news not only for the spirits and minds of God's children, but also their bodies. He ministered to whole persons, in his deep compassion helping them wherever he found them wanting, for he knew that body, mind and spirit are interdependent: you cannot touch one without affecting the others.

To manifest our concern for the physical needs of people does not diminish in any way the spiritual thrust of the Gospel. It enhances it to the spirit, let us remember the spirit has a mind and a body.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

ARGUMENT — I was told by a friend that Norm Crosby is one of Bing Crosby's sons from his first marriage, and I'm sure he isn't. Please tell me the names of those four boys. — Billie Coskin, Port Hueneme, Calif.

You are correct that Norm is not related to Bing in any way. Nor is he related to any other Crosby, since Crosby is not his real name. Bing's sons by his marriage to the late actress Dixie Lee are Gary, Lindsay and twins Philip and Dennis. His children from his marriage to Kathryn Grant are Mary (the lady who shot J.R. on "Dallas"), Harry and Nathaniel.

VOCAL TRICKS — In "The Partridge Family" series, I know most of the people in the cast didn't do their own singing. Has anyone ever asked you who provided the voices? — Joan F. Hartford, Conn.

No one has asked me before this, but I can tell you Shirley Jones and David Cassidy did their own singing. Other voices were provided by John and Tom Bahler, Jackie Ward and Ron Hicklin.

ANOTHER LUCY — I would like the address of Charlene Tilton, because my daughter is a look-alike. People stop her wherever she is and ask her if she really is Lucy. — Helene Barrett, Glens Falls, N.Y.

Charlene, who plays Lucy on "Dallas," can be reached in care of the show at MGM Studios, Culver City, CA 90230.

BIG FAN — Please give me some information about Melanie Chartoff of "Bridges." I think she is so very sexy and seductive that I just love to sit and look at her. Is she married? If so, her husband is a lucky fellow. — T.R., Comfort, Texas.

Melanie, who was born in New Haven, Conn., is single. She began her career as a child at the Long Wharf Theater in New Haven. She majored in theater arts at Long Island's Adelphi University. While in college she did summer stock and appeared in the soap, "One Life to Live." She has been on Broadway. It was while she was doing a stand-up comedy routine at the Improvisation in New York that she was signed by an agent and came to Los Angeles. She has made guest appearances on such shows as "Wonder Woman," "Richie Brockelman" and "The Tony Randall Show." DOUBLE HEADER — Do you have a recent address for Marlon Brando? Walt Disney, in name of the police show in the '60s with Efrem Zimbalist Jr., Shirley Temple, Andrews Sisters.

Write Brando at P.O. Box 889, Beverly Hills, CA 90213. Cole's show was "The Felons Squad."

SUITE STORY — A few years ago there was a series called "Executive Suite" on TV. I liked it, but it didn't last long. There was a rugged-looking man in his 40s who played the lead. I can't recall his name. Please help! — Dorothy Lockett, Chicago, Ill.

His name is Mitch Ryan, and he can be seen this week on CBS opposite Susan Clark in "The Choice."

CINDY SAYS

Miss Gish to Calif; Lorna Luft to tour

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK - Lillian Gish shlepped off to Sacramento for one night. The town's showing her 1919 silent smash, "Broken Blossoms," and Miss Gish will be there in person — long gown, long memories and all — And Lorna Luft is shlepping off everywhere for a six month tour of "You're Playing Our Song" — And John Weitz is shlepping off to Cologne and Belgium for fashion shows, and Cliff Robertson and the missus, Dina Merrill, are shlepping off to Europe also and Nancy and Zubin Mehta are shlepping off to Florence for concerts. I seem to be the only one with no place to go.

Celeste Holm may be fitting into the Archie Bunker family. She already filmed two segments ... The Orson Beans just moved into a New York apartment and as of this typing they're still unpacking ... Roberta Peters did the White House back-to-back. Sang for the Carter's farewell and sang for the Reagan's inaugural. She also taped a "60 Minutes" shot ... Somebody said: "With the way prices are today, if a pessimist isn't happy now ... he never will be."

Asked about the new administration, Rex Reed sighed sadly, "I voted for Reagan but, y'know, I already think I made a mistake." James Stewart and Henry Fonda, friends for a half century, have a pact. They never discuss politics. Stewart's a Republican and Fonda's not ... Sen. Howard Baker who becomes majority leader in his 97th Congress will keep his old minority leader office because it was once occupied by his late pa-in-law, Everett Dirksen ... Arlene Dahl, working in Phoenix, took one night off to fly to Washington and bask in the brand new light of her Republican chums, then right back to Phoenix ...

Sir Robert Helpmann, who directed Vivien Leigh 29 years ago on Broadway, will do it again to Lilli Palmer in the new Sarah Bernhardt play ... Some hot shot from Barcelona told anyone who'd listen that his city's naming a street after John Lennon ... Happy Rockefeller's making a decision about her pregnancy. She won an Emmy as best actress for her portrayal of Baby Didrickson Zaharis in "Babe."

In my acting, as with the production company my husband (Alex Narrao) and I have, I like to make movies that deal in ideas that are about what is happening today. Filmmakers are the educators of the second half of this century."

At 8, Susan Clark was studying ballet, piano and drama. After moving from Sarnia, Ontario, to Toronto, Miss Clark, at 12, was with the Toronto Children's Players. A lead opposite Dolores Hope in a road production of "Silk Stockings" came later, and she then decided to study at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London. In England, she performed a Stratford's Shakespeare Festival. She then went on to Universal Studios in Hollywood where she appeared in such films as "Madigan," "Promises in the Dark" and "Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here."

She is now an activ producer. And having a daughter, Katy, now 16 months, Miss Clark says: "Being a producer gives motherhood the flexibility you couldn't have otherwise. While you may not be physically or emotionally ready to work as an actress, you can work as a producer. I can take Katy to the set while we're working. The worst thing about producing is waiting, whistling while you wait for writers to write."

As for acting, Miss Clark says: "You have to love the character you're playing, although you realize that everything she does may not always be right. That's one reason I chose to return to acting in 'The Choice.' I like the part. That, and for a little 'R & M' that's 'Relaxation and Money.' Let someone else have the headaches."

Susan Clark

Canadian-born Susan Clark is adaptable, active and determined. And those are the qualities she admires in citizens of the United States, her adopted country.

"Those are things I can admire in a person or in a group," she says.

It is this combination of qualities that has taken Miss Clark from an ingenue contract player at a Hollywood studio to the maternity of her role in "The Choice," to be broadcast on "The CBS Tuesday Night Movies," Tuesday, Feb. 10, on CBS.

I'm afraid the determination and adaptability I'm accused of is not apparent in my role in this drama," she says. "Kay is a woman torn by the decision she has to make for herself. But after her choice is made, she is better able to influence and give support to her daughter." (The movie is about a mother who must relive her own traumatic experience in order to help her unmarried daughter make a decision about her pregnancy.)

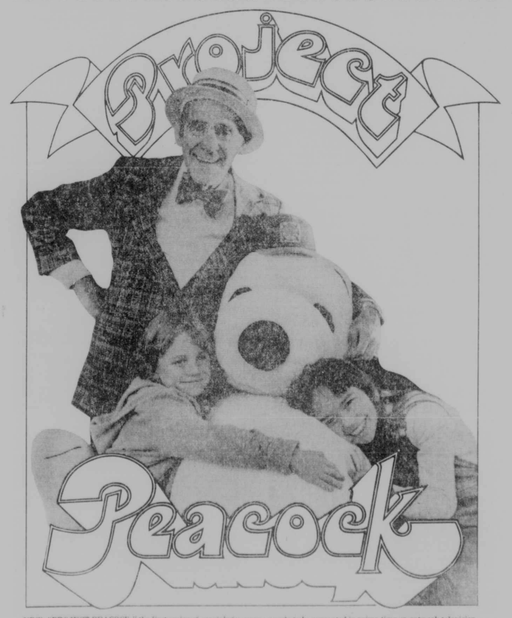

"When it comes to influences, Miss Clark can point in three directions in her life: north to Toronto, east to London and west to Hollywood. When it comes to her career, however, there is only one: a straightforward pursuit of only those roles and those film theres she thinks are right for her. She won an Emmy as best actress for her portrayal of Baby Didrickson Zaharis in "Babe."

In my acting, as with the production company my husband (Alex Narrao) and I have, I like to make movies that deal in ideas that are about what is happening today. Filmmakers are the educators of the second half of this century."

NBC's "PROJECT PEACOCK," the first series of specials for young people to be presented in prime time on network television, will premiere with "The Big Stuffed Dog," an action-filled comedy drama by writer Charles ("Peanuts") Schulz. Featuring live actors, the story deals with a 3-foot stuffed Snoopy dog and how it brings joy into the lives of children and adults. Abe Vigoda (above) stars with youngsters Sydney Penny and Robbie Kiger. It airs Sunday, Feb. 8.

Public TV's high ratings

Public television broke some of its own records recently.

For the first time in the history of the network, a majority of American viewers — 52.2 percent — tuned in to public television during a sample week, according to the Nielsen ratings. This is an 18 percent increase from last December 1979, and an 84 percent increase from December 1974, the earliest year for which there are records.

And public television's audience isn't all comprised of professors and literary scholars. The Nielsen figures indicate that 73.2 percent of public television's audience are households with children under 6 years of age, and 47.5 percent are persons who are not in the labor force at all.

New western

Hatfs Duke Astin goes west even as is now, as yet unnamed series that will be produced next fall by that old western hand, Michael Landon. The "Little House on the Prairie" and "Bonanza" fame.

Merlin Olsen, also a veteran of "Little House on the Prairie" will star as the owner of an 1870s ranch that is a home for orphaned children between the ages of 2 and 12. Moss Arits will star as a teacher at that ranch, who doesn't see eye to eye with the owner.

Landon created the series for NBC and will occasionally write and direct segments, while he continues his duties at "Little House" as well.

Reality on
'Los Grant'

Sometimes it pays for actors to research their roles and really know what they are doing.

Darryl Anderson, who plays photographer Animal on the weekly "Los Grant" newspaper drama, recently had a chance to shoot some real film. While filming an episode of "Los Grant," the cast members were witness to the breaking out of the roof of the nearby Pacific Telephone building in downtown Los Angeles.

Anderson, who always keeps his Super 8 camera loaded, started snapping away and photographed the first 17 free computations that fought the fire. He gave his film to the Associated Press, which transmitted several of his pictures to newspapers.

Athlete
meets singer

A new pilot with some out-of-the-ordinary aspects has been approved by NBC.

Football star Terry Bradshaw, quarterback for the Pittsburgh Steelers, and Mel Tillis, the country-western singer, will team up to form a stock-car racing team that will be produced as half-hour action-comedy that may turn out to be a series.

NBC also announced that Angie Dickinson will star as a newly divorced woman next fall in a half-hour comedy series. The pitfalls of reentering the work force and the dating world are expected to be the butt of the jokes.

Grant given

The largest endowment ever given for arts programming was awarded to public television in Washington recently to create a series of programs on architecture and design.

The $700,000 matching grant will spark a five-part series tracing the factors that have influenced American architecture as well as showing how architecture affects our lives.

THURSDAY

Gil Gerard (standing, right) plays Buck Rogers, the legendary space hero, who is assisted in his work by Col. Wilma Deering (Erin Gray), scientist Dr. Goodfellow (Wilfrid Hyde-White) and Twiki the Robot, in "Buck Rogers," airing Thursdays on NBC.

The evil stage mom is a ghost of the past

By RUTH THOMPSON

The classic image of a stage mother is negative, at the extreme. But is this domineering exploiter of her offspring a myth or a reality?

The answer is yes and no; there are, or rather, were some horrors — the classic case being that of the mother of Gypsy Rose Lee and June Havoc. As played by Ethel Merman in a virtuoso performance, that mom's pushiness and greed took on a certain roaring charm. But living through it, as June Havoc has indicated in her memoirs, was no awful that as a kiddie vaudeville star she often heard herself say, "I wish I could die for the vacation." No, in real life "Gypsy" was not fun.

But today, the story of young performers pushed against their wills into the spotlight have faded to zero.

Could it be that television exposure has done a good deed to the moppets and youth of today? Does it give them an opportunity to test their desire to perform, even at an early age, as well as their talent?

We asked the question a year ago of the very attractive mother of Wonderful Danielle Brisbois. Her view is that perhaps, in addition to basic talent, television exposure — including being interviewed by talk show hosts — honestly shows whether or not the child likes being in the spotlight.

Of their own family situation, Mrs. Brisbois says the motivation came from Danielle (who even as a little girl had a big singing voice, and a gift for mimicry, who would try to gather relatives and friends around to entertain) so she could entertain them.

"It was she who wanted to perform. And her father and I, feeling she had a God-given gift, decided that if it was what she wanted, she should have her chance."

Danielle herself took over the rest of the story, telling with enthusiasm how well she liked working in a recent rehearsal the actor was heard to remark that little Dani Carol (Jessica Aldrich) would probably enjoy meeting an older Dani — like Robert. The potential couple has several years to grow into a relationship, however, since Robert is 3 years old and Jill is 18 months.

Also from "TD" came the sad Jarrett Stone story that opted to leave his role of Mike Powers at contract renewal time. While James is trying his luck with other acting outlets, TD has decided not to recast the role at this time.

Now long-running stars are Christopher Rich and Tara Mayo, who portray Sandy and Melissa on "Another World." The role of James DuVal on "General Hospital" is played by Arthur Roberts, and, of course, Eddie Ryder appeared as Alexandra's friend Sara on that show. Now to "Days of our Lives" are Words in the list below appear across, up, down, backwards and diagonally in the diagram. Find each word and draw a circle around its letters, then cross the word off the list. Some circled letters appear in more than one word. The letters that form the answer will be left over. Unscramble and arrange them to create a word, or words, that will provide the answer.

IN FOCUS

WW II bomb heroes have modern counterparts

For more than a month, the fictional World War II heroes in the British television import "Danger UXB" (unexploded bomb) have recovered, defused and detonated German bombs. The weekly stories are based on actual World War II records. The series, which began on PBS's "Masterpiece Theater" in January, costars Anthony Andrews and Judy Geeson.

In England today, there are real-life British counterparts to those fictional heroes — the 49th Explosive Ordnance Squadron of 33 Engineer Regiment, Royal Engineers, based near Rochester, Kent — and they continue the job of recovering unexploded bombs that still threaten public safety four decades after the blitz. It's a job that will probably go on for the next 40 years.

Between 1939 and 1945, nearly a quarter of a million bombs were dropped on the United Kingdom by the Luftwaffe's bomber force. Thousands failed to detonate and it's the squadron's job to find them.

Not surprisingly, "Danger UXB" was mandatory viewing for the regiment. They in turn served as technical advisors to the producer John Hawkesworth ("Upstairs, Downstairs" and "Duchess of Duke Street") and to star Anthony Andrews.

Over the past six years, the unit's 80 military and 100 civilian personnel have recovered 74 bombs and 187 beach and land mines, explosive "souvenirs" of WW II.

Unlike their wartime predecessors portrayed in the PBS series, the Royal Engineers are not virtual novices who learn how to do their risky jobs as they go along.

"We have books and records of all German wartime bombs, and we know what we are doing," says Major Barry Birch, whose unit handles an average of seven bomb calls a month. "It is much safer now than it was during the war."

The major reports that there has not been one fatal casualty since the 1960s — a far cry from the World War II rate when bomb disposers, like those in "Danger UXB," had a life expectancy of six to 10 weeks. However, the work is still dangerous, and fraught with pressures and tension.

The series sparked some tense repercussions of its own during its 13-week run in England. Newly informed Britishers began to look more carefully at their wartime relics because of the series, which meant that the real-life unit of bomb disposers were running around the country responding to bomb-scares.

Many of those were more than just "scares."

One father was horrified when he realized that the souvenir in his daughter's toy cupboard was a butterfly bomb that, he had learned from one episode of the series, cannot be defused. He immediately buried it in his garden in Brighton, Sussex, where 400 homes had to be evacuated later when Major Birch finally detonated it.

Following another episode, an 80-year-old man dropped off an unexploded bomb on his local police station counter. His action emptied the station in seconds — and then the army was called in.

"I know it sounds mad," says Major Birch, "but we do sit around hoping we are going to get a call. We enjoy our work and occasionally we like to have the chance to do what we are trained for."

SUNDAY

John T. Filo (with camera) portrays himself in a recreation of the moment he captured on film following the shooting of students by National Guardsmen, in "Kent State," to air Sunday, Feb. 8, on NBC.

Maryland Center For Public Broadcasting Specials Noted

Mister Rogers Talks About Divorce

Fred Rogers, creator and host of the long-running series "Mister Rogers' Neighborhood," has produced five new programs on divorce to be broadcast on stations of the Maryland Center for Public Broadcasting—TV 22, 28, 31, 36 and 67—weekdays, beginning Tuesday, February 17 at 4:30 p.m., and continuing through Monday, February 23.

"Every child is likely to be touched by a divorce these days," says Rogers. "Even though a child's own family may be together, he or she is bound to know relatives, friends or classmates whose families are separated. That can lead to a lot of wondering. We believe these programs can help parents and children talk about separation and divorce in a way that could make that wondering less frightening."

Throughout the programs Rogers touches on several important messages, such as: people who live together are not happy all the time; children often feel they are to blame for their parents' unhappiness even when it's not their fault; if a husband and wife get a divorce, they still go on being the child's mother and father and many more points included in this sensitive subject.

In spite of the week's specifically serious content, the programs are full of Rogers' usual mixture of music, whimsy and general interest.

"Living Treasures of Japan"

In its first documentary devoted to the arts, the National Geographic Society presents "Living Treasures of Japan" on Wednesday, February 11 at 8 p. m. on TV 22, 28, 31, 36, and 67 — stations of the Maryland Center for Public Broadcasting. The program is narrated by Jose Ferrer and is hosted by E.G. Marshall.

"Living Treasures of Japan" centers on nine artisans and performing artists who keep the heartbeat of an ancient culture pulsing through a contemporary society. While many nations designate their finest structures, monuments and physical features as national landmarks, Japan alone recognizes by law its most gifted artists, Revered as "Living Treasures," these individuals are officially designated by the Japanese government as "Holders of Important Intangible Cultural Properties."

Japan's unparalled program was begun years ago to protect the country's centuries-old traditions of arts and handcrafts, often in danger of disappearing. Today there are 70 Living Treasures, all venerated and addressed as "sensei" — teacher. Receiving government stipends, they are charged with the obligation of publicity exhibiting their work and of teaching their artistry to apprentices.

This "National Geographic Special" introduces nine Living Treasures — a potter, dollmaker, puppeteer, papermaker, koto musician, swordmaker, textile weaver and dyer, Kabuki theater actor and bellmaker.

"Living Treasures of Japan" is broadcast with "closed captions" for hearing impaired viewers with Telecaption adapters.

Musical Comedy Feature

"Sylvia Fine Kay's Musical Comedy Tonight II," a special focusing on America's unique art form the musical comedy, airs Wednesday, February 11 at 9:00 p. m. on TV 22, 28, 31, 36, and 67 — stations of the Maryland Center for Public Broadcasting.

Mrs. Kaye, wife of comedian Danny Kaye, wrote and produced the show which starts celebrities such as Richard Crenna, Bonnie Franklin, Danny Kaye, Jack Lemmon, Juliet Prowse, Lynn Redgrave and Larry Storch. "Sylvia Fine Kaye's Musical Comedy Tonight II" features highlights from "Finian's Rainbow," "South Pacific," "Lady in the Dark" and "Sweet Charity." The show recreates these musical comedies in sets, costumes, staging and orchestrations.

The evening is hosted by Mrs. Kaye who has conducted courses on musical comedy at Yale University and the University of Southern California and is herself a two-time Academy Award nominee as a composer and lyricist. Mrs. Kaye wrote and produced most of Danny Kaye's early comedy and musical material. "Sylvia Fine Kaye's Musical Comedy Tonight II" brings together their talents for the first time in many years.

"Guests of the Nation"

"Guests of the Nation," Neil McKenzie's drama based on the prize winning short story by Frank O'Connor, will be telecast over stations of the Maryland Center for Public Broadcasting—TV22, 28, 31, 36 and 67—as part of the "Great Performances" series on Monday, February 9 at 9:00 p.m. The program will be broadcast with "closed captions" for hearing impaired viewers with Telecaption adaptors.

Joining the actors of the Colonnades Theatre Lab whose New York stage production of "Guests of the Nation" received critical acclaim, are Frank Converse as Irish insurgent Barney Callahan, and Estelle Parsons as widow Kate O'Connell.

The story concerns a pair of Irish insurgents and the two captured British soldiers whom they are assigned to guard. Confined to a remote farmhouse owned by the spirited Widow O'Connell, the foursome, all equally attuned to "make peace, not war," enjoy card playing, jig dancing, and a great deal of amiable bickering about their respective countries and religions. Throughout the conviviality, however, Barney Callahan is haunted by the knowledge that reprisals will be in order if the British harm their Irish captives.

Maryland DOT Receives Energy Efficiency Award

The Maryland Department of Transportation has received the President's Award for Energy Efficiency for helping Maryland drivers cut fuel consumption by two percent in 1980. The Maryland DOT was recognized for its efforts in providing alternatives to car commuting, particularly in the Baltimore and Washington regions.

Maryland Transportation Secretary James J. O'Donnell said the award "is a tribute to the collective efforts of many individuals throughout the department who have worked to find ways to reduce energy consumption."

Maryland was one of just seven state transportation departments earning the award, which was based on achieving substantial growth in ride sharing and increasing use of mass transit. The specific programs cited by the federal government included:

1. Helping several thousand commuters form car pools through advertising and free computer matching;

2. Increasing to 268 the number of commuter vans in Maryland's VANGO program. Without the vans, Maryland commuters would have burned 1.3 million more gallons of gasoline in 1980;

3. A seven percent increase in bus patronage for the Mass Transit Administration while work continues on the Baltimore Region Rapid Transit;

4. A 21 percent increase in the number of Marylanders riding Washington's Metro rail, which is funded in part by Maryland;

5. Free parking for 2,600 additional cars at Park-and-Ride lots around the state where commuters meet their car pools, van pools and buses; and

6. Continuing public surveys to find more people who want ride-sharing assistance and mass transit.

The Maryland Department of Transportation is still looking for commuters to form new car pools and van pools. For help in the Washington suburbs, call the Commuter Club at (202) 783-7665 (783-POOL). In the Baltimore region, call Computeride at (301) 796-7665 (796-POOL).

More than 3,700 Maryland commuters ride in van pools, removing an estimated 2,100 cars from the roads every workday.

Solar Eclipse

Today at 5:14 p.m., the Moon will pass through its New Moon phase. At this time, the Moon will be directly between the Earth and the Sun so that its shadow will fall on the Earth. The shadow will fall on the Earth between Australia and Chile. During this eclipse, the Moon will be far enough from Earth that it will not completely hide the Sun. At totality, the Sun will be observed as a ring around the Moon. A solar eclipse of this type is called an annular eclipse.

Moon

Next Wednesday at 12:49 p.m., the Moon will pass its First Quarter phase. At this time the Moon will be one-quarter of its way around the Earth. Moonset will be at 5:34 this afternoon. Next Monday the Moon will set at 11:19 p.m.

Wintertime Drought Is Setting New Records Throughout Most Of State

Maryland didn't really set any all-time high temperatures during last summer's hot weather. But it is currently in the midst of shattering records throughout the state in the wintertime drought category.

So says W. Joseph Moyer, state climatologist and agronomy department faculty member at the University of Maryland in College Park.

Moyer's records show that precipitation for December and January at 12 reporting stations averaged less than 25 percent of normal. Only Cumberland and Oakland, in Maryland's two westernmost counties, were above this figure.

Those two locations had precipitation figures at 29 and 38 percent of normal, respectively, thanks to heavy snowfalls beginning on December 19.

Moyer reports that the previous all-time low precipitation marks for December and January at most Maryland locations were set during the winter of 1955-56. At Oakland, the record was set in 1966-67, while at Hagerstown it was established in 1937-38. The oldest marks were established in 1889-90 at College Park; 1893-94 at Cumberland, and 1871-72 at Frederick.

All of the wintertime drought marks except the one at Cumberland have now been broken, Moyer said.

He noted that the Maryland situation is part of a national dry-weather pattern that extends all the way from the Rocky Mountains in the West to the Mid-Atlantic area in the East. The Mid-Atlantic drought belt extends from southeastern New York state, across northern New Jersey, southeastern Pennsylvania, the eastern two-thirds of Maryland, and into central Virginia.

South central Pennsylvania has been suffering even more than Maryland, Moyer said, having been declared an area of extreme drought according to the Palmer index, a measure of prolonged and abnormal mositure deficiency used by the National Weather Service. The same index classifies most of Maryland east of Cumberland as a severe drought area, slightly less serious than the Pennsylvania situation.

This winter's lack of precipitation in Maryland means that there is no recharging of ground water supplies, already in short supply due to drought conditions which have persisted over most of the state since late summer, he said. Again, only extreme western Maryland escaped that situation.

Total precipitation at Oakland during 1980 was more than 2.5 inches above normal, while precipitation over the rest of the state was mostly 2.5 to 4 inches below normal. Upper Marlboro (Prince Georges county) and the nearby National Airport at Washington, D. C., had precipitation totals that were more than 9.5 inches below normal.

Does all of this infer a summertime drought even worse than the one last year? That's possible, Moyer agrees. On the other hand, he says, look at what happened in the summer of 1956 after an extremely dry winter which set most of the previous drought records

Moyer's archives show that 1956 rainfall was plentiful in June and extremely heavy in July. This brought total precipitation for the year up to normal for most of the state and above normal both on the Eastern Shore and in extreme western Maryland.

Statistics from the Maryland Crop Reporting Service show that both corn and soybeans set what were then new yield records for the state in 1956. The average yield for soybeans that year was 25 bushels per acre, compared with 21 bushels per acre in 1955. Meanwhile, the state's average corn yield ballooned from 40.5 bushels per acre in 1955 to 60 bushels per acre in 1956.

4-H Club News

A meeting of the Monte Vista 4-H Club will be held February 5 in the County Extension Office at 7 p.m. Melanie Ryan, a former 4-H member of the club, will show slides of her trip to Chicago, which she won for her record book which was entered in state competition.

Demonstrations will be given by Debbie Riggs, Karen Casteel, Renee Helmick and Carrie Sweitzer. Teresa Thomas will give pointers on Public Speaking. Officers of the club will furnish refreshments. Plans will also be made for members to collect for the Heart Fund at Ralph's Richfood.

County Employees Offered Course In Management

County employees will now have an opportunity to improve their management skills through a class offered through the county commissioners' office.

The class, to begin February 9 and run eight weeks, will be designed to improve human relations and operations skills of employees at the supervisory level or those aspiring to that level.

Though employees enrolling in the course will be required to pay the enrollment fee, the commissioners have stated they will reimburse the money spent to those who complete the course.

Among the commissioners' reasons for offering the course is to introduce employees to new management concepts. They hope those taking the 16-hour course will become more competent in their jobs and possibly will become candidates for job advancements.

The class will be held at Garrett Community College and will be taught by John Sheltra of Bausch & Lomb, Inc., Mt. Lake Park.

Coal Companies To Build Pier Near Baltimore

Mapco, Inc., owner of the Mettiki deep mine, Table Rock, is one of six major coal exporting firms to announce plans last week to build a $150 million coal loading pier in Baltimore.

For Mettiki, under a 20-year contract to provide two-thirds of its output to Nippon and Kobe Steel firms in Japan, the proposed pier would ensure quicker and more economical delivery of its coal to Japan, thus avoiding the growing bottlenecks in East Coast harbors.

Joining Mapco in the project are Pittston Coal, Elk River Resources, Old Ben Coal Co. of Ohio, Utah International Inc., and Soros Associates, an international engineering firm that has built coal piers worldwide.

Mettiki, the only Maryland-based company in the project, became the largest coal producer in the state last year, its mining complex in Garrett turning out over 750,000 tons through the first three quarters of 1980. Fourth quarter results have not been tabulated yet by the Maryland Bureau of Mines.

The six partners in the project said they plan to purchase a 500-acre site on the Patapsco River from a subsidiary of the newly-formed CSX Corporation, formerly the Chessie System. The Chessie operates coal loading facilities in both Curtis Bay in Baltimore and Newport News, Va.

Baltimore handled about 12 million tons of coal last year, but earlier this year the announcement of two other Baltimore development ventures boosted that port's prospective 1983 capacity to more than 30 million tons. The latest proposal, if built, would bring Baltimore's capacity above 45 million tons.

The two other recently announced projects in Baltimore involved Island Creek Coal, an Occidental Oil subsidiary operating in West Virginia, and Consolidated Coal, a Conoco Oil subsidiary also mining heavily in West Virginia.

Outdoor Education Area Planned For Garrett State Forest

By Michael R. Gregory
Maryland Forest Service

The Maryland Forest Service is currently engaged in a program to provide better opportunities for outdoor education and community involvement on the state forests in Garrett County. At present the program is centered on a small 430-acre section of Garrett State Forest in the Crellin/Hutton area. The project consists of the erection of a monument pointing out the area's historical significance, creation of a visitor parking area, and the establishment of nature trails and a primitive camping area. These improvements are aimed at making the area more useful to the public, with particular emphasis on providing benefits to the area's children through Crellin School's Outdoor Education Program. Since this section of state forests is close to the school it can serve as an outdoor classroom for various field trips. The area will allow students to experience a wide range of outdoor environments, while allowing the school to avoid the high cost of transportation. It should be emphasized that Maryland Forest Service will still continue to administer and manage this area under the concepts of multiple use to insure that it will remain a source of timber, water, wildlife habitat, and recreation.

The establishment of this program in the Crellin area is a direct result of efforts on the part of the United Community Services of Crellin, the staff and students of Crellin School, and the Maryland Forest and Park Services. In addition, a great deal of support and help has come from concerned citizens, local businesses, and the Garrett County Forestry Board. Much of the work in the Crellin/Hutton tract of Garrett State Forest will take place during the early part of 1981, and will involve state forest and park personnel along with local citizens donating their energies for a worthy cause. Fund raising dinners, sponsored by the United Community Services of Crellin, are being held during the next few weeks in order to generate funding for the monument which will be erected on the site. A dedication ceremony for the area is tentatively scheduled for Arbor Day, April 1, 1981.

It is hoped that this project will lay the groundwork for future endeavors of this type which will allow local communities to make better use of their state forest lands. The Maryland Forest Service feels that the time has come for the public to become involved in their state forests lands. This opportunity for community involvement is especially appropriate for the people of Garrett County, since this area does possess a great amount of valuable state forest land. The Maryland Forest Service encourages community organizations and concerned citizens to contact their local Forest Service offices in order to discuss any opportunities they feel may be of benefit to the public on state forest lands.

Maryland Hospitals To Participate In Massive Group Purchasing Effort

Maryland hospitals are teaming up with health care institutions in six other Mid-Atlantic states in a massive group purchasing effort that should save consumers millions of dollars over the next five years, according to a release from the Maryland Hospital Association.

Association president, Richard J. Davidson, said his organization's statewide group purchasing plan has joined forces with similar programs in Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Delaware and Pennsylvania. The new consortium, dubbed the Mid-Atlantic Group Network of Shared Services (MAGNET), represents some 450 hospitals with more than 130,000 beds.

"By purchasing supplies and services in such enormous volumes, hospitals can realize significant savings that would simply not otherwise be possible," Davidson said. He noted that MAGNET is considering contracts for supplies from the basic needles, syringes and oxygen to sophisticated drugs such as antibiotics.

The first MAGNET contract in which Maryland hospitals will be a parnter will go into effect May 1. That agreement is for purchase of a variety of emergency procedure drugs, including lidocaine, epinephrine, atropine, calcium chloride, dextrose injections and magnesium sulfate. The pact is with the internationally-known Bristol Laboratories.

All of Maryland's 60 non-profit community acute care and special hospitals participate in the Maryland Hospital Association's group purchasing program, Davidson noted, and thus will be part of the seven-state network.

Another advantage of MAGNET, he said, will be the opportunity for exchanges of ideas, and more efficient operating techniques between the various group purchasing programs along the Eastern Seaboard.

"Having access to materials management experts in six other states will in effect be making six top-notch consultants available to Maryland hospitals for problem-solving, information and referral," Davidson observed.

Maryland's group purchasing has been in existence since 1962 under the auspices of state association. The Maryland Hospital Association is a non-profit, nongovernment group organized to promote increased cooperation and communication among health care institutions.

Will The Real Deputy/Minister Please Stand Up?

by Carol Kapel

Larry Gnegy — Deputy

Larry Gnegy — Minister

Rarely can similarities be found between a Bible and a service revolver unless you consider each to be an instrument of peace in the hands of one who uses both to serve his fellow man.

Garrett County Sheriff's Deputy Larry Gnegy, a six-year veteran of law enforcement finds his experience as an ordained minister a definite asset when dealing with the criminal element, the disturbed young person, the domestic dispute, the angry, the misguided.

The details of Gnegy's career are simple enough to compile. The mystery, if you will, lies in the combination of two careers which some might feel are obviously opposite in theory and principle.

Deputy Gnegy's beliefs reflect early religious training in his life, initiated by his personal baptism at age 13. He served as student council chaplain while attending Southern High School, and became a licensed minister in 1970.

His service to people through the ministry expanded through the Oak Park Church of the Brethren, Oakland. He was ordained on February 1, 1973, and served as interim pastor of the Laurel Glen Church of the Brethren, Cranesville, W. Va., for a period of two years.

This was a time of personal soul-searching for Deputy Gnegy, who sensed a need to do something more. As a result of the feeling that pieces were still missing in his life, he considered a career in law enforcement, and chose to combine the two.

In April of 1975, Deputy Gnegy became a patrolman for the Oakland City Police Department, acting as chaplain of the Western Maryland Fraternal Order of Police No. 99, while serving as an officer. In December of 1979, he accepted a position on the Sheriff's Department roster.

If one is a believer in non-violence, as Gnegy strongly professes to be, how then does he deal with an emotionally disturbed individual who's barricaded himself in his home with firearms, ammunition, and no desire to be removed without a fight? How does he enter the scene of a domestic dispute possibly complicated by the presence of children, in an attempt to "talk down" the exasperated subject?

In Deputy Gnegy's case, you enter first as a law officer, guided by a knowledge that protection goes with you. Because of his training and beliefs, he feels the ability to make split-second decisions is continually with him. As Deputy Gnegy puts it, "I carry the knowledge that God will deliver me. I was led into this by God and He's watching over me every moment."

A gun strapped to his side is considered by Deputy Gnegy as a part of the uniform. Finding himself staring down the barrel of a weapon wielded by a drunken, emotionally distraught individual is definitely within the realm of possibility any hour of the day or night. Gnegy feels the need to weigh the God-given law against taking another's life with the natural human instinct to protect one's life, property, and loved ones could present itself at any time, and he feels he's prepared for that situation because of his strong religious beliefs, as well as his training and experience.

The frustrations of other law enforcement officers are shared by Gnegy, as well as knowledge of the need for increased public support. Gnegy related, "It's much easier to perform the duties of a police officer if you know the public is behind you. We're often proud of the response we receive. Sometimes we're not".

In reference to the court systems, often accused of leniency, he responded in this way. "Regardless of what decision is made through the judicial system, I know what I have done to apprehend the criminal is the best I can do. I have the satisfaction of knowing that I have performed to the best of my ability."

Crime is definitely moving from large cities to the rural area, and Garrett County is no exception, according to Gnegy. He feels today's youth are facing more of a challenge than ever before, and expressed a great interest in the desire for additional education about drugs, alcohol, and the law. "Parents, for the most part, try to guide, but cannot stay with the child every moment. Juveniles need to realize that after the age of 18, offenses committed by them are no longer considered minor. Adult punishment is imposed and lives can be destroyed as a result. Youth often seek answers to life's questions in the wrong places." Gnegy said. His thoughts center on the notion that stricter regulation, cooperation of school officials, and expanded education of the general public could help deter crimes whose roots begin in youth.

After the fact of criminal activities, Gnegy is often called upon to deal personally with incarerated inmates, and has found occasion to use his ministerial training when requested by prisoners. Church services are conducted every Sunday in the county jail, but attendance is usually minimal.

He's occasionally the target of good-natured ridicule because of his dual occupations, but finds no conflict of interest because of it. He currently serves, once again, as chaplain of the F.O.B. No. 99, during which time he conducts opening and closing prayers, visits sick and shut-in fellow officers, and aids in an manner requested in that capacity.

As with many occupations, the element of danger is ever-present. "When you strap on that gun, you never know. No one expected a law officer to be killed in the line of duty in quiet, clean, green Garrett County, but it happened. No one thinks of a bank robbery here, but it happened. Drug and alcohol abuse is right here, right now, and Garrett County residents need to realize the facts as they truly are," Gnegy related.

Because crime in definitely on the increase, and it is the obligation of law enforcement officers to prevent that crime if possible, Deputy Gnegy is dedicated to the premise that God will continue to guide him. He believes in facing obstacles as David did in the Bibical story of Goliath.

Armed with a knowledge of duty and belief, Deputy Larry Gnegy serves residents of Garrett County with pride.

Maryland Ranks Among Leaders In TJTC Program

Maryland ranks among the leading states in the number of persons hired under the Targeted Jobs Tax Credit (TJTC) program. According to Frank O. Heintz, Executive Director of the Employment Security Administration of the Maryland Department of Human Resources, 6,615 disadvantaged Marylanders were hired in the past year by employers who wanted to obtain tax credits through the TJTC program.

Heintz noted that employers hiring certain disadvantaged persons may claim as a tax credit up to $4,500 per eligible worker during the first two years of employment.

During Fiscal Year 1980, according to Heintz, a goal of 5,077 persons hired in Maryland under this program was set by the U.S. Department of Labor. Of the 6,615 persons who were hired, 3,743 were youth in cooperative education programs; 1,424 were youth aged 18 to 24 from disadvantaged families; 470 were handicapped; 602 were ex-offenders; and 163 were welfare recipients.

On the basis of population, only Rhode Island, Utah, Georgia, Vermont, Florida, North Carolina, Minnesota and Texas ranked ahead of Maryland.

According to Heintz, "Employers in Maryland are taking advantage of this program because it offers substantial tax savings to employers who hire certain individuals.

"Employers are especially willing to participate in the TJTC program," added Heintz, "when they learn that it involves very little red tape. A firm has to complete only one form per eligible worker to claim a tax credit for that person."

Established by the Revenue Act of 1978, the Targeted Jobs Tax Credit program offers tax credits to businesses who hire handicapped person, recipients of public assistance and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments, young persons between 16 and 19 who participate in cooperative education programs, Vietnam-era veterans under 35 who are economically disadvantaged, ex-offenders, and youth between 18 and 24 who are economically disadvantaged.

Employers in the Oakland area who would like additional information about the TJTC program may call 334-3972.

Jobseekers who believe they may be eligible for the tax credit program should contact their local office of the Maryland Job Service. Eligibility also can be determined at Veterans Administration offices, Social Security Administration offices, local departments of social services, cooperative education programs, vocational rehabilitation offices, and CETA prime sponsor offices.

"What did your father say when you told him about our engagement?"

Human Resource Offices To Close

All offices of the Maryland Department of Human Resources, including the Department of Social Services and Employment Security, will be closed Thursday, February 12, (Lincoln's birthday), and Monday, February 16, 1981, (Washington's birthday).

Claimants who regularly report on Thursday, should report on Wednesday, February 11, 1981, and those that report on Monday, should report on Tuesday, February 17, 1981, at the exact time assigned.

Man To Appear On Charges Of Grand Larceny

A Frostburg man, Roger Linden Pollack, 26, is scheduled to appear before Garrett County Circuit Court Judge Fred A. Thayer on Thursday morning to face charges of grand larceny and receiving stolen goods.

Pollack is accused of stealing a 1974 GMC vehicle belonging to Joseph Kostelac, Belle Vernon, Pa., in November of 1977.

According to court records, parts from the stolen vehicle were then sold to a West Virginia resident in the amount of $1900 for use on his personal vehicle.

Cpl. Charles Hinnant, Maryland State Police, is the investigating officer.

Of these fatalities, six were drivers, six were passengers and eight were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in eight of the deaths, speed in 13, and driver error was present in 16.

Persons killed through February 1 total 71, compared to 57 for the same period last year.

Man Charged With Assault And Property Damage

Rita Ellen Fratz, 40, Accident, obtained a criminal summons against Everett Allen Fratz, 44, also of Accident, charging him with assault and destruction of property.

According to police, Ms. Fratz advised them that the accused deliberately ran into her vehicle with his own, causing an estimated $200 in damage.

The incident allegedly took place January 31 on the Accident-Bittinger Road.

Mistaken Identity Results In Charges

An alleged case of mistaken identity has prompted action against three area men who have been charged with battery by a Cockeysville resident, stemming from an altercation last week at the Wisp Ski Resort, McHenry.

Edgar Hinton Spilman filed charges against Helmuth Martin Heise, owner of the establishment, Richard Michael Glotfelty, and Robert Yaste. The men allegedly subdued Spilman in a forceful manner, against his will, when he was suspected of selling cut-rate ski lift tickets in the parking lot of the resort.

The report further states that three persons who had purchased the "discount" tickets claim Spilman was not the person from whom they bought.

A hearing for the three men is pending.

The displaced persons act of 1948 was an emergency measure which permitted immigration into the United States of more than 400,000 refugees.

Griffith-Sisler Couple Married

Sharon Lynne Griffith and Roger Lee Sisler were united in marriage on Saturday, August 16, at Laurel Run Church of God, White Rock. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ronald Workman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Griffith. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sisler. Both families reside in Friendsville.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a traditional floor-length gown of white Maracaine Jersey. Her dress featured a Queen Anne neckline, a long full sheer sleeve gathered with a sheer band, and a semi-empire waistline with a slim line skirt flowing into a cathedral train. The bodice and waistline were accented with imported Venise lace.

A fingertip-length tier of silk illusion, along with a blusher, fell from a pont-d'esprit Camelot headpiece accented with seed pearls and Venise lace. Appliques of Venise lace also accented the fingertip-length tier.

The bride carried a bouquet of cascading silk roses and carnations accented with baby's breath. White silk streamers tied in love knots completed the bouquet.

Kim Stoner, Accident, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Carol Ross, Friendsville; and Tracey Griffith, sister of the bride, Friendsville.

The attendants were attired in rose colored full-length Jersey silk gowns. They carried bouquets of silk roses and carnations accented with baby's breath and streamers. Each wore silk rose flowers in her hair.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo. The jacket was trimmed in white satin with a rose boutonniere.

Ross Savage, Friendsville, served as best man. Ushers were Kevin Stoner, Accident; and Jim Griffith, Morgantown, W. Va. They were attired in gray tuxedos with shirts and rose boutonnieres matching the attendants' rose-colored gowns.

Jessica Savage served as flower girl. She wore a full-length gown which matched the attendants' gowns.

Jay Ross, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer. He was attired in a gray tuxedo with his shirt and rose matching the attendants' gowns. He carried a white heart-shaped pillow.

Both mothers wore light green full-length gowns and matching corsages.

The fathers were attired in gray tuxedos with shirts and boutonnieres that matched the mothers' gowns.

Wedding music was provided by Sandy Sisler who played the piano, and by Lucille Sines, who sang, "The Wedding Song."

Mrs. Carolyn Savage registered the guests.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Friendsville Fire Hall. A three-tiered cake surrounded by four smaller cakes was decorated and baked by Martha Bishoff. It was accented with pink roses and a wedding court. Ruth McKenzie and Janet Sisler served the cake.

Prior to the wedding, a bridal shower was given by the bride's sisters, Debbie and Tracey, and the bridesmaids.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Ocean City. They now reside in their newly-built home in Blooming Rose, Friendsville.

HSA Board Backs Proposal On Midwifery

The governing body of the Health Systems Agency (HSA) of Western Maryland voted Wednesday, Jan. 21 to support a State Health Coordinating Council (SHCC) recommendation that hospitals with obstetric units develop policies on the practice of midwives that reflect the needs of their communities.

That recommendation permits hospitals to either allow or disallow midwifery in their obstetric units, depending on community need.

The governing body chose to support this recommendation rather than one by another SHCC committee that would mandate hospitals to allow midwifery.

James Stanton, HSA executive director, said the governing body decided to support the recommendation, made by the SHCC project review committee, even though midwife practice is generally unknown in Western Maryland.

Stanton explained the HSA wanted hospitals to look ahead in case midwifery, the art or practice of assisting women in childbirth, becomes more popular.

Some obstetricians criticize midwifery as a less superior practice than delivery by physicans while midwives charge physicans feel threatened by the possible competition.

In other actions Wednesday the governing body:

— approved an education/information plan for volunteer members of the HSA which outlines the responsibilities of the volunteers and describes health planning functions. The plan, stated Barry Neal, public relations director, should aid the 30 members of the governing body, the HSA consumer-provider group, in making informed decisions about health care in Allegany, Garrett, Frederick and Washington counties.

— agreed to place Joseph Fuchs, coordinator of project review, and Kathryn Cannan, inplementation coordinator, on full-time status once those HSA staff members' six-month probationary status expires. The employees will also be granted merit raises.

— increased the retainer fee for this calendar year to HSA attorney Jack Turney, Oakland, from $500 to $1,000.

— adopted a policy that will permit the governing body to cancel some regular monthly meetings if there is little business to transact.

RODERICK'S TO OPEN NEW STORE IN GARRETT COUNTY

Paul, Jr. & Janet

Dear Friends,

The response, so far to our request for comments and ideas for "your own Roderick Furniture" in Mt. Lake Park has been very encouraging. We certainly hope we can measure up to your expectations. We will work very hard to please you.

1. QUALITY — So glad to know you feel as we do—furniture is an investment and should give years of satisfaction and comfort. We will stick by our slogan "Quality Leaves No Regrets." We will do our best in shopping the world's markets to bring to you the best quality we can find at the lowest prices possible. It is well to remember that some smaller companies, relatively unknown to you, many times give the best values and quality because their advertising and operating budgets are much less than famous brands. We, of course, will be offering many of the most famous brand names at great savings, however, we hope you will trust our judgment when we offer greater values in less well-known companies. You can buy with confidence based on our reputation of—

2. SERVICE — We want you to be satisfied. If, at any time, you purchase anything that does not perform or hold up as we have told you it would, we will repair or replace. We deal only with factories that guarantee their merchandise.

3. SELECTION — We have one of the largest most complete home furnishings stores in a wide area in Westernport. Now with the store in Mt. Lake Park we will greatly increase this selection for immediate gratification of your needs and wants.

4. VALUE — This is what we have been talking about trusting our judgement to shop wisely for you. We have always given you great prices on quality home furnishings, now with another store we will increase our buying power to offer you even greater savings. To top this off, we have joined the nation's largest buying group with hundreds of member stores. They help us to get even greater buys to pass more savings and value on to you.

Our business is to make your home beautiful and comfortable, yet within a budget you set for yourself. If you thought there were only two kinds of furniture—the kind you want and the kind you can afford—this is not true at Roderick's! Now you don't have to settle for furniture you like less because it costs less. At Roderick's you don't have to compromise quality for price.

What we are trying to say is we intend to give you value every day by operating as we always have on a one-price system. You can rest assured that what you buy one day will not be advertised the next for less money. We want to treat everyone fairly. We will never lower prices for any sales event and then raise them again once the sale is over. When we have a special sales event it is for closing out floor samples or special truckload purchases.

We are working hard to get the new store open as soon as possible. In the meantime, please continue to shop in Westernport for all your home furnishings and decorating needs.

Sincerely,
Paul, Betty, Paul, Jr. & Janet

Lace encircled the waistline holding the full skirt sweeping to a chapel train beneath a lace hemline. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls and iridescents.

The bride's jewelry consisted of a pearl necklace worn by the bride's mother at her wedding. She carried a cascade bouquet of white silk roses.

THE MONEY TREE

In my experience, money and elbow grease spent wisely on landscaping will pay off handsomely in adding value to your property - in dollars - not just in impression. Some go as far as to say that a mature tree in the right place is worth a thousand dollars.

Landscaping gives a house personality. It is exterior decoration. Landscaping and the house facade greet the visitor and give that important first impression of the owner as well as the home. It can work both ways, too. A plain house can be made attractive with the right landscaping. A beautiful house can become ugly with the wrong landscaping. In fact, a prospective buyer will have a pretty good opinion of what the inside of the house will look like by the time he has finished perusing the appearance of the exterior decoration.

Aside from increasing value, good landscaping pays dividends in other ways. It adds pleasure to your family's life. And it's not all that difficult to achieve and maintain.

Judge Jones Hears Variety of Charges

Charges ranging from theft to unlawful possession of a controlled drug substance headed the court docket for the week of January 26. Judge Lewis R. Jones, Garrett County District Court, heard sixteen cases during that time period.

Eugene Shaffer, 30, Terra Alta, W. Va., was found guilty of breaking and entering a dwelling belonging to Violet Woodward.

According to the report, Shaffer entered the home through a locked door in order to leave a note for his wife. Nothing was reported missing from the home located along the Oakland-Sang Run Road.

Judge Jones found the defendant guilty and sentenced him to 30 days in jail, which he suspended. Shaffer was placed on 18 months unsupervised probation, and ordered to pay court costs.

A charge of disorderly intoxication was lodged against Harold Snyder, Oakland, after he appeared two separate times in an intoxicated condition at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, causing a disturbance.

Judge Jones fined the defendant $25 plus court costs.

Anthony James Williams, 18, Swanton; and James J. Burns, 18, Oakland, were both charged by Oakland Police Officer Ron Beeghly with disorderly conduct stemming from a street fight last December. Judge Jones ordered probation before judgment.

An Oakland man apparently decided to make himself at home on the floor of the Garrett County Sheriff's Department Office much to the dissatisfaction to those on duty at the time.

Terry Wayne Sharpless, 20, Deer Park, entered the office on December 31 in an intoxicated condition, according to the file, and proceeded to make himself comfortable on the floor, refusing to obey orders to leave.

After the humor was gone, police arrested Sharpless and charged him with trespassing. Judge Jones found the defendant guilty and ordered probation before judgment.

Sheriff's Deputy Larry Gnegy charged an Oakland man, Paul Ernest Kuhn, 41, with the theft of four packs of pipe tobacco after employees at Browning's Supermarket reported the loss.

Judge Jones found the defendant guilty and fined him $25 plus court costs. The value of the stolen merchandise was $3.00.

Jack Roosevelt Fazenbaker, 48, Westernport; and his son, John Eric Fazenbaker, were arrested by Maryland State Police and charged with unlawful possession of a controlled drug substance. A third person, Regina Lynn Minnick, 18, Westernport, was also charged with unlawful possession.

The trio had a quantity of marijuana in their possession. Judge Jones found each guilty and ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

Leonard Allison Maust, 19, Grantsville, was charged with arson with intent to injure the insurer in an auto fire incident.

According to the report, Maust set fire to a 1975 Ford Maverick, turning the loss into the Fireman's Fund Mutual Insurance Company with intent to collect the insured value.

Judge Jones found the defendant guilty and ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

Richard Dale Ward, a current inmate at the Garrett County Jail, was found guilty of inhaling a harmful controlled drug substance occurring on September 26.

Judge Jones sentenced the defendant to six months in jail, with 63 days credit given for time served while awaiting trial.

Ward was also found guilty of disturbing the peace and disorderly intoxication stemming from an August incident in which he created a public nuisance in the parking lot of the Pizza Inn Restaurant in Oakland.

Judge Jones levied a 30-day jail sentence, giving credit for 30 days served while awaiting trial.

Ward was also found guilty of theft charges lodged against him by Sheriff's Deputy Larry Gnegy.

According to the complainant, Ward entered a room at the Maryland Motel, Rt. 50, spent the night after neglecting to register as a guest, and left the following day neglecting to pay for the accommodations.

Judge Jones sentenced Ward to six months in jail, with 63 days credit for time served while awaiting trial, and placed him on 12 months supervised probation.

Ward was found not guilty of assaulting a Department of Corrections Officer Jack Michaels, Jr., a Garrett County Sheriff's Deputy.

Not guilty verdicts were also issued to Jimmie Beeman, Kitzmiller, charged with assault; and Michael Lowell Hoye, Deer Park, charged with assault, malicious destruction, and negligent driving.

Auto Mishaps Injure Several

Severe weather conditions over the last few days have caused several accidents due to poor visibility, high winds, snow, and icy roadways.

A Mountain Lake Park man, Chris Edward Ratliff, 19, was involved in a single-vehicle accident on U. S. Route 219 last Friday morning.

According to reports, the Ratliff vehicle was traveling north, approximately one mile from the Ben DeWitt Road, when he lost control, slid sideways approximately 81 feet into a ditch, and then rolled over on its top, continuing to slide another 28 feet.

The driver and the investigating officer, Trp. C. M. Miller, Maryland State Police, have a slight difference of opinion as to what caused the loss of control.

The vehicle, a 1979 Chevrolet Blazer, was estimated a total loss.

Southern Rescue Squad responded to the call, transporting the driver to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he was treated and released.

Charges are pending against Ratliff.

Jeffrey James Trickett, 21, Deer Park, was travelling west on the Glendale Road near the State Park Road in the early morning hours of February 1 when the operator failed to negotiate a curve, crossed the center of the roadway, ran off the left side of the road, striking a pole and an embankment.

The driver was charged with unlawful approach to a curv e in the roadway.

James Allen Whyel, 28, McHenry, and Lawrence Edward Hunter, 34, Markleysburg, Pa., were involved in a collision Monday afternoon on Rt. 42, approximately two miles south of Friendsville.

According to the report, the Whyel auto was travelling south and the Hunter vehicle was travelling north when they met in the midst of a blowing gust of snow, reducing visibility to zero.

The Northern Rescue Squad responded to the scene, transporting the injured to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where Whyel and Hunter were treated and released.

A passenger in the Hunter auto, Robert Tasker, Deer Park, was admitted and is listed in satisfactory condition.

No charges were lodged against either driver. Tfc. C. M. Miller, Maryland State Police, was the investigating officer.

John Newbery (1713-1767) was the first English publisher and bookseller to make a specialty of children's books.

SPRING 1981 FASHION FORECAST

It may still be winter outside, but inside the stores, spring has sprung. It makes shoppers get in the mood for evaluating their spring wardrobe for the warm season ahead. The two most important factors about clothes are that they feel good and are comfortable, but it is always fun to look at the current fashions and try to fit a few of the new looks into an existing wardrobe. Here is what will be seen this spring—maybe some of the fashions will strike your fancy.

*Generally, a lot of big shirty shapes that allow for air circulation will be seen as well as mid-knee length skirts.

*Dress shapes will include the hip-belted chemise, the blouson and tunic. T-shirt shapes, tiers of ruffles and shirtwaists with feminine ruffles will also appear on the fashion scene.

*Suits will have softened skirts and softer tailored jackets. The newest look will be waist and peplum length jackets. Suits will often be seen with camisole or halter tops. Smock and shirt style jackets as well as loose fitting kimona jackets will reappear.

*Blouses will be available in a variety of styles, including T-shirt types, fuller cut styles with deeper arm holes; peasant styles with short puffed sleeves; tailored styles with middy collars, classic styles with lace, eyelet, and ruffled trim; and lots of halters, camisoles and midriff styles.

*Skirts will be softly gathered, tiered and flounced. Many will have pleat or yoke details.

*Pants in every length from short to long, will be part of the fashion scene. Many will have pleats or gathers at the waistband, and some shorts will have flare legs.

*Culottes in soft cotton or linen type fabrics, tunics worn over straight leg pants, and jumpsuits in a variety of styles, will also be important.

*Shoes with one to two inch heels will be the standard. Flats will be worn with shorter, young looking skirts and shorts.

*Along with structured straw handbags, soft and roomy pouch type handbags will be seen.

*The ethnic theme will be carried out with wood and ceramic jewelry.

FOOD NOTES

Oranges, juice or grated, can make a perfect addition to baked goods. They are delicious, refreshing, full of vitamin C, and according to the USDA, they are now plentiful in supply. ORANGE CAKE

2 sticks butter, softened
1½ cups sugar
3 eggs, separated
2 cups flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. baking soda
Grated rind from 1 orange
½ cup chopped walnuts
¼ cup orange juice
¼ cup orange—flavored liqueur or orange flavoring
Slivered almonds, lightly toasted
1 cup sour cream

Preheat oven to 350°. Cream the butter with 1 cup of sugar. Beat in the egg yolks. Sift together the flour, baking powder and soda. Stir into butter mixture alternately with sour cream. Stir in the rind and nuts. Beat the egg whites until stiff but not dry and fold them into the batter. Pour into a greased tube pan and bake 50 minutes or until a toothpick inserted comes out clean. Mix remaining sugar, juice, and liqueur. Spoon over hot cake and let cool in the pan. Sprinkle with almonds before serving. Serves 10.

Farming in Maryland

Young Farmers' Group Elects Board Member

Daniel Alt, of Moorefield, W. Va., has been elected to a one-year term on Southern States Cooperative's Young Farmer Advisory Board.

The voting for a post on the 10-man board was done by area young farmers at the co-operative's young farmer seminar held recently in McHenry. Those attending the session were invited by local Southern States boards of directors and stockholder committees.

During January, the co-operative holds ten seminars in the five states it serves, with an advisory board elected at each session.

The elected young farmers are expected to serve as a liaison between the cooperative and the young farmers served by the cooperative, according to Robert W. Bryan, director of member and institutional relations for the cooperative.

Advisory board members will meet in Richmond, Va., in July to elect officers and form committees. They also will meet with Southern States Co-operative's top management. The advisory board members and wives also will attend the cooperative's annual stockholders meeting next November and will make a report to the organization's board of directors.

Those attending the young farmer seminar from this area were: Robert Bender and Larry Sebold, McHenry; Gorden Bender, Darwin Bender, Dean George and Greg Fratz, Accident; Mike Metheny, Jin Eisentrout, Bruceton Mills; Nevin Umble, Friendsville; Mark Teets, Curtis Teets and Stanley Harsh, Eglon; Paul Teets, Horse Shoe Run; Daniel Tice, Mark Tice and Lowell Merrill, Grantsville; Richard Brenneman, Accident; William Mast, Salisbury; Kevin Stahl and Nevin Sines, Oakland; Ray Shillingburg, Deer Park; Larry Sebold, McHenry; Paul Perrine, Swanton.

Farmers Urged To Report Changes And Prove Yields

"Maryland producers are urged not to delay reporting any changes in farm operations for the 1981 program year to their county," Stuart C. Peterson, Acting Chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

For ASCS to help producers get program benefits, farm records must be up to date, he said. Therefore, the producer should contact the county office if there has been a change in the land a farmer owns or operates, if a farm will have a new owner effective 1981, or if a change is made in the operation of an existing farm unit.

Peterson reminded farmers that plans to combine farms or divide a farm should be made as soon as possible because reconstitutions require special processing as well as County Committee approval.

Likewise, farmers who want to establish proven yields for 1981 feed grains or wheat should assemble proof of production records for the last three years crops. Production evidence must be kept separate for each year and for each farm, Peterson said. If three years' production evidence is not available, a partial proven yield may be obtained by furnishing one or two years production records.

"Notices of established yields and Normal Crop Acreage (NCA) are being mailed to farmers within the next few weeks," said Peterson. Farmers have 15 days from the date on the Notice to appeal any entry shown on the Notice.

Local Dairymen Support Move To Initiate Component Pricing

Several Garrett County dairymen have expressed their support recently for a proposal to change the procedure for determining the price of milk. Presently, dairymen are paid according to the amount of butterfat contained in their milk and there is no consideration given to the protein content of that milk.

According to Elmer Zook, Pleasant Valley, a spokesman for the local group, component pricing would not only benefit the dairymen by providing them with a more equitable price for their milk, but also the consumer by providing them with a more nutritious product. Under the present pricing system, a farmer who waters down his milk is receiving the same price as one who sells non-watered milk.

The following article was written by Dieter Krieg, editor of the Pennsylvania Dairy Farmshine, a weekly publication based in Manheim, Pa. The title of the article is "Equity is for Everybody" and deals with the question of component pricing. (Permission to reprint the article was received from Krieg.)

What impresses me most about component pricing of milk is the fact that it's the pricing system which is being used throughout much of Europe. That in itself should tell us something. After all, what Europeans do today, we might well end up doing tomorrow. In recent years we have incorporated many of their management ideas into our own farming patterns. And when it comes to milk testing, virtually every American dairy laboratory is outfitted with sophisticated European machines. They have been leaders in the field, and are especially accomplished in protein testing of milk.

Component pricing of milk is sure to come to America. It will come not just because Europeans are doing it, but because it is fair and profitable.

There is more to milk than water and butterfat. However, our present pricing structure pays on only volume and butterfat content. What about protein?

Years ago we did not have the means to test efficiently and accurately for protein, so it's understandable that we have ignored protein in the past. Now there's no excuse for not including protein in pricing formulas. We have the equipment, We've got the reasons. The best of those reasons are that component pricing is fair, it will encourage production of an even better product, and most all dairymen will benefit from it.

I find it somewhat ironic that we buy our dairy feeds based on protein content, and yet haven't been able to go ahead to consider protein in the milk we sell. Wouldn't it be fair that a farmer whose milk tests 4% protein be paid more for his product than his neighbor whose shipments might just test 3% protein? We use that kind of pricing formula with butterfat, why not with protein too?

Some dairymen, particularly those with Holsteins, suspect that they'll be at the short end of the stick if component pricing of milk comes about. Not so, say researchers and economists at universities.

I'm not one to swallow theories and fancy formulas on paper very quickly. It takes more than that to convince dairymen of a good thing. Component pricing is more than a theory or fancy paperwork. It's a practical way to improve a most wholesome product while at the same time reaping better prices.

An important fact ot keep in mind when thinking about this is that there is very significant trend towards cheese in this country. As that becomes more and more evident, the protein formula becomes more and more reasonable. Cheese manufacturers will be able to make more cheese from the same amount of milk if it contains more protein to begin with. Since milk prices are set by a formula which starts with Minnesota and Wisconsin's dairy manufacturing plants' prices, it's logical that the end result will be felt by dairymen across the country if protein pricing becomes the rule rather than the exception. Research indicates that if milk protein is increased by 0.1 percent, the Federal Order price across the U.S. will jump up by 22 cents per hundredweight. On the other hand, dairymen can lose considerably if protein is neglected and prices tilt the other way. Our inattention to these situations could be a part of the reason why we're occasionally bothered by cheese imports from Europe. Our cousins over there are aware of that, I'm sure.

Dairymen of all persuasion can gain through component pricing. It's true that those farmers with colored breeds stand to gain the most, since their higher fat test is indicative of a high protein content. It should be emphasized, though, that a dairyman with Holsteins has nothing to fear. He's already on top of the heap because of volume. The other breeds can't overcome that. And since Holstein breeders have placed an emphasis on butterfat, they've automatically been breeding for protein too. There's a known correlation between the two. Again, as an interesting little side notation, let me point out that Americans sell quite a few dairy cattle to Europe. They insist, however, that such dairy animals have a butterfat test of close to 4 percent. Could it be that they're looking for the higher testers not just for butterfat, but because of their valued protein as well?

The only dairyman who may have to cringe a bit when component pricing arrives is the one who doesn't have much of a butterfat test. Presently he's missing the boat on butterfat differentials, With protein differentials on top of that, he'll miss that opportunity for profits too. Or, he can do like most all Holstein dairymen, pay attention to the fat test, not just volume and get paid for what's in the milk.

The effort to have component pricing of milk adopted in this country is being spearheaded by the American Jersey Cattle Club. They have successfully solicited the support of many dairymen of all persuasions. There is no separation of dairymen along breed lines in this project. And while some folks might be inclined to interpret the Jersey Club's motives as selfish, any reasonably close inspection of the program would prove that false. If anything, the dedication given to the "Equity Project" by the Jersey people is commendable, Their enthusiasm should rub off on many others, and the sooner the better, because the longer stay with our out-dated system of milk pricing, the less competitive we'll be.

Basing our milk prices on more than just volume and butterfat will give producers the incentive to produce a better, more nutritious product. Dairy product manufacturers, in turn, will have more milk solids to work with. Yields will increase, efficiency will get a healthy boost. If the pricing formula suggested by various dairy economists proves correct, milk prices will go up all across the nation.

The Jersey people say that had there been a nationwide equitable pricing system for milk in the U.S. in 1979, Jersey dairymen would have realized an extra income of $50 per cow or more. For a 100-cow herd, that could mean an extra $5000 per year.

"Project Equity," as the American Cattle Club calls its drive for component pricing of milk, is an idea which every progressive dairyman should look into. Interested dairymen may want to contact the American Jersey Cattle Club to request information. Their address in P.O. Box 27310, Columbus, Ohio 43227. Phone 614-861-3636.

On a final note, one observer said recently of America's failure to include protein in milk pricing: "If the dairy industry doesn't pick up this kind (component) of a pricing system, we're going to be in deep, deep trouble."

Let's not wait around as long on this one as we did with economy cars, Europe had them first too.

"Who's Raising Those Rabbits?" Asks The MDA

A new agricultural industry is multiplying in Maryland and surrounding states, but the problem is that no one has any accurate information on just how big it is at present and that is something the Maryland Department of Agriculture wants to do something about, according to a release from the Department.

The industry is the production of rabbits for meat. In possibly hundreds of backyards, in old chicken houses, garages, barns and other outbuildings, people are raising rabbits, the Department says.

Therefore, the Division of Marketing, MDA, is asking rabbit growers to come forward so that a questionnaire can be developed to census their industry.

The reason at hand is the fact that MDA has been approached by a businessman who says he wants to locate a rabbit processing plant on the Eastern Shore and needs to know what the potential sources of supply of rabbits is at present.

Rabbit production is not a small industry, according to USDA. In 1979 some 24,000,000 pounds of processed rabbit meat was imported into the United States primarily from China, Poland and Australia. What domestic production was, no one knows, because figures have not been compiled on commericial rabbit production.

Persons wishing to participate in the MDA study on rabbit production should send a postcard with name and address to: "Rabbits", Marketing Division, Maryland Department of Agriculture, Parole Plaza Office Building, Annapolis, Maryland 21401.

Fresh Market Up, Processing Down

Total Production of fresh market and processing vegetables in Maryland during 1980 amounted to 158,570 tons, 17 percent below 1979, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. Production of the six fresh market crops estimated totaled 995,000 hundredweight, nine percent above last year. The eight processing vegetables estimated showed lower output, totaling 108,820 tons, 25 percent below 1979 production.

Summer snap bean production at 55,000 hundredweight, was 38 percent more than produced in 1979. This 1980 production came from 1,400 acres, 200 fewer acres. A yield of 39 hundredweight per acre was realized.

Fall snap bean production, amounted to 11,000 hundredweight, unchanged from 1979. Value of production for the 1980 crop was $230,000.

Summer cabbage production was 112,000 hundredweight. The value of production for the summer cabbage crop totaled $986,000, nearly 50 percent above last year earlier levels.

An increase of 1,000 acres of cucumbers offset a decline in yield to produce a crop of 135,000 hundredweight. Grown on 1,500 acres, the crop yielded 90 hundredweight per acre.

Tomato acreage for fresh market use, at 2,700 acres, was eight percent above the 1979 crop of 2,500 acres.

Watermelon production of 450,000 hundredweight made up 45 percent of the total fresh market production.

Increased production combined with a $2.25 per hundredweight jump in the price gave a total value of sales of $3.35 million, 71 percent above a year ago.

Production of sweet corn for processing at 36,150 tons, was 24 percent below the 1979 level of 47,480 tons.

Tomato acreage increased 600 acres to 3,400 acres. Total value of production for the 26,900 tons equaled $1.91 million off 12 percent from the previous year.

Harvested acreage of cucumbers is estimated at 3,000 acres. Yield averaged 8.75 tons per acre for a production of 26,250 tons. The total value of $3.62 million, was up 19 percent from the 1979 value of $3.05 million.

Production of snap beans for processing totaled 8,620 tons, down 55 percent.

A lima bean acreage of 2,600 acres, a decline of 800 acres, combined with a lower yield of .65 tons made a production of 1,690 tons of lima beans.

Acreage harvested for green pea production at 4,000, declined 3,600 acres from the previous year.

Meat Production Statistics Noted

Commercial red meat production in December 1980 totaled 10.6 million pounds, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. Production increased nearly one half million pounds from November 1980 and about one million pounds from a year earlier. Total red meat output during 1980 amounted to 118.9 million pounds, 13 percent above 1979 production of 104.7 million pounds.

Cattle slaughter in the two states totaled 5,200 head, compared with 5,400 the year before. Liveweight in December averaged 1,062 pounds, 31 pounds heavier than in November and 14 pounds heavier than in December 1979. Liveweight for the month totaled 5.5 million pounds, nine percent below a month earlier and three percent below a year earlier.

Calves slaughtered during the month increased 300 head from November 1980 and December 1979 to 2,000 head. The total liveweight increased 25 percent above the previous month and 30 percent above the previous year as the liveweight per head averaged 339 pounds, compared with 330 pounds and 320 pounds in November 1980 and December 1979, respectively.

Hog slaughter also increased to 42,300 head, 45,000 head above the last month and 5,200 head above last year. The weight of hogs averaged 228 pounds, equal to the month before, but three pounds heavier than the year before. Total liveweight amounted to 9.6 million pounds, 12 percent above November and 15 percent above last year.

Sheep and lambs slaughtered in December, at 3,100 increased 200 head from November and 1,200 head from December, a year ago. The average liveweight, however, fell to 98 pounds compared with 104 pounds the previous month and 107 pounds a year ago. Total liveweight for the month was 303,000 pounds.

Garrett Health Department Eyes Drop In Revenues

Garrett County health officer, Dr. William Pope, expects to meet with the county Board of Commissioners in the next few weeks to establish increases in clinic fees and cutbacks in the programs and services of the health department for the remainder of this fiscal year.

The action has been prompted, Dr. Pope explained, by notice of budget cuts for this fiscal year and for FY 1982 and FY 1983.

Pope detailed the health department's financial situation Wednesday, February 4 during a meeting with his 50 employees at the Ruth Enlow Library, Oakland.

Pope told the employees at the meeting that he has received financial projections from both the state and the county.

State revenues will continue to decline as will county monies, noted Pope.

For this fiscal year, the health department expects an income of about $481,000 of which half comes from each source.

Because of a cutback in funds at the state level this year, the state has been asking the health department to discard the previous Fiscal Year 1981 contracts and accept new contracts which provide less money.

The financial aid from both sources is projected to decline to $445,000 in FY 1982 and to $440,000 in FY 1983.

The state and county revenues account for about one-third of the annual Health Department budget. The remainder comes from grants, clinic fees from patients and third party disbursements, Dr. Pope said.

Because of the expected decline in state and county funds, Dr. Pope stated the department must increase clinic fees from clients. The new sliding schedule of fees will go into effect March 1.

He told his employees that the financial income situation is further complicated by inflation which could lead the department into a deficit operation.

Department program and services this year will be trimmed to allow a surplus to cushion the decreased revenues projected for next year.

Dr. Pope said there will be

Labor-Management Group Meets

The Garrett County Labor-Management Committee met for the first time Tuesday after formal introductions to the county commissioners.

Paul Shockey, county personnel director, said the committee was formed in an attempt to improve the relations between county government and the county roads department union, the Association for Federal, State, County, and Municipal Employees (AFSCME).

Accomplishments of the meeting included agreement on the make-up of the group, tentative arrangements for a training session, and the creation of a safety committee, said Shockey.

Those present for the meeting were Paul Shockey; Herbert McCrobie, engineer/-administrator for the county roads department; John Popular, director of the Cumberland Area Labor-Management Council; Harold Fox, business representative of AFSCME; Leo Rinker, president of the local AFSCME chapter; and Ken "Fuzz" Shaffer and Dennis Shaffer, both union representatives.

The group agreed that representing the union on the council would be the business agent, the local chapter president, vice-president, secretary and two at-large members. The at-large members will be rotated at each meeting and will be selected by the union.

Representing the county government will be Shockey, McCrobie and two at-large members. The two at-large members will likely be supervisors for the roads department, also to be rotated, Shockey stated.

The tentative planned training session, explained Shockey, would be for management people of the roads department and the union executive committee and would be about the grievance procedure. John Popular would conduct the session at Garrett Community College. It would be jointly offered by county government and the union.

The safety committee, created by the group, will be a

Commissioners Project A $150,000 Shortfall

Tuesday was a bad day for financial news for the county commissioners who may be facing an approximate $150,000 revenue shortfall in this fiscal year.

During a roads board meeting, the commissioners were told the state anticipates a shortfall of funds to the county roads department of about $74,000. (Further details were not available at presstime.)

Also, in a letter from the State Comptroller's office read to the commissioners during their weekly meeting, the commissioners were told that as a result of a recent audit, the Comptroller's office had discovered the county had been paid $73,900.17 more than it should have in June, 1979.

The letter explained an error was made by a taxpayer, Savings and Loan Association, when it allocated its share accounts to the "respective political subdivisions". The money apparently was sent to the Comptroller's office which wired it directly to the county.

The State's letter said the money came to the county as part of the franchise tax returns, but Commissioner Ernie Gregg stated the county has never received that large an amount of money in that category. He said the money more likely came in with income tax returns.

Because the county receives a small amount from the state in franchise tax returns, the State said it could not recover the funds by withholding those funds. It requested the commissioners to investigate the matter and propose a solution acceptable by both parties.

Gregg said if the county does not make a provision for repayment, the State could redeem its money by taking it out of one of the income tax payments to the county this fiscal year.

The commissioners are investigating the matter.

Commissioners To Respond Separately To Mason's Coal Tax Proposal

The Garrett County commissioners will be sending separate responses to Senator Edward Mason (R-Allegany, Garrett) this week concerning his most recent draft of his proposed coal tax legislation.

The commissioners were reluctant to state their positions until Sen. Mason had received their letters but indicated they were still unhappy with the proposal.

Ernie Gregg, chairman of the Board, expressed his belief that their letters would probably make little difference even though Sen. Mason has publicly stated he would not introduce the bill without the majority support of the county boards in Allegany and Garrett counties.

He explained even if Mason didn't introduce his bill, Delegate DeCorsey Bolden (R-Allegany, Garrett) announced he would introduce a similar bill regardless of local support or opposition; Mason has also said he would support Bolden's bill.

Mason sent a copy of the bill to the commissioners last week accompanied with an explanation of his position in favor of a percentage tax on coal, rather than a tonnage levy. Mason also provided the commissioners with the option of requesting the creation of a gubernatorial task force to study coal taxation, if the commissioners cannot support the bill enabling them to levy a percentage tax.

Mason requested the commissioners respond to his proposal with a letter by Tuesday, February 10. The commissioners were unable to meet the deadline, but were to inform Mason of their decision by telephone.

The commissioners said they would not support a task force because the coal tax issue has been "studied to death."

Bolden agrees with Mason that the percentage tax is a better method of taxation than a tonnage levy. He stated one of the reasons he will introduce a coal tax legislation is due to a commitment to the Coalition of Surface Mining, a citizens' group for Allegany and Garrett counties.

Mason's bill would give the counties the authority to impose a percentage tax up to five percent on gross coal sales and to exempt local coal sales from the tax.

The bill would also allow the commissioners to abolish a coal tax or the personal property tax.

The commissioners state they need money to help repair roads in the county damaged by coal-hauling trucks and they do not wish to come out of this legislative session with no coal taxing authority.

They indicated they were still hopeful members of the Western Maryland delegation will withdraw support from the per-

Residents Protest Board Decision On Gorman Water

The Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc. received two petitions of protest on Friday, regarding a recent decision by the Sanitary Commission to contract only part of the proposed Gorman Water Project.

The project was put out to bid in three phases, the first to include Gorman and Route 50 to the Wilson-Corunna Road, and the other two extending the water improvements to Table Rock, up Backbone Mountain.

The decision to contract just the first phase was made January 28 at a Sanitary Commission meeting at the Gorman Fire Hall, following a public hearing. At the hearing a public roll call vote by phases indicated support for the first phase, with 25 for, 13 against. Response to phase II revealed three for and 12 against, and phase III, five for and four against. The vote was taken to give the commission some indication of public feeling toward the project.

One petition submitted Friday contains approximately 80 signatures and calls for the project to be extended to the Table Rock area, including phases II and III. The other, with about 35 signatures, requests a hearing of protest but does not specify what part of the decision is unsatisfactory to those people.

A hearing is set for Tuesday, February 17, at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland, where the commission will hear the petitioners and then determine whether or not its decision should be changed.

The low bid for construction of all three phases, submitted by Uwchland Construction Company, Uwchland, Pa., is $786,311. Broken down into phases the bid is for $380,524.50 for phase I, $230,579.50 for phase II and $175,207 for phase III.

The primary funding for the project is Farmer's Home Administration, in the form of both a grant and loan, along with an Appalachian Regional Commission grant and a Housing and Urban Development Block grant.

Karen Richmond, HUD Block Grant Administrator, met with the Board of Garrett County Commissioners yester-

Court Orders County To Repay $40,000 To T.G. & C. Coal

Garrett County was the loser in a recent decision by Circuit Court Judge Fred Thayer of a lawsuit concerning whether the county held good title to a piece of property it deeded to T.G.&C. Coal Co. in 1976.

Thayer rescinded the deed, dated August 11, 1976, and ordered the county to repay the coal company the purchase price of $40,000 plus the cost of recording the deed and the interest accounting from June 29, 1979.

The coal company filed suit against the county June 29, 1979 charging the county did not have the title to 387 acres of coal it offered for sale in 1976. The tract of land, said the company, was in fact owned by the State of Maryland which shared the interest in the coal, oil, gas and other minerals with the United States of America.

The coal company also charged the county with fraud in the inducement to purchase, fraudulent misrepresentations as to the status of title, fraudulent concealment of facts and negligent misrepresentation of pertinent facts concerning the status of title in the Board of Commissioners' final negotiations with the coal company.

The court found no evidence of fraud or of the other charges on the part of the county commissioners even though they had received a letter prior to the date of the sale from William W. Grant, Esq., informing the property was not county land and could not be sold. Thayer stated the Board had the right to rely on the title examination completed by an attorney of their choice.

The county's reason for claiming to hold title to the property dated back to 1941 when the county held a tax sale of the property. The treasurer at that time noted there were back taxes due on the property which was recorded in the assessor's office as belonging to a John Hersker. Because no one bid on the property, the treasurer deeded it over to the county.

Grant's letter to the commissioners explained the property had been improperly assessed to Hersker from 1937 to 1941. He detailed many deed transfers during that time and stated that the property was acquired by the United States of America on March 7, 1938.

The U. S. Government then conveyed the surface of the tract together with an undivided one-fourth interest in the coal, oil, gas and other minerals to the State of Maryland in 1964.

During the course of the trial, Thayer invited testimony from the state because of its interest in the trial. The state petitioned to intervene in the case and, after receiving permission, moved to dismiss the case on the ground that the United States of America, the State of Maryland, and certain private parties were necessary and indispensable parties to a determination of title to the subject tract.

The state further contended that a suit against the state "is barred by the doctrine of governmental or sovereign immunity."

The court recognized that the United States was not under its jurisdiction and to dismiss the case would mean T.G.&C. Coal Co. would have to take the case to a federal district court.

Thayer, therefore, stated in his decision that "in order to avoid further litigation and costs to all of the parties, and as a practical solution to the plaintiff's dilemma, based on the uncontested facts, the Court will, by decree, recognize that the Commissioners' title is void because of lack of jurisdiction in this Court in the 1941 tax sale proceedings because of the outstanding title in the United States of America, its absence as an indispensable party and its immunity from such suit."

The present Board and its attorney are preparing a plan for payment to the coal company.

Snowmobile Task Force Submits Report, Proposals

A task force appointed to study snowmobile problems in Garrett and Allegany counties last week submitted a report including recommendations and suggestions to Senator Edward J. Mason (R-Allegany-Garrett), Delegate DeCorsey Bolden (R-Allegany-Garrett) and H. Lester Hunter, Board of Garrett County Commissioners.

The proposals included in the report are directed to Garrett and Allegany counties only and are recommended as proposed legislation, pending response from the state and those reviewing the report.

According to Barbara Wilkins, administrative assistant to Senator Mason, the only proposal which could possibly be submitted in the form of a bill at this time deals with granting authority to county commissioners in Garrett and Allegany counties to designate certain portions of county roads for snowmobile use, to connect parts of trails.

Ms. Wilkins stated that the report was received "too close to deadline" for all of the proposals to be written up in the proper form, and that any other proposals in the report could be considered only at the discretion of the General Assembly and introduced as emergency legislation this year. Senator Mason and Delegate Bolden are expected to issue an opinion on the report sometime this week, and a bill may or may not be introduced.

The Garrett County Commissioners have already exercised this authority by recently designating portions of two roads to connect an expanded state forest trail. Commissioner Ernest Gregg stated yesterday that authority is now "being questioned."

Efforts Made To Reorganize Handicapped Scouting Troop

A group of concerned persons is working to reorganize Boy Scout Troop No. 99 for mentally handicapped students in Garrett County. The troop was disbanded in September of this school year, following a suggestion that it be discontinued as an in-school activity, a feeling reportedly generated by teachers' responses to the program.

The troop, which is said to have been one of the first of its kind in the country, had been in existence about nine years. It was sponsored by the Proctor Kildow American Legion in Oakland, and Tom Bittinger, now commander of that American Legion, served as scoutmaster for the troop.

Bittinger said the troop was initiated by the late Stanley Callis, who worked for nearly two years to obtain a charter after the American Legion had agreed to sponsorship of the troop. The charter was obtained through the Potomac Council Headquarters, Cumberland, for all boys attending the Green Street School, Oakland, then the center for special education. The boys ranged in age from six to 20.

Bittinger, who said he had never before worked with the handicapped, agreed to be scoutmaster of the troop. The group met every Friday on Bittinger's day off from his work as a mailman. The scoutmaster indicated that he had received support at the Green Street School, however, he said "it became more difficult when special education entered into the regular school curriculum at Dennett Road School."

Tom Graybill, a representative of the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped in the group to reorganize the scouting troop, stated that Bittinger had difficulties maintaining the troop in recent years because he had to do everything himself, and no longer had help from teachers.

Bittinger said that last year he managed 19 boys, some from Southern High School, whom he transported to Dennett Road School and back again so they could remain a part of the troop.

During the nine years of its existence, the troop went on numerous camping trips, many for an entire weekend, and for some this was their first experience away from home. They also travelled to Parkersburg, W. Va. to special camps there for special scouting troops, Bittinger said.

Each year the troop went to Herrington Manor State Park for an all-day picnic, and the troop went on various tours, including a visit to Storybook Forest and a weekend in Pittsburgh. Each year they participated in the Memorial Day parade in Oakland, and the members worked to receive badges.

Bittinger said he attempted to work in scouting functions with things needed in school, by emphasizing health, personal hygiene and community awareness. In addition to other activities the troop members often went bowling and swimming.

Bittinger volunteered his time and managed the group with financial help from the American Legion and the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped, and other private contributions. He never collected dues from the youngsters, and he attended seminars to learn about working with the handicapped. In addition he often took the handicapped girls along to the activities.

Bittinger said that he feels "Scouting has helped them. It gives many kids a father image, and some love and care." The scoutmaster has two daughters of his own. Bittinger stated that the American Legion will again sponsor the troop if it is reorganized, and he has agreed to again be scoutmaster.

The group working on the reorganization is comprised of scouting representatives and education officials. In order for it to be a part of in-school activities for the mentally handicapped, current federal law requires that it be written into the Individual Education Plan (IEP) for each student. This could require a change in the format of the scouting troop, in order for it to work into the school curriculum.

The troop is practically forced to meet during school time, as many of its members come from homes where transportation is not available to them. The reorganization group will attempt to write the scouting program into the IEP, and it hopes to have the troop reorganized and meeting again this September, according to one spokesman.

Diabetes Association Scheduled To Meet

The next meeting of the Garrett County Diabetes Association will be held Monday, February 16, at 7:30 p.m. at St. Paul's U.M. Church, Oakland.

The speaker will be Wendy Norris, dietitian at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. She will discuss the changing concepts of the diabetic diet.

Anyone interested in learning more about diabetes is welcome to attend.

Southern Rescue Answers 1,085 Calls In 1980

The Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad responded to a total of 1,085 calls during 1980, according to statistics released recently. This was an increase of 78 calls in the 1979 total of 1,007. In the seven and one half years existence of the squad, a total of 5,908 calls have been answered.

The months of October, July and December were the busiest for the squad, with 106, 105 and 104 calls, respectively. The months with the least number of calls were September, with 73, and April, with 78.

Friday proved to be the busiest day of the week, as 182 calls were received. This was followed by Saturday, with 175, Thursday and Sunday with 154, Wednesday with 143, Tuesday with 141, and Monday, for the second year in a row, was the least busy, with 136 calls.

Squad vehicles travelled a total of 23,742 miles, an average of approximately 22 miles per call. This was a decrease of 415 miles from the 1979 total of 24,157 miles. Since the squad's formation, its emergency vehicles have travelled 141,377 miles (as of December 31, 1980).

The hours of 8-9 p.m. and 6-7 p.m. proved to be the hours when it was most likely to receive a call, with a total of 72 and 66 calls, respectively, during those periods. The hours when it was least likely to receive a call were 6-7 a.m. and 5-6 a.m., when only 19 and 20 calls, respectively, were received.

General illnesses made up the bulk of the calls for the year, with a total of 262. There were 115 heart attack and stroke cases handled. Crews responded to 114 vehicular accidents. Industrial accidents accounted for 76 calls, while home accidents totalled 65. Injuries due to sports activities were responsible for 53 calls. Forty-two cases of drug and/or alcohol overdose were handled. Falls accounted for 33 calls, assaults for 15, seizures for 14, maternity cases for 13, diabetic cases for six, burns for three, gunshot and knife wounds for three and search and rescue for two calls.

Twenty-four persons were dead on arrival at the hospital. There were 65 emergency transfers to medical facilities other than Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Forty-five calls were cancelled before arrival and there were three false alarms, all occurring in November.

For the second year in a row, Fran Pope responded to the greatest number of calls, answering 296. John Feather followed with 184 calls, Frank Eberly with 157, Hazel Stewart with 153, Dave Evans with 144, Don Sincell with 116, Linda Hauser and Robert Sincell, each with 114, Randy Shaffer with 113 and Celene Trickett with 112.

Since the formation of the organization, Robert Sincell has responded to 806 calls; Frank Eberly, 787; Don Sincell, 771; Helen Kahl, 692; Hester Foley, 680; Fran Pope, 654; Dave Evans, 648; Dave Turney, 614; Roy Hinkle, Sr., 612; and Tom Browning, 596.

The squad owns four ambulances, a four-wheel drive "Mash" unit and a rescue truck, which are all housed at the squad hall on Oak Street, Oakland.

Frank Eberly, president of the organization, emphasized that the squad responds to emergency situations only, and does not engage in the routine transport of patients for examinations, tests or minor illnesses. The squad also does not transport patients from the hospital back to places of residence, including nursing homes.

Because there is no charge for the services provided by the squad, Southern Rescue operates solely by donations and proceeds from fund raising activities. Eberly stated that increasing gasoline costs are "really taking their toll" on the squad's budget, as the vehicles get an average of only five or six miles per gallon.

In case of emergency, persons are reminded to dial 911. All emergency communications with the squad are handled through Garrett Central Alarm.

When we sprint at top speed, our hearts pump five times as much blood as normally.

Sheriff's Office Is Investigating Vehicle Theft

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is investigating the theft of a vehicle owned by Sharon Laverne Burgess, Mt. Lake Park.

Her 1977 Datsun SX, blue in color, was reported stolen from the parking lot at Joe's Place, Oakland, during the night of January 21. The license number on the vehicle was ATJ798.

In other business, the department arrested five persons last week.

Ronald W. Smith, 28, was arrested February 6 on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Roger A. Dixon, 20, near Gorman, was incarcerated February 6 on charges that he is a fugitive from justice from West Virginia. He was released the same day when he posted $100 bond.

Terry L. Garlitz, 24, Kitzmiller, was arrested February 6 and charged with battery. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Steven Ray Thomas, 18, Mt. Lake Park, was arrested February 6 on a bench warrant for failure to appear in court, and he was charged at the time of arrest with fleeing and eluding a police officer and driving without a license. He was released February 9 when he posted $100 bond.

Dalie George Guthrie, 55, was incarcerated February 8 on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Temperatures Unseasonal

Garrett County Schools had a two-hour delay Monday, due to Sunday's severe weather. Today, however, one can practically hear a robin sing and feel the coming of spring!

High and low temperatures and precipitation levels for the week were, Wednesday, high 16 degrees, low 4 degrees, a trace of precipitation; Thursday, 21, 2, 0 prec.; Friday, 29, 3, trace of prec.; Saturday, 41, 7, trace of prec.; Sunday, 38, 20, .14 prec., four inches of snow; Monday, 27, 7, 0 prec.; and Tuesday, 36, 5, .04 prec., one-half inch of snow. The overnight low was 34 degrees.

Temperatures this week have fluctuated to the point that it's almost difficult to determine whether spring or a violent snowstorm is waiting around the corner.

Four inches of snow coupled with high winds Sunday caused poor driving conditions and near zero visibility in some areas.

An Attitude Problem . . .

Last week in this column we wrote concerning President Reagan's tough economic plan, which includes budget cuts in numerous major government programs. We stated that we believed most of his proposals, though if implemented will be difficult and painful for many persons, are admirable and essential for the survival of our economy.

Among the major programs cited for funding cuts are social security, unemployment benefits, Medicaid, food stamps and public service jobs, programs with which we are all familiar, because they involve billions of dollars.

However, there seem to be other less-known, and virtually useless, projects which seem to go on within the walls of the more obscure offices of our government, which consume vast quantities of our tax dollars. Senator William Proxmire delights in uncovering such projects and then presenting a monthly "Golden Fleece" award to the agency responsible.

January's award went to two agencies, the Office of Personnel Management and the Merit Systems Protection Board, which both distributed, within two days of each other, questionnaires asking nearly 20,000 top government employees, making an average of $41,000 salaries, how they like their jobs. The OPM conducted a similar survey last year and plans to do more in the future.

Proxmire said one of the "startling discoveries" made from last year's survey was "those with higher pay are happier with their jobs."

The same survey this year cost $126,729. One of the questionnaires asked workers to agree or disagree with the statement: "I feel that the results of this survey will not serve any useful purpose."

Although $126,000 is a drop in the bucket when considering a multi-billion budget, there are undoubtedly many such absurd projects underway continually. And the dilemma is not just the spending of the money. More importantly, the fact that such boondoggles are allowed to occur indicates a serious attitude problem among government officials and agencies when it comes to spending.

The spending cuts are crucial, however frugal attitudes are an essential prerequisite.

Unjust Accusations? . . .

by Carol Kapel

Recently, the Garrett County Department of Social Services has been attacked and brutally maligned by many county citizens.

It's obvious to most readers that the letter writers were apparently victims of injustice in their own minds, possibly stemming from adverse dealings with the department.

Being quick to judge is easy. Being fair and completely honest isn't always as easy, but critically important.

A department which must deal with the sensitive issue of a child's welfare deserves the support of the public it serves, as well as the open-mindedness of those same people.

The Garrett County Social Services Department is the only agency in the county instructed, by law, to take action in protective services to a child.

Whether a problem is called to the attention of police, health department officials, or medical personnel, it is the D.S.S. who must step in and take action which has been outlined by law.

Heart-rendering decisions and the tears of a parent or child have the same effect on social service workers and supervisors as on the general public.

Those workers often become enmeshed in emotional situations, unlike any the average person can imagine. Disturbing a family unit in any manner seems against the principles we've come to know as a family-oriented nation. Protection of an innocent child, however, must prevail at all cost.

Knowledge of the working operation of any department designed to serve the public is available to anyone interested enough to inquire. A responsible judgment cannot be made prior to obtaining that information. Accusations should be replaced with all-inclusive facts.

College Students To Attend School Board Meeting

The Garrett County Board of Education will be under observation by college students during its February 12 meeting to begin at 1:30 p. m. in the Board's meeting room, Board of Education building, Oakland.

Students from a class taught by Dr. Lillian Mitchell, director of the Garrett Community College Social Science Division, will be present during a portion of the Board Meeting.

At 1:40 p. m. the Board will discuss curriculum concerns including a follow-up to the review of Secondary School Programs and the Attendance Policy.

Discussion and action on business concerns will begin at 2:30 p. m. Action to be taken will be on the Technical Assistance Audit Bid Award for Northern High School. The Board will also review the FY 1981 Status of Accounts and the CETA Audit Findings for FYs 77, 78, 79.

Action on a request for use of the Southern High School Gym and on the Master Plan for Facilities will be part of building concerns scheduled at 3:30 p. m. Final payment for the Grantsville project will also be discussed at this time.

The board will go into executive session for personnel matters at 4:30 p. m. following action on a request for a Route extension at 4:15 p. m.

The Board will reopen the meeting to the public at 5:30 p. m. when action is planned on the revision to the Administrators and Supervisors Residency Policy.

The Board plans to discuss miscellaneous items at 6 p. m.

Snowmobile

Other issues addressed by the task force included the possibility of crossing certain state and county highways at a 90-degree angle and the marking of designated crossings, and liability protection for property owners and problems with trespassing. The task force felt that verbal permission should be obtained from property owners before snowmobiles can ride on that property.

Also discussed and researched by the task force is the possibility of proposed snowmobile registration for easy identification, and inspection as the responsibility of all snowmobilers. The Department of Natural Resources in Cumberland conducted a study of snowmobile registration in other states to aid the task force in addressing this issue.

Various officials are exploring the legalities of the task force proposals, and no formal opinion has been issued at this time. The Garrett County Commissioners agreed yesterday to await response from the state before issuing any opinion of the report.

Valley Forge is a village in southeastern Pennsylvania where Washington and his troops spent the winter of 1777-78.

Lighthearted Look At Lovers' Day . . .

"How Do I Love Thee?"

—Shakespeare

by Carol Kapel

Traditional hearts and flowers may be on their way out, according to a spokesman for the Hallmark Card Company. It seems the butterfly is seriously challenging Dan Cupid, the supreme embodiment of romantic love for centuries, as the symbol of love for the modern valentine consumer.

Customs have governed the celebration of this day for lovers with candy, flowers, frilly cards, and poems of love. Modern versions of age-old tradition now tend to be more sophiscated in terms of gifts and greetings.

Valentine's Day is marked by some curious local customs in England, where residents have observed the day of lovers since the 15th century.

According to legend, English girls wrote their names on heartshaped papers and put them in a jar on Valentine's Day. The young men of the community then drew a name, pinned it to his sleeve, and escorted his selection to all festivities scheduled for the day.

From this custom came the expression "wearing your heart on your sleeve".

Recent poets and humorists have used Valentine's Day celebrations as a time to make light of problems of those in love, as expressed by Judith Viorst in an article entitled, "Love Stories", appearing in the February, 1979, edition of Redbook Magazine.

According to Ms. Viorst, a woman really knows it's love when she discovers that a great way to spend a weekend is caulking his boat . . .

When he didn't call on Tuesday and she hated him . . .

When she decided that a person with a beautiful smile but balding could be handsome . . .

Ms. Viorst also included the five wrong answers to the question, "Do you love me?"

1. I married you, didn't I?
2. Why do you ask?
3. I love you, but I'm not in love with you.
4. Define your terms.
5. No.

Other gifts of love include such thoughts as . . .

You needn't say a word, and I know what you're thinking.

When you are hurt, I am hurt. When you smile, it's as tho' all the world is right.

I am not alone when thoughts of you penetrate my mind, invade my senses.

I wake up to thoughts of our love. Today, we are one.

Because I love you, I also like myself.

In ancient times, birds were considered holy by many pagan peoples. A delightful old story says that birds chose their mates on February 14, thus symbolizing February 14 as a day for lovers — a day for choosing partners — a day for saying I love you to someone you truly care about.

Happy Valentine's Day.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Agriculture is the largest industry in Maryland!!

This statement is true even though the amount of farmland and the number of farmers diminish each year.

Maryland farmers produce approximately 50 percent of the food consumed in Maryland. They accomplish this by continually improving productivity and efficiency.

Yet, the cost of food is probably cussed and discussed by shoppers more than any other subject.

As president of the largest farm organization in Maryland, I wish to thank you for assisting us in bridging the gap between those who produce food and those who have little or no understanding of where their foods come from.

We have found that as generations become further removed from the farm, their understanding and knowledge of food production and all that it encompasses, diminishes.

This communication is to express the hope that you will continue, through your publication, to share knowledge and promote understanding of the agricultural industry to over 99 percent of Maryland's residents who are unrelated to it.

Sincerely,
Leon Enfield
President,
Maryland Farm Bureau

Editor Sincell:

I see and hear on TV where President Reagan is going here and there meeting with his aides; but I hope and, yes, pray that he will do as Abraham Lincoln did—drop down on his knees to ask God for help, with the tremendous responsibility of being the President of our nation.

This is another comment I heard President Reagan make: "I cannot give jobs to all who voted for me." Sir I never thought he would be able to. But here is a very disturbing fact. Eleven cabinet members are millionaires. Have they ever seen the day when they never had one nickle to rub against another? And how long has it been since Mr. Reagan didn't have a pay check to take home to his family?

President Reagan, when I was a teenager I loved you as a movie star. Now as a born-again Christian and a senior citizen I am praying for you.

Margaret Crawford

P.S.

Two words I have heard President Reagan use; Freeze and Cut. Here are two words I use daily: Faith and Christ.

Dear Mr. Sincell,

About every other month (or perhaps more often) I pick up the paper and read about another utility raising rates. Of course these increases are authorized by the Public Service Commission.

It's about time that the general public look into the reasons and motivations behind the PSC. It is very rare when a "public" (?) utility is turned down, or has a lower rate increase authorized.

When one sees that the recent C&P Telephone Co. increase will generate an estimated 25.3 million dollars in increased revenues, it's time to stop and take a look. More often than not, figures reported are insufficient to really evaluate the total situation.

Perhaps, Mr. Sincell, you could publish an article, in the near future, that deals with the Public Service Commission. An article that I am thinking of would cover in its scope the salaries of the members of the PSC, how the members function, and what criteria is used to determine whether or not a utility is eligible for a rate increase. It should be interesting.

Dear Sir:

I am glad the Hostages are free, back home, and with their families. So why the big fuss?

I am angry at the American people and my government, because not long ago I and thousands of other Vietnam Vets were hostages too, so to speak. Some of us were there by choice because we thought it our duty.

The hostages say they were tortured, their lives were threatened daily. But did they ever march for miles through the jungle in weather over 100 degrees, with 100 rounds of ammunition and an m60 machine gun on their backs? Go for weeks without a change of clothes, or a hot meal, or get insect bites and sores all over their bodies from not being able to bathe regularly? Or get malaria or typhoid fever and God knows what other diseases known to man? Then there is the new one collect Agent Orange that my government refuses to recognize because they are the ones responsible for it. Some of us lost parts of our bodies, arms, legs, eyes, ect. But the saddest thing of all, some lost their lives.

One newspaper called the Hostages Heroes. Why? What did they do? They were captured and they waited, while eight veterans lost their lives trying to rescue them by some stupid plan our great government dreamed up.

As a boy I was always told, get your high school education and put your time in the service and you will never have trouble getting a job. I finished school and went in the service, only to get out and find that the drop outs and draft dodgers had all the jobs. I speak for all the Vets in Garrett County. I believe I will always be proud to be a Vet, but sorry to have been forgotten.

Dear Editor:

You have given the people of Garrett County a chance to speak up and tell how the Social Service runs their little offices and the only time they are seen is out somewhere to take someone's child or children.

Well how about the ones who have already lost their children? As for my husband and I, we were harassed and humiliated.

I wasn't allowed to babysit for anyone, not even for my own family. I kept a baby for a cousin. We bought its every need, but they came and at one time tried to take my brother from me. But they just couldn't find anything on us.

At first my husband lost one job after another. Well, we know why. Mr. Editor, how would you feel to be accused of a severe crime and not tried, only to pay for it each and every day? And you in the Welfare, how would you feel?

How do you think we feel? We were accused falsely for another's doings.

How much of our tax money goes out to foster homes. Shouldn't the children be put back in the home where they were taken from?

Let the parents support their own. I honestly don't believe children should be placed in homes of the elderly. Do you? I would like to know who gives these Welfare people their pay checks.

I hope President Reagan puts a stop to you people once and for all.

Dear Withheld:

You might be interested in a story on page 30 of today's issue.

Dear Editor,

I am a World War II Veteran. I have been listening and watching TV about the hostages or heroes as they are being called. I myself can't see why they would be heroes.

I was in Okinawa during World War II. My ship, a destroyer DD560, was blown from under me. Out of a crew of 360, half of the crew was killed. There were 18 that were not wounded and able to return home.

When I came back to the states, I didn't have a limousine to ride in, yellow ribbons or a parade. There was no President there to greet me. I wasn't classed a hero.

While I was in the service for 516 days, my pay was $54.00 a month. I had a wife and 3 children. They got $120.00 a month.

When I was discharged from Bainbridge, Md., I had to pay train fare into Cumberland out of my outpay of $100.00. Half the time when we rode a train, it was one of the oldest cars the railroad had (a converted cattle car). When I got back to Cumberland I stood for two hours on Route #40. No one bothered to offer me a ride home.

I am not writing this only for myself, but for all war veterans. I think it is about time our leaders start thinking of the real heroes, the men that saved our country, and not cast all their attention on the hostages or so-called heroes.

A Concerned
World War II Vet.

Dear Editor:

I'm writing this to say thanks to our County Roads Department.

After driving and riding over the Preston County roads this past week, I must say our Road Department is doing a very good job.

Mrs. Joyce Warnick

Dear Editor:

Last week I picked up my local newspaper and read the most pathetic, and most enraging, story I have had the displeasure of reading in awhile. A beautiful one year old boy was repeatedly beaten, by his mother, for 4 hours with a gauze-wrapped club until finally his life was ended. Sadder yet was the fact that he had been taken from this poor excuse of a mother several times, only to be returned. Each time the evidence the Social Services Dept. gathered was staggering but the lenient and "parent-sided" attitude of the court (keep the family together regardless!) was unbelieveable! There is more to being a mother than simply giving birth; it does not start OR stop there.

Contrary to what "Hopeful Mother" suggested, the Oakland Social Service Agents are not "lurking around every corner" looking for children to grab! They are educated, sensitive and concerned persons who want to help any child they can receive a first rate chance in life. I know, without a doubt, that they would not take children from a home simply because they were being bathed in a wash tub! Even I can read between the lines, and believe me there have been a lot of them to read lately in this column.

Let's stop protecting parents and start protecting the children.

Second Impression

"Thou Winter Wind"

by Harry Fox

Ah, winter! It's one of my favorite things . . . take snow. I used to like snow. It covered the lawn with a thick, frosty-white layer of fun. It gave me holidays from school. Snow, as an extreme of nature, is something for a child to wonder at and enjoy. That was, however, twenty years ago.

I still wonder about snow, but I seem to have less to enjoy. It's hard to appreciate snow when a sudden gust of wind hurls icy slush into my face. My snowthrower does an excellent job of throwing snow. It just never throws it where I would like it to go. But then, snowballs never did last long there.

Let's be mature adults though. Weather is simply a complex relationship of natural forces over which we have little control. (O. K. Don't all the environmentalists write to remind me about what we're doing to the ozone layer.) There is nothing vindictive or malicious about a snowstorm, but, why is there such a high correlation between my need to travel and the arrival of the next blizzard?

Weather reporters love blizzards. It's the one chance they have to lead the news. They can put away their isobars and thermal inversions and satellite pictures and really get down: "The region trembled under the worst onslaught of Mother Nature in thirty years!" They punctuate the dry stuff, the temperature and humidity and wind speed, with zippy, spoken sub-heads. "Yes, folks," with a cheery smile, "that wind chill factor works out to 54 degrees below zero!" Sometimes it sounds as if anyone who hasn't had a complete physical in the last twenty minutes shouldn't venture outdoors.

TV reporters love the winter so much they even run storm reports when there isn't any storm. One area station, who shall escape unnamed this time, actually uses one of last year's storm bulletins as a promo spot. After they've stopped millions of hearts from atop the Alleghenies, the announcer cuts in to remind us that channel _ is as efficient as ever. Just stay tuned for the real thing.

Take snow, but, don't take it too far. We all need it to gripe about, and talk about, and yes, write about. Now I can take my tongue out of my cheek and put on my four-buckle arctics.

Winter Storm Blamed For Six-Car Mishap

A chain reaction six-car pile-up caused property damage and personal injury last Sunday afternoon on the Elkins-Oakland Road near Mansfield Road.

According to police reports, autos driven by Janet Marilyn Judy, 38, Horse Shoe Run, W. Va., William Ray Blair, 30, Gaithersburg; and Ronald W. Beckman, 39, Oakland, were traveling south on Rt. 219, Elkins-Oakland Road. Autos driven by Dennis Lee George, 33, Frostburg; George Edward Garrett, 41, Mt. Lake Park, and Paul Franklin Deal, 34, were traveling north on the same highway.

According to police, the Judy vehicle collided head-on with the Blair auto.

The Beckman auto then struck the Judy vehicle in the rear, and the George vehicle hit the Blair auto in the rear.

The Beckman auto then struck the Judy vehicle in the rear. Before it was over, the Georg vehicle struck the Blair auto in the rear. The Garrett car then struck the Georg auto, forcing it into the side of the Judy auto.

The Deal vehicle then came upon the scene, striking the Georg auto, the Garrett vehicle, and the Blair car.

Because of inclement weather conditions, no charges were filed at the time.

Southern Rescue Squad responded to the call, transporting three to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

George Edward Garrett was admitted with broken ribs.

Oakland Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the scene.

day to initiate the second requirement to obtain funds set aside for the Gorman Water Project. The project was included in the 1979 Community Development Block Grant, and at that time approximately $96,640 was set aside for construction of the water system.

The money is still reserved for use on this project, however before it could be used, the commissioners were required to complete an Environmental Review Record to determine whether there will be an adverse long-term environment impact because of this project. The study was recently completed by the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., and its findings indicate no adverse effect on the environment.

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners yesterday sent a formal request to HUD for release of the funds set aside for Gorman Water, completing the second requirement. Ms. Richmond explained that the board will wait to hear from HUD before funds can be released for use on the project.

Oakland To Elect Four Officers

The Oakland Mayor and Town Council have announced that there will be an Oakland Municipal Election on Monday, March 9, to elect three council members and a treasurer. Polls will be open from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. that day. Currently, J. Haig Jackson has filed for council member; the last day to file for an office is Friday, February 27 at 4 p. m.

Others now serving are Mayor H. D. Swartzentruber and council members M. Paul DeWitt, George S. Stewart and Frances C. Riley.

Mason Bill Would Establish State Small Business Office

Senator Edward J. Mason (R-Allegany, Garrett) has co-sponsored legislation with Senator Clarence W. Blount (Baltimore City) which would, in effect, establish a Maryland Office of Small Business Development within the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development. This Office would be modeled after the present Small Business Institute at Frostburg State College.

The Maryland Office of Small Business Development would be responsible for fostering, supporting and assisting Maryland's small business community by coordinating the efforts of small business extension services throughout the State. In each major region of the State an Institution of Higher Education will be designated to serve as a small busiess extension service center. The Western Maryland Center would serve Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick and Carroll Counties.

Senator Mason pointed out that there are several reasons for the action being taken. Both the Joint Legislative Committee on Economic Development and the Office of Development Planning, under the Department of Economic and Community Development, have made the recommendation that the State implement a small business extension service based on the local Small Business Institute at Frostburg State College. Additionally, the present sources of funding for FSC's Small Business Institute will not be available after June 30, 1981 and this legislation would provide for the continuation of this service through State funds.

James F. DeCarlo, Jr., Director of the College's program, expressed his concern for the Program in a recent letter to the Allegany County Delegation. "Given that small businesses are the cornerstone of our economy, the funding we seek should be viewed by the State as an investment in the economic health of Western Maryland . . . In my opinion," states DeCarlo, "this is a budgetary commitment the State cannot afford to omit."

"The attitude of the Legislature and the Governor in recent years has reflected a general commitment to improving the business climate in Maryland and especially to strengthening the small business community," said Mason. "It is my judgment," the Senator added, "that the unlimited benefits that can be derived from a Statewide program of this nature have been more than adequately demonstrated by the obvious success of Frostburg State's Program.

Senate Bill 552 will receive a public hearing on Thursday, February 19, 1981, before the Senate Economic Affairs Committee.

Halftime score Garrett 45, Fayette 22

The first half of the contest was fairly close, with the Lakers holding a one-point edge, 40-39 at the half. In the third quarter, Garrett was on top by as many as eight, but the Hub City cagers battled back late in the game and were up by two with just seconds remaining. However, Laker Jerome Hampton connected on a jumper with only five ticks left on the clock to send the game into extra minutes.

Lacy and Thrailkill were the high-point producers for Hagerstown, with 16 and 11 points, respectively. Wendell Henry finished with ten.

Pacing all scorers was GCC's Miguel Rojas, who hit 11 goals for a total of 22 points. Bill Bender connected on three goals and seven of eight from the foul line for a total of 13 markers.

Garrett was outshot from the floor by one goal, 30-29, and connected on eight of 12 free throw attempts, compared to a 14-for-16 effort by Hagerstown.

Five GCC cagers reached double figures Friday evening as the Lakers gained revenge over visiting Essex CC. The Lakers were 73-57 victims of Essex earlier in the season.

Six minutes had expired in the contest before Essex managed to get some points on the board. The Lakers were up 16-0, and increased that lead to 42-17 by the end of the first half. The second half was virtually a repeat of the first, as the home team was never threatened.

Roger Cornwell led Garrett's scoring with 18 points, while Miguel Rojas had 16, Brian Black, 14, Mike Lonigro, 12 and Jerome Hampton, 11. The only member of the losing team to reach double figures was Al Coates, who hit 15.

Garrett more than doubled Essex' goals, 39-18, and the Lakers connected on 17 of 28 free throw attempts, compared to an 11-for-16 performance by the visitors.

Although the outcome was similar against the Frederick Cougars on Saturday, the home-standing Lakers had to work a little harder for the 93-67 win.

The play of the first half gave no indication of the impending rout, as the visitors gave all the Lakers they wanted. Although GCC jumped out to a 9-0 lead in the opening few minutes, Frederick came back and took the lead, 16-15, with 12:20 remaining in the half. It was a see-saw battle until intermission, when the Lakers were ahead to stay, 32-31.

Momentum remained on the home side throughout the second half, as the Lakers couldn't miss and the Cougars couldn't find the mark.

Miguel Rojas finished the contest with 25 points and ten rebounds, while H. A. Savage netted 21, grabbed ten rebounds and contributed five steals. Brian Black and Bill Bender provided 12 and 11 points, respectively.

The Cougars scoring was led by Lynn Ramage, who finished with 19 points. Bill Miskel hit 16, Jeff Baker chipped in with 12 and Charles Harper added ten.

The contest was bogged down with a total of 57 trips to the foul line by both teams. Frederick connected on 23 of 33 attempts, while Garrett hit 21 of 33. The Lakers held a wide margin from the field, hitting 36 goals, compared with 22 by the Cougars.

The Lakers had one of their best games of the season against the Fayette Campus of Penn State in Uniontown Monday evening, as they breezed to their 12th win of the campaign.

Garrett committed only 15 turnovers, a season low, and were never threatened throughout the contest. The Lakers raced to a 16-2 lead early in the game and held a 45-22 margin at the half.

Miguel Rojas, as he has numerous times this eason, led the Lakers' scoring, finishing with 22 points on ten fielders and two of five from the line. Roger Cornwell netted 17 points and Mike Lonigro hit 15.

Dennis Martinak and Bill Borda paced Fayette's offensive effort with 12 and ten points, respectively.

Dave Hershman contributed four assists to the Laker effort, while Cornwell had three steals.

Garrett connected 40 times from the field, compared to 20 by the home team, and converted nine of 19 free throws, compared to a four-for-3 effort by Fayette.

The Lakers will round out their regular season play this week, as they travel to Dundalk this evening and host Baltimore this Saturday.

Southern Matmen Fall To Campers

Hopes by the Southern High wrestling team to emerge from the ranks of the winless were once again dashed Monday evening as the Rams were defeated by the Allegany Campers in Cumberland, 39-30.

Southern Rams Topped By Revengeful BW Spartans

The Southern Rams saw their three-game winning streak snapped Friday evening as the Bishop Walsh Spartans recorded a 62-46 revenge victory over the Rams on the Spartans' floor. Southern had defeated BW, 59-51 earlier this season.

The loss dropped the Rams' record to 13-4, while the Spartans improved their ledger to 16-6.

The first quarter was a see-saw battle, as the lead changed, hands several times and the Spartans held a one-point edge going into the second quarter. Scoring remained close until BW managed to hit two unanswered goals within the last minute of the half and assume a 23-17 margin when the buzzer sounded.

The Spartans began to pull away in the third quarter and outscore the Rams 18-8, putting them ahead 41-25 as the final eight minutes began.

Dave Harsh led the Rams' scoring thrust, finishing with 12 points, while teammates Ron Bosley and Jeff Ryscavage each netted ten.

Ricardo Hunter and Dorcie Thomas paced BW's offensive effort, hitting 21 and 18 points, respectively. Dave Turnbull contributed 12.

Both teams hit 14 free throws in the evening, the Rams in 22 attempts and the Spartans in 20. However, BW held a 24-16 advantage from the floor.

Southern will endeavor to return to the winning ranks this evening when they travel to Morgantown to face Morgantown High in an 8 p. m. contest.

Huskies Top Flintstone, 60-54, For Ninth Win

After a close first half, the Northern Huskies pulled away from the Flinstone Aggies in the third quarter and handed the home team a 60-54 loss Friday night. The win was the ninth for the Huskies against seven losses and was sweet revenge, as the Aggies had nipped Northern, 56-55, earlier in the season.

Brad Yoder paved the way for the Huskies as he hit ten goals and five of six from the line for a total of 25 points. Weldon Yoder provided 15 points on five fielders and five of six free tosses and Dick Bender chipped in 11.

The Huskies were held in check during the first half, as they held two-point margins at the ends of the first and second periods, 15-13 and 29-27. However, the third quarter saw the Huskies pull away and head into the final stanza with a 47-38 advantage. Flintstone was held at arm's length throughout the remainder of the contest.

Greg Rinker was the top point-producer for the Aggies, as he hit nine field goals and four of six free throws for 22 points. Brad Heavener tossed in 13 points.

The Huskies finished with a one-bucket edge from the field, 23-22, and converted 14 of 24 free throw attempts, compared to a ten-for-15 effort by Flintstone.

Coach Harv Speicher's Huskies will host Bruceton Mills this evening.

Teachers Explain Vocational Education Courses Offered In County High Schools

February 8-14 has been designated as National Vocational Education Week. In recognition of the week, the vocational education teachers at Northern and Southern High Schools have prepared the following articles and photos of the various programs offered to students.

Brian Frazee uses the vo-ag Ford tractor to clear snow from the FFA fiberglass greenhouse at Northern High. The tractor was purchased from Arnold Brothers in Mountain Lake Park some 13 years ago at a cost of $2,200. The Ford Tractor Division and Arnold Brothers Equipment have replaced it each year at no cost to the school system, giving the Northern Vo-Ag Department a 1980 model at a net cost of the purchase price. A full line of Ford tillage and hay equipment is available for student use on 54 acres provided temporarily by the county commissioners.

The fiberglass greenhouse was purchased and paid for by the Northern FFA Chapters on a loan from First National Bank. The structure provides 2,000 square feet of instructional space as well as producing 7,000 doz. vegetable and flower plants for sale to people in the community during planting season.

Agriculture

by Janet Boggess

National Vocation Education week during February 8-14 is to acquaint the communities around the country of the importance of vocational education. In Garrett County vocational education in agriculture is very important. We are preparing the future agriculture leaders in the communities of Garrett County and the state of Maryland.

One of the keys to success of any vocational program is students practicing what they learn in classes. In vocational agriculture, the students work with Supervised Occupational Experience Programs. SOEP's can include animal and crop projects carried out on the student's home farm, working for a neighboring farmer or working in an agricultural related business for pay and experience.

Students at Southern High School in Vo-Ag can demonstrate what they have accomplished with their projects through the Garrett Co. Fair. Each year Vo-Ag students exhibit beef, sheep, swine, dairy cattle, chickens and crops at the fair through the FFA. The Future Farmers of America (FFA) is an integral part of the vocational agriculture curriculum. It provides an outlet for students to practice what they have been learning in class.

Many of the FFA activities that the students participate in help them in developing citizenship, leadership and scholarship skills. Activities students have participated in so far this year include FFA State Leadership Conference at Summit Lake, Md.; Maryland State Dairy Conference for Youth at Chevy Chase, Md.; and the Pennsylvania Farm Show at Harrisburg, Pa. At each of these activities students were developing agricultural-related skills to further their education beyond what they obtain in the classroom setting.

Activities being planned for the spring include students attending the FFA Annapolis Citizenship Conference, where they will learn about state government and how the legislative process affects farmers. There are plans to represent the FFA chapter at the FFA State Judging Contests, where students practice their judging skills on things like beef cattle, dairy cattle, vegetables, meats and floriculture crops. A chapter banquet is being planned for May to recognize outstanding FFA members throughout the year. One of the major types of recognition is outstanding SOEP's by students. Representatives of the chapter will also be attending the State FFA Convention in June at the Baltimore Campus of the University of Maryland.

Vocational Education is "Learning by Doing". We as teachers and students of Vocational Agriculture hope the community will continue to show support for vocational programs at Southern High School and Garrett County. Vocational programs are a golden opportunity for students to learn job skills for gainful employment when they graduate from high school.

The Future Farmers of America Club is an integral part of vocational agriculture instruction in providing experience in leadership, community service, group activities and opportunities for individual excellence in performance. Mark Harman and Richard Bender of the Junior North Garrett Chapter are attending a state leadership conference during Vocational Education Week in Annapolis. The two-day workshop is sponsored by the Maryland Farm Bureau and Maryland Division of Vocational Education in an effort to provide first hand information to prospective rural leaders in the operation of state government.

Northern is the first, and at present only, school to provide a Junior Chapter for freshmen, the regular chapter for upper classmen and recent graduates and an alumni chapter for interested adults.

All of the 69 boys and 51 girls enrolled in vo-ag at Northern belong to the FFA with an additional 31 recent graduates making a total membership of 151. The Charter Alumni Membership lists 24 adults as original members of the Northern FFA Alumni Association.

Home Economics

by Mary Ann Shipe

The Home Economics program for senior high students in Garrett County is divided into specific areas. Students in all grades may take any course they wish provided they meet any prerequisite requirements and are using the course as an elective in their studies. Co-Ed Home Economics begins in the Middle Schools and continues on through the senior year with the material organized in a sequential manner. Ninth graders are offered a full year course which covers the areas of sewing with emphasis on finishing details, proper fittings of patterns, closures, facings, and care of wardrobe; personal grooming for both boys and girls; foods and nutrition which stresses proper nutrients planned in one's diet, simple meal preparation, and shopping skills. Hand stitching skills are taught along with embroidery, crochet, and needlepoint.

Beginning in the 10th grade, students may select any of the following courses which offer a more detailed study of the areas covered in 9th grade. They are all semester courses and offer ½ credit towards graduation. Intermediate sewing is offered in the fall semester at Southern High School where 20 new Singer sewing machines provide students with an opportunity to sew and care for modern machines. This course helps students evaluate wardrobe needs so they become more aware consumers. Textiles are studied and criteria for pattern selections is reviewed. Students are given demonstrations on all types of sewing techniques ranging from hemming to setting in sleeves, each of which they practice. They then use these learned skills to construct a garment or project.

Once students have taken Beginning sewing they may take Advanced Clothing in the junior or senior year. In this course the evolution of apparel is studied along with current fashion trends and styles. Clothing selection is discussed in terms of color, appeal, and effects. Students learn various ways to alter patterns to assure better fitting garments. The students spend most of the semester making garments of their own choice being encouraged to try those which present a new challenge or technique.

In the spring semester the foods units are offered at Southern High School. Intermediate Foods is thorough study of various cooking techniques ranging from broiling to baking to roasting. Students learn the importance of safety and sanitation in working with foods along with table etiquette and table setting. Nutrition is covered in depth culminating with students keeping a weekly food chart and analyzing it for the proper amounts of nutrients received. The four food groups are studied and dishes are prepared from each with most emphasis on the meats group.

Advanced foods is offered to students in their junior and senior year with the Intermediate Foods as a prerequisite. In this course metrics and conversions in food preparation are studied along with a thorough study of food shopping. Techniques in microwave cooking are taught and the students are provided an opportunity to be creative in specialty cooking. With this students prepare a variety of foods ranging from eclairs to Italian Ices. Food customs and recipes from the four regions of the United States are taught along with foods from foreign countries.

Home Economics V is offered for seniors only and is a full year. The course is taught with the approach of this being the first step in each student's "life after graduation". Relationships with peers and self-concept open the year helping students to establish a good rapport with classmates. Foods and Nutrition are covered with an analysis of how to evaluate kitchen equipment for purchase, what to look for when purchasing major appliances, how to plan nutritionally sound meals, comparing convenience foods, cooking on a budget, cooking for two or more people, slow cooking, and festive cooking. Clothing is studied in relation to minor repairs and alterations. At this point each student practices sewing on his/her level. Crafts are presented providing each student with the opportunity to learn 15 or 20 new skills. Criteria for selecting various types of housing are studied along, with mortgage loans, apartment leases, furnishings, and maintenance of one's own dwelling.

Parenting is covered in the spring of the year. Students learn to evaluate their decisions concerning childbirth including economic factors, emotional stability, and family life style. Prenatal care is discussed with an emphasis on proper nutrition. Post-natal care of infants is studied until the age of five years. The course ends with the students offering a play school for children 3-5 years of age.

Robert Filsinger of Southern learns what working with wood is all about.

Trowel Trades

by Harold Humberson

The trowel trades program in Garrett County is presently in its third year. Instruction is set up on a half-day basis in each of the county's two high schools.

Both schools are equipped with modern mortar mixes, masonry saws, and steel scaffolding. Materials on hand include a variety of bricks, concrete blocks, local cut stone, and sawed "Briar Hill" stone from Ohio. This variety in equipment and materials provides the students with a comprehensive experience in practice which closely resembles working conditions on the actual job site.

Students are also required to learn layout procedures and how to estimate materials and labor requirements for various projects.

Don Gillum and Kenneth Butler, Northern students, display their project in trowel trades.

Co-Op Education

by Ron Kuhn

Eighty-three seniors from Northern and Southern High School are employed in 55 different training stations in the Diversified Cooperative Education Program.

The program gives the students an opportunity to "test" the work world and to provide the reality confrontation that gives relevance to all education and to expand their education beyond the school building. The business community becomes a learning laboratory. Professional and business men and women, craftsmen, and expert tradesman serve as instructors.

The student's on-the-job training experiences are complemented by classroom instruction directed toward the development of proper work attitudes, personal improvement, communication, human relations, personal finance, and continuing research pertaining to each student's career interest and on-the-job training.

Building Trades

by Carroll Forsyth

There is a total of 33 students taking Building Trades at Northern High School. It is offered to both girls and boys.

The Building Trades Shop is equipped with a planer, radial arm saw, shaper, disc & belt sander, two scroll saws, four lathes, grinder, two drill presses, band saw, table saw and a jointer.

The Shop is well equipped with hand tools and portable power tools.

Drafting

by Carroll Forsyth

There is a total of 39 students taking drafting at Northern High School. Twenty-eight students are in their first year of drafting, and 11 are in their second year. Drafting is offered to both girls and boys.

A new blue-print machine, a Teledyne Rotolite, Triton 1, has recently been purchased by the Garrett County Board of Education for the Drafting Department.

Drafting

by William Freyman

The Drafting Program is an ongoing four-year program designed for the student who wants to pursue a career in the drafting field.

Ninth grade Elementary Drafting is an overview of Drafting I. The ninth grader learns the use of a pencil and scale and the different tools through line techniques involving, sketching, orthographic projection, isometrics, obliques and house plans.

Students also enter the program in Drafting I, which includes all the areas in Elementary Drafting plus geometric construction and auxiliaries. Here the student also spends one full semester in architectural drawing.

Drafting II reviews the topics in Drafting I and includes sectionals and threads and fasteners. The architectural portion of the Drafting II program is the start of a complete set of house plans.

In Drafting III the student completes the house plans and is involved in building a house model as a group project with several other students. All the topics are reviewed, and space projections and pattern drafting are added.

For the advanced student in the ninth grade there is the possibility of being advanced to Drafting I. This means that if the program is followed, by the time the student is a senior, he takes Drafting IV. This includes part drawings and a self-study program that can include: Model Building, architectural drawing, cams, gears, assembly drawing and inking.

Auto Mechanics

by Everett Warne

Looking at an update in the auto mechanics program at Northern High School, we are continuing to improve this program in many ways. This program services about 50 students per day with both class and shop sessions daily.

Some of the equipment recently acquired are Snap-On engine analyzer and scope and exhaust gas analyzer. We also have Snap-On front end alignment equipment with drive-on ramp and an up-to-date wheel balance in our shop. In our brake department, we have both a drum and disc lathe. We also have improved our small engine program.

Electronics

by Harold Trickett

The Electricity/Electronics program at Northern High School encompasses a wide latitude. In recent years the program has been extended into residential wiring which includes electrical, gas, and oil furnace repair. Also, air conditioning and heat pump electrical circuit repairs and trouble-shooting techniques are being taught.

Most recently, because of the increased usage of micro-integrated circuit packaging, the program has expanded its programs to include the most modern trainers available for use by the students. These trainers provide programmed courses in digital integrated circuit technological advancement. Micro-processor trainers takes the student through the complicated area of the processor as it is used in computers, controllers, and other areas of uses for this electronic miracle. After following the step-by-step program, the student then becomes familiar with the digital computer which is part of the modern three-year program now being offered by the Electronics Department at Northern High School.

Home Economics

by Laura Turner

In the Home Economics program our students are given the general knowledge of food nutrients, food preparation, planning meals, table settings and manners thus giving them a good background for the Intermediate and Advanced Foods classes. These classes go into more advanced meat cooking, special diet planning and marketing.

The basic skills in clothing construction and buying ready-made clothing are learned in the ninth grade so students are ready for the Intermediate and Advanced clothing classes. More difficult patterns and different materials are used in these classes.

A Family Living course is offered to the seniors.

The production of projects with hands-on experience has always been the heart of the Vocational Agriculture Program. The Northern Greenhouse provides a facility for those who do not have a method of having a home project. This course in Plant Science and Plant Production was established several years ago and is offered to 11th and 12th grade students desiring an elective in beginning agriculture. During a school term students produce several thousand pot and pack plants with each person assigned an equal part of each project. The school system furnishes fuel, electricity and water with students charged with a responsibility of producing sufficient crops to cover all other costs. The Easter Lilies, Mums, and baskets will be sold to churches and Northern students in season.

Business Ed.

by Mary Schurman and Donetta Nice

The business education program offers secretarial and general business training to 243 students in grades nine through 12.

The typing II students have recently completed typing a 127-page literary magazine for the NORDIQUE club. These students use IBM electric typewriters.

The shorthand classes and secretarial office practice are planning a trip to Pittsburgh on April 25 during National Secretarial Week. They plan to tour the Pittsburgh National Bank, the Federal Reserve Bank, and stop at Century III Mall. In addition, we are planning to obtain a speaker each month for the remainder of the year to speak on secretarial careers.

The general business program has been studying various aspects of the business world. They are looking forward to touring some different kinds of businesses in Garrett County.

Kevin Bender and Nancy Lewis "dump" the welding smoke from one of the electrostatic precipitators installed in the Northern Vo-Ag Shop this year. The three machines "eat welding smoke" created by the six arc welders during class. This equipment will meet all OSHA and MOSHA standards and create a safer and healthier learning environment for vo-ag students as well as their neighbors in the Industrial Arts and Masonry Shops.

Northern auto mechanics instructor Everett Warne assists two students.

Business Ed.

by Alice Eary, Corilee Wilhelm, Suzy Helbig and DeNeal Dean

This has been another extremely busy year in the Business Education Department. "Business as usual" does not and cannot accurately characterize business programs today as so many changes are taking place in the business world. There must be and is a continual effort to update instructional materials and techniques or methods of instruction almost on a day-to-day basis.

During the past few months curriculum materials were once again revised and updated. A few days ago two new items of equipment were received—an electronic calculator and a new mimeograph machine.

Students work with an electric heat service trainer in electricity class at Northern.

Looking DOWN at the MOUTH, lately?

There is a very sound reason for this fellow to look down at the mouth. He's a hippopotamus — and that's exactly how a hippo is supposed to look.

But what accounts for people looking down-at-the-mouth . . . sometimes?

It's usually because they aren't satisfied with being what they are. They wish life could have given them a different break. If only circumstances hadn't conspired . . .

That's no reason at all for looking hippo-like. Man has resources that can overcome his discontent. He has spiritual potential that can alter his life, make him a different person, conquer every conspiracy of circumstance.

Now is an ideal time to start looking up-from-the-heart. At church you'll experience a different approach to life. The cheerfulness that can brighten life flourishes on faith.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

IN THE REAL WORLD

February 15, 1981

Background Scripture: Matthew 16 through 17.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 58: 5-12.

We've never really known what to do with some of Jesus' teachings. They are easy for us to recite, but many of them just don't fit into what you and I think of as "the real world." For some people, these conflicts are troubling. Others explain them away, suggesting that they were not meant to be applied in this life. Others of us avoid the problem by never thinking about it.

A case in point is Jesus' concept of success. The conflict is a very sharp disagreement as to what constitutes success and failure. After Peter confessed him as the Christ of Caesarea Philippi, Matthew tells us: "From that time Jesus began to show his disciples that he must go to Jerusalem and suffer many things from the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and on the third day be raised" (Matthew 16:21). Peter responded the way most of us would have: "Peter began to rebuke him, saying 'God forbid, Lord! This shall never happen to you'" (16:22).

Saving and Losing

Who would quarrel with Simon Peter? After all, he was telling it like it really is. What Jesus was describing was nothing less than a losing game-plan. Think what it would do to the Master's image: everyone would mark him as a "loser," and you can't achieve anything in this world that is worthwhile unless you're a "winner." We may not always know what "winning" is, but suffering at the hands of one's enemies and being killed by them is definitely not "winning." Not in the real world anyway.

And so, Christianity has often chosen the world's standards of "winning" and "losing" because it has had to live in the real world, instead of the world of "pie-in-the-sky-sometime!" For example, a "successful" man in our congregation is the one who has achieved a certain degree of material and/or professional position. The "unsuccessful" person is one who may never get anywhere economically or socially. "Success" in the ministry is to become a bishop or serve a very large and influential church. The "unsuccessful" pastor is a clergyperson who has spent his or her whole life with small, rural churches.

Real And Unreal

Yet, this is so different from Jesus' own statement of values: "For whoever would save his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life for my sake will find it" (16:25). What Jesus is saying to us is that in the real world, the world where values are determined by God instead of his creatures, what appears to be "winning" may actually be "losing," and what smells of defeat may, in fact, be victory. The apparent "loser" may be the real "winner" as God judges.

The fact is, that which we think of as the real world may be only a distorted reflection and our ideas of "success" and "failure" may be equally out of focus. And the key to real "success" may be nothing less than the largely untried concept of our Lord: "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me."

Mercury

On Tuesday, this planet will be in the same direction from the Earth as the Sun. It will be between the Earth and the Sun. This position is called an inferior conjunction. Mercury takes 88 days to make one revolution of the Sun. From Mercury, the Sun will appear, on the average, seven times larger in area than it does in our sky. The planet, Mercury, is only slightly larger than our Moon. Its surface is similar in appearance to that of the Moon.

Moon

Next Wednesday, the Moon will pass through its Full Moon phase at 5:58 p.m. Moonset was at 29 minutes past midnight this morning. Next Tuesday moonset will be at 6:21 a.m. At Full Moon, the Moon is in the opposite direction from the Sun when observed from Earth.

Visible Planets

Jupiter and Saturn will be the visible planets during the week. They will rise about 3 hours after sunset, with the stars of Virgo.

Daylight Increases

By next Tuesday, there will be 14 minutes more daylight than there will be today. Sunrise was at 7:15 this morning. Sunset will be 10 hours 34 minutes later at 5:49 p.m. Next Tuesday the Sun will rise at 7:08 a.m. and it will set at 5:56 p.m.

Today is the 42nd day of 1981. The path of the Sun today will be the same as it was last October 29th.

GCC Homemaker Career Program Expands Services

Arrangements have been made with Ruth Enlow libraries in Kitzmiller, Accident, Grantsville and Friendsville, for the Homemaker Career Opportunities Program of Garrett Community College to expand its services to outlying areas of the county. A representative from the program will spend one afternoon a month at each of these locations to contact persons who might be interested in learning about the program.

The Homemakers Career Opportunities Program offers counseling, referral services, career development, testing, skills developments, volunteer work, career workshops, and resume writing for individuals who may want to participate in the program. This may include homemakers entering the job market because of dissolution of marriage, single heads-of-households with inadequate job skills, homemakers working part-time who want to work full-time, and those who want to expand their job skills into non-traditional careers.

Barbara Frey, director of the program, will be at the Kitzmiller library the first Monday of each month from 12:30 to 2:30 p. m.; at the Accident library the second Monday of each month from 12:30 to 2:30 p. m.; at the Grantsville library on the third Monday of each month from 12:30 to 2:30 p. m.; and at the Friendsville library on the fourth Monday of each month from 1:30 to 3 p. m. Interested persons should call 334-9184 to schedule an appointment at their branch library or visit the library at the above scheduled times.

National Crime Prevention Week Now Underway

The Governor's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice and the Maryland Crime Watch Program are encouraging Maryland citizens to observe February 8-14 as National Crime Prevention Week.

The purpose of this State-wide observance is to increase citizen awareness of crime prevention programs and activities currently operating in Maryland and to emphasize that citizens must become directly involved with their local law enforcement agencies in implementing crime prevention measures if crime is to be reduced.

Maryland Crime Watch is the State-wide crime prevention program designed to inform citizens about methods they can utilize to prevent themselves from being victimized by crime. The program has several components, including training, printed materials, technical assistance, mass media activities, and community group involvement.

Thus far, several crime prevention areas have been targeted, including burglary prevention, personal security, crime prevention for older persons, commercial security, shoplifting and employee theft prevention, and rural crime.

According to Richard W. Friedman, Executive Director of the Governor's Commission, "It is important that citizen awareness of, and participation in, community crime prevention activities should occur not only during National Crime Prevention Week, but throughout the remainder of the year as well."

All activities for the Maryland Crime Watch Program are coordinated by a steering committee composed of representatives of the major law enforcement agencies in the State. The program is sponsored by the Governor's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice and the Maryland Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services.

For further crime prevention information, persons should contact their police or sheriff of the Maryland Crime Watch Program at 321-3636.

Samuel E. Wright: majoring in life

Samuel E. Wright attended college for nearly eight years, but by design never obtained a degree. The easy-going actor, who co-stars with Sonny Shroyer on the CBS comedy series "Enos," sees life as a classroom, with liberal arts an on-going major.

"I never intended to pin myself down to a given subject," says Wright, who at various times had four majors while attending South Carolina State College in Orangeburg and C.W. Post College in New York City. At different times, he opted for physical education, English, speech pathology and theater.

It's difficult to imagine that the lithe, 175-pound, 6-foot-2 perennial student was also once a bruising 197-pound halfback who excelled in basketball and on the track. A fleet-footed dash man who ran the 100 yards in 9.6 seconds-long jumped over 24 feet and did 440 yards in about 46 seconds, he was a coach's dream running with the football.

"In those days, I was what you might call a big dumb jock," says Wright. "It was easy to be a big man in athletics and to skip the more meaningful aspects of life. However, I had a high school English teacher who always told me that my real future was in singing and not in athletics."

Samuel E. Wright

His teacher's words proved prophetic when, in 1969, Wright made his Broadway debut in the musical "Jesus Christ Superstar." Subsequent starring roles in "Two Gentlemen of Verona" and "Pippin" confirmed Mrs. F.C. Hull's foresight.

"She was always interested," recalls Wright. "She used to visit our home on Sunday afternoons when I was 8 and listen to me preach regular sermons and sing my own gospel hymns for the family. Then, when I got to high school, she encouraged me to try out for the school musicals. She obviously saw something in me that I didn't discover for several years."

Friends of the actor call him a true Renaissance man, one who soaks up knowledge like a sponge. If you start a quotation from Shakespeare, he can probably finish it; they say, he'll recite poetry in classical Greek, or devastate you with his re-creations of Marx Brothers routines.

But it's still music that lies at the core of Wright's genius. He's self taught on the guitar, which he took up as a boy. "In those days I just tuned all the strings to an open A and strummed," he said. "However, in 1978, I determined to really play the instrument. I bought two books and set a goal for myself to play like Andres Segovia after a year or throw the guitar at the wall. Naturally, I fell somewhat short of my goal. But after a year and a half I was in John Denver's range. And that's not too bad."

Wright is also an impulsive composer, jotting down notes on the nearest scrap of paper when hit by inspiration. "I'm forever getting ideas and putting them down on paper towels," he says.

Wright's manager, March Pressel, who was also his musical conductor for "Jesus Christ Superstar," produced his first record in 1971 and has big plans for the future.

Wright, also a trained dancer, fills his spare time with sketching and painting and doing a variety of arts and crafts. He also likes to climb mountains and go camping.

CINDY SAYS

Ernest Borgnine O.K. Bess Myerson resting

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — Ernest Borgnine's now A-OK after taking a tumble and banging a few bones while filming a rootin', tootin', shootin' cowboy scene. "They put copper wire instead of a steel rod between the horses and the carriage and it snapped," his wife Tove told me. "I visited pal Bess Myerson in the hospital and asked what she was doing there. 'I'm pulling splinters out of my Jewish seat,' replied Bess, adding, 'We have capital punishment in 50 states and it's called a primary.'

Nipsey Russell's up for a TV series. Joey Heatherton's up for a movie. Hermione Gingold's down with a flu.

Cheryl Ladd's around town with the guy she's supposed to marry. Brian Russell. Ann Baxter's around town with David Brooks of "Can Can." Ed Asner's diet trick is to hit a deli at lunch, order a sandwich on very thin bread, then eat only half. The rest he takes along for dinner. Forget about the calories. This way he saves money, too. — Mary Tyler Moore, who has left the Big Orange for the Big Apple, told me, "I feel very comfortable with the city." And she's here in New York to stay.

Britt Ekland left off vacationing in our town just to fly home for her daughter's birthday.

A Steve Martin burp: "If I weren't funny all the time I wouldn't have any friends."

A pair of top hotshot comedians preferred to hide and cower in their homes inauguration night rather than go to parties or satellite balls they didn't want people to know Sinatra hadn't invited them to Washington. This way they told friends, "We were working that night."

For the New York inaugural ball at the Waldorf Astoria's Grand Ballroom, Cardinal Cooke made a prayer for peace. Donald O'Connor and his conductor dashed over from rehearsals for "Bring Back Birdie." Anna Motto flew in from Europe to do "The Star Spangled Banner," and Sammy Cahn shuttled in from the Washington inaugural to repeat his "Thumbs Up America" song. Julie Budd sang "I Love New York" to Mayor Koch. Eartha Kitt came in from California to stay with her daughter, Kitt, a New Yorker, and do a few numbers that knocked the audience cold, and Orson Bean, the town's newest resident, found his tuxedo among his packing crates and did a smash 10 minutes for the 1,500 black-tie guests. Charles Strouse, who wrote "Tomorrow," and Allison Smith, the newest "Annie," did the song for the finale. Emcee Joey Adams introduced such celebs as Reggie Jackson, Walt Frazier, Dick Cavett, Joan Fontaine, Rex Reed, Geoffrey Holder, David Merrick, Virginia Graham, Polly Bergen, Earl Wilson, Ex-Mayors Beame and Lindsay, etc., etc.

From Flip Wilson: "People say I live in the past. Maybe so, but that's because it's cheaper!" — From Loretta Swit: "I love kids — as long as they're somebody else's."

IN FOCUS

Kate Jackson on solid ground with 'Thin Ice'

By JAY BOBBIN

One of Charlie's former "Angels" in love with a high school student?

Only on TV. Actually, Kate Jackson is out to prove that her acting ability encompasses much more than the popular detective series allowed her to show. Her most determined attempt to do just that is "Thin Ice," a made-for-TV drama to be presented by CBS.

"All the way through it's a relationship piece," Jackson explains. "It's about a high school teacher who's been widowed. She lives with her grandmother. Then, she and one of her senior students (played by Gerard Prendergast) fall in love.

"It's based on the true story of a couple who live, I think, somewhere in upstate New York. They've now been married for five or six years. He's out of college and they're very happy. Some of the incidents which are in the film are, of course, made up, but some are things that really happened to them — like the harassment that the teacher went through.

"It's a lovely love story; I'm so proud of it."

Kate Jackson received a big bonus by appearing in "Thin Ice" — the opportunity to work with screen legend Lillian Gish, who portrays the grandmother in the story. Miss Jackson made sure she was fully informed about her costar before beginning work on the film.

"I read up on the movies that D.W. Griffith made and Lillian and Dorothy (her sister) — everything that I could read about her so that I could talk to her intelligently and really get the benefit of all the stories that she had and all the things that she could tell me. She has got the most energy and the best sense of humor.

"It was almost 10 years to the day that she spoke to my class at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, and here we were working together, it was just magic." Jackson now rates Miss Gish right up there with her longtime idol, Katharine Hepburn.

The popular actress also holds nothing back in expressing her enthusiasm about the entire project and the other people involved. "It was such an incredible experience doing it," she exclaims. "It was such a magical time, when you do television, sometimes the days are so long. Physically, it's so exhausting and emotionally, it's difficult. You're away from home and you think, 'It's OK. In three months when I see it on television, it'll get good (Nielsen) numbers and it'll all be worth it.'

"With 'Thin Ice,' every day was just a joy. You lived each day just for that moment, and the work was wonderful." Jackson is also quick to praise the film's director, Paul Aaron ("A Different Story," and last year's TV remake of "The Miracle Worker").

"The Screen Actors' Guild strike put a ten-week dent in the filming of 'Thin Ice,' but it posed no serious problems for its stars, according to Jackson. In fact, the producers rehired as many of the original crew members as they could after the strike, to maintain what the actress calls "that good family feeling" which charged the set. Still, Jackson admits that "We were afraid that it would be hard to pick (the performances) up. Then, we realized that really the only thing that could mess us up would be if we got too afraid because we were afraid.

"It turned out beautifully, and I'm absolutely positive that you won't be able to tell what was shot before the strike and what was shot two and a half months later. I walked out a door in June and came in on the other side of the door in October, and you can't even tell."

After many months away from TV, Kate Jackson is really coming out during the month of February — in fact, she's in two network movies with air dates within four days of each other, because she had also costarred with Perry King for last week's ABC drama "Inmates." As she tells it:

"What happened was that ABC and CBS had a little battle to see which one was going to get which show on first. It's really flattering, they (CBS) weren't going to put 'Thin Ice' on 'til May, then they heard that ABC was going to rush 'Inmates' up and get it ready for February."

"Thin Ice" clearly means more to Jackson, since she feels it provides her most challenging and satisfying dramatic part to date.

"It's the first work that I have truly, honestly been proud of — THIS proud of, really, in my life. It's just good work.

Given these feelings, it's not hard to predict that Kate Jackson will most certainly be seen in other roles in the near future — and ones she can say she's as proud of as "Thin Ice."

"THIN ICE" STARS Kate Jackson and Gerard Prendergast in CBS's unusual drama about a high school teacher who falls in love with one of her students. Lillian Gish is the special guest star in the movie, which shows the community furor that erupts over the lovers. Based on a true story, "Thin Ice" airs on Tuesday, Feb. 17.

THURSDAY

Madeline Stowe (l. to r.), Brian Benben, Chad Redding, Michael Nouri, Markie Post and Joe Penny star in "The Gangster Chronicles," NBC's tact-based series about the history of organized crime, premiering Thursday, Feb. 12.

All times reserve the right to make last minute changes.

TV TATTLE

Cronkite's new honor

Even at the brink of retirement, Walter Cronkite gets in the news.

The most widely recognized newscaster in the country was at the White House last month for a ceremony that honored him, and 14 others. He was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom by President Carter.

The award is the nation's highest civilian honor. It recognizes Americans who have contributed to the world in some way, to U.S. security or national interest, to world peace, to cultural or other significant public or private endeavors.

Cronkite's citation: "He has made the news of the world stand out for all of us."

Sally Struthers on comedy

Sally Struthers won two Emmy awards for comedy on her eight seasons with "All in the Family," but since then she has devoted herself to drama.

Last week's "A Gun in the House" on CBS was the latest of seven dramatic movies for TV that she has done, and Struthers has much to say about the two acting forms.

"If someone made me decide on one for the rest of my life, I'd say comedy, simply because I get great joy out of making people laugh. I think I get to use more of my ability as a performer with comedy."

Even though producers praise her dramatic abilities in films, they keep her in comedy when it comes to a weekly TV series. But she doesn't mind.

"It's OK, because with a comedy series, I can get away, during hiatus, to do a film, or whatever; and, I have a home life. With a one-hour dramatic series, I'd never get to see my 18-month-old daughter grow up."

And, she says, "I don't want to miss that."

Cicely Tyson in new film

Emmy-award winner Cicely Tyson will star next season in "Welcome to Success: The Marva Collins Story," a Hallmark Hall of Fame presentation on CBS.

The movie tells the true story of a black teacher in Chicago who becomes disillusioned with the traditional school system there, and creates her own instead.

Morgan Freeman plays Miss Tyson's husband, Clarence, who helps her struggle to create her new school in the inner city. Also starring are 14 children who play the new students of Miss Tyson's.

Pay TV from PBS in 1983

Preparations for a new pay television network are in the works at the Public Broadcasting Service.

The new service, called the Public Subscriber Network, is projected to begin in 1983 and would be based on a partnership between public television stations and the nation's major cultural institutions.

At night, the new network will offer a single major performing arts or cultural feature presentation with surrounding short subjects.

During the day, the network would provide secondary school, higher education and adult courses, master classes, skills classes, professional enrichment courses and management courses.

While the evening programming would be supported by family subscribers primarily, the daytime programming would be supported by institutional subscribers — school districts, colleges, universities, corporations, etc. But families would also have access to these services.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

HOLY CHICAGO — Did Morey Amsterdam or Burgess Meredith play the Penguin on the old "Batman" series? — Cathy Lyon, Chicago.

Burgess Meredith played the Penguin, one of "Batman's" dastardly villains, but Morey was not among the impressive actors who played villains on the show because it was then the "in" thing to do. Among them: Maurice Evans, Cliff Robertson, Glynnis Johns, Tallulah Bankhead, Ida Lupino and Howard Duff, Joan Crawford, Shelley Winters, Ethel Merman, Vincent Price, Anne Baxter, Michael Rennie, Liberace, Van Johnson and Art Carney.

BOBBY'S FAN — Is it possible to get Bobby Vinton's address? It is high time he had a show of his own without meddlers telling him what to do. He was super in Chicago. — E.R.N., Chicago.

I'm sure Bobby would agree with you that he should have a show of his own. He's a talented and very likable performer. But a show without meddlers? That's asking a lot. Write Bobby at P.O. Box 767, Pacific Palisades, CA 90272.

DISPUTE WITH DAD — My father and I are having an argument. He says that Penny Marshall and Garry Marshall are brother and sister. I say they are father and daughter. Which of us is right? — Dean Coletta, Northeast, Pa.

Listen to Dad. Penny and Garry are brother and sister. Their father, Tony Marshall, is producer of the series created by Garry.

PETER AND MARY — What has happened to Peter Lind Hayes and his wife, Mary Healy? Are they still living? — Verna Dzirk, Oxnard, Calif.

They are indeed still living, and still happily married. They act from time to time. Not too long ago, Mary Healy played Amanda in a Las Vegas production of "The Glass Menagerie," with her daughter Cathy Lind Hayes playing Amanda's daughter, Laura. Keep watching for Cathy's name on the TV screen. She is a bright and witty young actress.

THAT'S THE WAY IT IS ON TV — I'm a big "Vega$" fan, but I'm disgusted about something. Many times Dan gets a beautiful girlfriend. Everything is going all right with them, and then she gets killed or something. I want to complain to the writers of the show. How? — E.L.K., Chicago.

Your best bet is to write the producer, Aaron Spelling, at 20th Century Fox Television, 10100 Pico Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90213. But I'll tell you a fact of TV life. The public reacts more to a hero like Dan, an adventurer, when he does not have a wife. The same was always true of those wandering Westerners in the horse operas of early TV. It was fatal for a woman to get involved with them; they had to be kept free of entanglements, so she would often get killed. As a change of pace, she can have a fatal disease or turn out to be a crook who had our hero fooled. Whatever, she has to be gotten out of his life.

Words in the list below appear across, up, down, backwards and diagonally in the diagram. Find each word and draw a circle around its letters, then cross the word off the list. Some circled letters appear in more than one word. The letters that form the answer will be left over. Unscramble and arrange them to create a word, or words, that will provide the answer.

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Some old favorites return to soaps

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — Everyone was delighted when Patricia Barry was added to the cast of "All My Children" as Peg English. Patricia is probably best remembered for her Addie Williams role on "Days of Our Lives," but she also appeared on the now defunct "For Richer, For Poorer" as Viola Brewster. Patricia's talents are a welcome addition to "AMC."

Patricia Barry joins ABC's "All My Children" as Peg English.

Also joining the "AMC" roster was Tudi Wiggins as Sara Kingsley. Tudi is sure to add her own special spark to the role, which was created especially for her by headwriter and creator of "AMC," Agnes Nixon. Tudi is well remembered for her bitchy character, Meg Hart, on the canceled "Love of Life."

This seems to be the right time to bring back old soap opera favorites, and that's just what "The Doctors" has done. Elizabeth Hubbard has been persuaded to return to her former role of Althea Davis.

Elizabeth and her former castmate Gerald Gordon, as Nick Bellini, were once one of daytime TV's most popular couples — which brings up the next question: Can it be long before the show tries to woo Mr. Gordon back into its ranks?

When WQED-TV in Pittsburgh needed a strong matriarchal figure to host their educational film about family day-care, they knew just where to look — and chose none other than Charita Bauer who, as Bert, heads the Bauer clan on "Guiding Light." Charita, who has a son and a new grandchild, will be appearing throughout Pennsylvania during the month of February in four half-hour segments for WQED. The film will instruct viewers on how to operate a day-care center from a private home.

To launch the on-location scenes that "Guiding Light" and "Search for Tomorrow" have been airing of late, the Jamaica Tourist Board, Air Jamaica and Jamaica Resort Hotels threw a delightful party in a luxurious loft gallery in the SoHo section of New York City. The party was alive with reggae music and samplings of native Jamaican food.

It also provided a chance for the press to talk with those who were a part of the location shootings. From "SFT," Douglas Stevenson (Lee Sentell) and Nicholas Cortland (ex-Dr. Kyle) were able to attend, but their castmate Marcia McCabe (Sunny Adamson) had to work late. Also from "SFT" were Nicolette Goulet (Kathy Phillips) and David Gautreaux (Garth Taper).

"Guiding Light" was represented by Elvera Roussel (Hope Spaulding); Lenore Kasdorf (Rita Bauer) was unable to attend because of the recent death of her father, and Christopher Bernau (Alan Spaulding) was also not on the scene.

Everyone involved in the location shootings agreed on one thing: Working in Jamaica was one of the most pleasant experiences of his career.

(Have a question about soap operas? Write Nancy Reichardt at 200 Park Avenue, Room 802, New York, NY 10166.)

PBS WILL DRAMATIZE the works of nine of America's greatest fiction writers on "The American Short Story" series. Some of the stories to be shown are William Faulkner's "Barn Burning," Nathaniel Hawthorne's "Rappaccini's Daughter," Willa Cather's "Paul's Case" and Mark Twain's "The Man That Corrupted Hadleyburg." The series airs Saturdays on PBS. (REPEAT)

Actors who travel light — and not-so-light

By RUTH THOMPSON

When an actor's traveling life demands that he pack only the necessities — just enough to clothe and maybe comfort him — what does he choose?

In the early "M*A*S*H" episodes, the very young, naive-but-shrewd Radar played so effectively by Gary Burghoff didn't have to worry about clothes. He wore what the Army gave him. For his own needs, he brought along his teddy bear.

Gary Burghoff

All right — Radar is a make-believe character. But the actor breed, of which Gary is a member, knows what to pack as do few people on earth.

One non-celebrity, who chose not to follow the theatrical heritage of his parents, told us: "My parents made movies, but my earliest recollections were of touring from city to city with stage plays. My trauma was that I could not have large toys because they would not fit into the trunk.

Now, he adds wryly, he must first figure out what will "fit under the plane seat and into the square inches decreed for luggage." For long trips, he starts off by wearing two shirts. "A trunk would be a luxury now."

These actors we recently talked to, or were told about, also live with today's restrictions. But there is one exception.

Eileen Fulton, known for 20 years as Lisa on CBS's "As the World Turns," was almost a cult figure among fans for her nightclub act. She started it just before New York gave up as a big nightclub town, in the poshest spot of all: the now defunct Persian Room of the Plaza Hotel. When booked a year later into North Dakota, Eileen had to pay the excess baggage charge on 19 — yes, 19 — suitcases.

"Yes, I still bring everything," says Eileen, and that includes the floor-length white fur coat designed for the wife of a U.S. president (but shortened for Eileen). "Any audience waiting to see me deserves the best I can give."

Eileen, who has to give points to no one as a strong singer, means that she wants to look like a star from the moment she gets off that plane.

Somebody who's been taking an opposite tack is Stefanie Powers, who co-stars with Robert Wagner in "Hart to Hart" on ABC. Stefanie once tried bullfighting when she starred in an earlier series, "The Girl from U.N.C.L.E." By the time she roached New Guinea, as the companion of William Holden, she really learned to rough it. As she went into the country's interior, she found herself giving away even the few possessions she had allotted herself at the outset.

"I can always buy more," she says — somberly.

In a different context are those who, while not exactly roughing it, are not expecting wonderful service from hotels along the way. Carol Shelly, very early on as one of the "birds" in "The Odd Couple," and later a Tony Award winner on Broadway for "The Elephant Man," never cringed from the road tours. As long as, that is, she had time to pack a few good saucepans, an electric plate and a steamer for vegetables. "It goes very fast if you also bring a shredder. It's also better for you."

SATURDAY

Jane Powell guest stars along with Peter Marshall as a couple who, after 25 years of marriage, ventures to Fantasy Island in search of new romances, on "Fantasy Island," Saturday, Feb. 14, on ABC.

ENTENDING THE LIFE OF YOUR VACUUM CLEANER

A good way to save money is take proper care of household resources to reduce the need for repairs or new purchases. A vacuum cleaner is a good example of a household appliance that if used and cared for properly, will perform more efficiently and will last longer. The following suggestions will help you to extend the life of your vacuum cleaner.

*Pick up hard or sharp objects by hand before using the vacuum.

*Do not pick up objects such as pebbles and pins with the vacuum because they could damage the belt, hose or fan, or puncture the dust bag.

*Empty the dust bag regularly. A full bag puts a strain on the vacuum's motor and adds extra weight to the vacuum that you have to push around. A vacuum cleaner is much more efficient when it is operated with a dust bag filled to three-fourths capacity or less.

*Read the owner's manual for tips on replacing disposable bags or for cleaning cloth bags. Improper installation of the vacuum bag may decrease the amount of suction the vacuum would normally have when in operation.

*Give the appliance a good cleaning occasionally. Make sure it is unplugged, then wipe the hose, bag exterior and casing with a suds dampened cloth. Also, clean nozzles and hand-tools.

*Remove the brushes from the vacuum and carefully remove any threads or hair that have accumulated in them. Wash the brushes in sudsy water and rinse them in clear water to make them more efficient at picking up dust rather than redistributing dust caught in the cleaning apparatus.

*Open and remove the dust bag of a canister-type vacuum. Wipe out excess dust and grit that may have filtered through the bag and settled inside the vacuum.

*Clean and replace the filter if necessary. Dry all the parts before use or the dust will stick to the moist surfaces and your cleaning will have been in vain.

FOOD TIPS

Here is a recipe using ground beef that I am sure your family will enjoy:

MEAT BALL STEW

1 pound ground beef
½ cup bread crumbs
¼ cup minced onion
4 tablespoons minced parsley
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
½ teaspoon crushed oregano
¼ teaspoon crushed sweet basil
1 egg
¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
1 green pepper, cut into strips
4 cups cooked or canned red kidney beans
3 to 4 cups canned tomatoes
2 cups tomato sauce (16 ounces)
1 bay leaf
½ teaspoon crushed oregano
¼ teaspoon crushed basil
1 teaspoon fennel seed optional
Shredded cheese

Combine first 10 ingredients in a bowl. Mix lightly, but thoroughly. Shape into 30 meatballs. Heat vegetable oil in a large frying pan or Dutch oven; brown half the meatballs. Remove and drain. Pour off all but 2 tablespoons of pan drippings and saute green pepper strips until tender. Stir in remaining ingredients, mixing well. Add meatballs. Bring mixture to the boil; reduce heat, cover and simmer 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Taste and correct seasonings. Serve in soup bowls, garnished with shredded cheese. Yield: 10 servings.

EXTENSIONS HAPPENINGS

A Basic Breadmaking Workshop will be held at the Swanton Community Center on Wednesday, February 18, from 12:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Correction Noted

In last week's edition of The Republican, in an article entitled "Gorman Residents Heard on Matter of Water System," which appeared on the front page, it was incorrectly reported that Wendell Keaton, Garrett County Municipal Coordinator, spoke on the quality of the water source. It should have read that Wendell Beitzel of the Garrett County Health Department spoke on that matter.

We regret the error.

Mt. Lake Park Man Finds False Alarm A Costly Venture

A Mountain Lake Park man found that turning in a false alarm to emergency personnel is frowned upon by the court, as well as the responding department following a sentence hearing held February 2.

According to court records, Lester Jacob Niner placed a call to Garrett Central Alarm on November 12 to report the need for an ambulance. He reportedly gave a false name and directions to a Deer Park residence, claiming an illness that required emergency transportation.

Judge Jones found the defendant guilty, and levied a fine of $250 on a deferred payment plan. Jones also sentenced the defendant to a six-month jail term which was suspended, and placed him on 18 months unsupervised probation.

Southern Rescue Squad, which was awarded $100 of the fine, responded with a crew to the early morning call.

In a separate case, William Charles Emerick, Meyersdale, Pa., was found guilty of disorderly conduct on the property of another stemming from charges brought against him by Leonard McKenzie, Frostburg.

According to the report, Emerick entered the property of McKenzie and began acting in a disorderly fashion, refusing to leave.

Judge Jones fined the defendant $25 plus court costs. Emerick was found not guilty on trespassing charges.

Ray Ellsworth Keister, 40, Frostburg, was found guilty on charges of failure to support his minor children.

Judge Jones sentenced Keister to one year in jail, which he suspended, and placed him on 36 months supervised probation. The defendant must also begin weekly payments, in addition to seeking and accepting alcohol therapy.

Frederick Neal Shaffer, 26, Oakland, was found not guilty on charges of battery brought against him by Kay Elizabeth Livengood, also of Oakland.

A TRANQUIL WINTER SCENE is among several oil paintings by Mrs. Nella Hamilton, Red House, now on display at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. Mrs. Hamilton, now 86, began painting in the early 60's. She completed about 30 paintings during the past year, all of them landscapes. She said she has always enjoyed drawing and she loves the country. Raised near Morgantown, W. Va., Mrs. Hamilton has been a resident of Garrett County for over 50 years. Her family is in the dairy farming business. In addition to her painting, Mrs. Hamilton also plays organ and piano.

THE LATEST WORKS FROM AZALOU STUDIOS, Deep Creek Lake, are now on display at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. The four paintings by Aza Stanton, one of Garrett County's most renowned artists, portray parts of Cherry Creek, a fisherman at Bear Creek, and a cider mill near Accident. A native of Grantsville, Stanton was employed in advertising for 27 years with the H-P Stores, and he said he has been painting "ever since I can remember." He is a 1950 graduate of the Maryland Institute of Art, and in recent years he has created approximately 14 limited edition sets of pen and ink drawings of various parts of Garrett County and surrounding areas.

Maryland Sells Triple-A Bonds To Low Bidder

The Maryland Board of Public Works, consisting of Governor Harry Hughes, State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein and State Treasurer William S. James recently sold $149,095,000 in triple-A rated, general obligation bonds for a low interest bid of 8.1857%. The low bid was offered by a group of banks headed by Harris Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago and was for a ten-year bond term at a savings to the taxpayers of $44,329,578.57 in interest costs over the low 15-year bid.

The board departed from longstanding tradition and asked bidders, which are usually groups of banks and investment houses, to supply bids for both a normal 15-year term bond issue and an unusual 10-year term bond issue. Traditionally, Maryland general obligation bonds are sold for a 15-year term, meaning that the state must pay back the principal and interest in 15 years.

"We decided to ask for bids on a 10 year basis because of the unusual nature of the bond market today," Comptroller Goldstein said. "Investors seem to be favoring shorter term bonds and interest rates are unusually high. Therefore, Maryland's high quality bonds should be in demand allowing us to obtain the best possible interest rate. In fact, the bids we received were lower than the average rates for comparable bond sales by other issuers."

The comptroller explained that a low interest rate is important to the state and the taxpayers because it means less tax revenue is required to pay off the bonds. General obligation bonds are repaid using all revenue raised by the state real estate tax of 20c per $100.00 of assessed value as well as some additional general fund revenues.

Of the $149,095,000 raised through the bond sale, $62.0 million will be used for general state construction projects, $49.7 million for public school construction and $37.395 million for a variety of local projects.

Conversations on Carpeting

Brought to you by

Carolyn & Butch Helbig

Who say "A Floor without a Rug is like a Kiss without a Hug."

IF YOU ASK ME

I'd like to buy carpeting for my home but can't decide if it will fit into my budget.

You can pay for your carpet the same way you pay for a new car or washer and dryer . . . on monthly installments. We here at Roderick's will be glad to arrange monthly payments that won't make a dent in your income. There are also ways to include your carpet purchase in your mortgage payments or pay for it with a home improvement loan.

In the past, whenever I've made a major purchase, I've always tried to make it immediately clear to the salesman just what price range my budget could afford. Occasionally, they've tried to convince me that I needed to spend more money. What should I do if my carpet salesman does this?

First, ask him why, then weigh all of his answers. If you're dealing with a reputable dealer and you're selecting a name brand, you should be able to trust the salesman's opinion. Some rooms may cost more to carpet than your budget allows but others may cost less. Hopefully, these will even out and you won't go over your budget.

Roderick's has been a member of the local business community for more than 14 years. We want to help you find the best carpet for your home, at a price you can afford.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

For a very personalized appointment with Butch or Carolyn call today at 334-9598, who will give you the best in price, quality and service.

State, County Jobless Rates Both Increase

Maryland's unemployment rate increased from 5.9 percent in November to 6.2 percent in December, according to the monthly statistics released by the Maryland Department of Human Resources. Garrett County's rate, meanwhile, jumped over three points during the same period, from 10.9 to 14.1 percent.

Although unemployment increased in December, for the first time in 1980, the unemployment rate was lower than for the same month in 1979. In December 1979, the rate jumped from 5.8 percent to 6.4 percent. The state's unemployment rate remained lower than the national rate.

An increase in unemployment usually occurs each December, as manufacturing firms lay off workers for Christmas; seasonal layoffs continue in construction, food processing, and agriculture; and persons enter the labor market in search of employment during the holiday season, according to the Department.

Unemployment increased by an estimated 6,891 persons in Maryland in December, due to seasonal trends and slow business conditions. Employment declined by an estimated 3,419, with fewer persons working in agriculture, food processing and construction. Gains in employment, however, were seen in trucking and water transportation, trade and the federal government.

Unemployment also increased in the Baltimore Metropolitan area, from 6.8 percent in November to 7.1 percent in December. There was little change in employment, as losses in agriculture and construction balanced gains in trucking and water transportation, trade, and government. Every jurisdiction in the metropolitan area, except for Howard County, showed an increase in its unemployment rate.

Unemployment in the Maryland suburbs of Washington, D. C. remained at its November level of 3.6 percent. Only Charles County experienced an increase in unemployment, as its rate rose from 3.4 percent to 3.7 percent.

In Western Maryland, overall unemployment jumped from 8.4 percent in November to 9.4 percent in December. This area normally experiences an increase in unemployment in December, as manufacturers engage in Christmas layoffs and shutdowns, and as seasonal layoffs in construction persist. The largest increase in the unemployment rate in Western Maryland occurred in Garrett County.

Among the counties on the Eastern Shore and in Southern Maryland, only St. Mary's County showed a lower unemployment rate in December than in November, falling from 6.9 percent to 6.5 percent. Seasonal layoffs in agriculture, food processing and construction caused significant increases in unemployment, particularly in Caroline, Dorchester, Kent, Somerset and Talbot counties.

State Revenues Running According To Expectations

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced last week that state and local income taxes and state sales taxes are producing almost exactly the amount of revenue projected, with revenues from the state lottery and interest on investments running slightly ahead of estimates.

"The income and sales taxes, which are the largest sources of general fund revenue, are exceeding estimates by only a fraction of one percent for Fiscal Year 1981 to date," Goldstein said. "The income tax is now almost $2.6 million above the estimate, and sales tax revenue is now nearly $1.2 million above the estimate for the period."

The comptroller noted that the small excesses do not provide much of a fiscal cushion should revenue collections drop in late winter or spring. For the fiscal year to date, state and local income tax revenues total $976,226,436, or 5.2% more than the $927,926,952 collected for the same period last year. Sales tax revenue amounts to $389,966,698, up 4.2% over the $374,424,917 collected during the same period of Fiscal Year 1980.

Goldstein noted that state lottery totals $100,992,614 for the first six months of Fiscal Year 1981, and is currently $4.4 million ahead of the revenue projection. He also stated that the state's income from interest on investments for the first six months of the fiscal year amounts to $37,251,000, and is now $7.6 million over the estimate for the period.

"When all of these items are taken into account, general fund revenues are ahead of estimates by approximately $15.7 million; however that is a small cushion when compared to this year's $2.6 billion general fund and could be significantly reduced if any major revenue source markedly declines," Goldstein said.

Census Survey Slated For Area

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey of employment in Garrett County during the work week of February 16-20, Porter S. Rickley, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Philadelphia, announced this week.

The survey is conducted for the U.S. Department of Labor in a scientifically designed sample of approximately 84,000 households throughout the United States. Employment and unemployment statistics based on results of this surve are used to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the nation.

Information supplied by people participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and results are used only to compile statistical totals, according to Rickley.

A New Generation Of Nature Lovers

Crellin Students Study The Great Outdoors

by Beverly J. Sincell

COMPARING PRINTS IN THE SNOW — Ellen Zimmerman, center, a teacher's aide at Crellin Elementary School, places her hand beside an animal track in the snow to show her students the differences between a print of a mouse paw and the human hand. Tracking animals in the snow is part of the Environmental Awareness Program at Crellin.

The group of children crouched in the snow to look at the miniature paw prints—signs that a small creature scurried across that point in the night. Suddenly the tracks disappear.

"An owl must have captured the mouse," Ellen Zimmerman, a teacher's aide at Crellin Elementary School, told the fourth graders.

The students were tracking animals, part of the Environmental Awareness Program at Crellin Elementary. The program, now in its sixth year at Crellin, is how Ellen Zimmerman gained recognition from the Maryland Wildlife Federation January 25 as Outstanding Conservation Educator in the state.

If you talk to Ellen, she'll say Asa McCain, principal at Crellin, is primarily responsible for the program. His interest in such a program and his authority as principal to institute it in the school were, says Ellen, the keys to starting the program.

Even so, Ellen has had a hand in the program's development, along with Bob Friend, Naturalist/Interpreter Specialist with the State Forest and Park Service. Friend has been involved because the program is coordinated with the outdoor Education Program offered through the park system.

Ellen's part in the program began at the beginning. Six years ago, she received an offer from Asa McCain to leave her job as a librarian at the Crellin Community Center Library and work as a teacher's aide. At the same time he had been told of an environmental awareness program at Red House Elementary School which interested him.

The program was a natural for Ellen, who had always been an outdoors person. She, along with her husband and three sons, was a hunter, fisherman, hiker and camper. (Her daughter was also a nature lover, but not a hunter.)

With their combined interest and work, the program soon began at Crellin Elementary.

They used the outdoor education program offered through the state parks system and expanded it to meet educational requirements established by the Board of Education.

The first year for the program was the most difficult because it was new. It involved field trips and overnight excursions. Asa had a goal to involve 100 percent of the students, which meant going to the parents for their blessings. Pursuit of that goal proved to be a demanding task, in time and energy. "I literally wore out," he said.

What they had for the first year was a program involving second and third graders—there were no fourth or fifth graders at the school then. Activities included a boating trip, a trash pick-up, an overnight camping trip and visits to various parks in the county for tree and wild flower identification. There were also classroom projects planned, such as construction of bird houses and squirrel nests.

Two years after the program began, Asa quit going to the parents. By then, the families were aware of the program and trusted its leaders.

The students were the program's best advertisements. "The kids looked forward to it," Ellen said.

Each year the program expanded. In six years it went from one standard program for second and third graders to a varied program for third, fourth and fifth graders, which became more advanced at each grade level.

Each grade has basically the same types of activities: arts 'n crafts, a visit to state parks, a course in boating, an overnight excursion, a study of nature, and a litter pick-up. Yet, the activities are not the same.

The third graders study trees, the fourth study birds and the fifth study wild flowers.

In the boating course, the third graders learn boating, the fourth row boats through obstacle courses and the fifth learn canoeing.

For the overnight excursion on weekends, the third grade goes to Camp Hickory, the fourth goes to Swallow Falls, and the fifth goes on a three-day backpacking trip on the Savage Mountain Hiking Trail.

It sounds like all fun and games, but actually it is a fun way to learn. Each activity is designed to teach the students something.

During the three-day hiking trip, the fifth graders must keep a diary of their observations. At the end of each day they share the intimacy of a campfire and join in a discussion of the day's events.

The fourth graders must spend time by themselves under a tree or by a stream to observe nature. They then talk with a ranger or naturalist about what they have seen or felt.

All the students must write a report on the litter pick-up. They also participate in a discussion on litter, often led by Bob Friend who is present at every excursion.

Bob recalls several solutions offered by students on how to deal with persons who litter. One student's suggestion, which for Bob was the best, was to sentence an offender to pick up litter for a certain period of time.

Besides sharing their thoughts on the control of littering, the students also write reports on the duties of a park ranger, and on the relationship between man and nature.

These are just a few of the activities. Each year the program is expanded. As Ellen says, "the possibilities for such a program are endless."

The program does end for the students, though, as they graduate from fifth to sixth grade and leave Crellin Elementary. From there they go to schools where the system is more complex and not easily adjusted to

Westvaco Planning $13 Million Project

Site preparation work for the installation of two new digesters will begin this spring, according to an announcement by Dr. David G. McMaster, manager of Westvaco's Luke mill.

The $13 million project in the Pulp Mill Department at Luke is expected to be completed late in 1982, McMaster explained.

Bid packages for the actual construction of the two 44 feet high 12 feet wide pulp cooking units will be issued by the middle of the year. These will include structural and mechanical erections and electrical-instrumentation installations. Major equipment purchases have already been placed for the two new 4000-cubic-foot digesters.

Charles T. Main, Inc., Boston, is the consultant for the mechanical design of the digesters. The total project also includes automation of two of the existing ten other such units at Luke.

3M SAFETY MICROFIL

HOW DOES A TIRE FIT IN WITH ENVIRONMENTAL AWARENESS? — By using it to make a squirrel's nest, that's how. Crellin Elementary Principal Asa McCain, left, explains to a group of fifth graders how a tire will be cut and shaped into a nest for squirrels. The nests will be made by the students as one of the projects in the Environmental Awareness Program at Crellin. The nests will be placed in areas of the county's state forests where squirrel populations are low in an attempt to draw more squirrels to those areas. Helping to explain the project are Ellen Zimmerman and Bob Friend, right.

such a flexible program.

The students do carry with them a memorandum of the program: a patch given to them by Smokey the Bear at a campfire at the completion of their first year in the program, and two badges given them for the two succeeding years.

These alumnae of the program often express their wishes to participate in the activities once again. They may become even more wishful as they see their younger brothers and sisters participate in an improved program. And the program will become better in the years ahead.

The future plans for the program include a permanent site for the activities, within walking distance of the school.

Rather than traveling to Swallow Falls State Park or to Savage River State Forest, Crellin students will be able to hike one and one-half miles to the Garrett State Forest which amounts to 400 acres and includes a parcel of land on the Fingerboard Road between Sanders Lane and Route 39.

The new tract of land had been considered for purchase by the county for an industrial park, but Crellin citizens successfully battled the plan. The state, which owned the land, agreed to designate the area for a youth outdoor education activity center.

The state's decision was the only right one for Ellen who points out the historical importance of the site. It signifies the very beginning of the forest and park system in Maryland. It was given to the state in 1906 by the Garrett family to start the state forestry program.

The new site offers a fresh direction for the Crellin program and plans are underway for it.

But if the land had never been designated for the outdoor education program, Asa, Ellen and Bob would have found other ways to improve their program. They would not let it die; it has been too successful.

"It gives us a lot of personal satisfaction," says Ellen.

Through the program, they have seen their students open up and grow, not just as nature-lovers, but as individuals as well.

Asa notes the program has brought out fears in the children that would never have come out in the normal classroom atmosphere.

He told of one child who was physically unable to climb a hill when he started in the program. Asa and Ellen and other students had to push and pull the child up a hill. After three years in the program, the child could keep up with the others on his own.

Another child overcame the fear of being away from home and another overcame a fear of heights.

The program means a lot of work and responsibility for Asa, Ellen and Bob. They must organize trips and activities, and make sure each provides a learning experience in various ways.

But even though it has meant work, the program has been worth it for the three adults.

Perhaps Asa said it best when he said, "If even one of these kids takes their children to some of these places we have taken them, I will consider the program a success."

Social Services — They Dare To Care

Child Snatchers or Child Protectors??

By Carol Kapel

During recent weeks, the Garrett County Department of Social Services has been subjected to several instances of unfavorable publicity through the Letters to the Editor column of The Republican.

In an attempt to clarify the facts surrounding several charges levied in those letters, The Republican conducted an extensive interview with Perry Shaffer, Director of the local department, and Robert Shaffer, Superintendent of Services for Garrett County, through the Department of Social Services.

In addition, much data was collected from the Code of Maryland Regulations-Department of Human Resources Handbook, as well as federal rules and the Maryland State Child Abuse Law.

The following information explains the position of the department.

According to the latest Code of Maryland Regulation Manual, protective services is described as a specialized social service to children in Garrett County who are believed to be neglected, abused, or otherwise exploited, as well as to their parents or other adults having permanent or temporary custody.

The average annual statistics for Garrett County reveal reported cases of child neglect at 65%, with child abuse cases at 30%.

The manual goes on to say that the goal of the service is to first protect the child. The second goal is to assist the parents in achieving at least minimum standards of child-care. An additional purpose is to provide an alternate plan of care when parents are unable to do so.

Because the subject of neglected and/or abused children is a sensitive one, and emotions are aroused by the very mention of it, understandable human reaction often clouds the significance of the service necessary through a social agency.

The procedures followed by the local department in response to a report received is outlined by Maryland state law in the Code of Maryland Regulations-Department of Human Resources Manual.

It is important to note that each step taken is done so because the law requires it, according to the manual.

Upon receipt of a report of suspected neglect, (a neglected child is defined as one under the age of 18 who is not receiving ordinary and proper care and attention, and whose parents or guardian are unable or unwilling to give that care) the local department must determine whether the report is valid. Investigation of a report of suspected child neglect must be initiated within five working days of the receipt of the report, and within 24 hours on a child abuse report. If a report indicates a possibility of immediate danger to a child's health or life, law enforcement officials must be notified who can act to protect the child. A child can be removed from the home contrary to the wishes of the parent and before approval of the court if the situation is deemed an emergency.

The local department must then reach a decision with the family (which is contacted and informed of the report given against it) concerning some type of plan to meet the needs of the child within 30 days. Frequent in-the-home interviews are held, and if parental cooperation is unsatisfactory, the department is then required to seek further information from the reporting source, as well as schools, hospitals, clinics, and police, if necessary. At no time, according to department rules, is parental knowledge of ongoing proceedings neglected, provided parental availability is present.

If the problem can be resolved and the solution proves to be effective, the case is closed. Taking into consideration the number of incidents reported, rarely does a child neglect or abuse case ever reach the court.

Statistics for Garrett County's Department of Social Services for 1980 indicate 103 total reports of neglect or abuse received. The number of cases actually opened for protective services following the investigation totaled 27. The number of cases actually necessitating court action in 1980 numbered only eight.

An analysis of the eight cases taken to court shows two incidences of older teenage children refusing to remain in the home of their parents due to physical/sexual abuse; a refusal of three children to attend public school; an incident of parental abuse involving two young girls and an infant, who was ordered removed from the home by the court; one case of an abandoned child; one involving inadequate, hazardous housing, coupled with mental deficiency of both parents; a report of repeated lack of supervision of a four year old child; and, finally, a legal action that was initiated because of parental refusal to allow the local department and law enforcement officials to conduct the state ordered investigation. In seven of the above cases, the court found the children to be in need of assistance. The charges were dismissed in one case. Interestingly enough, of the eight mentioned cases, only three of the families were welfare recipients.

Perry Shaffer, Director of the Garrett County Social Services Department assured The Republican that if it is determined that evidence of neglect or abuse is definite, a service plan is initiated in an attempt to achieve appropriate standards of care for the child. If the department decided, based on the information gathered during the investigation, that there is evidence of neglect and/or abuse, and the parents are either unwilling or unable to help improve conditions and protect the child, then the agency petitions the court for a finding that the child is in need of assistance.

Sometimes a family will choose to take flight upon learning of a pending investigation of child neglect or abuse. In this instance, the local department exhausts all effort to locate the family and refer the report to the family's new locality in a continuing effort to protect the child.

The local department maintains a written case file for each child and family referred and opened for protective services. This file contains all information included in the investigation conducted after the report is received, copies of medical reports, information gathered from educators, a psycho-social history of the parents, the child, and any other significant person involved in the case, as well as records of decisions regarding service plans.

If a child is removed from a home, a series of hearings is begun, all held before the juvenile court judge. The Social Services Department, represented by the state's attorney, the parents and their attorney, and an attorney for the child are present before the judge at each hearing. If the parents cannot afford an attorney, one will be appointed for them by the state. According to the manual, it is important to note that all parties are represented by legal counsel at all times, under mandatory state law governing the rights of parents and children.

The facts are presented before the judge from all persons interested in the child, and the judge determines the outcome of the case.

Reconsideration or formal evaluation of the service plan can be considered whenever there's a significant change in the family situation with respect to progress, or lack of it, for a period of two years before a decision to sever all family rights and responsibilities to the child is made by the court. When the two-year period is nearing completion, one more additional chance for parents is offered in the form of a final hearing. If the parents choose to exercise this right, the judge once again reviews the facts surrounding the individual case and makes a final determination concerning the best interest of the child.

In a statement to The Republican regarding the recent court cases, Robert Shaffer, Superintendent of Services, Garrett County Department of Social Services said, "We are not in the business of punishing parents. We're here to protect children."

According to portions of the Maryland Child Abuse Law, the citizens of a given community have the right to be informed of procedures followed by a public interest agency, as well as their personal rights and responsibilities as members of that community. Becoming acquainted with such laws and procedures can enable the departments to more adequately perform their services. The law requires that persons are to report if they suspect or have reason to believe that a child has received or is receiving physical injury as the result of cruel or inhumane treatment, including sexual molesting or exploitation. Suspected neglect, as well, should be reported at once to the local social services department or to law enforcement personnel. Reporting is not only the responsibility of health practitioners, educators, social workers, and law enforcement personnel, but of anyone who has reason to believe that a child is being abused and/or neglected, according to the Maryland Child Abuse Law passed in 1966 and revised in 1973 and 1974.

The law also specifically states that immunity is provided from any civil liability or criminal penalty to anyone who participates in good faith, in the making of a report. Names will not be revealed and no appearance to testify in court is required.

It is vitally important to become throughly acquainted with factual circumstances before questioning the endeavors of public service departments designed to protect the innocent.

Child abuse and neglect is often a sign of parental problems. It won't go away, and it can't be treated by punishing the parents. For the sake of the unprotected child, it is important to learn the facts about child abuse and neglect, and to support the legal and social efforts to combat the two.

The sooner the problem is tackled, the sooner it can be resolved.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

Union Ambulance Squad had 11 calls during January, drove 611.6 miles for an average per run of 55.6 miles. Seven calls were emergencies, one was cancelled, and two were non-emergency hospital transports with one enter-hospital transport.

A group of parents in the Aurora-Eglon communities are interested in forming a pre-school child development center for children ages two to five which would operate one or two afternoons a week. There will be no income guidelines, everyone is included, and teachers will be volunteer parents. Any interested parents desiring further information are asked to contact Mary Kowalkiski at 735-5208. The reason for this interest is that there will probably be an end to the funding of the present Child Development Center at the end of this school term.

Members of the Eglon Mountaineer 4-H have on hand a supply of American Seed Co. seeds which they wish to use as a fund raising project. Persons wishing to purchase some of these seeds, a variety of vegetable and flower seeds, may contact the leaders, Linda Lewis at 735-6931, or Elaine Roth at 735-3042. These seeds are from the same company for which the school has previously sold seeds.

A White House Conference on Aging for this region will be held at Jackson's Mill in March and Nina Layman was elected to represent the local group with Elmer Stemple serving as alternate.

Chuck Mancinelli, the new Preston County Senior Citizens director, was present and explained the plans for the new Preston County Senior Center which is to be built on land purchased across from Preston Memorial Hospital.

Farming in Maryland

Pre-Measurement Service Offered By ASC Service

Farmers can assure that they comply with provisions of the 1981 wheat and feed grain programs by taking advantage of pre-measurement and other producer services offered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), according to a release from the Service.

Stuart C. Peterson, Acting Chairperson of the Maryland State ASC Committee, said farmers can obtain this service for $15.00 per tract plus $.40 per acre if staking of measured acreage is requested. "We will measure, reference, and mark out fields with stakes prior to planting. To be certain of full compliance, farmers must plant within the stakes that are placed when the land is measured," he said. The cost of the service without staking is $15.00 per tract.

Producers who take advantage of pre-measurement are then guaranteed that the fields are a certain size. This is important in helping them plan which fields to plant to certain crops, Peterson said.

After planting, program participants must certify or report their 1981 crops and other program acres to the county ASCS office.

Other producer services include measurement of fields or sub-divisions to be planted, total cropland, and land areas for other purposes. Fees vary, based on the type of service rendered. The services are guaranteed for the program year in which they are taken.

The ASCA official reminded farmers that they will not need to comply with the Normal Crop Acreage (NCA) in order to be eligible for price support loans, the grain reserve, to get price protection or disaster protection for 1981. But they will need to certify accurately to the acreages planted in each crop.

Maryland farmers are encouraged by Peterson to request pre-measurement and avoid loss of program benefits for failure to comply with wheat and feed grain provisions.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Garrett County Board of Education recently announced a change in its policy for free and reduced price meals and free milk for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served in schools under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast, and Special Milk Programs. The change was brought about by federal legislation which revised the family size income standards and eliminated the deductions for hardships. These are the only changes in the policy.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size income criteria for determining eligibility.

Family Size	Free Meals/Milk Year	Month	Week	Reduced Meals Year	Month	Week
1	5,700	475	110	8,350	696	161
2	7,220	602	139	10,730	894	206

4	10,270	856	198	15,490	1,291	298
5	11,800	983	227	17,870	1,489	344
6	13,320	1,110	256	20,250	1,688	389
7	14,850	1,238	286	22,620	1,885	435
8	16,370	1,364	315	25,000	2,083	481
Each addi. fam. mem.	1,530	128	29	2,380	198	46

NOTE: DO NOT ALLOW HARDSHIP DEDUCTIONS FROM THE ABOVE INCOME POVERTY GUIDELINES. THE STANDARD DEDUCTION HAS BEEN INCLUDED IN ALL OF THE ABOVE INCOME LEVELS.

Children from families whose income is at or below those shown are eligible for free and reduced price meals or free milk. A standard monthly deduction of $80.00 has been incorporated into the guidelines. Schools will use the applications that are currently on file to make new eligibility determinations. The family of each child whose eligibility for program benefits is reduced or terminated, because of the change in guidelines will receive written notice ten days before the reduction or termination of benefits takes effect, so that children may arrive at school prepared to pay an additional amount if necessary. A new application may be submitted at any time during the school year. Applications are available at the principal's office in each school.

A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school and in the office of the County Cafeteria Manager, where it may be reviewed by an interested party.

Correction Noted

In the January 28 edition of The Republican in an article entitled, "Study Reveals Proposed Industrial Park Site, Prospective Industries," which appeared on the front page, it was incorrectly reported that a one-acre parcel of land is preferred as a prospective industrial site. It should have read a 100-acre parcel of land, as that is the correct approximate size of the site near Bausch and Lomb.

Real Estate

By DON CARSTENS
Deep Creek Realty

YOU AND YOUR AGENT

The quickest - and by far the easiest - method of selecting a home is simply knowing all that's available on the market. And you won't get that information by charging around from one "house for sale" sign to another. Your best course is to seek help from a REALTOR. Preferably, one who knows - and is active in - the neighborhood you're interested in.

Before you sit down with your REALTOR, determine your family's needs; number of bedrooms and baths, storage needs, room for future expansion, recreation facilities, etc. If you're willing to compromise on any requirements, say so. Be flexible about architecture, and consider looking at a variety of home styles. And be particular about the location of the house. It's the one thing you'll never be able to remodel.

Final advice: Be candid about your finances and what you can afford. This information will come out sooner or later and you'll be wasting your time by looking at houses that are beyond your means.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices:

Deer Park Man Crushed By Cow, Fatally Injured

A 72-year-old Deer Park man died Saturday night, suffering internal injuries after he was crushed by a heifer cow.

Wilbert Adrian DeWitt, of RD 4, Pergin Farm Road, was discovered lying on the ground Sunday morning about 8:45, next to the cow which was tied to a tree.

The body was discovered by an employee, Gary Lee Holtschneider, who stated that Mr. DeWitt had gone to check on the cow, which was expected to deliver a calf, about 9:30 p. m. on the previous evening, at which time Holtschneider had gone home.

Dr. James H. Fenster, Jr., Garrett County Medical Examiner, pronounced the man dead at the scene. Members of the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad responded, along with members of the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

The body was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital in Cumberland where an autopsy revealed extensive internal injuries, apparently from being crushed by the cow, according to the report. The time of death was estimated at about 10 p. m.

Born September 23, 1906 at Shafer, W. Va., Mr. DeWitt was a son of the late Colfax DeWitt and Vernie (Groves) DeWitt.

He was a farmer, veteran of World War II and a member of Paradise United Methodist Church.

Surviving are one brother, Warren Price DeWitt of McGreegor, Texas; and one sister, Mrs. Violet Campbell, Westernport.

Services were conducted this morning in the Durst Funeral Home, Oakland, by the Rev. Ellis Harvey. Interment was in Paradise Cemetery.

Prescription Scam Is Unveiled By Grantsville Police

Two young women found themselves behind bars as a result of presenting one too many prescriptions to Gerald Beachy, a Garrett County druggist.

Lisa Dawn Boccardi, 24, San Angelo, Texas, and Vicki Lynn Frazee, 23, Oakland, were arrested by Grantsville Police Chief Frank Wilkins and Maryland State Police and charged with obtaining a controlled drug substance by using a forged prescription and possession of controlled drug substance with intention to distribute.

According to police reports, the pair allegedly travelled to at least three county pharmacies in an attempt to have prescriptions filled which were written on forms belonging to a doctor from Pittsburgh. The names

YOUTH HOME FACILITIES DESTROYED — Eyewitnesses observe the smoking remains of the former Rustic Inn, which was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. The structure, which is located along U. S. Route 40, for the past 19 months has housed the dining room, class rooms, and offices of the Long Stretch Youth Homes. See story. Photos by Craig Phillips

Fire Destroys Former Rustic Inn, Long Stretch Youth Home Facilities

Three fire departments from Garrett County, one from Allegany County and one from Pennsylvania battled a blaze early Tuesday morning which resulted in the destruction of what used to be the Rustic Inn, located along Route 40 near Long Stretch. The structure in recent months has been used for housing the dining facilities, classrooms and office space of the Long Stretch Youth Homes. Damage has been estimated at $250,000.

Allegany Central Alarm received the alarm at 2:32 a. m. and immediately transferred the call to Garrett Central Alarm. Firefighters were dispatched to the scene from Eastern Garrett, Grantsville, Salisbury, Bittinger, and Shaft, who found the structure totally involved in flame upon their arrival.

Investigating the blaze is Robert Shimer and Jim Martin, fire investigators for Garrett and Allegany counties.

Martin stated that the fire had apparently started in the rear portion of the building. He said electrical wiring and the furnace appeared to be in order and arson has not yet been ruled out.

According to William Platter, director of the homes, the fire destroyed the dining room and kitchen equipment, but firefighters spared the home's food supply, which is hoped in a refrigerator-deep freezer unit away from the main building.

There are presently 36 youths living at Long Stretch. Shimer said that many of the boys lodged at the home were given leave to stay with relatives and parents until more formal arrangements could be made concerning the meals and classes. Other boys are remaining in their cabins and are being fed there.

Fire personnel and equipment from Accident stood by at the Grantsville station, while Midland stood by at Shaft and Frostburg at Eastern Garrett's station.

Firefighters remained on the scene until 6:32 a. m., but were called a number of times yesterday afternoon for rekindlings.

Also sent to the scene was the Northern Rescue Squad. There were no injuries.

Grantsville Days To Be Discussed

There will be a meeting tonight for all persons interested in Grantsville Days, beginning at 7 p.m. in the social hall of the United Church of Christ in the center of Grantsville. All persons having suggestions or planning to have a booth at the picnic should attend this meeting.

Those who are unable to attend, but who have suggestions, should contact Gerry Beachy, chairman, at Beachy's Pharmacy, 895-4177, Monday through Friday from 8:30 to 5:30 p.m., or at home, 895-5357.

The Fourth Annual Grantsville Days will be held June 25 through 27. The event is coordinated by the Grantsville Community Business and Development Association.

COMMISSIONERS MEET WITH U.S. REPRESENTATIVE — The Garrett County Commissioners met with Representative Beverly Byron Friday for a dinner meeting to discuss possible legislation affecting the county. Rep. Byron told the commissioners that social security and the school lunch program were two programs President Ronald Reagan says he does not intend to cut. Other matters discussed were legislation to raise the Environmental Protection Agency limits on the sott content of coal, completion of Interstate 68, establishment of a tax deduction for the purchase and installation of wood burning stoves. The government's interest in re-examining the dams built by the Corps of Engineers for conversion to hydro-electric plants, and the possibility for federal assistance to improve a 25 mile stretch of road along Savage River.

Board To Deny Appeal On Bus Stop Unless Family Has New Testimony

The Garrett County Board of Education has sent a letter to Mr. and Mrs. Dave Caruthers, who live near Gorman along Route 50, informing them it will hear no more appeals on its decision to consolidate three bus stops unless the couple can produce an expert opinion supporting their arguments.

Mrs. Caruthers had written to the Board requesting one more appeal hearing on their decision to combine three bus stops along Route 50.

The Board held an appeal hearing for the couple in November 1980 and, in December, upheld their earlier decision to combine the stops.

In the months that followed, the Caruthers talked to the county commissioners and contacted the State Board of Education, Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, Senator Edward Mason and Representative Beverly Byron in an attempt to find help with their position. From each, they received the same story; the matter had to be resolved between them and the county Board of Education.

This summer, the Board combined several bus stops along Route 50—some at the request of parents—in an attempt to improve safety conditions for students boarding the bus and those on the bus.

The Caruthers said they were not one of the families requesting the bus stop change and they did not have ample opportunity to protest the change before it was made.

The Board held a public hearing before making the change, but the Caruthers were not able to attend.

The change in the bus stop involved eliminating the Caruthers' bus stop and directing three families to board and get off the bus at the same location. The other two households involved are directly across from each other on Route 50.

The extra walking distance for the Caruthers children is 300 feet along the highway. The Caruthers point out they don't mind the extra walking distance; their major concern is their children's safety while walking to and from the bus stop along the highway.

They note that the shoulder along the highway is no more than five feet in some places. The State Roads Department has agreed to plow the shoulder wider than usual during the winter; but, says Mr. Caruthers, "it gives you a funny feeling to see a tractor-trailer rolling past as your child is walking along the brim of the road."

Gorman Water Project Extended

Approximately 70 residents of the Gorman and Table Rock area attended a public hearing last night at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland, to protest a recent Garrett County Sanitary Commission decision to contract one-third of the proposed Gorman Water Project. Following the hearing and a lengthy discussion the commission voted to go ahead with the entire project, extending it from Gorman to the top of Backbone Mountain in the Table Rock area.

The commission also made an administrative decision to charge up to five cents per front foot in front footage fees, as opposed to the original proposed 13 cents per front foot. The remainder of the retired debt of the project will be charged to the users in the form of a monthly service charge, thus reducing the front foot assessment protested by many residents.

Approximately 80 residents living along U.S. Route 90, led by Junalta Bosley of Backbone Mountain, petitioned the commission to proceed with the project and include the Table Rock section, citing a need for drinking water and better control, as well as improved property values.

A group of residents opposing participation in the first phase of the project was also present, having submitted a petition to the commission. The

Bolden, Byrnes Co-Sponsor Coal Tax Bill

Delegate DeCorsey Bolden (R-Allegany, Garrett) and Delegate William Byrnes (R-Allegany, Washington) have co-sponsored a bill authorizing the Allegany and Garrett County Commissioners to levy a percentage tax on the gross value of coal surface mined in the counties and to use the revenues to rebuild coal-haul bridges and roads.

Bolden said his bill is "exactly like" the one previously submitted for the county commissioners' consideration by Senator Edward Mason (R-Allegany, Garrett) who decided not to introduce his bill when it received no support from the Garrett County Commissioners.

A hearing for the bill has been set for Feb. 26 before the House Ways and Means Committee.

Bolden expects the bill will be passed by the Assembly because it has the full support of the Western Maryland delegation.

Bolden said his bill will allow the county commissioners the choice of exempting from the tax the sale of coal that is both locally mined and burned.

Staff At Yough Motors Receive Unexpected Visit

Personnel at Yough Motors, Friendsville, may have helped the country with its foreign relations Tuesday night, Feb. 10, when they received an unexpected visit from four Egyptian captains.

The men were travelling along Route 40 in two automobiles, their first time at driving during wintry conditions (no snow in Egypt). Though there was no snow on the road, the roads were slick from rain causing one of the vehicles to slide off the road near Friendsville.

They came upon Yough Motors in their search for help where they found someone to tow their car to the garage. Because they were uncomfortable driving in unfamiliar weather conditions and because four men agreed to be overnight guests of Yough Motors owner Ross Clemenson, shop manager Jim Creller and secretary Reneida Frazee.

Ms. Frazee said the group spent the evening learning of each others' customs and religion. The men told them they were in the United States for a nine month tour of armed services bases where they were receiving training in the operation of tanks. They had been enroute to Aberdeen from Fort Knox when the accident occurred.

The men's names were: Ahmad Elsheikh, Aly Mahomoud Abd Elfatah, Mohmed Abd El Gany Faid, and Ahmed Ali El Afly.

Mason Says He Will Not Introduce Coal Tax Bill; Explains Position

Senator Edward J. Mason (R-Allegany, Garrett) has announced he will not introduce his proposed coal-tax legislation because he did not receive the majority support of Allegany and Garrett County Commissioners, but he released a position statement on the coal tax issue.

Mason says he will support legislation introduced by Delegate DeCorsey Bolden (R-Allegany, Garrett) and Delegate William Byrnes (R-Allegany, Washington) to levy a percentage tax on the gross value of coal surface mined in Allegany and Garrett counties. (See separate story.)

In his statement, Mason said "My position on the coal tax issue has been and continues to be in support of legislation which would permit the Allegany and Garrett County Commissioners to levy a percentage tax on the value of coal produced in the respective counties. Over half of the coal-producing states in the country levy a production tax. The trend among those states is to levy this tax based on a percentage of the value of production because this method results in more equitable treatment of producers, both as to price changes and the production of different quality as to price changes and the production of different quality coal. It should also be pointed out that the revenues going to the counties keep pace with inflationary periods without the need for changes in taxing policy."

Mason noted the main reason for the legislation was because the two counties have shown a need for revenues for coal haul road maintenance. "Allegany County has stated that they need $265,800 for above-normal coal haul road maintenance costs in 1980," he said. "Garrett County's same needs for 1980 are $369,479. If no coal tax is levied in 1981, and the counties would decide to fund the coal haul maintenance budget from the county real property tax, Allegany County would have to increase its tax rate by a minimum of 5 cents and Garrett County by a minimum of 14 cents."

Mason's arguments against a flat-rate tax, which has been favored by the Garrett County Commissioners and the coal industry, were that an operator who is receiving a lower price for his coal, which is traditionally the case with small operators, would be taxed more heavily than an operator who received a higher price for his coal" and that the flat-rate tax "does not reflect a coal operator's ability to pay the tax. The tax rate would not automatically adjust itself to the increases or decreases in the price of coal."

Mason also stated the flat-rate tax would require an annual adjustment by the county commissioners which would place them under political pressure.

"I have never heard any statement which refutes the overwhelming merits of the percentage tax," said Mason. "The underlying objection is that the coal industry does not want to open its books to inspection by the State Comptroller. I can assure the industry that the Comptroller's Office would respect the confidentiality of this information, just as they respect the confidentiality of income tax reports..."

Commissioners Consider Deferred Compensation Plan

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners received information about a deferred compensation plan offered by Washington National Insurance Company during its regular Tuesday meeting.

Charles O'Donald and Dan Sullivan, representatives of the company, told the commissioners the plan provides a tax shelter for employees to invest some of their salary into a retirement plan by taking money from their paycheck and placing it into the plan before taxes are taken.

They pointed out that law provides for employees to take advantage of the plan only when endorsed by the employer.

The maximum funds which could be taken from each paycheck would be 25 percent while the minimum would be $13.

The commissioners stated they would examine a similar plan offered by the Maryland Association of Counties before deciding whether to adopt a deferred compensation plan.

In other business, Dave Jones and Dave Raynor, Piney Mountain Coal Company, discussed their personal property taxes and their difficulties in paying the tax this year.

The commissioners also spent several hours in executive session with Tom Jones, county development director.

Garrett County Fair Date Set

The directors of the Garrett County Fair have set August 10 through 15 as fair week, according to Loretta Opel, publicity chairperson.

The directors met February 3 at the Deep Creek Fire Hall to discuss the 25th annual fair celebrations, fair dates and entertainment.

Tentative plans were made to enlarge the sheep barn and to cover the bleachers.

The Horsemen's Association is planning to erect an arena in the race track area. The fairgrounds will be used for a pilot horsemanship program for the handicapped, riding therapy, this June, and the directors expressed a desire for these handicapped people to participate in the Fair this August.

DISASTER AVERTED — Volunteer firemen from Friendsville were called to the scene of what might have been an exceptionally dangerous fire and explosion last Thursday morning when this tanker loaded with chemicals caught fire on Rt. 48 near the seven mile marker, just east of Friendsville. The driver, Delbert Baker, escaped unhurt. Firemen were on the scene for more than two hours.

Conversations on Carpeting

Brought to you by
Carolyn & Butch Helbig
Who say
"A Floor without a Rug is like a Kiss without a Hug."

Look Carefully

When shopping for carpeting, there are many things you should look for before you buy. The most important consideration is QUALITY. Name brand carpets are usually of good quality and they've been tried and tested by consumers all over the country. A trusted mill name brand usually means a quality carpet.

Look for densely constructed carpets too. The denser the construction, the better the quality. CLEANABILITY is another inportant factor. Check to see if the carpet you're considering is constructed of fibers known for their cleanability . . . particularly if you're buying carpet for the kitchen, family room or a playroom.

WEARABILITY is another important factor to look for when selecting a new carpet. Many of the man-made fibers are known for their wearability, and for heavy traffic areas you should choose a carpet made of the toughest of these fibers. NEW LOOK RETENTION is also important. The carpet you're considering may look attractive and new today but may look old and worn in a short time if you've made the wrong selection.

Our salesmen are carpet experts. They know about a carpet construction and about the various yarns used. They'll help you select just the right carpet for every room in your home.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

The carpet is down, the walls are painted and some displays are in place so please feel free to stop by if you don't mind a little confusion and if you have a good imagination about how our gorgeous new furniture will look in your home. We don't have really regular hours yet, so it might be well if you called first - 334-2565. If no answer, call our toll-free number to Westernport, 334-3187.

Want a super buy on living room furniture? We just received a solid truckload from Rowe that we are prepared to sell to you at pre-Grand Opening prices: Traditional nylon velvet sofa and loveseat, Reg. $1200, Now $699.00; Contemporary sofa, loveseat, chair, chenille plaid, Reg. $1300, Now $899.00; Early American sofa, loveseat, chair (several covers available), Reg. $1500, Now $995.00; Early American sofa and chair, plain nylon, Reg. $900, Now $599.00.

When you go to purchase a car you will not go to a Cadillac garage if you wish to purchase a Chevrolet and vice versa, however, in the case of our furniture stores you may purchase either in one place. We find it will be necessary to show $399.00 groups as well as $2,000.00 groups. We hope those of you looking for the $2,000 quality will not be offended by the $399 and vice versa. You both will be receiving value for your dollars spent as all of the merchandise we show will be the best we could find in long searches through the world's markets in the various price ranges. We do not feel it will be possible for us to survive in this sparsely populated area by handling only higher end merchandise, although this is what is needed most. Lower end seems to be pretty well covered, however, we will try to give you more of a selection from which to choose. We do not wish to "lock horns" or cause any problems with the other two stores closeby. We are going to try very hard to show different merchandise and different brands. In this way you will just have a better selection from which to choose all concentrated in a small area of the county.

Today's more educated, more demanding consumers demand value, not price. Price is only one of many considerations and may rank below others such as instant gratification, appropriate styling and quality, as well as meeting the necessary function.

Some of the exciting new things arriving daily are coming direct from such famous factories as Thomasville, Clayton-Marcus, Highland House of Hickory, Stanley, Hammary, Hooker, Kincaid, American-Drew, Barcalounger, Stratford, and Stiffel to name just a few.

We have a reputation for always having the latest, up-to-the minute styles, color trends, fabrics, innovations, etc. We travel far and wide and will always show you what is "in". We in no way can ever be classed as "conservative" in our presentations. For example, this year the "in" colors are very much the same as in clothing - peach to rust to burgundy, and all the shades in between. The greens are either greyed or brighter rather than the avocados of yesteryear. Eighteenth century is enjoying a revival at this time. We have never been strong in this category but will show more of it if you request it. Now we know many of you aren't in the least concerned about what is "in" as you keep your furniture much too long and wish to purchase what fits your particular lifestyle. We will have plenty to choose from in more conservative styles and colors, however, we are sure you will enjoy your shopping experience with us because we do make it interesting with our many unusual, exciting presentations.

We'll be looking forward to seeing you - drop by anytime and often to keep track of what's new. For a complete selection, please continue to show our Westernport store. Thanks!

Sincerely,

Time's A Wastin' . . .

In these days of talk about cutting back on spending, there is a bill which has been prepared by Delegate William B. Byrnes, chairman of the Allegany County Delegation, which we believe has merit. His proposal calls for a reduction in the length of the sessions of the Maryland General Assembly from the present 90 days to 60 days.

It is obvious that Del. Byrnes has done his homework in preparing this bill, for he has impressive statistics and information to back up his position.

First of all, such a move would save Maryland taxpayers approximately 1.2 million dollars. It would also force the legislature to "get down to business," as he puts it, and eliminate the vast number of what he calls "nuisance bills." He also notes that the state of Virginia, which has a population of over one million more than Maryland, operates efficiently within the framework of a 60-day session.

For those concerned about the legislators railroading through a lot of undesirable bills due to lack of time if the length of sessions were reduced, Byrnes reports that during the first 30 days of the present General Assembly, the delegates have met only 20 times, consuming a total of 13 hours and 28 minutes! Using some of our own statistics, via some simple division, we find that this comes out to a cost of $88,888.89 per hour, or $1,481.49 per minute!

Although we expect some opposition to this bill, we have yet to hear any. It will be difficult to justify the need for 30 days to complete 13½ hours of work.

As we have stated in previous editorials, attitudes must change in order to make spending cuts a reality. The passage or failure of this bill may tell us a lot about the attitudes of our elected officials.

Can We Help? . . .

by Carol Kapel

A recent article appearing in a large metropolitan newspaper described an open letter written to the person responsible for the disappearance and death of 17 black children in the Atlanta area during the last 18 months.

The letter was written by a ten-year-old boy, and was addressed to "Dear Mr. Murderer."

The article continued to relay the contents of the child's plea for those innocent victims whose lives are being senselessly taken.

The young letter writer was moved to make an attempt to contact the person he felt might respond to words written in a newspaper, in the hope he might turn himself in.

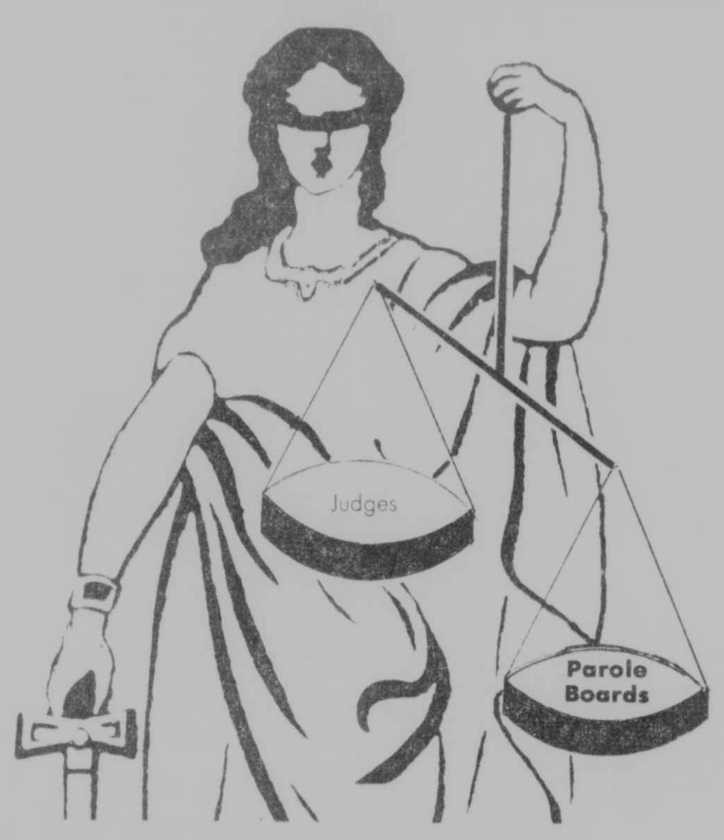

We've all been hearing the gruesome details for more than a year, and after each incident, probably feel remorse and sorrow. Can we do more?

This nation and its people have banded together for more than 200 years in time of crisis, in time of fear, in time of joy—offering strength, power, and concern.

Perhaps now is the time to unite once again in collective prayer for the capture of the crazed murderer of children who stalks the Atlanta area.

Even though the scene of these crimes is far removed from Garrett County, our brotherhood extends to the parents of these children.

Perhaps tonight, we might add an appeal in our prayers for the immediate end to the death of these Atlanta children.

Why Are The Criminals Being Returned To The Streets?

by Don Sincell

A man is charged with breaking and entering, grand larceny and petty larceny. A competent lawyer managed to get the first two charges dropped, however the defendant is found guilty of petty larceny. The judge sentences the man to 18 months in a state prison. Twenty-six days later, the same judge who sentenced this criminal sees him on the street. He has been paroled.

This incident, which actually took place right here in Garrett County, is typical of what is happening all over the state and, in fact, throughout the nation. Thousands of convicted criminals are being returned to the streets after serving only nominal portions of their sentences. Public outcry as a result of this apparent leniency with the criminal is increasing steadily, as is the nation's crime rate. Why, the public asks, are such individuals turned loose with just a slap on the fingers and, consequently, given the opportunity to go out and commit more crimes?

The courts, and in particular the judges, seem to be the first to be blamed for this leniency. Albeit, there are some too-lenient judges, it appears that the real culprits behind this problem are not the judges, but the parole boards and legislators.

The judge involved in the above incident was Judge Fred A. Thayer, Garrett County Circuit Court.

"Traditionally," Judge Thayer stated in a recent interview, "an individual would come up for possible parole after having served at least one third of his sentence. That was later reduced by the legislature to one fourth, then to one fifth, and the word 'after' was changed to 'before.' "

As of July 1, 1980, persons who receive a sentence of 90 days to three years are given a parole hearing as soon as possible, but no later than after one fourth of the sentence has been served. A person given three to five years is granted a hearing just four months after the sentence is handed down. One with a sentence of five to ten years is granted a hearing nine months after received and a person sentenced to over ten years, with the exception of life, is scheduled a parole hearing just 11 months after being sentenced.

The Maryland Parole Commission is composed of a chairman, an administrator, six commissioners and several hearing examiners, who are situated in different areas of the state. The hearing examiners, who are state employees, conduct the parole hearings and then report to the commission. The commissioners, chairman and administrator are governor appointees.

"When children misbehave," Thayer said, "different parents use different methods of discipline in dealing with the problem. Judges, being human, react in a similar way towards a person convicted of a crime, utilizing different means and varying degrees of discipline. However," he added, "the great majority of judges feel that we must get these people off the street." Unfortunately, the judges only means of doing this - handing down tough sentences - is apparently being thwarted by the actions of the Parole Commission.

According to Thayer, the main reason for earlier parole is over-crowdedness in the state prisons. "The state parole boards are under the gun from the Federal courts, which have ruled that double-bunking and overall crowded conditions constitute cruel and unusual punishment. Therefore, the states have been mandated to relieve that pressure."

Due to the overcrowded conditions, Judge Donald Gilmore, Carroll County Circuit Court, early this month suspended the sentences of two convicted burglars because there was not enough room in the prisons.

"Another reason," he continued, "is that, despite statistics to the contrary, it is still the philosophy of the state government and commissioners of correction that community rehabilitation is better than incarceration. Rehabilitation of criminals generally does not work," he said. "The likelihood is great that the supposedly rehabilitated criminal will resume his illegal activities after his release."

At the request of Judge Thayer, Chief Judge Robert Murphy, Maryland Court of Appeals, included in his recent State of the Judicial Address to the Maryland legislature a request that the legislators provide to the judges some guidelines for sentencing. Thayer noted some apparent inconsistencies in how the legislature approaches the question of sentencing. In certain cases it encourages stiffer, mandatory sentences, such as for crimes involving the use of a handgun and those involving specific drugs. On the other hand, the legislature bends under the ever-present call for more leniency and, consequently, instructs the Parole Board to construct rehabilitation programs.

When asked if he believes that incarceration and stiffer sentences are deterrents for crime, Thayer stated that, for the hardened criminal, prison sentences are probably not a strong deterrent. "It is said that years ago, while an individual was being hanged for pickpocketing, there were persons among the crowd witnessing the hanging being pickpocketed. For this type of criminal, sentencing does little to deter him."

However, Thayer feels that for the person "on the fringe"—between being a criminal and not being one—stiff sentencing is indeed a deterrent. "If you give the first-time bad check writer 30 days in jail, for example, he will most likely not do it again."

Thayer also said that he believes capital punishment is a deterrent to crime.

Many are under the assumption that most other nations are more strict when it comes to the incarceration of criminals. Yet, despite the increased paroling of criminals, Thayer said that there is a higher percentage of criminals in the United States doing time than in any other nation.

As for solutions to the problem of overcrowded prisons, Thayer said the most obvious one is to build more prisons. Lack of money is one of the main reasons for not doing so. It also costs approximately $14,000 per year for the incarceration of each prisoner. Despite, that, Thayer said that money could be available, "but it is more popular to build schools and hospitals than to build prisons."

Judge Thayer believes that the "feeling-sorry-for-the-criminal" attitude, which was prevalent during the sixties and early seventies, is fading rapidly. With the increase of crime, the public is demanding more and more that the criminal be put away. "This is precisely what most judges want, too," Thayer concluded.

State PTA Groups Observe Founders Day

During the month of February, PTA's throughout the state of Maryland will be observing Founders Day. The National PTA was founded on February 17, 1897, when 2000 mothers gathered in Washington, D. C., to share a mutual concern — the well-being of all children. The announcement concerning the observance was made by the Maryland State PTA.

In Founders Day observances, PTA members pay honor to the founders, Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst, and to present-day leaders of the state, council, and local PTA units.

On this occasion, local PTAs collect a Founders Day gift or contribute funds for the gift. These contributions are sent to the State PTA, which retains half the money and sends the remaining half to the National PTA headquaters in Chicago. The gifts are used for strengthening the on-going work of PTA and supporting the PTA goals — the welfare of children and youth everywhere.

Iowa was the first state to tax cigarettes, beginning on April 11, 1921. Prior to this, it was illegal to sell cigarettes in Iowa.

Life Without Peanut Butter

by Carol Kapel

I'd always thought of peanuts as something to nibble with beer—something to crush and sprinkle over ice cream.

I praised the little goobers for allowing themselves to be smashed and blended with oil to create the mainstay of a teenage diet—the proverbial after-school snack.

Miles of bread piled high with mounds of smooth, creamy peanut butter . . . now, to choose the garnish! How about bananas? Bacon? Jelly? Pickles? Marshmallow? Honey?

But wait!! What about the peanut shortage? Have you priced a jar of peanut butter recently? Better yet, have you found a jar of peanut butter recently?

Domestic peanut production dropped 42 percent this summer due to the prolonged dry weather in peanut growing areas. Do you realize what this is doing to mothers all over America who depend on the roof-sticking filler for the mouths of children everywhere? Does this mean the end of peanut butter fudge? Peanut butter cups? Peanut brittle? Peanut butter toast? Oh no—not peanut butter crackers, too!

Don't panic! If you were really smart, you ran to the local market and snatched up a dozen jars when word of the shortage came. If you weren't, you can always take out a second mortgage on the house and finance a jar today.

The peanut was first discovered in Latin America more than 2000 years ago, and the ancient Inca tribes buried their mummified dead with a supply of the nuts to give them strength for the journey ahead.

Now, if I can just locate one of those burial sites!

Signs of Spring

by Harry Fox

Ka-WHAM. The sudden drop in the road causes the car's frame to contract, then shudder briefly under the impact. Car bodies were not built to take this punishment gracefully. Nor, come to think of it, was the human body. To an untrained eye the view from the driver's seat provides no warning of the sunken roadbed, unless you happen to be behind some fellow-unfortunate. Then the wild contortions of his vehicle may give some opportunity to slow down to, say, a sedate 5 m.p.h.

The novice may not be observant enough to detect an impending change in the seasons here on the Mountaintop. Garrett Countians eschew such humdrum signs of Spring as chirping birds and warm breezes. Potholes, and washed out roads are among the more certain clues that Ol' Man winter is getting ready to leave. Therefore, as a public service, we offer a guide for the unwary resident who longs for blue skies and green grass.

Mud: The volume of mud surrounding you and your home, possessions, and children increases dramatically. This is most often observed when dressing offspring in Sunday suits or going to dinner parties in (dry clean only) formal wear. One possible solution is to wear only old clothes and shoes from February to April.

Precipitation: The frequency of rain varies directly with the need to be outside. In most cases, this occurs when fair weather and clear skies are forecast, so be prepared to not be prepared. Keeping a raincoat at the office is one defense, though I ended up with all of them at work. (This behavior in school age children is known as the "cloak room corollary.") The solution? Wear a raincoat every day.

Emotional states: These are quite useful in identifying certain major groups within the population. During extended thaws, persons with full-season lift tickets dangling from their jackets are considered dangerous. Engage in conversation about anything but the weather.

Seed catalogs: Most mailboxes are inadequate to absorb the full load of these publications. The rich, verdant colors and glowing descriptions of warm, humus-filled starting trays catch us in a vulnerable state. Use caution, since this is a good way to end up with a garden of grotesque proportions.

Easter cards, candy, etc.: Something in the retailing mind likes to keep the consumer working about three months ahead. This same behavior can be observed in mid-Summer. Then it is called Christmas in July.

Almanacs: When all else fails, consult the source. How can anyone argue with these marvelous publications? Almanacs also contain calendars, which will tell you that Spring is officially five weeks away.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I can sympathize with the WWII and Vietnam vets who believe that they have been slighted by the people of the USA.

Fifty-two Americans return from captivity in Iran and the whole country throws a party for them. But I think it goes deeper than that.

The 52 hostages were captured during a time of US peace, whereas the WWII and Vietnam vets were soldiers fighting for their country. At the time that the hostages were captured, the US needed a cause for unity. That coupled with the national apathy towards patriotism that prevailed during the 70's, is mainly what caused our country to come together during the whole crisis.

I can't believe that the US has forgotten all the wartime vets, nor can I believe that they (the vets) are considered any less heroic than the ex-hostages. But, be it right or wrong, WWII and the Vietnam ordeal are old news, whereas the hostage crisis was something new to enrage the Americans. In time, the eyes of America will turn to another crisis, and leave the hostage issue behind in history.

My point is: all American's who have suffered for their country are heroes, regardless of the recognition (or lack of it) they have received.

With respect to Vets,
Lyz Flanagan

To The Editor:

As a Vietnam Veteran I totally agree with Rocky Smith's letter in last weeks Republican.

I'm glad that the hostages are home. But after nearly a month of hearing about nothing on television or radio but the parades, gifts, free trips to Hawaii, free life-time hunting licenses, and everything else that's been done for them, I'm angry.

When I received my orders to go to Vietnam I was placed in the 1st Infantry Division. Everyone referred to it as the "Big Red One" because we were one of the first divisions in Vietnam and we lost so many men. I served one year there without complaining because I felt that as a United States citizen, I was doing my duty.

But I now feel that the Vietnam Veterans have been let down by our government, our states, and our home towns. We didn't have parades. Our local towns didn't recognize us in anyway.

When the U. S. Government finally pulled all the troops out of Vietnam most of the states surrounding Maryland awarded coming-home pay to their veterans. Maryland veterans received nothing.

I can see why many of the veterans have mental problems and many have committed suicide. If I hadn't received Jesus Christ as my personal Savior and asked Him to take charge of my life, I might have been one of those statistics. I thank God for the Peace that He has given me.

The American people should be proud of the Vietnam veterans for fighting a hard fight. In spite of the bad publicity, we're proud to be Americans!

Again, let me say that we're happy for the hostages and we're not trying to rain on their parade. We're just asking where was or is ours? It's not too late for a little appreciation and recognition.

Dear Editor:

I know just how those people feel who wrote last week concerning the Dept. of Social Services. I had my two boys taken away from me two years ago.

We left the boys with babysitters because my husband's brother was in an accident and not expected to live. When we came back from Ohio (2 weeks later) we found out our boys had been taken from the babysitters by the Dept. of Social Services.

They ran me around in circles saying if I'd do this or that I would get them back, but I never did. I'm still trying to get them.

They say I'm not fit because I tried to get help for my nerves, and that two years have gone by and they are going to take them for good. I'm not even allowed to go see them any more. I love them very much and I want them back so bad.

What did I do to deserve this treatment from the Welfare? You're right, this is a Harper Valley.

A Concerned
Loving Mother
Denise Tasker

Dear Editor:

I would like to direct this letter to the presidents of the local banks, and challenge either or both to give the public a logical explanation as to why it was decided to penalize most of the people with checking accounts, since most of the people with accounts cannot afford to keep $100 in checking, much less $300.

According to one of the Bank Board members there are too many accounts of $20.00 or less, and this is their way of closing these unwanted accounts.

Why then did you not pick a more realistic figure of say $50? Or is it simply another money making scheme? Most people suspect that it is.

I know that many of your customers are, in anger and frustration, closing their accounts. I intend to do so also, even if it means banking by mail if this exorbitant fee is not rescinded or least lowered to a more realistic level.

Sir:

We have heard about the increase the Potomac Edison Co. is asking.

May I ask why the electricity is going off and on? Weather conditions are good. This has happened five times since this issue was brought up.

All concerned citizens should turn to the gas or wood stoves, burn candles or kerosene lamps.

We don't have to pay the increase in electricity.

We can not get transportation to vote.

Are we in a free country?

used on the forms were supposedly residents of that same city.

The pair allegedly presented the prescriptions at Englander's Pharmacy and Gregg's Pharmacy, both in Oakland, but were refused by the druggists on duty.

A hearing on the charges is pending.

During the last several weeks, at least seven persons have reported stolen ski equipment to Marvland State Police.

The skis, poles, and bindings were removed from the Wisp Ski area, McHenry, by unknown culprits while the owners were otherwise occupied.

Those persons reporting missing equipment include Linda Sutton, Hagerstown; Peter Steensen, McHenry; John Earl Denison, Deer Park; Robert Arthur Downs, Vienna, Va.; Kathy O'Neill, Silver Spring; Marion Haney Trevaski, Cumberland; and Carter DeFrancraux, Potomac.

Value of the missing merchandise is estimated in excess of $1600.

The investigation is continuing.

An Oakland man was arrested and charged with assault and battery against another man as the result of an alleged domestic dispute.

Steven McGreevy was arrested by Maryland State Police after he reportedly approached the auto of his wife, Debra McGreevy, and physically attacked Paul Douglas Thayer, 25, Mt. Lake Park, who was a passenger in the woman's vehicle.

Mrs. McGreevy had been stopped by a police on a routine traffic violation when her husband arrived on the scene and allegedly attacked the victim.

A warrant was obtained by Thayer for the arrest.

A Night Out With The Presidents

by Beverly J. Sincell

Gerald Iman, president of Deep Creek Oil Co., Kitzmiller.

They were all there—150 members of the Alfalfa Club and their guests (a total of 600) were present for their 68th Anniversary Dinner at the Capitol Hilton, Washington, D. C., Saturday, January 24.

There was Ronald Reagan, President of the United States; Dr. Henry Kissinger, former Secretary of State; John D. Rockefeller, III, Governor of West Virginia; U. S. Senator John Glenn, former astronaut; Griffin Bell, former Attorney General; and Gerald W. Iman, President of Deep Creek Oil Co., Kitzmiller.

What??? Read that paragraph again!

Yes, you really did read Gerald Iman's name on that list of who's who, because he was at that dinner for the Alfalfa Club.

It was a once-in-a-lifetime-experience for Iman who will have a hard time forgetting his dinner with everyone who is someone in the United States.

They could have dropped a bomb on the Hilton that night and put the whole nation in a bind because present at that dinner were the President and his cabinet, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, generals of the nation's armed forces, presidents of the top banks, oil firms, and utilities in the nation. Even Walter Cronkite was there.

Iman was there as a guest of his brother-in-law, Owen Anderson, who is the executive vice-president of the National Geographic Society and a new member of the Alfalfa Club.

Members of the club explain the meaning of the club name goes back to the Arabic word meaning "best fodder" others define it by referring to "a deep-rooted plant which admits no obstacle in its search for moisture."

Actually, says Iman, it's a group of people who get together once a year for a good dinner and lots of fun. Nothing is taken seriously and nothing is accomplished.

"One thing you learn there," said Iman, "is they're all human beings, too."

Even so, a person can only become a member by invitation from the club. Credentials for membership seem to be two things, position and money.

As part of the fun, the group nominates a candidate for president. This year it was John "Jay" Rockefeller, III, who told the group if he were elected president, his motto would be "The bucks start here."

Rockefeller said he had no argument against the federal matching fund programs for political campaigns, "If the government really needs the money."

Besides the speeches from the main guests of honor, the club was entertained by a presentation of the colors of all five armed services. The U. S. Marine Band and Metropolitan Opera Star Elizabeth Hynes provided musical entertainment.

The entertainment was excellent and so was the food, said Iman. The menu for the evening included lobster, filet mignon and Bombe Glace' Cardinale.

The service was also superb. At the clap of a hand waiters came pouring out of the doors for each course of the meal, serving all 600 in a matter of minutes. The meal was not rushed though. "We were still eating at 12:30 that night," said Iman.

As a matter of fact, Iman, whose normal bedtime is 10 p.m., said he was up to 2 a.m. that night because after the main event and even before it, there were cocktail parties to attend.

Iman met all the people he wanted to meet: Vice President George Bush, General Jimmy Doolittle, Dr. Henry Kissinger, to name a few. He did not get to meet President Ronald Reagan.

The cost for the evening was entirely borne by the members of the Alfalfa Club who each were allowed to bring three guests. They paid $75 a head.

Oh yes, Iman did have one expense for the evening—the rental price for his tuxedo which he had rented from Marvin's Men's Wear in Oakland. "I was probably the only guy there in a rented tuxedo," said Iman.

The groom was Mark Sax. The Petersons and Matthews returned home on Sunday evening.

Laurie Savage and Lou Ann Savage were guests on Saturday of Bessie Canan.

Keith Cummings was a recent patient in the Garrett County Memorial Hospital where he had to have the end of a finger surgically removed. It had been lacerated some time ago while he was loading some hogs.

The first perfumed advertising page in a newspaper appeared March 25, 1937, in Washington, D. C. It was an advertisement for the Peoples Drug Stores which featured flowers.

Vandalism And Burglary Head Complaint List

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department this week received reports of vandalism and burglary throughout the county, including three reports of summer cottages broken into in the Green Glade Road area of Deep Creek Lake.

A 1977 Dodge pickup truck, owned by Joseph Thomas Healy, Deer Park, was discovered missing from the parking lot at Joe's Place on February 15. The vehicle was recovered the same day at Chippiawa Lake, three miles north of Kingwood, W. Va., however the vehicle had been burned and totally destroyed. Loss value is estimated at $5,000.

In a separate case, Frank W. Robinette, Oakland, reported that his Appaloosa mare was struck by an automobile on February 5 at about 6 a.m., along Route 50 west of Gormania, W. Va. Robinette reported that the vehicle did not stop at the scene, and the horse, which was valued at approximately $1,000, died a short time later from injuries sustained from the accident.

Three summer dwellings located on Green Glade Road, Deep Creek Lake, were reportedly broken into sometime during the past few months.

Thomas Edward Lewis, Frostburg, reported that someone entered the basement of his dwelling there and forced entry to the upstairs living area. Taken from the dwelling were two 177 caliber pellet guns, a 25-year-old 16-gauge bolt action shotgun and a 14-inch black and white television set.

The burglars shot holes in two hanging lamp shades, a wall clock and into the insulation in a wall, causing additional $50 in damage. They appeared to have used a pellet gun, police said. Total loss value in stolen goods and damage is about $265.

A summer cottage owned by Everett William Warne, Frostburg, located in the same area, was reported broken into recently and the dwelling was ransacked. Nothing was reported missing.

Larry Joseph Werner, Frostburg, reported that his summer cottage was also entered, and the subjects broke out two windows, causing a loss of $50 in damages. Werner said the only item noticed missing was a one-half gallon jug of whiskey, valued at about $15. Total loss value is approximately $65.

In a separate case, Betty L. Sebold, Deer Park, reported a destruction of property to her 1979 Chevy Impala, while it was parked in front of her residence on February 10. Police said that unknown subjects apparently used an air gun to crack the windshield of the vehicle, resulting in an approximate $200 loss value.

Michael V. Kildow, Jr., Mt. Lake Park, reported a vandalism to his residence and two vehicles at his residence, sometime between 5:30 and 6 p.m. on February 14. Someone poured white paint on his 1976 Mercury and his 1967 Chevy El Camino truck, and paint and tar was smeared on the house and windows.

Kildow was away from the residence at the time of the incident. He reported no damage, as he cleaned up the mess when he returned home.

In a separate case, Charles Trautwein, Oakland, reported a destruction of property to his and other mailboxes along the Fingerboard Road. The mailboxes reportedly were torn from their posts during the night of February 9.

The department recovered a stolen vehicle on February 15 at Highview Park Apartments. The keys, which were in the possession of a resident there, had reportedly been left in the vehicle when it was parked there several weeks ago.

The owner, Richard A. Burgess, Mt. Lake Park, had reported the car stolen on January 21. There was no damage to the vehicle, however $8 in gasoline was missing. The investigation is continuing.

In other business, the department arrested three persons last week.

David L. Kitzmiller, 19, Deer Park, was arrested February 10 on a theft charge. He was released the same day when he posted $150 bond.

Michael Wayne Stowell, 44, Kingwood, W. Va., was incarcerated February 11 on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Ronald Edward Crosby, 19, Deer Park, was arrested February 17 on a theft charge, and was released the same day on his own recognizance.

D.A.R. Meeting Events Noted

The January meeting of the Youghiogheny Glades Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held at St. Peter's Social Center during which time Judge Lewis Jones presented slides taken in Greece during a recent trip there.

The presentation was followed by a lecture entitled "The Influence of Greek Culture on American Heritage," by Judge Jones.

Mrs. Edward Kovach, Regent, conducted the business meeting, and Mrs. James Quinet, Chaplain, led the members in the ritual and prayer for the hostages.

Hostesses for the meeting were Claudia Hamilton, Norma Hesen, Lillian Reckner, Grayce Quinet, and Leona Hardesty.

The February meeting was again held at St. Peter's Social Center, at which time Ruthvan Morrow was the speaker for the evening. His topic was conservation and endangered species of plants in the Garrett County area. Slides were shown of the Orchid and Orchidaceae family; the Pink Lady's Slipper; the Yellow Lady's Slipper; the Purplefringed Orchid; (all which grow in moist, shady areas) and the Pitcherplant and Venus Flytrap, which can be found in bogs and swamps.

According to Morrow, many of these varieties have been destroyed through the carelessness of man, lending grave concern to the threat of extinction of some species.

"CRAFTY CUBS OF PACK 31" is the title of a display window in Sears, Oakland, displaying some of the crafts made by the cub scout troop during the past year. Pack 31, under the direction of Paul Wampler and Lorraine Gnegy, is working to promote the Cub Scout program during the month of February, designated as Cub Scout Month. To kick off Cub Scout Month the group and their families attended worship services at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, to hear a sermon by the Rev. Curtis Saville dealing with the benefits and responsibilities of cub scouting. The highlight of the month is the Blue and Gold Awards Banquet, to be held February 28, at the Deer Park Fire Hall.

ENERGY TIP—There is no need to cover oven-baked foods unless the recipe specifically calls for it. A cover keeps out heat and extends the time needed for cooking.

LIVING IN SMALLER SPACES

With the costs of housing and energy continually on the rise, more families and individuals are facing the challenge of living in smaller homes. Experts predict that unless housing expectations are modified, the amount of money spent on housing will soon exceed 30% of the family income.

Space needs and wants should be carefully evaluated by families. Important considerations should include the total amount of space, division of the space, room arrangement and flexibility in the use of space.

Some basic principles for room use and design which can help make space more functional include:

*Fewer rooms, fewer walled hallways, and carefully planned storage areas should be considered.

*A single eating area near the kitchen and living area, large enough for family and guests could eliminate the need for a separate dining area.

*Built in bedroom furniture could help stretch bedroom space.

*A compartmented bathroom to accommodate two or three people at a time could reduce the need for a second bathroom.

To make your present home seem less crowded, a hard look at the use of space may help you gain some elbow room.

*Make sure no areas are under-used. Maybe a guest room could double as a study room, a sewing and hobby room.

*Clustering the TV, stereo, book shelves and storage cabinets into a wall system can increase usable floor space.

*Small scale, multi-purpose furniture with straight lines will help avoid a crowded look.

*Matching window treatment colors to wall colors gives the room a larger uninterrupted look. Using the same wall space and floor colors throughout the house will also help.

Affordability is the push behind the trend toward small homes. To help make limited space livable, sound design principles, careful floor plans and lots of imagination need to be applied.

FSC Musical Will Feature Its Playwright

Oscar Brown, Jr., nationally-known songwriter, singer, actor and playwright, and this month's artist-in-residence at Frostburg State College, will play the title role in his own musical, "Kicks & Company," appearing February 26 through March 1 in Compton Auditorium at the college.

This will be the premier college production of the work originally produced in Chicago in the early 60's, directed by Lorraine Hansberry and featuring Burgess Meredith as "Kicks." Frostburg's production will feature new orchestrations recently completed by Jon Bauman of the college's music faculty.

FSC's producer and director David R. Press said that Brown's visit to the college gives the students a unique opportunity to work with an artist of national stature. Press said he considers Brown to be an "artistic genius." Brown is here to rework the play for possible future performances elsewhere in the country.

Press said Brown's publisher is anticipating a national promotion of the show and the playwright, based on the production at Frostburg State. Brown describes "Kicks & Company" as a "modern day morality play with music, that swings its way through the struggles of our recent past."

Brown's visit to Frostburg State College is being supported by the Student Artist and Lecture Series Committee, the Office of Minority Affairs, Department of Speech and Theatre, Department of Music, the Allegany Arts Council, Maryland Art Council, the Frostburg State College Foundation, and through the cooperation of Marks Music Corporation of New York City.

Ticket information and reservations for "Kicks & Company" are available by calling 689-4145. Groups should make reservations well in advance.

Real Estate

By DON CARSTENS
Deep Creek Realty

THE FINAL MOMENT

You've looked at many houses and you've finally decided on a choice. You go back for a final look; a much more critical look than the others. Don't be timid. Check everyting you think is important with a critical eye. No house will be perfect, but you should know about any defects before making a final decision.

And when the time comes, let the REALTOR handle the actual price negotiations. This is always the toughest and most sensitive part of any home purchase. He's an expert in this type of negotiation. He knows both parties' financial positions, and can usually come out with a better arrangement than via personal confrontation between principals. One party will usually be at a disadvantage. Don't be afraid to quibble. Few homes sell at the asking price - but don't ask him to do the impossible.

And, be sure you know the answers to all the dollars and cents questions, such as, taxes, operating expenses, closing costs, fees, etc. If you don't know - ask!

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices:

FFA WEEK PROCLAIMED — Members of the Oakland, Northern Garrett and Junior Northern Garrett Future Farmers of America chapters gathered yesterday in the Garrett County Commissioners' meeting room for the signing of a proclamation naming next week, February 21-28, as FFA Week in Garrett County. Pictured seated, left to right, are Commissioners Ernest J. Gregg, Jr., Truman E. Paugh and H. Lester Hunter. Pictured in the back row, left to right, are Mrs. Frank Paugh, Johnna Jones, Rodger Evans, Richard Bender, Bill Goldsborough, chairman of the Board of Trustees for Garrett Community College; Mark Harman, Alan Guard, and Jim Friend. The proclamation states that the FFA "performs the valuable service of developing leadership, encouraging cooperation, promoting good citizenship, teaching modern agricultural information, and inspiring patriotism among its members."

Area Health Needs Assessment Survey Of Consumers Completed

The Cumberland Area Health Education Center, founded to improve health care through health manpower education, has announced the completion of the Western Maryland Health Needs Assessment Survey of consumers begun in August, 1980 by Lee Ross, Ph.D., Director of TOGETHER, a private consulation service in LaVale.

In cooperation with the Health Systems Agency of Western Maryland, and in compliance with Section 781 of the Health Professions Educationl Assistance Act, CAHEC contracted with Dr. Ross to begin to assess future primary health care manpower needs in its service area, Allegany, Garrett and Washington Counties. Primary health needs refer to those conditions for which people are likely to first seek aid, help or treatment from a health care professional.

CAHEC expanded on that governmental mandate by enlarging the sample to provide information for each county and to yield basic information of concern to area physicians in family practice, general internal medicine, general pediatrics, obstetrics and gynecology, physician's assistants and nurse practitioners, dentists, nurses, pharmacists, social workers and health education and nutrition counselors.

Dr. Ross utilized a modified stratified sampling procedure based first on geographical distribution and secondly on income levels. Participants were randomly selected from the voting districts of each county. Numbers of individuals in each voting district were proportional to the census data of the preliminary report of the 1980 Census. All information on the 1100 mailed questionnaires was completely anonymous.

The survey was designed to reflect respondents' perceptions and opinions about their health care needs. This information can be used to indicate the public's current understanding of health care and to project future manpower needs for the '80's.

Dr. Ross found that 77 percent of the 645 respondents in the survey had been to see or talk to a doctor in the past year for either a routine physical examination, for an illness, or for a follow-up visit for an illness, in that order. Injury accounted for about four percent of the last visits to a doctor.

Thirty percent of the sample indicated that their family doctors spent enough time with patients to know their personal needs. Twenty-eight percent of the sample reported that hospital doctors spent enough time with patients to know their immediate needs. Most people reported that the reason doctors did not spend more time with their patients was the heavy case loads doctors tend to have.

Compared by counties, 80 percent of the sampled 322 Washington County respondents had been to see or talk with a doctor in the past year, while 69 percent of the 96 Garrett County respondents had sought care. Allegany County residents fell in between with 77 percent of the 227 respondents reporting such a visit or talk.

Seventy-eight percent of the sample reported a medical need, but only 63 percent reported they had sought treatment for those needs. According to Dr. Ross, the highest reported medical needs were for gynecological or obstetrical needs for women. Obstetrical needs tended to be met.

One gynecological need that was most prevalent was lack of receiving a regular pap test. Twenty-two percent of homes reporting indicated that the females who were old enough did not receive such a test, particularly those over 60.

Half of the women reported in the study indicated that they gave themselves a regular breast examination for lumps or growths. This evidence indicated to Dr. Ross a continued need for improved practices in early detection of cancer.

At the time of the survey, 45 percent of the respondents reported that they were currently taking a medication prescribed by a doctor, and most people, given a time frame choice of two or more times a week to about once a year, reported that they purchased medicine every two to five months, with 68 percent spending between $0-$99 prescribed medicine of the last year.

Forty percent reported that they were currently taking non-prescription medicine and again the greatest percentage of people (32 percent) reported purchasing non-prescription drugs every two to five months.

Nine percent of the sample responding reported that in the past year they had a prescription that could not be filled when they needed it because the pharmacy was closed. That percentage was slightly higher for Washington County residents.

About 42 percent of the adult population and 21 percent of the child population reported dental needs. Of this sample, 34 percent of the adults and 16 percent of the children had their needs met in the last year.

Of those responding, the greatest percentage or reported dental conditions for which adults needed dental treatment were for cavities (27 percent), dental plate problems (11 percent), and for teeth pulled (7 percent). Fifty-four percent of the sample reported a regular check-up within the last year while 41 percent reported they either never go to a dentist or only when they have a problem. The main reason for participants last visiting with a dentist were first, for a regular check-up (38 percent), second, for adjustment or repair of plate (20 percent), and third to have a tooth pulled (10 percent.).

Participants were also asked to check any needs they had had in the past year and to indicate if they had received help from any social service agency, group or church for that need. Need included: child care, preparing meals, cleaning the home, not able to pay bills or rent, not able to pay for food or new clothing.

Social agencies included the Department of Social Service, Human Resources Development, County Health Department, Senior Citizens Group, other agencies and churches.

Of the 645 participants surveyed, 3 percent reported thay they were unable ot pay for their food. A slightly fewer number reported that they were unable ot pay their bills or rent.

One-half of those who reported they were unable to pay for their food said they were helped by the Department of Social Services. One participant was helped by the County Health Department and another by a church. Forty-two percent of those reporting a need did not respond to the question about which agency, if any, gave them help for that need. The same pattern holds true for the other social service needs indicated. The greater percentage of those expressing a need did not indicate whether one of the agencies met that need.

Public meetings to discuss the collected data, possibly in each county, are planned for March 1981.

Copies of the survey will be made available to area agencies and interested citizens who request a copy.

Lakers Fall To Dundalk, Then Upset Baltimore

The Lakers of Garrett Community College suffered a disappointing defeat last Wednesday evening to Dundalk Community College, 83-79, but rounded out the regular season play Saturday on an impressive note by upsetting Baltimore CC, the American JUCO league leader, 73-69.

Garrett led throughout most of the first half against host Dundalk, twice by as many as seven points, but fell behind by one as the half ended, 41-40.

The one-point margin seesawed early in the second half, but Dundalk, went ahead 46-45 and never again lost the lead. The margin was expanded to 71-58 before the Lakers attempted a late rally, which fell short, resulting in the Lakers' tenth loss of the year against 12 wins.

Miguel Rojas paced a balanced Laker attack, finishing with 20 points. H. A. Savage netted 17, Jerome Hampton and Roger Cornwell had 14 apiece and Brian Black chipped in ten points.

Dundalk's Greg Schroeder took scoring honors with 30 points, while Mark Hurz netted 16, Paul Steinert, 15, and Mike Elswert, 13.

The teams were even from the floor, each netting 34 goals, however the winners connected on 15 of 21 free throw attempts, while the Lakers hit 11 of 17.

Laker Coach Randy Hess couldn't have been more pleased with his team's season finale over Baltimore, which primed the Lakers for the JUCO Tournament, opening tomorrow at Harford Community College. The Red Devils came to McHenry with a 9-3 conference record and 21-7 overall. The win avenged for the Lakers a 61-53 loss to the Devils earlier in the season.

Early in the game it appeared the home team would be blown off the floor, as the Red Devils hit 17 of their first 24 shots from the field for a sizzling 71 percent, while the Lakers managed to connect on only nine of 25 shots, for 36 percent. This display left the Lakers trailing, 25-12. By the end of the half, the Devils were still on top by 11, 38-27.

Baltimore increased the margin to 15 in the second half, before Garrett was able to begin to turn things around. Finally, with about eight minutes remaining in the game, the Lakers knotted the score at 54-54. With six minutes remaining, Garrett held a one-point advantage, 58-57. The lead exchanged hands until some Devil turnovers allowed Garrett to go up by five with two minutes left on the clock.

Baltimore then had to commit personals in order to have an opportunity to get the ball, but the Lakers converted seven of nine free throw attempts to ice the win.

Baltimore outgunned the Lakers from the floor, 32-27, however Garrett converted 19 of 25 foul shots, compared to a five-for-nine effort by the Devils.

H. A. Savage and Brian Black each finished with 19 points for the Lakers, while Miguel Rojas had 13 and Jerome Hampton, ten.

Freddy Moore led the Devils scoring with 25 markers. Dave Dunston and Tony Williams added 18 and 11 points, respectively.

The loss by Baltimore forced them to change places with Catonsville for the number one position in the league.

Huskies Top East Preston, Fall To Mountaineers

The Northern Huskies went one and one during the past week, coasting to a 64-47 win over East Preston Friday night in Accident, but falling to the Beall Mountaineers last night, 64-60, also on Northern's floor.

Dick Bender turned in an outstanding performance against East Preston, hitting 11 of 15 from the floor, providing six steals and pulling six rebounds. He finished with 23 points.

The Huskies were never threatened by the West Virginians, as they bolted to a 21-11 lead at the end of the first period and held a 33-24 advantage at intermission. The second half was similar, as the Huskies continued their consistent play in the third period and went into the final eight minutes leading 47-38.

Other Huskies reaching double figures were Brad and Weldon Yoder, who netted 15 and 13 points, respectively. Weldon Yoder also provided eight assists and Stan Eggleston grabbed ten rebounds, Dan Rogers led the losers' scoring with 17, while Ryan Shaffer chipped in ten points.

Dennis Shipe provided the scoring punch for Beall last night, as he connected on 15 goals and hit four from the line for 34 points. Some clutch foul shots in the waning seconds by the Mountaineers gave them the avengeful win, as the Huskies had defeated them earlier in the season, 61-56.

The first quarter of action ended in favor of Northern, 19-14. However, the Mountaineers tightened up in the second stanza and knotted the score at 30 all at intermission.

The Huskies found new life in the third period and pulled away by five, 47-42, going into the final chapter, but Beall caught fire and outscored Northern 22-13 in the last eight minutes to give them the win. It was the eighth loss of the season for Coach Harv Speicher's Huskies, against ten victories.

Rams Edge Morgantown, Then Upset By Bruce

The Southern High Rams utilized the rally to perfection Friday evening in Morgantown, as they whipped the Mohegans 63-59 in overtime. However, last night it was the Bruce Bulldogs using the rally in like fashion to upset the Rams, 51-46. Bruce was flying high after a win over previously unbeaten Valley the week previous.

Southern was down 18-14 at the end of the first quarter against Morgantown, a deficit which was expanded to six, 34-28, at intermission. However, the Rams took over the momentum slowly in the third stanza and were down by only one, 46-45, going into the final eight minutes.

With all but 3:08 expired in the fourth quarter, Southern took a 56-54 lead, their first of the contest. Morgantown quickly connected on a bucket to tie the score. Southern froze the ball for 2:47 and took a last-second jumper at the buzzer, which did not drop, forcing the game into overtime.

The Mohegans began to foul heavily in the extra minutes and the Rams took full advantage at the line, sinking seven tosses, giving them their 14th win of the season in 18 starts.

Southern's Jeff Ryscavage ripped the nets for 29 points on ten goals and nine of 11 from the line, while teammate Brian Selders scored 17 on seven goals and three of five free tosses.

The Mohegans were paced by Jeff Godwin, Pat Richter and Mel Schifano, who each contribuated 12 points.

Southern was outshot by Morgantown from the field by a 23-20 margin, however the Rams converted 23 of 32 foul shots, compared to a 13-for-21 effort by the Mohegans.

In Westernport last night it was the Rams who watched their arm's length lead in the first half fade away after intermission.

Southern jumped out to a 16-9 lead by the end of the first quarter, and held a 27-22 advantage at the half. But the Bulldogs came out fired up in the third stanza to assume a two-point lead, 40-38, as the final chapter opened. Although play was close during the fourth quarter, the Bulldogs maintained the lead and earned their 12th win of the season against six defeats. Southern had defeated the Bulldoge, 57-52, earlier this season.

Ryscavage once again took Southern's scoring honors, netting 20 points. Dave Harsh contributed 11.

Dave Morris led the Bulldogs' offensive attack with 16 markers. Donnie Marsh had 12, Mark McMaster 11, and Jesse Harris, ten.

The Rams were outgunned from the field 22-19, but held the edge at the foul line, hitting nine of 14, compared to a seven-for-24 effort by Bruce.

In the preliminary contest, the Southern Jayvees fell to their Bruce counterparts, 54-48.

Southern will go back into action Friday evening by hosting Northern.

Women Bowlers Set Membership Meeting Date

May 26 was set as the date for the Annual Open Membership Meeting by the Western Maryland Women's Bowling Association during its February meeting.

The group, which did not determine a meeting location, set 7:30 p.m., as the time for the meeting to begin.

In other business of the February meeting, one member announced the Women's International Bowling Conference (WIBC) annual meeting will be held in Baltimore, April 27-29.

Bev Warnick, Bev Huey, and Gladys Baker, directors on the Board of the Maryland State Women's Bowling Association, reported the possibility of the Queens Tournament to be held again during the State Tournament.

They also said the Maryland State Women's Bowling Association now has its own flag. The flag design selected was submitted by Laura Murray, a life member of the Western Maryland Women Bowling Association.

A quilt is being embroidered by the State Directors to present to Alberta Crowe, who will be retiring July 1 as president of WIBC, they said.

Association members discussed the Scotch Doubles Tournament scheduled for February 14-15, at White Oak Lanes. Gladys Baker and Bev Huey were appointed as co-chairmen of the coronation ceremony for a king and queen to be selected during the tournament.

Pat Lease announced the local tournament will be held at White Oak Lanes next year.

A suggestion was made to write a letter to the Dapper Dan Club thanking them for honoring bowlers at their annual sports awards dinner. Thanks were expressed to Pat Lease for hostessing the Association's Christmas party at her home.

An announcement was made that a Ladies Only Tournament will be held April 11 and 12, at White Oak Lanes, and the AJBC Tournament will be held March 29, in Springfield, Virginia.

Fifteen members and one guest were in attendance. Members were Tillie Dishong, Pat Lease, Nancy Corbin, Janet Hess, Rita Burton, Debbie Mohler, Bev Huey, Linda Bauer, Marcella Squires, Dee Wolford, Ethel Lewis, Gladys Baker, Corann Clatterbuck, Bev Warnick and Ruth Baker. YOU CANNOT bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift. You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong. You cannot help the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer. You cannot further the brotherhood of man by encouraging class hatred. You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich. You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you earn. You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence. You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves.

Gas Control Defect Warning Issued

The manufacturer of "Unitrol" fuel control mechanisms used on certain liquid propane gas water heaters is renewing its efforts to publicize and correct a potential defect which may cause severe burn injuries and deaths resulting from explosion and fires.

Since 1954, when the fuel controls first were sold to hot water heater manufacturers, there have been at least 48 deaths and 89 severe burn injuries from explosions of water heaters, equipped with these gas controls.

The program to replace the old gas controls with new ones is being conducted by Robertshaw Controls Company of Richmond, Va., in cooperation with the U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission. The manufacturer also is reissuing a national alert to warn consumers of the severe risk posed by continued use of water heaters equipped with the controls.

The warning covers the "Unitrol" model 110 and model 200 gas controls used to regulate the flow of LP (liquid propane) gas to water heaters. These controls, manufactured by Robertshaw's Grayson Controls Division of Long Beach, Ca., about 25 years ago, contain a potentially defective valve which can cause a gas leak and subsequent explosion and fire.

Approximately 1,000 of the potentially defective controls still are believed to be in use nationwide. Many of these controls may be found on water heaters located in rural areas, such as in homes, on farms, in vacation or weekend homes, or in hunting or fishing camps. (LP gas commonly is used to fuel appliances in rural areas due to the unavailability of natural gas lines.)

The potentially defective controls were sold to approximately 110 water heater manufacturers from December, 1954, through February, 1957. The controls include Unitrol models 110 and 200, showing any date code which includes the letters W or X, or the letter combinations LV, AY, BY, or CY.

Consumers can identify the affected units by looking for "Unitrol 110" on the face of the control, or for "Unitrol 200" on the temperature dial on the front of the control. The controls are located near the bottom of the water heater. Date codes are stamped next to the gas pilot outlet which is located on the bottom side of the control and to the right. Use of a small mirror will aid consumers in reading the date code more easily.

In 1974, Robertshaw notified CPSC of the potential defect in the gas controls, and subsequently instituted a program to repair the devices.

Consumers who own LP gas water heaters should check the heater control to determine if a Unitrol model 110 or 200 with a date code mentioned above has been used. If so, consumers then should contact Robertshaw at its toll-free number 800-421-1130. Following a free inspection, the firm will install new controls if appropriate.

Anyone wishing to verify the model numbers or the brand name should contact CPSC's toll-free Hotline at 800-638-8326; and in Maryland, at 800-492-8363.

Lung Association Offers Latest Non-smoking Tips

The latest U. S. Surgeon General's Report has cast a shadow over the so-called advantages to low tar and nicotine cigarettes, according to the American Lung Association of Maryland. The manufacturers have removed most of the tobacco from the cigarette but have replaced it with fillers. The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms does not require the identity of these substances to be revealed. Some of these fillers, when burned, become carcinogens, cancer causing chemicals. New brands are being introduced every month with claims that they taste better and harm the smoker less. The Surgeon General says the filler does improve the taste, but at what cost?

The Lung Association report goes on to say that a second reason to be concerned is the release of 1980 cancer statistic by Dr. John B. DeHoff, Commissioner of Health for Baltimore City. The rise in lung cancer deaths last year was 16% for men and 20% for women. That is only a one-year rise. If the past decade is considered, death rates for men have risen 39 percent and, for women an incredible 73 percent. Dr. DeHoff states it simply, "Cigarette smoking is the major cause of lung cancer." By 1983, lung cancer will surpass breast cancer as the number one cancer killer of Baltimore women by 1983 according to the Association.

If the above information is not enough, consider a study published in the latest issue of the British Medical Journal conducted by Dr. Takeshi Hirayama of the Japanese National Cancer Center Research Institute, Toyko, says the Association. Over 265,000 adults have been studied since 1966 to determine the effects of different lifestyles on health. Hirayama discovered that nonsmoking wives of smoking husbands had up to twice the risk of death from lung cancer as their counterparts with nonsmoking husbands. The highest risk was among wives with husbands who smoke a pack or more a day.

If smokers cannot find a way of quitting for themselves, then the American Lung Association recommends that they "Do It For Someone They Love". A brand new self-help manual in two parts — FREEDOM FROM SMOKING — is now available to the smoker with a reason to stop.

Persons interested in starting a non-smoking habit, should write to the American Lung Association of Maryland, 11 E. Mt. Royal Avenue, Baltimore, 21202, or call 685-6484. Those outside the Balitmore Metropolitan exchanges can call toll free (800) 492-7527.

Maryland Photos, 1860 To 1925, To Be Displayed

"Photographs of Western Maryland; 1860 to 1925," will be on display at the Allegany Community College Theatre from February 20 through March 13. The exhibition, which is funded by the Maryland Committee for the Humanities, includes the works of Leo Beachy, a leading photographer of the Grantsville area from 1901 to 1926, and the works of Robert Shriver and Joel Griffith, who were reportedly from the Cumberland area.

The exhibition will be presented February 20 at 7:30 p. m., with lectures by Tom Beck, Curator of The Edward L. Bafford Photography Collection, University of Maryland Baltimore County Library, and by Dr. John B. Wiseman, Professor of History, Frostburg State College.

The works to be displayed are from the collections of The Allegany County Historical Society, Eleanor Le Fevre Holzshu, and Maxine Broadwater, Grantsville, niece of Leo Beachy. Approximately 3,000 of Beachy's glass negatives have come into the possession of Ms. Broadwater, and some of those negatives were developed into prints for this exhibition.

Southern Belles Capture Win In Guard Competition

The Southern High School Winter Color Guard (The Southern Belles) traveled last Saturday to Jamestown, New York, to compete in the Northeastern Regional WGI competition.

In the preliminary competition, the Southern Guard captured first place in Class A, and placed second of the ten finalist teams chosen for Sunday's finals. Color guard units also traveled to the competition from Canada, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Maine.

The show included costumes, dance, and equipment maneuvers with rifles, silks, and sabres, done to Latin American flavored accompaniment.

Preliminary scores tallied 68.1 for the Southern team over 21 other teams, with 60.66 in the final competition of nine other guard units for second place honors. The Imperial Regiment took first place in Class A with 63.66. The Holly, New York unit, placed first in open class with 88.66.

The Southern Guard will travel to Irwin, Pa., and Pittsburgh, Pa., for the Markette and Pittsburgh Racket Show this weekend, and to one more regional competition to be held in New Jersey, which will qualify the Guard for the WGI Championships in Syracuse, New York.

PET POINTERS

By Robert L. Stear, D.V.M.
Manager of Veterinary Services
Norden Laboratories

Across the country, veterinarians are explaining a new disease to dog owners — "Parvovirus infection."

Parvovirus is an extremely hardy organism that was first identified in 1978 to be the cause of a new contagious canine disease. It was initially seen in a few show dogs, and then quickly spread across the United States, Canada, Europe, and even to Australia. The disease causes a severe diarrhea, accompanied by fever and vomiting, and can also result in heart failure in puppies.

The virus spreads by direct and indirect contact. An infected dog can transfer the virus organisms directly to a healthy animal by physical contact. Or a healthy pet can become infected indirectly, by the virus in fecal material, on feed or water bowls, or in kennels that housed sick animals.

Almost all dogs are susceptible to parvovirus infection, but not all will become ill. Pets that are stressed by parasites, poor nutrition, or age will sicken much more quickly than pets in good condition.

The most common victim of a parvo infection is the young puppy. Although they may be healthy, young animals experience a great deal of stress. Their bodies are growing rapidly, their digestive systems must adjust to new foods, and they spend a great deal of energy in daily play. All these factors make puppies vulnerable to infection.

Often pet owners don't know that puppies are infected with parvovirus until shortly before the pets collapse. The only warning of cardiac failure may be the puppy's refusal to eat and the erratic breathing and whimpering that accompany the internal heart damage.

Parvovirus can also cause an entirely different set of symptoms that resemble the warning signals of canine distemper. The dog seems depressed and loses its appetite. Then a fever develops, and the dog begins to vomit. Finally, diarrhea begins, and the pet rapidly dehydrates. The strain on the intestinal system may also encourage other bacterial infections to develop.

It is extremely hard to distinguish parvovirus infections from certain other canine diseases such as distemper. To be positive, your veterinarian probably will order certain laboratory tests to be performed on stool or blood samples. In any case, there is little to be done except provide good nursing care. The dog will need fluids to replace those lost through diarrhea and vomiting, and possibly antibiotics to prevent other infections from developing. Dogs that do recover are usually immune to further parvo attacks.

Your veterinarian will tell you that vaccines that prevent canine parvovirus infections are still in the experimental stage. Those commercially available are prepared from a vaccine that is used primarily to protect cats against feline panleukopenia, a disease that is closely related to canine parvovirus. These vaccines will protect your dog for short periods of time, three to six months.

Several companies and universities are working to produce parvovirus vaccines designed especially for dogs. These vaccines will offer protection for a year or more, and may be available sometime in 1981.

In the meantime, you can make certain steps to reduce the possibility that your pet will contract parvovirus. Try to reduce the pet's exposure to other dogs and areas contaminated with canine stools, as these may contain the virus. Be aware that the greatest danger is present where large numbers of dogs gather — at dog shows, boarding kennels, or obedience trails. If you must be present at such gatherings, vaccinate with the currently available vaccines to reduce the risk. If you visit dog shows or households with dogs, consider disinfecting your clothing and shoes with a dilute solution of a strong bleach and water (one part bleach to 30 parts water), to help kill any virus particles that may come home with you. Finally, try to keep your dog in good condition. A healthy dog that is free from parasites, vaccinated against other diseases, and fed a balanced diet has the best chance to resist parvovirus attack.

Social Security Benefits Outlined

A recent report by the Government Accounting Office—the Congressional watchdog on Government expenditures—indicated that social security pays only the $255 lump-sum death benefit on the work record of one worker in every eight who dies before retiring, according to Miss Valerie J. Loughran, district manager of social security, Cumberland. But it may be misleading to think that this category of taxpayers does not receive anything else from the social security system, she emphasized.

A closer look at the GAO report and the benefits that people actually receive illustrates the point. For example, the GAO study states the other side of the same coin—that the remaining six out of seven people who die while covered or receiving social security benefits get back more than the taxes they paid in, with some getting much more.

About 76.3 percent of the social security lump-sum death payments were made after a person had been receiving retirement benefits. Their average age of death was 74, so most of them had already been receiving benefits since age 62 or 65 and thus had probably seen a substantial return on their social security taxes.

In fact, if taxes were paid on maximum earnings since social security began in 1937, the amount paid would be about $12,800 through 1980, and one would get that money back in less than 20 months if retiring now at age 65, (sooner if you had an eligible spouse).

Another group identified in the report was 9.5 percent who died before retiring at an average age of 50, leaving eligible survivors. Survivors benefits are paid to a family as long as the youngest child is 18—22 if unmarried and in school full time. Thus such benefits could mean thousands of dollars beyond the workers' taxes.

Workers who die before retiring and do not have eligible survivors receive the same protection against the loss of income if they had become disabled that their fellow workers do. This protection has a cost and a value just as the fire, auto, or other hazard insurance they carried and did not use.

To this extent, it is incorrect to view the program strictly in terms of the return on a worker's "investment." The measure of the effectiveness of a social insurance program is the degree of protection it provides for society as a whole through benefits to people who retire, become disabled, or died leaving surviving members, according to Miss Loughran.

While individual equity plays an important role—to the extent a worker receives a "reasonable return" on taxes paid—the idea of a "return" for taxes paid certainly does not extend to paying benefits to the deceased's estate. Such a measure would in no way promote the purpose of the program.

As a social insurance program, social security reduces the uncertainty of living in an interdependent society, protecting the worker and his or her family against the greatest threats to a family economic security—loss of income through retirement, disability, or death.

The real measure of the value of the protection is what happens to those who need to collect, not what happens to those who don't. To this extent, the GAO report shows that those who collect get their money's worth.

Miss Loughran also pointed out that the money paid into social security by people who die without getting benefits or leaving any survivors goes to pay benefits to people who do live to retire, or who become disabled, or died leaving survivors.

Also, the lump-sum death payment, if there are no survivors, is paid to whoever pays the funeral expenses.

Information regarding any social security matter may be obtained at the Cumberland social security office, located at 316 Paca Street. The telephone number is 724-0970. Residents of Garrett County and Mineral County, W. Va., may call the office collect.

Adult Basketball League Asks Board For Use Of School Gym

The Garrett County Board of Education Thursday, February 12, agreed to assist the Mountain Top Basketball League in its search for a gymnasium, since there is no longer any room for them at Southern High School.

"The League will fold if we can't get the use of a gym," Dave Martin, spokesman for the League, told the Board Thursday.

Martin appeared before the Board to request for the use of the small gymnasium at Southern High School or another gym, after Luther Parrack, SHS principal, informed the League the small gymnasium was not available this year.

The League was dissatisfied with Parrack's reasons for the unavailability of the gym and sent Martin to the Board for its determination in the matter.

During the meeting, Parrack submitted a schedule of activities for the two gymnasiums and stated the school could not accommodate the League on a regular basis. He stated the school could accommodate the League if it changed its basketball season schedule to different months of the year.

Martin told the Board the League had been in existence for 20 years and had not had a problem with using the school gym in previous years. He said the League needed a gym for two hours on Thursday evenings.

Martin also pointed out Garrett Community College had opened its gymnasium to the League on Thursday evenings. He explained the one gym was not adequate because the League scheduled three games each Thursday and to play all three games in one gym would run the games too late into the night.

He added that the League members were willing to cooperate with the Board to find a mutually satisfactory solution.

Parrack stated the main reason availability of the gym was a problem this year was the increase in school sports and activities during the winter. He noted one of the school groups had to practice in a community building on weekends because of no available space in the school.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county school superintendent, pointed out that there were other schools with gyms in the Oakland area. He agreed to direct his staff to contact those schools to find a gym available to the League.

In other business, Albert Ringer, assistant superintendent of curriculum and instruction, and James Lupis, assistant superintendent of administrative services, informed the Board that even though some areas of their budgets were expended and they had several unexpected expenditures, they expected to end the fiscal year without budget deficits.

After discussing the school attendance policy, the Board directed Al Coviello, supervisor of pupil services, to take it back to the Attendance Policy Committee for further review. Some concerns for the committee to study were simplification of policy administration, inflexibility of certain categories in the policy, and possibility of a personal day for students.

The Board appointed John Parsons, Friendsville, and Cecil Holtschneider, Accident, to the Vocational Advisory Council.

The Board approved a school facilities master plan for Garrett County public schools developed by West Virginia University. The plan, which recommends public school facility needs based on county enrollment projections for the next 20 years, predicted a stable to slightly decreasing enrollment for the next 20 years.

As part of the plan, the consultants recommended renovation of Northern High School to be the top priority for future construction funding. Second priorities would be the replacement of the Loch Lynn Elementary School and the renovation of Southern High School.

The plan will be sent to the Maryland Department of State Planning, the funding agency.

The Board awarded the bid for a technical assistance audit of Northern High School to the EBL/Riser Associates, Hagerstown. The results of the audit, to be almost entirely funded by Department of Energy grants, will be used to apply for energy conservation measures which will reduce energy consumption in the school buildings.

The Board of Education also took action in making final payment to Westmoreland Construction Company of Greensburg, Pennsylvania, for the construction of the new Grantsville Elementary School. James Lupis told the Board that all punch list items had been completed by the contractor and that the building was operating in a satisfactory fashion with minor adjustments being necessary as the students and staff settled into the new building.

Board To Deny

They state their children used their previous bus stop for five years with no problem. In their opinion, their stop had "better visibility and stopping distance for moving traffic than most other area stops."

The decision to change the bus stop was based on recommendations by Eugene Flinn, Board of Education Supervisor of Transportation, George Small, the District Traffic Engineer for the State Highway Administration, and by the Maryland State Police.

The Board also sent a committee of three of its members to the site. When they reported back to the Board, one member dissented from the Board's vote to uphold their decision to consolidate the stops. That one member also lived along Route 50.

The Caruthers have attempted to obtain the reasons behind the recommendations but have not been satisfied with the responses.

In a letter to the Caruthers from Flinn, he stated the consolidation of bus stops would decrease the bus exposure (amount of time stopped on a road) "by at least two minutes a day." The Caruthers argue this point, noting that because their children walk from their driveway to the stop once the bus stops and flashes its lights, the exposure time is not decreased.

In its most recent letter, the Board instructed the Caruthers to either have their children walk to the bus stop prior to the arrival of the bus in the morning or to have them wait for the bus in a coal mine driveway across from the Caruthers' driveway.

The Caruthers argue that would mean their children would have to cross the highway without protection of the bus' flashing lights. Their children do walk against traffic without the protection of the flashing lights in the afternoon, but do not have to cross the road.

The Caruthers say they would agree with moving the bus stop to the coal mine driveway, an idea the Board considered but turned down.

One of the advantages to this change, says the couple, is they would not need to escort their children to and from the bus stop. Because they live almost half a mile back from the highway, the Caruthers feel they must escort their children because they do not have the advantage of watching them from their home, as would the other two families.

The Caruthers emphasize their major concern is for the safety of their children and they are willing to work with the Board to reach a mutually satisfactory agreement.

To date, they do not believe the Board has been responsive to their concern, nor do they believe that the present bus stop site is the safest possible site for the children involved. They think the Board is telling them what is best for their children.

School Board staff state the present stop provides more safety for the children than other stops in the county and less than others. They point out that there is no bus stop in the county where they can guarantee absolute safety of children.

group's attorney, Bob Enten, Oakland, spoke on their behalf and presented a map depicting the property owners protesting hook-up to the system. The general feeling of that group is that they do not want to pay for a system they do not want or need.

Tom Jones, Project Manager, stated that he feels certain that the group opposed to the system will appeal last night's decision to the Board of Garrett County Commissioners. If 20 or more people petition, he said, the county commissioners are obligated to review the record and make a final decision.

The estimated cost of the entire project is $786,311.

Move To Ban Courtroom Use

State House Of Delegates Votes Against Cameras, Recordings At Criminal Trials

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — The House of Delegates flexed the muscles of the legislative branch of government Tuesday by voting overwhelmingly to prohibit judges from allowing cameras and recording devices in criminal trials.

The measure, which Maryland's judges have officially opposed, passed 97-34 and was sent to the Senate, where similar legislation is already pending.

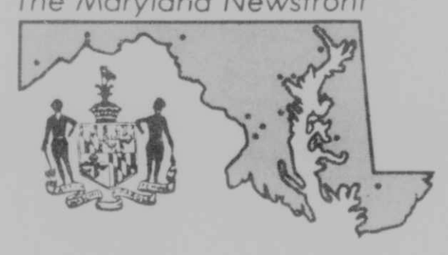

If passed by both houses and signed by the governor, the measure would end after only five months a proposed 18-month experiment in expanded news coverage of criminal trials and appeals.

It would permit, however, expanded press coverage of civil cases.

The experiment, which began Jan. 1, was ordered by Maryland's highest court, the Court of Appeals, following a lengthy study of similar experiments in other states.

Delegate Steven Sklar, D-Baltimore, the bill's sponsor, said the presence of cameras and recorders in general, and of television cameras in particular, could jeopardize the rights of defendants and inhibit witnesses from coming forward to testify.

The Maryland Newsfront

"We don't need an 18-month experiment to tell you what common sense tells you in your heart," he said.

But supporters of the experiment said the expanded coverage of court cases would improve public awareness of how the judicial system works.

"I think the public understanding of what's going on needs to be restored," said Delegate Gerald Curran, D-Baltimore. "I think the judges and the lawyers need to know the public is watching or listening on radio to the plea bargaining and other things that lead to the frustration" of the public with the judicial system, he said.

But Delegate Joseph Owens, D-Montgomery, the influential chairman of the Judiciary Committee, said television coverage would only focus on the sensational aspects of trials, and not on "the whole picture."

"The print media, as erroneous as they sometimes may be, try to give the whole picture," he said. "But the broadcasters try to give only a general idea of what's happening."

Owens referred to a hearing in his committee last week on the subject of the state movie censor board and told how a television camera crew had waited through three or four witnesses just to film censor board member Mary Avara.

"They weren't interested in what was happening on the bill, but just on that one minute of excitement," Owens said.

Others, such as Delegate Frank Conaway, D-Baltimore, said they were concerned about the impact of cameras or recorders on defendants and witnesses in juvenile cases or in sexual offense cases, such as rapes.

"I'm afraid it will cause even more trauma to the victim," Conaway said.

Sklar told of an Annapolis woman who feared for her family's welfare because she had to testify about a jewelry heist she had witnessed. Sklar said he asked her if TV cameras would have bothered her and she replied: "Are you kidding? It would make a 'basket case' out of me."

Although the Court of Appeals approved the experiment on a 4-3 vote, Chief Judge Robert Murphy asked in his State-of-the-Judiciary address for the legislature's "indulgence" to permit the experiment to run its course.

Gov. Harry Hughes, who is trained as a lawyer, said he opposes allowing cameras and recorders in the courtroom, but tends to believe the courts should have an opportunity to complete their experiment.

Hughes has not said whether he would veto legislation prohibiting such coverage.

Maryland News In Brief

Apartment Fire

GREENBELT, Md. (UPI) — A fire early Tuesday at Spring Hill Lake Apartments left 20 families homeless, Prince George's County fire officials said.

Officials said two buildings were heavily damaged by the fire that broke out about 2 a.m. Police said no one was hurt.

Fire investigators were trying to determine the cause of the blaze.

School Vandals

ESSEX, Md. (UPI) — Vandals broke into Victor Villa elementary school, breaking windows, upsetting furniture, smashing fish tanks, and destroying equipment, Baltimore County police said Tuesday.

The shool is closed this week for the county's spring break and will reopen as usual Monday morning.

The vandals broke into 24 of the 32 classrooms Monday.

Officials said they have no damage estimate.

Youth Drowns

WOODLAWN, Md. (UPI) — A 17-year-old boy fell through the half-inch thick ice covering the waters of a rock quarry and apparently drowned, Baltimore County police said Tuesday.

The victim was identified as Charles Edward Mooney Jr., of Arbutus.

Volunteer firefighters donned wetsuits and dove into the quarry looking for Mooney's body, but were not able to find it.

Sgt. Tom Lacotti said Mooney and his uncle were walking on ice at the Granite Quarry, which is filled with 50 feet of water, late Monday when the ice gave way.

"He was out with his uncle, and the ice started cracking," said Lt. Ken Krouse. "His uncle said, 'Come on back,' but the boy said, 'I can make it to the other side.' He went down in about the middle of the quarry."

'Peep Show' Tax

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Two Baltimore delegates have come up with a new approach for getting rid of an old problem — illicit "peep shows."

Delegates Isaiah Dixon and Lena Lee, both Democrats, said Tuesday the tax on coin-operated amusement devices should be raised from 1 percent to 10 percent.

They said their proposal not only would raise about $1 million in revenue for the state, but also might put "peep shows," such as those shown on Baltimore's Block — the pornographic district, out of business.

Crosses Burned

ODENTON, Md. (UPI) — Anne Arundel County police say two crosses burned near Odenton Baptist Church last weekend were probably not related to Ku Klux Klan activity.

One cross was found still burning by a parishioner late Saturday. The pastor put out the fire. A police officer returning to the scene Sunday found a smaller cross partly burned near the first one.

Lt. Richard Smith minimized the possibility the cross burnings were the work of the KKK and also discounted any connection between the church and the incidents.

Dies In Crash

LEXINGTON PARK, Md. (UPI) — A 46-year-old man died late Monday in the crash of his car and another on Maryland Route 246, state police said Tuesday.

The victim was identified as Francis Johnson, of Bushwood.

State police said Johnson was driving a car that crossed the center line of the highway and slammed into another car, driven by Patrick Dyson, 18, of Drayden.

Johnson was pronounced dead at the Patuxent Naval Air Station hospital. Dyson was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Leonardtown suffering from severe hip injuries.

Auto Repair Bill

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Delegate George Schminke, D-Anne Arundel, says he plans to introduce a bill in the legislature to require auto repair shops that charge for labor on a flat-rate basis to post signs declaring the policy to customers.

Schmincke said such pricing policies are "a king-sized consumer rip-off."

He said Monday the practice discourages repair shops from charging for the actual time it takes a mechanic to perform a repair.

Tree-Killing Infestation Found; Pine Trees Endangered In State

BELTSVILLE, Md. (UPI) — Microscopic, tree-killing worms called nematodes have been found in Maryland and are imperiling several species of pine trees in at least 27 other states, a U.S. Agriculture Department scientist said.

The worm, known as the pinewood nematode, has been found in Scotch, Austrian, White, Black, Japanese and other pine varieties in Finksburg, Laurel and on the grounds of the U.S. Agricultural Research Center in Beltsville, said William R. Nickle.

The first visible symptom of nematode infestation is yellowing needles, which eventually turn brown. Pines attacked in the spring wilt and die by late summer, Nickle said.

He sai dry weather makes the trees susceptible to the worms.

"Periods of dry, hot weather, as we had last summer, tend to weaken pines that previously showed resistance to the invading nematodes," Nickle said. "Consequently, in the spring of 1981, gardeners may find the disease to have spread to their ornamental pines."

The insects kill the trees by multiplying in the sapwood of main stems and branches, constricting the water flow.

The pests are carried from tree to tree by the long horn wood bore beetle, he said. The worms ride under the legs and wings of the beetle and swarm over the evergreens when the beetle lands, Nickle said.

The nematodes killed 8 million trees in one year in Japan, he said.

Environment Gets Budget Axe; Lacks Hughes' Support, Del. Says

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — A Maryland legislator said Gov. Harry Hughes has reneged on his promise to give the state's recently consolidated pollution control program enough money to implement a solid environmental control program.

In a letter to Hughes, Delegate Gerald W. Winegrad, D-Anne Arundel, said the governor's budget proposal lacks funds needed to hire and train qualified persons for the Office of Environmental Programs.

Various officials of the office agreed that without more funding in the fiscal 1982 budget, they will be unable to perform their task.

Winegrad said Tuesday that Hughes wrote him May 15, 1980, giving his "express commitment to support... appropriate requests by the health department for budget allocations to facilitate an effective environmental control progam."

State environmental officials said they have no one to run the hazardous waste enforcement division or the division of technical services, which writes complex permits and regulations. They also said most inspectors and enforcement officers currently working in the hazardous waste area lack needed technical expertise.

The officials have requested about $700,000 in the supplemental budget.

Former Accident Woman Celebrates 90th Birthday

Ethel Humberson, a former Accident resident, celebrates her 90th birthday today at her home in Somerset, Pa.

A woman who has been active all her life, Mrs. Humberson is a member of the Lutheran Church Women at the Mt. Zion Lutheran Church and knits about eight baby sweaters a year to be used for layettes for the mission work. She still does her own housework and does most of her cooking from scratch. She also tats, crochets and sews.

Mrs. Humberson taught Sunday school for 45 years and still occasionally is a substitute teacher.

She and her late husband, Noah, operated the Humberson Store in Accident from 1925 to 1946 when it was sold to the present owner, Joseph Matthews. During her years in Accident, Mrs. Humberson held numerous offices in the Sunday School and Ladies' Missionary and other church-affiliated groups of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Accident.

Her family requests a card shower from friends in the Accident area to be sent to her in care of Norman Humberson, 413 W. Main St., Somerset Pa., 15501.

Mrs. Humberson was recently featured in the Somerset Daily American Newspaper in an article written by Mary Ream.

BLACK OUT!
What To Do If Your Lights Go Out!

The primary goal of Potomac Edison is to provide dependable electric service. Adverse weather conditions can sometimes disrupt this service. In such cases, there are several steps you can take to help us restore your electricity as quickly as possible:

Step 1 - See If Neighbors Have Power
Check your neighbors to see if they have power. If they do, the disruption of electric service may be in your own home. Check for blown fuses or tripped circuit breakers which may require the services of an electrician.

Step 2 - Call Your Power Company
If your neighbors are also without service, call your electric company. (Potomac Edison local telephone numbers are listed on the reverse side of your electric bill or in your phone book.) Give your name, address, phone number and any other pertinent information. During major storms, you may receive a busy signal on your first attempt. Please keep dialing until you reach us. Stay clear of any fallen wires and caution others to also keep away.

Step 3 - When Your Power Is Off
When your power is off, leave one light switch in the "on" position so that you'll know when your electric service is restored. Turn off any major appliances which you may have been using when power was interrupted. Do not open refrigerator or freezer doors while power is off. Food will keep for up to two days if the doors are kept closed.

Step 4 - Emergency Equipment
A. Flashlight with extra batteries
B. Manually operated clock
C. Candles and hand-operated can opener
D. Portable battery-operated radio

When Longfellow mentioned "the spreading chestnut tree" everyone pictured it. Likewise it wasn't hard to envision "the trail of the lonesome pine." But little has been written about a single white birch. It's always a stand of birches.

Perhaps because birches are like people. They're the same in many ways, yet each is different. And their true magnificence cannot be realized seeing one alone. It's when they stand together that their diversity blends into a oneness which can be spectacular.

In the worship and activities of the church we gain the true perspective of our individuality — and our community. The church cares about you as a person. Yet it helps you learn to care about the society of which you are a part. It inspires each to serve all. To achieve oneness of faith and spirit despite our diversity.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY: LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE UNREPENTANT AND OTHER GENTILES

February 22, 1981

Background Scripture:
Matthew 18.
Devotional Reading:
I Corinthians 1: 26 through 2:5.

Funny, how often you can read a passage from the Bible and assume it has said all to you that it is going to say. And then one day you read it for the umpteenth time and suddenly some new meaning leaps out at you from the page.

That's what happened to me this week when I read Matthew 18. I have frequently preached and taught on Matthew 18:21, 22 — Jesus's counsel to Peter on forgiveness, and I suppose, in order to quickly get to that text, I have skipped over 18:15-17 because it seemed rather irrelevant to life in our times: "If your brother sins against you, go and tell him his fault, between you and him alone. If he listens to you, you have gained your brother." There may have been a time when people could do that, I thought, but not today. As a pastor I knew how sensitive people are to criticism (not to mention my own sensitivity!).

Gaining A Brother

Yet, this week when I read this passage, I suddenly realized that here was the Biblical confirmation of something I had learned the hard way: the only way to deal with serious conflict in interpersonal relationships is to deal with them openly — redemption and reconcilliation are not likely to take place so long as we hide our destructive feelings: "go and tell him his fault."

In fact, through long years of counselling and more lately working with people and groups in learning to manage stress, I have come to realize how destructive hidden anger, resentment and jealousy can be. Quite a number of psychosomatic diseases — including hypertension, heart disease, stomach ulcers, cancer and others — are related to our inadequate management of hostility. Dr. Kenneth Pelletier believes that there is considerable evidence that "internalized anger" produces more harmful stress than the short-term strain that we undergo when we express that anger immediately. (See his book, MIND AS HEALER, MIND AS SLAYER, Delta books). In other words, we think we spare ourselves stress by concealing our feelings, but the long-range effects of that concealment are much worse to us physically and psychically.

If He Does Not Listen...

Jesus also knew that burying feelings of hostility is just as harmful to the relationship and the other person. Although, on the surface, peace and calm might seem to have been preserved, the hidden hostility poisons the relationship. So, said Jesus, don't let that happen: take your grievance to the other person and face it openly. And, if that does not do it, then take along several others and confront your tormentor again. If, at last, you can work out the disagreement, both of you have gained a brother!

And if the other person still will not reason with you, what then? Treat him "as a Gentile and a tax collector," said Jesus. Of course, we all know how Jesus treated Gentiles and tax collectors: he continued to pursue them forgiving them, until at last they were redeemed!

IF YOU HAVE ACNE DO SOMETHING NOW

Pimples, blackheads, blemishes and boils can make life miserable. They often can be controlled or eliminated by proper care. If neglected, permanent scars may develop. We have some helpful products any one can use safely. But if acne constantly recurs, it is wiser to consult a physician.

Acne is caused by poor adjustment of the skin to the secretions of maturing glands. It is not caused by dirt, but frequent washing clears the plugged oil glands to prevent blackhead formation. A blackhead is not dirt. The black color is from a chemical change in the secretion. Around the age of 18 or 19 the acne usually vanishes, but until then don't neglect proper care.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

FAREWELL, DONNY — Why did Donny Most, who played Ralph on "Happy Days," leave the show? — Linda Cooke, Terryville, Conn.

Donny wanted to get out and try other roles. He's been on a hit series, which means he is well off financially, so he felt he could take the chance at cutting loose and seeing what other directions his acting career might take. Lots of actors do this. With some it works, with some it doesn't.

OH, OF COURSE — Telma Hopkins of "Bosom Buddies" looks familiar to me, but I can't recall where I've seen her before. Can you help me? — M.L., Lubbock, Texas.

Sure can. Telma and her partner, Joyce Wilson, were the two ladies who were "Dawn" when the act was called "Tony Orlando and Dawn."

WELL NOW — Do you think Suzanne Somers will get her own show? And why doesn't Miss Piggy ever tell her weight? — Todd Smith, Killington, Conn.

I don't really know what Suzanne will do. She would probably like her own show. But then again, she probably wants to do movies. Many people in the industry think she made a mistake leaving "Three's Company" the way she did. As for Miss Piggy, the lady is obviously a bit overweight and it really wouldn't be polite to ask her to reveal her poundage. Well, under similar circumstances, moi would never tell either.

CHAD'S NOT SAD — What happened to Chad Everett who was on "Medical Center"? — Sophia Potts, Durham, N.C.

Chad did a series called "Hagen" a couple of seasons ago. It was only on for a few episodes, however. Don't worry about him. His series made him very wealthy and now he can act when he wants to. He will again.

TRUCKIN' ON DOWN — I love watching "BJ and the Bear" when it is on. I was wondering if that truck is really his. — E.A., Berlin, Conn.

By "his," I guess you mean Greg Evigan's, since Greg plays BJ. The answer is no, the truck isn't his. It belongs to the production company.

GOOD EYES — Please settle a bet for me. Is the actor who plays Louie on "Taxi" the same man who played in the movie "One Flew over the Cuckoo's Nest"? — Mike Andrus, Fairfield, Ont.

If you bet he was, you win. Danny DeVito, who plays Louie, created the role of Martini in a stage production of "One Flew over the Cuckoo's Nest." Later, he made his film debut in the same role.

Clipperton Island saga relived with Cousteau

Eerie and desolate, Clipperton Island is the site where, 60 years ago, a brutal rapist reigned over a group of women and children. Now, one of those children returns to the island as a grown man, with the ocean explorer, Capt. Jacques-Yves Cousteau, to relate that story and to study the island's geology and life systems.

"Clipperton: The Island Time Forgot" is of the Cousteau Odyssey series and will air this week on PBS (check local listings for times).

Located in the Pacific Ocean, Clipperton Island is some 600 miles from Mexico. Now a French possession, Clipperton was occupied by Mexico in the early years of this century. In 1908, a small garrison under the command of Capt. Arnaud, who was accompanied by his young bride, set up camp on the island. The Arnauds' son, Ramon, was born on the island, which is an atoll only two miles in diameter. An atoll is a coral island consisting of a reef surrounding a lagoon.

During World War I, Capt. Arnaud was unwilling to abandon his post and rejected an offer for evacuation by an American ship. Gradually, the island's food and medicine ran out. In 1915, Capt. Arnaud drowned while trying to reach a passing ship that might have provided his garrison with supplies.

Capt. Jacques Yves-Cousteau (r) with Ramon Arnaud.

Madame Arnaud, her son Ramon, and nine surviving women and children were left with a brutal lighthouse keeper who, after seizing all available guns, sexually abused the women, raping and shooting a mother and a daughter who refused him.

Eventually the women had their revenge. In 1917, led by Madame Arnaud, they murdered the lighthouse keeper. Young Ramon witnessed the terrifying scene. A short time later, the Yorktown, a ship sent to check for enemy Germans, rescued them.

On the television special, Capt. Cousteau brings Ramon — and a team of French, Canadian and American scientists — back to the island. Ramon points out where the tragic events took place: the section of the coast where Capt. Arnaud made his desperate attempt to reach the passing ship, and the little house where the women murdered their tormentor. Also describing the long-ago events is Altagracia, the family maid who was 19 at the time of the terrible ordeal.

Today, the only inhabitants on Clipperton are flocks of birds — boobies and terns — and red land crabs. The atoll's harsh environment imposes strict limitations on the life forms it can sustain, even the enclosed fresh-water lagoon supports very few fish.

Cousteau's divers explore the lagoon and find a densely matted layer of vegetation floating above the actual lagoon floor. Consisting of decaying fibers of dead plants, the floating layer is held up by the trapped gases of its own fermentaton.

A deep hole in the lagoon, possibly a vent in a submerged volcano and long an area of scientific curiosity, is also explored by Cousteau and his team. Wearing specially constructed, water-tight diving suits, Cousteau and the divers go through a dense 4-foot layer of accumulated plant detritus at 60 feet, and again, at nearly 100 feet, pass though a second suspended layer of dead matter.

Enveloped in total darkness, they finally reach the bottom. Despite the suits and masks, their eyes and skin burn painfully, the result of the presence of hydrogen sulphide. Hydrogen sulphide is the toxic product of vegetation that has rotted because all oxygen has been consumed.

TV TATTLE

'Happy Days' award

Fonzie's antics have resulted in more than just laughs this time.

The star of ABC's long-running series "Happy Days" fell in love with a beautiful — and deaf — young woman in an episode aired last August. The show portrayed how Fonzie dealt with the handicap of the woman, played by Linda Bove, who is deaf.

The California Governor's Committee for Employment of the Handicapped honored the show by presenting ABC with their Media Award.

The Grammys on CBS

Radio City Music Hall in New York will play host to the 23rd Annual Grammy Awards on Wednesday, Feb. 25. The entertainment special will present the highest awards given for the recording industry.

The National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences picked 305 nominees in 59 categories for the awards. The women sharing the nomination for best pop vocal performance by a female are: Irene Cara for "Fame," Olivia Newton-John for "Magic," Donna Summer for "On the Radio," Bette Midler for "The Rose," and Barbra Streisand for "Woman in Love."

The nominees for best rock vocal performance by a male are: Jackson Browne for "Boulevard," Paul McCartney for "Coming Up," Bruce Springsteen for his medley from the album, "No Nukes," Billy Joel for "Glass Houses," and Kenny Rogers for "I'm Alright."

Men rule TV ads

Women are not making great strides in the field of TV commercials.

A study of 1,600 TV commercials by a Cleveland State University professor and several students has found that men are almost always the "voice of authority" on commercials, even when the commercial uses all women actors and is directed toward women.

In the afternoon, 92 percent of the voice-overs on commercials were men, while 72 percent of the product representatives were women. Even on the feminine cosmetics ads, 84 percent of the voice-overs were done by men.

The evening hours present little difference. At night, 90 percent of the voice-overs were men. Of the product representatives depicting professionals, 75 percent were men; of those depicting the family or home, 69 percent were women.

The survey concluded: "Although women's roles may have changed in the last decade, you would never know it from watching commercials."

Timothy Hutton stars

The young actor who drew raves for his performance in Robert Redford's successful movie, "Ordinary People," again plays a youth in a dramatic story, this time for a special ABC movie.

"We're a Family Again," starring Timothy Hutton and Brenda Vaccaro, is based on a true story about three children who were abandoned by their family at early ages and adopted by three separate families. They each grew up not knowing where the others were.

Hutton plays the son named Donald, who tries to find his brother and sister. Miss Vaccaro is the social worker who split them up in first place and later reunites them.

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Asa Buchanan meets his namesake at ABC

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — ABC is aswarm with "Asa's."

Well, there are two men around the New York studios with that unusual name — one real and one fictional. So when Phil Carey, Asa Buchanan on "One Life to Live," visited the ABC-TV offices recently, he met Asa Hoff, manager of administration and business affairs for ABC public relations. The pair of Asa's immediately discussed forming an organization for all people named Asa. Their talk went something like this:

"What'll we call it?" asked Mr. Hoff.

"Why not the Asa Club," responded Mr. Carey.

Yet another former "Love of Life" actress to resurface on the daytime screen is Dana Delaney. Dana appeared as Amy Russell on the defunct show and is now appearing as Hayley Wilson on "As the World Turns."

Henderson Forsythe (David Stewart on "ATWT") is trying to negotiate with the powers that be on the soap for time off to appear in the London production of "Best Little Whorehouse in Texas." Henderson received many plaudits for the role he created on Broadway.

Roscoe Born (Joe Novak on "Ryan's Hope") considers himself one lucky actor. Born, who has appeared in numerous stage productions on the West Coast, said, "I was working six days a week as a messenger and selling newspapers when I saw the ad for the 'RH' role in variety. I sent in my picture and then was asked to audition. I had $15 in the bank the day I got the part."

Now that's a success story.

Rod Arrants (Travis Sentell on "Search For Tomorrow") is one proud papa. The actor was recently heard to say about his 11-year-old son, Dylan, "He has the imagination of Walt Disney. He's already created two animated films of his own. He has that same kind of mind that can conceive of an entire imaginary world. It's a little frightening." It would seem young Dylan has a talented example right at home to follow.

Ray Liotta has been absent from the "Another World" cast in order to film the starring role in an ABC-TV movie entitled, "Crazy Times." The film is scheduled to air this spring. Paul Perry is the actor subbing for Ray during his absence.

ABC exec Asa Hoff meets Asa Buchanan (Phil Carey) of "One Life to Live."

DOROTHY AND FRIENDS return to the screen yet another time in CBS's rebroadcast of "The Wizard of Oz." Judy Garland is Dorothy, the girl from Kansas, who meets the Scarecrow (Ray Bolger), the Cowardly Lion (Bert Lahr), and the Tin Man (Jack Haley) in the children's classic, to air Friday, Feb. 27.

Anthony Andrews: A star on both shores

By D. MORGENSTERN KATZ

Anthony Andrews

British actor Anthony Andrews made his debut at the age of 6. He undertook the role of the famous White Rabbit at the annual show of his dancing school.

He was, however, a mite overanxious. "I kept appearing at all the wrong times," says the blond, brown-eyed Andrews. "Every time it even looked like my cue, I'd be right out there on stage.

"But when my cue finally came, I was nowhere to be found. Everyone was scuttling around like mad, screaming and yelling and trying to find me. Eventually the White Rabbit appeared, having to say: 'I'm late, I'm late, for a very important date ...'

"Which, of course," Andrews says, smiling, "promptly made me burst into tears."

It was not the last time Andrews was to be embarrassed by a performance, but in light of his current success, the 33-year-old actor can now chuckle at memories of his "professional" mishaps.

For the boy who once cried as the White Rabbit is now billed as the star opposite Sir Lawrence Olivier in "Brideshead Revisited," Granada TV's biggest, most expensive production ever, which will air this fall. He is dubbed "Britian's newest heartthrob" because of his overwhelming success there as the star of the series "Danger UXB," now airing on PBS.

His impressive credits would win respect in any country: starring roles in John Hawksworth's "Upstairs Downstairs" and the BBC's "The Pallisers", British and American television appearances, and theater, where he's played everything from a sulky schoolboy in a play that starred Sir John Gielgud, to Mercutio in Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet."

Andrews, of course, did not jump immediately from the White Rabbit to Mercutio. In between there was school — which he did not do well in — and a try at various occupations, from catering to farming to selling newspaper advertising ("I guess I was getting my acting kicks playing at all those different things").

When he walked into the Chichester Theater one day to try to sell ad space, he became transfixed. "I found myself saying, 'Can I work here?' They said yes, and gave him a job — sweeping the stage.

Eventually, of course, that led to walk-on parts and understudy roles ("I never learned my lines ... I was bloody lazy") and to the long-running part with Gielgud.

His next role, as a villain in a British TV series, came after a long period of no work. This was the role that thrust him into the spotlight, and he still doesn't know why he got the part.

"They kept saying to me, 'You're so right for this role, but you keep reading the part so terribly badly,' " he says, laughing. It was at this point that he met Georgina, later to be his wife, and she urged him to go back and read one more time.

He did. And, "I read it equally as badly." And a third time, even worse.

But a week later the man who was casting the role called him. "He said, 'I don't know why I'm doing this, but the part is yours. For God's sake,' he said, 'don't let me down.' "

Andrews didn't let him down, obviously, and there was much work from then on. With all his credits today, though, Andrews is truly surprised at the recognition he has acquired.

"I'm unconvinced," he says coyly when questioned about being a heartthrob in England. But then his voice turns sincere and he says of the fame: "It's been extraordinary. But the only way to survive, on the whole, is to believe in yourself and try not to get hooked on your own PR machine."

Though success may be an actor's ambition, it can often present difficulties for family life. The filming of "Brideshead Revisited" took two years (there were production problems — a technician's strike and a change of directors), and that was a strain on his wife and children, Joshua, 8, and Jessica, 6.

But Andrews grew up with, and maintains, a romantic approach to living, so the problems do not overwhelm him.

"I believe in most of the fairy tales of life," he says. "It's possible for anything to happen."

Words in the list below appear across, up, down, backwards and diagonally in the diagram. Find each word and draw a circle around its letters, then cross the word off the list. Some circled letters appear in more than one word. The letters that form the answer will be left over. Unscramble and arrange them to create a word, or words, that will provide the answer.

Biographies of stars spur movie versions

By RUTH THOMPSON

Loretta Lynn, billed as "the First Lady of Country," by Showtime, which recently presented her in a cable-TV "Hotline" special, was never more popular on her own tours. Sissy Spacek, who portrayed Loretta in the movie "Coal Miner's Daughter," based on Loretta's autobiography, has been nominated to practically every "Best Actress of the Year" list released thus far. The movie, however, is far from a box-office smash.

Why? Could it be that the audiences who adore Loretta only want to see her as she is today, slim of figure and strong of voice, and find it painful to go back over her early traumas and struggles?

Loretta Lynn

Or could it be that the audiences who know what the real Loretta looks like can't or won't identify with an actress playing Loretta, even by an actress as talented as Sissy Spacek?

Those two queries are easy enough but it may take some polls to get answers.

One thing is for sure: The box-office pattern for "Coal Miner's Daughter" hasn't scared off the producers of "Stand by Your Man." They're planning to dramatize the autobiography of another country singer, Tammy Wynette (which she co-wrote with Joan Dew) and are now developing it as a made-for-television movie for CBS. Some of the footage is being done on location in Nashville, where Tammy became famous.

Portraying Tammy is Annette O'Toole, whose face should be familiar to home viewers. Annette was 13 when she got a spot singing and dancing on Danny Kaye's series. Among her credits in recent years were the television movies, "What Really Happened to the Class of '65" and "The War Between the Tates." Tim McIntire portrays George Jones, a former husband of Tammy's, and a popular country music star himself.

In a different category perhaps, are the highly fictionalized biographies of deceased celebrities. Marilyn Monroe has been a favorite subject of these in recent years. This season also saw a television enactment of the life and times of Jayne Mansfield, with the very popular Loni Anderson ("WKRP in Cincinnati") starring as Jayne.

Mentioned from time to time as the suitable subject for a docu-drama is the late Frances Farmer, an actress of well-bred good looks whose brief success in movies several decades ago disintegrated when she went from public outbursts to long hospitalization for mental illness.

In her bitter autobiography she said she believed she wasn't that ill, but that nobody helped her. Erin Gray, who currently co-stars as Col. Wilma Deering on NBC's "Buck Rogers," wants to portray Frances Farmer in a movie.

"I was very touched by her book," Miss Gray says. "I understand her."

Someone else with an understanding of a controversial public figure is Diane Ladd, who for three years has wanted to portray the late Martha Mitchell. Mrs. Mitchell captured public attention as the wife of Attorney General John Mitchell during the early rosy days of the Nixon administration, and later, even more so, with her frenzied pronouncements about Watergate.

Diane Ladd, who has appeared in the CBS "Alice" series the last two seasons, is an acclaimed dramatic actress who was honored with an award from the Actors Studio last November. Now she is making her dream come true — she is executive producer, as well as star, of the "Martha" movie, for Trans-Atlantic Enterprises. Says Diane: "It's time now that Martha Mitchell's true story be told on film."

FAYE DUNAWAY STARS with James Farentino in "Evita Peron," a four-hour NBC drama about the ambitious and beautiful young woman who became the influential wife of Argentina's dictator. The film will be shown on two consecutive nights starting Monday, Feb. 23.

Charee Reckner Is Commissioned First Lieutenant

Charee Yvonne Reckner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Reckner, Jr., McHenry, was recently commissioned a First Lieutenant in the United States Air Force Nurse Corps. The oath was administered by Captain Karen R. Bennington of the 3511th USAF Recruiting Squadron, Pittsburgh.

Charee is a 1972 graduate of Northern High School. She obtained her Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing from the University of Maryland in Baltimore in 1977.

Following a 16-day Officer Orientation Class at Sheppard Air Force Base, Witchita Falls, Texas, Lt. Reckner will be stationed at the United States Air Force Hospital at Nellis AFB, Las Vegas, Nevada.

Lt. Reckner has had a variety of clinical experiences since her graduation.

In addition to her nursing duties, Lt. Reckner has remained active in the Order of Rainbow Girls. She has held numerous positions within this organization, the most recent being Mother Advisor of the Oakland Chapter.

Pfc. Ricky L. Rounds, son of Arlie R. Rounds Sr. of Route 2, Accident, is a member of a 2,500-man task force deployed from Fort Hood, Texas, to Fort Irwin, Calif., for operation Desert Horse.

Desert Horse is an exercise designed to test the unit's ability to perform in a desert environment under a variety of conditions.

Training there included members of armor and artillery crews and is planned to be as realistic as possible, with opposing forces both on the ground and in the air.

Marine Master Sgt. Walter D. Ward Jr., whose wife, Donna, is the daughter of Pearl Schmidt, Box 55, Oakland, recently participated in the Presidential Inaugural ceremonies.

He is a member of the U. S. Marine Band, located in Washington, D. C.

The band's various components performed at a variety of events. The concert band played at the Governors reception at the Washington Sheraton Hotel and during the President's swearing-in ceremony, while the marching band was the lead musical unit in the Inaugural Parade. The jazz combo played at two of the Inaugural Balls and at the Medal of Honor Banquet at the Capital Hilton. The Dance Band and String Ensemble both played at other festivities.

The U. S. Marine Band performs regularly at the White House for State Functions. They also appear in parades and civic celebrations during tours across the U. S.

Ward joined the Marine Corps in June 1958.

Gasoline Usage Statistics Noted

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said today that Marylanders increased their use of gasoline during December 1980, but consumption for the year as a whole declined by 2.2%. The comptroller further stated that a falloff in pipeline shipments of gasoline and distillate products such as heating oil indicates plenty of product is in storage in the state.

Gasoline consumption in Maryland during December 1980 totaled 163,250,446 gallons, up 2.6% from the 159,187,905 gallons used during December 1979.

"For the calendar year, however, the trend continued to be toward conservation," Goldstein said. During 1980, Marylanders used 1,887,453,272 gallons of gasoline, a decrease of 2.2% from the 1,930,058,658 gallons used the previous year. 1980 was the second consecutive year to post an overall decrease in gasoline consumption.

"Shipments along the Colonial Pipeline into Maryland indicate that slightly less gasoline was received in the state during 1980 than during 1979," Goldstein said. "Shipments of other fuels, such as heating oil and diesel fuel were 19% lower, however, reflecting an apparent surplus of product in storage throughout the state."

Comptroller Goldstein noted that, for the first seven months of Fiscal Year 1981, Motor Fuel tax revenue totals $111,682,603, up nearly one-half of one percent from the $111,177,289 received for the same period of Fiscal Year 1980.

R. L. Heginbotham Honored By Firm

Bob Heginbotham will become the first Bausch & Lomb employee in Oakland to become a member of The Company's Early Settlers Club, on February 20.

Bob's career with Bausch & Lomb began on February 20, 1956, when he went to work making parts for metal frames in the company's Old Main Plant, which was located on St. Paul Street at that time. After several years he transferred to the Lens Center in Rochester where he made plastic frames.

In 1956 Bob transferred to the corporation's lens division, where he worked as set-up operator and a supervisor manufacturing toric lenses.

In 1971 the corporation decided to locate a lens manufacturing facility in Oakland. Bob was one of those employees chosen to assist in the start up of the new facilities operation.

He began his Oakland career as a Department Manager in the Toric Manufacturing Process. He later held the position of Staff Assistant and worked in the plants Materials Management Area Buyer and Purchasing Expediter.

Finally, Bob moved to the plant's facilities service department, where he supervises the operations of the plants tool crib, buys and expedites all maintenance purchasing needs, and assists in new construction projects.

Bob and his wife, Donna, reside in Mountain Lake Park.

Suzan L. Taylor, B.C. O'Brien Exchange Wedding Vows

In a late afternoon ceremony on July 12, 1980, at St. Matthews Church, Oakland, Suzan Leigh Taylor and Brian Christopher O'Brien were united in marriage. The wedding was performed by Reverand John Grant, with Reverend Manning Smith assisting before an altar decorated with white chrysanthemums and ivy trimmed candelabra. Marcella Kerins was organist and Catherine Reckner was soloist. During the ceremony, Miss Reckner also played a flute solo of The Lord's Prayer.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Taylor, Rock Lodge Road, Deep Creek Lake. The groom is the son of Grace O'Brien, McHenry, and Victor J. O'Brien of Pittsburgh and Deep Creek Lake.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride chose a gown of white crystal organza with flounced hemline and train. The bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline and shadow sleeves. She wore a matching hat with an illusion veil and carried a white lace fan decorated with white and pink silk roses and stephanotis. Her only jewelery was a strand of pearls belonging to the groom's mother.

Barbara Taylor served her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Laurel Spicer, Barrington, Illinois, and Joyce Turkall, McKeesport, Pennsylvania. They were attired in matching gowns of deep pink Quiana accented by draped necklines. They carried bouquets of pink burgundy silk roses with baby's breath and wore baby's breath in their hair.

Best man was Michael O'Brien, McHenry, brother of the groom. Ushers were David Taylor, brother of the bride and David Grant, Pittsburgh, Pa. All the men were attired in gray formal jackets with striped trousers and rose boutonnieres.

Immediately following the ceremony, a dinner reception was held at Will O' the Wisp. The newlyweds honeymooned at Rehoboth Beach, Delaware. For her going away outfit, the bride chose a pale green sleeveless dress with a matching linen jacket and a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

The bride graduated from Barrington High School in Barrington, Illinois and received her bachelors degree in education from West Virginia University in 1979. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, and is employed as a teacher in Morgantown, W. Va.

Mr. O'Brien graduated from Keystone Oaks High School, Pittsburgh, and earned a bachelors degree in accounting from West Virginia University. He is a member of Sigma Chi social fraternity and Beta Alpha Psi accounting honorary. He is employed as an accountant for Schneider, Downs, Inc., Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien now reside in Bethel Park, Pennsylvania.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Garrett County Board of Education recently announced a change in its policy for free and reduced price meals and free milk for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served in schools under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast, and Special Milk Programs. The change was brought about by federal legislation which revised the family size income standards and eliminated the deductions for hardships. These are the only changes in the policy.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size income criteria for determining eligibility:

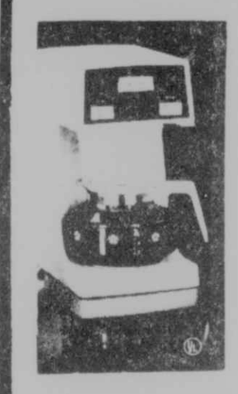

Family Size	Free Meals/Milk Year	Month	Week	Reduced Meals Year	Month	Week
1	5,700	475	110	8,350	696	161
2	7,220	602	139	10,730	894	206

7	14,850	1,238	286	22,620	1,885	435
8	16,370	1,364	315	25,000	2,083	481
Each addi. fam. mem.	1,530	128	29	2,380	198	46

NOTE: DO NOT ALLOW HARDSHIP DEDUCTIONS FROM THE ABOVE INCOME POVERTY GUIDELINES. THE STANDARD DEDUCTION HAS BEEN INCLUDED IN ALL OF THE ABOVE INCOME LEVELS.

Children from families whose income is at or below those shown are eligible for free and reduced price meals or free milk. A standard monthly deduction of $80.00 has been incorporated into the guidelines. Schools will use the applications that are currently on file to make new eligibility determinations. The family of each child whose eligibility for program benefits is reduced or terminated, because of the change in guidelines will receive written notice ten days before the reduction or termination of benefits takes effect, so that children may arrive at school prepared to pay an additional amount if necessary. A new application may be submitted at any time during the school year. Applications are available at the principal's office in each school.

A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school and in the office of the County Cafeteria Manager, where it may be reviewed by an interested party.

Correction Noted

In the February 11 Friendsville News was an item which incorrectly reported Mark Edmiston to have been married. The item should have read M.M.3 Mark Edmiston rather than Mr. and Mrs. Mark Edmiston. The error was made in The Republican office, not by the Friendsville correspondent.

Films begin at 1 p.m. in the library film room, and are free of charge.

APPRAISALS

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

A Valentine theme was used for the February 12 meeting of the Eglon Mountaineer 4-H Club in the Eglon Memorial Building. The devotions on patriotism were given by the Recreation Committee: Danny Roth, Andrea Delaney and Gary Shaffer.

Faith Mining has assumed the duties of secretary since the elected secretary, Crystal Weimer, has resigned her membership.

During the business session, all members were urged to bring the $1.00 for insurance which covers each member for a one year period at all 4-H activities. This is to be brought to the March meeting.

The Club will be selling American Seed flower and vegetable seed packets to raise money for camp scholarships. Proceeds and any unsold packets are to be turned in at the March 9 meeting.

Conrad Arnold, Preston County Extension Agent, 4-H, has announced that he is planning to form judging teams in the areas of Dairy, Land, Horticulture, Poultry and Egg, Forest, and Beef, Sheep and Swine. Interested members are urged to participate in one of these.

The club decided that it will make a donation toward the use of its meeting place, the Eglon Memorial Building.

The 1981 Preston County 4-H Yearbooks were distributed and are to be used in conjunction with the local yearbook.

Julie Beckman gave a talk, How to Make a Quick Supper. Danny Roth's talk was Attitude and Behavior of Animals. Leader Linda Lewis showed the club the contents of the Preston County Heritage Trunk.

Two games using Valentine themes were led by Danny Roth and Andrea Delaney. They then adjourned for refreshments. Those attending were: Julie Beckman, Sheila and Andrea Delaney, Roxanne Evans, Brent and Terry Hauser, Willie and Jackie Lantz, Julie and Emily Lewis, Cherri and Faith Mining, Arlene and Danny Roth, Gary and Guy Wayne Shaffer, Nathan Teets, LaVerne Waybright, Sandra Lipscomb, Florence Mining, Elaine Roth and Linda Lewis.

Several members of the Eglon Homemakers met February 10 in the Eglon Memorial Building. The morning was spent in making bibs and cutting pieces for lap robes to be sent to Cortland Acres Nursing Home. A salad luncheon was served at noon.

Following the lunch, Mrs. Linda Lewis, the president, showed the contents of the Heritage Trunk belonging to Preston County. Items contained therein are clothes and puppets of the Civil War era, games and school books related also to that period, and copies of newspaper items of West Virginia becoming a state.

Following this a business session was conducted. The next meeting will be March 3 at 1:00 p.m. and each member is asked to bring an idea for fighting inflation and also to bring materials for making cathedral pillows, which will require at least four seven-inch squares of white material and scraps of print to complete the "window." Persons wanting to make a pillow will need to have at least a yard of the white material. Only the smaller portion will be made at the meeting.

Devotions were read by Rebecca Teets using scriptures from Matthew and Mark on being Ambassadors for Christ. Barbara Heckert read "Jesus Christ and We," a poem, and Ruth Teets read "Give Lavishly, Live Abundantly."

Other business discussed was the coming council meeting, the April 4 to the WWVA Jamboree and New Alexandria, Pa., the county emergency food pantry, and it was voted to donate $50 to the Eglon Ladies Aid for use of the building. There is need for further support if the Homemakers continue to meet there.

A clean up period followed the business. Attending at times during the day were the following: Lillian Knotts, Lectie Bonner, Rebecca Teets, Linda Lewis, Barbara Heckert, Lou Layman and Aaron, LaDeana Teets and Tommy, Ruth Teets, Mary Rembold, Avenell Parsons, Rose Ina Harsh, Brenda Hartsell and Carroll Joe, Jean Winters and Nina Layman. Unable to be present were two members who were ill, the hostess, Mrs. Lorraine Fike, and Mrs. Mildred Will.

Mrs. Beulah Hebb is improving at the Dennett Manor Nursing Home where she is a patient.

Claude Harsh was able to return last week to his home in Accident from Garrett County Memorial Hospital, but was unable to attend the funeral of his son, Glenn Harsh, who died in WVU Medical Center on Tuesday, February 10.

Mrs. Don (Norma) Beckman of Horse Shoe Run underwent surgery last Monday in Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Over 99,000 Work Permits Issued in '80

Maryland Commissioner of Labor and Industry, Harvey A. Epstein, released Friday the statistical breakdown on the 99,046 work permits certificates issued to minors during 1980 by county, occupation, and industry. Of the total, 645 were issued in Garrett County.

"It's interesting to observe the different types of industries employing minors and the fluctuation of the high employment occupations for minors in the counties across our state," stated Commissioner Epstein.

In Maryland, employers must have verified and validated work permits in their possession before minors are permitted to work. The State Employment of Minors Law provides coverage to persons who have not reached their 18th birthday.

For more information on work permits or the state law, persons may contact the Maryland Division of Labor and Industry, Employment Standards Service, 203 East Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21202, 1-800-492-7321.

Dept. of Energy Grant Program Now Offered

The 1981 Appropriate Energy Technology Small Grants Program, sponsored by the U. S. Department of Energy, is awarding grants of up to $50,000 for innovative projects in energy conservation and the use of alternative or renewable resources. Three project categories are specified.

1. Grants of up to $10,000 will be awarded for development and definition of concepts for new sources of energy, recycling, and new applications of existing procedures or systems. No fabrication or demonstration is required.

2. Products/Systems: Grants of up to $50,000 will be awarded for the design, assembly and laboratory-scale test of a concept, system, or technique. Technological feasibility and potential practical use must be determined.

Proposals for this category should describe a specific local energy problem and propose an appropriate solution which uses local materials, labor, and resources. This category includes studies, investigations, and development of hardware, systems, or other means for experimental or operational tests.

3. Demonstrations: Grants of up to $50,000 will be awarded for applications of systems under the real-life conditions of present and future use.

During the 1980 program, 66 grants were awarded totaling approximately $800,000. This year's program will award nearly one million dollars.

The program gives inventive citizens an opportunity to develop energy alternatives which are simple and cheap to build and operate.

Grants are awarded to individuals, local non-profit organizations, community groups, state and local agencies, Indian tribes, and small businesses in Region III.

Where: Department of Energy, Region III, includes Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

When: Application period runs from February 16 to April 20, 1981.

Educators, Counselors Review Job Development For County Youth

An Educational Master Plan for vocational development of Garrett County youth is in the works at the Garrett County Board of Education as the result of a workshop held Feb. 2 in the Planetarium Conference room, Board of Education Office, Oakland.

The workshop, co-sponsored by the Board's Youth Employability Office and the Western Maryland Consortium, involved representatives of the county schools and community agencies, stated John Ledden, workshop facilitator.

Ledden stated the purpose of the workshop was to present a brief overview of the services and objectives of the Maryland State Department of Education's Youth Employability Programs, to determine how they relate to the county's youth employability programs, to understand the relationship of CETA to these programs and to explore avenues which allow greater coordination and more services for the vocational development of county youth.

As a result of the workshop, those attending unanimously agreed career education and the youth employability assessment should be available to students at the middle school level instead of at the high school level where the curriculum is less flexible for such a program.

Marilyn Goldman, Program Implementation Specialist with the Maryland State Department of Education and a speaker at the workshop told the group youth employability development involves developing skills, knowledge, attitudes and behaviors of youth to enable them to choose, plan, seek and obtain initial employment and then progress in a job.

The need for a master educational plan was pointed out by Al Ringer, assistant superintendent of curriculum and instruction and organizer of the workshop, at the conclusion of the workshop after the group discussed the impact on the students of the needs identified and the possible solutions to those needs, the middle and high school programs, the administrative coordination needed to meet these needs and programs and some of the possible means of funding necessary to address those needs.

This is accomplished, said Mrs. Goldman, through a coordinated delivery system, an assessment process, and individualized comprehensive plans.

Irene Potosky, Career Assessment Specialist with the Maryland State Department of Education, Youth Employability Branch, discussed "Improving Career Employability and Vocational Guidance Through Assessments."

Potosky presented the reason for an employability development plan for each student as recommended by the Department of Labor and the Maryland State Department of Education. She also reviewed the various assessment instruments and projects available to assist young people in making realistic and wise choices in course selection, career planning and vocational goals.

Mike McLaughlin, Counselor/Teacher for Youth Employability in the county, described the county's Employability Development Plan and its implementation through the youth employability in-school program.

Dan Ellinger, Western Maryland Consortium Youth Specialist, spoke on "The Relationship and Responsibilities Between CETA, Program Operators and Service Providers."

Ellinger, while answering questions, pointed out CETA is primarily interested in cooperating with the Board of Education and other Agencies in identifying the needs of young people and assisting to meet those needs.

A member of the group questioned the Department of Labor's requirement to pay all youth participating in CETA the minimum wage even though they have not yet developed the maturity or dexterity to warrant those wages.

Ellinger stated this situation is recognized as a problem and is under review.

Other speakers during the workshop were Anna Bishop, Southern High School Guidance Counselor and Jack Lear, Northern High School Guidance Counselor, who discussed an educational plan for all students; Ron Kuhn, Cooperative Education Coordinator who presented an overview of the Cooperative Education Program; and "Buz" Updyke, electronics teacher, who explained the sequence of the Vocational Education Curriculum.

Those persons who took part in the workshop besides those already named were: David Beard, Civics teacher; Luther Parrack, SHS principal; Kenneth Bittinger, NHS principal; Charlotte Griffith, Vocational Rehabilitation Services Coordinator; William Ewing, Garrett Community College Director of Admissions; Dr. Jerome J. Hyscavage, School Superintendent; Truman Paugh, Garrett County Commissioner; Robert Rodeheaver, Secondary Education Supervisor; Albert Coviello, Supervisor of Public Services; Paul Harr, Project Basic Facilitator; Pamela Peddicord, SHS Guidance Counselor; Matthew Novak, Career Education Resource Teacher; William Carlson, ARD Chairperson, Central office; Eleanor Fisher, ARD Chairperson, Northern Middle School; Mark Alkire, ALPS, Northern High School; Les McDaniel, ALPS, Southern High School; Benjamin Thorn, Vocational Evaluator; Douglas Buckley, Civics Teacher, Southern High School; Russell Settle, Civics Teacher, Northern High School; Brenda McCartney, Curriculum Coordinating Teacher, Southern Middle School; Nancy Learey, Guidance Counselor, Southern Middle School; Elmer Rediger, Assistant Principal and Guidance Counselor, Northern Middle School; Alice Hevner, Youth Hospitality, Oakland office, Extension Service, University of Maryland; Elizabeth Hart, Garrett County Social Services; Holly Beasley, Oakland office, Department of Employment Security; Barbara Frey, Displaced Homemakers, Garrett Community College, Oakland center and Jeri Jones, Career Planning, Garrett Community College, McHenry campus.

More than 1.2 million cubic yards of earth and rock had to be excavated from the site of Manhattan's World Trade Center before building could commence.

Polled Hereford Association Begins Membership Drive

A membership drive is now underway by the Mason-Dixon Polled Hereford Association. The drive grew out of a January meeting in Swanton with about 30 individuals present and a planning committee meeting at Garrett Community College on February 3.

The association plans to encourage performance testing of member herds, provide improved management practice via educational experiences, encourage participation by members in showing cattle at local fairs, actively promote and recognize the contributions of area youth in the breed and explore the possibility of holding a fall sale of registered and commercial Polled Herefords.

Membership is open to purebred and commercial breeders, as well as interested youth. Associate memberships are available for adults who are friends, relatives or persons interested in the Polled Hereford breed.

A third meeting is planned for Tuesday, April 7, at Garrett Community College, at which time a membership progress report will be given and plans completed for the association's first Field Day and Annual Meeting.

Individuals desiring to join who have not received applications in the mail may request a form from any of the following planning committee members: Ed Bucklew, Independence, W. Va.; William H. Buser, Swanton: Lawrence Chalkic, Vanderbilt, Pa.; Tom DeBerry, Deer Park; Randall Harman, Accident; Luther Dale Lohr, Swanton; Don Ross, Bruceton Mills; James Watson, Westernport; and Lawrence Little, Oakland.

Proposal To Cut Subsidies May Help Dairymen

BALTIMORE (UPI) — President Reagan's proposal to cut federal subsidies to dairy farmers may actually help the farmers, the president of the Maryland Cooperative of Milk Producers said Tuesday.

Herbert Wessel said he opposes federal price supports if they keep inefficient farmers in business.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture, through a program expected to cost $2 billion this year, buys all dairy products that producers cannot sell. Reagan has proposed cutting the program.

Wessell said Reagan should propose legislation to cut the upward adjustment the department will make in April on the price it pays for subsidized milk. The price adjustments must be made twice a year under law.

"We are getting a lot of production right now," Wessel said. "The increase in prices on April 1 could jack production and lead to a large surplus. The price might get too high and the surplus too large and the bottom might fall out of the market."

He said current subsidy prices should be kept, instead, so farmers will be in "better shape in the fall."

Milton White III, who runs a 1,000-acre farm in Hydes, said he had expected a cut in price supports.

"If they're going to cut out some of these other wasteful spending programs, then we're willing to do our part," he said.

Reserve Loan Extension Noted

Farmers who must settle their reserve corn loans will have at least an additional 30 days to repay their loans, according to Stuart C. Peterson, Acting Chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The extension was made to assure orderly marketing of corn, Peterson said.

The settlement date for corn in reserve I is February 9; the settlement date for reserves II and III is April 15.

During the 30-day period, farmers will pay 15.25 percent interest on their loans, Peterson said. Previously, there was no interest charged on these loans.

Interest rates were changed to reflect the cost of borrowing from the U. S. Treasury and to provide producers an incentive to settle matured or called farm-stored loans, promptly, according to Peterson.

The new rates take effect the day after the loan's maturity or, in the case of reserve loans, the day after the original date on which settlement is required after a reserve loan is called.

After the final date for settlement, issuance of delivery notices and warehouse takeover for corn under reserve or regular loans will be delayed at least 30 days based on current available storage space and transportation conditions to allow for orderly marketing, Peterson said.

"As of January 28, the three reserves held 994.2 million bushels of corn and all three reserves have been called," said Peterson

"The settlement date for the 10 to 15 million bushels in reserve I is February 9. The new interest rates for these loans will begin on February 10.

"April 15 is the final settlement date for reserves II and III. Under the new rule, producers must pay interest from this date until the called loans are settled." he said.

Interest on regular, nine-month government price support loans would be increased from 11.5 percent to 15.25 percent beginning the day after the loan's maturity date. Producers with these loans also will have at least 30 additional days following the maturity date to redeem their loans or deliver the grain to USDA.

Cattle Numbers Show Increase

Cattle and calves on Maryland farms January 1, 1981, totaled 410,000 head, up 8 percent from 1980, announced the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service.

Cows and heifers that have calved increased 11 percent to 217,000, as beef cows jumped 23,000 head to 93,000 on hand. Milk cows, however, continued their declines by losing 1,000 head to 124,000.

Heifers over 500 pounds also increased; up nine percent to 75,000 head. Heifers for beef cow replacement remained unchanged at 15,000, but heifers for milk cow replacement climbed ten percent to 46,000. Other heifers over 500 pounds increased from 12,000 a year ago to 14,000 on January 1, 1981, while steers over 500 pounds decreased 4,000 to 28,000 head.

Calves under 500 pounds increased eight percent to 81,000 head. The total number of calves born during 1980 is estimated at 190,000 head, two percent above the previous year.

The value of Maryland cattle averaged $720 per head on January 1, compared with a $645 average a year earlier. The total value amounted to $295.2 million dollars, 20 percent above the previous year.

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory of George W. Montgomery, a wonderful husband, father and grandfather, who passed away one year ago February 23. He really loved his flowers, his flower was the rose he really loved, his family which everybody knows. He was so sweet and loving, his heart was full of cheer. And we loved him more and more with every passing year. He passed away so suddenly, and only God knows why, the pearly gates stood open, God beckened him inside. They say time heals all sorrows, and helps us to forget. But time so far has only shown how much we miss him yet.

Pamela Bittinger Receives Role In Thiel Production

Pamela K. Bittinger, Mt. Lake Park, appeared as the miller's wife in the "Steward's Tale" segment in the presentation of Geoffrey Chaucer's Canterbury Tales by the Thiel College Technical Theatre Arts interim class.

Miss Bittinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bittinger, 904 Philadelphia Ave., is a freshman majoring in biology at the western Pennsylvania liberal arts college.

"The Canterbury Tales" is a satirical view of life, in particular, love, marriage, and the interrelationship between the two sexes, through a series of four short stories. The Thiel production was a musical rendition of the classic, directed by William A. Robinson, instructor of speech and theatre arts.

Venus

Tuesday, Venus will be at aphelion. This is the point at which the planet will be at the greatest distance from the Sun. At this point, 109 million kilometers (68 million miles) will separate Venus and the Sun. The planet is very hot at the surface, about 480°C. Water vapor and carbon dioxide, which are components of the Venusian atmosphere, prevent heat from the Sun from leaving the atmosphere of the planet. It is hotter than it would be if it were heated normally by the Sun.

Moon

Moonrise will be at 5:49 p. m. this evening. Next Tuesday the Moon will rise at 11:36 p. m. Saturday, the Moon will rise about the same time Saturn and Jupiter will rise.

Tuesday, the Moon will be at apogee. This is the point at which the satellite will be at the greatest distance from the Earth. At this point, the Moon will be 404,845 kilometers (251,610 miles) from the Earth.

Visible Planets

Three hours after sunset, Jupiter and Saturn will rise with the stars of Virgo.

Daylight Increases

By Tuesday next, there will be 16 more minutes of daylight than there will be today. Sunrise was at 7:07 this morning. Sunset will be 10 hours 50 minutes later at 5:57 p. m. On Tuesday, sunrise will be at 6:38 a. m. and sunset will be at 6:04 p. m.

Today is the 49th day of 1981. The Sun will follow the same path today that it will follow next October 22nd.

Bill Would End Personal Property Tax On Business

Senator Edward J. Mason (R-Allegany, Garrett) has introduced legislation which would repeal the State personal property tax on businesses in Maryland.

Mason said he filed the legislation as a result of a study undertaken by the Senate Budget and Taxation Committee, of which he is a member, and the House Ways and Means Committee on the necessity of continuing to levy this tax.

The imposition of the business personal property tax has been said to result in an unnecessary burden on taxpayers as well as an unnecessary use of private and State resources. The repeal of the State personal property tax has been recommended by various study committees since 1957, stated Mason.

Mason noted that since 1968 the State has allowed a credit against the State income tax for the amount of State personal property taxes paid. However, not all businesses have made use of this tax credit in the past.

Swallow Falls Home Destroyed By Fire Sunday

Firefighters from Oakland and Deep Creek Fire Departments were dispatched at 11:13 a.m. Sunday to the scene of a house fire on Cheek's Lane near Swallow Falls.

Upon arrival of fire personnel, the summer residence of John Poteet, Jarrettsville, was almost totally involved in flames. Some of the contents of one room of the single-story, wood frame structure were salvaged, however, only two walls remained standing.

The blaze is being investigated by Jim Martin, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany, whose preliminary findings reveal that the fire apparently began under the floor in the kitchen. The cause has been linked to the LP gas stove.

Garrett Central Alarm received the call from a neighbor, Norman Lewis, who resides in a house about 100 feet away from the Poteet residence. Lewis told Martin that he heard the fire crackling and saw smoke, but initially thought someone was burning brush. Upon a closer check by Lewis, the fire was discovered.

Another neighbor, Frank Clark, who knew the layout of the Poteet house, stated that the majority of the fire seemed to be located in the kitchen area before the arrival of firefighters.

Apparently Poteet had left the house about one hour before the discovery of the fire.

Martin said Poteet lost all of his furniture and appliances. The loss has been estimated to be at least $30,000.

Investigation of the fire is continuing, according to Martin.

ANOTHER AREA HOME was destroyed by fire Sunday morning. The summer residence of John Poteet, located on Cheek's Lane near Swallow Falls, was totally involved in flame upon the arrival of firefighters from Oakland and Deep Creek Lake. Cause of the fire is still under investigation, but thought to be related to an LP gas stove. See story.

Dick Butkus, Bobby Bare To Attend Winterfest VIII At Wisp

Despite the growing possibility of having no snow, plans are continuing for the eighth annual Winterfest celebration at the Wisp Ski Area, McHenry. The event is sponsored by the Deep Creek Lions Foundation, Inc., the Miller Brewing Corp., Wisp and the Village Inn, and is slated for March 6-8.

Among the celebrities appearing at the Winterfest VIII will be Dick Butkus, a perennial all-pro linebacker during a seven-year National Football League career with the Chicago Bears, and Bobby Bare, a veteran country western singer, who has a string of hits including "Shame on Me", "300 Miles Away from Home", "Miller's Cave", and "Detroit City."

Butkus will be at the festival on Saturday and Sunday, meeting people and signing autographs. Bare and his group will be in concert Friday evening, March 6, at 7 p. m.

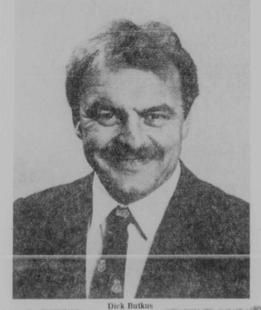

A Chicago native, Butkus played collegiately at the University of Illinois as a center on offense and linebacker on defense. He enjoyed the distinction of earning Sporting News All-America honors as a center in 1963 and as a linebacker in 1964. As a senior he was named "College Player of the Year" by that publication.

With the Bears, Butkus earned All-Pro status in each of his seven professional seasons. He intercepted a total of 10 passes and returned them for 147 yards (7.7 avg.).

Since his retirement from pro football, Butkus has been among the busiest speakers in the sports dinner circuit, and has worked as a football announcer for the New Orleans Saints and Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Butkus has also done some serious acting, with a list of credits which includes: "Police Story,", "McMillan and Wife," "Six Million Dollar Man," "Hockford Files," and "Petrocelli." He appeared in the made-for-TV movie "Rich Man, Poor Man" and the

Commissioners Hunter, Paugh Unshakeable On Coal Tax Issue

County commissioners Lester Hunter and Truman Paugh remain unchanged in their positions on the coal tax issue, even after a request on Tuesday to reconsider their stands by Commissioner Ernie Gregg.

A Baltimore Sun editorial and a letter from Senator Edward Mason indicating a statewide coal tax may be enacted if Allegany and Garrett County elected officials fail to unite, prompted Gregg to ask Paugh and Hunter to reconsider their positions.

Gregg suggested the commissioners approach the Western Maryland delegation with "hat in hand" to offer their support for the proposed percentage tax on coal, which is scheduled for a hearing before the House Ways and Means Committee Thursday at 1:30 p. m.

Gregg stated that although he still prefers a tonnage tax on coal and that he is willing to try one more time to sway the delegation's support for the percentage tax, he was considering changing his position in order to insure the counties received some type of taxing authority over the surface mine coal industry during the General Assembly session.

Tim Dugan, county planning director, told the commissioners their staff could "launch a good attack" against the surfacing threat by Baltimore City legislators to introduce legislation for a statewide coal tax if the commissioners unite in their position.

In a letter from Sen. Mason, the commissioners were warned that "a State levied tax will be considerably higher than anything we have discussed locally and that Baltimore City will walk away with the profits."

Attached to Mason's letter was a copy of an editorial which appeared in the Sunday edition of the Baltimore Sun. The editorial supported a statewide tax because "The growing demand for coal places a physical burden not only on producing communities, but on those through which coal is transported, handled and shipped overseas."

Nace Submits Resignation

William (Dick) Nace, administrator of the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., turned in his resignation last week, effective April 10. This will allow for working three more weeks, after which time he will take an earned vacation.

Nace will have worked for the Sanitary District five years in April, serving three years as advisor and two years as administrator. He said, "considering the amount of criticism from various groups, I have been exploring the options of going other places." Nace stated that he has been seeking private employment in engineering for sometime, and he is anxious to get out of the public work.

In a letter to the Garrett County Sanitary Commission, Nace wrote: "I regret I have been a target of criticism by a small segment of the community and I hope there will be less hostility in the future with my resignation."

In a separate letter to the Board of Garrett County Commissioners, Nace recommended that the commissioners establish a county engineering department headed by a professional civil engineer and staffed by existing surveyors of the Garrett County Roads Department and other technical employees. Nace said he feels the county can save money and can be assured that a project is in the county's or a town's best interests, by providing an engineering service internally, employed by the county, to serve all county agencies and towns.

Nace, a resident of Oakland, holds a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering from Penn State University. He is a registered professional engineer in three states and is a member of the Association of Civil Engineers. Having been raised in Garrett County, he said that he hopes to remain in this area.

Robert Fousek, of Swanton, assistant administrator, will take over as interim administrator and he has been recommended by Nace as Nace's permanent successor. "With his qualifications, I feel he would have no trouble handling the job," said Nace. The Sanitary Commission is expected to advertise for the position.

In the next few weeks Nace will compile summaries on all projects to make the transition easier for his successor.

Whooping Cough Outbreak Detected In Garrett County

An illness with severe attacks of coughing has affected many children in Garrett County this winter, Dr. William Pope, county health officer, reported.

He stated, "Many tests to try to identify the organism causing this illness have been taken, and all had been negative until this last week when a single positive test was reported suggesting the presence of the pertussis bacteria".

Whooping cough is a disease characterized in its later stages by severe attacks of reported violent cough. This cough may persist for several weeks or more than a month, said Pope.

This clinical picture can be caused by several types of bacteria, and also by viruses. Pope noted pertussis bacteria causes the most serious disease. This latter bacteria is difficult to culture so that specific identification is not easy.

The immunization to protect against this bacteria is not 100% effective, stated Pope, and does not confer immediate protection if the immunization is not given until the time of an outbreak.

Treatment of suspected cases with erythromycin, ampicillin, or penicillin seems

Gorman Residents Protest Sanitary Board Decision

County Revenue Shortfalls Leap Above $375,000

Approximately 30 residents of the Gorman and Route 50 area expressed their continuing opposition to certain phases of the proposed Gorman Water Project before the Board of Garrett County Commissioners yesterday.

The group, represented by attorney Bob Enten, presented the board with a map containing a shaded area intended to represent those persons who do not want the proposed system.

The group is wanting a revision of the first phase of the project, so it will not extend west of the Gorman Bridge, and it is opposed to construction of phases II and III, which extend up Backbone Mountain to Table Rock.

Enten argued that "these people don't want it and don't feel they should pay any front footage for it." If a front footage assessment is imposed to retire the debt of the project, all property owners would be required to pay up to five cents per front foot per year for 40 years, whether they hook up to the system or not, according to Robert Fousek, assistant administrator of the Garrett County Sanitary District.

Last week the Garrett County Sanitary Commission decided to proceed with the entire project, including all three phases, following a public hearing and the receiving of petitions. Any groun which is not satisfied with that decision can now petition the Board of Garrett County Commissioners, within 10 days after the last public notice appears in The Republican, after which time the commissioners will make the final decision. That decision would be final unless some technical violation in proceedings brings the issue to court, according to Tom Jones, Project Manager.

The residents present at yesterday's session stated that the lowering of the front footage fee last week did not change the position of anyone opposed to the project.

Enten stated that the residents did not see a need for the project, even though federal monies are available for it. Also expressed by individuals was concern over the quality of the water which would be used in the system, and the uncertainty of the number of users in regard to who will ultimately pay for the project. Enten suggested that there is no guarantee that there will be enough users.

Weather

Variable cloudiness today with the highs near 40. Partly cloudy tonight. Lows around 20. Mostly sunny Thursday. Highs near 40. Chance of precipitation 20 percent today, 10 percent tonight and near zero Thursday. Winds west 10 to 15 mph today and 10 mph or less tonight.

Partly cloudy Friday. Increasing cloudiness Saturday. Chance of rain Sunday except rain or snow in the Maryland mountains. Highs Friday in the 50s. Lows in the 30s. Highs Saturday and Sunday in the 40s. Lows 20s to low 30s.

In two weeks, revenue shortfalls for the county have leaped from $190,000 to above $375,000 the commissioners reported to county department directors Tuesday.

Ernie Gregg, Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, told the group, "we were very conservative in estimating our revenues when we made up this year's budget. In spite of that, revenues have been less than we expected; some have been 'horribly' low."

The most recent shortfall was $190,000 in revenue sharing funds, the commissioners stated. The first of four quarterly revenue sharing payments, which came the first of January, was $45,447 less than anticipated.

The payment is actually the second payment to the county this fiscal year, but, because the Federal fiscal year runs from October 1 to September 30, it is the first of four payments at a new rate.

The commissioners had planned for a total of $918,000 in revenue sharing funds for this fiscal year, broken down to approximately $227,000 each quarter, but will receive $726,215 at about $181,553 per quarter.

The commissioners told the group that when they prepared the budget for this fiscal year, they had depended on figures from reliable sources on what the new payments would be.

They explained they did not receive official word from the Office of Revenue Sharing on the new payments while they were preparing the county budget.

Actually, they have found no records of receiving official word before a letter came with the January payment explaining how the amounts allocated to the counties were determined.

In the letter, the commissioners were told that because Congress did not renew the General Revenue Sharing program until the end of an extended session, the office did not have time to make its annual adjustments before the funds were allocated.

The letter stated that adjustments in the next year's allocation would reflect the shortfall this year.

The shortfall was not discovered until this week.

The commissioners did not state any specific plan to handle this and previously announced shortfalls because their staff was still studying the situation.

Previous shortfalls included a $40,000 plus interest payment the county must make as a result of a lawsuit; $74,000 shortfall in revenues from the Governor's Transportation Fund to the county roads department; and a $74,000 overpayment to the county in June 1979.

Jack Turney, county attorney, stated he will pursue the possibility of legislation to forgive the county of the $74,000 overpayment. He stated there have been other cases in which this has been granted.

Tim Dugan, county planning director, stated that since the mistake was not the county's and since it has no way to check the accuracy of payments from the state, then the county should be forgiven the debt.

In other business, Herb McCrobie, county roads administrator, told the commissioners his department was awaitinz a $194,000 state aid check which was due February 18.

He said if he does not receive it by Thursday, he will be unable to meet the department's $86,000 payroll. He contacted the distributing

Sanitary District Receives Youghiogheny Facilities Plan

The Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc. Monday received the Upper Youghiogheny Sewerage Facilities Plan from Pullman-Swindell, Pittsburgh, Pa., engineering consultants. That agency has been working on the study since 1977, and final drafts have undergone numerous revisions during that time, according to Dick Nace, Sanitary District administrator.

The draft received Monday was submitted to the State Office of Environmental Programs, an agency which reviews sewerage projects on behalf of the Environmental Protection Agency. From there it will go to EPA as a Step I feasibility study, and to the State Clearing House for A-95 review, said Nace.

The plan is a preliminary sewerage study of most of the Little Youghiogheny Drainage Basin, including Oakland, Mt. Lake Park and Deer Park, and general vicinities of Hutton and Crellin. It lists the consultants' recommendations for sewering portions of those areas which can support public sewers, and any appropriate revisions which must be made at this time, such as the completion of the Trout Run treatment facility through the installation of aeration equipment.

The study found that it is not feasible for Oakland sewage to be treated in the Trout Run lagoon, and that it is not feasible for Crellin or Hutton sewage to be treated in any future Oakland facility. It was found feasible for Bausch & Lomb sewage to be treated in the Trout Run lagoon, and plans for an interceptor are now underway.

Nace said that a survey of existing individual treatment facilities, such as septic tanks, is missing from the report. This work will be done by the Garrett County Health Department and added to the basic study.

Nace said he has authorized the Health Department to go ahead with septic system survey, which he said will determine whether Hutton and Deer Park need public sewerage.

The Pullman-Swindell plan is financed through federal, state and local funds, with 12 and one-half percent of the funding advanced by the Garrett County Commissioners.

Couple Presents Juggling, Mime To Area Pupils

David Sharps and Karen Leslie, a team of acrobatic performers specializing in juggling and mime, presented a special performance and conducted workshops in most of the elementary schools in Garrett County during the month of February.

The couple performed their own show of visual artistry, entitled "Sight Flight," while staying in Garrett County to rehearse for an audition for the touring cast of the Broadway musical "Barnum."

The musical is scheduled for a one-year tour of major U. S. cities.

Sharps, 24, is a graduate of Southern High School and is a former resident of Oakland. He is a son of Mrs. Sybilla Sharps and the late William Sharps. Leslie, 23, is from the midwest, and graduated from Bel Air High School.

Both are graduates of West Virginia University, Morgantown, W. VA., Sharps in 1979 with a major in recreation, and Leslie in 1980 with a major in theatre.

The two met in college and began "working the streets" across the country, said Leslie. They have been together nearly three years, and worked two of those years on the TSS Mardi Gras, a cruise ship on the Carribean Sea. They also performed as guest artists in two International Theatre Arts Conferences for high school drama students. Although their individual talents could stand alone, the couple plans to continue performing as a team.

The couple began their presentation with a lively show for the entire school, and then taught workshops for fourth and fifth-graders, Sharps, teaching juggling, and Leslie teaching mask, initation and mime to the gifted and talented.

The two managed to capture and hold the attention of the youngsters, without saying a word, but providing the audience with visual entertainment, sparkling laughter and wonder.

ONE OF THE FIRST MEMBERS OF THE UNICYCLE MARCHING BAND, David Sharps entertains youngsters at the Dennett Road Elementary School, playing a tuba while riding a unicycle. This was one of several outstanding and highly entertaining feats performed by Sharps at nearly all county elementary schools this month. His partner, Karen Leslie, pictured left, won the hearts of the children through non-verbal communication (facial expression) and dressing up as a clown. Ms. Leslie made obstacles appear out of nowhere, such as stairs, a ladder or a wall, through the use of mime. Sharps displayed extraordinary talent at balancing, as he juggled atop a six-foot high unicycle. The two conducted workshops at the schools following their performances.

Women from 150 countries will celebrate World Day of Prayer, on March 6. Church Women United will sponsor a service at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland at 1:00 p.m.

Garrett County Native Among Accident Victims

A Garrett County native, Charles Harrison Mitter, 61, of Luke, was among those killed in an accident in Frostburg last Wednesday when a lumber truck apparently lost its brakes and tore through the center of town at an estimated 80 miles per hour, exploding into flames as it plunged into Stoops' Restaurant.

The remains of Mitter's body were found in the restaurant debris, along with the remains of his son-in-law, the Rev. Gary E. Marsh, 31, of Frostburg. The two were reportedly inside a vehicle when the truck's impact drove the vehicle into the restaurant. The third victim of the accident was Mrs. Ruth M. Bowen, 52, Frostburg, wife of District Court Judge Miller Bowen.

Garrett County Central Alarm was alerted initially at about 5:30 p. m., and was told to "send everything you can spare, but don't clear out your stations." Garrett firefighters joined forces with Frostburg area firefighters to battle the blazing tractor-trailer and restaurant.

Grantsville, Accident and Bittinger Fire Departments all responded first with one engine each. Friendsville Fire Department was dispatched to Accident temporarily, and then on to Frostburg for further assistance. Deep Creek Fire Department was then dispatched to Accident.

Deer Park Fire Department was called 20 minutes later to respond to Frostburg with a foam unit, and Oakland Fire Department responded 15 minutes after that, also with a foam unit. The last Garrett County company returned to its station at about 9:30 p. m.

Mr. Mitter was born in Bloomington, the son of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth (Morehead) Mitter, of Bloomington, and the late Walter Mitter.

He was a former councilman of Luke, and was employed by Westvaco in the finishing department for 40 years. He attended Pentecostal Holiness Church in Piedmont, W. Va.

Surviving in addition to his mother, are his widow, Frances (Barr) Mitter; a son, Timothy C. Mitter, Chevy Chase; a daughter, Mrs. Vickie Marsh, Frostburg; three sisters, Mrs. Dessie Welsh, Bloomington; Mrs. Grace Boettner, Winchester, Va.; and Mrs. Fred Dean, Frostburg; three brothers, Harry (Jack) Mitter, Westernport; Robert Mitter, LaVale, and William Mitter, Detroit, Mich.

Services were conducted in the Boal Funeral Home Saturday, with the Rev. George Whitehurst and the Rev. Richard Green officiating. Interment was in Potomac Memorial Gardens, Keyser, W. Va.

Pallbearers were Kermit Hawk, Donald Amann, Joe King, Frank Fortner, and Bill Taccino.

Roads Workers Allegedly Found Asleep On Job

Seven county roads department employees will face charges of sleeping on the job, according to the Garrett County Board of Commissioners.

The men were allegedly caught sleeping in their trucks in the Table Rock area at 8:30 a. m. by a county citizen who phoned in a complaint to the county commissioners' office later that morning.

Commissioner Lester Hunter and Personnel Director Paul Shockey investigated the matter and found the men in two roads department trucks at the site at approximately 11:15 a. m.

When questioned, the men stated they were waiting for the rain to stop so they could begin repairs to roads in that area.

Herb McCrobie, county roads administrator, would not comment on the incident saying the hearing on the matter has not yet been held for the men. He said no determination has yet been made that they actually were sleeping in their trucks.

Commissioner Ernie Gregg, in comments about the incident, said the commissioners "will not tolerate" this type of activity. He pointed out that the weather was rainy all day Friday and asked whether the men planned to stay at the site all day.

The citizen has said he would be willing to testify at the hearing of the men.

A Grain Of Salt Doesn't Always Help . . .

The economic news coming out of the county courthouse is getting gloomier by the week. Just two issues ago, this newspaper reported that the county was facing a $150,000 deficit. Today, we see on the front page that the anticipated shortfall has climbed to approximately $380,000.

There are those in the county who are willing and anxious to participate in a tar and feathering maneuver, with the county commissioners as the central characters. However, we feel inclined to defend the commissioners on this particular issue.

Granted, at times the commissioners' inexperience over the past two-plus years has led to some errors in judgment. This is to be expected of all persons taking on new jobs. But most of the projected budget deficit is something over which the commissioners have little control.

The county was sued for (and lost) $40,000, plus interest, for a decision rendered by a previous board of commissioners. The $74,000 overpayment by the state, which now must be repaid, was not their mistake. The $74,000 cut in state funds to the roads department was apparently unanticipated. Finally, the $190,000 cut in federal revenue sharing over the final two quarters of fiscal '81 was also totally unexpected. In this case, the commissioners, in preparation for a possible cut, budgeted according to a figure even lower than what they were told they could expect to receive. So, even after taking their best estimate from several reliable sources with a grain of salt, they still got burned.

The great majority of the county agencies have done quite well in sticking to their budgets. There have been few overruns.

What seems to be surfacing here is that the financial arrangements between the counties and the state and federal governments need some serious re-evaluation. As it is, the county must plan large portions of its budget each year by relying on amounts of money the state and federal governments say they will give the county. When it comes time to hand over the cash, though, the amount is less than anticipated. What is a county to do?

It's true, in this time of spending cuts, mandated by the federal government, the county must make adjustments in order to bear its share. There are some services that are nice, but not really necessary. There may also be furloughs. But it would make things much easier for the commissioners to make the cuts if they knew for sure what numbers with which they have to work.

Junk Food Decisions? . . .

by Carol Kapel

Politics and junk food do mix. If you don't believe it, just wander into the Oval Office, where you might find President Reagan making a monumental decision . . . a red one or a yellow one? How about a purple one?

President Reagan has already proven profound leadership through example. A jar of jellybeans now rests on the meeting table of the Garrett County Commissioners. Munchies by which to sign proclamations?

Why not? Leaders through the centuries had their quirks and idiosyncrasies. Carter had his peanuts (and his brother); FDR had a passion for picnics; Cleopatra had her milk baths; Hannibal was hung up on elephants; Napoleon kept his hand inside his coat for unexplained periods of time; Eisenhower's pleasure was golf; and Kennedy loved to sail. To each his own.

Dentists and nutritionists would like to see President Reagan switch to raisins or fruit—something that's good for you. They don't understand jellybeans. We do.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I think it is about time that someone give credit where credit is due—the specific situation that I am speaking of is the Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home, Inc., Mr. Thomas Cuppett and Mr. James Cuppett, Administrators. I can speak from over a year's experience of daily visiting this Nursing Home and I have always been impressed with the quality care, cleanliness, patience, individual concern and friendliness of every staff member who works there I've come into contact with.

It is my opinion that one could not find a better nursing home or nursing care in the entire state. So I, for one, want to render my utmost compliments to, not only the owners, but also the entire staff that works daily so diligently and faithfully at this Nursing Home.

Sincerely,
Allen S. Paugh, Sr.

Dear Sir:

I am appalled at the money being spent for the Animal Shelter, control, etc. Is it primarily for the College Veterinary courses? With all the money spent, I am disturbed by the loose dogs overrunning my properties the same as it has been for years.

The new law passed recently requiring owners to keep their dogs confined to their own properties has not been publicized nor enforced and owners don't seem to be aware of it or care. Why? Why do we pay for a control officer when dogs are not controlled?

I have been in touch with the elected officials and the proper employed persons and I still have the same dog problem.

I almost wrecked my car two weeks ago on a county road with ice and snow, when two dogs were pursuing my car. The one dog I reported to the control officer over two years ago, which is still running loose all over my property and everywhere else it chooses to run. Why? No wonder people are fed up with governmental bureaucracy.

Will the dog owners ever respect other peoples rights and not allow their dogs on our properties? I am tired of cleaning up the messes, plus the enternal day and night barking. Many people here shoot or poison nuisances on their property and I may be forced to do so. It's long past due that corrective action be taken.

Thanking you,
Concerned Taxpayer

Dear Editor:

In recent weeks a lot of letters which condemn the Dept. of Social Services have appeared in this column. These letters would lead one to believe that the Dept. of Social Services literally stalk out homes in order to take children away from their loving concerned parents, for no reason.

Let's be real! Before any child is taken from its home there must be ample proof that the parents have neglected or abused him. If there is the slightest hope that a parent will correct the situation, the child is allowed to remain in the family. If anything can be said of the Dept. of Social Services it sometimes is too lenient.

Over two years ago two little children I know were abandoned by their parents. Neighbors kept these children for over a month with no word from the parents. Finally these neighbors notified the Dept. of Social Services of the situation and the children were placed in a foster home.

Why? First of all, prior reports were on file against these parents, reports of inadequate food, shelter, clothing and care had been reported by family and neighbors.

Second of all, two times prior, the youngest baby had been admitted to Garrett County Memorial for mal-nutrition.

Though the parents were under the scrutiny of the Department, the children remained in the home. The "loving parents," you see, received the benefit of the doubt.

These children have been in foster care for over two years now. Though the natural parents are allowed to visit, they have not done so in the last few months. At Christmas and on their recent birthdays there were no gifts from their real parents, nor any calls.

I'm sorry but my eyes do not weep for parents such as these. I cry instead for these children.

Looking out for the kids

Dear Sir:

As we sat down to write this letter, we became painfully aware that it has been six months since our son, Tom, became one of over 700 persons killed on Maryland highways because of a drunk driver. The constant reminder of the loss of our son serves as a catalyst for continuing to lobby for reform in the drunk-driving laws.

A number of bills have been pre-filed for the session of the General Assembly in Annapolis for increasing the penalties for drinking and driving. These bills if passed would: lower the blood alcohol content (BAC) levels to .10 for intoxicated and .08 for impaired; impose a mandatory penalty on drivers who refuse to take a BAC test; assure that if a driver receives probation for an alcohol-related offense, it will appear on his record; require a 5-year suspension of driver's licenses for those convicted of drinking and driving within the first 5 years after receiving their first license; and provide for a statewide drinking and driving educational/rehabilatation program.

We suggest that if you are concerned about the lenient drunk-driving laws you first call both the Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, Joseph C. Owens (17th Dist.) and the Vice Chairman, John W. Wolfgang (28th Dist.) to let them know your feelings. All Delegates in Annapolis can be reached by calling 1-841-3000. Secondly, encourage friends and relatives who live in other districts to get in touch with their own representatives about the drunk-driving bills. We must act now while these bills are still viable in the Committee.

Finally, we are forming a citizen lobbyist group to show support for new drunk-driving laws. We would like to pack the Committee room the day of the hearings. If you are interested in joining this effort, contact us for further information.

Dear Editor:

One aspect of President Reagan's proposed Economic Recovery Program that I oppose is the dismantling of the Community Services Administration (CSA). This would be the result if CSA funds were given to the Governor of each State through the U. S. Department of Health and Human Services.

I believe this would create 50 "mini-bureaucracies" and another bureaucratic layer that the over 900 Community Action Agencies (CAAs) in the U. S. would have to go through to develop plans and projects that address local problems. If the Economic Opportunity Act, which authorizes the CSA and CAAs, is not reauthorized and instead CAAs are put into a human services block grant to the Governor, I fear that several other harmful things may also happen:

•States may not give the flexibility to local communities necessary for local control and accountability—which is necessary for a CAA to continue to cut across problem areas that go beyond just direct human services.

•The Governor may also decide to use CSA funds to support the State's current programs and thereby further cut or even eliminate Community Action Agencies—regardless of what the counties may want, or need.

•This could eliminate Garrett County, Maryland's Community Action Agency altogether, which I feel would be tragic since over the past 16 years Garrett County CAA has not only helped thousands of low-income, elderly and handicapped citizens, but also brought millions of dollars to the economy of our County.

For these reasons, and others, I urge President Reagan to support a three-year reauthorization of CSA and CAAs, so that they, along with others, may continue to meet the needs of the disadvantaged citizens throughout this Nation.

Sincerely,
Tom Crogan

The One-Armed Bandit Strikes

by Beverly J. Sincell

If you have ever played a slot machine then you know the more you play it at one time, the better your chances are at winning. The odds get better as more money is dropped into the machine.

Garrett and Allegany Counties' quest for a coal tax resembles the match against the one-armed bandit. The citizens are the player, since they are really the ones who stand to win or lose when the game is over.

The two counties and their legislators have been seeking a tax on coal for years and each year there has been division. This year they tried again.

The wheels began spinning when Delegate DeCorsey Bolden introduced a bill authorizing the county commissioners to impose a percentage tax on coal. There are three wheels: the county commissioners of the two counties, the Western Maryland delegation, and the House Ways and Means Committee which will hear testimony on the bill this Thursday.

The one-armed bandit represents the state with its many agencies and those who swing the political billy club.

The jackpot is a tax on the strip-mine coal company which will pay for the costs of repair of coal-haul roads. If we citizens lose, we will have to bear this cost.

The one-armed bandit covets the jackpot. If the bill is not passed, all indications are influential legislators downstate will introduce a bill next year for a statewide tax which will probably mean a higher tax for the coal companies and much less money for the two counties. Baltimore City has shown an interest in receiving coal tax revenues.

We have heard the issues argued for months. Mason and the delegation think the percentage is more equitable and is sensitive to inflation. The commissioners side up with the coal operators for the tonnage tax which they say will guarantee all tax revenues go to the counties and will not demand the amount of bookkeeping the percentage tax would. The commissioners are asking to be given the authority to impose a tax of their choice.

With little more than 24 hours before the hearing begins, the wheels are still spinning. The commissioners and delegation remain divided. Even with the full support of the commissioners, there is no guarantee the third wheel, the House Ways and Means, would line up by approving the bill, but there would be a greater chance.

Once the bill is approved in committee, it is almost assured of passage.

Del. Bolden believes the bill will pass the committee, but others are not as certain. They cite the political division as the main stumbling block.

If it does not pass, who is to blame?

Senator Mason?—who says he wants to cooperate, but has been almost dictatorial in telling the commissioners it's either percentage tax or none at all?

Del. Bolden?—who sides with Mason and who says he introduced the bill because of his commitment to the Citizen's Coalition for Surface Mining, a handful of citizens in Garrett and Allegany counties?

The other delegates?—who either side with Mason or are giving their support to keep peace in the delegation?

Or the Garrett County Commissioners?—who all but admitted defeat two weeks ago when they told Mason they would neither support or oppose the bill (although Commissioner Gregg may throw in his support)?

They are all to blame. That our legislators would come back one more year empty-handed is unforgiveable. And, that a statewide coal tax may be implemented next year with the political reality that Baltimore City would receive the largest chunk of the revenues is outrageous.

When our elected officials can't agree, we must tell them what we want. Remember how the slot machine game can be won? So it is in politics. There is power in numbers.

The spinning wheels are slowing down the one-armed bandit. Will we hit the jackpot, or will he hold on to it?

Oakland Adopts Sewer Ordinance

The Oakland Town Council adopted a Sewer Use Ordinance following a public hearing held at its regular meeting on February 11. The ordinance is required by the Enviornmental Protection Agency as a prerequisite for funding of a sewerage treatment facility.

The ordinance regulates the use of public and private sewers and drains, private sewage disposal, the installation and connection of building sewers, and the discharge of waters and wastes into the public sewer system. The main purpose of the ordinance is to assure that nothing but sewage will run into the town's sewer pipes. It prohibits discharge of roof leaders, ground water, storm water, etc., and establishes penalties for noncompliance with the ordinance.

Following another public hearing that night, the town agreed upon proposed use of federal revenue sharing funds in the amount of $10,731.38. Council agreed that $1,693.26 will go the Workmen's Compensation for town employees, and $9,038.12 will go toward the local share of the town's Sewer System Evaluation Survey.

In other business, Tom Earley presented a statement of earnings for the Rotary and Lions Club at Broadford Recreation Area last summer. At the Fourth of July Picnic the group made $547.67, and

Commissioners

The author of the editorial asserted other counties could also make claims for repair costs to roads traveled by coal trucks enroute from Western Maryland to Baltimore's port.

The author argued that with increased coal exports through the Port of Baltimore would come increased coalhandling facilities. There would also be an increase in coal deliveries to major plants in the Baltimore area which were converting to coal for energy.

"Given the prospects," the editorial claimed, "it would be foolhardy for local jurisdictions to seek piecemeal taxes from Maryland's coal producers.

Gregg warned this year was the last chance for a coal tax strictly for the two counties.

Hunter pointed out that if the delegates would agree to revise the proposed bill to allow the commissioners authority to impose a tax of their choice rather than restricting the choice to the percentage tax, all local opposition would dissolve.

Hunter, who said he would remain firm in his position, has said he will neither support nor oppose proposed legislation allowing the commissioners the authority to impose a percentage tax on the sale price of surface mined coal.

Paugh indicated he would side with Hunter.

Dugan told the commissioners the possibility of a statewide tax "is a very serious threat" if the proposed coal tax measure fails.

Both Hunter and Gregg plan to attend the Thursday hearing. Hunter said he would testify at the hearing to inform the committee of his views.

All three commissioners, as well as the Allegany County commissioners, have stated their preference for a flat rate tonnage tax surface-mined coal.

Whooping Cough

to shorten the period of communicability to about one week, but the disease is also spread during the week or two of "cold" symptoms which usually precede the coughing phase, Pope said.

He notes that the cough may continue for several weeks despite antibiotic treatment.

Pope cited infants as the group at greatest risk of serious harm from this disease; their immunity levels are lowest and the severe cough may cause difficulties in maintaining good nutrition. The weakened infant may then be susceptible to pneumonia and other infections.

The county and state health departments are conducting further studies to try to determine the existence and extent of the presence of the dangerous organism in this community, said Pope.

He cautioned that young infants should be protected from children with "colds" and coughs.

With the onset of cold symptoms or cough, children, and particularly infants, should be seen by a physician Pope said. If the condition of an infant or child worsens despite treatment, the infant or child should by followed closely by the physician.

Pope stated that if an infant or child is not up to date with its "baby shots" (DPT), or is under four and has not had a DPT injection in the last year he or she should receive a DPT immunization at this time.

The Garrett County Health Department will be holding special clinics on March 4 for infants and children needing DPT immunizations, said Pope. The clinic will be held in the Oakland Health center, Friendsville at the Town Municipal Building and at the Grantsville Health Center from 9:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m. Pope urged parents to bring their child's immunization record with them to the clinic for review by the nurse.

Shortfalls

agency which was to investigate the matter.

The commissioners stated if the check is not received, the county would advance the money to the department to meet the payroll. The department would then reimburse the county upon receipt of the money.

Tim Dugan told the commissioners that under the Reagan administration the Appalachian Regional Commission, (ARC), the primary funding source for development projects in the Appalachian Region, may be abolished.

He said several county department directors will meet with Beverly Byron to discuss the future of various federal agencies, ARC included.

He noted that President Reagan "is right in making changes" but ARC has been grouped with several agencies to be cut, without consideration of its uniqueness.

"It is illogical to talk about development of private economic industry when you are removing the funding mechanism to provide sewage treatment facilities and water systems to encourage private industry development," Dugan said.

Dugan stated the Tri-County Council could be put out of business if the sources of funds it administers are abolished. He said if the federal agencies are abolished, Tri-County Council should remain intact as a lobbying group for Western Maryland.

Dave Ramsey, Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Coordinator for Garrett and Allegany Counties, met with the commissioners to gain support for a federal grant application to expand EMS services in the four western Maryland counties.

The commissioners agreed to endorse the application with a letter. The application will be sent to the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Systems, Ramsey told the commissioners. The Institute will then submit a request for a federal grant application of approximately $500,000.

Ramsey said the funds for Garrett County would be used for additional radio towers for ambulance communications, for disaster drill training, and for additional administration of the cardiac rescue technician program.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, county school superintendent, and William Platter, director of the Long Stretch Youth Homes, discussed with the commissioners the possible use of the Grantsville Elementary School by the Youth Home.

Platter explained he needed a building to house dining facilities, classrooms and office space to replace the building used by the Youth Home which burned February 17.

The commissioners stated that since the school is to be deeded to the county, the building would not be available for use for at least 30 days due to the legal proceedings involved.

Because Platter needed a building immediately and because of the length of time before the building would be available, the commissioners and Platter agreed use of the school would not be feasible.

Put It On Paper

by Harry Fox

Yesterday's words can have a way of coming back to haunt the person who puts thoughts on paper. Written words have a staying power, a life of their own. Sometimes, an incident comes along to graphically remind us of that perilous element in the written word.

Consider the case of Mary Jane Cooper and her nine friends. Mary Jane is an inmate in the West Virgina Women's Prison, Pence Springs, WV, whose case will soon be heard by that state's Supreme Court. Not the case which resulted in her prison sentence, but a case "alleging denial of their educational and recreational rights." The ten women claim that they have been denied outdoor exercise; lack a comprehensive vocational training program; have no apprenticeship program; and have no meaningful work release or college course program.

This case itself is hardly unusual. Dozens of such suits are filed for inmates every year in almost every state. There may, in this and other similar incidents, be valid claims. But the women base their petition on "the right to rehabilitation and education guaranteed them under the state constitution."

Did the authors of such a guarantee think about the potential impact of that phrase on so many areas of life? The best of intentions can go astray, in this case, at least, of the practical limits or abilities of a community to carry out such a mandate. Guaranteed rights are at issue here, but such a guarantee fails to provide a standard to weigh the women's plea.

The Declaration of Independence was written by men who greatly admired the French philosophers, modified the right to life, liberty, and property, in a significant choice of words. The premise on which the American experiment began is that the creator gives us rights, which include life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

The nine women have learned from the English nobles who confronted King John in 1215. When they wanted their rights guaranteed, they made him put it on paper. Once committed to writing, it would not be easy for the beleaguered monarch to go back on his word. And the Magna Charta and so many constitutions since then, are still around.

Visiting Friends . . . A Proven Alternative

By Carol Kapel

Can anything be done to prevent child abuse?

This question has been posed for decades, with emphasis on rehabilitation programs, saturation of printed knowledge concerning abusive family problems, public awareness thrusts, and preventive measures through social agencies.

Another kind of preventive program seeking to combat child abuse and neglect is present and thriving in Garrett County, offering help and hope to potentially abusing parents.

Visiting Friends, a volunteer service organization, reaches out as a friend and a helper to parents having difficulty with the problems and frustrations of raising children.

The program centers around the need to focus first on the parent. The Visiting Friend supports the parents, helping them to overcome the isolation so often surrounding the lack of a positive relationship with their children. The volunteer becomes a friend—an advocate—since the vast majority of abusing parents really want to restrain their rage.

Because child abuse is often a by-product of a parent's emotional instability, and because many abusive parents were abused during their own childhood, Visiting Friends believes their organization is a most successful method of treating and preventing the steadily rising problem of injury and death of children.

Visiting Friends consists of approximately 16 women, all with children, who make themselves available as a comrade, a confidant—as someone who wants to have a friend, as well as be one.

Lynne Elmlinger and Joy Lane, both of Mt. Lake Park, serve as full-time volunteer coordinators of the program. Their function is not an easy one, but one offering self-worth, joint strength, and new awareness through contact with troubled parents, as well as close ties with members of the 'friend' team, according to both women.

Each volunteer has one 'friend' whom she visits on a regular basis, offering an accepting relationship, a listening ear, and a new understanding of what causes emotional and physical abuse.

"The volunteer mothers are there to help. Their goal is not to judge, but rather, to emphathize with someone else's problems," according to Ms Lane.

Keeping the family together even a family that abuses its children, is a new philosophy, but one that is rapidly being accepted as workable, considering what the act of separation can do to the family unit.

Until very recently, it was considered of prime importance to get the child away instantly. It is a belief of Dr. Arthur Green, a psychiatrist and director of the Brooklyn Family Center for the treatment of abused children and their families, that early separation from parents can harm a child more in the long run than the physical abuse.

Establishing a relationship—one where there is no giver or receiver, but two sharers—is the primary goal of Visiting Friends. Changing the pathological climate that caused the abuse in the first place is a rewarding aftereffect of a reliable friendship. "The friend is not a rescuer. She reaches out not just to give, but to receive the warmth and comfort of a two-way relationship," Ms. Elmlinger said.

An extensive training program follows the selection of a volunteer. According to the guidelines for the parent aide program, the volunteer establishes a relationship which makes her generally available to the family in time of crisis, makes home visits, and corresponds by telephone, providing trust and understanding.

Referrals come primarily from, and are funnelled through, the Department of Social Services, but it is important to stress, according to Ms. Elmlinger, that Visiting Friends is not an extension of any social agency. The primary concern of the Visiting Friend is not housekeeping, cleanliness, nutrition, health, or even the child. She is mainly concerned with giving the parents, particularly the mother, positive reinforcement and emotional support.

Any information shared between the volunteer and her friend is absolutely confidential. All phone calls or inquiries are kept confidential also, and the caller may remain anonymous when seeking information, according to Ms. Lane.

In addition to Lynne and Joy, other Visiting Friends include Reba Herrington, Connie Jacoby, Alana Jones, Kathy Gibson, Vava Railey, Frances Acton, Kathy Eiswert, Madeline Collins, Lorraine Stephens, Debbie Pariseau, Cora Bowser, Fran Otero, Betty Vance, Patty Blythe and Carol Strong.

Volunteers are welcome, as well as anyone in need of a friend. Persons interested in learning more about the program may contact Joy Lane at 334-9030 or Lynne Elmlinger at 334-3137.

These women all agree on one thing—it works. Change comes through experience—experience of a new relationship—a reflection of self. When the friend feels accepted by her friend, she can accept herself and she can accept her child. The label "my friend" has no stigma, only pride.

Mary R. Sincell To Travel With USC Wind Band

Mary Ruth Sincell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Sincell, Mt. Lake Park, has been accepted for membership in the United States Collegiate Wind Band, a selective musical organization which will make a concert tour of England and seven European countries in July and August. Ms. Sincell is a senior at Southern High School and a member of the Southern Highlander Marching Band. She plays an alto saxophone.

The invitation to tour with the U. S. Collegiate Wind Band was received from Prof. Al G. Wright, Director of Bands at Purdue University (Lafayette, Indiana) and conductor of nine previous Collegiate Wind Band tours since they were started in 1971. The USCWB Associate Conductor, Gladys Stone Wright, is the founding president of the Women Band Directors National Association.

The USCW Band will travel for three weeks, July 13 — August 5, in England, France, Germany, Austria, Italy, Holland and Switzerland. Concerts will be performed in the cities of London, Paris, Lucerne, Innsbruck, Lugano, La Chaux-de-Fonds, Munich, Amsterdam, Montreaux, Cologne and Heidelburg.

The group will assemble in New York City for rehearsals prior to their departure from Kennedy Airport on July 13. While in New York City the USCWB will play invitational concerts at the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts and in the Plaza of the Americas at Rockefeller Center.

The members of the 100-piece Wind Bands are chosen from all over the entire United States once a year. Students from all 50 of the United States and seven Canadian Provinces have participated in past USCWB Tours.

The previous nine European concert tours made by the USCWB, were received with great critical acclaim, according to Prof. Wright. The USCW Bands annually receive more requests for concerts from European city officials than can possibly be accepted, he said.

In addition to performing concerts, the Wind Band members will visit musical shrines, museums and places of musical interest including Richard Wagner's house in Lucerne, Mozart's birthplace in Salzburg and Beethoven's house in Bonn. They will also attend selected concerts and performances in various British and European concerts halls and opera houses.

Correction Noted

In last week's edition of The Republican, in an article entitled, "Gorman Water Project Extended," which appeared on the front page, it was incorrectly reported that approximately 80 residents living along U. S. Route 50, led by Juanita Bosley of Backbone Mountain, petitioned the commission to extend the project.

The petition was signed by approximately 80 people, however they represent residents living in the areas of all three phases of the project, from the town of Gorman to Table Rock. The 80 residents do not all reside along Route 50.

We regret the error.

FIGHT FOR THE REBOUND — Stan Eggleston, No. 50, of Northern High School, seems to be winning this particular battle for a rebound in Friday night's contest between the Huskies and the Southern Rams. Also reaching high in the air are Southern's Gary Heginbotham, No. 30, and Northern's Brad Yoder, No. 42. Also visible is Southern Ram Mike McLaughlin, No. 20. The rams won the contest, 41-36.

Rams Sweep County Series By Edging Huskies, 41-36

The Northern Huskies came to Oakland last Friday evening determined to upset their cross-county counterparts, the Southern Rams, and by the end of the first half it appeared that they would achieve their goal. However, late in the contest the Rams finally worked their way through a stubborn Husky defense and outscored the visitors in the final stanza, 10-5, which was the margin of victory.

The Huskies controlled the contest throughout the first half, holding leads of 15-7 and 29-19 at the ends of the first two quarters of play. The Rams took over the defensive momentum completely in the third quarter, however, and allowed the Huskies only two points, to knot the score at 31-31 going into the final chapter. Then with just one half a minute of the fourth quarter gone, Southern went on top for keeps, 33-31.

Only two players in the game finished with double figures, as Northern's Dick Bender netted 15 points on five goals and five of seven at the line, and Southern's Jeff Ryscavage hit 13 markers on six buckets and one for one at the charity stripe.

Southern outshot Northern from the field by a 19-15 margin. Despite the always intense rivalry, fouling by both teams was kept to a minimum, as there was a total of only 15 attempts at the line. The Huskies netted six of ten tosses, while the Rams netted three of five attempts. Only one cager, Weldon Yoder of Northern, was forced to leave the game with five fouls.

The outcome improved the Rams' season ledger to 15-5, while Northern's record dropped to 11-9. Southern stopped the Huskies in the first meeting of the two teams earlier this season at Northern, 55-47.

Ram Grapplers Fall Victim To Black Knights

The Southern High wrestling team remained winless last Wednesday evening by dropping a 49-18 decision to Valley on the Black Knights mats.

Southern's Gordon Gregory provided a glimmer of hope for the struggling Rams early in the contest as he pinned John Thomas in the 101-pound class.

However, although Southern picked up two more wins via the forfeit, by Rex McRobie and Jim Lyons, the Black Knights won the remainder of the matches, six of them by pins.

Valley's pins were registered by Bob White, Dave Brode, Steve Thomas, Alfred Bosley, Dave Johnson and Marty Bennett. The home team also recorded two victories by decision and another by default.

The match was the final regular season contest for both teams.

Red Devils Spoil Lakers' Chances For JUCO Title

The Garrett Community College Lakers nipped Anne Arundel CC Thursday in the opening round of the Maryland JUCO Basketball Tournament, 65-64, but had their hopes for the title dashed the following evening by being stopped by the Red Devils of Baltimore, 72-62. The tournament was held at Harford Community College in Bel Air. Allegany CC of Cumberland went on to win the championship on Sunday by whipping Catonsville in the finals.

The contest with Anne Arundel was close all the way, as both teams netted 26 buckets from the field and the Lakers were up by just one at the half, 33-32.

With three minutes remaining in the game, Anne Arundel was on top by five. But GCC's Shawn Finney provided two steals which he converted for layups to bring the Lakers within one. On the second layup, he was fouled and had the opportunity of tying the score with a three-pointer. His toss bounced off the rim, however, and into the hands of teammate Jerome Hampton, who went back up for a score to put the Lakers on top for good. The teams exchanged buckets, as Anne Arundel connected on a final fielder with just one second remaining.

The game was still not over, however, as Anne Arundel stole the in-bounds pass from the Lakers at half court, but the half-court desperation shot missed the mark.

Hampton led the winners with 20 points on seven goals and six of seven from the line. Brian Black contributed 14 to the Laker total.

Andy Vaughan recorded 16 points for Anne Arundel, while Mark Evans netted 14 and Dwayne Brown contributed 12.

Both teams shot 18 times from the foul line, with the Lakers converting 13 and the losers, 12.

Miguel Rojas turned in a 28-point performance against Baltimore Friday on 11 goals and six of six at the free throw line, however the Red Devils held off two Laker rallies for the win.

Garrett was down 37-27 at intermission, but narrowed that lead to five early in the second half, 46-41. That margin was short-lived though, as Tony Williams' three foul shots reestablished the Red Devils' dominance.

Jerome Hampton also finished in double figures for Garrett with 14.

Leading Baltimore was Fred Moore, who netted 20 points. Williams finished with 19 and Tim Lyles, 18.

The Lakers were outshot from the floor, 26-23, and converted 16 of 23 attempts at the foul line, while the Devils meshed 20 of 33 tosses.

During the regular season, Garrett won the latest of two contests with Baltimore. GCC's season ledger is 15-11.

Huskies Breeze To Victory Over Bruceton Mills

Brad Yoder and Dick Bender provided 18 points apiece last Wednesday night as the Northern High Huskies coasted to a 74-56 win over Bruceton Mills on the winners' floor.

Yoder netted his on nine of 13 attempts from the field and pulled an incredible 19 rebounds, while Bender netted six goals, six of six at the line and provided nine assists. The win was the 11th for Coach Harv Speicher's squad, against eight defeats.

Northern took command early, racing to a 17-8 lead by the end of the first quarter and expanding that margin to 39-16 at the half. Things did not improve for the West Virginians after intermission, as the Huskies continued to press and carried a 60-42 advantage into the final stanza.

Long Stretch Youth Home Issues Plea For Assistance

The Long Stretch Youth Homes is sending out a plea for equipment used to run the facilities, after it lost nearly everything last week when fire destroyed the old Rustic Inn, Route 40, which housed the home's educational facilities.

Robert Shimer, fire marshal for Allegany and Garrett counties, has announced that the cause of the fire was found to be arson. The Maryland State Police is assisting the fire marshals' office in continuing investigation, including interviews with some of the youth at the home. The building had reportedly undergone inspection a few weeks ago with no major problems appearing in the electrical wiring or with the furnace.

Teachers and administrators had completed nearly $10,000 worth of renovations to the building over Christmas vacation, and the home was within two months of accreditation by the State Department of Education, having built up a library with some 10,000 books, all of which were lost in the blaze.

Workers at the home are now busy contacting area boards of education and any other sources asking donations or loans of office equipment, paper and school supplies, kitchen equipment, library books (5000 are needed for accreditation), dictionaries, encyclopedias and furniture, particularly desks. The school is forced to "Start all over," according to Doug Oxford, staff member.

Files and extension psychological tests and histories of the 57 boys residing there were also lost. The boys range in age from 13 to 19, and come primarily from Maryland, as well as about 14 other states. Many have been expelled from other schools and have received education at the youth home.

Oxford said he is looking for prunary as well as secondary textbooks because of the special education needs of the residents there. Oxford and Bob Maddox will conduct classes at Happy Hills Restaurant, former classroom site, and will redesign the basic educational system until insurance money or emergency relief comes through.

The vocational education program will be able to continue at designated sites, affected by the loss of records. The schoool offers training in 4-H and working with animals, horsemanship, dairying (in cooperation with Heifer Project International), farming and forestry, mechanics and food service.

Many of the boys were granted leave to stay with relatives until other arrangements could be made concerning meals and classes, while others are remaining in their cabins. The youths began returning to the home this week.

The fire, with losses estimated at $250,000, remains under investigation and is the third occurring at the facility. In regard to fires a few years ago, Oxford stated that the community of Finzel "responded beautifully," and rebuilt the damaged structure for the cost of materials.

Another planned activity this year was the coming of film crews in April to present the youth homes' story on the nationally syndicated television show "Real People." The home has been feeling the effects of financial difficulties felt by similar institutions; Long Stretch suffered a budget deficit of well over $20,000 during fiscal year 1980. "Real People" was to center on the home's facilities and the cost of providing educational and vocational training equal in quality to that found in the public school system. The home is funded by money from Title XX of the Social Security Act, channeled through the Departments of Juvenile and Social Services.

Anyone having anything to donate to the home may call 689-5092 between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 5 p. m., and 689-3915 after 5 p. m.

Police Kept Busy With Unusual Cases

An Accident man was arrested for driving while intoxicated, and a passenger in his car was charged with carrying a concealed weapon stemming from a February 19 incident along Rt. 219 in Accident.

Larry Emerson Artice, 18, was arrested by Maryland State Police after complaints of reckless driving and erratic behavior were reported to an off-duty police officer in the area. The passenger, David Edwin Liller, 19, Oakland, was in possession of a night-stick type club, claiming it may have been necessary for protection during an anticipated dispute between the men and a third person they were allegedly looking for.

Both men were incarcerated pending a bond hearing.

Four persons from Allegany County were arrested last week by Maryland State Police and charged with a variety of offenses allegedly occurring last summer and early fall.

Richard Allen White, 26; Michael Edward Kyle, 21; Steven Scott Johnson, 18; and Donna Lynn White, 21, all of Westernport, were charged with breaking and entering and theft involving the summer home of Harold Clifford Donley, located at Thousand Acres, which was entered October 17. A microwave oven, a black and white television set, and a small quantity of household items were removed. A portion of the stolen merchandise was recovered during the recent investigation.

Richard White and Michael Kyle were also charged with intentionally burning an automobile belonging to Kyle for the purpose of collecting insurance benefits. The car was allegedly burned in a wooded area along the Savage River Road near Bloomington.

All were incarcerated pending a bond hearing.

Paul Richard Roderick, Westernport, reported a breaking and entering last week at his summer cabin near Turkey Neck.

According to police, an unknown person, thought to be a young female, apparently had been sleeping in the cabin, as signs of inhabitation were evident when the owner arrived. A fire had been built in the fireplace, the bed had been slept in, and several pieces of clothing were found in another room. Several containers of money in the cabin were found undisturbed, and nothing was reported missing.

The investigation is continuing.

A Potomac man, Tim James Cooney, found himself without his clothes when he awoke last week in his motel room at Point View Inn.

According to police, Cooney had retired for the night in his room when four men entered the door he thought he had locked, wandered around for a few moments, and disappeared.

The following morning, Cooney discovered his duffle bag containing ski pants, boots, and additional clothing was missing. Loss was estimated at $170.

Police later located the boots on the roadway near the motel.

No suspects have been found, and the investigation is continuing.

Banks Report Losses Due To Misrepresentation

Two area banks reported losses to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department last week, resulting from acts of forgery and false pretense last December.

The First National Bank of Oakland, Mid-towns branch, reported that a check was apparently taken from the mail, en route from Petersburg, W. Va. to Elk Garden, W. Va., and was cashed at the Mid-towns bank. The check was in the amount of $349, written on the Grant County Bank. It has been determined that the check was forged by an unknown person, and FNB is taking the loss.

Liberty Trust Company of Maryland, Grantsville, reported that a portion of a bad check was deposited into a known account and cash was also obtained from the check by an unknown person. The check cashed was in the amount of $950, $650 of which was deposited, and $300 taken in cash. The account holder reported no known connection with the check writer, and the investigation is continuing.

In other business, the department is investigating several thefts and destructions of property, as well as reported breakings and enterings.

A caretaker reported a breaking and entering and theft which occurred at the summer cottage of Lanny Edward Weintraub of Rockville, located on State Park Road, sometime between February 20 and 23.

Unknown persons broke a door glass while entering, ransacked the cottage and smashed the telephone and a table lamp. The burglars stole a 12-inch black and white television set and a stereo with turntable and AM/FM radio. The total loss value in damages and goods taken is estimated at $350.

Two persons were arrested and charged with theft from K&S Enterprises (Radio Shack), located at Mid-towns Plaza, Oakland. A store worker reported that someone left the store February 3, in nearly 0-degree weather, with his coat over his arm. Shortly afterwards it was discovered that a high fidelity Solid State stereo amplifier was missing.

At a later date David Kitzmiller, 19, New Germany Road, admitted to the theft upon questioning, and he was arrested and charged with the theft. Further investigation found that Ronald Edward Crosby, 19, Deer Park, had been in possession of a radio and frequency equalizer from the Radio Shack. Crosby was arrested February 17 and charged with theft, and released on his own recognizance.

In a separate case, James Harry Garner IV, McHenry, reported that someone punctured the front and rear tires on the right side of his 1974 Dodge Van, while it was parked at Youghiogheny Drive on Sunday. The tires are valued at $35 each, resulting in a total loss value of $70.

In another vehicle damage case, Steven G. Guy, Bloomington, reported that he discovered a chip in the windshield of his 1980 Ford Bronco on the morning of February 11. The vehicle had been parked in his driveway during the night, and he reported that he had not noticed the damage before. Police said the cause of the damage is unknown.

Dana K. Beckman, Oakland, reported a breaking and entering which occurred at his residence during the day on February 17. Someone broke out a window and entered the place, leaving muddy footprints on the floor at the point of entry. Nothing was disturbed and the subject left the residence.

In a separate case, an employee of the Garrett County Roads Department reported that, on February 8, Clyde Kenneth Friend, Snowy Creek Road, struck a county truck with a ball bat while it was plowing the road. It was reported that Friend threatened to beat the driver if he didn't stop plowing Friend's driveway shut.

Later that day Friend registered a complaint with the department stating that a Roads Department snow plow deposited snow in his driveway, then backed up and plowed additional snow into the front of his driveway. The police observed a pile of snow, 30 to 36 inches deep, in front of the driveway.

Both parties declined to press charges.

In other business, one person was arrested by the department last week, in addition to those previously reported.

William Joseph Murphy, 30, Arlington, Va., was arrested Saturday and charged with disturbing the peace and disorderly conduct on the land of another, two counts of alcoholic beverages, and intoxication. He was released the next day when he posted $100 bond.

It took the Colorado River two million years to carve the Grand Canyon.

Police said the incidents involved at least 13 cars and two tractor-trailers. One of the trucks bumped into a guard rail, but was never in danger of going over the side of the bridge, police said.

Most of the accidents were of the chain-reaction, fender-bender variety, spokesman Tom Freeburger said.

At least 12 people were taken to two hospitals and several other injured people were treated at the scene. None of the 12 taken to the hospitals was seriously injured, hospital officicals said.

Pamela Wakefield Becomes Bride Of Steve Hinton November 29

Pamela Louise Wakefield became the bride of Steve Randall Hinton on November 29 during a double-ring candlelight ceremony performed at the Laurel Run Church of God, White Rock Road, Friendsville.

The marriage ceremony was officiated by Rev. Danny Pardon, Friendsville, and Rev. Robert Taylor, Oakland. Traditional wedding music was provided on the piano by Miss Sandi Sisler of Friendsville. "Love Is Patient" was sung by Brad & Marylin Wakefield, brother & sister-in-law of the bride, Goshen, Indiana, accompanied by a guitar. Glenn Maerkl, Chapmanville, W. Va., played the piano and sang "Love Makes Us One," which he wrote especially for the wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wakefield, Wakefiled Road, Friendsville. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mutchler, 6917 Parkwood Street, Landover.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown, which she designed and created, of white bridal shanta with a flowing skirt and long bell sleeves trimmed with wide scalloped lace. The empire bodice featured a yoke which had a hand-appliqued lace overlay. Her illusion veil flowed from a Juliet cap covered with fabric and lace appliques matching her gown. She carried a bouquet of silk white and light blue roses, rose buds, and lily of the valley, encircled by wide white lace. Her only jewelry was an opal ring, a gift from her parents, and a gold bracelet, a gift from the groom's parents. All flowers for the wedding were made and arranged by the bride.

Connie Wakefield served her sister as maid of honor. She was attired in a pastel pink floor-length gown with an A-line skirt, accented by an empire waist with V-neck trimmed with white lace and cuffed long sleeves also trimmed in lace. Bridesmaids were Miss Louise Fike, Friendsville, Mrs. Lona Filsinger, Swanton, and Miss Jennifer Mutchler, sister of the groom, Landover. They wore gowns styled identical to the maid of honor in pastels of green, blue and yellow. Their bouquets were pastel daisies and carnations complementing their gown color. They wore miniature silk white carnations in their hair. Flower girls were Stephanie Lynn and Lorrie Michele Filsinger, Swanton. They wore pale pink floor-length gowns with ruffled white pinafores and carried baskets of silk white and pastel daisies.

Michael Hinton, Huntington, served his brother as best man. Ushers were Joseph Lee. Morgantown, W. Va., Robb Huff, Elkins W. Va. and Richard Johnstone, Salisbury. Ring bearer was Samuel Wakefield, Jr., cousin of the bride, Friendsville. The groom was attired in a formal navy-blue pinstripe suit, complemented by a light blue shirt with a boutonniere made from blue & white silk rose buds. His attendants wore navy-blue suits and light blue shirts with white silk carnations as boutonnieres. The ring bearer was attired in a light blue suit, with a silk miniature white rose bud as boutonniere. He carried a heart-shaped pillow bearing the wedding rings, which was made by the bride.

The bride's mother wore a formal gown of medium blue, styled with an A-line skirt with long sleeves and the groom's mother wore a formal gown of light blue styled with a softly gathered waist and elbow-length sleeves. Both mothers were presented corsages of blue and white roses by the bride.

Brad and Marylin Wakefield registered the guests and distributed bulletins. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church annex. Serving at the reception were Mrs. Nina Miller, Deer Park, Mrs. Carol Wakefield, Friendsville, Mrs. Nancy Wakefield, Friendsville, all aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Carolyn Pardon, pastor's wife. The wedding cake was made and decorated by Nancy Sanner, Friendsville. The newlyweds honeymooned at Canaan Valley Resort, West Virginia.

The bride graduated from Fellowsville High School in Fellowsville, W. Va., and received secretarial and clerical degrees from West Virginia Career College in Fairmont, W. Va. She is employed as a secretary-accountant and cashier of Cuppett and Weeks Nursing Home, Inc., Oakland.

Mr. Hinton graduated from Fork Union Military Academy in Fork Union, Va., and received a Bachelor of Science degree in Forest Resources Management from West Virginia University. He is employed by the Timber Department of Coastal Lumber Company and is in charge of procurement and logging for two area sawmills.

Valeri Dunson, Donald Murphy Exchange Vows January 31

Valeri Ann Dunson and Donald Joseph Murphy exchanged wedding vows in a double-ring ceremony Saturday, Jan. 31, at 2:30 p. m. in the Crellin United Brethren Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Dunson, Terra Alta. Mr. Murphy's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Murphy, also of Terra Alta.

The Rev. Ellis Harvey, McHenry, former pastor of Trinity United Methodist Church in Terra Alta, performed the ceremony which was preceded by organ music played by Sue Fultz of Terra Alta. Mrs. Fultz also played the traditional processional and recessional music.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride was given in marriage by her parents.

The bride's gown was of winter white organza over satin. The high collar was bounded with lace, as were the cuffs of the long sleeves. Lace accented the empire waistline and edged the chapel train. Completing the bride's attire was a fingertip veil which fell from a lace headpiece.

She carried a bouquet of colored daisies and roses.

Serving as maid of honor was Sherri Deahl, and bridesmaid was Cris Dunson, sister of the bride. Both wore identical gowns of coral jersey and each carried a single rose.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Bobby Murphy, his brother. Ushers were Jerry Everly and Kurt Jordon.

A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church.

Kim Mayne was in charge of the guest register.

Assisting with serving the guests were Hildegarde May and the bride's aunts, Rose Nordeck of Terra Alta, Candy Dunson of Star City and Norma Jean Dumire of Oakland.

After a brief wedding trip the couple is now at home on the Alpine Lake Road.

The new Mrs. Murphy is the granddaughter of Mrs. Laura Sliger of Swallow Falls and the Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Dunson of Terra Alta.

The bride is a senior at East Preston High School. Mr. Murphy is employed by Patriot Coal Company, Bruceton Mills, W. Va.

Real Estate

AGE NO BARRIER

There seems to be a misconception about some people being too old to obtain a mortgage loan because they have no chance of outliving the length of the average loan. Thus, the pointed question: Under normal lending conditions, when does a person become too old to buy a home and obtain a mortgage? With certain reservations . . . never!

If the real estate equity is there and the ability to repay is established, what is the difference if a person is 30 or 70 years of age? Each case, however, must be judged on its individual merits.

A survey of loans by one major Savings and Loan Association revealed that 25% of its recent mortgages were granted to families headed by a person 50 or older. One loan was granted to a man older than 75.

As mentioned before, the economic age of the property, its resale value, and the borrower's ability to repay the loan are far more important than age alone.

LOOK INTO A MIRROR

Some people claim that they can match husbands and their wives in any large group. It is true that many couples seem to resemble each other the longer they live together.

Children often resemble their parents both in looks and actions. Although many times parents may hesitate to acknowledge it, children's actions, moods, speech and attitudes are often merely reflections of our own. We need not look into a mirror to observe our likeness. Watch the children. They are miniature replicas of us.

Among humans this tendency to imitate may not always be for the good. But the Heavenly Father wants His children to be like Him. He has given us an example to follow. Our lives should reflect the actions, talk and attitudes of Jesus Christ. The more time we spend worshipping Him, the better replicas of Him we become. That is a good reason for worshipping together this week.

HARDNESS OF HEART

March 1, 1981

Background Scripture: Matthew 19
Devotional Reading: Deuteronomy 30:15-20.

"For your hardness of heart." That, said Jesus, is the only reason that a man and woman are even allowed to terminate their marriage in divorce. Divorce is plainly not God's purpose, for as Jesus puts it, "the two shall become one." What God intends for his children is the unity of marriage, but, as in so many of God's other intentions for his children, that intended unity is lost in marital conflict.

Divorce, therefore, is sin because it fails to accomplish God's purpose. But it is not a unique sin and too often religious people and particularly religious authorities have been legalistic in this one area of human relationships. As Jesus makes clear in the Gospels, God's purpose for his children is also honesty, purity, charity, humility, self-sacrifice, and love toward all of God's children. When we lie, cheat, and strike out against others, we are sinning no less than when we fail to fulfill God's purpose in marriage. Many Americans cheat on their income tax, for example, but that does not remove them beyond the bounds of God's mercy.

What God Has Joined

What I am saying, then, is not that divorce is "o.k." — it isn't — but it is not the ultimate tragedy or sin in human life. Divorce is not "o.k." and neither is our exploitation of one another or our deceit of one another. I emphasize this because often we are given the impression that there are only two possible norms for the Christian to accept in this society: (1) divorce is wrong and should not be permitted, or (2) divorce is quite acceptable.

I believe there is a third position open to the follower of Christ, (3) divorce is not what God wants of us, but it may be the final recourse open to us when reconcilliation seems not to be possible. That means we will uphold the sanctity of marriage, we will continue to hold divorce as failure, but, as with any other area in which we fail to live up to God's will, we can find forgiveness and redemption even in the midst of this tragic experience.

The Hardness Of Your Hearts

Yet, it is "the hardness" of our "hearts" that is usually at the roots of marital discord. Sometimes it is willful, other times it is ignorance — people simply not realizing what is wrong with their lives. It is the same kind of "hardness of heart" that leads us to lie, cheat, bear false witness against our neighbor, resist the needs of the poor and helpless, participate in warfare, and waste the resources that God has placed at our disposal. In each one of these instances of "hardness of heart" we must find ways and means of experiencing God's redemption.

So it is in the tragedy of divorce. What the divorced person needs from us is not our condemnation, not our legalistic self-righteousness, but the same forgiveness and love that God offers to all of us who experience failure in living the Christian life.

FOR GOOD ADVICE ALWAYS CONSULT AN EXPERT

Well meaning friends who give you prescription medicines that have helped them relieve an ailment with similar symptoms can cause you serious harm. Many drugs are too potent to be taken without a physician's approval. Many different ailments have the same distress symptoms. Mason Explains Growth Factor For Assessment

Editor's note: Following is one of a series of articles by Senator Ed Mason [R-Allegany, Garrett] explaining the property assessment process in Maryland. In this article, Mason explains the growth factor which is used in determining the assessment of property for tax purposes.

Property taxpayers may wish to become familiar with the new term in assessing property called, the growth factor. The growth factor is now used in place of the former inflationary allowance in arriving at the final assessment of property for tax purposes.

In the simplest of terms it is the ratio or percentage of the full cash value of real property that is used to determine the assessment.

The arithmetic necessary to find the growth factor is a bit more complex, but basically, it is obtained by dividing the adjusted statewide assessable base by the statewide full cash value of property.

The 1981 statewide full cash value of real property is $73.5 billion. The 1980 comparable figure was $69.2 billion. The increase between the two is $3.9 billion or 5.62%.

The 1980 statewide real property assessable base was centage increase (5.26%) is $34.4 billion. This figure (/$34.4 billion) divided by the 1981 statewide real property full cash value figure ($73.5 billion) produces a quotient of 46.8%, which becomes the growth factor.

As can be seen by this example, reflective of the true situation, the 1981 actual growth (5.62%) was less than 6% over the 1980 full cash value amount. So the growth factor does not change.

In the coming year, a growth exceeding 6% will activate the legal restriction of assessment increases and cause a modest reduction in the growth factor.

From the property owner's standpoint, the relationship of the full cash value to the net assessment is much more important than the method of determining the growth factor. But the growth factor has the distinct advantage of actually limiting or holding the assessment to a predetermined percentage increase that cannot exceed a statewide average of 6% and promises less erratic assessment increases.

Mason, Beck To Offer Proposals For Transportation Funding

Declaring "solutions to Maryland's transportation dilemma cannot be addressed in a bits and pieces bandage fashion," the Minority Leadership of the Maryland General Assembly, Senator Edward J. Mason (Allegany-Garrett County) and Delegate Ray Beck (Carroll-Frederick County) said they will introduce legislation, comprehensive in scope, to offer proposals to deal with the problem.

Senator Mason said, "The Senate has voiced its intention to deal with the variable gasoline tax aspect of the problem and the House is addressing itself to an increase in the trucking tax. Delegate Beck and I are proposing a plan to deal with the mass transit aspect of the problem."

Mason asserted, "Any attempt at bringing order to the chaos of Maryland transportation funding must include an approach to an equitable handling of mass transit funding. To do otherwise is to just kid ourselves. After all, it is our commitment to rapid rail mass transit that has brought the transportation funding problem down on our heads. Whether we like it or not, that commitment to rapid rail is a reality. And it's not going to go away. Therefore, the sooner we bite the bullet and face up to it, the sooner we will begin to see daylight in the funding mess."

The Mason/Beck mass transit package contains two bills and a joint resolution.

One measure deals with the assumption of the deficit operations costs of the two rapid rail systems, Metro in Washington, D. C. and the Baltimore Rapid Rail, as well as metropolitan bus systems.

In essence, it specifies that fare box charges should generate 50% of the revenues needed to cover the total of mass transit operating deficits. The local subdivisions serviced by the systems will be required to assume 25% of the total operating deficits and any additional costs which are not met by the fare box receipts. The local subdivisions' portion of the deficit is to be based on an equitable formula of ridership, mileage, service and revenues to be determined by the affected jurisdictions. The Transportation Trust Fund will, therefore, contribute no more than 25% of the total operating deficits for each system.

This plan would become effective immediately for the Metro system, already in operation and the Baltimore system when it begins operation.

Mason pointed out, "This brings a measure of fairness to rapid rail use. Those jurisdictions who receive the greatest benefit of the rapid rail will bear the greatest cost."

The second bill gives authority to Baltimore City, Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Montgomery and Prince George's County to levy a local retail sales tax up to 1 cent within the respective jurisdictional limits to help fund the mass transit system. The additional tax monies, which will be collected by the State Comptroller, less the monies deducted to pay for the cost of administering the tax, shall be credited to the account of each participating jurisdiction.

Mason emphasized further, "This measure is in keeping with the philosophy that those who receive the greatest benefit bear the significant part of the costs."

The third measure is a joint resolution calling for the appointment of a committtee to study all aspects of determining, meeting and allocating resources to Maryland's transportation needs. The committeee shall include four senators and four delegates and four citizens knowledgeable in transportation, each of whom is a state government official or an elected local government official.

"Above all," Beck said, "Senator Mason and I are realists. We would hope that the 1981 General Assembly would approve a comprehensive package of solutions to our transportation woes. However, we are fully aware this may not occur.

In that case, adoption of the joint resolution will provide the mechanism for a comprehensive study of all aspects of Maryland's transportation and transportation funding and subsequent recommendations to the 1982 General Assembly for consideration.

"Certainly," asserted Beck, "We have had our share of transportation study committees. But while committees and subcommittees have studied many of the various aspects of transportation, no one deliberative body has even sought to develop alternatives to the current concept of the Consolidated Transportation Trust Fund."

Delegate Beck stressed, "Times have changed. Conditions affecting transportation and, indeed, our transportation needs have changed. It's time we assess these changes and changing needs and pursue alternative methods of meeting them. And," Beck pointed out, "It is urgent that we act now. As it stands, the Department of Transportation has unbridled authority to float bonds up to $65 million a year with exorbitant interest cost of a dollar for every dollar borrowed. That's what they're doing, and that's what they'll continue to do until the state's bond rating is eroded to the point where we won't have the credibility to float a $10 loan."

Bad Check Charges Head Court Docket

Worthless check charges head the list of cases heard by Judge L. R. Jones during last week's District Court session.

Patricia Weaver, Bradley Manor, Oakland, and Patricia Tusing, 25, Swanton, both pled guilty to charges of issuing worthless checks to separate Oakland grocery outlets.

Judge Jones ordered probation before judgement in both cases.

Eugene Loren Roy, Oakland, failed to appear on a bad check charge. A bench warrant was issued for his arrest.

Karl William Wilson, 40, Oakland, was committed to the Garrett County Jail for a period of 90 days after he was found guilty on charges of disorderly intoxication stemming from an incident in the Fireside Lounge, Oakland.

Wilson was also found guilty on two additional charges of disorderly conduct and disorderly intoxication at the county jail and the House of Hope, Oakland.

The second 90-day sentence and an additional 60-day sentences will run concurrently with 24 days credit for time awaiting trial.

Elbert Ray Bittinger, 56, Grantsville, failed to appear on charges of trespassing and unlawful use of the telephone.

A bench warrant was issued for his arrest.

Parvovirus Cases Noted By State Veterinary Group

Isolated cases of confirmed canine parvovirus have been reported in the past two weeks by veterinarians throughout Maryland, according to the Maryland Veterinary Medical Association.

The resurgence of the highly contagious disease, which hit the State's dog population last summer and then subsided during the winter months, has been noted in the metropolitan Baltimore area, in southern Maryland and in Harford County. Several deaths have been reported.

Because parvovirus is a new disease, first discovered in 1978, the number of inoculations necessary to offer protection to the dog and the duration of immunity has not been clearly established. Vaccination and revaccination programs can vary somewhat depending on the type of vaccine, the age and health of the dog and other factors, according to the Association.

Maryland dog owners are advised by the Association to contact their veterinarian to set up an inoculation program for their pet.

Alcohol, Tobacco Tax Revenues Up

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reported Friday that the $8,437,159 collected by the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division for the month of January 1981 exceeded the collection of January 1980 by 12.64%. Only the receipts from the beer tax fell below the previous January's collection. The distilled spirits tax of $1,972,296 and the wine tax of $395,660 each demonstrated growth of over 4%.

Although cigarette sales reflected a decline from the corresponding month of the last fiscal year, the $5,434,789 in tobacco tax revenue collected exhibited a 17.85% increase as a result of the tax increase from $.10 to $.13 per pack that became effective July 1, 1980.

Alcohol and Tobacco tax revenue for the first seven months of Fiscal Year 1981 totaled $60,508,746. This amount exceeded the collection for the comparable period of last fiscal year by $12,589,204 (26.27%). All four tax sources posted increases over the first seven months of Fiscal Year 1980.

Distilled Spirits tax revenues amounted to $10,607,317, an increase of about one-third of one percent. Wine tax receipts totaled $2,109,540, up by 7% and beer tax collections totaled $5,960,234, a 4.9% gain.

Tobacco Tax revenues amounted to $41,043,184 for the seven month period, posting an increase of 36.8% and reflecting the tax increase enacted by the 1980 session of the Maryland General Assembly.

Nursing Workshop Set For March 3

A one-day workshop will be held on Tuesday, March 3, on "Mechanical Ventilation" at Frostburg State College, Lane Center, Frostburg.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Marine Lance Cpl. David A. Browning, son of Tom and Juanita Browning, 307 N. Fourth St., Oakland, has been meritoriously promoted to his present rank while serving with 1st Battalion, 3rd Marines, 1st Marine Brigade, Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii.

He received the accelerated promotion in recognition of outstanding performance, duty proficiency and demonstrated professional abilities.

A 1979 grauate of Southern Garrett High School, he joined the Marine Corps in September 1979.

Pvt. 1 Thomas E. Campbell, son of Earldean A. Guthrie of Route 1, Friendsville, recently completed One Station Unit Training (OSUT) at the U. S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. This qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

Marine Pvt. Willard J. Reckart, son of Larry R. and Patsy Reckart of Route 1, Oakland, has reported for duty with 9th Engineer support Battalion, on Okinawa.

A 1980 graduate of Southern High School, he joined the Marine Corps in June, 1980.

Conversations on Carpeting

Brought to you by
Carolyn & Butch Helbig
Who say
"A Floor without a Rug is like a Kiss without a Hug."

IF YOU ASK ME . . .

What should the carpet buyer know about carpet backing? Most carpet is made by the tufting process where the pile yarns are stitched to the pre-made backing. There is also a second backing which reinforces the carpet and gives greater stability. This is usually made of jute. In woven carpets, the backing is made right along with the pile during manufacturing. Woven carpets usually don't require a secondary backing. Backing prevents the carpet from stretching out of shape or wrinkling. A good backing will add years of life to your carpet. When looking for a good backing, check to see if it's firm and even and has no bubbles or loose spots.

I'm buying a room size rug for my dining room. How much floor space should I leave around the edges?

In a small room, consider a band of about 8" and increase the size to 12" in a larger room.

Confused about what carpet is best for your home? Come in and discuss your needs with one of our carpet experts.

Our next week's column will tell you about the NEW Wall-to Wall carpeting. Look for it.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.
